Peterborough County Crop Loss Estimated at $200,000

Fall Wheat Normal Peas Only 25 percent Barley, Oats 40 to 50

Rain In Next Few Days May Save Roots, Late Potatoes, Pastures

MILK GETTING SCARCE

District Dry For Past 24 Days—Few Drops Twice

Despite frequently clouded skies, Peterborough county reckoned its twenty-fourth day of drought today and Agricultural Representative A. D. Runions estimated crop damage to have reached the $200,000 mark. Although the county fall wheat crop will be close to normal, the pea crop which has now been practically all harvested, is scarcely 25 per cent. of normal. A 40 per cent barley crop and a 50 per cent oats crop are anticipated.

"Rain in the next few days will not be too late to save the roots, late potatoes and fall pastures," Mr. Runions said. "Although moisture is still lacking, crops in general have been holding their own in the last week since relief from the hot winds and intense sun came. The roots have been standing up especially well."

Some Harvesting Done.

Barley and oats are now ripening and a few fields have already been harvested. The corn crop here will be better than average, Mr. Runions predicted. Due to the pasture damage, milk is becoming scarce but the shortage is not yet acute. The scarcity has reduced local dairy and cheese production about 20 per cent.

Slight sprinklings of rain were noted on two occasions yesterday in the Peterborough district, but neither fall was sufficient to wet the ground.

EX-LAKEFIELD BOY HON. R. ROGERS DIES

Filled Many Important Cabinet Posts In Several Conservative Regimes

GUELPH, Ont., July 21.—(CP). — Hon. Robert Rogers, who filled important cabinet posts in several Conservative Federal administrations, died in Homewood Sanitarium early today. He was 72 years old.

Mr. Rogers has been in the Sanitarium for about two wears and death was caused from infirmities of advancing years.

His last appearance in a Federal election was in 1930 when he recaptured the South Winnipeg seat from J. C. McDiarmid by whom he was defeated in 1926.

Mr. Rogers was born in Lakefield Ont., in Peterborough County, March 2, 1864. He went to Western Canada before he was 20 years old and entered business at Clearwater, Man. His first venture into politics came when he was 23 years old. He contested the Manitoba constituency of Mountain and was defeated by only 13 votes by Hon. Thomas Greenway, leader of the liberal opposition.

Defeated First Federal Try.

He was defeated again by Mr. Greenway in 1892, and went down in his first Federal contest in 1896 when he was defeated by R. L. Richardson in Lisgar.

He was successful in the Manitoba elections in 1899, soon afterward becoming commissioner of Public Works. In 1911 he accepted the portfolio of Minister of the Interior in the cabinet of Sir Robert Borden at Ottawa. A year later he relinquished that portfolio and became Minister of Public Works. He did not run in the campaign that returned the Union Government in 1917. He was defeated in 1921 in Lisgar, but in 1925 won in South Winnipeg over Hon. T. E. Norris, former Manitoba Premier. He was defeated by Mr. McDiarmid in 1926.

Last Minute News Flashes

LISBON, Portugal (A.P.) — A broadcast picked up from a Seville radio station to-day said General Quielpo De Llano, rebel chieftain, had urged the civilians of Seville to accept arms from insurgents and to assist in fighting Loyalists.

WINDSOR (CP) — Confronted with instructions from the Ontario government appointed finance commission to impose a special 5.4 mills tax levy to meet an anticipated 400,000 over-expenditure for relief this year, city council to-day voted to test the validity of the order.

London's open-air swimming pools, which were patronized by more than 1,000,000 swimmers last year, have been comparative deserted this summer.

Fox and Wolf Tails Give Rad. Caps Swank

BELLEVILLE Ont., July 21.—(CP).—Metal radiator caps are sneered at by United States tourists, at least in this section of Ontario. A shiny, new automobile raced through Belleville streets with the red, bushy tail of a fox flaunting in th breeze from its radiato cap. It was followed by anothe car with a pair of wolf tails flo ting in the air. Its driver was l amenting a lost trophy—the tail of a "striped kitty" which he hadn't stopped to collect.

EDW. HUMPAGE IS APPOINTED CITY AUDITOR

CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT

Government To Pay Magistrate's Salary—To Oppose C.N.R. Petition

Edward Humpage, chartered accountant, 318 Boswell Avenue, was unanimously appointed city auditor by the council last night at a salary of $1,120 a year, less the depression time reduction of 10 per cent., or $1,008.

For ten years Mr. Humpage was supervising auditor of the Peterborough Examiner Limited, until his resignation several months ago. He succeeds Sheriff Fred J. A. Hall, recently resigned, whose salary was reported last night to have been about $800.

Four other applications were received by the Finance Committee, and were opened by the chairman, Alderman Hamilton. They were from Clarkson, Gordon, Dilworth and Nash of Toronto on an unstated fee basis, Morris and Lawrie of Peterborough, Stiff Brothers and Sine of Toronto, and T. A. Malane.

The salary proposed by Mr. Humpage was the lowest, and his appointment was moved by Alderman Cotton and seconded by Alderman Tuggey. It later confirmed by a bylaw passed in council.

Mr. Humpage has been engaged in accountancy for fifteen years, and obtained his degree as a chartered accountant this year.

Railway Board Session

The council received notice that the Board of Railway Commissioners will meet at the Court House Friday, July 24, at 11 a.m., to consider the application of the Canadian National Railways to substitute electric wig-wags for the present protective gates at the Charlotte, King, Simcoe and Hunter Street crossings. Mayor Macdonald authorized City Engineer Parsons a few days ago to have the traffic counted at these four crossings, and

FARM LOAN BOARD INTEREST REDUCED

Finance Minister Crerar's Act Will Cheer 5,000 Borrowers

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP)—Good news for 5,000 borrowers from the Canadian Farm Loan Board was announced by Acting Finance Minister Crerar to-day in the reduction of the interest rate to five per cent. Those who had borrowed prior to Oct. 12, 1934, on first mortgage, have been paying at the rate of 6½ per cent, and those borrowing between Oct. 12, 1934 and May 22, 1935, paid at the rate of 5½ per cent.

Effective as from July 31, 1936 all first mortgage loans will bear the rate of five per cent which has been in effect on loans negotiated since May 22, 1935.

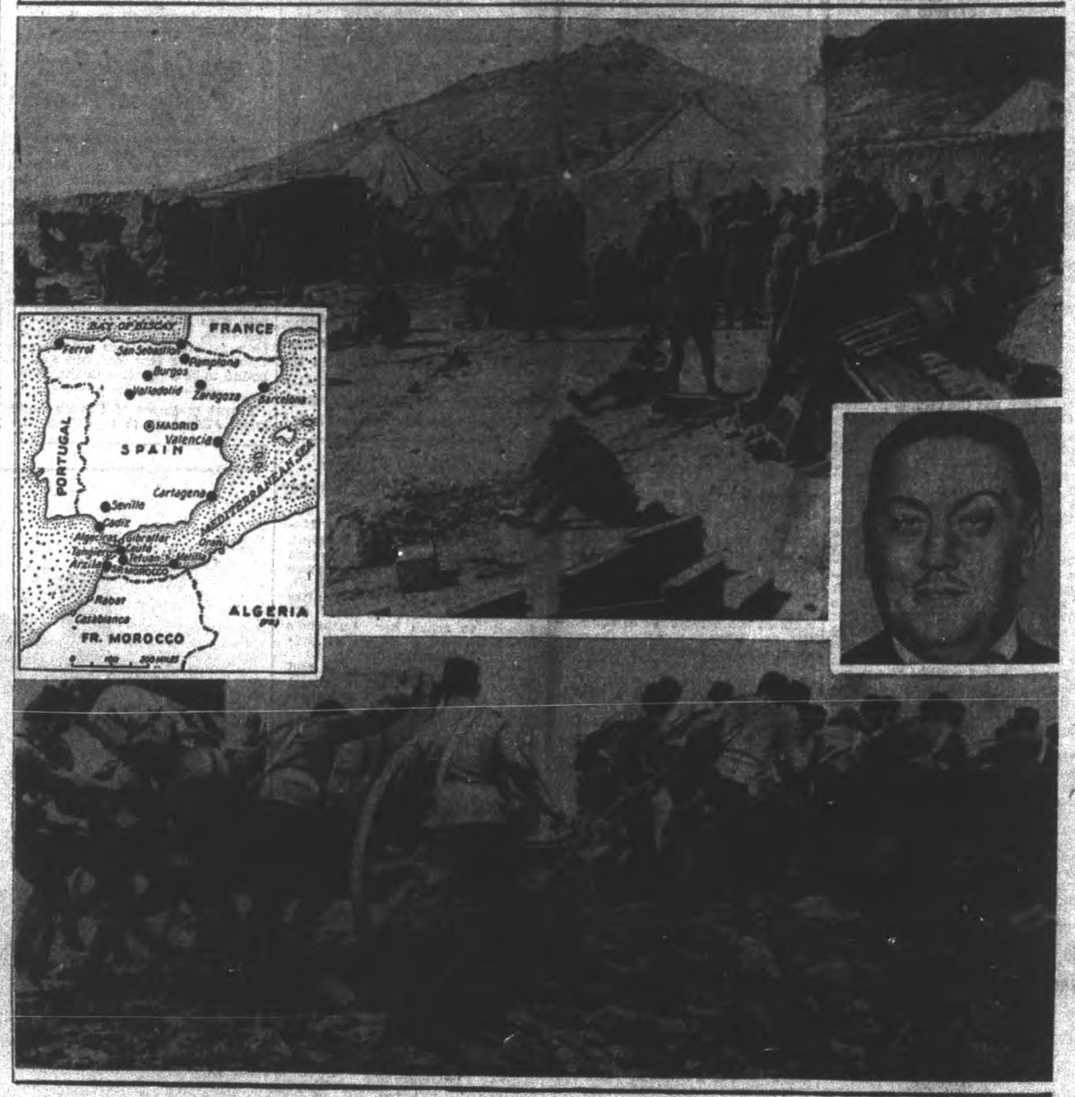
Young Son Prevents Title Winning Correspondent Taking Trip.

AIRMONT, Minn., July 21 (CP) —Mrs. Susan Eisele, the farm wife who found time to gain recognition the best country newspaper correspondent in the United States, may not find time, she said to-day, to collect part of the prize offered by the magazine which bestowed the title.

Mrs. Eisele, awarded $200 cash and a trip to Washington and New York for samples of her work she did not know had been entered in competition, said she was not certain whether she could leave her three weeks old son, Albert Eisele, Jr., to make the trip.

Armed Workers Battle Uprising Of Spanish Fascists



Starting in Spanish Morocco and spreading like wildfire to all large Spanish cities, rightist insurrectionists are reported to be leading a major revolt against the People's government. Armed workers and farmers are reported clashing in many localities with ex-army officers dismissed several months ago, and now leading Fascist armies in the uprising. Loyal troops meanwhile are imprisoning their officers. The government of Casares Quiroga is said to have fallen and a new cabinet formed by Dr. Martines Barrio, former premier, (shown insert above). Map of Spain showing where outbreaks are reported Other pictures show Spanish troops in Morocca where the uprising first flared with the arrival of Gen. Franvisco, former army chieftain. The government reports officially that the rebels have made little gains and that the people are still loyal to the leftist government Other reports indicate rebel successes in Morocco and Mediterranean ports.

Mr. And Mrs. Charles W. Holland Fear Son Drowned In Raceway

POLICE RAKE POOL

With pike poles and grappling irons, police and volunteer workers to-day probed the slimy depths of a stagnant pool at the foot of London street in their search for the body of 7-year-old Bobby Holland, youngest of a family of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holland of Hunter street.

Missing since five o'clock Monday afternoon, when his elder brother and sister and other small playmates returned home without him, the child was believed to have drowned with the discovery at half past nine this (Tuesday) morning of a tiny pair of shoes on the west bank of the pond.

Shoes at Water's Edge

Lying side by side at the water's edge, the shoes were found by George Kent and William Dummitt, both engaged in wrecking an old building in the vicinity. The spot indicated by the shoes was thirty yards south of the pathway, which is a continuation of London street, and it was there that police started their search.

Both men told a reporter they had seen a group of children near the pond, but declare that when they left work at five o'clock they had seen nothing to indicate that a fatality had occurred at that hour.

When he left home after dinner on Monday, according to the distressed father, little Bobby was accompanied by his brother and sister, Harold and Patricia Holland, 8-year-old twins; and by Barbara Reid, 8, and Helen Harding, 10. Another brother, Billy Holland, did not accompany the children.

The children all went to Inverlea to bathe as had been their daily custom during the hot weather, it was learned, and subsequently on their homeward way played on the banks of the pond, which is an old raceway, reminiscent of Peterborough's lumbering days.

Tourists Say—

"A hot fight" in the forthcoming presidential elections in the United States next fall, is forecast by Claire Wertenberger of Attwater, Ohio, who is holidaying in this district with his wife and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baylor also of Attwater. He expressed the opinion that President Roosevelt's administration, " has spent money with an utter disregard, and has mortgaged future generations."

Mr. Wertenberger here for the first time is enthusiastic about the fishing which the district affords. He is staying at Keller's Summer Resort near Campbellford, where Mr. and Mrs. Baylor have spent the past five years in succession. "The fishing is great here. That is the big attraction," said Mr. Wertenberger declaring that he has fifteen 'lunge, bass and pickerel on ice to take back with him to the States when the party returns at the end of the week.

They were in the city on Monday afternoon to look over the Lift Locks and to do some shopping here.

SEE DANZIG HUGE MILITARY CENTRE

British Paper Claims Nazis Plan To Dominate Baltic From It

LONDON, July 21 (CP). — The Manchester Guardian said to-day that German Nazis plan "to convert Danzig into a great military and air base" by which they hope to dominate the Baltic and eventually all northeastern Europe.

The Guardian said suppression of the free city's constitution amounted to the creation of a virtual dictatorship on the model of the Third Reich.

It dismissed the idea that any immediate action was being contemplated by the League of Nations or the British Government.

"There is a tendency here to underrate the importance of the Danzig Nazis," the paper said. "They are taken very seriously in Paris. . . .

"The attitude which has been taken here until now is that if the Poles, who are interested, are not prepared to defend Danzig, then no one else can be expected to bother about it."

SPEEDING LAUNCH KILLS GIRL ASLEEP IN DRIFTING BOAT

Driver Of Death Craft Claims He Saw No Sign Of Life At Time Of Crash

LIMB BOBBED UP LATER

Eye-Witnesses Claim Girl Sat Up Just Before Collision

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont., July 21 (CP)—Nearby Lake Muskoka was being dragged to-day for the body of Retel Anna Hamachar, 25, killed when the sharp prow of a speedboat cut through her rowboat and severed her body.

A. H. Bickmore, hotel proprietor, said he was driving his motorboat when it struck the row boat, but he saw no signs of life as the boat sank. Half a mile further on, however, a human limb bobbed up in front of him momentarily.

Eye-witnesses from the shore said they had seen the girl sitting up in her boat just before the crash but had not observed her when the boats collided. It is believed she was lying in the bottom of the drifting boat when Bickmore's craft accidentally struck it.

Miss Hamacher, whose home is at Plattsville, Oxford County, was residing in Toronto where she was employed as a waitress at the Boulevard Club.

SAVED BY A TENT

Boby Falls 16 Feet Lands on Canvas Below Window.

CATERONTA, Ont., July 21 — (CP).—Verna Chambers, 16 months daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers, Welland, probably owes her life to a tent pitched under the window of a room in which she was sleeping while visiting relatives here. She fell out of the first storey window and dropped 15 feet to the ground without apparent serious injury. Her parents believe she struck the roof of the tent and rolled to the ground at the side of the tent.

Where They Get 'Em.

"Bass fighting was never better in years," Tom Curvin, proprietor of the well-known Clear Lake summer resort and fishing headquarters, told The Examiner on Monday. "Last week W. P. Reid of Toronto was out with two others in the boat and between 1.30 and 4.30 in the afternoon the party landed 18 fine bass, ranging from 4¾ pounds down to 1½ pounds. Another guest, Miss Davidson, snared a 5-pound black bass, which she is having mounted in Peterborough. Mr. Warden landed two pickerel weighing 5½ and 4 pounds and another visitor to my place took five lunge last week."

TURKISH TROOPS LINE DARDANELLES

Officials Take Advantage Of New Convention By Preparing Fortifications

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 21. — (AP).—Turkish troops took up positions today at strategic points for 12 miles on both sides of the re-militarized straits.

The government allotter $500,000 for the erection of a monument at the mouth of the Dardenelles to commemorate the Turkish "victory" at Montreux, Switzerland, as the populace staged a jubilant celebration.

Authorities planned to take advantage of the new straits convention at once by erecting extensive fortifications and mounting heavy guns over the narrow waters famous in military history since Xerxes" army spanned it by a bridge of boats.

Representatives of German armament firms, including the Krupp interests, were understood to be negotiating to obtain fortification concessions under a long-term credit agreement.

The Straits proved advantageous to the German cause during the Great War.

The Allies tried to penetrate the Dardanelles to bring aid to Russia, through the Black Sea but were unsuccessful. Military experts considered the failure of the Dardanelles campaign one of the most important factors in prolonging the war.

BORDEAUX, France, July 21.—(AP).—French correspondents who returned to-day from Spain declared that the northern rebel army had advanced to a point only 35 miles from Madrid.

Fighting in Capital.

LONDON, July 21.— (AP).— A Reuter's News Agency report from Madrid to-day said the government had announced an outbreak of fighting during the morning on Prado avenue, near the centre of the capital.

Soldiers and engineers attacked the civilian militia but were put to flight after a short encounter, the report said.

(The highest estimate of casualties— 25,000 persons killed— was made by police officials at Hendaye, France, from refugees' reports, but there was no means of checking how exact such a figure might be.)

300 DEAD IN BARCELONA

PERPIGNAN, France, July 21 (AP)—Bitter conflict between rebel soldiers and loyal government forces in Barcelona left at least 300 dead, it was said in reports reaching the border to-day.

After government planes bombarded the principal city of northeastern Spain Sunday night, dispatches Monday said the combat persisted with many buildings afire.

Among the militia were many women, helping in the surveillance of houses suspected of harboring Fascist snipers.

The capital was comparatively normal after yesterday's abortive military uprising. Markets reopened, removing fears of a food shortage.

Two Provinces Fall.

VERA, Spain, July 2.—All of Navarre and Guipuzcoa provinces in Northern Spain, including the city of San Sebastian, were reported tonight to have fallen into the hands of rebels from Pamplona.

The Rightist rebels swept into San Sebastian after many had been killed and wounded in bitter fighting outside the city.

Martial law was proclaimed by the victorious insurgents throughout both provinces.

It was believed they planned to shell San Sebastian, which has a population of about 40,000.

Appearing before Police Judge Petrash on an intoxication charge she said: "Women have as much right to get drunk as men." "Men can do some things that men can't," retorted Mrs. Bauman.

If you want to argue yourself into equality with men," quoth the judge, "I'll give you the same workhouse sentence that I would give a man in your case. Twenty days."

"You win, Judge," smiled Mrs. Bauman as she departed for jail.

FOREST FIRES NOW THREATEN JASPER PARK

Two Outbreaks Sweep Tinder-Dry Bush At Maligne And Caledonia Lakes

VOLUNTEERS CALLED

All Available Ontario Equipment Is Rushed To Goulais River, Soo Area

(By the Canadian Press.)

JASPER, Alta., July 21.—(CP).—A serious forest fire around Caledonia Lake that for a time today threatened to sweep through this tourist report Jasper national park was reported from the fire front two miles distant to be "easier," after 30 extra men had diverted it into the lake.

Forest fires raged in both eastern and western Canada to-day, and while thousands of watchful rangers and volunteers still stayed on duty in Ontario in spite of a generally improved situation, hastily-recruited fire-fighters battled flames in the region of Alberta's Jasper National Park.

Most serious of Ontario's 250 reported fires, majority of which forestry officials classified as "under control," roared over 40 acres of timberland and the headwaters of the Goulais river in the Sault Ste. Marie area.

Racing ahead of a high wind, the fire was the scene of the concentration of all available equipment in the area and pumps taken from service in other districts where blazes no longer gave concern were moved there. All other fires in the Sault Ste. Marie area have been brought under control, except one in Korah township that started yesterday.

Two fires burned fiercely in the Jasper Park region in Alberta, one menacing Maligne lake and the other only four miles from the town of Jasper, near Caledonia lake.

Volunteers Rush In

Most serious fire in Alberta destroyed bush areas between Maligne and Medicine Lakes and extra crews hastened from Jasper to aid in the fight against it. It was believed caused by careless campers.

In the Saunders area, 135 miles south west of Edmonton, another fire raged on out of control and exhausted men returning to the little town told of creeks and springs drying up in the district. Water and food for horses and men had to be packed into the area and hardships encountered by the fighters greatly handicapped efforts to check the fire.

Back in Ontario, officials estimated 56 fires burning in the Sudbury area, although cool weather aided efforts to fight them. Men and planes continued at full strength.

By Thomas T. Champion
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, July 21.—(CP Cable). —While press comment to-day on the new appointments to the Royal Household was naturally restrained, it was noted that the King gradually is replacing older with younger men.

The Times remarks: "It may be permitted to say—since there is always a tendency among the older of us to cling to the view that a long-established staff is irreplacable—that it is absolutely right and fitting that a young King should surround himself with his own friends and contemporaries."

The Times concludes with a tribute to Lord Wigram, principal private secretary, 'who has rendered the final service of establishing the new reign on firm foundations and who would be the first to insist that a change was now desirable."

Lord Wigram is succeeded by Major Alexander Hardinge, equerry and private secretary to King George from 1920. Lord Hardinge is the oldest surviving son of Lord

ARMY RECRUITING SLOW IN BRITAIN MINISTER FINDS

Inskip Announces Munition Contracts Offered To 52 Firms

SEEK GUN PLANT

LONDON, July 21.—(AP). — Sir Thomas Inskip, Defence Co-ordination Minister, gave the House of Commons yesterday some details of the extent of Great Britain's rearmament program.

He said the Government had offered munitions contracts to 52 firms and 14 had accepted

The shell filling factory at the Woolwich Arsenal, Sir Thomas continued, will be transferred from the Thames River mouth across the country in three parts.

One will be erect ed in South Wales and the others in Lancashire and a site in Scotland which Sir Thomas did not name.

Another shell filling factory will be brought into "full operation" in Hereford, he said, while the Government will acquire a gun factory in Nottingham in connection with the reorganization of air defences.

Seven-eights of Great Britain's total requirements of shells, fuses and cartridge cases can be provided by Government factories, regular sources and new firms, Sir Thomas declared.

He added, "A great advance has been made in the past eight weeks," for the provision of gauges of all types.

Sir Thomas said the Government was finding difficulty in recruiting for the army. He regretted that the regular territorial armies were under-strength.

"Although we can provide searchlights and guns," he declared, "one thing we cannot find are men to go behind the searchlights and guns."

Carrier Pigeon Saves Motorist Paying Fine

BOSTON, July 21. — Joseph Rosenblum credited a carrier pigeon with saving him from getting a police parking ticket yesterday.

Just as an excursion boat on which he was a passenger reached Provincetown, across Massachusetts Bay, he remembered, he said, having parked his car in front of his home.

He attached a note to one of his pigeon's legs telling his brother to put the car in a garage. The pigeon reached Rosenblum's home an hour after taking off from the ship.

Rosenblum, a pigeon fancier, said he always took a bird or two with him—just in case.

RAILWAYS STILL HOLD SUPREMACY NATION'S SERVANT

AT ST. JOHNS, QUE.

MONTREAL, July 21.—Speaking at St. John's, Que., yesterday at the centenary celebrations of Canada's first railway, now a part of the Canadian National system, S. J. Hungerford, president of the National Railways, said: "This centenary is of personal as well as official interest to me because the Champlain and St. Lawrence Railway was located within a very few miles of my birthplace in Missesquoi County. The railway was patronized by my forebearers in the early days —in fact, my grandfather was a passenger on one of the earliest trips, if not the first trip, of a steam passenger train over the line.

"I well recall his description of his first ride and of the benefits to the people of this and adjoining communities resulting from the construction of the little railway and its early extensions. My grandfather used to travel occasionally on business from Farnham to Montreal. With horse and wagon it required three days for the round trip, and he was compelled to spend two nights on the road. I need not stress the difficulties which attended the transport of goods to market under those conditions. No wonder the people of that generation desired railways above everything else, believing them to be essential to their well-being and progress.

"'Railroads will become the great highway for the King and his subjects.' Such was the pronouncement of George Stephenson in 1828. His prophesy was laughed at, but less than a decade later the whistle of a Stephenson locomotive was heard on the banks of the St. Lawrence and of the Richelieu Rivers. This was the opening chapter in a story of the development of empire which has not yet ceased. From the date of the construction of this short piece of railway the history of Canada has been the history of the extension of railway and of the growth of a nation which has made the railway peculiarly its instrument of development. There is something in that history which transcends the cold statistical record of growth of population, of wealth, of railway mileage. It furnishes an example to the world of what an industrious people with courage and vision can accomplish.

50 Years on the Job.

"My life has been spent in Canada. I have seen great changes take place. For fifty years I have been directly associated with the building, equipping and the operation of railways largely built to develop the unsettled or partially settled areas of our continent. I can say in all truth that what has been accomplished has transcended the vision of the pioneers. Those who planned the Champlain-St. Lawrence and brought it into being, when they turned the first sod in 1835, no matter how optimistic they might have been, could hardly have foreseen what a mighty instrument of nation welfare the railway was to be in Canada.

"In these days of pessimism it is well to dwell upon what has been accomplished, to measure our mistakes in the perspective of our success, and I say to you that the railway has been and is the mightiest single force in the welding together of Canada and in the preservation of it as a nation. It is a mighty servant of the people of Canada. When this railway was conceived or was brought into being, there was likewise brought into being a chain of circumstances which led to the formation of the Canadian National Railways, extending its services to every province of the Dominion.

"It is the aim and objective of the Canadian National Railways, the largest railway system on the North American Continent, to still be in the vanguard of progress, to be a worthy instrument in the development of this great nation. I am not one of those who believe that the railway, which for a hundred years has been synonymous with growth and development, is obsolete or nearing that point. Conditions are changing, it is true, but the railway is well able to meet change with change. It has been so in the past—it will be so in the future. The basic idea in the conception of a railway is as sound to-day as it was a hundred years ago. It is not an accident that to-day the railways girdling the earth total some 724,000 miles, nor that the steam locomotive has invaded virtually every country in the world.

Symbol of Advancement.

"The instruments may be elaborated or changed. You have seen to-day the replica of the original 'Dorchester' engine which opened up the Champlain and St. Lawrence Railway, and you have also seen the latest Canadian National locomotive, our streamlined 6400 series, inaugurating a new type of passenger locomotive. That comparison is a symbol of what I have in mind, because fundamentally the Dorchester and the 6400 represent the adaptation of the same ideas to changing conditions. Railways are far from decaying. They still have the same important place, and the Canadian National Railways are keeping abreast with the times, meeting new requirements of the day with the same virility that expanded the Champlain and St. Lawrence, and the tiny Dorchester into a nation-wide network of modern railways.

"In this anniversary we pay tribute to the courage and vision of our forefathers. They did not fail nor falter under far greater difficulties than face our nation to-day. They had the courage to meet their problems and to plan for the future with confidence. May those who succeed us be able to pay us the same tribute."

In another address at the St. Lambert centenary celebration, Mr. Hungerford said: "The growth in our country's railways since the first 14½-mile strip of railway between La Prairie and St. John's was opened has been remarkable. Our Canadian National system alone has multiplied itself 1,500 times, for from 14½ miles it has grown to 24,000. Putting it another way, since the Dorchester and its train made its first venturesome run of 14½ miles Canada's steam railroads have grown to 42,000 miles, 5,000 locomotives operate over this mileage, with 7,500 passenger cars and more than 200,000 freight cars of various types. These railroads employ over 120,000 men and women, and have an annual payroll in excess of $150,000,000. They also spend scores of millions each year in the purchase of Canadian products and materials, it itself an important contribution to Canada's development.

"From the simple organization necessary to build and maintain the light road and to keep a few units of equipment moving and in repair, the railway systems of our country have necessarily assumed stupendous proportions with far-reaching ramifications. It is true that the coming of new forms of transportation, the motor vehicle and the airplane, have complicated old problems and have given rise to new ones.

"The railroads have no objection to offer to these new forms, these new expressions of progress taking their rightful places. We are continuously adjusting our services and our methods to meet these new conditions, but not all can be accomplished at once. Nevertheless, it is well for Canadians to realize on this centenary occasion that nothing has yet arisen to displace the railroads as a prime, every-day winter and summer, dependable and safe servant of the Canadian people. With this knowledge, and grateful for your continuing support, we face the opening of our second century with confidence."

The King And His Brother Go Flying

Here is an excellent informal snapshot of King Edward and his brother, the Duke of York, heir-apparent, as they reviewed the Royal Air Force. Wearing sun glasses and attired in R.A.F. uniforms, both flew in the same airplane during the review. It was remarked at the time that a disastrous airplane crash might have made ten-year-old Princess Elizabeth a Queen. (Central Press Canadian Photo.)

Houdini's Widow Plans Just One Final Seance

OAKLAND, Calif., July 21—(CP).—Mrs. Harry Houdini, widow of the magician, announced that she will hold "just one more seance" on the night of Oct. 31, 1936, 10 years to the day after Houdini's death, in a final attempt to reach her husband's spirit through a system of prearranged signals.

"October 31 is Hallowe'en and if the spirits don't come then, I don't think there will be much chance," she explained. "I'd like to hold it in the open where everybody can see."

YOUTH CALLS LAW AFTER SHOOTING

Phone Message Tells Of Killing Stepfather While Clubbing Wife With Gun

FORT WILLIAM, July 21.—(CP).—Shooting to death of Frank Lesage, Indian trapper, at Lake Sapawe, 50 miles west of here, by his stepson, Glenn Lesage, Sunday, was reported to provincial police here yesterday.

Police said young Lesage sent a telegraph message from Bialock, near Sapawe, telling of the shooting, and on the basis of his report, constables were dispatched from Fort William and Fort Frances to the scene.

Confirmation of the killing came from four mining men who visited the Lesage cabin and found the trapper's body, a bullet hole in the chest. Young Lesage told one of them that he had fired on his stepfather when the elder man started clubbing his mother with the butt end of a rifle and threatened to kill her and other children in the family.

After the shooting Mrs. Lesage and four children fled to the woods, while Glenn went to inform authorities.

MOTHER OF THREE WINS $200 PRIZE

Judged Best Country Newspaper Correspondent During Year 1936

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP). — Announcement of the selection of Mrs. Susan Frawley Eisele of Blue Earth, Minn., as the best country newspaper correspondent of 1936 was made to-day by Wheeler McMillen, editor of a magazine which sponsors the annual award for country reporters.

The award carried with it a $200 prize ,together with a trip to New York and Washington, which Mrs. Eisele is expected to make late next month.

Mrs. Eisele's work was chosen from 3,600 clippings from country papers, submitted to rural editors as the writing of their best correspondents. Mother of three children, she writes a weekly column for the Fairmont, Minn., Sentinel.

PROWLER IS SLAIN

60 Nurses Watch Police Trap Ex-Convict on Their Porch.

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP). —Sixty nurses and residents of an excited neighborhood watched 10 police squads trap and shoot to death an armed former convict found prowling on the rear porch of a south side nurses' home today.

The victim was identified through finger prints as William Geane, 28, paroled last March 26 from Joliet Penitentiary after serving time on four robbery charges.

TORONTO FORESEES SCHOOLS SWAMPED

Over 6,000 Given Entrance By Recommendation And 1,083 By Writing

TORONTO, July 21.—(CP).—Toronto secondary schools may be swamped beyond capacity, it was indicated yesterday, if all boys and girls who have obtained high school entrance standing decide to attend next September.

More than 6,000 have been given entrance standing by recommendation and 1,083 got it by writing. School officials hope a way out will be found in the likelihood that technical and commercial schools may take up some of the surplus, and the new Lawrence Park Collegiate with accommodation for 700 will be ready by September. Some will not attend secondary school and there will be the usual exodus of graduates from high school.

Crops Go Back Fast Pontypool District

(Examiner Correspondence.)

PONTYPOOL, July 21. — The crops in this district are badly in need of rain. Pastures are burning up; grain that was sowed late is cooking; early sowing is not quite as bad, but the whole situation is very disheartening. Fall grain is ripening too quickly, and a shrinkage in the grain is expected.

Two weeks ago there were prospects for a good crop, but the last week has changed that outlook. If rain does not come within the next few days, the early potato crop will be a failure. The late potatoes are coming along very well, but there is bound to be a decrease in the yield.

"Be It Ever So Humble"

IT is to the "humble homes" of Canada that the great majority of Life Insurance payments find their way.

Many such homes today would lack the necessities of life—were it not for the "little savings" which thrifty parents have set aside periodically in Life Insurance.

To the family which loses its bread-winner, Life Insurance means money to buy food and clothing—money to pay the rent—money to pay household bills—money to educate the children. Life Insurance also means, in many cases, independence of private charity or public relief.

In your own community, as well as in hundreds of cities and towns across Canada, "little savings" in Life Insurance are doing "big jobs", During the past six years, policyholders and beneficiaries in Canada have received, daily, half a million dollars from Life Insurance.

"Be it ever so humble"—there's no home which cannot have the much-needed protection of Life Insurance.

BRAIN—CALLAGHAN.

OSHAWA, July 21. — One of the summer's loveliest events was the marriage at St. Gregory's Church, Oshawa, of Daisie Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Callaghan of Oshawa and known to a large circle of Peterborough friends, to Harold Trevor Brain, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Brain of Windsor, at 10 o'clock this morning (Tuesday). Rev. Father Bench officiated at the ceremony and nuptial mass assisted in the sanctuary by Master Jimmie Callaghan, brother of the bride, and Master Billie Bawks.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was gowned in white pussy willow satin finished with pleated frills forming a short train. Covered buttons trimmed the full-length sleeves and the back of the gown. The high neckline was finished with a Queen Anne collar and the bride's only ornament, a cluster of pearls. Her veil of diaphanous tulle falling from a stitched satin pointed halo was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a prayer-book from which fell satin streamers knotted with white violets.

The maid-of-honor, Miss Hilda Sullivan of Peterborough, wore a distinctive gown of Nile green chiffon made on flowing lines with short puffed sleeves and stiffened collar. Gowns and hats of similar style were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Marian Callaghan, sister of the bride, in maize chiffon, and Miss Madeline Bawks in chartreuse chiffon. All attendants wore matching sandals and long mesh gloves.

In keeping with summer informality, the groom and best man, Mr. Hartland Callaghan of Montreal, brother of the bride, wore white Palm Beach suits. The ushers, Dr. W. H. Gifford, Mr. John Wilkinson and Mr. James Neil, wore white flannel trousers with blue coats.

Guests at the wedding breakfast, served in the ball-room of the Genosha Hotel, were received by Mrs. J. J. Callaghan, mother of the bride, in cornflower blue chiffon. Mrs. J. Brain, mother of the groom, also received with the bridal party, wearing a picturesque gown of black lace with beige accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Brain will spend their honeymoon on a motor trip to New York and Atlantic City. On their return they will reside in Oshawa.

RICHMAN—SNELL

BRANTFORD, July 21—A mid-summer, candlelight wedding with picturesque setting of lilies, snapdragon, palms and ferns, was solemnized in His Majesty's Chapel of the Mohawks recently when Florence Margaret Snell, B.Sc., daughter of Rev. H. W. Snell, (Rector of the Chapel), and Mrs. Snell, became the bride of Dr. Norman A. Richman, Seaforth, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Richman. Rev. H. W. Snell officiated. To the strains of Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. George Fletcher, Toronto, sister of the bride, the bride entered the historic little church, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Arthur Snell, who gave her in marriage.

The bride was charmingly gowned in pale pink chiffon with picture hat and accessories of harmonizing shade, and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of Talisman roses and sweet peas. She was attended by her sister, Dr. Dorothy Snell, Yellow Springs, Ohio, in a graceful gown of rose chiffon with a small white turban, and carried a lovely arm bouquet of Briarcliff roses and baby's breath. Dr. John Lewis, Hamilton, was groomsman.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held at the Mohawk Institute, the residence of the bride's parents, where the customary congratulatory toasts were honored. Mrs. Snell, mother of the bride, received with the bride and groom, gowned in orchid chiffon with white accessories assisted by the mother of the groom, in a becoming gown of blue suede lace also with white accessories. Dr. and Mrs. Richman left on a motor honeymoon trip, the bride travelling in a modish ensemble of navy blue net with matching accessories. On their return, they will reside in Seaforth.

PONTYPOOL

PONTYPOOL.—On Friday night, July 17, the regular monthly dance was held in the Orange Hall under the auspices of L.O.L. No. 82. Music was provided by Wilson's Merry-makers' Orchestra from Oshawa, William Rutherford acted as floor manager. The committee in charge plan on holding another dance on August 21, the same orchestra will be in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kellett of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kellett of New York spent last week calling on old friends in Manvers.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid. Sandy of Lindsay visited friends in Manvers on Sunday.

Mrs. James Bray of Toronto spent Sunday with her cousin, Mrs. Hart of Pontypool attending the decoration service at Ballyduff.

The annual decoration service of the Ballyduff cemetery was held on Sunday, July 19. The special speaker was Rev. Mr. Smith from Port Perry. The Bethany Quartette was unable to attend, but special music was provided by Mrs. Fred McGill, Mr. Percy Preston and Mr. J. J. Clarke, with Miss Winnie Preston presiding at the organ.

Mr. Hebrew Preston favored the crowd with a solo. It was just 62 years since Mr. Preston sang his first solo at Ballyduff. Short addresses were given by Mrs. Martin Clarke and Mr. Hebrew Preston.

On Sunday, July 12, the local Orangemen attended divine service in the Pontypool United Church at 7 p.m. Rev. Riding delivered a very appropriate sermon. Special music was provided by the male choir from Lotus.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church, Manvers, was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Malcolmson on Thursday, July 16, with a good attendance. The McCrea's Women's Association had been invited to meet the Manver's ladies at this meeting and they turned out in goodly numbers.

The business was brief; the main part was making plans for a church picnic, which will be held on Orono park on August 4. After the meeting closed a very dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. William Webb and Mrs. Edward Kellett.

Just Between Us Women

A Daily Chat With Examiner Neighbors Conducted by Roberta.

NOW blessings light on him that first invented this same sleep! It covers a man all over, thoughts and all, like a cloak; It is meat for the hungry, drink for the thirsty, heat for the cold, and cold for the hot. It is the current coin that purchases all the pleasures of the world cheap, and the balance that sets the king and the shepherd, the fool and the wiseman, even.—Cervantes. (Don Quixote.)

Dear Friends:

How casually we accept sleep, and yet when it doesn't come how defrauded we feel, and tell each other that "we never slept a wink all night", demanding sympathy for the thing we are so careless about.

Yet, what a marvellous thing it is when we can crawl into bed and relax ourselves from the strenuous things of the day, the bad and the good, the pleasant and the unpleasant, and think that for a little while we can sink into that form of unconsciousness which we call sleep.

It is the great leveller akin to death, wherein all men are equal, and where we in our dreams are whisked away to the life we would have if we could. It is the great restorer, letting our brains rest, so that we can get up refreshed and strengthened for whatever the new day may bring.

And yet we misuse our bodys and brain so that sleep deserts us, or sends that terrifying thing nightmare in her place, to torture and rack us, so that when morning comes we are worse than when we went to bed.

If I were ever inclined to envy anyone, it would be the ones who can sleep any place, any time, for then they get fresh vigor while the rest of us go on, unrested and annoyed.

Never, since I remember, has sleep come easily to me, in fact she leaves me at the least provocation, and no matter how I woo her she is a stubborn jade and sometimes will not return all the long night. You suggest that I try to get her to visit me in the daytime? It is hopeless, because then she becomes as elusive as quicksilver.

I've bribed her with sleeping tablets, fed her with hot milk (which I loathe) tried tiring her out with hard labor, neglected her, courted her, but all to no purpose. She'll flirt with me and then run off just when I think she is going to be kind this time.

I know she hates worries, so I park mine somewhere before I go to bed, and yet she will neglect me. So now, I never bother whether she comes or not, and, like love, a little indifference sometimes works wonders, and I find myself occasionally drifting off into sound slumber for a few hours, (all too few) and what a blessed thing it is.

And so, those of you whom sleep visits regularly, give thanks fervently, for then the night slips by easily on well-oiled wheels. Not for you are the long weary hours, the tossing and turning, the heat and the cold, and the start of a new day like the continuation of the one before.

Many times I have been glad when I had to have ether, for then I had sort of a synthetic sleep, and that was something to be thankful for. I had a funny experience. A radio announcer who never comes on in summer, and who is a marvellous broadcaster, always put me to sleep, and I used to slip off to bed when he came on the air, for then I knew I was sure of at least a few hours sleep. I couldn't tell him of it, as he might think it was a very doubtful compliment. And, when we come to the end of the road, isn't it grand to think that, "He giveth His beloved sleep?"

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

FLU SWEEPS CHILE

Gales Add Further Distress To Tornado Torn Country.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 21. —(AP). — Epidemics of influenza and intestinal disorders spread along the northern coasts today as gales raged over areas previously wrecked by earthquakes. Bodies were thrown out of their graves in cemeteries, and these lay exposed because of lack of funds and labor.

Drinking water was growing scorce and sanitary facilities were disrupted.

TIME IN A BIG WAY

Two and Half Ton Clock is Set Up In Downtown Toronto.

TORONTO, July 21 (CP) — A two-and-one-half ton timepiece, believed to be the largest hanging clock in Ontario, has been set up in downtown Toronto. The diameter of the face is 12 feet and 250 electric bulbs are required to light it at night. The total height of the sign containing the clock is 30 feet and 40-foot cables hold it in place.

Jack Fish Caught in West Contain Bodies of Young Birds

EDMONTON, July 21 (CP)—A month ago a fish opened up in a fish market here was found to have a duck in its stomach. It happened again yesterday. A 20-inch Jack fish, caught 50 miles from Edmonton, contained a partly digested 11-inch duck.

Dinners of The Week

All These Meals Have Been Served, Eaten and Approved

SUNDAY.
Lemonade
Potato and Cucumber Salad
Sliced Tomatoes
Orange Charlotte (see note)
Iced Coffee

NOTE.—You will note that the above meal is combined both for nourishment and coolness. A whole salmon will cost you from $1.50 to $2.00, depending on its size and in what community you live. If your family is not too huge and if the salmon is properly served it will last you for three meals. To retain its shape cook it in your roaster. Put the trivet in the bottom, add 1 cup water and ½ cup vinegar, and put on cover and steam it thus 20 minutes for each pound—1½ hours is usually long enough for any size fish up to 8 pounds. Let it cool in the dish in which it was cooked and put on ice for at least 3 hours before it is served. Skin the top, but if you try to skin the bottom it may break the fish, so slip it off the trivet to the serving platter, skin side down, and garnish with fancy cut lemon, plenty of parsley, and spread mayonnaise in a long streamer down the centre of the top about 2 inches wide. Sprinkle the mayonnaise with paprika, and put plenty of little groups of capers throughout the border. If this is done properly and very cold it will be quite a sensation. It makes a nice buffet or lawn supper, too, for it requires no knife to cut it. Put plenty of cucumber in the potato salad and serve lettuce generously with it and the tomatoes.

The Orange Charlotte can be made on Saturday morning when all the hard work is being done—actually it improves with standing. One and one-half tablespoons gelatin soaked in 1-3 cup boiling water, and added to 1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, and 1 cup orange juice and pulp. Chill this and when it is half thickened whip with rotary beater to make it frothy and stiff, then add the beaten whites of 3 eggs and fold in 1 cup of cream whipped stiff. Line a mould with orange sections and lady fingers and pour in charlotte, smooth top, and chill. Turn out on round chop plate to serve.

Tasty Breakfast For Your Guests

When You Have Guests On Sunday Make Breakfast Different

BAKED EGGS IN CREAM

OUR basement has long been the cool and private snuggery of The Chief.

It is only on hot days like this very one on which I write that I ever think of it as a place to work—and never before have I collected typewriter, collapsible table, paper and pencils and descended to it to type my weekly preamble.

If these breakfasts seem especially cool and calm and collected give the basement credit. In my study the temperature was 88; outside in the shade of the pear tree it is 100; down here it is exactly 69. Good old basement.

I shall never forget it and I won't led you— that first glorious Sunday morning breakfast we had in Missouri when we were on our wedding trip—the expected guests of some of the best friends of my husband. It was euch an important occasion.

As a centre piece—green grapes—our common garden variety of white grapes you know—but chilled and each bunch cut with an eye to its beauty. Arranged on a silver pedestal wish with 1 huge grape leaf as a doily for them.

That menu was not to be on to-day's list but use it by all means even though it has appeared on these pages before. Recipe for Baked Eggs in cream will be found below.

Baked Eggs in Cream.

Butter a glass casserole and cover bottom and sides with a thin coating of fine sifted cracker crumbs. If no bacon is being served, provide 2 eggs for each guest and break these into the buttered casserole., Over top of them all pour cream, allowing 1 tablespoon of as thick cream as you can get for each egg. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons sifted crecker crumb over all and sprinkle top with paprika. Bake at same time biscuits are baking for oven must be quite hot to cook eggs top and bottom without hardening the yolk—450 deg. fahr. for about 8 minutes.

Sunday Morning Breakfast.
Menu No. 2
Chilled Orange and Prune Juice Mixed.
Baked Rhubarb.
Pan Broiled Winnipeg Goldeye or Oven Broiled Lake Trout.
Tea Biscuits made with Tomato Juice in place of Milk.
Whole Wheat Toast.
Marmalade. Coffee.

Suggestions for serving this meal include warning not to serve the fruit juice too generously—a large sized wine glass would be plenty since there is a second fruit course.

Bake the unpeeled pink rhubarb in a sugar syrup of equal parts water and sugar, covered in a glass or earthern dish—do not stir while baking or it will break up.

The tomato flavor in the tea biscuit with the fish is quite appropriate, as when are tomatoes in any shape not good with fish?

Sunday Morning Breakfast.
Menu No. 3.
Red Raspberries with Devonshire Cream.
Chipped Beef Omelette.
Melba Toast. Gooseberry Jam.
Choice of Coffee or Cocoa.

The Devonshire cream would have to be ordered ahead of the time you need it—if your milkman does not carry it, grocery departments that carry fancy cheeses will usually have it.

Chipped Beef Omelette.

In large iron frying pan melt butter and when it bubbles, add ¼ lb. finely shaved chipped beef and let it heat through and frizzle a little. Make the omelettes by separating the yolks and whites and beating the whites first until stiff, then transferring the beater to the yolks and beating them until they are thick. To each 4 eggs included add 1 cup boiling water to the yolks stirring, and 1 teaspoon salt. Fold whites into yolks, mixing them only until the consistency is even, and pour into hot pan and let cook for about 6 or 7 minutes. Then put in oven under platter garnished with tomato slices.

Sunday Morning Breakfast.
Menu No. 3.
Sliced Peaches in Halves of Chilled Cantaloupe.
Mixed Grill of Sausages, Breakfast Bacon and Mushrooms.
German Coffee Cake.
Orange Marmalade. Coffee.

If you have an electric grill all of the meats and mushrooms could be prepared at the table. This is always interesting to the guests.

German Coffee Cake.

One and one-half cakes yeast, 1 cup milk which has been scalded and cooled, 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 cups sifted flour, ½ cup butter, 1 cup sugar, ½ tea spoon mace, 1 cup mixed chopped citron and raisins, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 eggs.

Dissolve the yeast and the 1 table spoon sugar in the warm milk and add 1½ cups flour. Beat this well and cover and set aside in a warm place to rise for 1 hour or until double in bulk. Then add to it the butter and sugar which have been creamed together, the mace, and fruit which should be floured, the remainder of the flour, and the salt and the eggs well beaten. Beat this for 10 minutes. Pour into buttered flat pan filling it about ½ full, cover and let rise until double in bulk, then sprinkle with brown sugar and cinnamon and dot plentifully with butter and bake at 375 deg. fahr. One large cake needs one hours baking.

Sunday Morning Breakfast.
Menu No. 5.
Pineapple or Grape Fruit Juice.
Broiled Calves' Liver or Codfish Balls.
Popovers. . . .
Strawberry Jam. . . . Oven Toast.
Coffee.

If you wish to serve the Calves' Liver in place of Codfish balls, it is grand with Scrambled Eggs and Chili Sauce.

Serve the toast for those who do not quite fancy the popovers with the Strawberry jam.

Mrs. MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Well, here is a Syrian gal, responding to your ad. Personally I do not know A from B in matters of cooking, but you cannot expect better from a novice, can you? However, I have received some aid, hence I am writing to you.

As for "Kudbi"—by the way, the word is "Keb-bi"—it is rather difficult to explain it in a written form. One would have to witness the making of it to get some knowledge of it—so they tell me. Here, however, is another dish called "Yab-brak." I am sure you will like it because many non-Syrians have tasted it and liked it very much.

Yab-brak (Syrian).

Take a large cabbage and leaf it withdrawing the heart. Boil the leaves in salt and water. When boiled sufficiently withdraw from water and leave them to cool. Take mutton or lamb lean meat and cut in very small pieces by hand. About 2 lbs. is right with a very small amount of water. (Ed. note—I think this meat is supposed to be wrapped in the cabbage leaves and baked.)

Can you understand my description of this recipe? I hope you do. You should see how mother is laughing at me. This is the very first time I asked her for a recipe of any kind. She says it is about time I got some sense in my head. At 17 I still do not know how to fry an egg. There's still hope.

I am wondering if I have helped you a little at least. I hope so. I will be watching the cookery page for this. Pearl Z.

ANSWER: I hope the other readers of the page chuckle over your letter like I did. You were very sweet to pursue the matter and give us another Syrian recipe—I do hope the lady who was asking for them sees this. Do write to us again—we will be delighted to teach you to do many things besides "fry an egg" if you will consult us. In the meantime follow the cookery page and plan to make one simple thing every week—it will not only be a pleasant hobby for you but such a help to your mother, and she will teach you what she knows. Do write again.

QUESTION: Although the cherry season may be over by the time you get a chance to print this, I still want your method of making cherry pie from sour cherries—Montmorency. Mine is always too sweet or too sour, too full of juice—or if I do go to the trouble of mixing some cornstarch with the juice, it is too thick. Please straighten me out on this. I think the Cookery Page is excellent and read it faithfully each week. Mona H.

Cherry Pie.

ANSWER: Stone the washed and steamed cherries—there should be 2½ cups, and to them add 1¼ cups of sugar in which has been mixed 2 tablespoons minute tapioca, and let these stand and make a clear syrup with stirring for about 1 hour or while you make your pastry. Line your pie plate with rich pastry and chill well, having upper crust folded once on plate and chilling. When oven temperature registers 500 deg. Fahr. pour cherries into lined pie plate, put on top crust, pressing it at edges tightly and leaving large slits in upper crust to allow some juice to bubble through and put in very hot oven—reducing heat after first minute if it is electric—if it is gas reduce heat at end of 5 minutes and let pie finish at 350 deg. fahr. Bake pie until it is deep golden.

Thank you for your kind opinion of the Cookery Page. We will be glad to help you at any time.

EMEM'S ICED TEA.

Make a cold syrup of equal parts of lemon juice and sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved. Put one tablespoon of this mixture in bottom of each tall glass and fill the glass with ice, and add 2 teaspoons sugar. Pour over boiling hot, freshly steeped tea of whatever strength you desire, but it must be freshly steeped and boiling hot. It will not break the glasses. Serve with straws.

Pioneers' Life Span Averaged 32 Against Present 61.

STRATFORD, Ont., July 21 (C.P.). — Modern comforts and conveniences apparently have lengthened the life-span of Stratford district residents in the ages inscribed on local tombstones, can be taken as an indication.

In St. James' graveyard, where 73 district pioneers are buried, total of the ages marked on the headstones is 2,345 years, or an average age of slightly more than 32 years.

Total expenditures of all churches in New York City in one year totaled more than $51,000,000. The value of the churches in that city has been placed at more than $318,000,000.

Much Has Changed

The thousands of Canadians who are about to visit Vimy will not recognize much of the territory they once knew so well. When they approach that famous rise of the land on this occasion they can do so without fear; they will not have to sleep in holes nor will they have to walk stealthily by night in mud.

The trees which they saw shot to pieces will not be there; they will see new ones along the roads—new trees which knew nothing at all of the war. Now and then they may find where peasants have made some use of the roofing of the army huts and they may see a humble-looking cow gazing out from such a shelter. It may be they will see where some patient gardener has surrounded a little patch of ground with the barbed wire of war days. But the great shell holes, the smashed buildings, the hastily-constructed roads made by engineers—they will not be seen. Nor will it be necessary to keep the head down. It will be possible to stand erect.

At Vimy itself they will find something which will recall the days of war, for it has been little changed. If they go by way of Arras and Albert they will find new towns. They will find the war cemeteries where so many of their comrades of war days rest and they will find them well cared for. It will be a great visit, but the visitors will find that much is changed.

Time To Be Careful

It is not only in the timber country that folk should be careful these days about where they toss their lighted matches or unextinguished cigarette ends. As a result of over three weeks of drought the grass in every section of the city where it has not been kept green by frequent hosing constitutes a very serious fire menace and it is not surprising that Fire Chief Gimblett found it necessary to issue a warning to the public to be on its guard. A carelessly flung match might easily start a fire in a field of dry grass across which the flames would gallop so fast that buildings in the neighborhood might be speedily threatened. In fact we notice stories these days from a number of places in which fires that had apparently a harmless start in some dry grass soon developed into a serious blaze and heavy property damage followed.

With everything as dry as it is at present it would be simple common sense for smokers to remember the danger and to make sure their matches and cigarette butts are extinguished before they are tossed away. This is one case in which an ounce of prevention is surely worth a pound of cure. A little care on everybody's part may save a serious fire and a heavy financial loss.

They Saw Two Deer

A report from Lindsay says that two deer appeared on the road near Victoria Road village just when a party of American tourists were passing. After looking at the tourists for a minute or two apparently without any fear the deer turned and took to the woods. The tourists said it was the greatest thrill they had received during their entire trip.

And it would be. To see a deer at the side of the road, to see it, if startled, clear a fence with ease and start off through the bush, is a sight all too seldom available. We are quite certain if there were more deer in their native surroundings in our entire district then there would be more people who would want to see them. They would not want to kill them—they would just want to see them.

We can have more deer if we have fewer wolves; we can have more deer if we keep dogs from being turned loose on them. We can have more wild life in its natural setting if we work toward that end. At present we are depending too much on fish to attract tourists.

A Disturbing Sign

We are afraid the returns covering construction in Canada during July, as compiled from the figures supplied by 58 cities, cannot be accepted cheerfully. They show a falling off in building throughout the country during last month of ten per cent. as compared with the same month a year ago and it must be remembered the total for June, 1935, was far below the peak. The building industry and the industries which furnish it with materials have probably been harder hit than any other in Canada and a great deal of the present unemployment is a direct result of the abnormal slackness in building operations. There were signs earlier in the present year of a welcome revival in this field and high hopes were entertained that the trend would be accelerated as the season advanced, thus taking up considerable of the slack in unemployment and the figures given out now are a distinct disappointment to those who appreciate just how much a building boom would mean to Canada at the present time.

In Great Britain an extensive program of house-building that has seen enough homes erected since the war to take care of the whole population of Canada has helped appreciably in providing work both for the men who work in the building trades and for the employees of factories whose business it is to furnish builders' supplies. Unfortunately there is nothing of the kind in sight here and until it comes it is going to be almost an impossible task to provide jobs for thousands who formerly were absorbed by the construction industry.

We Were Just Wondering

The Sault Ste. Marie Star prints an account of a birthday party which Mrs. Stella Kozak held for her son on his first birthday anniversary. It was recorded the young people present played games and sang songs and were served refreshments. Among those present were people with these names: Mary Rescio, Annie Zabolotny, Helen Pszeneczny, Mary Boychuk, Olga Hapawonich, Edward Hapawonich and Ted Krychkowsky.

When a little boy has a birthday party when he is one year old we take it he is supposed to pay some attention to his guests and we were just wondering if this little man at the Sault was able to call his visitors by their full names and say he had been glad to see them.

The Weeds of Ontario

Any farmer or gardener knows he has enough weeds on his premises, but how many? A few weeks ago when people were driving in the country they might become certain that wild mustard had become a recognized crop in some districts. But it is by no means the most persistent or the most injurious. A publication issued by the Ontario Agricultural college gives a list of the known weeds in Ontario. It is so impressively long we would hardly undertake the publication of the complete list. But here is a partial selection:

August flower	Dandelion, fall
Ball mustard	Dodder
Bindweed	Field peppergrass
Bitterweed	Figwort
Blackeyed Susan	Foxtail
Black medick	Ragweed
Bladder campion	Green tansy mustard
Bladder weed	Ground ivy
Blue bur	Heal all
Blue devil	Hogweed,
Blue thistle	Lamu's quarters
Blue weed	Meadow salsify
Burdock	Milkweed
Buttercup	Moth Mullein
Butterweed	Mustard family
Canada lettuce	Old witch grass
Canada thistle	Sow thistle
Charlock	Quack grass
Cheat	Russian thistle
Chickweed	Skunk-tail grass
Common plantain	Smartweed
Common ragweed	Stink weed
Corn cockle	Toad flax
Couch grass	Tumble weed
Cow cress	Twitch grass
Creeping thistle	White pigweed
Curled dock	Wild carrot
Daisy ox-eye	Wild oats
Dandelion	Wild Pea
	Wild radish

Answering the question "What is a weed?" the bulletin says it is a "plant out of place," or "a plant which interferes with the growth of the crop to which the field is temporarily devoted." It may be a good many people do not fully realize the amount of available moisture which weeds take from the soil. An average mustard plant will take from the soil about fourteen ounces, or seven-tenths of a pint, per day.

Strange how many ways weeds come. Of course by the wind, and the seed travels for miles; others roll along the ground, but the spread of such weeds would be confined to flat land. Streams of water will carry seeds, so will the feed of migrating birds. Weed seeds often enter the stomach of animals where they are not digested. They are finally deposited in various sections of the land. Weeds are carried from one province by the litter and fodder in cars used to ship animals. A threshing machine which has been in use on a dirty farm will carry weed seeds.

The farmer or gardener who is going to keep his place clean can do so only by work. He knows it is going to be a continuous struggle because in season the weed seeds from other farms which are not clean are going to be dumped on his premises. The list given above may not appear in its entirety in any one community, but it will appear in Ontario as a whole and it is not a complete list either.

A Fine Place to Hide

If shop breakers and thieves ever do hold conventions, then we believe the case of Milton Lickers said to be from Hamilton, should be discussed. Police found two men were inside the Canadian Department Stores at Niagara and went to investigate.

When police entered the building they caught one man as he was leaving the groceteria department. Apparently he was just an ordinary gentleman, not well schooled in the method of disappearance.

It was different when they went to search for the other man. In a large store one might scoot and hide in a number of places behind counters, under tables and so on, but such places of concealment would not be difficult to penetrate.

It took an hour for the police to find this Lickers individual, and they finally located him on the third floor in the space where linoleums are displayed. He was standing inside one of those large rolls which are generally placed on end. We submit there was a certain degree of ingenuity displayed in selecting such a hiding place. It would be quite a job getting in there, and quite a job getting the roll in line with the others, and quite a job too standing there for an hour without sneezing or causing some sort of a motion. And then the hidden man would have to stand perfectly straight, straight as a flag pole. As a place to hide it was good and burglars and prowlers in general should consider the idea.

THE CURE

¶ The people living off in Spain, are far from docile folk and tame, they are rebelling now; it's hard to get the thing all straight, or figure why they're filled with hate, with blood upon their brow.

¶ I used to think they were so gay, and worked so little in a day, and sang and danced at night; and how they'd knock off work at noon, and scamper for the bleachers soon, to see a wild bull fight.

¶ Old families with proud records too, will beat each other black and blue stick swords into the spine; they'll steal each other's hats and coats, and swipe their neighbor's billy goats, and raid their neighbor's wine.

¶ The trouble with these ancient gents, they bother much with governments, they dote upon the law; they want to be good men and free, but on the method can't agree, so punch each other's jaw.

¶ If they were living like we do, and had to get their work-day through, their troubles would be few; they need some dried-up fields to dig, find fodder for their fatted pig—and have some chores to do.

Quebec Editors And The Tourists

(From the Hamilton Spectator)

[illegible] a lot of respite from the spate of political arguments Quebec editors turn their attention this week to the great seasonal industry of tourism. Calling attention to estimates by authorities that holiday makers from afar will leave some $60,000,000 in this province in the ensuing three months, L'Action (Quebec) stresses certain advantages of the traffic and looks at the tourist's point of view, frankly admitting that the government has still much to do before ideal conditions prevail throughout all sections of the province. It says:

"The tourist who comes here—and he comes most of the time in an automobile—wishes to pass over well-made roads, without dust, and with danger spots well marked by signs. In this domain the government has done much, but circumstances attributable to the deplorable political conditions which we have encountered have perhaps prevented execution of a program of repairs which would be welcome everywhere. It cannot be denied that some roads are not in the condition they should be, but we know that the minister of roads is only waiting for the moment when he has sufficient funds at his disposal to put them in order. It is imperative that the people of Quebec do all in their power to make the cities pleasant places for visitors. The city council of Quebec has put a stop to certain nuisances. It no longer permits solicitation of tourists by persons who have no other end in view than their own personal profit. The tourist does not come here to live in this house or that. He comes for relaxation and play during the holiday, to fill his lungs with new air and to rest his eyes on things he does not see every day at home. Let us give him all possible opportunity to secure the end he has in view."

La Tribune appeals to residents of Quebec to take their holidays in the province: "Tourists among us, make a resolution to explore at least one of the incomparable regions of our province this year and to the end that you may have the pleasure and advantage of being informed about its serene beauty and have a better understanding of the land in which you dwell."

To those who wander afield with the idea of living close to nature, La Presse counsels prudence on the part of city people going into the country during the summer: "Health regulations should always be well observed, but particularly by city people in the country during the summer. One of the most important questions is always to be as sure as possible of the purity of the water everywhere and at all times. As as general rule, of course, summer resorts take all precautions to ensure the purity of the water, but there are many things to be remembered by travellers. For one thing, it is inadvisable to stay near a swamp or any locality where there are numerous insects. It is especially important to keep germs, insects and dirt out of the dining-rooms and more particularly kitchens where food is prepared. When "going primitive," and eating in the open air, one should remember to boil all water."

BASS TAKE RIDE.

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

HERE is a remarkable story of the long trip made by 300 adult small-mouthed black bass from the Georgian Bay to Lake Waskesiu in the Prince Albert National Park.

The fish were netted in the vicinity of Spanish River with the co-operation of the Ontario Department of Fisheries. They travelled in cool, specially equipped compartments or tanks in a private car with attendants skilled in fish culture to look after them. The C.P.R. and the C.N.R., rising to the occasion, gave the fish a free ride on their trains to Saskatchewan.

At Prince Albert the tanks were loaded on trucks and motored to Lake Waskesiu, a few miles north of the city. Once at the lake most of the bass were set free to follow their own inclinations, but others were put in the water at selected spots where enclosures had been built around suitable spawning grounds. Here these fish will be watched during the spawning season by the professor of biology at the University of Saskatchewan who had pronounced the lake very suitable for bass.

The fish arrived apparently in excellent condition and statistical information as to their progress is promised later on.

This information comes from the Department of Fisheries to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

PAINT IN DEMAND.

(Bowmanville Statesman)

WE cannot remember a time when paint was being more freely used than it has been during the present season. Local painters have more work than they can handle, and the rush seems scheduled to keep up throughout the summer. The Sheppard and Gill Co. report that paint sales this year have doubled. The reason for this unprecedented rush of painting was explained by one painter in that practically all the better paints have been reduced in price. He also explained that the majority of buildings have been slighted during the depressed years and have long been due a coat of paint. He also gave credit to a better feeling in the minds of people at large who appear to agree that times are definitely better and on the mend.

A Bit of Nonsense

UNEXPECTED

Johnny, ten years old, applied for a job as grocer's boy for the summer. The grocer wanted a serious-minded youth, so he put Johnny to a little test.

"Why, I didn't know you liked to walk so much."

"I don't, but I'd sure like to make my wife's detective sick of his job of following me."

NOT SO BAD

"I must be very ill, nurse, with the doctor coming in three times a day."

"Oh, I shouldn't take any notice of that, Mr. Entwhistle. You see, we're engaged."—Humorist.

Why Muskoka Bass Are Few

(From the Mail and Empire.)

WHILE fishing in Northern Ontario waters recently we chanced upon the spawning beds of one of the smaller species of fish. The little fellows had chosen the shallow water of a shelving beach with a sand bottom for the reproduction of their kind. The place was so situated that larger fish which are the natural enemies of the breed in question could not get at them. The little fellows had scooped out with their tails little saucer-shaped nests in the sand at the bottom of the water, and in these they had deposited their fertilized eggs.

At the time of our visit the depositing of the spawn had been completed, and each little saucer was guarded by a male fish, which had stationed himself above the spawn and was ever on the alert to attack anything that approached the saucer. Never was there a more interesting demonstration of the instinct which leads any of the animal species to safeguard the processes of their own reproduction.

When we told a friend about this interesting experience he countered by hazarding a reason why bass are scarce in the Muskoka Lakes. Some have attributed this scarcity to excessive fishing on the part of the Summer visitors. The real reason appears to be that the shore waters of them mainland and the islands in Muskoka have been pretty thoroughly cleared of the logs and brush which are to be found in unfrequented wilderness lakes. These log and brush heaps are an essential shelter for the young fish before they get old enough to fend for themselves. It is in these hides that the little bass take refuge from predatory fish of a larger size which feed upon them. Hence it is, our informant told us, that the dumping of millions of bass fry in the Muskoka Lakes has not led to the re-establisment of good fishing in that part of the north country.

Another Heat Victim.

(From the London Advertiser.)

THE recently-departed and unlamented heat wave produced some curious reactions among its victims, but nothing we have read recently approaches the hot weather hydrophobia which apparently inspired an effusion in the Toronto Mail and Empire by a Kitchener resident signing himself Gotthelf Schonberg, in which he urged Canadians not to fear as Germany will soon take over Canada, which will become the brightest gem in the German Empire.

Mr. Schonberg is evidently one of those Germans (fortunately we have very few of them in Canada) who have brought upon his Fatherland the suspicion that it has become, under Nazism, just one big lunatic asylum. But possibly we should be more charitable to Mr. Schonberg remembering how hot the weather has been and what curious effects the heat often has upon the state of some mentalities. Evidently the hot sun has seriously warped Mr. Shonberg's thinking equipment and has caused him to dislike a number of things and people. His "Hymn of Hate" is directed first against all Jews anywhere and at any time. His reason is that "all Jews no matter where they live are too much bound up with England." He is furiously opposed to all things British and also has a grievious grudge against the United States because "these countries are our perpetual enemies." Christians in general and Roman Catholics in particular are anathema to this broad-minded Aryan because they are followers of Christ—another Jew.

But all these matters are about to be set right with true Teutonic thoroughness. Says Herr Schonberg:

Our Fuehrer will change everything. In a few years more there will be no Roman Catholics in Germany, no more differences in religion. All will follow the great Fuehrer in politics and in one belief—and certainly not the pale-faced Jew religion of the Bible—old or so-called new.

You Canadians need not fear, even if in the end you are part of great Germany. After you see from our paper our great aims and hopes, you will be glad to become part of our great empire and join with us under our divine Fuehrer, the true protector of all that is truly Aryan in world politics and religion. This will be a great destiny for all Canada, and certainly a great future, greater than it can ever expect in its present place. With its raw materials and enormous fertile spaces and natural resources, at the command of the German Empire, Canada will be the greatest gem in our empire.

So that's that. Certainly it is a most engaging dream. Mr. Schonberg evidently has achieved that "place in the sun" once so ardently desired by Kaiser Wilhelm. The trouble seems to be that having found a place in the sun he has stayed out in it too long. We would advise him to try putting a little ice on his head or to see a good psychiatrist, if it is not already too late.

THE VIMY PILGRIMS.

(Sarnia Observer.)

THE pathetic thing about the passengers on these ships that are carrying Canadian soldiers, their wives and mothers on the pilgrimage to the European battlefields, is that the occasion is a grim reminder of the effect of passing years.

Twenty-two years ago the cargoes that filled the transports bound for the battlefields were composed entirely of youth, eager for adventure, enamored of the opportunity to become acquainted with a new old world. Today, the addition of the intervening score of years has changed the appearance of these youths. All are in middle age or further on. Their pace is slower, there is grey hair and impaired vision. Time has implanted its inevitable stamp on the countenances of those who sailed so jauntily two decades ago.

There are many women who, when they reach France and Belgium, will, for the first time, look on graves that hold the remains of dear ones. There is this consolation, that their memory will be of a youth who will remain young until the end of memory.

CITY MEN ON FARMS.

(Owen Sound Sun-Times)

IT must be remembered that the majority of the men who are sent to farms are not farm hardened. They have been living on too much starchy food. Their hands are soft and blister easily, and they cannot work the long hours without becoming more or less exhausted. These are things every farmer should consider. It takes time for a city man to accustom himself to the handling of farm implements. He cannot be expected to go off the city streets and pitch hay all day. It is physically impossible for him to do so. Such men should be given a fair chance to condition themselves and every fair-minded farmer will give them that chance.

BON VOYAGE.

(From the Montreal Star)

THE famous Hudson Bay Company's ship Nascopie set forth on her annual voyage to the Far North today, with all vessels in port blaring their good wishes through syrens and foghorns and other signals. She carries relief detachments for Royal Canadian Mounted Police posts in the Arctic, as well as supplies for them and for the trappers and Eskimaux who live in Canada's most northerly territory. This is her annual trip, which she has been making for many years, and is the only means of contact the posts have with civilization during the year. She takes to them one year's mail and she will bring back R.C.M.P. men who have been relieved as well as the year's fur catch.

Science has not yet succeeded in discovering any substitute for this stout little ship, which takes the greatest risks on every trip through the Arctic ice floes. Her itinerary carries her within eight hundred miles of the North Pole. So far she has weathered all storms and survived all dangers. And today she goes on her way with the cheers of sailormen ringing in her crew's ears and with the good wishes of every Canadian who is proud of his country and of the gallant men who serve her within the Arctic regions. GOLDEN GATE.

S. A. Paine, M.E., in charge of operations at the Golden Gate Mining Co. property in the western Kirkland Lake area, states that five feet of heavily mineralised quartz has been intersected in the 201 cross cut on the 200-foot level. Mr. Paine further reports that they are continuing with the cross cut and drifting on the vein will be started in a week's time.

Comb Caribbean Sea For 22 Lost On Yacht

TAMPA, Fla., July 21 (AP).—The United States coastguard concentrated a large fleet in the Yucatan Channel and Caribbean Sea today under orders to learn the fate of 22 persons aboard the missing British motorship Nunoca.

Three ships of the Cuban navy joined the search. Nine coastguard boats were told to disregard territorial boundaries and carry the hunt as far south as Grand Cayman Island.

Aboard the Nunoca were nine Americans, four British subjects and a crew of eight under command of Captain Moses I. Kirkconnell.

TWO FIREMEN HURT

STRATHROY, Ont., July 21 (CP) —Two firemen were injured while battling a troublesome $2,000 blaze early to-day in the three-storey residence of John S. Douglas, Victoria street.

Fireman Russell Statham fell from the third storey, through a burned hole in the floor, and fractured several ribs.

Fireman James Markel suffered a severely cut left hand, when a sheet of glass fell.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 21. — Export business and comparatively light offerings, combined with strength in outside markets, lifted wheat futures prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday.

Values closed 1⅞ to 1¼ cents higher, with July quoted at 94c, October 93⅜c to 93½c, and December 92⅝c to 92⅞c.

The weather proved another factor in the upturn, with most districts throughout the Prairie Provinces finding little or no week-end rain and higher temperatures and little precipitation forecast for Monday and Tuesday.

Export business since Saturday's close was estimated at 300,000 bushels. Purchases for eastern and southern account supplemented the buying, but trading was unusually light and offerings thin. No selling was traced to the Wheat Board.

Chicago at top levels was about two cents higher and Minneapolis one cent higher. Moderate rains fell in the United States corn belt, but the American spring wheat area was generally without moisture. Liverpool closed unchanged to ½d lower. Buenos Aires was ⅞ to 1⅛ cent higher at noon.

Keen Demand Rules In High-Grade Mart

The sale during the past week of $25,000,000 Dominion of Canada three-month treasury bills at a new high price bears evidence again of the weight of funds seeking investment, and the eager demand for this type of security, according to Wood, Gundy and Co. The bills were sold at an average cost of .757 per cent. This compares with an average rate of .798 per cent. for similar bills sold June 30th, and .838 per cent. for bills sold June 12.

Other new issues to be awarded included $197,500 city and county of St. John, N. B., 3½ per cent. serial and straight-term bonds at a cost to the municipality of 3.56 per cent., and $68,501 village of Forest Hill 3½ per cent. instalment debentures at a cost basis of 3.06 per cent. The new issue market, with the exception of some municipal tenders, appears barren of offerings. This lack of new financing is a contributary cause of the firm prices existing for high-grade Canadian securities.

In the past week Canada 3¼ per cent. bonds of 1966 and 3 per cent. bonds of 1955 again featured the Government section of the market. Short and middle-term securities also met good demand. In the provincial section, offerings of eastern provincials were scarce, in spite of firm bidding. The western section was again quiet with a slightly easier trend.

Legionnaires Visit Historic Versailles

PARIS, July 21 (CP-Havas).—Canadian Legionnaires and their wives, here for the dedication of the Canadian war memorial at Vimy Ridge next Sunday, visited historic Versailles to-day in the company of French officials and former comrades-in-arms.

Yesterday the visitors spent another eventful day, receiving a taste of genuine French hospitality as the guests of semi-official organizations.

Lemke Joins Townsend

Waving a bill to emphasize his ideas on national currency, William Lemke, Union Party candidate for President, addressed delegates to the national convention of Townsendites at Cleveland and aligned himself with the leader of the old-age pension plan "in the great fight he is making on behalf of the citizens of our country." King Edward's Reception Excites Two Princesses

Dogs, Dolls, Horses, Penguins Also Play Role In Royal Youngsters' Lives

MARGARET ROSE SIX SOON

LONDON, July 21 (CP).—Great Britain's little Princesses Elizabeth and Rose were excited to-day over the possibility they might be allowed to peep in at King Edward's reception to-day in Buckingham Palace.

The two daughters of the Duke and Duches sof York regard the reception as an important part of their lives which also include dogs and dolls and horses and penguins.

There are lots of dogs at Windsor, and they play important roles in the games of the princesses who stand second and third in the line of succession to the throne.

Their inherit their fondness for dogs from their father, the Duke of York, who is something of an expert in canine matters and from whose kennels come Jane the Corgi, Mimsy the Labrador, and the rest of their furry playmates.

Many of their games centre around a miniature house, a gift to Princess Elizabeth on her sixth birthday, which has a thatched roof and is completely equipped with everything that a model home should have.

Elizabeth Assumes Dignity

As befits the younger, Princess Margaret Rose is the more active in garden romps. Princess Elizabeth is rapidly approaching an age of dignity and discretion, having passed her 10th birthday last April.

Princess Margaret Rose will have a birthday on August 21, when she will be six years old, and these days are much colored with anticipation of what the anniversary will bring forth.

The younger Princess likes other creatures almost as much as dogs, Penguins, for instance. She also longs for a pony of her own. Princess Elizabeth already has a pony.

Princess Margaret Rose gave early evidence of keen interest in animals. At the age of three, when looking through a fairy-tale book with the Duchess of York, she came to a picture of a dragon and exclaimed: "Look, Mummy—what a darling little Loch Ness monster!"

QUEBEC ELECTION RALLY SEES BLOOD

Fists Fly Freely At Gatineau Liberal Convention—Chief Is Bitter

AYLMER, Que., July 21 (CP.)—Reverberations of the hectic Wright and Gatineau Liberal convention still echoed to-day as the chosen candidates, Dr. Rodolphe Leduc for the Federal seat of Wright and J. B. Merleau for the Gatineau provincial riding, began preparations for the forthcoming elections.

Flying fists found their mark and blood spattered on the aisle of St. Jean Baptiste Hall here yesterday when the convention was held.

Dr. Leduc will contest the by-election of Wright on August 10, occasioned by the death of F. W. Ferras, while Merleau will fight for the Gatineau seat in the Quebec provincial elections on August 17.

Two combatants were ejected from the convention hall by Chief of Police Delbert Dumoulin with their faces cut and bruised while a third man, involved in another fight, bit Chief Dumoulin on the right thumb.

The late King George VI, as Prince of Wales, asked Kitchener to find him an aide for his tour of India in 1906. Wigram became assistant to the chief of staff during this royal visit to India. He was summoned to the royal household immediately upon the accession of King George to the throne in 1910 as assistant private secretary and equerry.

One of the most interesting appointments announced last night was that of Flight-Lieut. Edward H. Fielden, King Edward's personal pilot, as "Captain of the King's Flight." Fielden always is at the controls when His Majesty travels by air.

Billy Bell Is Still On Scotia's Pay Roll

HALIFAX, July 21 (CP).—Billy Bell, operator of the diamond drill which "found Alfred Seadding, Dr. D. E. Robertson and Herman Magill in the Moose River Mine last April, is still on the Provincial Government pay roll, Mines Minister Michael Dwyer said to-day.

Reports that Bell, one of the heroes of the mine rescue, was out of work were untrue, the mines minister stated. Billy Bell, along with a half dozen other diamond drill operators, was retained by the government for field work and had been asked to superintend a prospecting job in Guysboro county three weeks ago. He declined because he had another contract in view, Mr. Dwyer stated.

NEGRO SHOT DOWN AS ENTERTAINMENT

Black Legion Triggerman Tells Of Murder To Amuse Drinking Party

DETROIT, July 21 (AP).—Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea announced today that Dayton Dean, confessed Black Legion "triggerman" in the slaying May 12 of Charles A. Poole, had told of a new killing in which members of the Terrorist organization shot a negro to death "just for the hell of it." May 25, 1935, near Pinckney, Mich.

The victim, Dean said, was Silas Coleman, 43, a Great War veteran. He was lured to a desolate spot on the pretext he was to collect wages due him. Dean told McCrea, and shot down for the entertainment of a Black Legion drinking party.

The men Dean accused of participating in the slaying are Harvey Davis, Jack Bannerman, and Erwin D. Lee, who are held for trial for the Poole slaying; Charles Rouse, awaiting trial as an accessory after the fact in the Poole case; and James Roy Lorence, who was released after questioning in the Poole slaying.

Break Is Expected In Mystery Slaying

ASHEVILLE, N.C., July 21 (A.P.). —Sheriff Laurence E. Brown hinted to-day he expected soon to "crack wide open" the mystery slaying of Helen Clevenger, 18-year-old New York University student.

The sheriff said important developments had been uncovered, but he refused to discuss the nature of the new information.

He said he probably would question Mark Wollner, 35-year-old internationally known concert violinist, exhaustively to-day.

Wollner was held for the third day "for investigation."

The sheriff described a pass key to the hotel room where the pretty New York girl was slain as the most important clue toward solution of the case. It was found in the lock of the outside of the door to Miss Clevenger's room, while the regular key, blood-stained, was found behind a radiator.

YOUNG'S POINT

Mr. and Mrs. William Bland, Miss Elsie Chatten and Messrs. Frank Walsh and Vincent Graham were in Callander last Thursday where they visited the quints.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweatman, of New York, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Northey.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Graham, Miss Nancy and Master Billie of Cleveland, Ohio, are again with us and are occupying one of the cabins at Stenner's Hotel. Mr. Graham has had wonderful luck, catching both muskies, bass and pickerel.

Rev. J. G. Widdifield and Mrs. Widdifield of Ontario Conference, by C. R. Widdifield, formerly of Peterborough, were the guests of Rev. E. C. and Mrs. Moore at the rectory on Sunday.

Work has commenced on the highway between Lakefield and Burleigh Falls, and the farmers have a hard time to get a man to help harvest the crop.

CANADIANS HONOR FRENCH WARRIOR

Legion Party Headed By Phillipe Roy Place Wreath On Tomb Of Unknown Hero

By Capt. W. W. Murray, M.C. (Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

PARIS, July 20.—(CP Cable.)—In the presence of Marshal Gouraud, military governor of Patis, Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian minister, and representatives of the French Foreign Office, members of the Canadian Legion official party yesterday placed wreaths in the tomb of France's unknown warrior.

Wreaths were deposited on the tomb in hall of the Arc De Triomphe by Brig.-Gen. Alex. Ross, president of the Canadian Legion; Mr. Justice Fawcett Taylor, acting chairman of the Canadian Pensions Commission; Rev. S. E. Lambert, Dominion president of the Amputations Association, and Captain E. A. Baker of the Pearson Club for blinded sailors and soldiers.

The party, advance guard of 6,000 Canadian veterans and their relatives, who are now crossing the ocean to take part in dedication of the Vimy memorial next Sunday, then drove to the invalides for similar ceremonies at the tomb of Marshal Foch.

Thereafter they called on President Albert Lebrun at the Elysee Palace, and this afternoon were guests of the French Government at luncheon.

Combination Funeral.

With that national genius for coordinating great events, France, on Armistice Day, 1920, combined the funeral of the unknown warrior to the hall of the Arc De Triomphe with the translation to the Pantheon of the heart of its great founder of the third republic, Leon Gambetta.

Both had served France in her darkest hours. Gambetta when the nation was sunk in despair over the disaster of Sean in the Franco-Prussian war, the unknown warrior amid the horrors of the conflict from 1914 to 1918.

As the body of the Briton who rests in Westminster Abbey was brought from a sector remembered as the extreme in sacrifice and duty at Ypres, so did the French look to the hallowed spot which at once proclaims the anguish and the glory of the nation—Verdun.

It had been originally contemplated that one body be brought from each of the nine sectors of the western front on which French troops had fought. Eight were exhumed, and all were conveyed to Verdun. There a private soldier of the garrison made a selection.

Verdun's farewell, voiced by M. Schleiter, the deputy mayor, was eloquent and vibrant:

"Go, soldier of France, to the glory that a grateful country reserves for its great men.

"Go to receive for ever in glory the admiration of future generations."

On November 11, 1920, the day on which his unknown British comrade was given his sepulcre in Westminster Abbey. The warrior of France was laid beneath the Arc De Triomphe. His pallbearers were marshals of France—Joffre, Foch, Petain, Mangin, Weygand and Gouraud.

DOME PRODUCTION CONTINUES SAME

Grade, However, Slightly Lower Than 1935—Net Profits Down

Figures released by Dome Mines Ltd. show that although average grade of ore mined in the second quarter of the current year was lower than the first three months, the company continued to produce practically the same run of ore for the half-year average.

For the first six months of the present year the average grade ran $12.11 to the ton, compared with approximately $12.20 for the same period in 1935. The amounts of ore milled during the first and second quarters this year were about the same, but average grade dropped $12.48 to $11.73.

The company's estimate of net profits for the first six months this year was $1,952,468, as compared with $2,219,916 for the same time last year. These figures were before allowances were made for depreciation, depletion and adjustments of surplus.

BATHING BEACH IS BEING CLEARED

Volunteers Are Helping To Give Belleville Better Swimming Place

BELLEVILLE, July 21—Volunteer workers under the direction of officers of the Belleville Beach Association, cleared rocks and debris from the area to be prepared for bathing this year, over the week-end. Approximately 300 feet of shore-line will be levelled and filled with sand, south of Belleville General Hospital.

Reg. Moncrieff, president of the association, stated that the project was rapidly progressing. "We have received several fine donations from interested citizens," he stated, "and we expect the fund will be aided by additional gifts during the week. We were highly gratified at the response given by the far-seeing at citizens, who joined in improving the shore-line today. The entire area has been examined now, and the farther we go the better it looks."

Workmen started today scarifying the shore-line preparatory to rolling it. When completed, officers of the Beach Association believe the city will possess one of the finest artificial beaches in Ontario.

The remains were laid ot rest in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

LION SCARES DEAF

Don't Hear Roars But Feel Floor Vibrate.

WASHINGTON, July 20 (CP). — Even the deaf get frightened when a lion roars. Showing a delegation from the deaf and dumb school through the Zoo, Headkeeper William Blackburn paused before a lion's cage. The animal roared.

Startled, several sprang back. Others dashed for the door. Puzzled as to how they heard the roar, he wrote out the question. The delegation pointed to the floor. They felt the vibration through their feet.

GOLF LINKS FIRE STOPPED IN TIME

Flames Spreading Toward Oshawa Fair Buildings When Firemen Arrive

OSHAWA, July 21—Speedy work on the part of the Oshawa firemen averted a serious fire Sunday afternoon. Some one, presumably while playing golf, tossed a lighted cigarette on the dry fairway on the eastern boundary of the Oshawa Golf Club links. The dry sod soon became a sweeping blaze.

The fire was spreading rapidily in the direction of the Oshawa Fair buildings near the eastern boundary of the links, when the alarm was sounded. Upon arrival, the firemen drove over the links with the booster truck, a truck equipped with a 30-gallon tank of water. Running the truck along the edge of the encroaching fire they played water upon it, extinguishing the blaze as it neared the buildings.

EDW. HUMPAGE IS APPOINTED

the Charlotte Street census of automobiles on Saturday totalled 6,000.

In the holiday absence of John M. Corkery, the deputy he engaged to take charge of municipal legal matters will be asked to attend the Friday session, and Mayor Macdonald was authorized to appoint any necessary representative to oppose the railway's petition.

Alderman McIntyre said that the matter was important enough to warrant the attendance of all the members of the council who could possibly be present.

The office of the City Solicitor will also be notified to represent the city at the meeting of the creditors of the McDonald Lumber Company in Sheriff Hall's office July 28.

Relieved of Salary

Magistrate O. A. Langley wrote the council that by a new regulation of the Ontario government two-fifths of the police court fines and also of the Magistrate's fees, and the remaining three-fifths are payable to the city treasurer. By this arrangement the city will not be required to pay the Magistrate's salary. The latter was referred to the finance committee.

Going to Ottawa

Replying to Alderman Glover's enquiry as to whether any information had been received regarding the federal government's proposal to allocate approximately $10,000 for local work that would provide employment, Mayor Macdonald said that J. J. Duffus had asked him several days ago if he could arrange to go to Ottawa in regard to several projects which have been submitted for official consideration. "I told Mr. Duffus the sooner the better," Mayor Macdonald said, "and it may be this week."

Aylmer Street Hill

Alderman McIntyre asked Alderman Sloan, chairman of the Board of Works if any money was going to be spent on improving Aylmer Street hill.

"We have been busy oiling the streets, doing sidewalk work and also at the gravel pit, and I expect we can get around to the Aylmer Street job next," Ald. Sloan stated.

On Alderman Cotton's suggestion, seconded by Ald. Sloan, city residents on the north side of Lansdowne Street are to be notified of the government's intention to pave that part of No. 7 highway, and advising them that sewer and water connections should be laid before the paving is started.

"We can't force them to put in connections," Ald. Cotton said, "but it will cost them considerably more if they wait until the pavement is down. I understand the government is going to pave a central twenty-two foot strip along Lansdowne Street, and they are going to take six feet off the hill where No. 28 and No. 7 highways join. That is a rather dangerous spot as it is now, and by reducing the top of the hill motorists will be able to see the two highways."

NORTH BAY, Ont., July 21. — (CP).—While the actual count of visitors is not available, being held by Chief Guardian Hon. David A. Croll, for release at the month-end, it is estimated 6,360 persons saw the Dionne quintuplets during the past week-end.

A traffic census by the Department of Public Highways showed that 2,120 cars used the road between Callander and the Dafoe hospital on Saturday and Sunday.

Visitors to the quints must pass through a turnstile at the entrance to the playground in which the babies are at home to visitors, but the turnstile readings could not be obtained to-day, Mr. Croll ordering them held for the month-end.

HEAT WAVE SURGES AGAIN OVER WEST

Edmonton Gets Relieving Rain —Alberta Reports Rust Damage

WINNIPEG, July 21 (CP).—Rain to-day brought relief to the Edmonton district of Northern Alberta and though clear skies over the rest of the Canadian Prairies presaged further hot weather and drought damage to corps, farmers hoped desperately the precipitation would go further afield.

First signs of rust damage were reported in the West yesterday as temperatures rose generally, with the century-mark reached again in Alberta. Medicine Hat recorded an even 100, and Calgary reported a new high for the year at 94.

Continued warm weather was forecast in all three Prairie provinces, and there was no promise of the general rains so badly needed in the drought-stricken areas extended across the entirely southern area of the Canadian West. A few scattered and light thundershowers were held probable in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Even the northern districts which had enjoyed more moderate temperatures during the past 16 days of intense heat recorded high marks yesterday. In Edmonton the reading was 92; Battleford, Sask., 94, and Prince Albert, Sask., 88.

Southern districts of Saskatchewan were slightly cooler than in Alberta, but Swift Current reported a high mark of 92 and Moose Jaw 90. Although no rain fell in Manitoba temperatures there were lower with the mark at Brandon 86 and Winnipeg 84.

Rust was reported in practically every field in the Moose Jaw district having developed there since ing crop expert said, however, he did not expect rust damage in the Moose Jaw district would be as extensive as that of last year.

ROTARY CLUB SETS ANNUAL FAIR DATE

Smaller Attendance At Campbellford Luncheon Due To Holidays

CAMPBELLFORD, July 21.—Due to many of the members being away on vacation the attendance was not large at the regular weekly meeting of the Campbellford Rotary Club held at the St. Lawrence Hotel on Monday. In the absence of President Tom Hall, who is attending the presidents' and secretarys' conference of the 27th district being held in Kitchener this week, Past President Dwight Bennett took charge of the meeting.

There was no special speaker, the time being taken up in discussing the subject of the annual street fair. It was finally decided that the date which had previously been set for Tuesday, August 18 would be changed to Tuesday, August 25 so as not to conflict with a garden party being held by the members of St. Mary's parish on the following Wednesday evening.

An executive committee was chosen as follows: Earl Bell, Harold Carr, P. C. Denyes and Dwight Bennett, Earl Bell being elected as chairman. This year the fair will be in Davidson's Arena and the booths will be conducted on a larger scale than former years. There will be many new games of chance introduced along with the old favorites, Bingo, Horse Races and Blanket draws. A number of the members decided to attend the Rotary Fair being held by the Cobourg Club on Thursday evening of this week with a view of getting new ideas.

During the luncheon a little merriment was caused when Steve Maguire distributed what appeared to be a blank card to each of the members, six of these cards bearing the letters spelling the word 'Rotary.' Those receiving a lettered card were called upon to sing some popular song and about the only one they knew was "The Old Gray Mare." Secretary Edge Dolman acted as accompanist and that sextette put such life in the old grey mare that the entertainment committee immediately booked them as an added attraction for the street fair. Those who drew the lucky letters were: Ellie Brunelle, Harold Carr, Tom Craighead, Charlie Calver, Charlie Davidson and Percy Denyes.

Millionaires Fall To Electrics 19-6

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 21 — There certainly were no 'short' circuits or bad connections with Frank DeCarroll's Electrics on Monday night when they swamped Bill Sarginson's Millionaires to the tune of 19-6 before a fair crowd at the High School grounds. Home runs seemed to be the order of the evening. No less than five being recorded for the winners. The heavy batters being Little, Whitton, Barnum, Charlie Couch and Don Couch. Aside from the homer, Little also had three runs to his credit.

Things ran wild in the second when the victors took everything Hank Campney offered scoring eleven runs. Hank settled down to business in the fourth by striking out three in a row but it was too late for the monied men to overcome the lead.

The Mill and St. John's will meet on the same battle field Friday night—players are requested to be on time so that the game may start at 6.30 sharp. The teams:

Score by innings:

Millionaires ..... 0 11 110 2— 6
Electrics ..... 0 11 2 024x—19

No Trace Of Sawfly North Bay District

NORTH BAY, Ont., July 21. — (CP).—No trace of the European spruce sawfly which is reported to be invading Canada and threatening to destroy the country's spruce supply within 25 years, has been found as yet in the North Bay district, District Forester W. B. Greenwood reported yesterday.

He added that should the insect invade this section it would not likely appear until the latter part of July. Though some reports have stated the sawfly had not been seen west of Temiskaming, Que., Mr. Greenwood said the insects have been noticed on the west side of the Ottawa River.

THE FAVOURITE Beauty Soap OF CANADA'S LOVELIEST DEBUTANTES

"NO OTHER SOAP SEEMS TO KEEP MY SKIN SO SOFT AND SMOOTH . . ."

says JEANNE SCOTT, smart Vancouver debutante

Debs all over Canada agree about Palmolive. There's nothing better, they say, than the simple Palmolive beauty treatment for keeping skin smooth and lovely. For face, throat and shoulders, and for the bath as well, this easy Palmolive method is so effective.

It will prove effective for your skin too. Try it. See how quickly Palmolive's gentle beauty care can give all your skin a rose-petal smoothness.

Costly olive and palm oils give to Palmolive its mild, penetrating lather. Going deep into your pores, it gently floats out powder, rouge and other impurities . . . lets them breathe and function normally. And, while Palmolive cleanses, it refreshes and soothes your skin . . . leaves it healthy and radiant.

So make Palmolive your soap. Use it always, from today on, for all your skin. You'll have a complexion that's really youthful . . . lovely all over.

TRY THIS PALMOLIVE BEAUTY TREATMENT

For your face, throat and shoulders, and for your bath. Gently massage into your skin a warm, rich Palmolive lather. Cleanse the pores thoroughly. Rinse with warm water, then with cold. That's all there is to this simple beauty treatment. Yet there is no surer way to real, all-over skin beauty. And here's another beauty hint. Palmolive, used as a shampoo, keeps your scalp healthy, hair soft and lustrous.

Narrow Escape: COLLINGWOOD, Ont. — Five persons, four of them young children, had a narrow escape from death today when a coal oil stove exploded while Mrs. Thomas Pether was preparing breakfast. She had just left the kitchen when the house was rocked by a terrific blast. Her four children groped their way downstairs.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, TUESDAY, JULY 21, 1936

Appears Again: BROCKVILLE, Ont. — Carrying a .32 calibre rifle, a man believed to be identical with the apparent madman who terrorized farmers in the Lansdowne district last week, appeared early today at the Union Station and told a taxi-cab driver he had just shot a bear five feet tall in some non-existent cherry trees near the station. Officers were unable to find the man.

GODBOUT PLEDGES TO REMAKE QUEBEC RURAL PROVINCE

Hopes By So Doing To Relieve Cities Of Thousands Of Jobless

EASIER LOANS

QUEBEC, July 21 (C.P.). — "We will re-establish Quebec in its natural setting—a strictly rural Province." These were the latest election campaign words of Premier Adelard Godbout as Union Nationale Leader Maurice Duplessis started a Gaspe Peninsula hustings tour after the busiest campaign week-end since the Quebec election fight opened.

The Premier spoke on Sunday at L'Islet while at Valleyfield Mr. Duplessis promised his party, if elected, would scrutinize every contract entered into by the present regime.

In re-establishing Quebec as an agricultural province the government would relieve cities of thousands of unemployed which the farmers are now obliged to support through direct relief, the Premier said. He promised, too, to work for the export of agricultural produce from the province.

Farmers could expect the Liberal Government to make the Federal rural credit system adaptable in Quebec Province so that loans could be more easily obtained, the Premier said.

Raps Scandal Basis.

He charged his opponents with offering only scandal as a basis for their election and said that when inquiry into Provincial administration is resumed "certain companies who have contributed largely to the election fund of the Conservative party under Mr. Duplessis will be brought before the inquiry."

He pleaded again for a clean election. "We will not follow our opponents in discussing personal matters and hurling calumny," premier Godbout declared.

Mr. Duplessis told his Valleyfield meeting that when his party took office it would scrutinize every cent spent by the present administration.

If that money has not been given out for relief of unemployment without partizan consideraton and to everyone having a right to unemployment relief, then we will not recognize the pact and we will not authorize one cent to be paid out," he said. He was referring he said, to an announcement by municipal Affairs Minister Bouncher that the Godbout government would shortly sign a contract with the Dominion Government to spend $4,500,000 on unemployment relief and road building.

He reiterated his promise the inquiry into the Provincial administration begun by the public accounts committee of the last legislature would be continued.

Peterborough Girls Make Mission Quilt

A quilt bearing the embroidered names of 20 little Peterborough girls will go to the Grenfell Labrador Mission as an example of the work accomplished in the vacation Bible school held at St. James' United and Mark Street Baptist Churches.

The quilting bee was under the direction of Miss Faith Farthing, Miss May Laughlin and Miss Martan Stacey.

The quilt, it is understood, will be used in the hospital of Sir Wilfred Grenfell's mission. The names of the children appearing on it are as follows: Elizabeth Stillwell, Dale Dugan, Alberta Ellis, Gladys Milligan, Lois Whatley, Beaulah Milburn, Grace Armstrong, Barbara McMahon, Betty Coleman, Anna Hutch, Mary Chesher, Irma Ellis, Nellie Smith, Margaret GerLey, Jeannette Able, Marian Williamson, Shirley Milburn, Ethel Latchford, Elsie Chambers, Elois Milburn, Ruth Hess, Helen Riley and Helen Bullied.

Southend Alderman Complains Of Odors

As a resident of the South Ward, Alderman Sloan told the Council last night that Monday's north-east wind carried a stench from Canada Packers Company plant over a wide area of that part of the city on Monday, reaching even to the DeLaval factory.

"I think the Board of Health should take some steps to have that odor eliminated," he said. "It has been bad all summer, but it was very bad to-day."

Mayor Macdonald said a general complaint had already been referred to the city's Department of Health.

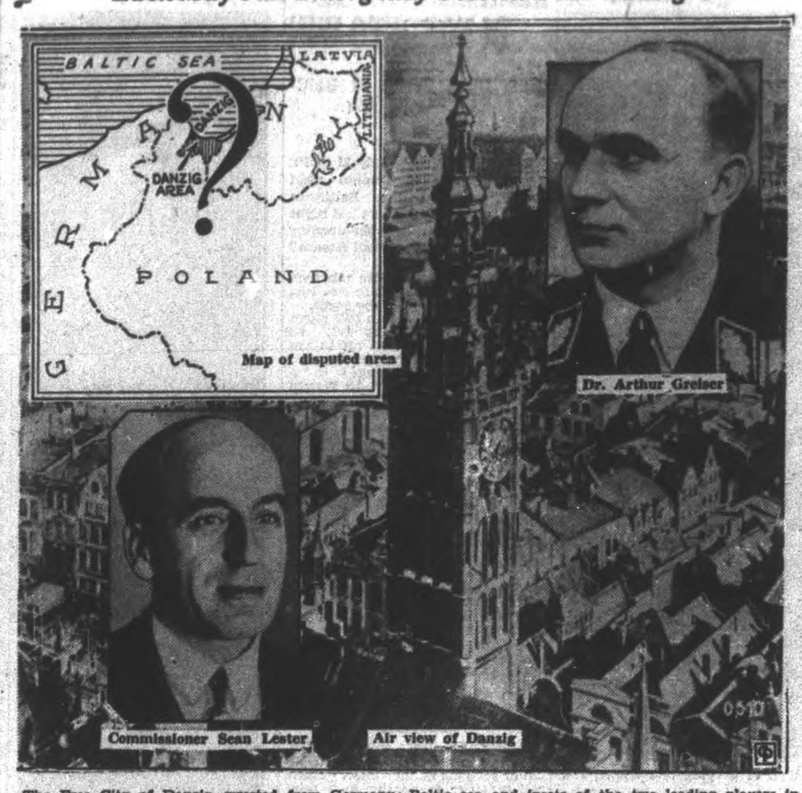
Eden May Call Emergency Session Over Danzig



The Free City of Danzig, wrested from Germany by the Versailles Treaty to create a port of Poland looms as the latest European "powder-keg" following reports that Nazi leaders of the Dantzig senate are planning to seize control of the area for Germany. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary and president of the League of Nations Council, has indicated that he may call an emergency session of the League to consider the problem. Pictured, above, is an air view of Dantzig, a map showing its location on the Baltic sea and insets of the two leading players in Europe's latest diplomatic drama. They are Dr. Arthur Greiser, top, right, Nazi president of the senate and Sean Lester of the Irish Free State, lower left, league commissioner of the city. Dantzig, a ward of the league moved into the international limelight after Dr Greiser told the league council at Geneva that he "demanded a revision of the Free City's status on behalf of the whole German people." He is seeking the removal of Lester as commissioner of the city.

RESURFACE HIGHWAY.

The pavement on No. 28 highway from Ballieboro to Bewdley has been given an asphaltic resurfacing.

ARREARS OF TAXES.

M. E. Shaver, city treasurer, reported tax arrears as follows:

1933—$30,080	3.26%
1934—$60,441.80	6.64%
1935—$104,217.78	11.2%

CITY'S OWN TAX BILL.

City Treasurer Shaver presented a sheaf of tax bills to the Finance Committee of the Council Monday night amounting to $1,005.91, the total of this year's taxes on properties owned by the city. A cheque will be drawn on the treasury for the amount, a mere matter of bookkeeping.

FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE.

Fire destroyed a vacant house owned by Harry Booth of Burnt River, early on Sunday morning, as well as doing considerable damage to the home of Joseph Handley, Sr., and a garage owned by Fred Chalmers. A quantity of furniture, and dishes and household effects were lost in the Booth house as well as in the Handley house and Chalmers' garage.

ROAD CAMP OPENED.

The Eagle Lake road camp has been re-opened, and has its quota of men for road construction. The work is being done under contract, with a limited number of key men being employed, and the larger percentage of the work being done by men from Haliburton County. This new road when completed will open up a fine timber section as well as make many more lakes easily accessible to tourists and fishermen.

TAX RECEIPT LOST.

Declaring in affidavits that they had paid C. E. Curtis, former tax collector, $15, receiving from him a receipt on an ordinary piece of paper, which had been lost, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Hamilton, Ashburnham, asked the council Monday night for a refund of this sum. The council decided not to take any action. "It would be different if they could show us the receipt," Ald. Tuggey said.

SECOND STEVE BRODIE

Leaping fifty feet from the centre span of Hunter street bridge early on Monday, Fergus McMahon, 25, of 463 Mark street dropped into ten feet of swift running water in the Otonabee River and swam ashore unharmed, to win a dare and emulate the exploits of Steve Brodie, who is reputed to have jumped off Brooklyn Bridge on a similar exploit. The leap was witnessed by Jack Gardiner of Stewart street and other local young men.

HELPING RASPBERRIES.

One grower who was selling raspberries in the west end of the city said he came to the conclusion some time ago he would have no berries worth speaking of if he did not water them. "I have a tank and pump and each night we pumped that tank up and then watered the ground around the bushes. The result was noticeable at once. They stood the hot weather better, and the berries have a good taste. In a few rows we did not water, and the berries there have not much taste." Another grower is reported to have used straw to throw over the top of his bushes during the hot weather, and in this way kept the sun from beating down too hard on them. His berries have turned out to be good from this treatment.

SOUTH ENTRANCE CLOSED.

The south entrance to Nicholls Oval Park is closed. Dr. A. J. Middleton, chairman of the Nicholls Trust, in explanation of the action of the Commisison said: "A few motorists have been making a speedway of the park by entering from Ross street and tearing through the park at a rate of speed quite unsafe for pedestrians and other motorists. It has been thought advisable by the Commission to close this entrance for the time being. Rules and regulations governing the park will be published in the course of a few days."

WANT HILL ROAD OPEN.

A strip of the grass twenty feet wide on each side of the Armour Hill road will be burned by the Board of Works department as a safeguard against the rest of the seared grass catching fire from carelessly tossed matches and cigarette butts. Members of the council proposed this precaution in order that the road on the hill might again be open to public.

POSTPONE DECISION.

The council Monday night deferred for two weeks decision in regard to J. T. O'Connell's petition to move a house on Antrim street to be used as a kitchen to a nearby house. A letter from the Fire Marshal's department was interpreted as assenting to this proposal, but a member of the council said "I will be an eyesore to other residents no matter what Mr. O'Connell does with it." In the meantime some aldermen who are not familiar with the circumstances will give the house a "one over."

LANDMARK GOING.

Fred Dummitt has a gang of men engaged at the present time in removing one of the city's landmarks in the old Dickson Company offices at the foot of London street, long used as a residence. This building was erected at least 70 years ago and a souvenir of its original use is to be found in the brick vault which still remains at the rear.

CONDITION IMPROVED.

Ross Gillespie, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gillespie, 320 Margaret avenue, seriously injured in a motor accident near Grove School, on Highway 28, early Sunday morning, is reported to be in a much improved condition. It was learned from St. Joseph's Hospital early this (Tuesday) afternoon that the patient, who is suffering a compound fracture of the skull, had regained consciousness and that his condition is much better."

Coming To Peterboro

Dr. Maude Royden, C.H., famed world preacher and peace crusader, who comes to St. Paul's Church on Friday evening, July 1st.

DR. MAUDE ROYDEN IS COMING TO CITY

Brilliant Preacher Is Noted For Intense Sincerity, Complete Unworldliness

Although Dr. Maude Royden, who comes to Peterborough July 21 under the auspices of the Ministerial Association, has been in the forefront of many great movements, it is the truth that her main interest in life is religion. She is nothing if not Christian. No woman living in England to-day is exercising profounder religious influence upon her generation, especially the younger people of both sexes, students at colleges and universities, than Miss Royden.

What is the secret of it all? It is not the magic of the appealing voice. It is not the power of the clear logical mind. It is not the fine courage that dares all things for the truth. It is not her unfailing championship of the weak and the disinherited. It is not the irresistible humor that brightens her addresses. It is not her contempt of empty convention and her love for bold adventure. But it is primarily and chiefly by her intense sincerity, her complete unworldliness, her utter devotion to Christ, her devoutness and her reverence, her huabove all the gospel of hope—invincible Christian hope—which she preaches to an age of despair and disillusionment.

Compensation Board Awards Weekly Sum To City's Employee

On an order from the Workmen's Compensation Board payment of $156.25 to P. J. Anglesey, 219 Lake street, was authorized by the council last night.

Mr. Anglesey was injured while in the city's employ at the incinerator last October. Appealing to the Compensation Board, Mr. Anglesey was awarded $6.25 a week, and the bill of $156.25 was for the period from January 13 to July 6. The present rating will be continued by the Board, although they report that Mr. Anglesey is able to do light work such as that of watchmen.

Alderman Tuggey said the city had got a "rotten deal" in the Board's decision. After the accident at the incinerator, he said, Mr. Anglesey laid off for an hour to see a doctor and then continued his work. Later when a weak spell came over him he blamed the accident for it.

HIGH FIRE LOSS FOR CURRENT YEAR

First Six Months More Than Triples Total Loss Of Last Year

Fire losses for the first six months period of the present year more than triple the total loss for the whole of last year. According to figures of Fire Chief George Gimblett, the loss on building and contents aggregated $23,948 to the end of June this year, as compared with a total fire loss for the whole of 1935 amounting to only $6,165.93. This year's figures have been given a further boost this month by the Robinson Motor Company fire estimated at upwards of $16,000.

Alarms for the first half of this year were 303 as compared with 284 for the first half year period of 1935. A large number of the extra alarms were piled up during the dry weather experienced through June, and the continuing drought is a cause of the Chief issuing several recent warnings of the additional fire hazard thus created, calling for the utmost caution on the part of every individual.

To the end of June this year the Chief said the Department used 7,500 feet of hose, and also 2,100 feet of chemical hose.

ST. JOHN'S CUB LEADER DIES

"Bill" Coleman Was Taken Ill On Return From Camp

ACTIVE SCOUT WORKER

Charles William Coleman, 22, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C Coleman of 121 Brock Street, died at the family residence at six o'clock this (Tuesday) morning, following an illness of nine days' duration. Death is attributed to an internal hemmorhage, which his father believes was brought on by the excessive heat of recent weeks.

Was Cub Leader.

Cub Leader of 1st Peterborough (St. John's) Pack, "Bill" Coleman was taken suddenly ill on his return from an advanced course of Cub training at Ebor Park Camp near Brantford a week ago last Saturday. "We experienced some very hot weather during the week Bill was at camp, and I think he was a victim of the heat," the bereaved father remarked to a reporter.

Born in this city on December 1, 1913, "Bill" Coleman had a lifelong and active association with St. John's Church. He was baptized and confirmed there, and had been a constant attendant at Sunday School first as a pupil and latterly as a teacher.

Active Church Worker.

For some years before his voice "broke" he was a boy chorister in St. John's Choir, and at the time of his death was a member of the executive of St. John's Branch of the A.Y.P.A., and last year held office in the association as devotional convenor.

On the completion of his education at Central School and Peterborough Collegiate Institute "Bill" became associated in his father's confectionery business on George Street.

His whole leisure time was divided between his Scout and Cub activity and his work with other organizations of the church, and he was held in popular esteem by all who knew him. He was a "good Scout" in the highest sense of the term.

"A Good Scout."

Expressing regret at news of his Cub Leader's death, George Groombridge, Scoutmaster of 1st Peterborough (St. John's) Troop remarked, "Bill was an enthusiastic and keen Scout worker, and his loss to the local association is one that will be hard to fill. He started Scouting under me at St. Luke's in 1926 and took up Scout activities at St. John's on the formation of that troop in 1928. When the Cubs were organized in the parish in 1928 he took charge of that group and they had done well under his direction and guidance."

Scout Funeral.

As a tribute to the memory of their late Cub Leader, Mr. Groombridge said St. John's Scouts and Cubs will suspend their usual activity for this week, and will take part in the funeral, which is to be held from the family residence to St. John's Church on Thursday afternoon.

The remains are resting at the family residence pending the funeral. Following services at the church interment will take place at Little Lake Cemetery.

Besides his parents, the late "Bill" Coleman is survived by a younger brother Victor Coleman and two sisters the Misses Jean and Betty Coleman, all at home, also his grandmother, Mrs. Annie Robbins Colcman in England.

MOTOR ACCIDENTS NEARING RECORD

City Mishaps Increasing More Than Rural Crashes, Bickell States

TORONTO, July 21—According to J. P. Bickell, registrar of motor vehicles, the first five months of this year bid fair to establish a record for motor car accidents. Although an improvement has ben shown in relation to the volume of traffic there were three more fatalities in May of this year, as compared to the same month of last year.

"The lesson we have to learn from this is hat as the density of traffic increases there is need for care and courtesy on the part of motorists," states Mr. Bickell. "The fact that city assidents are increasing more than country accidents supports this conclusino."

Figures for the first five mouths of the year were issued as follows. Accidents costing $50 and up,1935, 3,187; 1936, 3,436. Deaths, 1935, 156; 1936,140; persons injured,1935, 2,800; 1936, 2,932; property damage, 1935, $293,628; 1936, $343,476.

For the month of May there were increases under every heading. Accidents increased 10 per cent, deaths increased 10 per cent, injuries increased 16 per cent, and property damage increased 10 per cent. One-quarter of all injured persons were children under 15 years.

"A ton of steel, hurtling through space at 35 or 45 miles an hour, has a terrific capacity for damage, destruction and death." Mr. Bickell summed up. "Motorists must remember that it is just such a weapon they have in their hands when they are driving their car. Let every driver "Try Countesy" until courtesy becomes a fixed habit. Then there will be very few accidents indeed."

CYLINDER OF COPPER

Victorian Finds Relic Believed Left By Capt. James Strange

VICTORIA, July 21 (CP)—A small cylinder of sheet copper believed to have been left by Captain James Strange when he took possession of the Queen Charlotte Islands for Great Britain 150 years ago has been uncovered on one of the islands.

W. M. Halliday, authority on the north midcoast region of the Queen Charlottes, and B A. McKelvie, Victoria newspaper editor, reported the find yesterday on their return with the cylinder.

Where Chinese Clash Impends

The dotted section on the ABOVE map shows the south Chinese provinces of Kwangsi and Kwantung which, reports from China say, will be declared independent, with General Chen Chia-tang as dictator. The action is reported due to appointment of General Yu Han-mou, Chen's former aide, to command. Chen disregarded the order and called upon Kwangsi to rush troops such as those shown at TOP to assist in defending Kwantung's borders. Observers believe civil war is inevitable.

Old-Time Telegraphers Take Over Keys Tonight

Dominion-Wide Hook-Up Will Be Staged On 25 C.N.R. Offices

HONOR INVENTOR MORSE

By W. R. Wheatley
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

TORONTO, July 21—The days of the old-time telegrapher when the "bug" and the high-speed multiplex printer circuits were unknown will be relived to-night by the old guard in commemoration of the invention of Samuel F. B. Morse.

Over a special hook-up touching 25 Canadian National telegraph offices from the Atlantic to the Pacific the stories behind the news in Canada's early days will be told in the dot and dash language of the "Morse man."

Many of the old timers haven't touched a telegraph key in decades. The firm hands that rapped out the news of the world half a century or more ago may have lost the telegrapher's "grip," but the old "brass pounders" can still manipulate a key and their keen ears can read the message of the clicking sounder as well as ever.

The dean of the old-timers who will chat of days long ago is Dr. J. W. Browning of Exeter, Ont., now in his 94th year. He is of the old school that prided itself as band-senders of rhythmic, clear cut, easily flowing Morse. Those were the days, too, when operators copied press reports and messages with stylus or pen in the smooth, swinging handwriting characteristic of the expert telegrapher.

Little Use For "Bug"

It was long afterward that typewriters were part of an operator's equipment. The old-timers had little use for the "bug" or sending machine that was introduced in later years. Its proponents claimed it refined hand-sending, but the old boys scoffed.

They remained true to the orthodox key and chuckled when their rapid "perfect Morse" put some young upstart "under the table" at the other end of the wire.

To Dr. Browning, sitting at a key in the Huron County town of Exeter, will go the honor of leading the veterans in their Morse reminiscences.

After D. E. Galloway, assistant vice-president in charge of Canadian National Telegraphs, taps out a welcome and a message is sent over the hook-up from President S. J. Hungerford of the Canadian National Railways, Dr. Browning will "sit in."

He will identify his station, give his name and age and tell when he began his telegraph career and when he retired. Then he will relate how he received dispatches during the closing battles and peace conference of the Crimean War.

The Rambling REPORTERS

AN OLD WELL.

On the premises of John E. White, 701 George Street, there is an old well which never fails. Just how long it has been there no person in the neighborhood seems to know. It is about 35 or 40 feet deep, and is built of heavy stone construction all the way down. It is covered in and has a small housing on top which, for a long time was worked with a small wheel but now with a small bucket and a rope. The water is always cool and clear, and although a good many of the neighbors come there for water in the summer time the level of the supply never seems to become less. Some of the older residents say they have no recollection of the construction of the well, as it was there long before they came.—R.

22 M.P.H. On King's Highway Too Slow—Brings $6.25 Fine

OAKVILLE, July 21. — George Wilcox appeared in court yesday charged with driving at such a slow rate of speed as to seriously impede traffic. It was testified that he was going only 22 miles an hour and holding up a line of nine cars. When Highway Officer Allie Jackson spoke to him he speeded up to 27 miles and Jackson ordered him off the road. "You have no right to drive so slowly," Magistrate Davidson told Wilcox. "It is one of the greatest trouble we have on the open road. It causes accidents, cutting in and head-on collisions. You have no regard for the other people on the road. This is looked upon by the courts as a serious offence," he added, imposing a fine of $6.25, with the option of ten days.

MAY RESUME WORK ON TRANS-CANADA

Hepburn And Ottawa Representatives Meet At Queen's Park Today

TORONTO, July 21—Resumption of work on the Trans-Canada highway will be the subject of a conference to-day at Queen's Park between Premier Hepburn and representatives of the Dominion Government. Chester Walters, controller of finances, will sit in at the discussions.

Certain sections of the highway will be completed if agreement is reached between the two governments. Plans call for employment of a large number of men on the road. Further development of the Trans-Canada and connecting roads will involve an expenditure estimated at $100,000, of which the Dominion authorities will bear a proportionate share.

At present all work except a few short strips already contracted for, has been stopped. In his recent northern tour, Premier Hepburn held out little hope of an immediate resumption on a large scale. The conference to-day will deal with the financial aspect and the sections that should be undertaken.

Chicago Newsman Attacked In Spain

GIBRALTAR, July 21.—(AP). — Jay Allen, a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, living in Spain, arrived here yesterday and told of being attacked by a mob in La Linea, Spain.

He said while motoring with a chauffeur through La Linea yesterday his car was struck by 23 bullets. Allen said he feigned death, lying on the ground behind the car until the mob had gone.

His chauffeur was wounded and the car wrecked, Allen added.

Intoxicated Driver Gets Jail Sentence

After pleading guilty to a "drunk driving" charge before the Magistrate here this (Tuesday) morning, Frederick John Foster of Millbrook was sentenced to ten days' imprisonment in the County Gaol. Arrested on July 8 by Sergeant Arthur Thomas and Constable Naples near the C.P.R. tracks on Aylmer Street, it is alleged that Foster struck the door of a motor truck as he was driving down water Street and afterwards left the scene of the accident.

ALD. DUTTON URGES EFFORT BY COUNCIL FOR MORE TOURISTS

Commends Examiner's Special Edition and Morris Ackerman's Publicity

NEW RIVERSIDE PARK

Peterborough's efforts to attract tourists, to exploit the natural summer playgrounds of the Kawarthas, have lapsed during the last seven or eight years, Alderman Dutton said at last night's special meeting of the council, and should be actively revived.

The Peterboro Examiner's tourist edition and the stimulating comments by Morris Ackerman had combined to arouse local interest in the beauty of this district with its fishing resources, boating and bathing.

"The council can't do anything this year," Alderman Dutton said, "but I feel that some agency should be responsible for directing a well-considered publicity campaign next year. We owe it to our citizens and to all the people in this area. The tourists from the United States and various sections of Canada have become a great asset to this city and district."

Alderman Dutton recalled the excellent work done by the Trent Waterways Development Association, which had been generously assisted by the council. The association's well planned efforts had borne accumulative results, but for the last few years Peterboro had generally neglected the publicity which would attract other people to the lakes and waters of the Kawarthas.

"I hope the council will keep this matter in mind for next year, and if we are not competent to do the work ourselves, at least, let us be prepared to co-operate with any agency that would undertake it."

Alderman Glover suggested that the Manufacturers Committee of which Alderman McIntyre is chairman should be broadened out to include the tourist attractions of this city and district.

"After the summer holidays this whole question might be discussed with a view to getting a larger share of the tourist traffic for the Kawartha. We could increase it if we went after it, and I think Ald. McIntyre should be given authority to take it up," Ald Glover said.

Citizens in Favour.

Alderman McIntyre said his committee had co-operated with the Examiner in its tourist edition, and was now getting out a new booklet setting forth the industrial and tourist attractions of Peterboro. His appropriation for this year was just about exhausted.

"Some citizens who are heavy taxpayers have remarked to me that a great deal could be done to bring tourists into this district because it is one of the finest beauty spots in the country," Ald. McIntyre said. "If times were better we could do a great deal more in this respect, but we have had to pay so much for relief that I don't think this is the best time to branch out."

Another City Park.

Alderman McIntyre said that the new park on the south side of the Hunter Street bridge seemed to him to be a wonderful spot that should be suitable for picnics. People did not know about it and there were no benches provided for the public.

Alderman Stocker—Rev. Mr. Daniel has just returned from a trip through Ontario, and he said he saw no place that appealed to him like that park.

Alderman McIntyre—Let us put some benches in there and make it a place the people would use more.

Alderman McIntyre also suggested that accommodation for parking automobiles be marked off in Inverlea Park, thereby removing cars from Park Hill Road west of the bridge.

Alderman Hamilton said that a field immediately north of Inverlea Park might be available for that purpose. It could be easily levelled and cars could drive onto it from Argyle Street.

Mayor Macdonald expressed his approval of the several proposals by Alderman Dutton, Glover, McIntyre and Hamilton, and these topics would receive consideration.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, July 22

SUDDEN EVENTS and peculiar situations mark this day, according to the prevailing planetary influences. A journey, new environs and interest, and a somewhat radical turn of affairs are presaged with intriguing, subtle or inexplicable circumstances to cope with.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of sudden and surprising adventures, with radical change, travel, new affiliations and interests probable. An element of the mysterious, intriguing and subtle accompanies these prospects, which, wisely handled, may bring desirable and profitable denouements.

A child born on this day may have talents of an unusual order and may lean toward the moranitic, mysterious and even visionary and Utopian. It may, with caution, be very successful in such adventures.

At least, so says George Debus, and he professes to know a lot about starlings. "They're cute, those starlings," observed Mr. Debus. "Last year they were thick around here, but we kept shooting and shooting, and now they're all moved up to John R. Eden's place."

Cards-Cubs Race Tightens - Yanks Have 9-Game Lead

CARDINALS GIVEN SLIGHT EDGE FOR PENNANT VICTORY

St. Louis Chalks Up Record Of 21 Victories Against 15 Defeats

BIG LEAGUE SHOP TALK

By ORLO ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

It may not be very encouraging to fans of the pace setting Chicago Cubs but the facts are, St. Louis Cardinals have a slight edge on the National League champions so far this year in their games on foreign field.

As the two clubs, separated by only one game on the losing side, invaded the east to-day the Cardinals not only have played more games away from home but have a higher percentage. They pointed to a record of 21 victories as against 15 defeats for a percentage of .583 while the Cubs have counted for 16 of their 29 games away from Wrigley Field for an average of .552.

The schedule calls for the Cubs and the Gas House Gang to make a trip around the eastern half of the circuit before returning to Chicago Aug. 4 to open a four-game series that may go a long way toward settling the National League pennant.

Pick Up Two Games

The home-stand, which ended Sunday, saw the Cubs pick up only two games on the Cards, despite the injury to Dizzy Dean and the none-too-good pitching of the remainder of the mound staff. The league champions entered their home grounds July 9 in second place, trailing by a game. They proceeded to win 10 of their 14 contests while Frankie Frisch's men were accounting for only seven of their 12 games.

While the National League clubs continued their warfare on the eastern front, New York Yankees marched into the west, the target for three first division clubs, two of them redhot, and St. Louis Browns.

Enjoy 9-Game Lead

The Yanks, after breaking even in 14 games at the Stadium, opened their western invasion against the Browns with a nine game lead over the fast stepping Indians.

If the ball they played in the east is any criterion, then Cleveland is the team that Lou Gehrig and company must beat. The Indians, with Chicago White Sox as their only rivals, dropped only two games in 12 contests to climb from fifth place to the runner-up position. The White Sox did even better. Buried in sixth place on July 9, they started combining hitting with good pitching and when they arrived at Comiskey Park today looked back on a record that numbered 11 victories, eight in a row, as compared to only a pair of setbacks.

Against such power, the Red Sox and Tigers, fighting to keep in first division, failed to even break even. The Red Sox won only six out of 13 while the world champions, losing three out of four to the Yanks, accounted for five victories as against seven defeats.

ST. GEORGE'S Y.P. ARE ON TOP AGAIN

Take First Place In Sports Events At Wallace's Point Picnic

Six branches of the Anglican Young People's Association in the district held their annual picnic and field day at Wallace's Point Saturday afternoon. St. George's A.Y.P.A. took first place in the sports events for the second successive year, with the groups from All Saints' and St. John's a tie for second place.

The sports program was arranged by William Miller, Ed. Macdonald and Miss Florence Hutchison. Miss Cleminia Long, district secretary, kept the scores.

All Saints' tug-of-war team won the contest from St. George's parish, with St. Luke's team placing third.

Winners were as follows: Mel Holden, J. Harvey, D. J. Adamson, F. Dorrell, G. Millard, J. Harvey, D. E. Millard, J. Adamson, G. Maudsley, and O. Porter, St. George's parish; Fred. Watson and Doug. Weir, All Saints'; Kay Chivas, G. Lemmings and G. Brown, St. John's; R. Reid and Cleminia Long, St. Luke's parish.

The candlepower of the lighthouse beacon at Cape St. Vincent, Portugal, is estimated to be 55,000,000.

STRONG FINISH GIVES FALCONS ONTARIO TITLE

Hamilton Steloos Blanked 4-0 By Falconbridge Soccer Team

SUDBURY, July 21 (CP).—For the second consecutive year Falconbridge Falcons will carry the provincial standard into the Dominion Football Association playdowns against Quebec representatives. Leaving no doubt as to their superiority Falcons last night drubbed Hamilton Stelcos 4 to 0 in the third and deciding game for the Ontario title, taking the provincial series with two wins and one draw match. Falcons won the first game Thursday by a 2 to 1 score and drew the second at 1-1.

In one of their characteristic garrisons finishes, Falcons bagged three goals in the final eight minutes of play after leading Stelcos 1 to 0 at the halfway mark. "Red" Earley was again the big scoring threat with two goals to his credit while Alex Samson and Henry Lone scored one each.

The winners showed marked improvement over their two former games in the cup series and easily outplayed the Ambitious City soccerists. Smooth-working combination plays when within the goal area resulted in all four Falconbridge goals, at least three men handling the ball on each counter.

AUSTRALIANS WIN IN DAVIS DOUBLES

Need One More Win Over Germans To Enter Final With England

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 21 (AP)—Australia needs only one more victory in her series with Germany to gain the challenge round in the Davis Cup tennis competition for the first time since 1924.

The Anvacs assumed a 2-1 lead over the Teutons yesterday in their inter-zone final series when the veteran Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath vanquished Baron Gottfried von Cramm and Hejner Henkel, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, in the doubles.

The series will be concluded today with two singles matches. A victory in one of them will send Australia into the challenge round against Great Britain, the cupholders, starting this Saturday.

Australia hasn't been in a challenge round in 12 years. In 1924, the last time, the United States whitewashed Australia five matches to none at Philadelphia. It has been 17 years since Australia last won the coveted cup.

McGrath Replaces Quist

While the Germans co-ordinated beautifully, it was the wily Crawford's cleverness that nullified their efforts. McGrath substituted for Adrian Quist, who twisted his foot in his singles encounter against von Cramm Saturday, and has been ordered by his physician to take a 10-day rest. McGrath proved a helpful partner to the grey-haired star.

The German fought off set point three times in the 10th game of the opening set and stubbornly won the game, but the Australians captured the next two games. Von Cramm and Henkel overcame a 2-3 deficit and won the second set with some spectacular volleying. Crawford and McGrath won the third and fourth sets with comparative ease, although they lost a 3-0 lead in the third and at one point trailed 3-4.

ROCHESTER ADDS TO LEAGUE LEAD

Wings Take 11-5 Win From Albany While Bisons Fall To Chiefs

(By The Associated Press)

The Rochester Red Wings and Buffalo Bisons, separated by only three games in the battle for the International League pennant, sure do believe in doing a right-about face.

After just managing to stave off the upward rush of the Bisons and dropping three straight games, the pace setting Red Wings suddenly righted themselves and won their last two contests, defeating the Albany Senators 11 to 5 in one of the three games played under the lights last night.

In contrast, the Bisons piled up a string of nine successive victories, then dropped two in a row. Their second defeat came at the hands of the lowly Syracuse Chiefs, who pounded out a 5 to 1 decision last night.

Responsible for Win

Al Cuccinello, Rochester second baseman, was largely responsible for the Wings' victory. He connected with a home run, two triples and a pair of doubles for a perfect night at bat and drove in six of his team's runs. Backed by Cuccinello's hitting, Doyle and Bob Klinger had little trouble, the latter hurling the last six and two-thirds innings to receive credit for the victory.

Paced by Nick Dallessandro and Babe Dahlgren, the Chiefs finally managed to beat Johnny Wilson, the Bisons' ace hurler. Previously Wilson had beaten Syracuse three times this season without being defeated. Last night, however, he was driven to cover in three innings as Dallessandro poked out a triple and a double and Dahlgren added a three-bagger. The victory, achieved with Fred Fussell pitching four-hit ball, also snapped Syracuse's losing streak at nine games.

Picton Ties Cobourg At Top Of The Loop

PICTON, July 21—Defeating Port Hope by a score of 4-2 Saturday, Picton Intermeriates advanced into a tie for first place with Cobourg in the Lakeshore League, each team having 16 points.

Bunching three hits in the second inning off Wakely, the Picton nine took a 3-run lead which was never overcome. Only once, the seventh, did the visitors threaten to pile up a score, Wakely, the first man up, double to centre; Berry was safe on Fillingham's error; Brunt singled when the ball took a bad hop and struck Fillingham in the mouth, knocking him over and severly cutting his lips. Wakely scored on the play. With two men on bases and no one out, Church struck out Corbett, and forced Brown and Wakely to pop weakly to the infield.

McQuade led the Picton batters with a double and two singles. Hudgin got two safeties and Leavens one, a total of 10 hits, while two hits by Brunt, one each by G. Wakely, Rowcliffe, L. Wakely and Corbett were the Port Hope safeties off Church.

New Help For Swimming Students

A new swim-study technique, or a method of keeping cool during that heat wave? Both perhaps, though this you-can't-go-too-far arrangement was designed primarily by swimming coaches who wished to study the style of their proteges more closely. The pupil swimmers can kick and flutter all they like, but as long as the coach hangs on to the rope they can't get far. But it is an idea for those hot days.

'Sunny Jim' Says Through With Game

They gave him a rousing sendoff at Yankee Stadium The band played "Auld Lang Syne" when he came to bat. The crowd of 37,000 stood and cheered. And old "Sunny Jim" obliged with a sharp single to centrefield.

After 15 years of sparkling first basing, first with the St Louis Cardinal championship teams of the late 20's and early '30's, then with the Cincinnati Reds and finally with the St. Louis Browns he's decided to hang up his glove and spikes.

An ailing back is the reason. The $100,000 he's saved up in the Big Time will take care of him down on the farm he bought with a view to the future.

Young Jack Church Is Signed By Leafs

TORONTO, July 21.—Jack Church, up-standing young defence man with Dominions and Toronto last hockey season, has signed with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

"He signed a two years contract," said F. J. Selke, "and will leave his position with a Toronto firm next week. He will go to camp with the Leafs next fall and if he doesn't make a berth with the Leafs will play in Syracuse."

Church is a Regina product in whom Dick Irvin first saw hockey promise. Playing with mercantile units in Toronto, Church's battling defence style of play intrigued Conn Smythe. He was easily the Red Horner of the mercantile squads even when Red was at his slugging best. He is the hard-hitting type of defence man beloved by coaches and the public too.

9TH FRAME SINGLE BREAKS DEADLOCK

C.G.E. Secures 10-9 Victory Over Bailieboro In Girls' Softball

Helen Newson's single with two out in the last half of the ninth broke a deadlock last night at the Bowl and gave C.G.E. a 10-9 win over Bailieboro before a fair-sized crowd of fans. The victory kept the Electrics in the running for a second-half playoff berth. It was a good girls' softball game and saw C.G.E. take an early lead which was gradually overhauled by the battling Bailieboro belles and threatened to go into overtime.

The C.G.E. had an edge on hitting but kicked in with more errors than their rivals. Despite miscues, both sides dished up some smart fielding most of the way and the pitching was fair on each side. H. Newson was nicked for a dozen safe blows while fanning two and walking none. B. McDowell was hit safely 16 times as she fanned four and walked two. The main fielding feature was a running catch in centre by G. McCarthy.

M. Hallihan led the Electrics at bat with a double and three singles in five times. B. Martin came through with three singles, E. Graham a homer and double, and H. Newson and M. White two singles each. For Bailieboro, B. McDowell was best with a homer and two singles in five. K. Smith hit two doubles, M. Whittington two singles, and T. White a two-base wallop. The teams:

Bailieboro: A. Barnard, c; R. Wood, ss; T. White, 3b; B. McDowell, p; M. McDowell, 2b; K. Smith, cf; M. Whittington, 1b; B. Bullock, lf; D. Smith, rf.

C.G.E.: M. English, lf; A. DeCarlo, 1b; M. White, 3b; G. McCarthy, cf; D. Millar, c; B. Martin, rf; M. Hallihan, 2b; E. Graham, ss; H. Newson, p.

HERRMANN STARS IN TORONTO WIN

Leafs Open Series At Baltimore With 6-1 Victory

BALTIMORE, Md., July 21 (CP).—Leroy Herrmann, Toronto right hander, stopped the Baltimore Orioles in their tracks here last night and the Leafs captured the opening game of their International Baseball League series, 6-1.

Herrmann stood out like a beacon light. He held the Birds to four hits and forced eight to fan the ozone.

Herrmann won his own ball game. With the score tied at 1-1, he doubled to right to lead off in the seventh and scored the winning run.

Herrmann nearly engaged in a fistic brawl, too. He hit Ab Wright with a pitched ball in the seventh and the latter became angered and walked toward the mound. Herrmann, however, did not give ground. He rushed toward Wright and only for the players of both teams a fight would have occurred.

Toronto made one or more hits in each of the nine innings. The Leafs hammered Harry Matuzak and Hal Kelleher for a total of 14 safeties. They had ten stranded on the bases. Matuzak was knocked out of the box in the eighth.

Oliver And McQuinn Lead Attack.

Tom Oliver and George McQuinn led the attack for the Leafs, the former obtaining two doubles and a single and the latter a single, triple and home run.

O.B.A.A. Bulletin

HAMILTON, Ont., July 21.—(CP).—Arrangements for play-offs in the minor sections of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association have been completed by W. J. Snyder, of Hamilton, secretary of the association. Opening games in the bantam and juvenile divisions will be held on Saturday, August 1, with junior play-offs starting one week later. These dates will obtain unless clubs are granted a bye.

All league or association secretaries should get in touch with the officer or winning clubs should take care to become thoroughly cognizant of all arrangements for play-offs.

Schedule for the three minor series, as arranged, together with O.B.A.A. officer of convenors in charge:

Junior (first game Saturday, Aug. 8)—Essex County vs. Western Counties, D. L. Graham, F. H. Spry, A. Stirling; Inter-County bye, J. W. Scott, W. A. Smith, S. S. Swanson, Hales Baker; T.A.B.A. bye, W. J. Smith, A. J. Walsh; Bruce County bye, J. C. McDonald, A. A. Perkins; Nickel Belt bye into finals, games to be played in Southern Ontario.

Bantam (first game Aug. 1)—Inter-County vs. Guelph, J. W. Scott, Douglas Steel; H.A.B.A. bye, S. C. Burnes, J. R. Laidman; Niagara Falls vs. Niagara District, W. G. Ward, A. T. Smith, H. C. Maguire, M. Barto; T.A.B.A. vs. Peterborough or H.A.B.A., Bert Smith, S. C. Burnes, J. R. Laidman, A. J. Walsh.

Triplicate forms are being mailed to each league or association secretary. The three forms must be signed by all players of the championship club and the league secretary and returned to the O.B.A.A. secretary for inspection. After these are inspected and found correct one copy will be returned to the officer or convenor in charge of the games and one to the championship club.

Enjoys Cricket Visit

Several well known Hollywood stars were members of the Hollywood Cricket club which went down to defeat, 127 runs to 113, in an interesting match against Vancouver recently.

Probably the biggest thrill for the spectators was to watch septuagenarian C. Aubrey Smith knock up nineteen runs against expert Vancouver bowlers. Genial Nigel Bruce led the visiting batsmen with a creditable 32 while handsome Errol Flynn collected 14. Frank Lawton was retired for three.

The Hollywood Cricket club's visit to B.C. was so enjoyable that C. Aubrey Smith proposed an annual series of home-and-home games. He is pictured at the wicket.

SHARKEY ACCEPTS TERMS TO TANGLE LOUIS IN AUGUST

Comeback Trials Of Pair Cross At Yankee Stadium In Ten-Round Bout

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP). — Jack Sharkey, veteran Boston heavyweight, was selected yesterday as the man to start Joe Louis along the comeback trail. Mike Jacob's 20th Century sporting club signed Sharkey and the Detroit colored lad for a 10-round bout at the Yankee Stadium, Aug. 18.

Johnny Buckley, who has managed Sharkey since long before he won and lost the world's heavyweight crown, came down from Boston to sign the contract.

After a long conference, during which Buckley agreed to terms, Jacobs got in touch with Julian Black, one of Louis' managers, at Chicago, and got the Brown Bomber's O. K.

Nothing was said about terms, but it is believed each fighter has agreed to a 20 per cent. of the net receipts with the milk fund cutting in on the gate.

Sharkey Elated.

Sharkey, now in the midst of what so far has been a successful comeback campaign, was elated when Buckley telephoned him the match had been closed. The squire of Chestnut Hill believes if he can repeat Max Schemeling's feat and win from the negro, he will put himself back in the thick of the heavyweight doing and maybe land a chance to win back the title.

Sharkey won the crown by pounding out a close 15-round decision over Schemeling at Madison Square Garden's Long Island bowl on June 21, 1932. He dropped the title to Primo Carnera at the Yankee Stadium a year later.

Shortly afterwards, following a defeat by Tommy Loughlan at Philadelphia, Jack announced he would retire to devote his whole time to his flourishing tavern business in Boston.

His comeback campaign began last November when he knocked out unknown Winston twice in what was to have been a 10-rounder at Boston. In February of this year he was outpointed by Tony Shucco of Boston, but came back in April, to hold Shucco to a draw. Then he made the first real showing of his comeback by decisively outpointing Phil Brubaker, the California sensation, last month.

Begin Early Training.

Sharkey will begin training in Boston at once.

At a popular $10 top price, Mike Jacobs believes a Sharkey-Louis fight will outdraw a proposed return match between the negro and Max Baer. Al Ettore of Chicago also had been considered as an opponent for Louis.

WILL REPRESENT ALBERTA

LEADING NETTERS WIN EARLY GAMES IN TITLE TOURNEY

More Than 60 Matches Played First Day To Materially Reduce Record Field

TORONTO, July 21 (C.P.) — Ontario's lawn tennis championship matches entered their second day here to-day with all seeded players still in the hunt for titles. More than sixty matches were played yesterday, to materially reduce the record field.

Favorites ruled the day in yesterday's contests, the ranking players meeting little opposition in their matches. Bev. Piers and Don Saunderson, Halifax Stars, had no trouble eliminating J. Sibulash and A. Wintraub, Toronto, 6-1, 6-3 and 6-0, 6-3 respectively. Piers meets Bruce Hall, Toronto, to-day.

Three star Ottawa racket-wielders survived the opening round. George Leclere had little trouble with M. Safer, Toronto, winning 6-0 and 6-1. Jack O'Hara breezed through a match with J. A. Dickinson, Toronto, to come out victor with scores of 6-2, 6-0. E. F. Murphy took two straight sets from A. C. Metcalfe, Toronto, 6-2, 6-3.

The Pope family scored wins for London. Joe defeated D. Robertson, Toronto, 6-0, 6-2; Brother Hugh won out over G. Kingston, Toronto, 6-4, 6-3, and continued his winning ways by defeating A. Brenner, Toronto, later in the day, by counts of 6-0, 6-1. Diana Pape advanced in the ladies' singles, defeating Jane Merrill, Toronto, 6-0, 6-1. She meets Mrs. W. R. Walton, Toronto, to-day.

Marcell Rainville, the little Montreal Davis Cup veteran, swings into action to-day after drawing a bye yesterday. He meets H. J. Young, Toronto, in the afternoon, the winner to take on G. H. Gollop, Toronto, later in the day.

CLOTHIERS ADD TO LEAGUE LEAD

FINAL SCORE 6-1

Behind steady pitching by Tom Montgomery, Swartz's Clothiers climbed further out in front in the Men's Softball loop at Central last night by defeating their nearest rivals, the Westclox crew, by 6 runs to 1. The losers broke through Montgomery's delivery for ten hits but he was invincible with men in scoring position and in additon was given smart support by his team mates. Tom Parsons was on the firing line for the Westclox and although he allowed only one more hit than his opponent the Swartzmen's blows were bunched and three errors also helped to pile up a score. Westclox kicked in with two double plays, Goodson starting the first with a nice running catch and Ellis making the second unassisted when he snared Covert's drive and nipped Playford off first.

The winners got a run in the first innings on Playford's single, Covert's infield out and a two-base swat by Chuck Kearns. In the third Montgomery led off with a double over third, advanced on Dormer's sacrifice and scored on Covert's single to right.

The Westclox got their only run in the fourth when with one out Stanger singled through short, went to second on an infield out and came home when Parsons rapped a hit past Gainey.

In their half the Swartz crew came back with a pair. Gainey opened with a single to left. Weir bunted for a sscrifice but was safe when Parsons fumbled. Smith sacrificed and Montgomery scored Gainey with a single to centre. Dormer's sacrifice bunt scored Weir.

The winners got the last runs of the game in the sixth. Gainey walked, Weir singled to centre and Smith to left to fill the bases. Montgomery struck out but Dormer's safe bunt scored Gainey. When Playford hit to Dorrington, White dropped the throw to the plate and Weir registered. The next two were easy.

The line ups:

Westclox: Dorington, 3b; Goodson, cf; Crary, ss; Ellis, 1b; O'Leary, cf, 3b; Currie, rf; Stanger, 2b; White, c; Parsons, p; Foley, lf.

Score by innings:

Swartz	101 002 00x—6	11	1
Westclox	000 100 000—1	10	3

Soccer Notes

A communication was received from Toronto Kimberley Football Club requesting a game here in the city on Monday (Civic Holiday) against a team selected by the association. They have one of the best soccer records in the city of Toronto and are reckoned as artists at the game.

The executive selected the following players as the team that will represent Peterborough against Toronto eleven: William Curtis, goal James Mitchell and Asa Downer, full backs; F. Earle, James Buchan and E. Jones halves; N. Downer, D. Green, Ben McMaster, Alex. Mitchell and G. Downer forwards. Reserves:—Jack Chamberlain, Deb Whatman, W. Denisen, Jack McMaster and Alex Burgess. Tom Stewart was appointed as offical in charge of the team. ..lex. McKinley will be the official referee.

Many soccer fans will regret to learn that William Robb, the popular centre-half of the Canadian General team is leaving the city on Monday, August 3rd, to return to his native land—Scotland—to make his home there in future. He was keen to participate in the code and always acted as a clever exponent of the art of dribbling that had many tricks accompanying it throughout the entire game. When a picked team was selected, Bill never failed to make the team and lived up to his reputation on the field of play against the visting teams to the city. We wish him the best of good luck along with the abundance of good health in Auld Scotia.

On Thursday night, the Canadian General play the C. O. F. in a league game on King Edward Park. Kick off at 6.30. Referee W. Buchan the newly appointed referee.

The reserve team chosen to play against the Peterborough eleven next Thursday night, July 30th is as follows:—J. Chamberlain, goal; D. Whatman and W. Denisen full backs; Art Downer, T. Westwood and T. McPhate halves; W. MacKenzie, F. Todd, J. McMaster, T. Foster and Alex. Burgess forwards.

C. O. F. are to be notified that they must have a representative at the meeting next Monday night.

The special attratcion for Saturday to soccer fans is the Oshawa Hungarian aggregation that will play against the Canada Packers on King Edward Park. Kick off at three o'clock. Referee Alex. McKinley. After the game a banquet will be held when all players taking part in the game will be requested to be present.

The Canadian General signed two new players to their list in Tom Westwood and Willia mMacKenzie. They also received the tranfer of Jack Chamberlain from the Canada Packers who will take the place of Joe Bolton between the sticks.

Next Monday night, Art Downer's five-a-side team meets the Board five. J. Chamberlain's team meets E. Jones five. Kick off at 6.30.

BOBBY JONES KING EDWARD VIII

The Emperor Jones of golf—Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., himself—has a golf date with King Edward VIII on July 28. It will be Jones' first match on his European vacation trip. King Edward requested the match as he has been eager to try his royal golfing skill against that of the "emperor" of all golfers. Here are the two in comparative swings.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

(By C J. P.)

HERE'S a soccer item. The Austrian-Hungarian team (well, well when did they come over)? of Oshawa are coming here next Saturday for an exhibition match at King Edward Park with Canada Packers. The idea of the local soccer association is to bring in more outside squads this summer here to boost interest. And a good idea it is.

SWARTZ Guaranteed Garments took a 6-1 win over Westclox in the men's softball fixture last night at Central to increase their lead in the loop race. Long Tom Montgomery hurled good ball in the pinches and had A-1 backing. Tom Parsons went pretty fair on the other hilltop but bunched hits and errors brought him grief. The losers did have two neat double-plays but they couldn't rap the pellet safely when runners were parked on the cushions. The schedule ends a week from Wednesday (to-morrow) and they're all battling for play-off berths but Swartz—well on top—and Omemee, well in the rear. Westclox play Metropolitans to-night while the Mets meet Swartz on Wednesday as Quakers go to Omemee.

IN the gals' game at the Bowl yester twilight, C.G.E. went to town with two out in the last of the ninth and yanked out a 10-9 verdict over Bailieboro. 'Twas a tight tussle throughout and anybody's game till Helen Newson, Electrics' twirler, bingled in the winning run. She and B. McDowell, on the opposite slab, tossed fair ball and got support at times brilliant and at other times hardly worth dropping a line home about. Two homers were clouted and some catches made in the outfield. With the second-half schedule well under way, C. G. E. are fighting to keep in the running for a playoff berth. Bailieboro have been shorthanded lately with their regular first-sacker out with an injury. Westclox play in Keene tonight while Wednesday sees Omemee at Keene and Westclox at Bailieboro.

A tall story—reminiscient of Bob Burns on the radio—was sent to us from Hastings yesterday. It ran: "The continued dry spell has made dew worms scarce and anglers are now turning to frogs. While catching frogs on Saturday, a U. S. visitor came upon a snake with a frog in its mouth. Not wanting to kill it, he stepped on it and it dropped the frog. Out of a small flask he gave the snake a few drops of Hepburn's spirits and let it go. Getting back to the canoe he forgot all about the incident until he was out 10 yards from shore and heard a knocking at the side of the canoe. He looked over and there was the snake with another frog. Go ahead, Mr. Sportswriter, and beat Hastings and we will fold up."

WELL, we don't know any honest snake stories like this but we do know the truth about why there is no floating bridge at present over Pigeon Lake. The fish there are pretty large fellows and fishermen use ones we'd call good eating for bait. Well, anyway, the floating bridge was always breaking up. Folks thought it was the ice in spring, but doggone if it didn't continue to bust up all summer. Government investigated and found farmers down the lake were running liquor stills and those big muskies used to go for the mash thrown in the lake every Saturday night on a bender. They just naturally took all obstructions before 'em, including the bridge. Well, sir, the Government notified the farmers that it was either no bridge or no stills. After due deliberation the farmers sent back word: "We are in no hurry and don't mind going around the end of the lake." So there is now no floating bridge at Pigeon Lake, but they still have enormous fish with red snouts—and the odd still in the marshes. A fact.

LINDSAY Post has the mike: "The Metropolitans of Peterborough want home and home exhibtion games with Lindsay Merchants. Jimmie Lehane informed us Sunday that this team would like to come here and they think they can spot the locals a few runs and then take them hands down. The Metropolitans are run, we undersand, by one Ned Vitarelli, who has an indirect connection with this office or, more correctly, with one of the staff"—ha, there, Ned, what is this—"This fiery Italian has gathered a bunch of ballsters who have fought themselves into first place, next to Swartz." Well, not quite—they are in third place. Suggested dates are here Saturday and in Lindsay the next Tuesday or vice versa.

A JUNIOR baseball playoff game will be staged here tomorrow (Wednesday evening at six bells in Riverside Park between Oshawa and the local Rotarians. It's the first of the five game Lakeshore Loop finals. the winner advancing in junior O. B. A. A. playdowns. Should be a swell scrap between these smart young squads. Herb Ralph expects to start Roy Armour on the mound but we don't know who will do the flinging for the Motor Citizens. This game rates a good crowd and the fans will enjoy it plenty.

KINGSTON PONIES go to Napanee and the Petes to Belleville this Wednesday, while Saturday sees Napanee at Kingston and Oshawa playing the locals here. This latter tilt should be a huge attraction. The following Wednesday our gang go to Kingston and entertain the Gibbards back here that week-end. Having copped 10 of their last 12 games, the Petes are getting set for the tough GM-men of Oshawa in Riverside on Saturday. Being in second place and within striking distance of the Motor City crew, the locals are liable to halt their rivals here. Scriver or Calladine may get the call in Belleville tomorrow in order to save Gunner Whitehill—the loop's leading chucker—for Saturday. Might be a good idea, at that.

Lawn Bowling
By HERB MARTIN

The first round of the club singles is posted on the blackboard and bowlers are expected to look up their positions and play. This round must be completed by Saturday night.

About the best games from a spectator's point of view that has been played on our greens for some time was the Routley-Freeman singles. Right from the first end it developed into a real battle. It was see-saw all the way through, tied several times and an all-around exhibition of good bowling. Going into what turned out to be the last end, the score was 20-19 for Routley. Neis drew three bowls within one foot of the kitty and Harold just missed with his last bowl. It was a great finish to a well-played game.

In the schedule T. McMillan's rink still leads his group, while Billy Zeihr and Al Heckman are running neck and neck in Group 3. . . . We will hold a big mixed tournament to-morrow (Wednesday) night commencing at 7.30 p.m. . . . The draw will be from the board.

Men's Results

W. J. Fair, 19; G. Cairns, 17

Payne's Gain Top Place In Circuit

Payne's took an easy victory from the Cardinals Monday evening at the Sacred Heart diamond in front of a fair crowd. Play was fast in every stranza and after the fifth inning the Meat boys just held the lead and coasted into victory. Both teams turned in a good performance of softball and the fielding was a credit to either manager. Dennie twirled for the Cards, while Fleming backed the Meat Men. F. Maloney and N. Foster starred at the bat for the loosers, while Byers, Clifford, Coursey came through with triplets for the Payne group, while Fleming and James got doubles. All players played an up to the top game.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Cards	020 021 320	10	11 5

The teams:

BLACK HILLS SALE SAID JUST A JOKE

Leading Sioux Indian Chiefs Chuckle At Thunder Bull's Proposal

Three Big Chiefs of the Sioux Indians chuckled to-day over the proposal of Thunder Bull, tribal councillor, that the famous area might be sold to Canada because the United States' government allegedly broke a treaty with the Redskins.

And even Thunder Bull, distant relative of Sitting Bull, was reported to be hedging. The 45-year-old brave, known to fellow councillors as Lone Bear because of his willingness to stand alone, was secluded at his shack, far from a telephone.

But word came through J. H. McGregor, Pine Ridge Indian Reservation superintendent that Thunder Bull asserted in the presence of witnesses he made his Black Lands sale proposal on behalf of Black Elk, a "show Indian," and was not expressing his own views.

McGregor said such leading Chiefs as Robert Two Elk, Noah Bad Wound and Joseph Eagle Hawk deprecated Thunder Bull's claims regarding the sale. McGregor dubbed the councillor's claims "just talk."

"The influential Indians here take it as a joke," the superintendent said.

ARMOUR TO HURL FOR ROTARY GANG

Opens Mound Duty In First Game Of Junior Lakeshore Playoffs

Roy Armour is slated to pitch for the local Rotarians against Oshawa when these teams clash tomorrow (Wednesday) evening at six o'clock in Riverside Park. It is the first of their five-game Lakeshore Junior Baseball League play-offs, the second being in Oshawa on Saturday. The winner enters the junior O.B.A.A. playdowns and one of these teams is expected to go right through to the Ontario finals. A large crowd of baseball fans is expected to take in this tilt tomorrow, including merchant fans who miss most Saturday games due to work. The juniors deserve support as they dish up fast, scrappy baseball and the teams are well-matched.

With Armour pitching, Herb Ralph will have O'Toole doing the receiving and an infield of Thorburn on first, Thornton on second, Caccavelli at short and either Currie or Giardino on third. The outfield, depending on right or left-hand pitching, will be selected from Clark, Webb, Pete, Vitarelli, Connelly. Rotary has several other pitchers ready to take over. Oshawa has a nifty young club and will be tough to take in this play-off series. Their starting pitcher has not been named, but may be Tip Anderson, ex-local righthander.

Havelock Triumphs In Softball Tangle

Another game of the Kawartha Softball schedule was played in Keene Friday night, July 17th. Between Keene and Havelock and the latter winning by the score 10-7. McCarthy pitching for Keene with eleven hits against him, and Brooks for Havelock with thirteen hits. There were seven errors for Keene and only one for Havelock.

The line-ups:

Cricket Results

LONDON, July 21.—(CP Cable)—Hampshire needed only two days to defeat Somerset in the English County cricket competition today, winning by 10 wickets. It was the only contest concluded.

The scores:

Somerset 39 and 148 (Creese four for 39); Hampshire 165 and 36 runs for no wickets. At Southampton.

Sussex 168 runs for no wickets (Hammond 85 not out, J. Parks 72 not out); vs Warwickshire; at Birmingham.

India 238 (Copson five for 44) and 37 runs for no wickets; Derbyshire 160 (C. Elliott 77, Bannerjee four for 61); at Derby.

Ex-German Soldier Meets Canadian He Captured in the War.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 21 (C.P.). — A former German soldier and his prisoner met for the first time since the war when veterans held a drumhead service at St. Catharines. N. McIntosh, who served with the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, was taking down the results of a race when one of a party of German war veterans from Toronto introduced himself. He had seen McIntosh in the parade and recognised him. The Canadian had been taken prisoner by him near Albert, but had later escaped.

COURTESY TIP

Traffic Officer Rewarded by Man He Punched.

WALKESBARRE, Pa., July 21.—(CP).—Sergeant Jack Lenio opened a letter. A note and two $1 bills fell to his desk.

The other was a "tip" for Patrolman Peter Yunevitch's "exceeding courtesy" in making the arrest.

Sport Spice
By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP).—Now it can be told; Wally Berger, Boston Bee slugger, almost a Chicago Cub. When Wally was in the minors, two eagle-eyed scouts looked him over, but decided he was too stiff-armed to become a big league hitter. . . . You can identify the scouts by their red faces. . . . Danno O'Mahoney has gone back to Ireland sadder but wiser. . . . Also considerably riched, which takes off a lot of the sting. . . . Even the Detroit writers admit the late lamented series with the Yankees all but blasted the flag hopes for the Tigers.

And did you know: That Mrs. Travis Jackson, wife of the Giant third sacker, once was a pretty school marm at Waldo, Ark., and that her most mischievous pupil was Schoolboy Rowe of Detroit Tigers? . . . Bill Terry has given up all hope of trying to fit Smokey Joe Martin into Travis' big shoes at third base. . . . It doesn't come as easy for brother Vincent Di Maggio as it does for Jo. . . . In a Pacific Coast League game the other day, Vincent hit eight straight fouls before connecting with a single to left field.

P. E. Duquesnay of Houston, Tex., has organized a baseball team composed entirely of southpaws. . . . No righthander can get a job on this outfit.

Charlie Koesta, Intercollegiate golf champ and low amateur in the United States Open, was bitten by a dog at Pontiac, Mich., the other day.

Jinx Tucker, Waco (Tex.) sports ed., suggests that every outstanding college tack on a extra dime for tickets to its feature football game this year to pay off the $100,000 Olympic debt. . . . Add comebacks: Jack Renault, a former Montreal policeman, once chosen in a poll as the logical man to fight Jack Dempsey, will start a comeback at Newport, R.I., in less than a month. . . . Kidded about his age, Jack grinned and said: "Well, I'm younger than Jack Sharkey, anyway." . . . (Sharkey signed yesterday to fight Joe Louis). . . . Attention wrestlers: Here is the announcement you have been waiting for: The "Octopus Clamp," a brand new hold, has been developed at Wellington, New Zealand. . . . Two amateurs obtained diagrams and instructions and proceeded to make a test of the hold. . . . One man succeeded in applying it. . . . Then found he couldn't release it. . . . Police had to be called to untangle the pair.

Notes.—Jimmy Johnston, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, was so upset at the news the Braddock-Schmeling match was off, he went to the movies. . . . Old Firpo Marberry is going like a house afire down in the Texas League. . . . Beantown scribes say Tom Yawkey is going to keep the rubber on his bank roll next winter. . . . Which will ruin said winter for Connie Mack and other American League moguls. . . . Where are the guys who were pitying the Yankees last March?

Golf Notes

PETERBOROUGH GOLF CLUB.

The weekly sweepstake was a nine blind hole contest played in two divisions. The winner of Group 1 was Stan Payne, who shot his best game of golf for this season, his gross was a snappy 37 and his net of the blind holes was a 32. Second place was tied for by three players, R. Abbott, F. T. Gentles, and C. V Elliott each having 34. Division B winner, Pete Gordon scored a gross 50 and on 9 sealed holes, his net was 28. "Des" Marshall took second place with 31.

ROLL OF PAPYRUS PROVES RARE FIND

Inscriptions Claimed To Antedate 300 Years Any Other Bible Manuscript

LONDON, July 21 (AP). — Four fragments of papyrus roll on which the Book of Deuteronomy is inscribed, said to antedate by 300 years any other Bible manuscript, was found in John Ryland's library in Manchester, C. H. Roberts, Fellow of St. John's College, Oxford University, announced today in a new book entitled "Two Biblical Payri."

The roll, part of the Greek version of the Old Testament, the Septuagint, was written in the second century B.C., Roberts said. (According to legend, the original Septuagint, which is still used in the Greek Church, was written in Alexandria in 72 days by 72 Jews at the command of the Egyptian ruler, Ptolemy Philadelphia, some time between 280 and 130 B.C.)

Roberts said the papyri, part of a cartonnage used to wrap mummies which the library bought in 1917 in a large bundle of miscellaneous papyri, bore no indications of its origin.

CHAPTER 43

FOR A MOMENT Joan rubbed her eyes following Sheila's phone call for help. She thought she had dreamed that incoherent conversation. Then her consciousness broke through her daze and she knew her need for action was immediate. Julian musn't be disturbed. If she didn't go at once, Sehila would call again.

Sleepily she reached for her lounging pyjamas and pulled a polo coat over them. She ran a comb through her hair and picked up her purse.

She slipped down the dark stairs afraid to switch on the light. Julian was a light sleeper and she would have to pass his rooms on the second floor. If he asked her what she was doing, she couldn't answer him.

She stumbled against a newel post, said something under her breath and rubbed her ankle tenderly. Darn Sheila True! Her Persian cat had probably had a fit or something equally unimportant had brought on a typical Sheila blowup.

Nevertheless, huddling in a corner of the taxi that was bearing her across town at that hour of the morning, Joan had a premonition that something serious might have happened. Sheila had been pretty much overwrought on the telephone. And why should she send for Joan?

She urged the driver to greater speed, overpaid him when she arrived at Sheila's apartment and let herself in. There was a self-operating elevator and Joan met no one for which she was very glad. Pajymas and a polo coat was a strange costume for a nice young woman to wear publicly at that hour of the night.

The elevator came to a silent stop. Carefully, so that she would make no noise and with her heart doing a trip-hammer beat, she ran quietly down the carpeted hall to the door of Sheila's apartment.

She knocked softly.

"Who is it?" Sheila's whisper came from inside.

"Joan," she answered, and had a desire to run back to the elevator and let herself out.

She stood there trembling like a leaf. That was no act, no self-imposed hysteria. Her ashe blonde hair tumbled untidily about her shoulders. He face was streaked with tears. She could hardly control her breath.

And the front of her blue gown was stained with a terrible red!

Joan tried to be calm but fear seized her and she began to tremble so that she could hardly ask, "What's happened??"

"Pierre." That was all that Sheila said.

"Well?" Joan hoped her question would pull Sheila to.

"He . . . he's had an accident. Oh, Joan, do something!"

"What . . . what'll I do?" That wasnt going to help any, but Joan couldnt force herself to take hold of the situation.

"He's hurt himself."

"Hurt?" Joan's question was almost an explosion. As long as he was only hurt.

"But we've got to cover it up. Come in. . . ."

Joan's feet followed Sheila into the white living room but the rest of her was running away from what she feared to see.

Pierre Durand was lying on a lounge. Joan thought he was dead.

"He's . . . only unconscious but we've got to get a doctor." Sheila, with both hands pressed against the wall in back of her, stared at the unconscious man with the spreading stain on his white shirt front.

"Yes, of course. Haven't you sent for one?" Joan demanded and forced herself to walk calmly over to the lounge.

"No. I'm afraid to. I'm afraid he'll talk. He'll tell everything and we'll all be ruined. I can't have a scandal! I'll be ruined and the play will be ruined."

Joan was playing for time.

"What happened," she demanded. "Tell me the truth, Sheila."

She didn't care what happened to Sheila True but she knew that if Sheila were involved in a scandal it would involve Julian.

"I didn't do it. . . ."

"Oh, he's mad! He was so jealous. He was here when I came home. He said he wouldn't let anyone else have me. I thought he was going to kill me. I don't remember it all but suddenly I turned my back. I heard the gun go off and then he was lying on the floor. . . ."

"He shot himself??" Joan inquired sharply while she was trying to think of the best thing to do.

Sheila answered angrily, "Of course, he did. Did you think I did it?"

"Well, then." Joan touched her cold fingers to Pierre's forehead, "it was an accident and what can he say about it? Do something, Sheila! There's a doctor on the first floor of this building. I've seen his sign every time I've been here. Get him quickly!"

"No . . . no," Sheila reached for both of Joan's hands. "Please listen to me. Pierre will make a scandal."

"He'll do nothing of the kind. He's too weak and when he comes out of it—it seems to be only a shoulder wound—he'll be so darn glad to be alive he won't dare talk."

Sheila ran ahead of her and barred the doorway with her arms. "I don't know what I'm saying b t you must understand, Joan. Even if Pierre doesn't talk, think of what the papers will say!"

"That he was showing you his gun and it went off suddenly."

"Oh, Joan!" Sheila wove about in despair. "Why can't you see? Do you suppose the newspapers will swallow that? They all know that Pierre is in love with me. Would he be showing me a gun in my apartment after one o'clock in the morning?"

"I don't know what he'd be doing but I know we can't spend the night discussing it while he's in that condition. We don't know how serious this may prove to be. This is no time for you to be so selfish."

Sheila had one more card to play. "The play, Joan! Julian's play will be ruined if he's star is involved in a scandal."

Sheila pushed her victory, "Joan don't you know some obscure doctor? Some friend? Someone we could trust?"

Like an automaton she walked across the room to the telephone stand and picked up the directory.

Feverishly her finger traced down the line of W's until she came to the name she had been seeking.

Winsloe, Stephan C., Dr. . . .

With a numb finger—and a prayer in her heart—she dialed Win's number.

Bedtime Story
By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BIG NOISE

One day just as Uncle Wiggily was going to start out and look for an adventure, Baby Bunty, the little orphan rabbit, came running to him and said:

"Unkie Wig, may I go with you?"

Uncle Wiggily loved Bunty very much, but he didn't very often take her adventuring with him. Nor, for that matter, did he take any of the animal children. It was too dangerous, Mr. Longears thought.

"I never know what sort of an adventure I am going to have, Baby Bunty," he answered. "The Bad Chaps may chase me and I might have to hop as fast as anything and then a bit faster to get away."

"Oh, I am a good hopper, Unkie Wig," said Baby Bunty using all the silly talk she was permitted. "I'm a very good hopper."

"You aren't a grasshopper, are you, Bunty?" asked the rabbit gentleman who liked to tease her.

"No, but I can hop over grass and clover," she answered. Bunty, too, in her small way, was a joker. "Please take me," she begged.

Brave Little Girl.

"I don't mind a little danger," said Bunty who was as brave a rabbit girl as you could find between here and Ashbury Park.

Uncle Wiggily laugred, twinkled his pink nose and told Bunty to hop along lively, which she did. But just as the jolly old rabbit gentleman and the little rabbit girl were hopping down the woodland path, along came flying a robin red breast bird.

"Why?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Because there is danger," said the bird. "I just saw the Bob Cat going down that path smoking his pipe."

"Oh, goodie! Goodie!" cried Baby Bunty.

"Why do you say that?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Because I think it will be fun to have an adventure with the Bob Cat and fool him."

"How do you know I can fool him?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"You always do," said Baby Bunty. "You are very clever, Unkie Wig. Come on, let's have an adventure with a little danger in it."

"Dear me!" said Uncle Wiggily, shaking his pink nose instead of twinkling it. "What's gotten into children nowadays? Well, I guess I can slip down a side path without Bunty knowing it and not meet the Bob Cat," he said to himself. "I don't want to get her in danger."

Something Happens.

So Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty kept on down the woodland path. The robin, shaking his head, flew away, thinking how foolish Uncle Wiggily was. And soon after that something happened.

Baby Bunty was hopping along ahead, and Uncle Wiggily was just getting ready to turn down a side path so he wouldn't meet the Bob Cat when, all of a sudden, Bunty shouted:

"Oh, here is Robin Red Breast again!" She hopped to a bush and picked up something red. But in a moment she saw it wasn't the robin bird, and Uncle Wiggily also knew it was something different.

"Drop that, Bunty!" he cried. "Let it alone! It's dangerous!"

Then, all of sudden, out of the bushes popped the Bob Cat smoking his pipe. He ran to Bunty, snatched the red thing out of her paw and cried: "Give me that stick of red candy!"

The Bob Cat started to take a bite of what he thought was that candy Bunty had found when, just as he got it near his burning pipe, all of a sudden there was a terribly loud noise and a bang and the Bob Cat was blown and tossed up over the tops of the trees.

"Ha! Ha! laughed Uncle Wiggily. "What you found, Bunty, was a big Fourth of July giant fire cracker. It went out after somebody lighted it and tossed it away. The Bob Cat blew himself up when he lighted it from his pipe. Ha! Ha!"

Now if you see the rubber ball squirting water on the gold fish I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the mole.

At New French Legation At Ottawa

Premier King officiated at the laying of the corner-store of the new French Legation in Canada which is now being erected in Ottawa. The building will be surrounded on three sides by gardens and will contain a magnificent ballroom and reception room. The new building will cost some $400,000. The corner-stone weighs 35 tons and was quarried in the Province of Quebec. Premier King and Hon. Raymond Brugere are shown above at the ceremony. (Central Press Canadian Photo.)

MOOSE RIVER HERO NOW OUT OF WORK

Billy Bell, Man Who Handled Diamond Drill Appeals To Scadding

TORONTO, July 21 (C.P.).—Three months ago he was a hero, his name known to millions the world over. To-day, Billy Bell, of New Glasgow, N.S., operator of the diamond drill that first broke through to three men entombed in the Moose River Gold Mine, is just another man out of work.

In a letter to Alfred Scadding, now in a Toronto hospital, Bell says he has been laid off.

"I have been taken off the payroll. It's up to me to get employment of some sort," he writes. "I wonder if you can tell me of anyone I might contact in some other part of the province or Upper Canada so that I could obtain employment of some sort. It doesn't necessarily have to be diamond drilling. I am willing to work at almost anything in order to make a living for myself and my family."

ONE-MAN RIOT

Drunk Holds Police At Bay By Hurling Furniture From His Cell.

LONG BRANCH, Ont., July 21 (CP).—In a one-man riot that lasted for two and a half hours early Sunday morning, Fred Hightown, Long Branch relief recipient, held police officials at bay by smashing up furnishings of his cell and hurling the pieces at anyone who ventured in sight.

Hightown had been arrested on charges of being drunk and disorderly. He was placed in the Mimico cells as Long Branch has no police station. Additional charges of doing malicious damage to public property have been lodged.

CUTTING OF WHEAT WELL UNDER WAY ACROSS ONTARIO

Majority Of Grass Pastures Are Dry And Old Pastures Bare—Straw Short

FARMERS DRAWING WATER

TORONTO, July 21. — (CP). — With the drought still holding, agricultural reports show Bruce County haying is about completed in the south and central sections. Fall wheat cutting has begun, with reports of quality varying. Earlier oats were reported fair in some districts, but the later crops are short. Fertilized crops have shown to advantage. Grass pastures are dry and old pastures are bare.

Spring grain in Grey County has held up well, helped by recent cool weather. Haying is 90 per cent. finished and some wheat has been cut. Some Hessian fly damage was reported.

The crop situation in Halton was reported increasingly critical, with growers of small fruits and vegetables hardest hit. The berry crop is almost negligible and tomatoes are badly scalded, particularly stake tomatoes. Rain will aid the late crop. Fall wheat and early sown barley are better than anticipated. Young seedings appear to be ruined, and pastures, with exception of second crop alfalfa, are mostly mere exercise paddocks. The milk flow has fallen off "tremendously," and some Toronto dairies were reported experiencing difficulty in obtaining requirements. Wells and small streams are dry on many farms and owners have to draw water for livestock.

Apples Standing Up Well.

In Huron County harvesting of fall wheat will be general this week and barley is ripening rapidly. Haying is 90 to 95 per cent. completed and a good crop was saved in excellent condition. Apple orchards are standing the dry weather well, though growth has been retarded somewhat. The pasture shortage is serious, and areas of rough land and timothy meadows are practically worthless. There is a fair second growth in some alfalfa fields. The last rainfall in the Huron district was June 10.

More winter wheat has been cut in Peel and the quality will vary. A few farmers have cut their barley, and some alsike threshing has been completed, with yields from two to six bushels an acre. Some farmers are drawing water for their stock.

A fairly good crop of fall wheat is being cut in Perth County. The grain is plump and there is little rust. Barley has shown better than oats. Straw of all spring grain will be short and the average yield low. Oats on higher ground are drying up in the milk stage. Pasture is practically burned up and most dairymen have been stable-feeding their cows.

Grain Milk Drying Up.

The oat crop in northern Simcoe County will probably be the lowest in quality and yield in the last 10 years or more. Rain may not be able to save the crop. Roots and straw are ripening off with no milk in the grain in most fields. Present predictions are for 25 to 50 per cent. yield of low quality oats. Wheat prospects are fairly good, with 80 per cent. of normal forecast. Barley estimate is about 60 per cent. Field corn was reported looking well, but sweet corn prospects are poor. Raspberries were a failure, and gardeners have been hard hit. South Simcoe fall wheat yield will be light. Early potatoes were reported dying, but late potatoes appeared to be standing the drought well. Most pastures are dried up and water shortage is becoming serious on some farms.

In Waterloo County many farmers have been forced to cut their oats for hay owing to failure of the grain to fill. Fall wheat cutting is well advanced, and there has been some barley cut. In many sections there is not sufficient pasture for cattle.

Wellington County reported haying in full swing, completed in many instances. Generally the crop was good, but grain crop condition is spotty. Fall wheat generally is good and about ready to cut. Spring grain on light land was ruined in many cases by the drought. Root crops vary from excellent to poor. Some turnip fields failed to come up.

In Lincoln County fall wheat crop is as good as normal, if not a little better, and will give a good yield. The hay crop, not so heavy as last year, is of excellent quality. Raspberries were reported producing fairly good sized berries now. Gooseberries and currants are a failure. Supply of milk is much below normal and cream supply has dropped off more than 30 per cent.

CROPS AFFECTED BERRIES HARD HIT

Aphids And Scald Hurt Apple Crop—Starvings Cut Cherry Yield

TRENTON, July 21.—Farmers in this district are trying to assess the damage heat and drought caused. Late varieties of apples are the best since the cold winter three years ago, although aphids are prevalent in some orchards. In about 20 good orchards in the Brighton and Trenton districts report drought spots and a corky core condition are already showing with the heat, scalding the apples and burning the spray, according to Inspector O. May of the Department of Agriculture.

The strawberries are finished due to the dry weather with the yield less than was expected, which was about 60 per cent. of a normal crop. The majority of the patches of raspberries are showing effects of the dry weather with the berries small and lacking taste. Although cherries show a marked increase over last year, they are ripening too rapidly and starlings and robins have done considerable damage. The carry green peas, for processing, reported only 25 per cent. of a crop; the late peas which usually last two more weeks, have thinned due to the lack of rain.

Potatoes are becoming more plentiful on the markets, but yield of early plantings will be below normal with many fields of late varieties looking poor. Wheat has been particularly hard hit in this district, and many farmers are forced to cut fall wheat now. Barley and oats have been cut and are being cured, but the yield is very small. Although some yield has been left over from last year, there is possibility of a shortage and a great deal depends upon the western crops.

Ideal weather is prevailing now for the corn which, with cultivation, is expected to be plentiful. Farmers are receiving good prices for the raspberries now on market. There is 40 per cent. of a normal crop this year, but if the weather continues without rain, the percentage is expected to drop considerably.

Pastures in the surrounding district are revealing the lack of rain pronouncedly and present a dry, seared appearance, and as an outcome, cheese and butter makers are suffering.

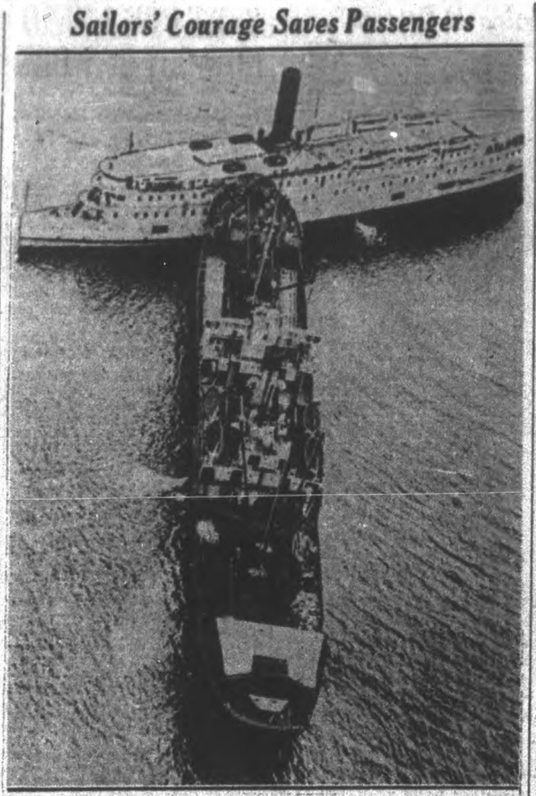
Sailors' Courage Saves Passengers



Moving stories of terror and of high courage aboard the Chesapeake Bay excursion steamer State of Virginia, that was rammed by the steel freighter Golden Harvest, were told after 263 passengers, including Governor Harry W. Nice of Maryland, were safely ashore at Baltimore. This excellent view of the State of Virginia and the freighter Golden Harvest (foreground), locked together after the crash, was made from an airplane. The locking of the ships probably prevented the sinking of the more fragile passenger boat. (Central Press Canadian Photo.)

MARMORA

REUNION IS HELD BY LEE FAMILY

Over Eighty-Five Members And Relatives Gather At Madoc Township Home

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, July 21. — On Sunday the first re-union of the Lee family took place at the residence of George Lee, Sr., Madoc Township, when 85 persons related to the family were present. Two long tables were set outdoors in the maple grove situated on the east side of the homestead.

Mr. Lee, who will be 89 next November, is a native of West Bromwich Staffordshire, England, while Mrs. Lee, who is a few years his junior, claims Handsworth in the same country as her native town. Both are hale and hearty; the husband now completing half a century of residence in Canada, while his wife and the children born to them by that time, rejoined him eighteen months later. Mr. Lee was attracted to the Deloro goldfields, and claims to have erected the first arsenic furnace there.

Included in the relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee, Marmora, their daughter Beatrice Toronto, also their daughter Mrs. K. Johansen and three children, Sudbury, and Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson of Marmora Township. Other relatives were present from Madoc Township, Rawdon Township, and Belleville.

BETHANY

On Thursday evening Miss Mildred Sisson was hostess for an at home in honor of Miss Ruth Hamilton, a bride of next month, when about fifty ladies assembled to tender her congratulations and good wishes before leaving for her marriage at Edmonton. When the company was completed, Mrs. (Rev.) Holden presided at the organ, playing the Wedding March from Lohengrin (Wagner). A very pleasing feature was offered by Nancy Padgham, arrayed in full bridal attire and carrying a sheaf of flowers tied with yellow ribbon, wearing a long bridal veil in cap style, leaning on the arm of Barrie Brown, the small groom, who wore high silk hat and white gloves, and bearing the ladies' gift with card of good wishes attached to buttonhole, presented Miss Hamilton with a beautiful four-piece silver tea service. Miss Hamilton was taken completely by surprise, but in brief and well chosen words thanked her many warm friends for their splendid gift, but requested her rector, Rev. Mr. Holden, to express her sentiments of grateful appreciation. The bride's mother also made a similar request of Mr. Holden in lieu of herself. The youthful couple again went among the guests who were grouped on their side of the lawn to the strains of the Wedding March, after which the gift was viewed and lunch was served. Assisting the hostess were Mesdames Fallis, F. W. and Charles Reynolds, Jr., Armstrong, Padgham and McKinley and the Misses Muriel Hannah, Isobel Sisson, Gwen Gray and a lady friend, Evelyn McKinnon. A very social hour was spent. Miss Hamilton visited among the guests present in her genial happy way, making everyone feel how much she appreciated the honor which had been conferred on her.

Sunday, July 19, the 60th anniversary of St. Paul's Anglican Church was observed at Bethany evening service. Rev. Mr. Patton, of Gore's Landing, was the special speaker for the evening. Special music was provided by the choir from St. Paul's Anglican Church, Perrytown, who attended with their rector, besides a goodly number from that parish.

Peace River Area Presses Agitation For Secession

People Of The North Say They Are Fed Up On Alberta Promises

Have Urged Better Roads And Outlet To Pacific Coast In Vain

GOV'T MEMBERS SILENT

Would Set Up Regime Similar To Northwest Territories Prior To 1905

PEACE RIVER, Alta., July 22 (C.P.). — Secession of the Peace River area, famous grain-growing belt, from Alberta is advocated by a number of residents who desire better roads in the region and a transportation outlet to the Pacific Coast.

A five-man committee has been appointed to study the possibility of autonomy for the district. The members, all residents of this town, are: P. Rideout, C. W. Frederick, U. Adams, J. Phillipe, and H. Williams.

L. C. Porteous, Grand Prairie business man, told Edmonton newspapermen: "The people of the north are thoroughly fed up with the treatment given them.

Reach the Limit.

"They have been promised everything. But they are still waiting for a coast outlet by rail or road and for decent roads inside the area. Even Ethiopia has better roads than we have and we have reached the limit of endurance."

Meetings have been held throughout the Peace River area with speakers advocating secession from Alberta. A form of government similar to that which prevailed in the North-West Territories prior to 1905, when the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were formed, is proposed.

A general council of five men, one to be elected each year, would supervise administration of the area, dealing direct with the Dominion Government.

"The committee appointed after a meeting here on Monday night will circulate a petition, and if 31,000 of the 42,000 names on the voters' list in the district are obtained it is planned to approach the Provincial Government with a view to obtaining autonomy.

Up to Area and Alberta.

In Ottawa, Dominion Government officials said any move for secession would be a matter for settlement between the district and the province. In Edmonton, Alberta Government members refused to comment.

In addition to demands for better roads and an outlet by rail or road to the Pacific Coast, W. M. Eager, Grand Prairie lawyer, told a meeting here the Peace River needs public buildings and reasonable freight rates.

C. W. Frederick, Peace River publisher, said the district's revenues exceeded that of the entire province in 1905.

Where They Get 'Em.

TRENT RIVER, July 22.— Messrs. Raftry and Kramer of Niles, Ohio, who are holidaying at The Owl's Nest, Cedar Isle, were successful in landing a fine muskie over the week-end, weighing 10½ pounds.

In the window at Robertson's barber shop on George street, is displayed a big musky that any fisherman might be proud to hook and land. True it is no the largest fish of its kind caught in local waters, but it is a respectable size at that. Measuring 41-inches from stem to stern, the fish tips the balance at 16-pounds. It was reportedly caught by George Robertson in Rice Lake, in the vicinity of his summer cottage at Hiawatha. He landed it before breakfast this (Wednesday) morning too, it is stated. A Williams' gold spot turned the odds in favor of the angler, but the lunge only surrendered after a mighty battle.

INFANT DEATHS REMAIN AT HIGH RATE FOR JUNE

Medical Officer Sees Possibility Of Mortality Similar To 1935 Rate

NEED NURSING SERVICE

Milk Vendors Must Inform Authorities Of New Sources Of Supplies

A high rate of infant mortality in Peterborough was again recorded in June, according to the report for that month presented to the Board of Health last night by Dr. G. Murray Fraser, Medical Officer of Health.

"There were two resident and three non-resident stillbirths and four resident infant deaths," Dr. Fraser informed the Board. "This is a high rate, and indicates the possibility of a high yearly rate, similar to 1935. No definite cause can be given for this high rate.

One salient fact presents itself, namely, that cities with adequate nursing facilities have low infant and stillbirth rates. While it cannot be said, therefore, that lack of adequate pre-natal nursing care is directly the cause of the high rate, it can be said that adequate pre-natal nursing care definitely lowers the rates.

Peterborough must give considerable serious thought to the introduction of a compete nursing service. Provision in the budget for 1937 for improved facilities to safeguard the health and welfare of our citizens should meet the same consideration as roads, bridges, parks, etc.

Sanitary Conveniences.

Peterboro Boys Develop T.B. at Training School

Three Cases From Bowmanville Make 20 City Is Paying For In Sanitaria

"SHOCKING"—DR. FRASER

Three Peterborough boys who contracted tuberculosis at the Bowmanville Training School have increased to twenty the number of local patients at sanitaria for whom the city is charged at the rate of $1.50 a day for their treatment and maintenance.

"It is a shocking state of affairs," Dr. G. Murray Fraser, Medical Officer of Health said, in reporting these three new cases to the Board of Health Tuesday evening. "I wrote the Ontario Department of Health regarding these three cases, and I got a reply that they had already made an investigation, and found there an active case of tuberculosis in the school from which the three Peterborough boys developed the disease. This other boy has also been removed from the institution."

Alderman Hamilton suggested that the board should tell the department that Peterborough should not be held liable for the hospital costs of the three boys, who are now in a sanitarium.

Dr. Fraser said that the three boys were registered from Peterborough, and the hospitals naturally charged the maintenance costs to this city.

"Another young man who had been sent home from a sanitarium has become an active case again and has returned to the sanitarium," Dr. Fraser told the board, saying that this brought the number of Peterborough cases to twenty at present.

The three Peterborough boys referred to by Dr. Fraser had been sent to the Bowmanville School for correctional purposes.

King May Visit Alberta Ranch Next Year

Unconfirmed reports are circulating in London that King Edward will travel to Canada after his Coronation next May and visit his E. P ranch near High River, Alta. According to the rumors in court circles he will then go to Long Island, N. Y., where he visited as Prince of Wales. The rolling Alberta foothill country of the King's Canadian home is shown in this picture of the EP ranch. Insert is the King in a ten-gallon hat, when he last visited Alberta in 1927.

Lad With Arms Off Cheerful—Has Brains

NEW YORK, July 22. — Joseph Della Faye, 14, lost both arms in a dough-mixer, but he's still cheerful, because, he said, "I've got brains."

Joseph fell into a mixer at his uncle's bakery near his Union City, N.J., home, last week. Police and firemen had to cut the machine apart to free him. The mangled boy grinned at them while they worked.

Still in critical condition, he was comforting his parents to-day. "I can make a living without arms," he told them. "What are you looking so sad about? I'll make out all right."

EXTENDING TREATY

Trade Pact With New Zealand Will Continue Till September 30, 1937.

OTTAWA, July 22 (C.P.). — Arrangements are being made here this week for an extension of the Canada-New Zealand Trade Agreement until September 30, 1937. The agreement expires the end of this month and under an Act passed in 1933 it may be renewed by Order-in-Council for such time as may be arranged between the two governments.

Both governments have now agreed on the extension and the necessary Order-in-Council will likely be passed this week.

RAIN COMES TO AID OF FIRE FIGHTERS NORTHERN ONTARIO

Expected To Be General From Manitoba Border To Ottawa River

JASPER BLAZE OUT

Rain came to the aid of the fire-fighters in the Sault Ste. Marie district to-day, halted one blaze which broke out yesterday near Pointe Aux Pins, near a summer resort, and was expected to check flames which have been raging for some days over a 40-square miles stretch at the headwaters of the Goulais River.

Nearly an inch of rain fell in the district. Beginning at 3.30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time, it was still falling heavily at mid-morning. Weather officials said the precipitation would possibly be general from the Manitoba border to the Ottawa River. It was not, however, expected to be heavy in all sections and might be confined to a few scattered thundershowers.

Overnight rains at Edmonton and Estevan, Sask., were light, amounting to only .16 inches at the Alberta capital and .10 inches at Estevan. A few other sections reported a light sprinkle. A forest fire which broke out in Jasper National Park in the Rockies was reported under control after it had been diverted to Hibernian Lake.

Peter McEwen, chief forester for this district, said that only three

PILGRIMS VISIT CITY OF CAMBRAI

Brig.-Gen. Ross Recalls War Scenes—Vastly Different Town Today

By Capt. W. W. Murray, M.C. (Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

CAMBRAI, France, July 22. — The Canadian Legion's official party, here in advance of 6,000 pilgrims who will visit Vimy for dedication of Canada's memorial to her war dead, came to Cambrai to-day to a civic welcome and an exchange of memories.

War days were recalled by Brig.-Gen. Alex Ross, Canadian Legion president, at a luncheon given by the Mayor and citizens.

General Ross said he had first seen Cambrai on Oct. 1, 1918, "from the ridge by Tilloy, where I watched the battle being waged for its possession." A week later the time came, and his own—the 6th Canadian Infantry Brigade—had been launched in attack from the north, and surprising the enemy, entered the city while other troops converged from the south.

"It was a sad sight. Fires blazed fiercely here and there," said General Ross. "Your beautiful buildings were shattered and ruined. War has dealt hardly with you."

He contrasted the entry of the Canadians into Cambrai then with their return here to-day. It would be impossible for all of the 6,000 pilgrims to visit Cambrai, consequently the advance guard of the official party conveyed their greetings and expressed "joy and pleasure at the wonderful recovery of the city."

"This is for us a sacred pilgrimage because we came primarily to visit the graves of those we left behind," he said. "Old comrades have not forgotten the friends of other years and would look once more at the resting place of those who lie in the soil of France."

All Roller Skaters Classed as Vehicles

AMHERST, Mass., July 22.—(CP).— Parking and traffic regulations announced by the Board of Selectmen yesterday classify a person who walks in Amherst as a pedestrian, but the same individual on roller skates becomes a vehicle.

The regulations, the result of months of study by the Selectmen, are designed to overcome careless and indiscriminate parking by citizens. Roller-skaters are covered by the article concerning indiscriminate parking.

The regulations go into effect Wednesday.

TWO PRIESTS ELECT BE TRIED BY JURY

Injured Youth Tells Of Being Struck By Tweed And Clinton Churchmen

TORONTO, July 22 (CP)—Father Francis Whalen, of Tweed, and Father William Kinlin, of Clinton, appeared for the third time in police court to-day to answer charges of criminal negligence and violation of the Liquor Control Act arising out of a motor accident last April 9, and elected trial by jury. They were released on bail of $500 each to appear in the next court of competent jurisdiction.

The accident involving the priests occurred on the Bloor street viaduct when Robert Van Hunt, riding a motorcycle, was injured.

Van Hunt testified he heard a crash and then saw a car backing toward the north side of the viaduct. He was struck by this auto, he said, suffering a broken ankle, broken knee and shoulder.

C. A. Tyler testified he was driving west and in his mirror saw another car coming that was zigzagging. It struck a street car and then backed.

Tyler testified he gave first aid to Father Kinlin. He said he saw a bottle "with yellow liquid in it, like whisky, at the bottom of the car."

Questioned by defence counsel, Tyler said it would be fair to say that Father Kinlin's dazed condition was the result of the accident.

Norman Riley testified he saw the auto strike the street car. He ran over and saw the car going backward.

"Had anybody been drinking?" Riley was asked.

"They smelled of liquor, that's all I can say," he answered.

PLENTY OF MILK

TORONTO, July 22 (C.P.). — No milk famine for Ontario was in prospect, but prices might rise in the Niagara Peninsula, E. H. Clarke, of the Ontario Milk Producers' Association, said to-day.

"We have 3,500 farmers now supplying milk for Toronto, and we believe we will have an adequate supply," Mr. Clarke declared. "But if we have to draft new farmers into the number that supply Toronto, it may cost more."

WINDSOR FINANCE BODY PASSES 5.4 MILL RELIEF LEVY

Lift Matter Out Of Council's Hands In Effort To Meet $400,000 Over-Expenditure

MAYOR OPPOSES IT

WINDSOR, Ont. July 22.—(CP). —After voting to lift the matter completely out of the hands of the city council, the Windsor Finance Commission to-day passed a by-law imposing an additional tax levy of 5.4 mills to meet an anticipated $400,000 over-expenditure for relief this year.

Mayor George Bennett, one of the four members of the commission, appointed by the Ontario Government to supervise this city's fiscal affairs, voted against the by-law, as the other members charged that the council has been indulging in delay which might result disastrously for people on relief.

The city's relief funds would have been depleted by Thursday night, the commissioners stated, and if immediate action were not taken persons depending on relief would have to go hungry from Friday on. Council showed no intention of dealing with the matter in the near future.

At yesterday's meeting of council it was decided to ask the city solicitor to take steps to determine the validity of the order from the Finance Commission instructing council to impose the special tax.

The extra levy will be due Sept. 1, between the third and fourth instalments of the regular tax levy, due Aug. 1 and Oct. 1.

Ford Envies Opportunities Facing Coming Generations

Foresees Improvement In Living Standards Coming So Fast Nothing Can Stop Them

WOULD BE YOUNG AGAIN

DETROIT, Mich., July 22.—(CP). —Henry Ford, whose influence through the automotive industry has done much to change the habits and things of the civilized world, enters his 74th year July 30, wishing he was young again, envying the generations to come for the opportunities they will have.

In Mr. Ford's vision of a mechanistic, scientific to-morrow there are so many opportunities, he said in an interview just before going on a brief vacation, that "I envy the young people who will have a chance to grab them."

Active, almost sprightly in manner, still retaining the youthful point of view which is said to be characteristic of his great vision, Mr. Ford said he foresees improvements of living standards which "are coming so fast that nothing can stop them."

Always More Ideas.

"There'll be no turning back," he continued. "There will be growth and natural growth can't be turned back and stopped. Behind growth you'll find ideas and good ideas can't be killed. You'll always find men who have ideas and will sacrifice everything for their ideas. Such men can't be hired by bosses, nor stopped by capitalists. They're free because they live only for their ideas. And they are responsible for the growth that can't be stopped."

Mr. Ford expects a marked improvement in transportation through

Priest's Car Injures Cornwall Fireman

CORNWALL, Ont., July 22 (CP) —Father D. A. McPhee, assistant priest at St. Columban's parish here, crashed his car into the rear of the Cornwall Fire Department pumper early this morning, injuring Fireman John Firn. The fireman was taken to hospital with two broken ribs and other injuries and the priest was cut about the face and head.

The pumper was stopped on the edge of the road about two miles west of the city. Flares were being set on the highway when the car suddenly crashed into the rear of the truck, hitting Firn.

City's Fate Uncertain Tide of War See-saws As Rebels Lose Toledo

Insurgent Planes Sink Three Warships Bombarding Cadiz

Monarchist Forces Steadily Approach Madrid—Casualties Mount

By Robert Parker
(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

HENDAYE, France, July 22 (A.P.) —Loyal Spaniards stormed the Bay of Biscay resort of San Sebastian with an army of 2,000 miners and with a mountain battery to-day in a desperate attempt to rout a rebel occupying force.

Control of the city was reported uncertain.

A fusillade of shots was heard near the frontier about noon. The French side, however, remained calm. The frontier was closed, but 32 French students were permitted to pass into their homeland under the escort of Spanish Popular Front delegates.

The civil governor, who fled when the rebels seized the provincial capital, returned this morning with the army of miners which he had enrolled overnight.

Other government forces, which withdrew yesterday to Fort Guadalupe overlooking San Sebastian, opened artillery fire on the city.

Key Southern City Retaken

MADRID, July 22 (CP-Havas) — Toledo, key Spanish city about 40 miles south of Madrid, was recovered to-day from rebel troops, the government announced in a radio communique.

The Alcazar fortress, where cadets revolted and fought a bitter battle with loyalists, held out to the last, but was finally taken by civil and assault guards after the rest of Toledo had submitted to the government, it said.

Airplanes played a large part in capturing the city. Great numbers of rebel officers and soldiers were captured.

Meanwhile the Seville wireless station, in the hands of the rebels, reported that rebel airplanes bombed and sank three loyalist warships which had bombed Cadiz. Cadiz is south of Seville.

It was also announced that Guadalajara, 34 miles northeast of Madrid, had been brought under the control of the government after loyal troops surrounded it. Many rebels were reported captured.

Food Low in Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR, July 22 (AP).—This British colony was threatened with a food shortage to-day, for all supplies from Spain were cut off by the rebellion.

The belief grew loyal Spanish warships intended to shell rebel strongholds along the coast to-night. Warships took up positions off La Linea and Algeciras.

Frightened refugees poured into Gibraltar to receive the protection of the British flag.

In Spain the food situation was reported to be serious, town dwellers suffering because markets were unable to obtain produce from the country districts. Many homes were without water, and the occupants were afraid to leave to visit the public fountains.

French Reds Protest

PARIS, July 22 (AP). — French Communists to-day charged Jose Marie Gil Robles, Jose Antonio Primo De Rivera and Juan March, prominent Spanish Rightist leaders, were directing the revolt from the French border city of Biarritz, and demanded their expulsion from French territory.

Col. Luis de Villanueva, in charge of the Campiona insurgent column which marched to the north border, said another rebel column was within 40 miles of Madrid and that it was travelling slowly, picking up reinforcements as it moved.

"The advance on Madrid is slow because the popular Front forces from Madrid's red belt are blowing up the bridges to the north as far as 60 miles from the capital."

"We expect to take Madrid in two or two days or possibly longer," said Colonel de Villanueva. "We are in no hurry, because we want to do the job right."

Drowning Of Bobby Holland Confirmed By Recovery From River

BOY DIED ALONE

Many Citizens Assist In Search For Son Of Chas. W. Holland

Fears that Bobby Holland, 7, youngest of a family of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Holland of Hunter Street had been drowned, were confirmed this (Wednesday) morning with recovery of the body from the Otonabee River in the vicinity of the Quaker Oats power house sluiceway.

As firemen and other volunteer workers were attempting to pump out the water from the stagnant pond, into which it was suspected the child had fallen when his shoes were recovered near the water's edge, Bobby Lang, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lang, 372 Armour Road called tha ttention of Fire Chief George Gimblett to an object floating on the surface of the river between the log boom and the power house sluiceway.

Swimmer Recovers Body.

Jack Bennett, 87 London street who was standing among the group of spectators clad in bathing attire plunged into the river and with a few powerful strokes swam out to the spot indicated. He recovered the body of the child at 10.35 a.m., just 41-hours after he was discovered to be missing when his elder brother and sister and other little companions returned home without him.

The tiny, lifeless form, attired in short trousers and sweater and with bare legs and feet, was transferred by the swimmer to a punt which was rowed out by Firemen Francis Shearer, Bob Mackenzie and Bob Armour. Brought ashore the body was examined by Assistant Coroner Dr. H. N. Young before being removed to Belleghem's Funeral home to await burial. The coroner recorded a verdict that death was from

Radio in Farm Buggy Treat For Old Dobbin

ST. THOMAS, July 22. — A local farmer who refused to divulge his name, arrived in town yesterday with his horse and buggy brought thoroughly up-to-date with a radio installed under the seat. The farmer grounded the radio by trailing a wire behind the buggy and used the steel in the buggy for an aerial. "What's more, the horse seems to enjoy it," he said.

TORONTO POLICE RAID DOPE AGENCY ARRESTING THREE

LONG UNDER WATCH

TORONTO, July 22—Mysterious signals by the waving of a newspaper, and the tapping of fingers on the glass of a front room window of a Seaton street house yesterday, revealed a narcotic drug agency.

Plainclothesmen Richard Mulholland and James Scott raided the house and arrested three men, seizing a quantity of opium. James Donovan, of the Seaton street address, alleged supply man for drug addicts, and James Mathews, Berkeley street, and Henry Quackenbush of Moss Park Place were all arrested on charges of illegal possession of narcotic drugs.

For an hour the police officers searched inside of an old-fashioned brick fireplace in the room. Here they found eight "decks" (small papers containing opium). On the floor of the room, the officers also found six more such packages, along with three hypodermic needles, a spoon and a cigaret lighter.

12 Clients Spotted

Acting Police Inspector William Evans has had the accused men under surveillance for some time. Information reached the police that no less than twelve men had gained entrance to the room Monday night, and purchased opium.

Mathews and Quackenbush were seen to hold a newspaper in their hand and tap on the window yesterday, then enter the room. The police officers broke in the door.

Plainclothesman Scott seized Donovan's arm when he attempted to hurl opium out of the front window to the street.

The police allege that the three men were "cooking" opium on a spoon with the heat from a cigaret lighter when the raid was made. It was being sold, the police said, as cheap as twenty-five cents a "shot."

A week's remand will be sought by the police in order to permit them to trace the movements of Donovan, who said he came here from British Columbia.

KING EDWARD MAY VISIT E. P. RANCH

Likely To Follow Coronation Next Year Court Circles Rumor

By Roger C. Greene
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, July 22.—(AP).—Rumors in court circles have it that the King may visit Canada and possibly the United States after the coronation next year.

If this plan is carried out, it is said, His Majesty would go to Ottawa and then to his favorite E. P. ranch in Alberta, returning via New York.

Travelling as the Duke of Lancaster, the story goes, His Majesty would stop with friends on Long Island where he visited as the Prince of Wales, and would make a courtesy call on the President.

Official sources in London and Ottawa said they had no knowledge of reported plans for a visit to Canada and United States by His Majesty.

Two Comets Now Visible At Night To Naked Eye

SUNDOWN, ONE AT 10 P.M.

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor)

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The approach of two comets, now faintly visible to the naked eye, raises questions of the composition, paths and effects of comets. This is the first of four articles describing these heavenly bodies and their nature.)

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor.

BOSTON, July 22.—(AP).—Two comets now are visible at night to the naked eye, offering one of the rarest spectacles in astronomy.

The comets are the first visible without the use of telescopes since Halley's comet appeared 26 years ago. It is not the first recorded appearance of two comets simultaneously, for in 1852 twin comets were observed less than 2,000,000 miles apart.

Few persons other than astronomers have seen the comets which may be observed to-night. They have come into the range of the naked eye only in the last few days.

One at 10 P.M.

The brightest of the pair, discovered by Leslie Peltier, amateur astronomer of Delphos, Ohio, can be seen easily in the northeast, beginning about 10 p.m. E.D.T.

The other comet is visible in the west immediately after sundown. Discovered by a Japanese amateur astronomer, Sgura Kaho, only four

LOVING MOTORIST FINED AT TRENTON

Had His Arm Round Girl Traffic Officer Tells Court

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TRENTON, July 22. — Pleading guilty to operating a motor vehicle without a permit, William Steen of Wellington was fined $13.13. He was also charged with driving with three in the front seat in such a way as to interfere with the proper management and control of the car. Traffic Officer Delaney stated the accused was driving with his arm around a young lady and from the time he told him to stop till the car did stop, changes were made so that only two were in the front seat with another driver, who held a license, operating the car.

"Unless we can set some limit to this arm business, we'd have them sitting on the men's knees," the crown stated.

John Steele, Sydney township farmer, was charged with ill-treating a horse. Dr. T. Taylor, S.P.C.A. inspector, testified that the horse was being worked on a mowing machine with deep raw sores on each shoulder. Counsel for the defence, N. Langton, based his plea on the fact that farmers are having a struggle now and Steele had to use the horse to cut the hay which was spoiling. The crown stated it seemed to be a case where the farmer placed the necessity of getting the hay cut above the horse's suffering. Steele received a month's suspended sentence.

Reckless Driving

Convicted on a charge of reckless driving, Francis D. Joiner of the R.C.A.F., Trenton, was fined $18.75 with his operator's permit, which he had obtained on the day of the accident, cancelled for one month. Constable Taylor testified the accused in making a left-hand turn struck a parked car and drove it for 25 feet, forming a semi-circle along the road. He further stated there were evidences of tire burns for 136 feet, indicating speed. Damage to the parked car, a 1936 Oldsmobile, was estimated at $175.

Lorne Wilder, Rednersville, pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving, as a result of colliding with a tree, and was fined $12.75 with his operator's permit suspended for three days. Traffic Officer Delaney stated Wilder was proceeding east in his car when a car in front of him stopped due to another automobile coming out a driveway but the accident occurred 50 feet behind the stopped car.

BONARLAW

Miss Grace Bonter, of Marmora, was the guest of Miss Eva Brown for several days last week.

In the recent examinations conducted by the Toronto Conservatory of Music all four pupils of Miss Laurene Scott, A.T.C.M., were successful, as follows: Miss Florence Blaney, grade 2, theory, first-class honors; Miss Anna Kleinsteuber, grade 2, theory, first-class honors; Miss Alice Nicholson, grade 5, counterpoint, honors; Miss Mary Kleinsteuber, grade 5, piano, pass.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Brady entrained at Bonarlaw on Monday of this week on their honeymoon trip to Western Ontario. They were accompanied to the depot by numbers of cars of young people from Marmora, who made things lively with confetti, old shoes, etc.

COMMUNITY HEALTH

A Column Conducted by the Department of Public Health, Peterborough, in the Interests of Peterborough Citizens.

RESUSCITATION FROM DROWNING

The Prone Pressure method of applying artificial respiration is now accepted as the best means of saving life from drowning, gas poisoning and electric shock.

The pulmotor is obsolete and is mentioned only to be condemned. Its use endangers life instead of saving it. The Inhalator at present used by the Peterborough Fire Department may be used under the orders of a doctor as an aid to artificial respiration but it must be distinctly understood that the artificial respiration is the most important factor. Astificial respiration should be started as soon as possible and continued without interruption.

PROCEED AS FOLLOWS:

To force water out of lungs and air passages, lift victim's waist higher than his head for a moment or so. Do not wait to loosen clothing. If mouth is shut tight, do not waste time trying to open it; if mouth is open, remove false teeth, gum, tobacco, or any other foreign body which may block throat, etc. Begin resuscitation immediately. Every moment of delay is serious.

1. Lay the patient on his belly, one arm extended directly overhead, the other arm bent at elbow, with the face turned outward and resting on hand or forearm, so that the nose and mouth are free for breathing.

2. Kneel, straddling the patient's thighs, with your knees placed just back of the hip bones. Place the palms of the hand on the small of the back with fingers resting on the ribs, the little finger just touching the lowest rib, with the thumb and fingers in a natural position and the tips of the fingers just out of sight.

3. With the arms held straight, swing forward slowly so that the weight of your body is gradually brought to bear upon the patient.

The shoulder should be directly over the heel of the hand at the end of the forward swing. Do not bend your elbow. This operation should take about two seconds.

4. Now immediately swing backward so as to completely remove the pressure.

5. After two seconds, swing forward again. Thus repeat deliberately twelve to fifteen times a minute the double movement of compression and release, a complete respiration in four or five seconds.

6. Continue artificial respiration without interruption until natural breathing is restored, if necessary four hours or longer, or until a physician declares the patient is dead.

7. As soon as this artificial respiration has been started and while it is being continued, an assistant should loosen any tight clothing about the patient's neck, chest or waist. Keep the patient warm. Do not give any liquids whatever until the patient is fully conscious.

8. To avoid strain on the heart when the patient revives, he should be kept lying down and not allowed to stand or sit up. If the doctor has not arrived by the time the patient has revived, he should be given some stimulant, such as one teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in a small glass of water or a hot drink of coffee or tea, etc. The patient should be kept warm. He should not be moved until he is breathing normally of his own volition and then moved only in a lying position. Should it be necessary, due to extreme weather conditions, etc., to move the patient before he is breathing normally, resuscitation should be carried on during the time that he is being moved.

9. A brief return to natural respiration is not certain indication for stopping the resuscitation. Not infrequently the patient, after a temporary recovering of respiration, stops breathing again. The patient must be watched, and if natural breathing stops, artificial respiration should be resumed at once.

10. In carrying out resuscitation, it may be necessary to change the operator. This change must be made without stopping and without confusion to avoid losing the rhythm of respiration.

If alone with the victim, do not neglect immediate and continued resuscitation in order to call a doctor. Start at once—the first few minutes are valuable. If other persons are present, send one of them for a doctor without a moment's delay.

The ordinary and general tests for death should not be accepted and any doctor should make several very careful and final examinations and be sure specific evidence is present before pronouncing the patient dead.

Port Hope Hydro Cut To Save Town $9,500

PORT HOPE, July 22.—A general reduction in rates was announced here yesterday by the Port Hope Hydro Commission, which will mean a saving to consumers of $9,500. One of the principal items in the reduced schedule is the wiping out of the service charge to residential consumers, which was formerly set at 33 cents and 66 cents per month for consumption under and over 2,000 watts installed capacity.

The first rate for residence remains the same, but the second rate for remaining consumption is dropped from 1½ cents per k.h. to 1 1-5 cents. In the commercial rate class the charge of the first 100 k.h. is cut from 3½ to 3 cents.

BARN IS RAZED.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., July 22 (C.P.). — Creating a blaze that could be seen for miles around, a large barn filled with 22 tons of hay, live stock and other articles, was destroyed today on the farm of William Mills, three miles west of this town in Essex County. Loss was estimated at between $12,000 and $14,000.

Four horses and two cows were lost. Spontaneous combustion is believed the cause of the fire.

NET COVERS NORTH FOR FUR ROBBERS

Trio Surprise Sleeping H. B. Post Traders, Steal $32,000 In Pelts

FORT NELSON, B.C., July 22.—(CP).—A police dragnet was strung over the northwest yesterday in an effort to track down three men who robbed the Hudson's Bay Company post of $32,000 worth of furs on the night of July 12.

In addition to the provincial police plane scouring the northern sector of the province from the air the provincial authorities have arranged for co-operatiton by police departments of Alberta, the Yukon, Alaska and the Northwest Territories.

Rivers and Lakes were watched by Ginger Coote, veteran northland airman, on the chance that the robbers, who made their getaway in canoes, were seeking escape by way of the network of waterways in the northwest corner of the province.

First details of the robbery were told yesterday by provincial police officers here. Three men—Bookkeeper Robert G. Gillard and Trappers Nels Natland and O. G. Martin—were asleep in the trading post when the robbers entered.

One man, armed with an automotic, told the three to get up and dress. The keys to the storerooms were taken from Gillard and he and his two companions were tied up and put in the cellar. One man was left to guard them.

The bales were taken from the warehouse, loaded in canoes and paddled away by the thieves who threw the stolen keys on the bank of the Muskwa River.

How long the three men were held captive in the post or how they untied their bonds was not known.

FIRE AT BETHANY, CUT PHONE WIRES ORDERED PROBED

Officials Suspect Line To Peterborough Severed By Arsonist Or Pyromaniac

THREATENED VILLAGE

LINDSAY, July 22.—Provincial Police have been ordered to investigate Friday morning's destructive fire at Bethany, preliminary to the Fire Marshal's investigation, on a report that telephone communication to Peterboro' was cut by a suspected arsonist or pyromaniac instead of the line being snapped by flames, as was first believed.

Harold Payne, night operator at Bethany, had just put through a call to Fire Chief Gimblett in Peterborough when the line went dead. It was first assumed that flames had snapped the line, but on a check-up later in the day when Bethany bucket brigade had prevented the flames spreading with serious threat to the entire village grounds were found for the suspicion that the Peterborough line was cut.

The call to Peterboro' was not for assistance, but a request that the Peterboro brigade be ready to render aid if the situation got further out of hand.

PREFERS A PIG

WETASKWIN, Alta., July 22 (CP). —A cow that left her calf to obtain its own food, giving her milk to a pig, has created a barnyard scandal on Harold Pearson's farm here. The pig feeds daily while the calf gazes sadly on the scene. Nothing, apparently, can be done about it.

FINDS ALL-BRAN BETTER THAN PILLS, SALTS, AND OILS

This Natural Food Relieved His Constipation*

We quote from his letter: "... So I decided to make a fair trial (of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN), with the result that I felt much improved. I have quit all laxatives since 1929.

"For 34 years, I had to take pills, salts, oils, teas, or other fluids, which did more harm than good. ALL-BRAN now is our breakfast cereal for the whole family."—Mr. Martin Wroblewski (address upon request).

Meals low in "bulk" often lead to constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides generous "bulk" which absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, and gently exercises and cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. How much better to use this natural food in place of patent medicines.

Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooking. ALL-BRAN is much more effective than part-bran products. It is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

All facts and figures quoted in this ad are certified by G. W. Shaw, engineer observer, and supervising officers of the CANADIAN AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION. As a result of the test, official C. A. A. Certificate of Merit No. 1-22-6-36 has been awarded.

You are Invited to See this CHEVROLET MAPLE LEAF TRUCK

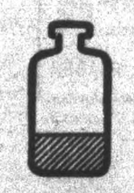
The Run . . . From Windsor, Ont., to Moncton, N.B.—1246 gruelling miles in all, over all kinds of Canadian roads, in typically hot Canadian summer weather.

The Cost . . . Only $27.68 TOTAL—for all gasoline and oil! No repairs—no adjustments—no service of any kind. Only one pint of oil was consumed over the entire trip . . . just a little over $27 worth of gasoline for 1246 miles . . . 12 miles to the gallon!

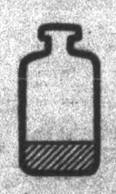
The Result . . . A new and literally astounding Canadian record for economy in long distance, heavy hauling! New, striking proof that you don't have to pay a big price—or sacrifice rock-bottom operating cost—for dependability in a Heavy Duty Truck!

What It Means to You . . . Truck owners know that every dollar whittled off hauling costs is a dollar added to business profits. And what this record-breaking test run proves is simply that you can haul more—at lower cost—with a Chevrolet-Maple Leaf Truck that's priced right down with the lowest! The actual cost and operation record for the entire run is now in our hands . . . and the test-truck itself is going on display in our showrooms. Call in and look them both over. CT-46A



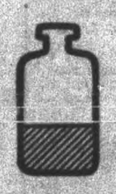
Only 1 gallon of Gas every 12 miles

Think of hauling 7 tons—14,000 pounds—PAY-LOAD at a gasoline cost of only ½ of a cent per ton mile! That gives you an idea of the proved economy of the Chevrolet valve-in-head engine.



Only 1 pint of Oil in 1246 miles

Here's ample proof that Chevrolet and Maple Leaf trucks are no oil burners. And remember, the Chevrolet six-cylinder, valve-in-head engine accomplished this feat under typical Canadian highway and weather conditions!



Only 1½ pts. of Water for entire trip

Efficient cooling is and always has been a basic reason for the efficiency of the Chevrolet truck engine. It results in smooth running always. It eliminates lost time through forced lay-off.

Fifty-five members of the Women's Friendly Bible Class of St. John's Anglican Church and other friends were present.

Many useful and beautiful gifts were tendered the bride-to-be. They were drawn from a well cleverly erected in the gardens by Mr. Massey-Cooke to represent the "Well of Happiness." Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. G. F. Collis. She was assisted by Mrs. W. Davis, Mrs. H. Bassett, Mrs. W. S. Hake, Miss A. Jenkinson, Miss L. Bacon, and Mrs. J. Bacon.

The gathering was made the occasion of a presentation by the Women's Friendly Bible Class to Rev. Walter J. Gilling, assistant to the rector at St. John's Church, in view of his departure from the city in the near future. Mrs. R. Howell, president, tendered a fine electric clock. On behalf of the class, Rev. W. P. Robertson, the rector, expressed regret at the impending loss of Mr Gilling, declaring he had carried on a fine work here and had gained many loyal friends. Rev. Mr. Gilling said it will be with deep regret that he parts from his friends in the class, the church as a whole, and community on his departure.

Dainty refreshments were served as the evening was brought to a close.

Club Girls Enjoy Visit To Camp.

Last night was a highlight for the "Y" Outdoor Club. Over 30 girls trucked to McCracken's, then were taken by boats to the 'Y' Camp, "Inglestane." All gathered at the swimming beach for a plunge. Then on to the coffee and hot-dogs, sizzling over the camp fire, to be devoured by the hungry crowd. Over sixty girls circled the camp fire for the eats and fun, and last but not least came the fortune telling. What a glorious night, and what a picture those eager youthful faces reflected in the glow of the huge bonfire.

Homeward bound, the girls gave first aid to a car that was stuck in a sand-pile outside the city, pushing the vehicle back to safety.

The 'Y' is grateful to Mr. Ross for transportation. Miss C. Littlefield announced that the next camp fire supper will be held Tuesday. All business girls must notify the office not later than Monday evening.

Six enthusiastic girls of the Outdoor Club will spend the week-end at Camp.

OBITUARY

MRS. WILLIAM WEDLOCK.

On Tuesday afternoon, the death of Mrs. William Wedlock occurred at her home, 99 Aylmer street, after a brief illness. The deceased was born in Otonabee township 71 years ago, a daughter of the late William Harris and Amelia Wilson and lived in Keene until 20 years ago, when she moved together with her husband and family to this city.

She leaves to mourn the loss, her husband, four sons, William and Irwin of Peterborough, Tom of Madoc and John of Baldwinville, N. Y. state, six daughters, Mrs. Wesley Montgomery, Mrs. William Boyle of Hastings, Mrs. Joseph Gibson of Toronto, Mrs. William Fletcher of Madoc and Mrs. George McIntyre, Mrs. William Jefferies of this city. Four sisters, Mrs. J. Hope of Lakefield, Mrs. H. Leeson of Smith, Mrs. Carter of Peterboro, Mrs. William Ashburn of Keene, three brothers, Alfred Harris of Williers, William of Brooklyn and Wesley of Manitoba.

The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon from her late family residence at 2 p.m with interment in Keene cemetery. Rev. Mr. McCormick of Knox United church will officiate.

ANNA GUFTA HENRY.

The death occurred here on Tuesday, July 21, of Anna Gufta Henry, widow of George Henry. Deceased was 91 years old and had resided in Peterborough the past 30 years, coming from Lindsay. She had been in poor health about a year and a half. Daughter of the late Mr and Mrs. James Stevens, Mrs. Henry was born in Plymouth, England. Her husband predeceased her about 10 years ago. She was a member of Knox United Church and had many staunch friends throughout the city. Surviving her are two sons and two daughters: Anson, Clinton, Mrs. Arthur Ringer, and Mrs. W. Aetheral, all of Peterborough.

The funeral will take place on Thursday, July 23, at 2 p.m., from the residence of her daughter, Mrs A. Ringer, 261 Sherbrooke Street to Little Lake Cemetery, the Rev. S. G McCormack officiating.

Just Between Us Women

A Daily Chat With Examiner Neighbors Conducted by Roberta.

IS life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it Almighty God! I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty, or give me death!

—Patrick Henry.

Dear Friends:

So many times we hear people say that they want freedom. Freedom to live as they like, without talk of any kind as to how they live it. Freedom from worry, from restrictions, from labor, and from a multitude of other things.

I will grant you that Canada, the U.S.A. and Great Britain, have a much greater freedom of living than any other race on earth. But are any of us at liberty to do as we like? Can you don your clothes and go out leaving your duties behind all undone, and feel perfect freedom?

Can you take the liberty of opening your mouth and saying whatever you think? Can you please yourself, even although you know that others will suffer if you do? No, indeed, we are all bound by restrictions of some kind.

How many times must a man working in a stuffy office, or in a noisy factory, long to go away from it all, and spend long hours beside a stream, or behind the wheel of a car feeling the rush of wind in his face, and a sense of liberty in his soul. But,—there are those at home who are dependant on him, there is the job he might lose, there are bills to be paid, so he curbs this reaching out for liberty, and sticks to the duty before him.

There is the woman who would give anything to drop everything she is doing for her family, and have the liberty to do the things she has longed so often to do, but duty has curled its tendrile around her, and so she stays where she is, hoping that SOME day she may have this same liberty. But usually if and when that time does come, she finds that she misses the chains that bound her.

There are the young men and girls, who think that marriage will give them that freedom they crave, and find that life has only imposed another set of duties on them, and that the neglecting of them will only cause them pain and sorrow.

Oh yes, there are those who threw all their duties aside and went off looking for this liberty and freedom, but how free are they. What they wouldn't do willingly, they must do now, or else the long arm of the law will reach out for them. At least they are only drifters, slowly sinking in the mire of duties left undone, helpless, careless, homeless, and messy in every way.

None of us are ever really free from the day we are born. And it is well for us and those around us that it is so, else what a tangle the world would be in. What a lot of unfinished work there would be. We could not eat, because the farmer was too busy seeking liberty to do any planting.

Just as a strike ties up everything, so would things be tied up if we all sought liberty and perfect freedom to live as we liked. As it is, the selfish ones who will not do their duties can and do cause a great deal of trouble to those around them.

None of us can escape our duties, because when we simply refuse to do the ones that we should do, there are another set which will rise up in their place. Thank God for our duties. They keep us sane and balanced, and we can rejoice when we see the work of our hands and realize that it is well done.

And now, it is time I attended to mine, as they are crying aloud to be done. The beds have a droopy look, the dishes have dirty faces, the floors look as if they have been playing in the dust and scattered it up over the furniture. The papers will not fold themselves neatly away, nor will the clothes hang themselves in the closet. The dinner will neither order itself, nor cook itself, the lazy things.

So I must be off and get my duties about their business. Freedom? Liberty? Oh I used mine up in telling you this. Use some of yours to write to.

Your Friend.
ROBERTA.

LIBERALS PRINTING SCHOOL TAX STORY

Hope To Correct Impression Concessions Hit Pockets Of Public School Supporters

TORONTO, July 22—To counteract criticism from the Opposition, the Hepburn Government is having a booklet prepared to give what is asserted by a true and accurate picture of the separate school legislation passed at the last session.

A well-known authority on educational matters is now engaged in writing the text of the booklet, which will be given wide distribution throughout the province. One of the chief objectives of the literature will be to rid the minds of the electorate of the feeling that the concessions to separate schools mean taking money out of the pockets of public school supporters.

Realizing that the Conservatives plan to make the separate school issue one of their chief weapons in the assault on the Government, Premier Hepburn and his colleagues now plan to strike back through the medium of the booklet.

GRAND OLD WOMAN BEARS HEAT WAVE

Mrs. Hillyard, Nearing 106-Year Mark, Lives Quietly In Old Home

OAKVILLE, Ont., July 22—(CP)—When men and women of advanced life died right and left in the prolonged heat spell, Mrs. Marinda Hillyard, who lives in a century-old cottage in this shady town, managed to survive even if she is 105 years old. She celebrates her 106th birthday Nov. 26.

Probably because of her serenity and quiet acceptance of life as it came, her devoted daughter thinks, Mrs. Hillyard, whose life has been studied by United States research workers, lay quietly in bed and took everything as it came like the good old stoic she is.

It is of people like her that the Boston Transcript writes: "Mrs. Kate Huyler of Bergenfield, N. J., is distinguished among centenarians. When she observed the 100th anniversary of her birth, July 5, she was asked the usual question. To what did she attribute her length of years? Instead of a disquisition on the causes of longevity she said that she had always lived "normally," and let it go at that.

"The majority of centenarians are likely to become garrulous when asked the same question. Perhaps somebody will yet compile their answers. The result would doubtless be that what was one man's meat would appear as another man's poison.

"The grand old lady of Bergenfield evidently does not spend time in wondering how it came to pass she has lived so long. She prefers to read the newspapers and maintain her interest in the affairs of the day. Perhaps that mental attitude has more to do with her longevity than the fact she admits getting plenty of sleep, which is as near as she can be induced to approach the customary outgivings of the centenarians."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

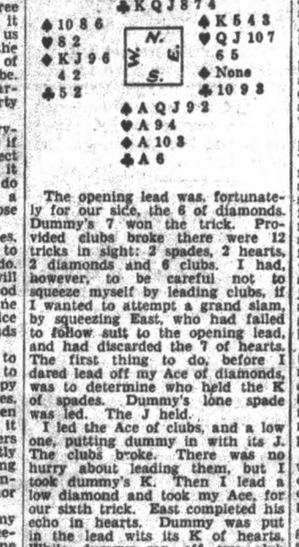
By E. V. Shepard

"Teacher to Teachers"

A BAD DEFENSIVE LEAD

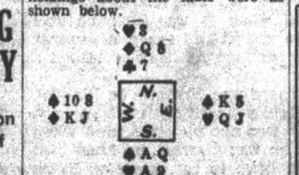
Of course every ambitious player wishes to win the last possible trick for his side, whether he happens at the moment to be declarer or a defender. Also he wants to win his tricks with minimum risk. Today's hand offers a pretty illustration of what may be accomplished in this way, with minimum risk. West's bad opening lead gave an opportunity that I could not afford to overlook. Having no re-entry to his hand West should have led the suit that his partner had bid. Only double-dummy accuracy then could have enabled me to even fulfill my contract.

Bidding went: South, 2-No Trumps; North, 3-Clubs; East, not vulnerable, 3-Hearts; South, 3-Spades; North, 4-Clubs; South, 4-No Trumps; North, 6-No Trumps, which East doubled.



The opening lead was, fortunately for our side, the 6 of diamonds. Dummy's 7 won the trick. Provided clubs broke there were 12 tricks in sight: 2 spades, 2 hearts, 2 diamonds and 6 clubs. I had, however, to be careful not to squeeze myself by leading clubs, if I wanted to attempt a grand slam, by squeezing East, who had failed to follow suit to the opening lead, and had discarded the 7 of hearts. The first thing to do, before I dared lead off my Ace of diamonds, was to determine who held the K of spades. Dummy's lone spade was led. The J held.

I led the Ace of clubs, and a low one, putting dummy in with its J. The clubs broke. There was no hurry about leading them, but I took dummy's K. Then I lead a low diamond and took my Ace, for our sixth trick. East completed his echo in hearts. Dummy was put in the lead wits its K of hearts. While dummy ran off two club tricks East had to let go a spade and the 10 of hearts. I discarded a low spade and my last diamond. At the end of the ninth trick the holdings about the table were as shown below.



Dummy's last club was led. All I had to do was to discard from the suit from which East did not discard. He knew that I held the A-Q of spades, but he did not know which player held the 9 of hearts. He had to guard his spades. He let go the J of hearts, so I let go my Q of spades, then I led dummy's last heart, giving me two heart tricks and the Ace of spades, for a grand slam, or one trick over the 6-No Trumps doubled.

Coming To Peterboro

Dr. Maude Royden, C.H., famed world preacher and peace crusader, who comes to St. Paul's Church on Friday evening, July 31st.

DR. MAUDE ROYDEN IS COMING TO CITY

Brilliant Preacher Is Noted For Intense Sincerity, Complete Unworldliness

Although Dr. Maude Royden, who comes to Peterborough July 31 under the auspices of the Ministerial Association, has been in the forefront of many great movements, it is the truth that her main interest in life is religion. She is nothing if not Christian. No woman living in England today is exercising profounder religious influence upon her generation, especially the younger people of both sexes, students at colleges and universities, than Miss Royden.

What is the secret of it all? It is not the magic of the appealing voice. It is not the power of the clear logical mind. It is not the fine courage that dares all things for the truth. It is not her unfailing championship of the weak and the disinherited. It is not the irresistible humor that brightens her addresses. It is not her contempt of empty convention and her love for bold adventure. But it is primarily and chiefly by her intense sincerity, her complete unworldliness, her utter devotion to Christ, her devoutness and her reverence, her humanity and light-heartedness, and above all the gospel of hope—invincible Christian hope—which she preaches to an age of despair and disillusionment.

BELIEVES ZOOLOGY FIELD FOR WOMEN

Youthful Gloria Hollister Leader Expedition To British Guiana

NEW YORK, July 22—(CP)—When Gloria Hollister, the yellow-haired girl, who has been nearer the floor of the ocean than any other living woman, came back not long ago from the zoological expedition she headed to British Guiana, South America she announced that nothing exciting had happened.

That's all in the point of view, however. Miss Hollister, bred to adventure, thinks little of travelling over hundreds of miles of jungle—some of it never before seen by a white man—in a one-motor plane.

The zoologist who, though still in her 20s, is a member of the New York Zoological Society, said: "The rainy season began early this year so we hurried our studies in order to save several thousands of feet of film and photographs from being ruined by rain and dampness. We studied and photographed birds, flowers, animals and Indians. Since we could see only a short distance ahead of us when travelling in the jungle on foot, I found reconnaissance by an airplane invaluable in gaining a general knowledge and picture of the area."

Once, when the party of 20 was travelling by a boat on a lonely river, they discovered, on wakening on shore in the morning, that their boat had been sunk by the swollen torrents and heavy rains in the night. But it was raised and the party continued its journey.

"Zoology is an excellent field for girls, especially the laboratory side," she said.

RECALLS BATTLE FOR HOME RULE

Widow Of Colleague Of Parnell Writes Book On Irish Struggle

BOSTON, July 22 (CP) — Ireland's flair for producing sharp-witted elderly ladies of charm and humor is apparent in Mrs. Margaret Leamy, widow of Edmund Leamy, who was a member of Parliament in the tragic wistful days of Parnell.

"One feels," says an interviewer in the Transcript, after meeting Mrs. Leamy, that Ireland "should place its women in charge of the Government. The English would be easily outwitted and would, furthermore, have a thoroughly enjoyable time in their downfall. For the Mrs. Leamys are witty and can do their fighting with epigrams.

"In everyone's life, perhaps, there is one year, or a certain period of time, that influences all the days that follow, and in Mrs. Leamy's life, that year was the 12 months beginning in Nov. 1890, and ending in Oct. 1891—the last year of the life of Charles Stewart Parnell.'

"So, to-day, the people and places that can never be distant from her are Committee Room Fifteen in the House of Parliament; Kitty O'Shea, whom Parnell loved even to the point of disaster; a railroad train in Ireland in which Mrs. Leamy was mistaken for Kitty; Tim Healy, Parnell's henchman, the memory of whom Mrs. Leamy almost hates, and finally, 'that hypocrite' Gladstone.

"She talked of them the other day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. McWilliams, where she is visiting. Mrs. Leamy is a perky little person, intelligent.

"She loves Ireland and, in spite of Gladstone, and Kitty, and numerous other political items, she likes England. She is a Roman Catholic, yet looks askance at the 'politically-minded clergymen' of Parnell's day. Most of Ireland's outstanding leaders, she says, were Protestants. She has written about all of these things in her book, 'Parnell's Faithful Few,' recently published.

"With Maurice Leahy, Irish poet, acting as a sort of ambassador, she proceeded to talk affectionately of the old days. Her voice became a little husky when she spoke of her husband, Edmund Leamy, great orator and one of Ireland's distinguished patriots.

"Three years ago, she went to the House of Parliament in London for the first time since the Parnell era. The building was closed. The guides let her in when they heard who she was; told her that she was welcome at any time. She went to Committee Room Fifteen in which the Irish struggle for Home Rule once was centred; where Parnell, and Leamy, and all the others worked passionately for a cause that finally met with defeat.

"In latter years, she used to call on T. P. (Tay Pay) O'Connor, famous Irish journalist in London. 'I would go up to his flat' she said. 'We'd sit before his fire, together, and talk about all the old people we once knew. Parnell, Tim Harrington, and that awful day in the 90s when we heard that Parnell was dead.'

lited a number of houses not connected with the sewer. Thirty-two were investigated and in cases where it was found that conveniences could be installed, a letter was sent to the owner. It is my opinion that the Board should take a firm stand on this question. Failure to comply with the order to install conveniences should result in prosecution under the Public Health Act.

Notice to Milk Vendors.

All milk distributors have been requested to notify this department before buying milk from a new producer. An inspection will be made at the earliest convenience to ascertain if the conditions on the producer's farm are sanitary. Failure to reach the minium standard for clean milk production will result in refusal to permit the sale of milk. The use of a satisfactory milk house, herds tested for tuberculosis and Bang's disease, clean whitewashed stables, and proper methods for cleaning and sterilizing equipment are a few of the necessary requirements."

Reportable Diseases.

Vital Statistics in June.

Births	61	47
Deaths	21	23
Marriages	41	30

Of the twenty deaths of residents seven were caused by diseases of the heart, two by cancer, one by tuberculosis, one pneumonia, and four were related to congenital debility, premature birth and other diseases of early infancy. In addition to the twenty that were listed, were five stillbirths, two resident in Peterboro.

Included among the inspections during the month were: 19 bakeries, 15 yards and lanes, 7 dairy stables, 7 milk houses, 7 fruit stores, 3 eating houses, 11 restaurants.

Forty-two samples of milk were collected, 5 samples of chocolate milk, 8 market cream and 5 cream from dairies.

COURT OF CLAIMS WILL MEET LATER

Various Individuals Will Claim Right To Serve The King

LONDON, July 22 (CP Cable). — The Court of Claims in connection with the coronation of the King, scheduled originally to meet to-day, postponed its meeting to a later date owing to indisposition and prior engagements of certain members, it is announced.

At the court various persons will submit their claims to serve His Majesty in different traditional capacities.

The King several weeks ago appointed a committee of 42 persons at a privy council to take care of initial preparations for celebration of the coronation in May, 1937.

Monday night the prime ministers and high commissioners of the Dominions were appointed by the King to serve on a special coronation commission.

Since the coronation of King George in 1911 the Statute of Westminster has endowed the Dominions with a new status and this is recognized as making it essential that the Dominions should have a voice in deciding general arrangements for the ceremony.

Praying for Rain

At a good many points in Canada and United States there have been prayers offered for rain to break the drought. In our district at this writing we have gone 25 days without rain. In certain portions of United States, prior to recent rains, there had been as much as two months' dry weather with intense heat. No wonder people are moved to pray about it.

Trouble is so many people turn to the Lord only when they do not know what else to do. At other times they go their own sweet way; they seem to be satisfied with their own self-sufficiency and are willing to accept everything that comes to them as something which was their just due and with which High Heaven had nothing whatever to do.

But allowing for all that neglect, we see nothing wrong in people praying for rain. It may be when they are crushed down and at the end of their own means they may learn to pray with a good deal of fervor.

Danger On the Water

That terrible accident at Lake Muskoka in which a girl was cut in two by a fast motor boat which hit the skiff in which she was a passenger carries a tragic warning. The surprising thing about it is that there has not been more of this type of accident in view of the marked increase in the number of speedy power craft on the lakes and rivers of Ontario and the manner in which many of them are handled. There are owners of big motor boats who drive their craft with the utmost consideration for other folk who are in small boats in the neighborhood, who remember the danger of passing these boats at high speed and swamping them with their back-wash, and who slow down whenever it is necessary for them to draw near canoes and rowboats. Unfortunately however, there are too many of the other kind who drive at top speed at all times and let occupants of smaller craft look out for themselves, and it is a miracle that these irresponsible boat owners have not caused a greater loss of life.

Be Quiet on Sunday

The Property and License Committee of Hamilton City Council has decided to allow the communists of that city to hold meetings on Central Market property at 9 o'clock on Sunday evenings. Those in favor of the move said they did not believe in "bottling up political theorists," and "communists had as much right to the site as any other organization."

We believe there would be indignation expressed if Liberals or Conservatives started holding meetings on Sunday. We do not believe they would do it, and we do not believe the majority of the people in Hamilton would favor having the communists given the use of city property for meetings on Sunday.

We have gone quite a distance in letting down the gates regarding what shall be done on Sunday and we fail to see where it is producing the sort of results we want in this country. There are six days in the week on which communists can talk about their matters. On Sunday they could well hold their peace.

Where There's Some Pasture

Some of the farmers who have a section of rather low bush or scrub timber land on their property must be realizing the advantage of it this year when pasture on the upper or exposed sections has been burned out. In many of these shaded spots the pasture is still fit for use, although not as lush as in an ordinary season with a normal amount of rain.

There are farms in certain sections of Ontario from which the wood has been so completely removed that the owners have to purchase wood or coal for fuel in winter time, and on such farms there is no protection for stock in hot weather, nor is there any assistance to or protection for a bit of pasture land.

The piece of low land, even if it is covered with brush rather than standing timber of size, is proving its value in this unusual season.

Spain Doesn't Know How

The trouble in Spain is actually one of a people wanting to govern themselves and not knowing how to do it. For a long time they had been closely ridden by a monarchy. The people were always told what to do and how to do it. When there was a rebellion which overthrew the monarchy there were so many leaders wanting to rule the country that they formed themselves into 14 political parties. Since then it has become a question of whether the fascists or communists were going to win.

It is small wonder there is trouble and bloodshed in Spain. The ability to govern wisely is something which people do not learn in a hurry especially when for generations they have had very little to do with it. British people seem to possess the greatest of genius for self-government and coupled with that they understand the technique of giving adequate expression to it. And the reason for that is they have been working at it for a long time. The result is a British form of government gives the greatest degree of freedom to the individual and at the same time the greatest degree of security to the mass of the people. It may take the people of Spain a long time to learn how this can be done.

Another Remarkable Cow

B. H. Bull and Son of Brampton has a Jersey cow which seems to fit in with a nursery song of many years ago:

If I had a cow that gave such milk
I'd dress her in the finest silk
Feed her on the choicest hay,
And milk her forty times a day.

The name of this cow is Basilua Brampton, and she has completed a three-year performance in which she produced 3,802 pounds of butter fat.

In the Canadian Record of Performance Book note is made of one previous test of 365 days which started on September 26, 1932. In the year following Basilua Brampton produced 19,012 pounds of milk, containing 1,513 pounds of butter fat and the milk tested 6.906 per cent. butter fat during the entire period.

According to reports from the Bull farm at Brampton this remarkable Jersey has received no special treatment. She grazes with other cattle, goes out and about for exercise in cold weather, and is milked three times per day. According to available records no other cow has ever produced more butter fat in the three-year period, and it must be admitted that having a cow which produces 19,012 pounds of 6.906 per cent. butter fat milk in a year is a mighty valuable animal to have on the premises.

It's Handy Knowledge

In the Community Health column of today's Examiner appears an article on artificial respiration by Dr. Murray Fraser Peterborough's Medical Officer of Health, that should be carefully preserved and studied. A knowledge of the prone method of restoring those who have been rendered unconscious by immersion in water or from some other cause is a mighty handy bit of mental equipment for everybody to possess and the technique of the thing is so simple there does not seem to be any reason why it should not be generally mastered so that it will be available for any emergency. The Examiner has always maintained that not only as many persons as possible should learn to swim but that in addition they should learn the art of life-saving and finally that they should know how to go about resuscitating folk who have got themselves into trouble in the water.

Knowing what to do and doing it promptly and efficiently has been the means of saving many lives in such cases and the system now regarded as the best, the one described so clearly by Dr. Fraser in his article today, presents no difficulty to anyone who can read and will take the trouble to learn the few simple movements that comprise the prone method. You may never have occasion to use it but if the occasion should arise that somebody's life may hang in the balance it will be a very useful piece of knowledge with which to grapple with the emergency.

Express Companies Active

Sir Edward Beatty, president of the C.P.R., said railways in this country are keeping up with all developments used by trucks, buses and trucks in the securing of business.

There is considerable truth in what Sir Edward says. From information which the Examiner received, it appears that particularly in express business the railways are now giving their competitors, the trucking companies, the stiffest kind of competition, and as a result a great deal of business which used to fall to trucking companies is now handled by the express companies. There are special express rates between a number of Ontario points, and a careful study of the schedules may often reveal that it is profitable to have a truck take the load to a certain railway point and then the rest of the trip is completed by express. As a result the express business of the railways is on the increase in a marked way.

Do You Know the Answer?

A good many people may have noticed that the drought does not damage the weeds. A good many places can be seen where the grass has been dried out completely but the weeds remain and they are doing well. On a lawn which has not been watered it will be found that although the grass is burned out the dandelions are living. In the garden the ragweed grows in ground which is dust dry.

A bit of examination will show that the weeds have better equipment for growing and for standing dry weather than have the more valuable things. Their roots go much deeper in the ground, and we dare say they take up any available moisture and secure it before other vegetation is served.

The burdock can stand dry weather while the peas, wheat, alfalfa, oats, etc., all useful things, will go down under the same conditions. Just why weeds have better equipment for drought than have the useful things which we need is something which has puzzled a good many people. Whether it is that we must keep on struggling for the survival of the best things is something we do not know. If any person can supply the answer we would be glad to print it.

NOTE AND COMMENT

It may be hard to convince some people of the fact—but there is considerable room yet left in the unusual class.

A school near Burlington was seriously menaced by burning grass and the pupils are hoping the next drought will come during the school term.

The present outlook is that about the only foreign athletes that would be safe to go to Spain for the games at Barcelona next month would be the javelin throwers.

Those British Columbia robbers who stole $32,000 worth of pelts had better be careful or the game wardens will be after them for taking furs out of season.

The Canadian cricketers have won a couple of games in the British Isles. Well that's fair enough for we seem to remember England beating us at hockey last winter.

There are four women candidates in the Manitoba election as against none the last time but we will have to wait until the returns are in to see whether is really means anything or not.

The drought has been reducing the corn crop in the mid-western states at the rate of ten million bushels a day. There is not much talk these days of ploughing under every third row.

The first Alberta scrip is to be issued about the first of next month but so far the sound of the cheering that greeted the announcement to this effect has not made its way this far east.

A Brant county man stopped work on the farm to tell the authorities that he was not the person whose body was found near a school house the other night. Being a truthful personage we presume that his story was accepted.

The Government-appointed finance commission has ordered Windsor to make a special levy to raise $400,000 for relief purposes but unfortunately has neglected to tell the council how they are going to do the trick.

As if the forest fires were not enough the authorities at Ottawa have to pick this moment to notify us that Canada's supply of spruce is seriously threatened by the European spruce sawfly. Perhaps we can deport the pest under the immigration laws.

It is said that no matter who wins the Manitoba election the Federal government is sure to lose because both parties are making lavish promises that only Ottawa can carry out. It may be, however, that the real losers will be the simple folk who expect pledges to be redeemed.

Toronto is afraid her secondary schools will be swamped because of the large number of pupils who passed the entrance examinations this year. The situation is of course more serious because economic conditions are keeping students in the high schools for longer terms than was formerly the case.

SUMMER TALK

(By A.R.K.)

¶ The gay young man on holidays, moved out in gay and charming ways, he basked when it was hot; he had about him charm and grace, a summer tan upon his face he likewise talked a lot.

¶ And there was firmness in his jaw, looked slightly bored with all he saw, small talk was not his stuff; and when he dined he was discreet, he knew just what he'd have to eat, knew when he had enough.

¶ He'd left his car at home he said, he much preferred to walk instead, of cars he owned but three; he liked to get away from them, be free from all his staff and men, of simple taste was he.

¶ His business cares they hounded him, and kept him ragged like and thin, they kept right at his heels; that's why he wasn't very strong, the hours he worked were hard and long, he swung enormous deals.

¶ And so coy maidens turned his way, and they besieged him night and day, they thought that he had style; they almost fell upon his neck, a man in business to his neck, he might be well worth while.

¶ The gay young man who went away, has now outlived his little stay, then he'll be rather meek; he'll hop it when the whistle blows, nor will he wear his summer clothes—he earns twelve bones a week.

Freight Trains On the Highways

(From the Ottawa Journal.)

CANADIAN newspapers are giving increasing attention to the problems by motor transport of goods, and the competition thus given the steam railroads. It may be assumed that this represents a greater public interest in the question, and that is a good thing, because it is only through an informed and active public opinion that the remedy, which is known, will be applied.

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review continues to insist that the trucks are paying their way, expresses vigorous disagreement with The Journal's statement that motor transports "have no expenses for right of way but instead use highways built and maintained at public expense." The Sentinel-Review, defending the trucking industry, argues that motor transports pay their full share of the cost of highways in license fees and gasoline tax.

The Toronto Telegram answers this claim with great effectiveness. It agrees that trucks competing with the railroads pay a share of the capital and maintenance cost of highways. "But the amount," it adds, "is small compared to the cost to the railways of their own private right of way," and it goes on:

"If they (the trucking companies) were compelled to buy and build their own roads, as the railroads do, the latter would not have to worry about competitive rates which the truckers could offer."

The Woodstock paper disputes also The Journal's statement that while the railroads are rigidly controlled as to rates, wages and conditions, their gasoline competitors "are practically free from control." Such supervision as is exercised by provincial authority over motor transport does not touch the vital spot of freight rates or labor conditions. The transprt people make their own rates, cut tariffs if it suits them to cut, accept or refuse shipments in their discretion. The railroads have no such privileges, and the railroads thus are called upon to meet unfair competition.

The Stratford Beacon-Herald has a thought on this point:

"The Canadian railways probably would have been in the trucking business themselves long ago if they had been assured of state supervision of motor transport rates. But to invest large sums of money in truck equipment in order to compete in an unorganized field of transportation would be a risky course."

Solution of the problem is made difficult by the fact that the highways are under provincial jurisdiction the railways under Dominion law. As the Peterborough Examiner puts it:

"The provinces control the highway business, the Dominion controls the railway structure. The former thrives without rate control, and is non-unionized. The later is subject to close control as to carrying charges, also is highly unionized in its labor forces."

Unquestionably there is a place in our transport scheme for the trucks. But it is utter folly, and expensive folly, to give them a free hand in this field, to permit them to carry the cream of the freight crop at rates that are uncontrolled—while we hedge about with rigid rules the railway business and dip into our pockets to make up the deficit on the National lines.

To the Journal it seems highly desirable, and indeed inevitable, that the Dominion should acquire authority over motor transport rates and conditions so that they may be brought into harmony with the railroad tariff structure. The interests at stake are so important, so deeply concern public and private finance, that every day's delay in the adjustment of this outrageous situation is most regrettable.

To The Editor

A WORD OF PRAISE

Editor Examiner.

Sir: Referring to Mayor George Macdonald's request that special prayers be offered in the churches of this city last Sunday, that this continued drought may be broken by showers of rain, that the crops and vegetables in the rural parts which we are all so depending upon may be saved: Mayor Macdonald believes in the power and efficacy of prayer, and I think a word of praise is due him, when he has the courage of his convictions to send out this request. Some may think that it would be a dangerous thing for him to speak of spiritual issues in this age of intense materialism. But he is voicing the thought of many minds just now. Just recently I met a man on the street and his first utterance was we have had the blessings of health and strength, food and raiment, and have not returned thanks to God for these blessings. We have forgotten that our minds should be constantly linked to God in prayer and thankfulness. It is an undeniable fact that we cannot get along without heaven's blessings, and Mayor Macdonald is blazing the trail to more serious thought on these vital questions.

A Matter of Insurance.

(From the Sault Ste. Marie Star.)

PREPARATION for emergencies is a big factor in the suppression of fires. A trained ground force, employed the year round, becomes familiar with the territory under its supervision. It knows where the danger spots are, where there is slash, where green timber. It has its canoe routes laid out and its portages cut. It has its caches and gasoline for its pumps, of axes and shovels. It knows the men available to be called on for aid in any given area. Supplementing this there are the transport planes to bring in men and equipment, trucks to handle supplies wherever there are roads, canoes and motorboats (outboard or other types) to be used where roads run out, supplies of pumps, hose and other equipment to be rushed where needed.

'Don't think either," said one commentator, "that big fires cannot be checked without rain. If the organization is efficient, if the men and supplies and pumps are available and skilled direction is given even big fires can be stopped."

It is pointed out, for example, that in 1929 a fire with a 32-mile front in the Lake of the Woods country was stopped without rain.

Perhaps most important, in view of many, would be freedom from political interference which would ensure continuity of staff and of policy, which would enable the placing of the work in the hands of men of experience, thoroughly familiar with the country in which they had to work and reasonably sure of retaining their jobs.

It's all a matter of insurance. Does the province think it is worthwhile to protect its forests from fire in order to ensure employment for lumbermen, business for the merchant, livelihood for those dependent on the fur trade or the tourist traffic and revenue for timber dues or hunting and fishing licenses for the government? Once the timber is destroyed by fire it cannot be replaced.

The Rain-Making Business.

(From the Woodstock Sentinel-Review.)

REPORTS from Detroit are to the effect that immigration officials there refused to admit to the United States a Canadian who claimed that he was a rain-maker and that he could end the drought that has persisted disastrously in the country in recent weeks.

On every occasion when there has been protracted absence of moisture, rain-makers have put forth their claims, but the circumstances that serious droughts are still frequent is evidence that the rain-making trade is not startlingly efficient.

The natural production of rain, though apparently simple, is a good deal of a mystery. It might be said that there can be no logical reason for widespread drought. There is unlimited water on the earth's surface. It is being evaporated in tremendous quantities throughout the world. It ought to form clouds and come down in the form of rain fairly uniformly. Yet something goes wrong with the system and we find whole sections of territory that are missed by the clouds in the season when adequate rainfall is necessary to animal, vegetable and human existence. Then the conditions change and there come plentiful rains.

In the matter of rainfall, human agency is practically helpless, despite the claims, made by individuals, to ability to control in that realm. Various devices have been used for the artificial production of rain. Where clouds are present it might be effective to cause detonations in the upper atmosphere to simulate the action of lightning. But there are not many authentic cases of success in that manner. It is claimed that in the course of time it will be possible to apply electricity in such a manner as to reproduce lightning and thus control the precipitation but such a plan would be dependent on an existing presence of clouds, in which case there is usually rain without artificial stimulation.

If there are human beings who can induce rain when the atmosphere is clear and the sun is baking the landscape into desolation, their services would be in demand at their own price. But so far as the record on this continent goes, those claiming to be able to produce rain in periods of drought have not created a convincing impression. Some of them have attempted the utilization of elaborate equipment. Occasionally they have had the good fortune to be engaged in their operations when rain came naturally, for which they took credit. Even the primitive tribes have their official rain-makers and they and the moderns qualify in the same class as rather clever opportunists who know when to claim a success that nature has prepared.

Canada and War Materials.

(From the St. Catharines Standard.)

AS to the sentiment for peace which reigns in this Dominion of Canada there never can be any doubt. But it is an unpalatable fact that this country is the supply base for one of the most essential of all armament needs, nickel, the bulk of which for the whole world is produced in Canada.

Notwithstanding protestations, official and otherwise, that the demand for nickel for war requirements is small compared with the total production, the failure of world disarmament plans is associated with the largest production of nickel ever recorded. This is presented in the current issue of Canadian Comment, which points to the fact that nickel is required in the toughening and hardening of armor plate, in bullet noses, gun-rifling and a hundred other ways in the fabrication of implements of war. The magazine submits the following facts:

Production of nickel during the first five months of 1933 was only 14,600,000 pounds. June saw the collapse of the disarmament conference, and by the end of 1933 the total output was 83 million pounds. More nickel than had ever been produced in one year before was produced in 1934 when the total reached 136,687,340 pounds. That was surpassed in 1935 by 10 millions pounds. Estimated output for 1936 is 175 million pounds.

Winston Churchill figured out the airplane strength of Germany on the basis of her aluminum imports. Long before Germany showed her hand in inventing the Nazi creed and in declaring her re-armament intentions, the nickel imports into Germany and contiguous countries for German use might have told the tale. One year showed an increase of nickel going into Germany of 800 per cent., which put alongside of other war materials imported would have given proof of German plans.

The Halifax Herald is of the opinion that while Canada cannot check a war in Europe, this country could materially check its prosecution. We doubt if the official heads of the International Nickel Company, who stress the peace-time demands for nickel in every country of the world can very well combat the implication which is given by the huge figures of nickel production since re-armament became an honest declaration of all the nations.

A NEW KIND OF FARM.

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

HENRY Ford, in an interview said that he hoped to prove within two years that all the animals on the farm "are really unnecessary." He said:

"We can, I believe, get a more plentiful supply of food, cheaper and better, by processing the products of the soil, instead of asking cows and chickens to do it for us. In the future, farm animals of all kinds will be out. We won't need them: we will be better without them."

And since when did cows and chickens and other farm animals cease to be products of the soil? Or when did Mr. Ford learn that the soil could get along without the animals?

HERE'S AN EXPOSURE.

(St. Catharines Standard)

THE oracle of Jordan Station writes the editorial cottage, where these notes are written, out of Penetang, that a picture published in The Standard Tuesday was a string of perch and not black bass. It was just the kind of note which might have been anticipated from the well known Oracle, who year after year is suspected of taking North to Golden Valley a brightly green painted tin fish for photographic purposes entirely. This fish is purported, in all the pictures, to weigh seven pounds, and report has it that it was made in the blacksmith shop around Jordan.

THEY'RE ON TIME.

(Engineering)

A return issued from Euston shows that out of a total of 274,096 express and local passenger trains run on the London Midland and Scottish Railway within a recent four-week period, no fewer than 262,988, or 96 per cent., arrived at their destination punctually. The figure of 93 per cent. for express trains is the highest achieved since the formation of the railway, while in one particular area, the Central Division, which covers a large portion of the densely populated parts of Lancashire, Cheshire and Yorkshire, 100 per cent. was reached on four consecutive days.

THE REDS' PART.

(Port Arthur News-Chronicle)

HON. David Croll, Minister of Welfare, correctly blames communists for much of the trouble in connection with relief administration. He says this agitation is "designed to inflame the unemployed to the point of dodging work and to wring forcibly concessions from the authorities.... Agents are covering every relief centre....getting results." There is some obvious comment to those who remember the attitude of Mr. Croll and his colleagues toward the unemployed in the election campaign but it is not customary to remind politicians too forcibly of what they did and said when votes were the important thing.

NOT ALL BLACK.

(Victoria Colonist)

THE next few days will tell the story, but there is time still for renewed hope. The recuperative powers of wheat are amazing. Not a few farmers whose hopes have been blasted by the heat will probably garner a worthwhile crop. With the short crop that is certain in the United States wheat belt, where the season is a little earlier than in Canada, prices generally will be enhanced. Thousands of Canadian farmers will find solace in good prices for their reduced yields.

INDIA'S DEFENCE.

(The Statesman, Calcutta)

NOT all Indians are enamoured of the British connexion, but we doubt if one in ten thousand Indians wants that connexion to be replaced by the rule of Fascist Italy, or for that matter of any other Power, Asiatic or European. The best safeguard against an invasion is not only a strong Britain but a well-armed India. We hope in the words of our contemporary, that "the lesson of Abyssinia will be an eye-opener" to those who have hitherto, in the Legislature, the Press and elsewhere, consistently criticized as exorbitant the cost of maintaining the defence forces of the country.

Buffalo Canadian Gold Mines Ltd. had cash of $3,596 at December 31, 1935, a decrease of $2,033 from the $5,631 reported at the end of 1934, while current liabilities totalled $203. No change is shown in the company's holdings of 264,000 shares of LaRoche Mines. Mining properties, buildings, plant and equipment are carried at cost of $325,436, while exploration and head office expenses are shown at $29,895. Of the 3,000,000 shares capital, 2,000,000 shares are outstanding. James Savage, president, states that no mining operations were carried on during the year, but recently the company acquired an option to purchase an interest in seven claims in the Whitefish Bay area, Lake of the Woods district.

18 COUSINS SHARE $140,000 ESTATE

But Will Only Get $2,000 Each After Government And Attorneys Finish

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP).—The Tribune says Special Probate Commissioner Irwin N. Walker will recommend to-day that 18 cousins of James Thomas Kelly, recluse who left $140,000 when he died in apparent poverty last year, be adjudged his heirs.

Court attaches were quoted as estimating that each cousin would receive about $2,000 after payment of an $81,531 government income tax lien, court costs, attorney's fees and inheritance taxes.

Kelly, 61 years old, died Feb. 26, 1935, in the rooming house of Mrs. Bella Butman. Her attempt to probate a will which she said Kelly signed resulted in jail or prison sentences for her and five persons accused of involvement in a scheme to gain control of the estate.

Although he had a fortune in bonds, cash and real estate deeds hoarded in safety deposit boxes, Kelly for years had haggled with flophouse proprietors for cheap rooms.

Cattle offered were made up of cows and common bulls. Common bulls were sold at $3 per hundredweight and $2.50 to $3.50 with the bull at $3.25. Good vealers were up to $8 with the bulk of medium kinds selling at $5. Common thin vealers and drinkers sold down to $4.

Lambs sold at $8 for good kinds with culls out at $6. Unsorted lambs sold at $7.50 to $7.75. Sheep were from $2 to $3 with an odd canner as low as $1.50.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 22 (C.P.) — Lambs remained the bright spot in the afternoon session of the Toronto Livestock Market to-day with a 25-cent price gain. Killer cattle trade was active with prices 15 to 25 cents higher in spots.

Calves were steady with hogs unsettled. The sheep market remained steady from the morning session. The cattle holdover from yesterday was 400 head.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Livestock Branch were: Cattle, 790; calves, 670; hogs, 980; sheep and lambs, 530.

Trade was active on the market for killing cattle with prices gaining from 15 to 25 cents on weighty steers and butchers. The prices remained steady for other grades. Choice weighty steers sold from $5.50 to $5.85, with medium to good grade steers going at $4.75 to $5.40. Good butcher cattle sold from $4.75 to $5 with a few steers at $4.25. Common butchers ranged downwards to $3.50.

A few boner cattle brought $2.50 to $3. Good cows were steady from $3 to $3.25, with plain grades downwards to $2.50. Some bulls of good quality sold at $3 to $3.50. Fed calves sold firm at $5 to $7 according to quality. Stocker trade continued slow, with scattered sales from $2.50 to $3.

The calf market was steady at a general top of $7 with most of the vealers selling between $5 and $6.50. A few grassers went at $3.35 and a few rough calves at $4.

The hog market was unsettled with indication about steady. Yesterday's hogs settled firm at $9 to $9.10 off trucks for bacon, with car hogs quoted at $8.65 f.o.b. and off [illegible]

Lambs were 25 cents higher at $9 for good ewes and wethers with other grades bringing $7 to $8. A small supply of sheep sold from $1.50 to $3 a cwt.

Stockers were difficult to sell at the Union Stock Yards yesterday. Other grades of cattle, however, were fairly active and prices remained unchanged with the previous day's close. Some cattle were unsold at the finish. Veal calves and sheep were steady. Lambs opened strong and finished the day with a gain of 25 cents per cwt.

Medium to choice killing cattle were fairly active at steady prices. Weighty steers sold at $4.75 to $5.65. A small lot of choice heavies brought $5.85. Good butcher cattle went at $4.75 to $5, with common grades down to $3.50. Good cows brought $3 to $3.25, with plain varieties ranging down to $2.25. Boners sold at $2.75 to 3.75, with canners and cutters going mostly at $1.75 to $2. A few good bulls brought $3 to $3.35. Fed calves sold for the most part at $5 and $6.50. Stocker trade continued slow, prices on medium to good grades ranging from $2.75 to $3.25.

The calf market was firm at $6.50 to $7 for choice grades, with a few tops bringing $7.50. Common vealers sold downward to $4 and a few grassers brought $3.25 to $3.50.

Lambs were steady to 25 cents higher at $8.50 to $8.75 for good ewes and wethers, with other grades $6.50 to $7.50. Sheep sold steady at $1.50 to $3, a cwt., according to quality.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 22. — Lack of support to cover local selling caused wheat futures pieces to decline from early gains on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday. Values closed ½ to ¾ cent lower, with July at 93½, October 92⅞, and December 92¼ to 92¾ cents a bushel.

Although sufficient to cover light offerings at the opening, export business proved disappointing at an estimate of not more than 300,000 bushels.

The session was a quet one and offerings, although never heavy, were sufficient to carry prices lower against thin support. Scattered selling attributed to southern interests augmented sales by locals. Traders anticipated more plentiful showers in Western Canada where drought has caused grain damage.

BOARD DISPERSES LIQUOR AND FRUIT

Stock From Queen Mary Hospital Cupboard Is Given Away

Three and one-half quarts of liquor and 175 sealers of preserved fruit remained in the store of supplies at the Queen Mary Hospital after the Board of Health decided to disband the staff because the number of cases of communicable diseases requiring isolation did not warrant its continued operation.

And as a meticulous steward, Alderman Stocker, chairman, informed the Board last night that after consulting Mayor Macdonald and Alderman Dutton he had turned over 110 jars of fruit for distribution through the city's relief office. But the "jars" of whiskey presented a slightly different problem.

"No liquor has been prescribed at the hospital for two years and a half," Dr. Fraser, M.O.H. stated.

"And in five years less than a pint has been used," Ald. Stocker added.

It was jokingly suggested that Alderman Stocker might "throw a party for the members, all of whom are aware that the chairman is a total abstainer."

On Alderman Hamilon's motion, seconded by Mayor Macdonald, it was decided to retain the half quart for possible emergencies, each hospital will receive one full quart, and the third will be given to Anson House, where it might sometime be required by elderly inmates.

PRIEST IS DEAD

Superior of Carmelite Order Passes At Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 22. —(CP)—Very Rev. Father Lawrence Diether, superior of the Carmelite Order in America from 1924 until June of this year when he retired, died suddenly at Mount Carmel College, Fallsview last night. He was 69 years of age.

PRESS ERECTOR HELD AT BORDER

Special Permit From Ottawa Required To Allow Workman Into Canada

WORK UNDERWAY

At the beginning of the week The Examiner was notified that three carloads of machinery had arrived at the C.P.R. Station, and naturally enough the folk there wanted to know where it was to be placed. Truth is there was no person in this office or in the province for that matter who could answer that question. The answer would come when the erector from the Walter Scott Co. of Plainfield, N.J., arrived in Peterborough. The three cars contained the new press which is to be erected in the new Examiner home at the corner of Water and Hunter Streets.

This office was advised that David Gray was on the way and would arrive shortly. Mr. Gray and no other person could tell which car and which piece he wanted removed first. Mr. Gray is here now and the work of erection is under way, but Mr. Gray tripped on the friendly border line when entering Canada. He had with him letters telling who he was and where he was going and what he was going to do. He had his U.S. citizenship papers and all the documents generally carried, and all he had ever found necessary to take him to a good many parts of the world where he has been sent to erect presses for the Walter Scott Company.

Mr. Gray crossed the border at Niagara Falls without question, but on the trip to Hamilton the arm of the law reached out and touched him. It appears there had been a new regulation made whereby erectors of machinery required a special permit from Ottawa. Arriving at Hamilton, Mr. Gray suggested he remain there and get in touch with Peterborough or with Ottawa, but the inspector could see no wisdom in such a course, so Mr. Gray was put on the train and escorted back to Niagara Falls, N.Y., from which point he got in touch with The Examiner office.

The Examiner immediately got in touch with the Department of Immigration at Ottawa and F. C. Blair, Assistant Deputy Minister, assured us Mr. Gray would be admitted, but Mr. Gray, then at Niagara Falls, N. Y., advised this office he could make no headway. Once more Mr. Blair at Ottawa was called, and his definite assurance was that if Mr. Gray applied at the Immigration Office at Niagara Falls, N.Y., he would find everything ready to allow him to pass. He did so and arrived in Peterborough on the pool train at 2.00 in the morning. Mr. Blair's continued interest in the matter was demonstrated by a wire on Wednesday morning asking that if Mr. Gray had not yet arrived to notify him immediately.

But Mr. Gray is here: the press is being unloaded under his direction, and work of erecting it will be under way at once. It will take at least a month for the huge machine to be put together.

LISTOWEL CREWS GO BACK TO WORK

One - Day Furniture Factory Strike Brings New Code

LISTOWEL, Ont., July 22 (CP) —Workers in the Andrew Malcolm furniture factory went back to work here to-day, after a one-day strike brought temporary granting of their demands. A six and one half hour conference between representatives of Local Union No. 1475 and officials of the company resulted in an agreement which will be in effect until a new code is arranged in Toronto Aug. 4.

O. C. Jennett, of the Department of Labor, Toronto, A. O. E. O'Dell, inspector of the Minimum Wage Board, Hamilton, and James Kane, president of the Stratford Union, were present at the meeting, which started in the afternoon and continued until a late hour last night.

The meeting was called after all employees of the factory laid down their tools in the morning and said they would not return to work until their demands had been met. The dispute centered around the classification of unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled workers.

The workers were quiet while the committee discussed the situation. Mr. Kane spoke briefly to the men following the meeting, saying their demands had been met, temporarily at least. The new agreement, he said, would go in effect immediately and would hold until a new code was drawn up in Toronto in August.

RAIN COMES

or four of the 6 fires that were raging could possibly survive the downpour, which promised to last all day.

Able To Reduce Crews.

Tomorrow, he said, they would begin to lay off large numbers of men and cut the 1,200 that were fighting fires yesterday down to a minimum. "Mopping-up" crews would be left at the scene of each fire, to make sure the flames had been totally extinguished. Preparations would also be made to bring back equipment.

Kitchener reported a slight rainfall, and at Toronto skies were heavily overcast and rain was threatening. Forecasts were for scattered showers and unsettled [illegible]

Forest fires in Alberta were for the most part under control, but one at Braseau, in the northern part of the province, was still raging. Only light rain had fallen and that only in some districts.

It rained in Stratford also, the first in many weks. A few drops fell at noon that hardly wet the pavement. Later there was another brief downfall, but indications are there may be more before the afternoon is over.

More than 20,000,000 are attending British movie theatres every week.

OCCUPANTS UNHURT IN CAR ACCIDENT

Tuesday Night Crash Attracts Large Crowd Of Onlookers

Overturning of an automobile and the loud crash which accompanied it, brought three garage man, a doctor, the representative of a local undertaker, and an insurance adjuster to the scene of an accident at London and George streets shortly before eleven o'clock Tuesday night. All of them had a fruitless errand with possible exception of one of the garage operators. Arthur T. Maynard, orderly at Nicholls Hospital escaped unhurt when the coupe he was driving north was overturned by another car proceeding east on London street, which cut out from the side street and clipped his car with enough force to overturn it. The other vehicle was stated to be driven by Lawrence O'Toole, 132 Sophia street.

After the collision his car was turned in the opposite direction with the rear wheels resting on the curb at the north east corner of the intersection. Maynard's car was overturned on its left side, further north of the crossing. The driver crawled out, badly shaken, but unhurt. Windows, windshield and headlight glass of the overturned car were undamaged.

FLOATING BODY OF MISSING BOY

drowning, and declared an inquest would not be held.

When he left home on Monday according to the distressed father, little Bobby was accompanied by his brother and sister, Harold and Patricia Holland, 8-year-old twins, and by Barbara Reid, 8, and Helen Harding, 10. Another brother Billy did not accompany the children.

The children all went to Inverlea to bathe, as had been their daily custom during the heat wave, it was learned, and subsequently on their homeward way played on the banks of the pond.

The pond, its bed cluttered with old tin cans and other rubbish, is at least twelve feet deep, and it shelves rapidly off rom the banks. The children declare they often visited the spot to gather "polliwogs."

According to the story of the children who returned home at twenty-past five on Monday afternoon, Bobby had left the mat the pond and had said he was going home, because, "I'm hungry."

Reported to Police.

The anxious parents sought that evening for the child, and reported his loss to city police around seven o'clock. They spent an anxious all-night vigil, and their fears that the lad had been drowned were strengthened Tuesday morning with recovery of a tiny pair of shoes lying at the water's edge of the pond.

Sergeant Arthur Thomas and Consable William Piercy dragged the pond in the vicinity indicated by the shoes and later other volunteer workers, helped the lads father probe the depths of the pond with grappling irons and pike poles. They worked ceaselessly until after dark, and also combed the waters of the river, where the body was recovered this morning, but without results.

U.W.F. Associates Help.

Mr. Holland was assisted in his search for his son's body by a number of his former associates of the Unemployed Workers Fraternity of which he was one time president. They included: William Childs, Bert Huott, Leslie Lawford, Jack and Thomas Drummond and other former members of the organization.

Others who lent valuable assistance included, members of the police and fire departments, James Guiry, Jack Sullivan, who operates a smithy near the home of the child's parents; and Hugh Campbell, manager of the Canadian Johnson Motors.

Johnson Pump Used.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Campbell, a Johnson pump was taken to the scene of the tragedy early this (Wednesday) morning, and the big task of pumping dry the pond was commenced. Virgil Carr, master mechanic of Peterborough Fire Department was operating the pump at the time the child's body was recovered from the river.

An official of Johnson Motor Company stated the pump was discharging water from the pond at the rate of 325 gallons per minute with an open butt. It was estimated the pond contained between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000 gallons of water, so that the task which faced the workers can be readily appreciated.

Water Lowered.

The Quaker Oats also co-operated in the search for the child's body by reducing the level of the water in the pond to the level of the outlet pipe which carries water off into the lake. While it is possible that the little victim of the fatality fell into the river, it is believed more than probable that he fell in the pond at the point indicated by the tiny pair of shoes, and that the body was drawn through the outlet pipe into th lake, as the water level was being reduced. It is stated by one of the spectators that an old piece of sacking was seen to come from the pipe just after the child's body was recovered from the river, to be carried by the current within about a foot of the spot where the body of the child was first seen.

The child's father is an ex-service man, having done home service in England during the war period with the North Lancashire Regiment and the Royal Engineers.

The funeral is to be held from family residence on Friday at 1.30 o'clock p.m., with the Rev. W. P. Robertson, rector of St. John's Church officiating. Interment at Little Lake cemetery.

MAJOR PROBLEM

MINERAL FIELDS KEY TO MANITOBA'S FUTURE GROWTH

Mines Minister McDiarmid Urges Rapid Development Of Vast Niches In North

STUBBS ENTERS FRAY

WINNIPEG, July 22 (CP).—Winnipeg's future progress and commercial and industrial growth depends chiefly upon the rapid development of Manitoba's mineral resources in the opinion of Hon. J. S. McDiarmid, Minister of Mines in the Liberal-Progressive Government seeking return to power in next Monday's elections.

"This city, its continued growth, its wholesale and retail trade, its accumulation of wealth, the outlet for its unemployed labor, depends vitally on the rapid development of the resources of Northern Manitoba." Mr. McDiarmid declared last night in addressing electors of the 10-member Winnipeg riding in which he seeks re-election.

L. St. G. Stubbs, Independent candidate in Winnipeg, charged last night the Government of Premier John Bracken is the "servile pawn of financial dictators." Mr. Stubbs was removed from the County Court Bench in 1933 for alleged judicial misconduct, and Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney General, and another Winnipeg candidate, was one of those who pressed the charges.

Mr. Stubbs declared valuable provincial institutions were wrecked with losses of many millions "because Mr. Bracken had hardly warmed the Premier's seat before the financial interests got hold of him and controlled him and they have had him and controlled him ever since."

Mr. Bracken and Errick Willis, Conservative leader, are in the midst of strenuous campaigns in rural ridings. Mr. Willis is a candidate in Deloraine, while voting in Mr. Bracken's constituency of The Pas, together with that in Rupert's Land, where Provincial Treasurer McPherson sits, has been deferred to August 22.

FORD ENVIES

man's research into the problem of obtaining a greater portion of power available in fuels. Shelter, he said, will be provided in forms and by methods as yet unpredictable. There will be drastic changes in the provision of man's food.

A factor Mr. Ford expects to be important in promoting improvement of standard of living is a new attitude toward money evinced by this rising generation.

"There is a big change taking place in the minds of young people about the relative values of spending and saving," he said. "If you want to find out about that change talk to young people.

It's getting difficult for parents to convince their children that they should save money instead of spending it.

Use Money As It Was Intended.

"The young folks can't see any sense in putting money away so someone can take it away from them. They want to use money in the way it was designed to be used."

Mr. Ford said he believed this valuable lesson was learned during the years of the depression.

Although his son, Edsel, has become accredited voice of the industrial empire established by Henry Ford, latter has by on means lost his zest for conquest.

Just as in 1903, when he was a $15-a week engineer in the Detroit Edison plant, the deafening noise made by the turning over his first experimental motor sounded the knell of the horse and buggy of transportation, today Mr. Ford thinks he can eliminate the cow from modern life as easily as he effected the replacement of the horse.

A few years ago Mr. Ford precipitated a flurry of witticisms when he suggested that the cow could be ousted from modern life. He still adheres to that conviction.

"I'd like to devote about three years to the eliminaton of the cow, he said. "There's no reason in the world why the chemist can't discover th cow's secret of converting vegetation into dairy products. And there's less reason why the chemist can't do a better job of it after he learns how."

Annis Clan Gathers At Lindsay Reunion

LINDSAY, Ont., July 22 (CP)—The 15th annual Annis re-union was held yesterday at Hampton Memorial Park, Hampton, where more than 100 members of the Annis clan joined in a day of sports and a friendly get-together. To commemorate the memory of the original ancestor, Levi and Rhoda Annis, more than $150 was raised to replace the monument in Washington Cemetery, Scarboro. The monument will be erected immediately under the supervision of Hanford C. Annis, Toronto.

SENTENCE UPHELD.

PARIS, July 21. —(CP Havas). — The court of appeals today upheld an eight months' prison sentence imposed on Charles Maurras, Royalist editor of the newspaper Action Francaise, on charges of instigating to political murder through the press. The sentence was handed down by a criminal court on May 24.

RIVER BATHING PLACES REVEAL COLON BACILLI

Water Of The Otonabee Unsafe For Drinking, Dr. Fraser Reports

RECENTLY ANALYZED

Further Tests To Be Made Up The River To Lakefield

Tests of the water at the bathing places along the river all disclosed pollution, with a content of bacteria that makes it unsafe for drinking.

"Does any place need to be closed to the public?" Alderman Tuggey enquired of Dr. G. Murray Fraser, M.O.T. last night when he announced the results of his investigation.

"Possibly they should all be closed, but we can't do that," Dr. Fraser replied.

One Free Spot?

"And the only place which showed no contamination was at the end of the George street wharf," Dr. Fraser said. "But that must have been a fluke, possibly in the work of analysis."

Dr. Fraser said the presence of bacteria, the colon bacilli, was sufficient to cause at least sore throats if people drank it while swimming.

The report was a surprise and somewhat of a shock to the members of the Board of Health last night.

Alderman Hamilton proposed that Dr. Fraser continue his sampling and testing of the river all the way to Lakefield.

"Go as far as the Grove School," Alderman Stocker said. "We don't know how they dispose of their sewage."

In unvarnished words the colon bacilli are from the intestines of animals or people. Alderman Hamilton was sceptical about the pollution reaching the river from animals, but as the origin could only be surmised, further discussion of this problem was deferred until a supplementary report is made by Dr. Fraser.

Cause of Odor

The Monday malodor permeating the south end of the city from the plant of Canada Packers Limited was investigated by Dr. Fraser. He was informed that a temporary mechanical fault occurred in the operation of certain rendering tanks. The superintendent of the plant said that it might not occur again, and that the company had spent several thousand dollars in equipment to reduce odors.

"We might ask the sanitary engineering branch of the Department of Health for any suggestion they might have," Dr. Fraser said. "Citizens were telephoning me Monday demanding that something be done. There was nothing we could do about it in the circumstance. We don't want to interfere with employment, and the odors may not occur in that degree again."

Dr. Fraser said he would write the Department for any remedial suggestions they might be

BALLYDUFF HOLDS DECORATION DAY

Beautiful Music And Interesting Addresses Feature Annual Services

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BALLYDUFF, July 22.—On Sunday, July 19 the annual Decoration service took place at the Presbyterian church cemetery at Ballyduff, where many gathered from far and near to decorate the graves of friends and relatives who have passed on and whose remains peacefully sleep in this pretty rural 'God's Acre.'

After the many and beautiful floral tributes were laid on the graves, the crowd were seated in a shady spot in the cemetery which adjoins the church and an impressive service was conducted, with Rev. Mr. Smith of Port Perry delivering an appropriate message to the assemblage. Reverent memories hovered around as the speaker directed the thoughts of his flock.

Mr. Heber Preston of Peterborough, and formerly of Ballyduff locality, spoke a few well-chosen words. Mr. Preston, who is over eighty years of age, and who paraded in the Orange walk at Cobourg this year, also rendered a very pleasing solo, entitled "Brighten the Corner Where You Are."

Mr. J. J. Clarke of Bethany, Mr. Percy Preston of Lifford, and Mrs. Fred McGill of Lotus, rendered a beautiful trio with Miss Winnie Preston at the organ.

Mrs. McGill and Mr. P. Preston contributed a duet "Under His Wings," in pleasing voice.

Decoration Day in China.

Mrs. Mortimer Clarke, a returned missionary from China, spoke briefly and in a most interesting manner, mentioning the manner of decoration of graves in China. Her husband, who was the son of Thomas Clarke, well known in the Ballyduff district, died in China, a victim of fever, a decade ago.

Old favorite hymns were sung during the service. Miss Winnie Preston and Mr. J. J. Clarke presided alternately at the organ for the musical numbers during the service.

At the conclusion many a "friend held fellowship with friend" after separation of a long space of time and all who gathered profited spiritually and socially.

Fire Sweeps Algoma Bush Lands

Forest fires, roaring through Northern Ontario's timber country, have caused loss in Algoma estimated as high as $3,000,000. In one week the flames, shooting skyward from a score or more fires, licked up valuable timber over an area of 75 square miles and robbed the land of its fertility by burning away the top soil. Clouds of smoke rolled across the country and hindered pilots of Forestry Department planes in the observation work.

BARN IS DAMAGED DURING WHIRLWIND

Campbellford's 'Ghost Farm' Again In The Public Eye

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 22. — With a roar like thunder a miniature cyclone swept over the old Frank Keating farm on the 8th Concession of Seymour about 1 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. While the whirlwind lasted for only about five minutes it struck the barn, ripping off a 35-foot stretch of the metal-clad roof, taking rafters and all, carrying portions of the debris a distance of 100 feet, and scattering hay all over the field, finally subsiding in Martin McArthur's woods just to the east.

Four children who were playing nearby rushed in terror to the house. James MacDowall, who was working on the farm at the time, stood in amazement as he watched the south side of the 30 x 50 barn roof heave up as though it was made of paper. Fortunately no person was injured. This same farm came into prominence some five or six years ago by a fake ghost story which attracted hundreds of people to the spot and was front page news for nearly a week. The farm is now owned by Richard Mahoney of Campbellford, and occupied by John Hart.

HAVELOCK W.I PLAN TO PURCHASE PIANO

Members Dislike New Department Arrangement Regarding Speakers

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, July 22.—The July meeting of Havelock Women's Institute was Friendship Day, when each member was privileged to bring a friend. The Roll Call was a kindness done by a neighbor, and many instances done were cited by the members. Most of them were agreed that while one might get along without friends, one really could get along without a neighbor.

The members have not taken kindly to the change made by the department of Institutes in the programmes for the year, there being some misunderstanding about what a branch can have. The necessity of three branches co-operating before a speaker can be obtained, seems to be causing some confusion, as it is rather hard for the branches to get together to decide on what they want. Havelock decided to ask for a speaker, and if one cannot be obtained will not bother with the Buymanship project which is the alternative.

Mrs. A. Anderson was appointed to act as assistant librarian in response to a request from Mrs. Jones that an assistant be appointed to relieve her in cases of emergency which sometimes arise.

A committee of three was appointed to see about a piano which it was decided to purchase, to replace the old organ which is not very satisfactory. One of the members told of a very good instrument which could be obtained for a small sum, and these ladies were appointed to investigate and purchase if suitable.

Plan Aid for Needy Case.

The Relief committe reported a case of need investigated, and many things needed. As the Institute cannot undertake to supply all the articles needed it was decided to call the attention of the municipal authorities to the case and see what can be done about it.

It was decided that each member try to make some talent money and turn it over to the treasury. Fifty cents each is the amount asked for, and this will be turned in at the September meeting if possible. Each one will explain manner in which the money was earned when handing it to the treasurer.

After the business was disposed of a very interesting programme was given under the convenorship of Mrs. Wesley Johnston.

A paper read by Mrs. A Anderson "What Friendship means to Me" was much enjoyed as were also two recitations by Miss Laura Metcalfe of Norwood.

After a short period of community singing, a delightful lunch was served by Mesdames Jones, McMullen, Jamieson and Rice.

Keene Girls Add To League Margin

Girls Softball League standing to date: (second half)—

Team	P	W	L
Keene	5	4	1
Westclox	2	1	1
Omemee	4	2	2
C. G. E.	5	2	3
Ballieboro	4	1	3

Keene girls increased their lead in the second half schedule race last night at home by nosing out an 11-9 verdict over Westclox. It was a tidy tilt throughout with Marilyn McCarthy hurling neat ball for the winners. Marg Snowden started for the Clockmakers but gave way in the fourth to Barbara Blade as the home crew began reaching her. With the old-time rivals fighting hard from start to finish, the issue was in doubt till the last out. Westclox are slated for Ballieboro to-night while Omemee is billed to play in Keene.

PRESENT SPANISH RIOTS FOLLOW TERRIFIC UNREST

Mrs. Robert J. Breyfogle Tells Of Experiences At Barcelona Square

FIGHTING NEAR HOME

TORONTO, July 22. — Her husband's office on the Barcelona square where the fiercest fighting of the Spanish Fascist-Monarchist revolution is said to have taken place, Mrs. Robert J. Breyfogle, formerly Elsie McLaughlin, of Toronto, back in Toronto to-day from her Barcelona home, said the present trouble came after "a terrific amount of unrest" throughout the country.

Early to-day it was reported that over 200 persons had been killed and 3,000 wounded in Barcelona as the revolt moved north through Spain, and that most of the fighting had taken place at Plaza de Cataluna, near the telephone exchange. In one corner of the square is the telephone exchange, and two doors away the bank where R. J. Breyfogle, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Breyfogle, of Peterborough, is situated.

Doesn't Like It.

"I am not worried, but I don't like the looks of it," admitted Mrs. Breyfogle, young and attractive and already a veteran of one revolution and innumerable strikes for which Barcelona seems to be noted. "The Plaza de Cataluna is where the old part of the city ends, and the new part begins. Usually all the fighting has gone on in the old part with the narrow streets. Never has the fighting really been so high in the city before."

Their home is just 12 minutes' drive—about three miles — away from the shooting and killing. "Oh yes, we could easily hear the shooting. In October, 1934, during that revolution, we used to go up on the roof at night and we could hear the shots and see the flashes as guns were fired. I was nervous during that trouble, not for myself, but for my husband who had to go to work in the troubled area," said Mrs. Breyfogle.

On one occasion Mr. Breyfogle, who will be coming to Toronto in November, worked away with the rest of the staff as though nothing was happening while shooting and killing was going on all around the bank. "Once," Mrs. Breyfogle, who has two children—Joan Patricia, 3, and Peter Nicholas, 10 months — recalled, "my husband was leaning out of the window when a car of civil guards, rifles in the air, went by looking for snipers."

"Never Can Tell."

"In Spain you can never tell what is going to happen next," she laughed, adding in a more solemn note that the present revolution seemed to be worse than the last. "We have a very strictly censored press there, and we never know what is going on in other parts of the country. However, trouble had been seething all winter. Back in March a friend of ours had difficulty in getting a room in Gibraltar because it was all taken up by refugees from Seville. Everything has been upset. There has been a terrific amount of unrest."

Barcelona was during this time "quite peaceful?" but there were many strikes, she said: revealing she had lived in Spain five years. "Between May 1 and July 1 there were many strikes. They had a general mercantile strike which lasted eight days. We didn't know for a week whether we were going to be able to get food or not. Some people stored up for weeks.

"Strikes came one after another. Pastry workers went on strike, and we could only get stuff through the back door. Hairdressers struck and people for a couple of days had to go without haircuts and shaves. Waiters in hotels and cafes struck, and for four days visitors couldn't get meals unless they had some friends. Two of the three largest hotels, which would be like our King Edward Hotel, were forced to close down.

"Strikes are mostly political and they usually win," Mrs. Breyfogle, a former newspaperwoman, added. "Sometimes we never know what is going to close next, but usually they announce them away ahead of time just like a baseball schedule."

Labor laws there, she said, are strange.

"You can't fire a man there, that is unless it is case of dishonesty or extreme insolence. So a man is usually with you for life. If, say hotels, can't afford to pay wages set, they have to close up."

Told to Avoid Crowd.

General excitability of the Spanish, their nervousness and desire to be always on the go, might have been one reason for the troubles, she thought.

"One of the first things I was warned against when I first went to Spain was to keep out of crowds," the young mother recalled with a laugh. "They told me to keep out of them and if I saw one gathering to go home. When they get together their emotions get all worked up, and usually there is trouble."

"My daughter was saying that it was too bad they couldn't settle down," put in Mrs. R. J. McLaughlin.

Religion has nothing to do with the trouble, Mrs. Breyfogle stressed.

"I guess they just wanted to have something to do," she laughed, adding that in Spain, "we always say that if a holiday comes the trouble ceases." Women and children, she added, never go down-town when shooting and other trouble starts." "We stay right at home or in the general neighborhood."

Mrs. Breyfogle left to-day for their summer cottage at Sturgeon Point, and she won't be going back to Spain with her children, who were both born there, until after Christmas.

FORMER RESIDENTS ARE VISITING CITY

George And William Kendry Lived Here In Their Youth

George Kendry, of Milford, Connecticut, and his brother, William Kendry, of Worthington, Pennsylvania, are in the city revisiting the scenes of their youth. Here for the past ten days visiting with their brother, Edward Kendry, of 913 Water street, the two visitors are returning to the United States by automobile on Monday next.

Their father, the late Thomas Kendry, originally operated the Auburn Mills when it was under ownership of the Auburn Woollen Company, and subsequently another brother of theirs, the late James Kendry, who died here during the war years, was president of the company. He was also a former mayor of the city and a member of the House of Commons.

Edward Kendry is still employed at Auburn Mill which was once operated by his father, being an employee of the present owners, the Dominion Woollen and Worsted Company. He has worked at the mill for forty years.

George Kendry told a reporter he left Peterborough at the age of fifteen years and went to the United States where he worked at the textile industry to be later joined by his brother William in New Hampshire twenty-eight years ago. Subsequently, George Kendry said, he entered the real estate business, out his brother William stayed with it and recently retired. Both of them attended the old Auburn school here.

Mr. Kendry said that during the last six years of the depression he believed the real estate business had been the hardest hit of any in the States. Generally speaking, he notes a gradual improvement in conditions.

Last here two years ago, Mr. Kendry said, "I never come back to Peterborough without being impressed with it as a fine, clean and a good city. Its well kept private lawns and public parks are a delight to behold, and it always has been a city of churches." He believed Peterborough compares favorably with any city of a similar size in Canada or the United States —and Mr. Kendry should know. He has travelled from coast to coast on both sides of the line, and each winter for the past several years has wintered at Orlando, Florida.

London firemen have been refused a forty-eight hour week.

LIFE FORCE

The brain is the source of life energy within the body. This energy is transmitted from the brain to all parts of the body by the spinal cord and the nerves. Everybody knows that if the nerves leading to the arm are cut the arm is paralyzed. It cannot move. Its muscles shrink. It is useless. Why? Because its supply of energy is interferod with.

JUST

as this is true of the arm, it is also true of every other part of the body. For every tissue cell receves its energy or motive power from the brain. If cutting the nerves of the arm paralyzes it, how would heavy constriction upon nerves affect the arm? It would cause weakness or partial paralysis, and the degree of uselessness of the arm would depend upon the degree of constriction of the nerve fibers.

NERVES

which supply practically all parts of the body emit from the spinal column through openings between the vertebrae. Constriction of any of these nerves may result from tightened spinal muscles or derangement of vertebrae. When either of these conditions exist correction can be accomplished by Spinal Manipulation, and then the nerves are capable of carrying proper life currents to the weakened tissue.

BAROMETER OF HEALTH.

The Queen Mary hospital has been ten weeks, and nearly eleven, without a patient with disease requiring isolation.

RAIN IN NEIGHBORHOOD.

Belated but helpful showers of rain were reported on Tuesday at both Fowler's Corners and Springville, north and south of the city, but the urban strip is still dry and nearby farms unslaked.

FARMERS' MEETING

A meeting of farmers interested in a proposed seed cleaning plant will be held at A. D. Runions office Saturday night. Another question on the slate is the marketing of the local winter wheat crop.

WANTED IN TRENTON.

Toronto city police on Tuesday arrested Gideon John Miller who is wanted in Trenton on a charge of obtaining merchandise by a worthless cheque. He was taken back to Trenton today.

GOOD FISHING.

According to reports lunge fishing has been good in the canal in the stretch from the golf links to Nassau. No especially big ones have been listed but the anglers are bringing in seven and eight pounders consistently.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE.

Long, dry grass on part of Armour Hill and grass in the old Hilliard Street Cemetery has been burned over by the Fire Department as a precautionary measure. At the direction of the Board of Education, an area of grass on King Edward Park was burned over yesterday.

YEOTES FAMILY RETURNS.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Yeotes and their two children who suffered minor injuries in an auto collision near Colborne over the week-end have returned to the city. Mr. Yeotes has returned to his regular duties, but Mrs. Yeotes is resting for a few days at her home.

PROPOSAL FOR LICENSING.

Licenses for milk and cream vending, restaurants, laundries, bakeries, refreshment booths and so on are to be applied for and issued through the Medical Officer of Health, with the council's approval according to a recommendation by the Board to the council on Tuesday night.

ANNUAL REGATTA.

The annual regatta at Crowe's Landing, Upper Stoney Lake, is scheduled for the afternoon of Saturday August 1st with the usual regatta dance in the pavilion in the evening. The course off Crowe's Landing is considered an ideal one from the viewpoint of both competitors and spectators and the sailing men are especially delighted with the conditions. A program of interesting aquatic events has been arranged with sailing as usual given a prominent place.

CARRIES CAPACITY CROWD.

George Street Wharf presented a scene reminiscent of the pre-depression era as the steamer Stoney Lake slipped from her berth on an excursion cruise this (Wednesday) morning with a capacity holiday crowd. It is estimated that 250 passengers from Peterborough and district participated in the excursion up to Stoney Lake, which is the largest single group of excursionists in recent years. The wharf was cluttered up with scores of automobiles throughout the day, which had been parked there to await the return of their owners. Captain W. Scollard is master of the steamer.

PICKED WRONG CAR.

Two boys whose combined ages are stated to be fourteen years thumbed a ride from an approaching car as they trudged east on Highway 7 in the vicinity of J. T. O'Conner's residence around eight o'clock Tuesday evening. The driver lads, but instead of proceeding east of the car readily picked up the in the direction of Ottawa, which was their stated destination, the car made a smart about turn and landed the adventurers at the police office. The driver of the car was none other than a police officer who had been requested to search for Ken Brown, 8, and Ray Brown 6, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown of 176 Adeline street. Recently the younger of the two boys was brought in from Springville by a kindly motorist who on stopping to ask the toddler where he was going, received the reply, "I'm looking for a job on the farm."

SCOUTS AND CUBS PLAN LAST HONOR TO C. W. COLEMAN

Funeral Of Late Cubmaster From St. John's Church Thursday Afternoon

Charles William Coleman, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Coleman, who died early Monday morning following a brief illness, is to be buried at Little Lake cemetery on Thursday with full Scout honors.

The remains will be removed from the family residence, 121 Brock street, at 1 o'clock p.m., to St. John's church where the casket will be placed in the chancel until the hour appointed for the funeral. Scouts and Cubs of 1st Peterborough (St. John's) Troop and Pack, with which the late Cubmaster Coleman had been actively identified since organization of the groups, will provide a guard of honor.

Pall-bearers have been tentatively chosen, as follows: Cubmasters Gordon Clegg, Frank Pammett, and Pete Dominick and Scoutmasters Fred Ford, Henry Nokes and George Groombridge.

District Commissioner John T. Hornsby, assisted by Cub Commissioner Lewis Grant, will have charge of the guard of honor and parade of Scouts and Cubs, and all members of the local Scout Association who wish to attend the funeral are requested to assemble in uniform, at Victoria Park at 2 p.m.

It is planned that a guard of honor will line the church steps as the casket is removed to the waiting hearse, and that another guard of honor will escort the casket at the cemetery to the graveside.

The late "Bill" Coleman's Scout hat and neckerchief will be deposited on top of the casket, which is to be draped with the Troop colors.

Deaths Increasing From Heart Disease

Peterborough experienced a dangerous increase in the death rate from heart disease during the past year, Medical Officer of Health G. Murray Fraser told the Lions Club at its second meeting in the Kawartha Club Monday night. Eighty-five in the city of which 72 per cent were men succumbed to heart diseases in 1935, he said.

A steady increase in the number of these deaths each year make it imperative that attention be given to the causes, Dr. Fraser said. Among the outstanding causes, he clared, are communicable diseases such as measles and scarlet fever, local infections such as occur in the tonsils, fatigue and mental and emontional strain. Many sudden deaths of energetic and apparently healthy men in their forties and fifties can be attributed to the advanced pace of modern-day life, Dr. Fraser stated.

The speaker warned that no man should forego an annual vacation even though he may feel he has no need of one. Men of middle age should avoid strenuous exercise and the more active sports. Men at forty years of age should realize that they have had enough squash and tennis singles, he said.

At the request of the club members, Dr. Fraser discussed work which might be done in the city to increase the health standard of the community. The club is making a survey to determine what particular line of service project it will undertake.

Max Swanston, president was in the chair. Twenty-two members were present.

Two Lindsay Boys Face Theft Charge

LINDSAY, Ont., July 22 (CP)—Two local youths, 12 and 13 years, have been arrested and charged with the theft of a purse containing $50, the property of St. Paul's Bowling Club. Miss Hazel Hildenbrand, secretary of the club, had left the purse on a table in the rear of a store in which she works. The boys were noticed looking in barred windows but were chased away, returning later to steal the money.

With the several dollars missing from the booty, the lads said they had purchased among other things, a case of beer, loaf of bread, can of beans and to top it an oil a full course dinner at a local restaurant.

For Thursday, July 23

A RATHER lively day is the augury read from the prevailing lunar and mutual aspects of the planets. While employment has signs of advancement or preferments, and there are some very active and encouraging business prospects, yet there are also omens of setbacks, confusions and hazards which must be prudently and cautiously managed to reap promised benefits.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a rather lively and interesting year, with some advantages and satisfaction in employment.

A child born on this day may be capable, earnest and adaptable, especially in employment, although it may be inclined to be given to depressions, anxieties and to stress details.

The Rambling REPORTERS

Sid Black, well known local angler, has no corner on the angling art in his family. The other day he was trolling in Pigeon Lake with his wife and Mrs. Black hooked a nine-pound lunge. The fish was brought safely aboard but bit the line in two and flopped out before it could be stowed away.—C.P.K.

HIGH DIVERS.

Fergus McMahon, who jumped off Hunter street bridge on a dare the other day is by no means the first Steve Brodie of the city to accomplish the fete, it was learned to-day. Four or five witnesses are ready to testify that they saw Buck Wheeler jump from the right hand rail at the west end of the bridge in 1934. A few minutes after Wheeler had made a safe landing and gained the shore, Webb Starr repeated the stunt, diving head first, it is said.

Many local citizens of an athetic turn of mind bear the disinction of having jumped off the old Hunter street bridge which was torn down to make way for the new structure, it is further reported. Former Alderman Nagle Phelan is among this number.—C.P.K.

OFFICE HOURS FOR STAPLETON ARE UNCHANGED

Board Of Health Refuses To Make Exception Of Sanitary Inspector

DUTIES OUTLINED

Dr. Fraser Advocates Pasteurization Of All Milk Sold In City

In redrafting the duties of Sanitary Inspector Chas. Stapleton, the Board of Health last night declined to require him to begin his day's work at 8 a.m. instead of 9 o'clock.

"We want service," Alderman Stocker, chairman, said, and explained that in the proposed additional hour the Sanitary Inspector would have time to make out a report of his previous day's activities, and be ready to proceed with his regular work at 9 o'clock.

"A man doesn't need stated hours if he has the success of his position at heart," was Mayor Macdonald's comment.

Alderman Stocker's criticism was to the effect that Mr. Stapleton was often in his office at 10 o'clock.

Alderman Hamilton: If he gets his work done between 9 and 5 o'clock isn't that satisfactory?

Ald. Stocker: No.

Mayor Macdonald: The Sanitary Inspector may have to be out at night some times, and for that reason his hours of work cannot be rigidly stated.

Alderman Tuggey's objection was sustained and the time clause was struck out.

Prepared by M.O.H.

The report outlining the duties of the Sanitary Inspector was submitted by Dr. G. Murray Fraser, Medical Officer of Health, and was adopted with the one deletion and several minor changes. Engagement of a full-time stenographer for the office permitted a rearrangement of the duties of the Sanitary Inspector. His duties were generally defined as follows:

Weekly inspection of pasteurizing plants supplying milk to Peterborough; monthly check-up of milk received at pasteurizing plants as regards temperature, cleanliness, etc.

Monthly collection of samples of milk and cream from all vendors, such samples to be taken from trucks in the course of delivery.

Monthly inspection of dairies of all raw milk producer-distributors. This will depend upon transportation facilities made available. Inspection is to be carried on occasionally at milking time.

Inspection of all milk producers each Spring and Autumn.

Weekly inspection of bakeshops in the city. Inspection when transportation is available of bakeshops in other municipalities supplying food to Peterborough; inspection to take place occasionally during hours of mixing and baking.

Weekly inspection refreshment booths and restaurants.

Monthly inspection of laundries; also of lanes and public yards.

Monthly inspection of slaughter houses supplying meat for sale in Peterborough. Investigation of complaints relating to the collection of garbage and night soil.

Investigation of complaints of nuisances; also cases of communicable diseases, and placing and removing placards for such diseases.

Reporting in writing to the Medical Officer of Health the results of the investigation of all complaints.

Other provision is made for clerical work by the stenographer, including reports, applications for licenses, enquiries and so on.

Favors Pasteurization

In regard to the inspection of dairies supplying raw milk, Dr. Fraser said that the only solution of the milk problem was pasteurization of all milk supplied to the city.

Ald. Tuggey: It will come in time, but I would not like to cause any hardship to those people just now. It would be a hardship to them because they haven't pasteurizing plants.

Dr. Fraser: Kingston demanded pasteurized milk, so the dairymen supplying raw milk clubbed together and put up their own pasteurizing plant. In any case they could sell their milk to the local dairies who now have pasteurizing equipment.

The Health Officer referred to some experiences which he said had convinced him of the desirability of avoiding raw milk for public consumption, and naturally the safeguarding of public health should be the primary consideration of a Health Department.

Samples of milk for testing must not be "handouts," but are to be taken from wagons in their ordinary delivery routes.

The report was adopted on Alderman Hamilton's motion seconded by Alderman Tuggey.

Spanish Uprising Duplicated Back In 711.

WASHINGTON, July 22 (CP). — The present uprising in Spain led by Arab troops from Morocco was said today by Dr. John P. Harrington, ethnologist of the Smithsonian Institution, to be almost an exact duplication of an event that took place 1,225 years ago. "The present revolt began on July 19 with Arab troops crossing the Straights of Gibraltar, landing and capturing La Linea, and being joined there by Spanish troops," he said. "Exactly 1,225 years ago, on July 19, 711, an identical crossing and conquest of La Linea took place."

IN WORLD TRIP

HAMILTON, July 22.—The experience of eating human flesh was accorded him, Robert Parker, 20-year-old Hamilton youth, affirmed to-day, when telling of his 11-months' tour of the world with Kenneth Weldon, of Peterborough. They encircled the globe, mostly working their way, and in their 40,000 miles of travel Parker said they ate human flesh with Philippine head hunters, talked with Mahatma Gandhi, witnessed the wedding of a 16-year-old Hindoo lad to a bride of 12 years, and engaged in falconry with Sheik Mahomed El Sobalh on the Arabian desert.

Weldon returned to his home in Peterborough several weeks ago. Delaying to extend his visit, Parker has just returned from London, England. He is a frequent visitor to the Parker summer home, near Burleigh Falls.

"At no place we visited did I have the feeling I would like to settle down in preference to Canada," he said.

The idea of the trip was born in an idle vacation near Peterborough. At Montreal they combed the waterfront for two weeks until a berth on a Norwegian freighter as engine room hands was secured. On this boat they saw the Atlantic seaboard, the Panama Canal, the Pacific coast and finally the Orient, stopping at Yokohama, Tokio, Hong Kong, Shanghai and Manila. From there the adventurers pushed inland to encounter the Bontocs, head-hunters of the southern islands. They were hospitably received, Parker declared, although their hosts were waging a bitter feud with the neighboring Illoconos.

Just To Be Polite.

The night before their arrival a scout from the latter camp crept up on the Bontocs and kept the war going by plunging a knife in a tribesman's back, the Hamilton youth told. Equity was restored next day when the slain man was avenged by the capture of an Illocono who, unknown to the visitors, was duly decapitated, his body tossed in a cooking pot.

"The feast preceded a war dance, and when we were invited to eat with the celebrants we did so just to be polite," Parker related. "We had eaten a few mouthfuls when the head of the dead man was produced and set up on a pole around which the whole tribe performed a very impressive war dance. It dawned on us that it was human flesh we had eaten, and although our stomachs rolled around a bit, it was too late to do anything."

From the land of the headhunters the travellers went to Singapore and to India. Parker said he and his friend were guests at an Indian wedding, emulated Richard Halliburton by sleeping in the Taj Mahal, talked with Gandhi and took part in a tigerless tiger hunt.

Gandhi Wishes Luck.

In India they met Gandhi after the apostle of passive resistance had addressed a street crowd. "He wished us luck on our trip and told us he had always wanted to come to America, but he did not think he would ever be able to, as he is getting old. He recently has been very ill, he told us."

According to Parker, one does not have to travel fr. from Canada to find it is an unknown country to scores of otherwise well-informed

Hubbell's Hurling-Bartel's Homer Bests J. Dean

Giants Win 10-Inning Battle from Gas House

Tigers Gain Third Place By Taking Pair From Athletics

BROWNS UPSET YANKS

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Just about once every year, Carl (Screwball) Hubbell and Dizzy (The Great) Dean hook up in a baseball masterpiece that usually turns out to be one of those irresistable force vs. immovable object affairs until the breaks come along.

It was that way just a year ago, when "The Hub" came out on top in a tight duel with the Great One. And the thing was repeated almost to the letter yesterday, with whatever breaks there were going against Dean to make their rivalry over the last three seasons all-even at two wins and two losses for each.

"Old Diz" undoubtedly pitched the better ball game yesterday. He gave up only five hits to the Giants over 10 innings, while his Gas House Gang mates were getting to Hubbel for nine. He struck out half a dozen batters and walked only two. Hubbell fanned but three and passed five.

But Dizzy made the mistake of serving one home run ball more than Hubbell — and that tells the story.

Medwick Steals Show

The Giants won, two home runs to one. Dick Bartell's round-tripper in the 10th broke up the game, after earlier four-baggers by Gus Mancuso and Pepper Martin had tied it all up. The batting hero, however, wasn't either of the homer-hitters, for Ducky Medwick stole the show by tying the National League hitting record for consecutive hits. He made seven in a row Sunday, and added three more yesterday to deadlock the mark at 10. Then he failed in an effort to tie Tris Speaker's major league mark by grounding out his next time up.

The Cardinals' loss put them two full games back of the National League-leading Chicago Cubs, who barely turned back a late Brooklyn rally to nose out the Dodgers 5-3. The Pirates managed to remain in third place by clubbing the Phillies 17-6, after coming from behind a 5-0 deficit. Cincinnati Reds handed the Bees their third straight setback, as Benny Frey bested Ben Cantwell, 3-2, in a mound struggle.

Cleveland Indians, meantime, cut the Yankees' American League lead to eight games by nosing out the Red Sox 8-5 while the Yanks were bowing to Al Thomas and St. Louis Browns 5-4. Johnny Broaca blew a three-run lead to give the Browns the win, enabling them to come out of the American League cellar for the first time this season. The Red Sox, outclassed for eight innings by the Tribe, made a fight of it in the ninth with a three-run spree, which fell just short.

Snap Chicago Streak

Chicago White Sox, opening at home after a highly-successful road trip, had their eight-game winning streak snapped as the Senators came through 6-5. The Tigers moved back into third place and dropped the skidding Athletics into the cellar by taking a double-header decision. They won the opening 8-0 behind Tommy Bridges' seven-hit pitching, and gained a 9-8 edge in the nightcap with a two-run rally in the eighth.

BLAKE BLANKS TORONTO LEAFS

FINAL SCORE 2-0

BALTIMORE, July 22.—(CP). — Toronto's winning streak of five straight games was snapped here last night when Baltimore Orioles blanked Leafs, 2-0, in an International Baseball League game, before a gathering of 3,000 customers.

Sheriff Blake, whose life-time pitching record is 14 victories and four defeats in twirling against the Leafs, was invincible last night. He turned in one of the best pitched games of the season here by holding the visitors down with four widely scattered hits.

Only twice did the Leafs threaten to score off Blake, Miller reaching second in the first inning and McQuinn getting to the midway sack in the ninth stanza. He had perfect control, too, only passing one batsman.

St. Johnson, who twirled seven innings, did not pitch bad ball, either. He yielded only five hits but two extra base blows caused his downfall. They were Woodley Abernathy's twenty-eighth homer of the season in the first inning, and "Dutch" Holland's triple, on which he scored as Les Powers singled in the fifth. Johnson sent six back on strikes.

It was the first time that Baltimore had beaten him in three starts. John Pomerski hurled to three batsmen in the eighth and got by successfully.

Abernathy's twenty-eighth home run of the season over the left field fence put the home team in the lead in the first stanza. Miller had singled in the Leafs' half of the first and went to second on an infield out only to be left stranded. Neither team had a man on base in the second.

Wera led off in the third with a single to left, only to be left. Hoffner robbed Oliver of a hit in this inning with a spectacular one hand stop. Johnson retired the Birds in order in their half for the second straight time.

Toronto again went out in the fourth and so did the Birds, Johnson getting out of a bad hole by fanning Hoffner with the sacks loaded for his fifth strikeout.

Orioles Increase Lead.

Holland's triple to deep centre and Power's single off Handley's shins in the fifth put the Orioles two runs in front. The Leafs went scoreless.

Oliver led off in the sixth by drawing a pass but the next three batters were easy outs. The Birds went down in order.

Neither side had a man on base in the seventh for another runless inning.

Touring By Motor Is Now Less Costly

NEW YORK, July 22—(CP)—American automobile tourists spend $4,000,000,000 a year, according to a report from the American Automobile Association. There are 20,000,000 motorists touring the highways in the country this year, and they spend, en route, an average of $100 each.

This is one of the diversions that have gone down in cost very materially. It is only about one-half of what it was 15 years ago.

The increase in motor touring during the last few years is in no small part the result of the reduction in the cost of car operation. It is estimated the average motorist with $100 to spend, can now travel more than twice as far and see twice as much of the country as he could 15 years ago.

CANADIANS BEAT FREE FORESTERS BY TEN WICKETS

Touring Eleven Gained Six Runs In Second Inning For Third Victory

LONDON, July 22 (CP Cable)—Stacked up against the powerful Free Foresters' eleven, Hon. H. C. Matthews' Canadian cricket team pulled through a surprising 10-wickets victory at Holyport yesterday. It was the third victory of the tour to date.

The tourists, who have not yet lost a match in their Old Country visit, batted impressively for 272 runs. Against this total the home players had a moderate first innings of 196, but failed badly at the second attempt, scoring only 81. The Canadians knocked off the six runs needed for victory without loss.

Vancouver players had a great share in the visitors' success. Norman Pearson hit up 63 Monday, and yesterday David Carey made an even half century before he lost his wicket. W. C. Scott had the Foresters at his mercy for a brief spell, taking three wickets for 10 runs, bring his total bag for the match to seven for 77.

C. A. Segram, Waterloo-Toronto medium-fast bowler, found the wicket suited to his deliveries and gathered four for 47, while L. A. Percival, another Toronto spin bowler, got two for eight. W. E. N. Bell, captain of Mr. Matthews' team, was third highest scorer with 48.

The four English first-class players included in the Free Foresters' lineup, failed to show their class in the second innings. H. T. Bartlett, Cambridge University, compiled 21, F. R. Brown, well-known Surrey amateur, made 17; Denis Wilcox, Essex, could only get six, and N. Haig of Middlesex, three.

WOMEN GOT EVEN BEGAN OWN GAMES

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP). — The most enthusiastic applauders at to-day's Olympiads, and the most serious contestants in the games, women once were denied entrance to the stadia.

In ancient Greece, where the first Olympic games were held, women were prohibited from viewing the contests from hillsides, tree-tops, or knot-holes. Many of the too-curious were put to death. The rule forbidding women to watch the games may have been because contestants were nothing but a grim determination for victory. But, more likely, it was enforced because the earliest Olympics were regarded as religious festivals for men only.

Ignored, the women retaliated with Olympiads of their own, which closely resembled those of the men. These were held every four years, and were called Heraes. At first only running races were included on the program. The earliest feminine Olympians ran barefoot, their hair streaming down over their shoulders.

Feminine victors received olive wreaths. In addition, each won a share of a heifer. No one knows exactly when women first were permitted as spectators at the men's competitions.

No Babe Ruth! League Has Five

A new world record for total home runs in that circuit in one season looms for the American league, thanks largely to the efforts of these five sluggers. All five—Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey, New York Yankees; Hal Trosky and Earl Averill, Cleveland Indians, and Jimmy Foxx, Boston Red Sox—have already hit 14 or more circuit clouts each this season.

Central Press Canadian Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 22.—Five apple knockers with brawny backs and bulging biceps have been dominating the American League scene these recent weeks like a heat wave dominating a drouth-stricken area.

However, there is no drouth in the specialty of the five young men, which is the production and delivery in wholesale lots of home runs. Since mid-April the outer ramparts of American League ball yards have creaked and swayed under the shattering impact of the young men's efforts.

The artisans we refer to are the Messrs. Louis Henry Gehrig, James Emory Foxx, Harold Arthur Trosky, William Dickey and Howard Earl Averill. Together they have sculpted more than 100 home runs of graceful line and beauty equal to some of the masterpieces of that incomparable artist, George Herman Ruth of sainted memory.

That century and more of circuit smacks is approximately one fourth of the American League's total production of homers to date which has passed the somewhat startling figure of 400.

With the 1936 campaign just a bit more than half gone, the American League is apparently headed for a new high in homers in one season. The current league record is 708, achieved by the athletes of 1932 who were largely aided and abetted by the one and only Babe. The old mauling maestro that year contributed 41 circuit smashes to the cause.

At the rate they are hitting them at this time three of the five American league home run pace setters—Gehrig, Foxx and Trosky—have excellent chances of nearing each before the season ends. However, there is little ground for hope, that any of the three or their closest colleagues, Dickey and Averill, will this year approach the Ruthian high water mark of 60, established by the bee in 1927.

Baseball clients may find it a matter of interest that the five potential successors to the regal robes which Ruth wore so long as home-run king, are all associated with so-called pennant contenders. Only the Detroits are not represented, and this is due to the regrettable absence of one Henry Greenberg, Tiger first baseman and a connoisseur of hammered horsehide of wide renown, who has been on the shelf due to injury.

Greenberg smote 36 home runs last season, approximately six per cent. of the circuit clouts (a total of 663) produced by his entire league. It can be seen from this that if Hank were in there with his usual good health he might be leading the pack this year.

American League pitching this year has been of such a stripe baseball fans are moved more to pity than pride. And deep is the disappointment of the followers of several clubs which have failed by a wide margin to live up to pre-season expectations. But A.L. fans really have no kick coming—the circuit's home run hitters, led by the Fearless Five, are treating the customers to a homer orgy not equalled even in the days of the Big Bambino himself.

CLOCKERS GAIN 12-11 VICTORY

Twenty-Three Runs Scored On 26 Hits In Slugging Exhibition

PLENTY OF ERRORS

In a free-hitting game last night at Central, Westclox managed to squeeze out a 12-11 win over the third place Metropolitan Store outfit. The game was an exhibition of tremendous slugging by both squads with a total of twenty-three runs being scored on twenty-eight hits, with plenty of errors being made by players of both teams.

Elliott went the distance for the Alarm crew but was pummeled hard. He tightened up late in the game somewhat and staggered home with a win. Hefferman was on the slab for the losers and was anything but a mystery to the hard-hitting Beckerman gang. He was in hot water throughout the game but was permitted to stay in the box and absorb the loss.

T. Parsons, Curry and Foley all had three hits to lead the Clockmakers at the plate. Vitarelli and Hefferman, also with a trio of base hits, led the Chain Store bunch with the willow.

The fielding by both teams was poor. Goodson for the winners and Fleming for the Ridley crew pulled off nice catches to shine defensively for their respective teams.

The teams:

Westclox: Crary, ss; Stanger, 2b; Curry, lf; O'Leary, 3b; T. Parsons, 1b; White, c; Foley, rf; Goodson, cf; Elliott, p.

BISONS DROP TWO GAMES TO CELLAR PLACE CHIEFS

Syracuse Creeps Closer To 7th Place, Albany On Startling Upset

BEARS-ROYALS SPLIT

(By the Associated Press.)

Apparently the only thing that is certain when Syracuse Chiefs take the field for an International League ball game seems to be that the unexpected will take place. Of course the odds favor a defeat, since the cellar dwelling Chiefs have lost 67 games out of 96 so far, but when they do win it's likely to be against tough opposition and in a way that can't be anticipated.

The Chiefs gave a demohstration last night as they knocked off the second-place Buffalo Bisons in both games of a double-header to make it three straight against that club after a losing streak of nine in a row. The opener was tied at four all at the end of seven scheduled innings. In an extra frame Walt Cazen tripled and Bob Gibson, who had connected twice, refused to accept an intentional pass.

Reaching out for a wide one, he smacked it for a single to bring in the winning run.

Pearce Gets 2nd Win.

Encouraged by that feat the Chiefs went on to hammer out 14 hits and a 7-5 win as relief hurler Frank Pearce, recently acquired from Baltimore for Hy Vandenburg, got credit for his second victory of the day, to top off the evening. Both managers, Mike Kelly of Syracuse and Ray Schalk of Buffalo, were chased from the second game by the umpires.

The double defeat left the Bisons with only a shaky hold on second place as Newark Bears split a twin bill with Montreal. Bill Baker's eighth inning homer gave Newark a 6-5 opening win but the Royals rallied to win 5-3 as Henry Johnson gave up only three hits, all by Dick Porter.

Red Wings Take a Fall.

Slugging Smead Jolley of Albany proved too much for the League leading Rochester Red Wings and the Senators won 5-4 when Jolley's fifth straight blow brought Howie McFarland home from third in the ninth inning.

Hubbell's Hurling-Bartel's Homer Bests J. Dean

Giants Win 10-Inning Battle from Gas House

Tigers Gain Third Place By Taking Pair From Athletics

BROWNS UPSET YANKS

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Just about once every year, Carl (Screwball) Hubbell and Dizzy (The Great) Dean hook up in a baseball masterpiece that usually turns out to be one of those irresistable force vs. immovable object affairs until the breaks come along.

It was that way just a year ago, when "The Hub" came out on top in a tight duel with the Great One. And the thing was repeated almost to the letter yesterday, with whatever breaks there were going against Dean to make their rivalry over the last three seasons all-even at two wins and two losses for each.

"Old Diz" undoubtedly pitched the better ball game yesterday. He gave up only five hits to the Giants over 10 innings, while his Gas House Gang mates were getting to Hubbel for nine. He struck out half a dozen batters and walked only two. Hubbell fanned but three and passed five.

But Dizzy made the mistake of serving one home run ball more than Hubbell — and that tells the story.

Medwick Steals Show

The Giants won, two home runs to one. Dick Bartell's round-tripper in the 10th broke up the game, after earlier four-baggers by Gus Mancuso and Pepper Martin had tied it all up. The batting hero, however, wasn't either of the homer-hitters, for Ducky Medwick stole the show by tying the National League hitting record for consecutive hits. He made seven in a row Sunday, and added three more yesterday to deadlock the mark at 10. Then he failed in an effort to tie Tris Speaker's major league mark by grounding out his next time up.

The Cardinals' loss put them two full games back of the National League-leading Chicago Cubs, who barely turned back a late Brooklyn rally to nose out the Dodgers 5-3. The Pirates managed to remain in third place by clubbing the Phillies 17-3, after coming from behind a 5-0 deficit. Cincinnati Reds handed the Bees their third straight setback, as Benny Frey bested Ben Cantwell, 3-2, in a mound struggle.

Cleveland Indians, meantime, cut the Yankees' American League lead to eight games by nosing out the Red Sox 5-5 while the Yanks were bowing to Al Thomas and St. Louis Browns 5-4. Johnny Broaca blew a three-run lead to give the Browns the win, enabling them to come out of the American League cellar for the first time this season. The Red Sox, outclassed for eight innings by the Tribe, made a fight of it in the ninth with a three-run spree, which fell just short.

Snap Chicago Streak

Chicago White Sox, opening at home after a highly-successful road trip, had their eight-game winning streak snapped as the Senators came through 8-5. The Tigers moved back into third place and dropped the skidding Athletics into the cellar by taking a double-header decision. They won the opening 8-0 behind Tommy Bridges' seven-hit pitching, and gained a 9-8 edge in the nightcap with a two-run rally in the eighth.

BLAKE BLANKS TORONTO LEAFS

FINAL SCORE 2-0

BALTIMORE, July 22.—(CP). — Toronto's winning streak of five straight games was snapped here last night when Baltimore Orioles blanked Leafs, 2-0, in an International Baseball League game, before a gathering of 3,000 customers.

Sheriff Blake, whose life-time pitching record is 14 victories and four defeats in twirling against the Leafs, was invincible last night. He turned in one of the best pitched games of the season here by holding the visitors down with four widely scattered hits.

Only twice did the Leafs threaten to score off Blake, Miller reaching second in the first inning and McQuinn getting to the midway sack in the ninth stanza. He had perfect control, too, only passing one batsman.

St. Johnson, who twirled seven innings, did not pitch bad ball, either. He yielded only five hits but two extra base blows caused his downfall. They were Woodley Abernathy's twenty-eighth homer of the season in the first inning, and "Dutch" Holland's triple, on which he scored as Les Powers singled in the fifth. Johnson sent six back on strikes.

It was the first time that Baltimore had beaten him in three starts. John Pomerski hurled to three batsmen in the eighth and got by successfully.

Abernathy's twenty-eighth home run of the season over the left field fence put the home team in the lead in the first stanza. Miller had singled in the Leafs' half of the first and went to second on an infield out only to be left stranded. Neither team had a man on base in the second.

Wera led off in the third with a single to left, only to be left. Hoffner robbed Oliver of a hit in this inning with a spectacular one hand stop. Johnson retired the Birds in order in their half for the second straight time.

Toronto again went out in the fourth and so did the Birds. Johnson getting out of a bad hole by fanning Hoffner with the sacks loaded for his fifth strikeout.

Orioles Increase Lead.

Holland's triple to deep centre and Power's single off Handley's shins in the fifth put the Orioles two runs in front. The Leafs went scoreless.

Oliver led off in the sixth by drawing a pass but the next three batters were easy outs. The Birds went down in order.

Neither side had a man on base in the seventh for another runless inning.

Touring By Motor Is Now Less Costly

NEW YORK, July 22—(CP)—American automobile tourists spend $4,000,000,000 a year, according to a report from the American Automobile Association. There are 40,000,000 motorists touring the highways in the country this year, and they spend, en route, an average of $100 each.

This is one of the diversions that have gone down in cost very materially. It is only about one-half of what it was 15 years ago.

The increase in motor touring during the last few years is in no small part the result of the reduction in the cost of car operation. It is estimated the average motorist with $100 to spend, can now travel more than twice as far and see twice as much of the country as he could 15 years ago.

CANADIANS BEAT FREE FORESTERS BY TEN WICKETS

Touring Eleven Gained Six Runs In Second Inning For Third Victory

LONDON, July 22 (CP Cable)—Stacked up against the powerful Free Foresters' eleven, Hon. H. C. Matthews' Canadian cricket team pulled through a surprising 10-wickets victory at Holyport yesterday. It was the third victory of the tour to date.

The tourists, who have not yet lost a match in their Old Country visit, batted impressively for 272 runs. Against this total the home players had a moderate first innings of 196, but failed badly at the second attempt, scoring only 81. The Canadians knocked off the six runs needed for victory without loss.

Vancouver players had a great share in the visitors' success. Norman Pearson hit up 63 Monday, and yesterday David Carey made an even half century before he lost his wicket. W. C. Scott had the Foresters at his mercy for a brief spell, taking three wickets for 10 runs, bring his total bag for the match to seven for 77.

C. A. Segram, Waterloo-Toronto medium-fast bowler, found the wicket suited to his deliveries and gathered four for 47, while L. A. Percival, another Toronto spin bowler, got two for eight. W. E. N. Bell, captain of Mr. Matthews' team, was third highest scorer with 48.

The four English first-class players included in the Free Foresters' lineup, failed to show their class in the second innings. H. T. Bartlett, Cambridge University, compiled 21, F. R. Brown, well-known Surrey amateur, made 17; Denis Wilcox, Essex, could only get six, and N. Haig of Middlesex, three.

WOMEN GOT EVEN BEGAN OWN GAMES

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP). — The most enthusiastic applauders at to-day's Olympiads, and the most serious contestants in the games, women once were denied entrance to the stadia.

In ancient Greece, where the first Olympic games were held, women were prohibited from viewing the contests from hillsides, tree-tops, or knot-holes. Many of the too-curious were put to death. The rule forbidding women to watch the games may have been because contestants wore nothing but a grim determination for clothes. But, more likely, it was enforced because the earliest Olympics were regarded as religious festivals for men only. Ignored, the women retaliated with Olympiads of their own, which closely resembled those of the men. These were held every four years, and were called Heraea. At first only running races were included on the program. The earliest feminine Olympians ran barefoot, their hair streaming down over their shoulders.

Feminine victors received olive wreaths. In addition, each won a share of a heifer. No one knows exactly when women first were permitted as spectators at the men's competitions.

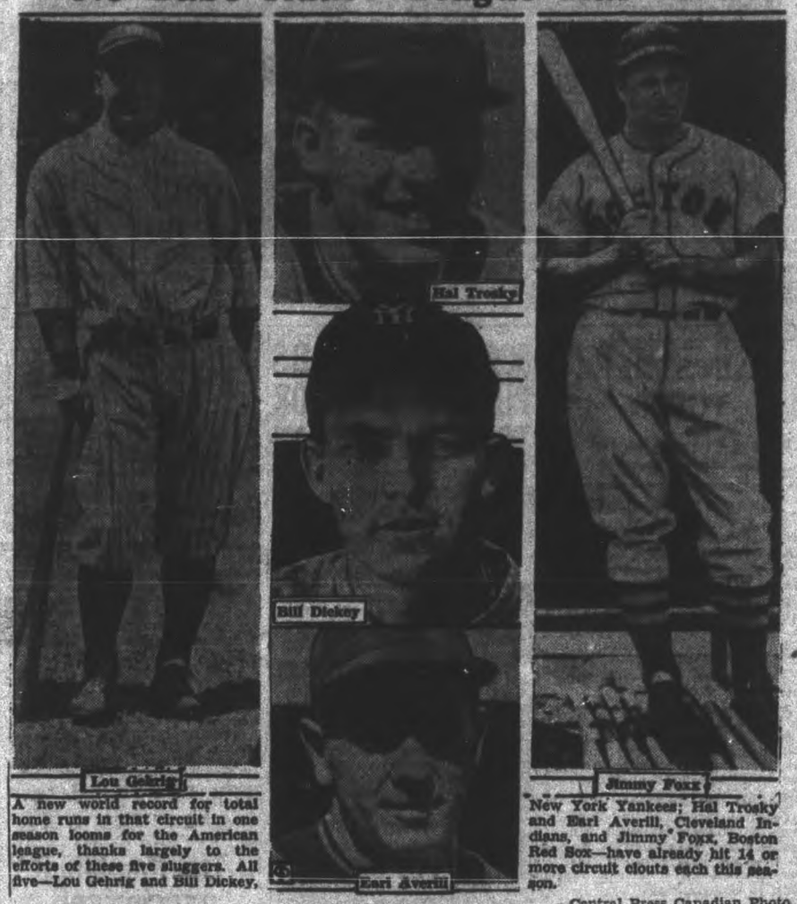
No Babe Ruth! League Has Five



A new world record for total home runs in that circuit in one season looms for the American league, thanks largely to the efforts of these five sluggers. All five—Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey, New York Yankees; Hal Trosky and Earl Averill, Cleveland Indians, and Jimmy Foxx, Boston Red Sox—have already hit 14 or more circuit clouts each this season.

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Canadian Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 22.—Five apple knockers with brawny backs and bulging biceps have been dominating the American League scene these recent weeks like a heat wave dominating a drouth-stricken area.

However, there is no drouth in the specialty of the five young men, which is the production and delivery in wholesale lots of home runs. Since mid-April the outer ramparts of American League ball yards have creaked and swayed under the shattering impact of the young men's efforts.

The artisans we refer to are the Messrs. Louis Henry Gehrig, James Emory Foxx, Harold Arthur Trosky, William Dickey and Howard Earl Averill. Together they have sculpted more than 100 home runs of graceful line and beauty equal to some of the masterpieces of that incomporable artist, George Herman Ruth of sainted memory.

That century and more of circuit smacks is approximately one fourth of the American League's total production of homers to date which has passed the somewhat startling figure of 400.

With the 1936 campaign just a bit more than half gone, the American League is apparently headed for a new high in homers in one season. The current league record is 708, achieved by the athletes of 1932 who were largely aided and abetted by the one and only Babe. The old mauling maestro that year contributed 41 circuit smashes to the cause.

At the rate they are hitting them at this time three of the five American league home run pace setters—Gehrig, Foxx and Trosky—have excellent chances of nearing each before the season ends. However, there is little ground for hope, that any of the three or their closest colleagues, Dickey and Averill, will this year approach the Ruthian high water mark of 60, established by the bae in 1927.

Baseball clients may find it a matter of interest that the five potential successors to the regal robes which Ruth wore so long as home-run king, are all associated with so-called pennant contenders. Only the Detroits are not represented, and this is due to the regrettable absence of one Henry Greenberg, Tiger first baseman and a connoisseur of hammered horsehide of wide renown, who has been on the shelf due to injury.

Greenberg smote 36 home runs last season, approximately six per cent. of the circuit clouts(a total of 663) produced by his entire league. It can be seen from this that if Hank were in there with his usual good health he might be leading the pack this year.

American League pitching this year has been of such a stripe baseball fans are moved more to pity than pride. And deep is the disappointment of the followers of several clubs which have failed by a wide margin to live up to pre-season expectations. But A.L. fans really have no kick coming—the circuit's home run hitters, led by the Fearless Five, are treating the customers to a homer orgy not equalled even in the days of the Big Bambino himself.

CLOCKERS GAIN 12-11 VICTORY

Twenty-Three Runs Scored On 28 Hits In Slugging Exhibition

PLENTY OF ERRORS

In a free-hitting game last night at Central, Weston managed to squeeze out a 12-11 win over the third place Metropolitan Store outfit. The game was an exhibition of tremendous slugging by both squads with a total of twenty-three runs being scored on twenty-eight hits, with plenty of errors being made by players of both teams.

Elliott went the distance for the Alarm crew but was pummeled hard. He tightened up late in the game somewhat and staggered home with a win. Heffernan was on the slab for the losers and was anything but a mystery to the hard-hitting Beckerman gang. He was in hot water throughout the game but was permitted to stay in the box and absorb the loss.

T. Parsons, Curry and Foley all had three hits to lead the Clockmakers at the plate. Vitarelli and Heffernan, also with a trio of base hits, led the Chain Store bunch with the willow.

The fielding by both teams was poor. Goodson for the winners and Fleming for the Ridley crew pulled off nice catches to shine defensively for their respective teams.

The teams:

Westclox: Crary, ss; Stanger, 2b; Curry, lf; O'Leary, 3b; T. Parsons, 1b; White, c; Foley, rf; Goodson, cf; Elliott, p.

Score by innings:

Jim Bottomley Stays With St. Louis Club

ST. LOUIS, July 22.—(AP).— Jim Bottomley, St. Louis Browns' first baseman, who announced in New York he would retire from baseball on his return here, decided yesterday to stay with the team through this season.

The veteran first baseman has been handicapped by a lame back, which was diagosed as an anthritis condition, but he decided he would play as many games as possible while under treatment.

BISONS DROP TWO GAMES TO CELLAR PLACE CHIEFS

BEARS-ROYALS SPLIT

(By the Associated Press)

Apparently the only thing that is certain when Syracuse Chiefs take the field for an International League ball game seems to be that the unexpected will take place. Of course the odds favor a defeat, since the cellar dwelling Chiefs have lost 87 games out of 96 so far, but when they do win it's likely to be against tough opposition and in a way that can't be anticipated.

The Chiefs gave a demonstration last night as they knocked off the second-place Buffalo Bisons in both games of a double-header to make it three straight against that club after a losing streak of nine in a row. The opener was tied at four all at the end of seven schedules innings. In an extra frame Walt Cazen tripled and Bob Gibson, who had connected twice, refused to accept an intentional pass.

Reaching out for a wide one, he smacked it for a single to bring in the winning run.

Pearce Gets 2nd Win.

Encouraged by that feat the Chiefs went on to hammer out 14 hits and a 7-6 win as relief hurler Frank Pearce, recently acquired from Baltimore for Hy Vandenbury, got credit for his second victory of the day, to top off the evening. Both managers, Mike Kelly of Syracuse and Ray Schalk of Buffalo, were chased from the second game by the umpires.

The double defeat left the Bisons with only a shaky hold on second place as Newark Bears split a twin bill with Montreal. Bill Baker's eighth inning homer gave Newark a 6-3 opening win but the Royals rallied to win 5-2 as Henry Johnson gave up only three hits, all by Dick Porter.

Red Wings Take a Fall.

Slugging Smead Jolley of Albany proved too much for the League leading Rochester Red Wings and the Senators won 5-4 when Jolley's fifth straight blow brought Howie McFarland home from third in the ninth inning.

NEW YORK, July 22 (A.P.).—Do you believe in wild stories?....Well, try this one on your lion tamer.... Broadway and Jesse Browning, brothers and regular tackles at Texas Tech., earn their way through college by catching bobcats....They sell the cats to the college laboratories for experimental purposes.... To catch them, the boys mount horses and use lariats....Yip, yip!....Latest peeve of the Boston writers is that the Red Sox are not running out their grounders....Gus Greenlee is paying Jack Blackburn, trainer for Joe Louis, $1,500 for getting John Henry Lewis ready for the Al Gainor bout in Pittsburgh, July 30....Jack will have to double as trainer and chief second to draw down his dough.

Bob Ray of Los Angeles nominated Walter (Rebel) Stephenson as the most travelled major leaguer this season....Stephenson went from his home in North Carolina to join the Cubs at Catalina Island, Cal.... With the Cubs he took the exhibition tour to Florida and then up to Chicago....He got as far as Boston during the National League campaign before being sent to join the Los Angeles club....He made the trip to Portland and Seattle with the Angels....Now that Gabby Hartnett needs help, the Cubs have recalled Stephenson....Can anybody tie that one for jumping about?

When they asked Joe Gould, the manager of Jimmy Braddock, at the Boxing Commission the other day if he could deposit a guarantee cheque of $5,000, Joe answered "Sure," just like that....Then turning to newspaper men, he whispered, "If they had asked me a year and a half ago I would have had to ask them to reduce it to $5, and we would have had to hock something to raise that"....This is just too bad: Bill Herrmann, star outfielder of the Indiana University baseballers, broke a toe chasing a fly ball the other day and must wear bedroom slippers to his summer school classes for a week....If Madison Square Garden has to take the Jimmy Braddock-Max Schmeling row to the courts, it promises the fight will be a honey.

SCHMELING ISSUES 'BID' TO BRADDOCK

German Posts $5,000 As Guarantee Of Good Faith For Title Fight

2.—Madison Square Garden indicated Max Baer will be its nominee when, on July 29, it must come up with a challenger for Braddock's title.

3.—The Tony Canzoneri-Lou Ambers lightweight title bout, set for July 30, was again postponed, this time until August 6.

4.—Sixto Escobar, American bantamweight king, signed to defend his title against Tony Marino of Pittsburgh at Dyckman Oval here, Aug. 31.

Challenges by Cablegram

Schmeling's challenge came in the from of a cablegram to the Commission. Immediately, Mike Jacobs appeared with a certified cheque.

Chairman John J. Phelan said Braddock would be informed of the challenge and the Commisison's approval, and given fifteen days in which to make known his intentions. If he accepts, he must post a similar guarantee.

Joe Gould, the champ's manager, was present and said unofficially the German is acceptable to Braddock, but that he would not so write the Commission until the Garden has its inning July 29.

The Commission's blessing on Schmeling's challenge took some of the wind out of the Garden's plans for a Braddock-Baer bout if the Schmeling-Braddock meeting does not eventuate.

Earlier in the day, Jimmy Johnston, Garden promoter, said he had approached Baer with a proposal to meet Braddock again, that the Californian is willing, and has agreed to the challenger's end, 12½ per cent. of the gate.

"We don't know anything about that," said Chairman Phelan, "but Schmeling is the challenger. Haven't we approved him?"

"But, General, suppose the two promoters can't get together? One controls Schmeling and the other Braddock. How about a Baer bout then?" he was asked.

Clothiers Take 12-5 Win From Omemee On Latter's Grounds

Men's softball standing to date:

Team	P	W	L
Swartz	18	15	3
Westclox	13	9	4
Metropolitans	16	6	10
Quakers	17	6	11
Omemee	14	3	11

Swartz Clothiers increased their lead in Men's City Softball League last night in Omemee by copping a 12-5 decision over the villagers. With good pitching and fielding, the Clothiers showed enough punch to pile up a comfortable lead. Omemee threatened only in the second when they tallied four runs but they were hld in subjection the rest of the way. Chuck Butcher, though wild in spots to walk five, fanned eight. Reeds for the O's struck out four and issued two walks. The teams:

Swartz: H. Dormer, 3b; Playford, cf; W. Calladine, ss; Kearns, 2b; Weir, lf; Walsh, c; Montgomery, rf; Smith, 1b; Butcher, p.

Women Swimmers Fear Dutch In Olympic Games—Men Much Stronger

Aboard S.S. Manhattan enroute to Berlin, July 22 (AP) — Swimmers, who have been working out daily in the ship's midget pool while voyaging toward Berlin, face the keenest challenges from other nations of any United States Olympic teams.

This applies to both the men's and women's teams, whose coaches are planning an intensive two-weeks training period at Berlin to tune up their charges for great efforts.

Bob Kiphuth, coach of the men's team, told the Associated Press today that the swimmers have "a 50-50 chance of regaining the men's team honors lost to Japan in 1932," while Ray Daughters of Seattle, coach of the women swimmers, said, "We have to beat the Dutch to keep the title."

Both the American and Japanese men's teams are stronger than they were four years ago, especially in the sprints. News of a record Japanese performance in the 100 metres altered the idea that there was an edge in favor of the Americans who are placing their main reliance in Peter Fick of New York, whose best time is 57.3 seconds for the hundred.

Otherwise Japan is conceded an advantage in the 1,500 metres free style and the United States in the backstroke. The remaining events are toss-ups.

ACE STUNT FLIER AFRAID OF CARS

Canadian Who Amazed King Edward Feels Safer In In Air

OTTAWA, July 22.—(CP).—The man whose flying amazed King Edward at the recent Northolt air show came home yesterday more than a week late for his summer holidays and told reporters he was afraid of automobiles.

Flying Officer James R. MacLachlan of the Royal Air Force, said he and his companions, Flight-Lieut. H. Broadhurst and Pilot Officer B. G. Morris surrendered eight days of their annual leave so they might stage a show for the King. He could have obtained the eight days later, he explained, but he wants to be back in England in time to take part in the August 29 international air tournament at Hendon.

MacLachan, one of the world's most daring stunt pilots, thinks an airplane one of the world's safest spots, far safer than an automobile "I am all right if I am driving the car myself," he said. "I am sure my only about two people I can drive with in any state o fcomposure."

He said he was particularly alarmed at the manner in which British motorists drive. He has been in two automobile accidents and was slightly injured in one.

MacLachan declared there were fewer reasons for airplane crashes than for automobile accidents and expressed belief most crashes were due to lack of flying experience and bad luck.

"When you see a pilot with considerable flying experience crash you can blame it on hard luck. That is a set of unfortunate circumstanecs arose similar to those which on occasions lead a capable automobile driver into an unavoidable accident."

Crashes don't daunt a pilot, he said, but they do make him more careful.

Leafs Make Strong Bid For Playoff

Night baseball will be the order except for Saturdays and holidays as the Toronto Maple Leafs battle their way out of the second division and into the International League play-offs. After a series of injuries that all but crippled the team during their second swing around the circuit, the boys under Isaac Morgan Boone have rallied and right now are playing championship baseball.

President Clifford Oakley and General Manager Arthur Leman have arranged the following program of games during the month of August and the closing first week in September.

Monday, August 3 (Civic Holiday) —Two afternoon games, 2 and 4, Syracuse vs. Toronto Leafs.

Wednesday, August 5—Two games, Syracuse vs. Toronto. Twilight game at 6.30 p.m. and night game at 9.

Thursday, August 6—Night game at 9, Newark vs. Toronto.

Friday, August 7—Night game at 9, Newark vs. Toronto.

Saturday, August 8—Two afternoon games, 2 and 4, Newark vs. Toronto.

Tuesday, August 11—Night game, at 9, Baltimore vs. Toronto.

Wednesday, August 12 — Night game at 9, Baltimore vs. Toronto.

Thursday, August 13—Night game at 9, Baltimore vs. Toronto.

Friday, August 14—Night game at 9, Albany vs. Toronto.

Saturday, August 15—Two afternoon games, 2 and 4, Albany vs. Toronto.

Thursday, August 27—Night game at 9, Montreal vs. Toronto.

Tuesday, September 1—8.30 p.m., Rochester vs. Toronto.

Wednesday, September 2—8.30 p.m., Rochester vs. Toronto.

Thursday, September 3—8.30 p.m. Rochester vs. Toronto.

Friday, September 4—8.30 p.m. Rochester vs. Toronto.

Saturday, September 5—Two afternoon games, 2 and 4, Buffalo vs. Toronto.

Monday, September 7 (Labor Day) —Two afternoon games, 2 and 4, Buffalo vs. Toronto.

And then the play-off games.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

(By C. J. P.)

TONIGHT at six in Riverside Park if the rain holds off—and embittered farmers swear (and how!) that it will hold off—the first game of the Lakeshore Junior Baseball League playoffs between Oshawa and our Rotarians will be staged. It's a five-game serial and the locals hope to get the jump on their rivals this eve. Should be a nifty number and it deserves a big crowd of ball fans. The kids play a smart game and they're well-matched. Rotary has had an edge through the schedule but the teams start from scratch once the playoffs commence. Next game is in Oshawa on Saturday afternoon.

AT Central last night, Westclox staggered home with a 12-11 nod over Metropolitans. The Clockmen used a patched-up squad and their play was quite patchy. Ditto with the Mets who are still in third place by half a game. Elliott and Heffernan hit the bats of the opposition pretty regularly and had indifferent support. Vitarelli, coaching at third, hollered once to Third-baseman Mike O'Leary, who had picked up a hot grounder: "Don't throw it, Mike!" And Mike hesitated so long he barely got the runner. The men's race is plenty warm now as they hit the stretch. The Mets meet Swarts here tonight with Quakers going to Omemee.

WE can't recall ever seeing a softball triple-play here. But one was pulled in Monroe, Mich., the other day in which the catcher made all the putouts. With runners on second and third, the batter hit to short who pegged home for one out. Catcher threw to first and the guy who had been on second streaked for home. First-sacker pegged home for the second out. Catcher then burned the ball to third to catch the other bird who had rounded second on the play. Throw got away from the infielder and the runner raced for home, but the outfielder's throw beat him. Oboyoboyoboy!

OSHAWA GM-men play the Petes here Saturday. Kingston scribe says the imported Oshawa players are ducking errors by not trying for the hard ones, and they are piling up huge batting averages because their home scorer gives 'em everything in Alexandra Park. He adds: "Out of town where they can't dictate, they become very ordinary hitters." We don't believe the Oshawa scribe is too generous to the team in scoring hits, although Rowden and Mathews are hitting the ball at a terrific clip according to the averages.

KEENE girls again took Westclox into camp, doing it by an 11-9 count on Tuesday night. This gives 'em a very firm grip on top of the ladder with the rest of the pack yapping away some distance back—to mix a metaphor or two. There aren't many more games in the second half and all are plenty valuable from now on. Tonight, Westclox go to Bailieboro and Omemee is slated for Keene while Friday sees Omemee vs. Westclox here. The Alarm Girls are busy these nights catching up on games missed as they vacationed. Incidentally, they have been without the services of Winnie Snowden about a month now—this classy infielder being on the sick list. And she will probably be out the remainder of the season.

* * * * * * *

HERE is what the Oshawa writer says of the local girls, the winner of this loop probably meeting Oshawa British Consols in P. W. S. U. playdowns: "Keene ladies' softball team, who last season were eliminated by Westclox, defeated Westclox in the third game of the playoffs Friday. This game was the final of a first-half series. Winner of the second half will meet Keene to decide the group championship and the right to enter the Provincial playoffs. Many Peterborough fans claimed last year that Keene and not Westclox deserved to be in the playoffs against Oshawa. It looks as if this season the Keene team is going to be very much in the picture. Al Heckman, former Peterborough C. O. B. L. hurler of outstanding fame, helps coach them."

SWARTZ men softballers journeyed to Omemee Tuesday p.m. to catch up on a postponed game and they walloped the O's, 12 to 5. Butcher and Reeds did the flinging with Chuck having an edge. The Clothiers' potent bats and snappy fielding proved too much for the cellar occupants and the boys of Benny O'Swartz moved out another notch ahead of the other squads. This team will automatically go into the loop finals against the winner of the semi-finals and their rivals will find 'em plenty bad medicine in the money serial. George (Prop.) Dormer made his debut as a plate umpire last night there and did right well.

* * * * * * *

MARLBOROS were notified on Tuesday by Oshawa that the Motor City senior O. A. L. A. entry had folded its tent like an Arab and silently dropped out of the race. It was not a long drop as Oshawa had been finding it extremely rocky to even hang onto last place. At least they tried hard to stay in the league—though outclassed badly all season—but concerted blasts by Toronto papers, after Oshawa took a wicked walloping the other day in the Gardens, finished them. Several local players including Pete King, Mick Magee, Red Creighton and Ira Dundas, had played a few games with Oshawa earlieir in the season but have not appeared recently in the lineup. This is probably the death blow to lacrosse in Oshawa.

ISSUE IN DOUBT IN MACKINAC RACE

Late Arrivals Straggle Across Finish Line In Intercity Event

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., July 22 (AP)—Places in the Chicago-to-Mackinac Yacht Race remained in doubt to-day as late arrivals straggled across the finish line.

There likewise was much calculation to be done before it could be determined whether the Detroit or Chicago fleet had won the intercity trophy.

The coast guard rushed assistance early to-day to a member of the Chicago fleet, not definitely identified, which became the third to run aground in shallow water within 12 hours. The yacht, stranded on South Graham Shoals, six miles west of here, sent up a distress flare at midnight. The crew of the Valkyrie, owned by R. P. Benedict of Chicago, which finished at 11.45 p.m., expressed the belief the grounded boat was the Betty Bro.

Two craft earlier had struck the Green Island Reef. Hope, owned by Herman Karnstadt, Port Washington, Wis., hung there an hour and a half, her crew refusing a coast guard line despite her precarious position, swung free unassisted and scudded across the finish line with the lowest corrected time in the racing cruising division, which was 64.33:33. Lynn A. Williams' Elisabeth struck the same obstruction later, but her crew likewise freed her without assistance.

Finishes Second

F. H. Byrnes' Intrepid, first yacht into port with an elapsed time of 68.16:17, was second on the basis of her corrected time of 66.14:14. Princess, owned by K. A. Kallgren and Ed Jedzrykowski of Chicago, was third on her corrected time, which was 68.06:58.

Rubaiyat, owned by Nathaniel Rubinkam, led Hope across the finish line and won the Mackinac Cup for the best corrected time in either the class A or class B cruising division, 59.10:19. Her elapsed time was 68.16:17, and gave her the class B victory as well.

Class A honors went to the Southern Cross, with Maruffa second and third place in doubt. Ponjola, owned by James R. Lowe of Grand Rapids, was favored for the remaining place with an elapsed time of 74.16:35 and a corrected time of 67.36:54.

The Rubaiyat was the only boat of its division in port. The last of the Detroit fleet, which was paced by Russell Alger's Baccarat, arrived yesterday afternoon.

people. "In India nearly everyone associated Canada with the United States," he said. "We met a Hindoo student who asked us where Canada was, and when we told him, replied: 'It is in the United States, then,' and when we carefully explained the geographical and political association of the country, he raised his eyebrows and exclaimed: 'Then you speak very good English to have come from such a country.'"

In India and through western Asia to the Mediterranean they travelled by bus and train. It is their boast that they crossed India for a dollar, largely, Parker explained, by eluding train conductors by a system of ducking in and out of compartments on the trains.

In Iraq, Parker said, they were guests of the police commissioners in various cities and towns, an entree gained for them by a travelling companion at Praque who made this part of the trip with them.

Engaged in Falconry.

From Basra in Iraq they journeyed inland for 200 miles to the camp of Sheik Mahomed El Sobalh, where for three days they rode comels, dressed in Arabian costume and ate Arabian food, Parker recounted. While here they took part in a falcon hunt. The Arabian falconer trains the bird to corner its quarry, usually a pheasant or desert pigeon, while the party shoots it. At the junction of the Euphrates and Tigris Rivers the oasis supposed to be the original Garden of Eden, complete with the original Tree of Knowledge, was visited.

In Italy Parker said he was taken to jail while his companion went to Naples to interview the British consul. Sitting in the railway station at Bari, Parker was seized by police and protestingly dragged off to prison, where in a foul cell he spent two weeks on a diet of bread and water, with vermin for company, he said.

"The only reason for this action that I could see was that I was a British subject," Parker said. "Feeling against the British was running high just then, for sanctions were at their height. Finally, through the British consul at Naples I was released with orders to leave the country in eight days. We went up the coast by boat and at every port a police officer came down to the boat to see I was still on board when we left."

"War Within a Week."

Parker declared that at one time during his brief stay in Italy there was great talk of war with England within a week. Huge benzine tanks at Naples were guarded night and day because the Italians feared a British air attack.

Ottawa Bantam May Be Forced To Return Without Competing

LACK OF FINANCES

OTTAWA, July 22. — The Journal says to-day that unless required expenses are in the hands of the Canadian bantam chapion, that unless next few days, Harvey Lacelle, Ottawa member of the boxing team, will be forced to return to Canada without competing.

Word was received yesterday by J. T. Lacelle, father of the Canadian bantam chompion, that unless the money is raised before Friday, when the Duchess of Bedford docks in France, Lacelle will be sent back to Canada on the next boat, the Journal continues.

After winning the Canadian championship in the trials at Montreal, Lacelle, although generously praised for an outstanding effort, was included on the team, but not furnished the $300 grant from the Olympic Committee. After a hurried consultation here the Ottawa boy went to Montreal and boarded the Duchess of Bedford with little more than half the required expense money guaranteed by his father and a few friends.

It will be necessary for Olympic officials to receive $132 before Friday or Lacelle will be cut loose from the team in France and sent back here, the Journal says. However, friends of the clever young Ottawa boxer are confident that individual donations may yet swell the total to the required amount and permit him the opportunity he has earned to compete in Berlin.

Lawn Bowling
By HERB MARTIN

SOMEBODY ONCE SAID: 'You will never get a break by playing a short bowl.' This was beautifully illustrated on Tuesday night in the final Central Ontario doubles when Bob Hendry played well up, got two lucky kisses and then rolled over beside the kitty for shot and game. What made it harder to take was the fact it was the last end and the game was tied.

AND THEN again in the Flannery-McMillan game with Mac leading 11-4, Wes played well over and came through the 1,000 islands, hit his second's bowl knocking that worthy onto the kitty and then again driving the kitty back to their own bowls to count a big 5, it was the turning point of the game... Benny Chesler just lacked a few inches of making a possible 8 against Walter Oke.

WE ARE NOW ready to receive entries for Central Ontario rinks competition, the entries close August 1st ... R. Hendry and Nels Routley will be one pair, R. F. Downey and J. J. Howden the other doubles to represent our club in the Central Ontario doubles competition to be held here on Monday afternoon... One mixed tournament will commence at 7.30 p.m. to-night (Wednesday).

U.S Sending Warships Aid Citizens In Spain

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Dashing to Spain to evacuate Americans if necessary, one United States warship approached the coast of that strife-racked country to-day while another is due Friday.

By flashing the orders to the battleship Oklahoma and the fast cruiser Quincy yesterday, State Department officials revealed their concern over the situation arising from the civil combat in Spain.

They had received no word, however, to indicate any of the 1,582 Americans in the country had suffered harm.

The battleship Oklahoma was off Cherbourg, France, yesterday, on a training cruise with midshipmen from Annapolis when Admiral William H. Standley, acting secrtary of the navy, sent out the sailing orders.

BAKER REPLACES MICKEY COCHRANE

Again Assumes Tigers' Managerial Reins In American Title Hunt

DETROIT, July 22 (AP).—Mickey Cochrane, manager of the champion Detroit Tigers, consulted his physicians last night, while Delmar Baker again took up the burden of directing the team's fight to stay in the American League race.

On results of an examination for hyper-thyroidism rested the answer to the question of Cochrane's participation in the closing weeks of the pennant campaign. Alternatives were an operation or another prolonged rest cure.

The pinch-managerial role is familiar to Baker by this time.

When Cochrane left the Tigers in the east June 10, to enter a hospital and later go to a Wyoming ranch, it was Baker, the former Beaumont, Tex., manager, who filled the breach.

The Bengals immediately slumped into a losing streak, dropping to sixth place in league standings.

Baker, like Cochrane, a catcher in his playing days, set about to restore the Tiger confidence.

On June 10 the Tigers had won 29 games, lost 24, were in third place, with a .547 percentage. The team batting average was .279.

July 15, when Baker turned the team back to Manager Cochrane in New York, the Tigers had won 15 of their last 20 games, they were batting .294, and rested in second place by half a game, with a .550 percentage.

The "pinch manager' got credit on all sides for a good job in a tough spot. He praised the players for their comeback qualities.

CHAPTER 44

WHILE SHE was waiting for an answer to her call to Win, Joan looked into a mirror at her side and was startled to find how large and dark her eyes were in her white strained face.

"Please make him answer," she prayed silently, "and please let me think of him as a friend and nothing more."

"Hello. . . ." Win's voice. The voice she had heard over and over in her heart.

"Dr. Winsloe?" He said it was. "Win . . . this is Joan," she didn't wait for him to say anything. "I need you . . . something terribly serious has happened. Please don't ask me any questions. Come to me at once. There's been an accident." She gave him the address and hung up the receiver.

"Can you trust him?" Sheila begged.

"With everything but my heart," she answered with a bitter note. Then, "Go in the other room and change your dress, Sheila. That looks bad."

While Sheila changed her dress, Joan sat beside Pierre and wished that she knew something about first aid for gentlemen who shot themselves accidently or otherwise. Was one a gentleman if one did such a thing?

With such foolish thoughts she occupied her mind to keep the thought of the meeting ahead from crowding it.

Nevertheless when she found a lipstick in the pocket of her coat, she painted her mouth with it without realising that she did it.

Why didn't he come? It was scarcely 10 minutes between the time that she talked to him and the moment when he arived but Joan lived through five years of suspense.

She had often thought of the moment when she would see him again, conducted countless imaginary conversations with him, conversations that were bright and gay and friendly but distinctly impersonal.

Now, all she said was, "Thank you for coming, Win. In here, please"—and as he followed her into the white living room with its arresting color note of crimson that dyed the white rug—"Sheila, this is Dr. Winsloe, an old friend of mine. Miss True."

Win acknowledged the introduction with the merest nod. His attention was for the figure on the lounge. While he probed with expert fingers Joan babbled on about the 'accident'.

"We'll do away with explanations for now,Joan. Get me a basin of hot water. I'll need your help."

There was no time, and this was not the place, for personalities. It seemed perfectly natural that Joan should help Win, hand him the instruments he named, sterilize them at his instruction, watching his deft, sure fingers and wailing with thumping heart until he said, "Not a bad wound but we'll have to operate to get the bullet out."

Then Joan told him why they had sent for him and begged his help to keep the whole thing quiet.

For a whole minute of silence Joan was afraid that he would not agree. Then he said, "All right . . . if you'll give me a hand. I'll take him to a hospital and no one will know where he has come from."

"No, Joan, darling. I can't let you do that." Sheila appeared wrapped in a cape of snowy ermine, "I will go with Pierre if the doctor will permit me."

"You'll do nothing of the kind." Joan was furious. "The whole idea, which was yours, was that you are not to be connected with this in any way and now you want to do a Florence Nightingale, turning up at the hospital with him. I wish I could wash my hands of the whole affair."

"Steady, old girl, or I'll have two patients." Forgetting that this was no longer the old Win who had talked to her the same way years ago, Joan flashed him a glance. The kind that used to end with both of them laughing.

They didn't laugh now. Pierre absorbed their attention. He had opened his eyes.

"That's better." Win said. "Feel strong enough to be half carried?"

Pierre nodded weakly and somehow Joan and Win got him to his feet and wrapped a coat around him. Then, each supporting his dead weight, they got him downstairs and into Win's car.

There was nothing to say on the drive to the hospital.

"Wait here," Win said to her in the hospital corridor. "Raney will operate at once. I won't be needed but I'll fix things up so that the newspapers won't hear anything about it."

Because it was an old habit to do as Win asked, Joan waited.

"Now, what you need is coffee."

"Can't," she mumbled, climbing back into the car, "can't go to get coffee in pajamas at this time of the morning."

Win didn't answer. He drove east, all the way over to the river and piloted her into a startlingly white all-night lunch room where he sat her at a table in a far corner and gazed at her hungrily.

She was too utterly worn with all the excitement she had been through to wonder at it, to think how strange that she and Win would meet this way again, this incredible way.

"Which one of you shot him?" he asked.

"Which one of us is crazy?" she demanded. "You never knew me to lie to you did you, Win?"

"No, Joan. Honesty was always the best policy with you." He tore a match book into tiny pieces, refusing to meet her eyes.

"It still is," she said, well aware that they were not referring to the shooting but to the thing that had happened between them.

"Don't bother to glue your eyes to the table. I'm not going to do any post mortems, Win. What was between you and me is all over. Thanks for inviting me to the wedding. I went, you know."

"I know," he answered miserably.

"Lovely." She stopped as she found herself about to describe the bride, the flowers and the music.

"I've been dreading this moment," he said, starting on the second book of matches and looking up to give their old order of corn flakes and thick cream to the waiter. That was a touch that stabbed her deep inside.

"Then skip it. There isn't anything to say anyway. We've both grown up since then and I don't believe in crying over spilt milk. I'll have a cigaret if you please."

She let the cigaret go out when he gave it to her because his hand touched her own when he tried to steady the light.

"You have an explanation due you, Joan, but I've always been too ashamed to go to you with it." He ate his cornflakes heartily.

"I thought I did, too, but that was nearly a year ago and I feel differently now."

"Do you?" He looked up quickly.

"Certainly. You didn't think I was the languishing type, did you?"

"No," he said, but his expression told her plainly that he expected she'd still care.

"I figured it out from your letter that things were just as you said: you'd fallen in love. People can't help falling in and out of love any more than they can fall in and out of it when they want to." Her throat felt stiff.

"We've got to talk. When can I see you?"

"You can't," she said. "Please take me home now."

She was glad of the darkness and stillness of Julian's house that hid her tears from herself. Heaven help her! She still loved him and fell asleep calling his name from the bottom of her heart.

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE MOLE

All of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping along the woodland path one day the wind blew off his glasses.

"Oh, my!" cried the rabit gentleman. "I hope they don't break!"

He tried to catch them in his paw as they went sailing off his nose but he wasn't quick enough. Away sailed the glasses and when the wind finished blowing them it very carelessly dropped them down on a stone and they broke all to pieces.

"That wasn't very kind of you, Mr. Wind," said Uncle Wiggily as he hopped along to pick up his spectacles, wishing at least one glass wasn't broken so that he might see out of one eye. "Why did you do it?"

But the wind was filled with mischief that day and didn't stop to answer the old rabbit gentleman. It hurried along to blow dust in the eyes of old lady rabbits, to blow kites for the boy animals and to bend the trees so they seemed bowing to one another.

Spectacles Broken.

"Both glasses smashed," said Uncle Wiggily as he felt around on the ground near the stone where he had heard the tinkle of broken glass.

"Now I haven't any spectacles to wear home and how shall I find my way when I can't see I don't know. Oh, dear!"

Uncle Wiggily's eyes were very sore that day. He had gone to Dr. Possum, who gave him a pair of special spectacles to wear for a time, after which his eyes would be well again. But now the spectacles were broken and, though he wasn't far from home, Mr. Longears didn't know how he was going to see his way to get there without help for his eyes.

"I know what I'll do," said the rabbit gentleman. "I'll stand here until some one comes along and I'll ask them to lead me home. It's almost as bad as being in the dark. But some one will help me. Some of my own rabbit children may hop along, or some of the animal boys may come from the ball game."

So Uncle Wiggily sat down on a stump near the path and waited. The same wind that had blown off and broken his glasses rumpled his fur and blew away his hat. His paws were dirty as he had used them to feel around in the dust to pick up the frame of his broken glasses. And his clothes also were dusty and dirty.

"Will you please lead me home?" he asked. "The wind has broken my glasses, my eyes are sore and I can't see. Please take my paw and lead me along to my hollow stump bungalow."

Wouldn't Help Him.

"Oh, come on! Run quick!" cried a little girl animal's voice. "It's an old tramp rabbit and he's just saying that to fool us. Don't go near him. Come on!" So the animal children, not knowing Uncle Wiggily, wouldn't help him. Poor Mr. Longears didn't know what to do. He sat there on the stump asking more animal children who came along to help him but they wouldn't. Really Uncle Wiggily did look like a tramp rabbit but he didn't know that. No one seemed to know him. Pretty soon he heard some one else coming along and he called:

"Will you please lead me to my bungalow?"

"Of course I will," was the answer. "Stoop over and take hold of my tail. I can't see you but I like your voice and I'll lead you home."

"Who are you?" asked Uncle Wiggily, for he couldn't see.

"I am the mole," was the answer. "I came up out of my burrow to get a little fresh air. I am blind. I have no eyes at all. But I can easily smell my way to your burrow. I know it well. I pass it every day."

So Uncle Wiggily took hold of the blind mole's tail and the mole, which is a little animal like a large mouse, led the rabbit gentleman safely home. And if the sidewalk doesn't turn upside down so the hydrant can't play hop-scotch, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the jumping rope.

Time-Worn Letters From Over World Wait Cruising Seamen, Montreal Harbor

MONTREAL, July 22.—(CP). — There's a letter from Port Said, Egypt, waiting to-day for Seman Achmod Ali in Montreal in an unofficial post office that handles perhaps the most varied assortment of mail to gather in any place in the Dominion.

It is one of a bunch of letters addressed to sailors aboard ships and rests in the Montreal Harbor Commission office. But even if Ali doesn't show up here again the chances are he will get the letter at some other port.

Right now it rests at the bottom of a pile that have come from almost every country anybody could think of. They must wait for the day when the seamen touch the port of Montreal or be sent on to a more likely port of call.

Ali's letter must wait some time. At present his ship, the Dalfram, is somewhere in the Atlantic ocean, bound from Newfoundland to Manchester, Eng.

Some letters waiting here for seamen have been travelling for a long time. Some will keep travelling and go from port to port until they are lost. Others will never reach their destination.

Australia Qualifies For Davis Cup Round

WIMBLEDON, England, July 22 — (CP Cable). — Australia captured the Davis Cup inter-zone final series with Germany today and qualified to meet Great Britain in the Challenge Round.

Vivian McGrath was the hero of the series winning his singles match this afternoon from Heiner Henkel, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4. That gave the Aussies the series, with three matches to one.

Owing to heavy rain which started shortly after, the final scheduled match—which could have no bearing on the outcome—was not played. It would have been between Jack Crawford and Baron Gottfried Von Cramm. Germany forfeited the match, giving Australia the series, four matches to one.

The Aussie team had a 2-1 edge in watches when play began today.

U.S. FEARS SHOWERS ARRIVED TOO LATE

Water Projects Are Started Across West As Relief Measures

CHICAGO, July 22.—(AP).—Reports that recent rains had failed to shake the drought in a wide area of the United States corn and cattle belt centered attention of federal and state officials to-day on a long-range program for relieving the stricken dwellers.

Observers in such typical drought-ravaged states as Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma, Montana, Illinois and the Dakotas said that in much of their territories the rainfall either came too late or was insufficient to counteract the effects of prolonged aridity.

WPA officials asserted 350 water conservation projects in the western states already had put 24,150 men to work, providing almost the sole source of employment for needy farmers.

The resettlement administration, distributing $3,393,000 in direct subsistence grants to farmers, explained its general plan called for the removal of hard-hit families to fertile land as close as possible to their former homes.

Federal Agricultural Statistician Leslie M. Carl said after a week-end survey that probably more than half of the corn crop in Iowa's western counties was damaged beyond recovery. Crop observers expected corn to revive elsewhere but predicted reduced yields.

Spectroscope Now Looks Into Textiles of Dresses

Woman Astronomer Claims Instrument Being Used Widely In Industrial Problems

EXAMINES AIR QUALITIES

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Writer)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 21.—(AP).—Mary E. Warga, woman astronomer, of the University of Pittsburgh, has brought the spectroscope, the "eye" that tells what stars are made of, down to earth for everyday work in making the textiles for dresses.

Miss Warga told about it to-day at the annual conference on spectroscopy and its applications at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The spectroscope breaks up light into the rainbow and records thousands of shades invisible to the eye. Each shade accurately identifies one of the substances in the material producing the light.

Instead of looking at starlight, Miss Warga looked at the light of some stained dress goods threads while they burned in the end of a hollow electrode. These threads had been stained in manufacture. The stains would not come out.

The spectroscope showed that they were discolored by tin and copper. It was found that these two metals came from some bronze "travellers" over which the threads had passed. Substitution of hardened steel for the bronze eliminated the stains.

Helps in Industry.

Miss Warga said that in the Pittsburgh district spectroscopic analysis is being used more and more widely to aid in solving industrial problems.

Used to examine the air of Pittsburgh at a height of 10 stories in the downtown district, it showed considerable amounts of iron, and copper, and smaller amounts of silicon, magnesium, aluminum, sodium, calcium and lead.

The instrument also proved useful, she said, in revealing the presence of silicon in lungs. Silicon is the cause of silicosis, the most widespread industrial lung disease. The spectroscope not only showed the presence of silicon, but accurately revealed the amount. It was used on dried lung tissue after autopsy.

Mrs. C. Cochrane, Betty, Norma, Ronald and Kenneth, Mrs. T. Milligan and sons Tommy and Peter, Mrs. J. Chalmers, Ethel and John, and Mrs. Margaret Scott of Toronto, are holidaying for two weeks in the Denike cottage at Green Point.

Mr. Will Falkner of Ottawa is holidaying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Falkner at their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlton left on Monday for Toronto after holidaying at Cedar Isle.

Mrs. Hallowell and son Fred arrived on Sunday from Toronto to spend the remainder of the summer at their cottage. The Misses Gladys and Lillian Hallowell and Mr. Perry McKenzie of Toronto accompanied them, returning the same day for the city.

Mr. Arnold Anglin and Mr. Gordon Wilkinson of Toronto spent the week-end with Mrs. Anglin and father, Mr. George Holmes, at their cottage.

Mrs. Ed. Williams of Toronto, who has been holidaying at her cottage at round Lake, is a visitor with her sister, Mrs. Sam Cross at Cedar Nook. Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Cross of Toronto are spending a week at Cedar Nook, the summer home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Malpass and daughter Jean of Cooksville are holidaying at Poplar Cove. Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Hamilton and Jean of Toronto are with them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDonald and daughters Helen and Ruth, of Toronto, were week-end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Russel Malpass at Poplar Cove.

Mrs. George Laughlen and daughter Mrs. Lloyd Goodman, with her daughters Mary and Shirley of Toronto, are holidaying at Rockwyn.

Mr. George McLaughlan plans to return this week-end to spend his annual vacation at Rockwyn.

Sunday guests with Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Watson at As You Like It were: Mr. and Mrs. Kendall of Gatineau, Quebec, Dr. and Mrs. George Ferris of Cobourg, Dr. and Mrs. Gibson and daughter Patricia of San Bernardino, California.

Miss Gertrude Maynard of Campbellford is a visitor with her sister, Mrs. (Dr.) O. C. Watson.

Mrs. Warn and children have returned to Toronto after holidaying at Jubilee Cottage.

LAKEFIELD

Mr. Allen Dawe and his mother, Mrs. W. A. Dawe, of Toronto, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crawford over the week-end.

Miss Virginia Shearer is in Toronto, where she will be spending several weeks visiting friends.

Miss Hazel Crawford is spending a few days at "Big Island," Stoney Lake, the guests of Misses Margaret and Mary Tanner.

Messrs. Carmen Payne, Frank Payne and Victor Lancaster were guests of Mr. Harry Sherin at their cottage, Stoney Lake, on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. McDougall of Toronto has been very lucky in fishing around Lakefield. He landed a 5½-lb. small mouthed bass last week and a 4½-lb. one this week.

Mrs. Mendall Smith and daughter, Sylvia, of Geiert, Ont., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. Welbourne.

Miss Agnes Miller of Indian River is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miller.

Mr. Dick Stewart of the staff of the Bank of Commerce in Schumacher, Ont., is spending his vacation in Lakefield, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webster, before going on to his home in Beaverton.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith and little daughter, Margaret, are spending a week at their cottage at Lake of Bays, Muskoka.

Miss Muriel Miles of Peterborough and Miss Norma Starley of Toronto have been spending a week with Miss Betty Brown.

Miss Isobel Brown spent the week-end with Miss Cora Charlton, "Kincora Cottage," Kawartha.

Dr. D. C. McDougall, Mrs. McDougall, their little son Peter, and Mrs. J. Welsh of Tocatella, Idaho, are visiting at their home here, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Brown.

Mr. Harry Sherin is spending a few days in Toronto.

Miss M. S. Bird of Hamilton is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Waterbury.

Mr. G. B. Waterbury and Mr. Bert Hazel of Hamilton spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Millage.

Messrs. Carmen Payne and Frank Payne motored to Toronto Saturday evening for Mrs. Payne and little son, Eugene, who have spent the last week with Mrs. Payne's mother, Mrs. McGowen.

Professor Walter Brown, Mrs. Brown and son McCrae, are spending a month with Mr. Brown's mother, Mrs. J. G. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilson of Cobourg, spent the week-end with Mrs. Myrtle Peacock at Warsaw, where Mrs. Peacock is spending two weeks at Mr. W. Dunford's cottage.

About 100 young and old left the Lakefield United Church on Thursday morning for the annual Sunday school picnic, which was held at Nicholls Oval, Peterborough, at 12 o'clock. All sat down together as one large family and enjoyed all the good things which always go with a picnic. At 2 o'clock the sports were run off, after which all went to Inverlea Park, where those who wished went in swimming. Supper was served at 5 o'clock, after which there was a very interesting ball game. Mr. Herb Brown had a booth on the grounds which provided lots of refreshments for the children, and all came home and reported a real jolly time.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile juice into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well as bowels. Dr. Miles' Laxative Bile Beans are wonderful. They are gentle, yet thorough. They make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

GOT STOLEN STUFF FROM STRANGE MAN

That Is Defence Of Youths Charged With Cobourg Theft

(Examiner Correspondence.)

COBOURG, July 21.—Purchase of the articles from an unknown man was the explanation made by Arthur Richardson, Oscar Westoff and John Channing, Ottawa youths, in accounting for allegedly stolen goods found in their possession when arrested on vagrancy charges in Bowmanville, the day after a service station here had been broken into.

The three appeared on theft charges in police court, being remanded for a week.

Chief of Police Sidney Venton, of Bowmanville, arrested the men and a search revealed sun glasses, some cash, two flashlights, a gold and a silver watch and other articles.

In court yesterday Robert Love, manager of the service station, identified the goods as those taken from his premises on July 6. The defendants didn't question the original ownership of the loot, but declared they had bought it all for $3.00 from a stranger in Bowmanville.

TWO COMETS NOW VISIBLE

days ago, it is a faint patch of light hardly more than faint tar size.

This comet is 93,000,000 miles away from the earth, already has passed the sun, and is believed moving away so that it may not be visible more than a few days longer.

The easiest way to locate Peltier's comet in the northeast is to look for the constellation Cassiopeia, a little more than half-way down toward the horizon. Cassiopeia is five stars forming the letter "W" with its open side pointed down toward the horizon.

The comet lies above Cassiopeia's right-hand line up toward the zenith. It should be about half-way between the horizon and Zenity by 10 p.m. An aid to locating it is a bright star about 10 degrees above Cassiopeia. The comet appears about half-way between this star and Cassiopeia's right arm.

The comet, of the brightness and shape of a medium star, is slightly elongated, indicating the formation of its tail in its rush toward the sun. Whether sufficient tail will be formed to make a good spectacle still is unknown. In the telescopes its tail is distinct now, but very short.

May Dim Slightly.

It appears certain for the northern hemisphere the comet will dim slightly before August 4, because it will be so low in the south then the atmosphere will interfere with good visibility.

The Japanese comet has a tail visible only in the telescopes, but fully one degree in length.

Stones in a very stony field furnish a good example of the density of such heavenly objects. Mathematical calculations show the separate stones can lie a metre or more apart and still travel together, held by gravitation.

There are other known substances in comets. The spectroscope shows some light is emitted, not merely reflected like moonlight. The emitted light shows the presence of sodium, hydro-carbons, and cyanogen compound.

These substances, the spectroscope indicates, are incandescent, either with heat or because of high electrical tension.

There are no known facts, only theory, to account for the origin of these collections of stray bits of matter. It is believed most comets originate in parts of interstellar space outside the gravitational influence of the sun and its planets.

EX-BAND LEADER PASSES.

LONDON, Ont., July 2.—(CP)—Cameron Brown, 68, former manager of the Toronto Highlanders, a Canadian band which made a sensational tour of the United States about 1900, died to-day at Pittsburgh, Penn. His body will be brought here for burial Friday.

Mr. Brown was a former city editor of the London Advertiser. He was a nephew of the late John Cameron, founder of the Advertiser.

SIX REPRESENTED AT ACHIEVEMENT

Successful Northumberland County Event Held At Campbellford

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARKWORTH, July 22. — The girls' achievement day for Northumberland County for the Supper Club project was held in Campbellford on Friday, July 3, under the supervision of Miss Greta Pollard, county coach. A great deal of interest was shown by the thirty-two girls participating from six clubs—Seymour East, Seymour West, Hastings, Warkworth (two clubs), and York Road. The standard of the work exhibited was of the highest order. A. H. Martin of Brighton announced that the entry fee and transportation would be paid to those girls who wished to take part in the intercounty days at Peterborough and Belleville fairs, and a team would be sent to the Canadian National Exhibition to represent the county at the provincial day.

During the morning the girls judged the supper menus and tea biscuits and planned supper menus. In the afternoon eight team demonstrations were put on by the different clubs on the subjects, "Let's make tea biscuits" and "Table set for farm supper with menu." Five girls of the Willing Workers' Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Percy Jones, and five girls of the Sunshine Supper Club under the leadership of Mrs. George Nelson, competed and won high standing. These girls represented the Percy Women's Institute. Among the list of ten high girls the following were from the Percy Branch: Mrs. Percy Jones 1, Mrs. Ray Seeney 4, Grace Sloggett 6, Jean Anderson and Grace Wilson tied for ninth place.

Charts—Mrs. Percy Jones 5.

Judging menus — Perfect score, Grace Wilson.

Judging tea biscuits—Perfect score Lillian McCleary, Orletta Gummer, Clara Nelson.

Exhibit—Percy Sunshine Club (tie for first place). Mrs. Percy Jones, Jessie Hicks, and Grace Wilson were presented with diplomas for having completed two projects 1935 and 1936. The girls decided to start a new project early in the fall, "The well-dressed and well-groomed girl."

DARTFORD

The West Sunday School held their annual picnic at Minnetonka Park, Rice Lake, on Wednesday, July 8. Despite the hot weather, a good crowd was present and enjoyed a good time.

Mr. Allan Harvey, of Toronto, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Atkinson.

Miss Ona Carr spent the week-end with her friend, Miss Lillian Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. Clarence McKague and Mrs. W. Runnels visited Mrs. Frost at Caesarea last week.

Miss Elsie and Jean Copperthwaite visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Sprung on Friday.

What's the News?

MR. PICOBAC had been giving some thought to the news of the day while waiting his turn in the red plush chair. He turned his attention now to a matter of more immediate concern.

"Can anybody tell me what in heck I've done with my tobacco?" inquired he.

"What kind of tobacco was it?" asked his friend the barber, bending over his work.

"It was Picobac, of course. What else do you think I'd smoke?—Picobac, the pick of Canada's Burley crop, ripened and matured for three years in the wood."

"Was it in a seal-tight pouch or a handy pocket tin?"

"What's that got to do with it—as long as it was Picobac?"

"Because there's a tin of Picobac under your chair", replied the barber.

Picobac comes in the handy pocket tin, the "SEAL-TIGHT" pouch or the half-pound "Lok-Top" tin which is the most economical way to buy it. It is always a mild . . . cool . . . sweet smoke.

30,000 Defenders Swarm From Madrid To Meet Insurgents

MAJOR BATTLE NEAR

Refugees In Gibraltar Fear Epidemic In La Linea Vicinity

MADRID, July 23.—(C P-Havas)—Six thousand Loyalist troops and militiamen are at the gates of Zaragoza and rebel forces are in full flight after savage encounters in the Sierra Guadarrama, northwest of Madrid, the Ministry of Interior announced today.

The fiercest fighting in the nation in progress around Zarsgoza and Seville, with rebel columns believed moving on the capital from both Burgos and Segovia and 30,000 defenders swarming out to meet them.

"The situation is improving from hour to hour," said the Government announcing a fierce bombardment of the rebel-held airdrome at Seville.

Other battles were reported at Albacete, Guadalajara and elsewhere with Liberalist Government officials again claiming the upper hand.

Defenders Move Out.

Some 30,000 civil guards, supporters of the Leftist Government, left Madrid to meet Rightist troops advancing around Burgos and Segovia. The government claimed its forces had captured Cordoba, near Seville, from the rebels.

A report from Hendaye, France, said 100,000 fascist rebels had started a march on Madrid.

Some border reports estimated deaths as high as 25,000 in six days of fighting.

Refugees arriving in Gibraltar today said they feared a serious epidemic was imminent in the La Linea vicinity.

A report from Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, said the rebel chieftain, Gen. Franco, was dispatching 500 members of the foreign legion across the straits to Algeciras en route to Malaga to fight 20,00 Liberalist Government supporters.

Ten thousand residents of Malaga were said to have fled to the hills.

Hopes Are Bright For Crop-Saving Drencher

Light Night Showers End 24-Day Drought But Aid Very Little

Very Few Centres In Ontario Get More Than Enough To Lay Dust

MARKET PRODUCE SOARS

Fall, However Small, Bound To Freshen Pastures, Roots Say Department Men

(By the Canadian Press.)

Hopefully sniffing the air in anticipation of heavy rains that would really benefit wilted crops, nearly all Ontario today clung to the belief leaden skies that yesterday spattered only a few tantalizing drops on blotter-dry land would yet open and produce drenching showers.

Bound To Aid.

Rain that came to Ontario last night was of inestimable value to farmers, officials of the department of Agriculture said today.

"We can only hope that the rain was fairly general," said R. S. Duncan, Director of the Agricultural Representatives Branch. "We have not full reports and will not have until our men have an opportunity to check, but any rain following such a dry spell is well worth while.

Relief afforded by only 34 inches that fell in the district about Toronto and approximately the same amount elsewhere will prove of immeasureable value in restoring sunbaked pastures, said Mr. Duncan. Pasture land in the Province suffered extensively and "were literally burned out, but now there is hope, thanks to the rain."

Early potatoes, some stunted to the size of marbles by the drought will probably be past saving, but the late crop will be benefitted, the Department reported. Corn and other field crops will benefit and if rain continues within the next few days there will be hope for almost a normal crop.

Small fruits are practically finished, their season hurried to a close by lack of moisture, but the rain will help apple, peach and grape crops.

In only a few places did yesterday's rain amount to more than a disappointing drizzle, not enough even to lay the dust or moisten sidewalks. Northern Ontario received most of the rain, with only a comparatively few points in the remainder of the Province lucky enough to receive even light showers.

Stratford last night welcomed a downpour that promised to last for hours and London also reported two good showers. Rain began to fall in Toronto late last night breaking a 24-day dry spell. Barrie's five-week drought ended with rains yesterday and Rouyn, Que., also reported seeking rain falls. Peterborough, Kitchener, Stratford, Guelph, Brantford and Ottawa had

SERIOUS SMASH AT ROMAINE ST. C.N.R. CROSSING

Patrick Allen, Detroit, In Hospital—His Car Complete Wreck

MIDNIGHT ACCIDENT

Automobile Drove Headlong Against Freight At Romaine And George Streets

Patrick Allen, 22, of Detroit had a close call from death around midnight Wednesday when he drove his car into the side of a freight train at the George and Romaine streets crossing of the Canadian National Railways.

After being lifted from the badly wrecked car, the injured man was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he is being detained, under the care of Dr. W. S. Fitzpatrick. He has extensive cuts and bruises chiefly about the head, and is suffering from shock.

Frank Marino of 27 George street, who witnessed the accident as he was closing up his shop at 11.45 o'clock Wednesday night declared, "The car was so badly smashed, I cannot imagine how the driver got out of the accident alive." The whole of the front and right side of the sedan automobile, was completely caved-in, the car being damaged beyond repair.

Unaware of Train

According to Mr. Marino the freight train which had come in from Belleville, was a long one. It had more than half way crossed the tracks, when the driver of the car apparently unaware that the train was on the crossing drove into the side of a freight car. The crash was heard over a wide area in the neighborhood.

According to the report of Constable Jack Deannard, who investigated the accident, Allen drove his auto into the side of the sixth car

NEW YORK, July 23.—(AP). — Sometimes dreams do come true. And every small town boy or girl has his private dream of the big city. Like them all I had that dream and each day it is being fulfilled beyond my widest of hopes It is like a fairy tale, or, if you please, a dream from which one must surely be rudely awakened.

Already the city has taken hold of me. I have felt its largeness, its bustle and confusion. One does not have to ask to be lost in it. It pulls hard in an effort to claim one. In a very few days I have been exposed to it in its large and general scope, driving through streets, viewing it from the tops of high buildings, along the docks at the waterfront, from the decks of an excursion steamer, in the bustle of a large store, from the conversation of the newspaper people, those most interesting of personalities, who have contacted it so variously, and in the confusion of Coney Island.

French, British, U. S. Liners And Cruisers Head For Cities Already Under Siege

FOOD LOW, FEAR LOOTING

By Edward Kennedy
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

PARIS, July 23 (AP)—Warships and passenger liners of the world's great powers hastened to Spain to rescue foreigners from the civil war.

The French liner Chella returned to Marseille from Barcelona with 1,000 athletes sent to the Workers Olympics while a British warship was reported to have arrived at that Spanish city to rescue British subjects.

The French government received a request from Andorra, one of the world's smallest republics, to permit Andorrans to seek refuge on French vessels.

The Spanish steamer Aralar Mendi which arrived at Bayonne yesterday, sailed for Bilbao without obtaining a cargo of French arms.

APPEAL FOR BILBAO

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—An urgent appeal for the evacuation of United States women and children at Bilbao, Spain, by a war vessel was transmitted to the state department to-day by Consul William E. Chapman at that place.

The number of Americans known to be in Bilbao prior to the outbreak of the Spanish revolution was placed by the state department at 155.

At about the same time the appeal for assistance was received, the navy reported that the battleship Oklahoma, departing from Cherbourg, France 10 hours earlier than originally anticipated, would arrive at Bilbao at about midnight Friday.

Reporting that Bilbao, a northern Spanish seaport, was virtually in a state of siege, Chapman said that "a food shortage is very likely to bring about looting since the authorities are not in a position to prevent it."

Soon after receiving word an unidentified American woman had been wounded and other Americans were under fire, the state department sought to have the American Export Line send its steamship Exeter, now in European waters, to Barcelona to take off United States citizens.

The woman, whose name was not given, fell victim, presumbaly to a bullet, at Guardarrama, 31 miles northwest of Madrid, as fighting raged in that vicinity.

Further despatches told how a number of Americans had been under fire for two days in hotels at Madrid.

TOURIST KILLED NEAR WOODSTOCK

Wife Near Death In Hospital After Car Skids On Wet Pavement

WOODSTOCK, Ont., July 23 (CP)—Roland Jones, 33 (1687 Webb Ave.) Detroit, Mich., was killed and his wife received possible fatal injuries when they car skidded on a wet highway at Eastwood, near here, today, and crashed into a tree. Mrs. Jones was taken to hospital in Woodstock with head injuries and fractures of both thighs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were on their way to Ogdensburg, N.Y., to visit the home of Ralph Young, brother of Mrs. Jones.

As far as the provincial police can learn, the accident was the result of a skid on the wet pavement. This particular stretch between Eastwood and Creditville, has been known for years as the "death strip," in view of the number of fatal accidents which have occurred there.

Nothing is known as to the speed at which the car was travelling, but from the appearance of the wrecked car it is obvious that it must have been driven at a very fast rate. The entire front of the car was telescoped, the engine being driven back under the dashboard, with the front wheels underneath it. The back of the car, a new Plymouth, was undamaged.

Hospital authorities stated that the woman's condition was "only fair."

YOUNG HALF-BREED IS SENT TO JAIL FOR FOREST FIRE

Admits Starting Blaze In Order To Get Job As Fire Fighter

NEARLY BURNED VILLAGE

SUDBURY, Ont., July 23.—(CP)—A term of two years less one day was imposed at Oba yesterday by Magistrate Willard Cooper of Sudbury upon Allan Mackenzie, 17-year old half-breed, charged with setting a forest fire that nearly destroyed the entire village of Oba.

Charged with complicity in Mackenzie's crime was Deputy Fire Ranger Noel Desauiniers of of Oba who was freed after a stiff cross-examination by Crown Attorney J. O'Flynn, K. S., of Sault Ste. Marie.

Desauiniers was on the witness stand 30 minutes. He denied all knowledge of the fire, though Mackenzie said in court yesterday that the Duputy Fire Ranger told him the best way to start a fire was to put a lighted cigarette butt in the stump of a tree.

Officials Threaten To Unlimber Great Guns Of Fortress Batteries

GIBRALTAR, July 23 (AP). — British naval authorities stated today the British destroyer Wild Swan had returned a warning fire against Spanish bombing planes.

The Spanish fliers had been dropping bombs in such a manner, it was understood, as to endanger lives and property in this crown colony.

Previously the local authorities had warned the Spanish, whose artillery fire struck the rock yesterday, that the British did not intend to have such incidents repeated.

Second Bomber Routed.

CASABLANCA, French Morocco, July 23.—(AP).—The British destroyer Whitehall routed a rebel Spanish plane with gunfire to-day after the aviator had bombarded a British steamer bringing fuel to loyal Spanish cruisers in Tangier harbor.

The steamer was identified in first reports as the Gibel Dris of the Bland Line, but was believed to be that Line's steamer Gibel Dersa.

It had arrived from Gibraltar and anchored in the harbor, where it was bombarded at noon.

(Havas News Agency said in a Tangier dispatch that the rebel airplane droped two bombs as it flew over the merchant shortly after noon.

The acting Governor of Gibraltar protested to Gen. Francisco Franco, leader of the rebellion, against rebel planes flying over Gibraltar after loyal commanders on Spanish warships had been given a warning.

The Governor said that the flying of airplanes over the fortress and its vicinity was a contravention of international treaties.

The British reported the planes dropped a number of bombs while flying over the Wild Swan off Tarifa.

Bombs Land Nearby.

There were no hits but the bombs exploded close to the Wild Swan's bows.

The Wild Swan responded with a warning fire, then proceeded to the shelter of Gibraltar.

British authorities warned Spanish Government warship commands that the great guns of the Gibraltar fortress would go into action if more shells fell on the Rock.

Capt. J. Ripley, assistant military secretary to the governor, boarded the Spanish cruiser Cervantes which was flying the Admiral's flag and demanded to see the senior officer commanding the squadron.

A petty officer appeared, declaring he was the commander. Captain Ripley insisted on seeing the flag officer and was conducted to the commander who was under arrest.

Replying to the formal warning, the commander stated he was no longer responsible for the ship, but

HAMILTON, Ont., July 23 (CP)—A fast Canadian National Railway train to Toronto narrowly escaped being wrecked early to-day when thieves placed a heavy jigger on the railway tracks near Aldershot. The possible wreck was averted through the watchfulness of Canadian National Railway and provincial officers.

Provincial officers here were notified some men were trying to break into the storehouse of the station at Aldershot. Officer W. H. Hawkins of the Provincial and G. Pugh of the Canadian National Railways force were despatched to the spot. The call was sent in by J. McDonald, section foreman who saw several men near the storage sheds and became suspicious. Just before police arrived the men had trundled the heavy jigger out on the main line and were loading it with fruit. Ross McDonald, son of the section foreman, fired a shotgun in the direction, and the slugs whistled over the marauders' heads, frightening them and they fled, leaving the jigger on the tracks.

Move Jigger Nick of Time

Police reached the scene at this moment, and were standing by the track when they saw the headlight of an approaching locomotive nearing along the tracks. The men lifted the heavy jigger from the tracks and had only gotten it clear when the fast train from Hamilton to Toronto thundered by.

It is believed that the men had been stealing fruit from nearby orchards and the jigger was found to be loaded with baskets of produce.

Germany Now Producing 80 p.c. Her Food at Home

Heavy Sacrifices Of People Demanded in Great Nazi Experiment

LIVING STANDARD DOWN

By George Hambleton
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, July 23. — Germany is now producing 80 per cent. of her food supply at home, says an official report issued by the Department of Overseas Trade. The report, prepared by E. C. Donaldson Rawlings, commercial counsellor to the British Embassy in Berlin, presents a revealing picture of Nazi efforts to make Germany economically self-supporting.

Germany is divided into five corporations or estates—agriculture, industry, handicrafts, transport and labor (front. It is under agriculture that the greatest progress has been made.

Nazi philosophy regards a healthy agriculture as not only necessary to the economic life of the country but a bulwark against Communism.

To this end, Nazi Germany has:

Created nearly 700,000 entailed farms which cannot be distrained upon;

Sent former agricultural laborers back from towns to the land;

Divided some big estates for the benefit of small holders;

Many Clear Debts Off

German returns show that agricultural unemployment has fallen from

Car Driver Fined $10 For Reckless Driving

The condition of Ross Gillespie, 23, of 320 Margaret avenue, who is in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering a compound fracture of the skull received in a motor accident early Sunday morning is reported to have shown no improvement. On a charge of reckless driving to which he pleaded guilty in traffic court before Magistrate E. A. Gee, William Merrett, 26, of 263 Leslie avenue, driver of the car in which Gillespie was one of six passengers, was fined $10 and $4 costs.

Where They Get 'Em.

While the native and visiting hosts of anglers take themselves to other lakes and streams in the Kawarthas, because far away fields look green, H. Martin, 277 Rubidge street, confines his fishing to the very centre of the city.

Thursday evening he landed an eleven pound lunge near the foot of Simcoe street after a smart struggle by as trim looking a muskie as any of the lakes produces. Mr. Martin was trolling in the river opposite the Riverside Park ball grounds, and between Charlotte and Simcoe street footings about 6.30 p.m. when the 11-pounder struck at his spotted vamp plug and then fought desperately to escape.

Mr. Martin's faith in midtown fishing beds has been consistently rewarded. He opened the pickerel season with an 8-pounder which he caught about fifty feet from the place where the lunge struck, demonstrating that there are big fish within sight of the market clock.

OTTAWA DELAYS DROUGHT ACTION PENDING PARLEY

Premier King However Indicates Dominion Is Willing To Aid Farmers

PLEA COMES FROM WEST

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP)—Course of action the Dominion Government will pursue to aid western livestock farmers harrassed by wide-spread drought will await further discussion with provincial authorities, it was believed to-day.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King indicated last night the government would endeavor to co-ooerate with provinces in coping with the problem.

Hon. Charles Cockroft, Alberta treasurer, yesterday laid the matter before Hon. J. C. Elliott, acting Minister of Agriculture, and government officials and cabinet council considered it at length.

Cabinet also passed an order-in-council extending the life until Sept. 30, 1937, of the Canada-New Zealand trade agreement. Preliminary discussions on a new agreement have begun and it was considered likely all necessary negotiations for new agreements between Canada and New Zeland would be carried out when the Imperial Conference takes place in London next spring.

Meanwhile Mr. Mackenzie King will prepare for his trip to Quebec July 31 to attend the reception to President Roosevelt of the United States and to Geneva in September to to attend the meeting of the League of Nations.

No Ministers Picked

Although it is expected he will take several of his ministers with him to Geneva no decision has been reached as to who will accompany him. Justice Minister Lapointe, authority on league matters in the government, is now in Europe for the second time this year but whether he will stay there or make a third trip was not known.

The government announced polling in the federal by-election to fill

MAYOR AND GOVERNOR AUTOGRAPH BOY'S PANTS

ALBANY, N. Y., July 23. —(CP). Somewhere in Albany today a nine year old boy has a pair of white pants bearing across the seat the autographs of "Herbert H. Lehman" and "John Boyd Thacher, 2nd."

The lad rushed up to Governor Lehman and Mayor Thacher of Albany as they waited for the big charter day parade to move.

"Will you please sign your name on my pants, he asked the Mayor.

"It's OK, I'm not going to wear this white suit any more."

As a good crowd gathered, the boy bent over and the Mayor wielded a pen.

"Will you Governor?" asked the boy.

CUTTEN'S ESTATE IS ONLY $350,000

Millions Speculator Once Made Have Dwindled Rapidly

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP)—The millions the late Arthur W. Cutten, native of Guelph, Ont., was credited with making on grain and security exchanges were disclosed as having dwindled to arpproximately $350,000 when his will was filed for probate yesterday.

Attorney Dwight Green said that while no inventory of Cutten's holdings had yet been made, he was certain the estate would not exceed $350,000 in value.

Cutten died June 24, after a long illness which has prevented for many months his taking any active part in business.

For more than a decade he was regarded as the most spectacular of Board of Trade operators here and estimates several years ago placed his fortune at $100,000,000.

District Attorney Igoe announced the United States Government would file liens aggregating more than $600,000 against the estate for income taxes alleged to be due for 1929, 1930 and 1933.

Russian Fliers To Span Pacific

Planning a transpacific flight from Los Angeles to Archangel, Siberia, are Siglsmund A. Levenevsky (RIGHT), noted Soviet pilot, and his mechanic, Victor I. Levchenko, who have applied to the state department for permission to leave Los Angeles, according to Washington news dispatches, on July 25. They are reported to have purchased an American all-metal aeroplane for the hop.

DETROIT PROBES TIPSTER ACTIONS

Sheets Flooding City Put Canadian Brokerage Sales Racket In Limelight

DETROIT, July 23. — An investigation into stock-selling methods used in Detroit by several Canadian brokerage houses was being conducted to-day by the Detroit branch of the Federal Securities Exchange Commission.

The investigation was begun, according to W. McNeil Kennedy, head of the Detroit branch of the Commission, as a result of many inquiries from persons who had received "tipster" sheets and follow-up long-distance telephone calls from Toronto and Windsor.

"Evidently Detroit is being flooded by these tipster sheets," Kennedy declared. "The methods of operation are similar to the bucket-shop and barrel-house tactics employed before the foundation of the S.E.C. We do not know the extent of the operations in Detroit, but we do know that very many persons are receiving investment counsel or reports of phenomenal progress of certain mining stocks."

"We have also been informed that some Detroiters have been called long-distance and informed that stock had been purchased for them. A few days later they received bills for the stock. And when they didn't pay the bills a cancellation notice was sent to them."

It was indicated that Washington headquarters would send a representative to Toronto to confer with John M. Godfrey, K.C., Securities Commissioner for Ontario, who has cooperated in investigating other recent international securities transactions.

WARDEN'S PICNIC IS BIG SUCCESS

United County Councillors Enjoy Trip To Port Dalhousie On Ferry

COBOURG, Ont., July 23.—Warden Fred Waterman of South Monaghan, with the county councillors of Durham and Northumberland and their friends, yesterday enjoyed the annual "warden's picnic" on Lake Ontario. The Ontario car ferry left Cobourg at 7 a.m. for Port Dalhousie and Niagara Falls, calling at Oshawa. This trip to Dalhousie was inaugurated two years ago by Reeve Percy Stinson of Millbrook and proved so popular that Warden Waterman chose it again in preference to the usual Rochester trip.

Orillia Unemployed Must Work For Relief

ORILLIA, Ont., July 23 (CP). — Following complaint of a relief inspector that men on relief refused to take jobs, the Town Welfare Board yesterday decided no more relief will be given anyone who will not work for their supplies. The ediet does not apply to the disabled.

"This means," explained Alderman H. G. Pack, relief chairman, "that jobs will be provided for all. Those partially disabled will have to work, too. We will find some kind of work for them, but it will be light. They have to be made realize they can't expect a free living."

ORDER HAILSHAM CEASE HIS DUTIES

Must Take Complete Rest, Doctors Tell Britain's Lord Chancellor

By Thomas T. Champion
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, July 23 — Viscount Hailsham, Lord Chancellor, was ordered by doctors to-day to take a complete rest from his state duties. His condition is not regarded as serious but he will see no one at present.

The Lord Chancellor, who is 64, facially resembles a combination of Dickens' immortal Mr. Pickwick and Winston Churchill. Born Douglas McGarel Hogg, he has had a romantic and successful career.

Successful at Eton, instead of going to university he went sugar-growing in the West Indies. Altogether he devoted eight years to commercial life. He was a volunteer in the South African War. Called to the bar at 30 he quickly acquired a practice second only to that of Sir John Simon, Home Secretary.

Lord Hailsham was named Lord Chancellor last year, succeeding Viscount Sankey. He also was Lord Chancellor 1928-29.

He was a delegate to the Ottawa economic conference in 1932.

Cavan W.A. of the United Church were guests of Mount Pleasant and W.A. on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arnott, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Aiken, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Staples, Fairmount, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Staples on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. David White commenced his work for the season by threshing aislke for Mr. Richard Matchett on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Sanderson and Miss Dorothy Pudsey, Peterborough, visited Mr. and Mrs. William Pudsey on Sunday.

Miss Bertha McNeil, Toronto, was the guest of her brother, Mr. L. McNeil, during the past week.

Mr. Melville Perrin was a visitor in Toronto at the week-end.

Mr. Mansell Scruton, Toronto, visited his uncle, Mr. J. W. Perrin, and Mrs. Perrin, on Monday.

A very pleasant social evening was spent in Cavan United Church on Friday evening when Miss Doris Tinney, a bride of the month, was guest of honor. The Sunday School rooms of the church were nicely filled with friends. Mr. James Douglas was the genial chairman for a short program, which opened by singing, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," followed by prayer by the pastor, the Rev. J. R. Trumpour. Little Fraser Carr very charmingly sang, "The Wedding of Jack and Jill," his mother accompanying him on the piano. Mrs. Oakley Carley read, "The Husband's Commandments." Bea, Nan and David Faills sang a trio, "Young Richard." Mrs. J. H. Snider gave an appropriate reading. The Rev. J. R. Trumpour gave an address. Mrs. A. B. Kennedy sang an enjoyable solo, accompanied by Miss A. Tinney. Miss Doris Tinney was then requested to take a seat at the front of the room, and Mrs. (Rev.) J. R. Trumpour read an address of appreciation and best wishes from the friends assembled, and Mrs. Creighton Carr and Mrs. James Douglas presented her with a silver tea service on a silver tray, a small silver tray, a silver flower basket on a reflector and a pair of silver candlesticks. Miss Tinney made an appropriate reply, and "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" was heartily sung. Impromptu speeches were made by Messrs. Will White, superintendent of the Sunday School, and Oakley Carley, president of the Y.P.S. The service of refreshments and the social time over the tea-cups brought the enjoyable event to a close.

Mrs. Donald Tinney entertained at her home on Wednesday afternoon for the bride-elect. Guests included the young girls and young married women of the community. Afternoon tea was served on the lawn and a kitchen shower given Miss Tinney.

Hastings Volunteers Save Bakery Building

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, July 23—The fact that there was no wind blowing at the time saved Hastings from a disastrous fire when the roof of Spooner's Bakery on Front street caught fire. When noticed by neighbors a spot four foot square was ablaze. Prompt response by the local brigade with the aid of volunteers soon checked it. With buildings so close it would have been a stubborn fight with a wind blowing.

IMMIGRATION BAN PRIMARY REASON FOR DEPRESSION

That Is Theory Of W. H. Moore, M.P., Former Tariff Board Head

PRIMING THE PUMP

OSHAWA, July 23.— W. H. Moore, M.P., former chairman of the Tariff Board, told members of the Oshawa Rotary Club on Monday that Canada's return to prosperity must be accomplished through increased work and trade within the country itself, rather than through international trade or a system of public works.

"The depression did not start with the raising of tariffs. It began when we commenced putting up our barriers against immigration," Mr. Moore declared. "We bottled up the Europeans and a curious thing happened. The birth-rate began to decline seriously, although we were deceived until recently because the population was increasing. This was due to the span of life becoming longer," Mr. Moore stated.

"European leads have come to the conclusion that the land is the breeding ground of the nations and thus they have increased their tariffs in order to enable their people to produce their own necessities and preserve their national life. This is something that we have got to remember when we ask if we can get back to internationalism on the same scale."

Priming the Pump.

"Some people think we can prime the pumps with public works. But we are already overbuilt. Public works have to be built with public funds and Canada is a debtor nation. For every $3.00 we spend on public works, only one dollar goes to the worker," Mr. Moore held.

There was only one thing left for Canada to do, the speaker declared. She must start out with the bold policy of doing things for herself. "When Mr. Benett said a few years ago that no one in Canada would be allowed to perish through want, our economic nationalism began. If the state is to keep her inhabitants at work through public works, then we are in Socialism," the speaker declared.

Social Deterioration.

"This great problem of unemployment has been going on for the past five years. You can see the results of this social deterioration in Western Canada. There you have thousands of people believing that the thing can go on because the state possesses some money magic. If it goes much farther you will have more people believing it," the speaker said.

The present educational system was responsible for this to a certain extent, Mr. Moore contended. "In our schools we do not teach the principles of capital and credit. The student must go to college before he can get anything on these subjects. The Communists are wiser than we are. They teach the principles of Communism. But there are very few people in this country who understand the principles of capitalism."

JURY NAMES YOUTH IN LESAGE DEATH

Verdict Is Boy Killed His Stepfather In Defence Of Mother

PORT FRANCES, Ont., July 23 (CP).—Glen Lesage, 16, will appear before Magistrate H. L. Cruso here to-day, charged with the murder of his aged step-father, Frrnk Lesage, an Indian trapper of Sapawe Lake, 50 miles west of Fort William.

At the inquest last night the coroner's jury returned a verdict finding Lesage met death "between the hours of four and five o'clock in the afternoon of July 19 from a bullet wound inflicted from a rifle shot fired from a 30-30 rifle in the hands of his step-son, Glen Lesage, in defence of his mother."

Officers of the Ontario Provincial Police from here and Fort William were sent to Sapawe Lake Sunday after authorities said they had received a telegram from the younger Lesage telling of the shooting. The youth was brought here.

A miner who visited the Lesage cabin after the shooting told police Glen had said he had shot the trapper to protect his mother and four other children in the family when the step-father threatened to kill them. The miner said Lesage related he had fired when the older man began clubbing his wife with the butt end of a rifle.

FREEZING PROCESS KEEPS FOOD FRESH

Discovery Being Developed Will Provide Summer Delicacies All Year Round

TORONTO, July 23—Frozen foods providing summer fruits and vegetables all the year round and eliminating wastage in the perishable food industries, were foreseen as universal yesterday by Colby Chester, New York, President of the National Manufacturers' Association, and Chairman of the Board of the General Food Corporation.

The scientific work has been done and the process, now commercially practicable, is used on products handled by 1200 stores in the United States, he asserted.

"From the merchandising angle, the whole thing is still in the experimental stage. We have a definitee program of slow, steady progress, and we are proceeding according to schedule," he declared.

Eighty different products—meats, fish, vegetables and fruits—can be kept fresh indefinitely, he said, with consequent freighting convenience and standardizaton of qualities, and elimination of spoilage.

As a head of an association with a membership of all political stripes Mr. Chester refused to talk about the approaching United States Federal election, but he did express the opinion that Government control of industry has not worked.

"I don't think business should go its own sweet way and do exactly what it pleases. There must be Government supervision, but not regimentation, Government competition, or the control that binds business so it cannot function," he said.

Secession No Good Declares Aberhart

EDMONTON, July 22.—(CP).— The Peace River district of Alberta "is a natural and integral part of the province and should remain as such," in the opinion of Premier Aberhart.

Commenting to-day on advices from the north that residents of the area had begun a movement to secede from Alberta, setting up a governing council of their own, the Premier said: "I do not believe that secession does any portion of the province any good."

"It merely creates a new government and new expenses," he added. "The Peace River has not given the present government much time to remedy affairs."

MOUNT JULIAN

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Halterman entertained about seventy-five guests on Monday evening, at Viamede pavilion, where music for round and square dancing was supplied by Messrs. Bradshaw, of New Jersey, Joseph Northey and Vern Gould, also, Mrs. Halterman and Mrs. Roy Brown.

Refreshments were provided by Mr. and Mrs. Halterman and an especially enjoyable evening was spent by those present.

Mrs. James Jones of Toronto has opened "Dagmar Villa," Stoney Lake for the season and Mr. and Mrs. Breckell and Mrs. Robison and family, all of Toronto, are among her guests.

The McKees, Goulds, Humphries, and Haltermans have opened their summer homes around Northey's Bay, Stoney Lake, and are spending the season's vacation there.

Mr. and Mrs. Shillinglow, of Toronto, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Northey.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Blezzard of Toronto have been visiting relatives here for a few days.

Baptism service was observed in Holy Trinity Anglican Church, by the Rev. E. C. Moore, on Sunday afternoon, when Mary Ellen infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fowler was baptized. The infant was dressed for the occasion in a beautiful long christening robe which had been worn by the grandmother at the time of her baptism.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blezzard were god-parents for the child.

CAMBRAI GIVES PILGRIM HEADS CIVIC WELCOME

Officials Of Visiting Peace-Time Army Stop At Canadian-Liberated City

EN ROUTE TO BRUSSELS

CAMBRAI, France, July 23 —(CP)—The Canadians returned to Cambrai yesterday — not great peace-time army of 6,000 pilgrims who are due to dock some time tonight at Le Havre and Antwerp, but the advance guard consisting of the Canadian Legion's official party, headed by Brig. General Alex Ross C.M.G. Dominion president of that organization. Proceeding to Brussels the party stopped a few hours here and were accorded a civic welcome.

Like Valenciennes, where the ceremony of re-christening L'Avenue de la Tourell after the late Sergeant Hugh Cairns V.C. of Saskatoon will be performed Saturday, Cambrai is a city which the Canadians regard peculiarly as their own. The Canadian Corps liberated Cambrai Oct. 9, 1918, following a series of battles which in intensity and in losses were unparalleled in the war.

Canadian association witth Cambrai, however, did not begin with the actions of September and October 1918. Eleven months previously Canadian troops had played a notable part in the unsuccessful attempt to free the city. In Nov. 1917, General Sir Julian Byng, commanding the Third Army, launched his famous attack which was fruitful up to a point. In that offensive the Canadion Cavalry Brigade under General Sir J. E. B. Seely was conspicuous.

Unfortunately for the upshot of the operation, Byng attacked with tired divisions. He had asked for the Canadian Corps; but Sir Douglas Haig, the Commander-in-chief had ear-marked the corps for the holocaust of Passchendaele.

However, it was in that action a squadron of the Fort Garry Horse wrote history when, traversing the canal near Masnieres, they galloped off into the blue. Their assignment was the capture of a German Corps headquaters at Escadoeuvres, on the north-eastern outskirts of the city. The Garrys did not capture the German headquarters; but they did spend most of the day and part of the night entirely cut off, miles behind the German line, near Rumilly.

During the night, the survivors of the squadron flitted back, abandoning their horses, and "sneaking" through the German positions eventualy returned to their regiment. His eadership in this episode brought the award of the Victoria Cross to Lieut. H. Strachan.

The Canadian Corps saw Cambrai first from the flank of Bourlon Wood, which they captured after storming across the Canal du Nord Sept. 27, 1918—achieving what the Higher Command has not unreasonably declared to be unpossible. For 11 days some of the bitterest fighting of the war ensued in the environs of the city. Blecourt—Sancourt—Bantigny are names to conjure with in recalling the episodes of the last 100 days. The enemy threw divisions after division against the Canadians, but each was fought to a standstill. In accomplishing this, however, the Corps itself came near the breaking point.

It was touch and go at the last, a question as to who would finally give up—and the Germans settled the issue by withdrawing somewhat ungracefully. Cambrai was set on fire and many of its beautiful and ancient building destroyed. The Canadian patrol pushed through the city in some places almost encircled by flames.

The ravages of 18 years ago have since been repaired, and Cambrai is again one of the pleasant municipalities of Northern France.

Farmer Searles Opens War On Nudists

Will Searles, constalbe-farmer on Long Valley N. J., reopened his drive against nudists who cavort on property adjacent to his farm by routing them out from a swimming pool and meadows when he learned they had returned. Throwing sticks at two of the unclad members of the colony, Searles shouted: "You ought to be ashamed," as they scampered away. (Associated Press Photo.)

Train Hurls Car In Stream

Nine members of two families were killed when a train struck a car at a crossing near Dundee, Mich., swept it on to a trestle and hurled the machine and its occupants into the river below. The bridge with the wreckage of the car is shown here. Harry Schuster of Farrell, Pa., and Sam Pisano of Wheatland, Pa., their wives and children, died in the crash. (Associated Press Photo.)

LEWIS DEFIANT TO LABOR CHIEFS

Miners' Head Says His Committee Won't Obey Summons

WASHINGTON, July 23 (A.P.). — John L. Lewis and the American Federation of Labor were declared to be near a parting of the ways today as their two-year battle over methods of organizing mass production workers in the United States reached its most critical stage.

Lewis served notice on the A. F. of L. Executive Council last night that members of his committee for industrial organization would not obey a council summons to stand trial for "insurrection."

This led Labor leaders generally to predict to-day that the council would vote at its next meeting, beginning August 3, to suspend Lewis' United Mine Workers and 11 affiliated unions.

The most would cost the Federation one-third of its memebrship and one-third of its dues.

DETROIT KILLER NABBED IN CITY OF LOS ANGELES

Former Riverside Man Said To Have Confessed Shooting Pursuer

FOLLOWING HOLDUP

Taken At Home Of Friend Following Tip-Off To Western Police

DETROIT, Mich., July 22.—(CP).—Herman Faubert, 28, formerly of Riverside, Ont., hunted since July 3 in connection with the killing of a young Detroiter after an automobile service station hold-up, is under arrest at Los Angeles, it was announced by police here to-day.

Faubert is charged with the murder of Steven Uglasisch, 23, one of the five young men who chased him after the armed robbery of a service station in downtown Detroit. Uglasich was running after a man believed to be Faubert and was closing in on him in a backyard when the fugitive turned and fired a revolver. Two shots entered Uglasich's body. Another man, Albert Kalamass, who tried to stop the gunman, incurred a flesh wound. The hold-up netted $36

Tip Sent West.

Police learned Faubert had a friend in Los Angeles and sent the information there. They received word to-day Faubert had been arrested and confessed.

Mrs. Faubert has been held as a police witness. She was found sitting in an automobile near the John Orlies service station the night it was robbed. She said that she and her husband had been living in a trailer on his uncle's farm near Riverside, Ont., and had come here July 3 to borrow some money.

Faubert formerly was an orderly at Ford Hospital and met his wife there while she was in training to become a nurse.

EACH OF PROVINCES TO NAME OFFICER NEW RELIEF JOB

Officials Meet In Ottawa Today To Discuss Registration Plans

STARTS AUGUST 1

OTTAWA, July 23.—(CP).—Before embarking on the task of re-registering all recipients of unemployment relief in Canada, Provincial Government officers will confer with the National Employment Commission here to-day to discuss proceedure and make arrangements for a speedy compilation of the returns.

The commission invited each province to name an officer to conduct the registration and is providing forms for the purpose. Practically all of the provinces have named registration officers, and these officials have been invited to Ottawa for the conference.

The proposed registration will take place as of August 1 and will be designed to cover all persons on relief or going on relief on that date. Returns will be completed before the end of August. They will form the basis of a permanent system of registration and will be kept up to date by additions and deletions of names each month.

The tabulation is designed to give a human rather than a statistical picture of the relief problem in Canada and will supplement the statistical information available to the commission from the Labor Department and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Such information as age, sex, occupation, qualifications, employability and domestic condition of all relief recipients will be collected on the forms drawn up for the purpose. These forms will be distributed through provincial relief organizations after the conference.

It is expected the information compiled will be of use to local authorities as well as to the National Employment Commission.

COAST GUARD CUTTER.

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. July 23.—(AP).—The coast guard cutter Rush succeeded in freeing the racing yacht Ben Bow from south Graham Shoals early to-day after the crew of seven men took a severe battering from heavy seas for eight hours during a squall.

The yacht, owned by Joseph Butler of Chicago and skippered in the annual Chicago-Mackinac race by Peter Danly, ran aground at midnight, heeling over at a 45-degree angle under a 40-mile wind and rain storm.

Does Not Look Promising

Two young men in Guelph were released from jail in the morning and by night the were in again, and in court pleaded guilty to the charge of being intoxicated. The verdict of the court was $10 and costs or 30 days in jail.

One of the accused informed the magistrate he planned to be married on July 31st and would like to be present at the ceremony, so the 30 days were reduced to 10. His companion said he was to have been the best man at the wedding, so in his case the 10-day period in jail was also applied.

All of which does not look promising. The average young man who was planning to be married on the 31ts of July would be a busy chap right now. He would not finish one term for intoxication and be ready to start another jail term. Not a bit of it. If he were worth his salt he would be putting the finishing touches on the place where he was going to live; he would be around the place in the evening getting things in shape.

Attacking Pine Trees

From Campbellford the Examiner has received a specimen and a letter. The letter says:

"These pests are thick just below the number 11 Hydro power house about one mile south of the town, and seem to favor pine trees. They cover the branches by the thousands and already have destroyed many fine growths. You can see how they work. They just strip the needles."

In the box accompanying the message was a small twig from a pine tree and probably 30 or more of the worms on it. They have already done just what our correspondent says, stripped every needle. They are about the size of the apple worm, but have a red spot at the top of the head, black markings on a greenish yellow body. When they crawl they do so with two sets of legs at the front of the body, pulling themselves up and then proceeding to make another shove. The Examiner has applied to several individuals who are usually well versed in such matters, but at the moment they have not been identified. Identification will be made, though, and the information published.

Better Keep It At Home

Ald. William Weir of Hamilton has an idea. Instead of spending millions of dollars on roads in sections of Northern Ontario where Mr. Weir says no person lives, the provincial government should appropriate cash to help the people in cities rebuild their roads. Such money supplied to the cities would not only provide better roads but would create employment.

And that of course is probably true enough, but we cannot understand yet why the provincial government should be asked to provide money to build or repair roads within the city limits of Hamilton. The province of Ontario is a general collector; that is, it gets money from people all over the province; from people out in the country who have never seen the city of Hamilton, and from people in villages and in towns and in cities who have always looked after their own roads and will continue to do so.

We hear a good deal at times about the amount of money which it takes to operate the provincial government, of the amount of debt which the government has, and so on, and yet there are always people who are ready to suggest how and where the provincial government should go ahead with the spending of more money. We think Ald. Weir of Hamilton would be well advised to keep his latest suggestion right in Hamilton and not seek to air it at Queen's Park.

Rather Confused

There is something strange in connection with the death of Miss Anna Hamachar. She was in a boat on Lake Muskoka when her craft was struck by a speed boat. It is reported that the body of the young lady was to some extent dismembered before it sank in the lake.

Ontario authorities at the moment do not know what they are going to do about it. In the first place the body has not been recovered so an inquest cannot proceed in the usual way.

In the second place Ontario does not apparently know if it is empowered to deal with the case as the accident took place in what are termed navigable waters, and as such they come under the jurisdiction of the Federal government.

So it comes down to this: The shore and the land beneath the water are under control of the provincial government, but the water which makes the lake is under control of the Federal government.

And the main point is that the people want to know just who is responsible for the death of this young lady and what is going to be done to prevent such accidents in future. If it is necessary to bring two governments to joint action it may be a long time before the needed action is taken.

Looks Like Good Financing

One report from Ontario says the provincial government has money on hand to retire a debenture issue of $10,500,000 which matures at the end of August, most of which was bearing interest of 6 per cent. It is said $3,500,000 of this loan has already been paid off. So it will not be necessary to go into the money market to borrow $10,500,000 to pay off a debt of similar size. Borrowing to pay off a loan is not paying off at all. It is merely renewing the loan perhaps at a more favorable interest rate.

The announcement is that the Hepburn government has been going through a number of large estates which at the time of settlement with the government for succession duties are said to have not paid their full share.

If the report is correct then it is a sign of better financing than we have seen in this province for some time. It is actually paying off funded indebtedness from current revenue and no person can complain of that. The province can stand a good deal of it.

There has been for a long time a weakness in both provincial and federal financing which does not exist in municipal practice. When a municipality borrows money it arranges at once to start paying it off, and must arrange for liquidation of the loan at maturity. In federal and provincial financing this "paying off" system is not present. It would be much better if it were.

Can't Take Chances

The fact that automobile traffic on Charlotte St. last Saturday reached a total of 9,000 cars should be enough in itself to show that the request of the Canadian National Railways to substitute a system of wig-wag signals for the present protective gates at the crossing on this and other local streets should be tossed out of court. Charlotte St., the continuation of Highway 28 into Peterborough, carries far too much traffic to allow any interference with the protection that is now provided at the C.N.R. crossing and there is sufficient traffic on Hunter, Simcoe and King streets to justify the City Council in opposing stoutly the present move to remove some of the guards. The substitutes proposed by the C.N.R. would save the railway some money, it is true, but that is not a sufficiently powerful reason to warrant running the risk of accidents by changing the gates now in use for something not regarded as effective from a safety viewpoint.

The council has decided to oppose the application before the Board of Railway Commissioners and it is to be hoped they will do with a determination that will leave no doubt in the minds of the members of that august body that the citizens of Peterborough have no desire to have any of the present protection scrapped.

Tripped At The Border

David Gray, an erector from the Walter Scott and Company plant at Plainfield, N.J., had a bit of trouble in reaching Peterborough. Mr. Gray was sent to this city to erect a new press for the Examiner, and before leaving the home office was fortified with all the papers considered necessary. He was not coming to Canada to accept employment in the usual meaning of the word, but was an expert sent to erect a machine in Peterborough. Presses of this size and description are not made in Canada; there are no men here experienced in the erection of such a machine, and the contract with the Walter Scott Company called for the erection by their own expert and operation of the machine here before it would be accepted.

Mr. Gray crossed the border at Niagara without trouble, but on the way to Hamilton was questioned by an inspector who said he would require a special permit from Ottawa. Mr. Gray's suggestion was that he be allowed to remain at Hamilton while he got in touch with Peterborough, but the inspector insisted that he accompany him back to Niagara Falls, N.Y. When the Examiner got in touch with F. C. Blair, assistant deputy minister of Immigration at Ottawa he explained the matter would be made right at once. Later in the day Mr. Blair sent word that if Mr. Gray would apply at Niagara Falls, Ont. he could enter. Mr. Blair wired again the following morning to learn if Mr. Gray had arrived in this city, advising that if he had not he wanted to be advised at once. The Examiner realizes that Mr. Blair acted quickly and well as he understood the nature of the case. The part which is difficult to understand is why Mr. Gray was forced to leave Hamilton while on his way to Peterborough and return to Niagara Falls, N.Y. We are quite certain Mr. Blair never sanctioned such a move, and all negotiations could have been carried on more regularly from Hamilton than from a point across the border. Meanwhile three carloads of machinery were being held up on the local tracks awaiting the arrival of the erector.

WENT WRONG

(By A.B.K.)

¶ Old Rain Face called in early spring, and then he made the building ring, for he had looked ahead; he knew the weather that would come, for he had gazed upon the sun, he'd quote four months ahead.

¶ For he had watched the muskrat's ways, had studied groundhogs many days, had noted bark on trees; and he had seen the moon at night, had noted things when came the light, had noticed too the breeze.

¶ Then Rain Face started to proceed, how folk would get no chance to seed, for it would rain a lot; the ground would bake beneath the sun, before they got their seeding done, the days would be so hot.

¶ In June he said 'twould rain some more, most every second day 'twould pour, crops would be swept away; according to Rain Face's views, the folk would paddle in canoes, and there would be no hay.

¶ In harvest time it would be cold and rain could never be controlled, for it would pour each day; if horses moved they'd have to swim, the farmer then would ride on him, the pigs would have no whey.

¶ I'm waiting for Rain Face to come, to ask him of the thing he'd done, and how he's lost his skill; but Rain Face has not come in yet, and I'm inclined to place a bet—I don't think that he will.

Taking a Census of Unemployed

(From the St. Catharines Standard)

THERE is sound reason for much good in the plan of national registration of the unemployed. It is surely a necessary first step in scientifically attacking the nations disease. In time to come, it should make the way easier for the introduction of national unemployment insurance, a project for which accurate statistics are essential.

It is now recognized that there is no such thing as dividing the population into two distinct classes, those employed and those not employed. The latter category will be subject to several divisions. It contains one big class apart from all others, those who cannot be employed and will, in the great majority, never be employed again. These unfortunate people by age and disabilities constitute a dead weight which will have to be provided for. In the very best of times, they have existed and have depended upon private help.

Another problem class is the number of people about to reach the employable class, regarded by many students as constituting the social crime of the age, the out of work boys and girls of the country. The national registration, it is proposed, will be brought up to date possibly twice a year, and this is a good feature of the plan. The list will thus embrace at regular periods children who have come of age and are ready to work.

One problem unfortunately faces the national commission. It will be to force relief recipients to work for their keep. There is no present authority whereby this can be done on the number who are sponging on the working public, and no registration can possibly reflect the number of such people, a few of whom exist in every relief community in Canada. It would be a gross libel on the country to even suggest that relief recipients in general are in such a class; they are not. But the social service comunity worker knows the class referred to, knows them all too well, and the law should have some teeth to effectively deal with them. This seems beyond the scope of the Prime Minister's National Commission.

Another announcement of importance is the abolition of the relief camps which with an average population of 15,000 cost the country $12,000,000 a year. Training camps, of course, would be ideal if the country can stand the cost. But with no camps, there is sure to be an illiteracy and a general vagabondage next winter which is undesirable. The burden will have to be carried by the separate communities by hostel management for homeless men. And there must be homeless women out of work too.

The national disease of unemployment is not going to be easy to eradicate. It is confounded by the number of cures which have been put forth, but the first steps of the National Commission are commendable. A problem cannot be attacked intelligently until the extent and root of it is well measured. That the commission proposes to do in August.

POISON IVY.

(Sherbrooke Record)

ONE of the best cures, as soon as poison ivy has been contracted, is to wash the infected part with warm, soapy water, thoroughly rubbed in. The most widely recommended treatment, if that does not work, is the use of a three per cent. solution of potassium permanganate, while iodine tincture is also a good remedy. All rubbing should be avoided once the blisters have appeared. Iodine should be painted around the edges of the sores to prevent infection. Many recommend the use of compresses soaked with solution of aluminum acetate, alcoholic solution of sugar of lead—fifty to sixty per cent. rubbing alcohol—or any other cooling substance, such as baking soda or boracic acid.

HELPING THE FARMER.

(Chatham Daily News)

NO matter which party is returned to power in the approaching Quebec election, the farmer will receive special attention, according to the platforms which have been issued and upon which the political leaders are depending for support.

This is not a new thing—the offering of special inducements to the agriculturists in return for their votes; but unfortunately when parties get into power, their enthusiasm for the interests of the tillers of the soil does not always measure up to its pre-election fervor.

The wonder is that the farmer is so patient through it all. He listens hopefully to pre-election promises—in fact it is all he can do—and then he waits resignedly for the fulfillment of his expectations. But too often he is disappointed.

It is hoped that both parties in the Quebec elections are sincere in championing the cause of the farmer. Our prosperity begins on the farms. It is the only place where it can begin. Without prosperous farmers we cannot have a prosperous people. These sentences have a familiar ring; but their very familiarity takes away from their force. Too often we fail to realize and appreciate the truths they represent.

MORE WICKED.

(Windsor Star)

CANADA is becoming "more wicked" in the opinion of Prince Edward Island Women's Institutes. In answer to a questionnaire sent out asking branches whether they thought this is true or not, 70 per cent. of the replies held that it is.

However, such an opinion should not be taken too seriously. Women's Institutes do a very valuable work throughout the country, but their members are usually not of the young generation. And down through the ages one generation has always looked on the succeeding one as "more wicked."

We fancy human nature has changed little. Its environment, customs and amusements have changed, but not human nature itself. There is a little of "Old Nick" in the best of us, and a lot of him in the worst of us. It seems to us this has always been true, and we doubt if the ratio is any higher now than formerly.

Resents "Rotten Deal" Phrase

(Best Authority Passed on the Case.)

EDITOR, Examiner,—Sir: In last night's Examiner it was reported that Alderman Tuggey stated that the city had got a "rotten deal" in the Workmen's Compensation Board's decision awarding Mr. Patrick J. Anglesey $6.23 a week for life, because he fell into one of the feed holes leading to the furnaces in the incinerator, when an employee of the city had pulled off the cover of the feed hole and Mr. Anglesey backed into it as he did not know the cover had been pulled off.

The man who got the "rotten deal" was Mr. Anglesey and Alderman Tuggey was the man who presented the "rotten deal."

The facts briefly are: The city did not report the injuries caused to Mr. Anglesey, an employee at the incinerator, as the Workmen's Compensation Board required it to do.

I brought an action against the City of Peterborough for $10,000.00 damages caused to Mr. Anglesey, who was examined by several doctors and x-rayed and it was found that he suffered permanent injuries as a result of the accident, from which he could not recover although he had returned and attempted to work after his fractured ribs had been strapped up in an effort to place his fractured ribs in a position so that they would properly set. The city fought this action through every ditch, with the result that it was decided by the court that Mr. Anglesey's right of action was taken away and that he came under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

The city then went to the trouble of fighting the case with the Workmen's Compensation Board, through the City Solicitor, and spent the ratepayers' money in trying to prevent Mr. Anglesey from receiving any compensation and the position taken then, was that he had not suffered permanent injuries in the course of his employment. This case required to be argued before the Workmen's Compensation Board and the Board gave a decision in the action defended by the City Solicitor under the instructions of the City Council and particularly Alderman Tuggey.

The amount of the compensation awarded I did not think was sufficient and I appealed it and Dr. J. A. Ollie, the famous heart specialist was retained by the Board to make a second examination of Mr. Anglesey and he found that he was entitled to a fifty per cent. disability as a result of the accident which Mr. Tuggey says caused Mr. Anglesey to only be away from his work for one hour.

Here we have the expert opinion of a bricklayer against the opinion of the most eminent heart specialist in Canada, and Mr. Tuggey's opinion is that the city got a "rotten deal" although the eminent heart specialist, Dr. J. A. Ollie, has found that Mr. Patrick J. Anglesey's injuries, as a result of the accident, caused a fifty per cent. disability and a heart condition previously existing a fifty per cent. disability.

Now when the city has to pay this man for life and refused to give him a nickel and fought him for months, we find the champion of the working men of Peterborough, Alderman Tuggey, who refused to help a disabled and crippled man in the city's employment, describing the finding of the Compensation Board as a "rotten deal."

I notice that Mayor Macdonald has suggested that people should pray for rain and I would suggest too, that people should also pray for some of the members of the City Council, who previous to the election pretended to be the champions of the working men and immediately after the election, the working men were entirely forgotten by them.

Yours truly,
G. N. GORDON.

WHEAT, HEAT AND RAIN

Editor Examiner,

Sir: Your contemporary at Burk's Falls who called on the Weather Man recently to "Please turn on the heat for a couple of months" will probably swing a more cautious pen in future.

In the meantime, may I draw the attention of your urban readers to what that heat has done to the Western wheat farmer?

At June 1st No. 1 Northern Wheat was worth 80.74½ (cash) at the Winnipeg market, and various capable crop observers went on record with an estimate of 400,000,000 bushels of 1936 wheat.

Today the price-level has moved forward almost 20 cents a bushel, and the crop prospects has moved back to the 260,000,000-bushel mark. We are quite a piece from the harvest yet, and 74 known and unknown hazards have to be hurdled, along the road to the wheat-bin.

The eyes of the wheat world are on these North American fields, and every market around the earth is discussing prospective prices for Canada's vanishing wheat stocks.

Unless ye editor of The Arrow and Echo puts in an early request for the odd shower, we are liable to have an over-supply of rain when we should be harvesting.

Faithfully yours,
"AN EXAMINER."

P.S.: In the meantime, Mr. Editor, I think we should go slow in pressing quality wheat into the hands of speculators at present valuations.

HAYING ON THE TENTH

Editor Examiner,

Sir: Your editorial, "Haying Is Much Better Now," was much enjoyed out on the tenth line. I read it to the blind man in this household and he said it described exactly his feelings when he used to work in the hay field. You think about the cake they used to bake and how good it was. Oh, yes, we have real "gobs" of cake out here. Thick chocolate cake is nice and I noticed a big plate of it disappeared at supper last night. Carmel cake is nice too. We must keep up our cake tradition.

There are a few around here who have graduated to ice cubes in the water, but most hay makers have a pail or jar of water in the shade of some convenient fence corner. Farming and farmers are mysterious in their thinking.

When there is an abundance of everything, they wail because prices are low, and they talk of planting less so that prices will be better. I heard that a lot last year. This year the dry spell has made the yield much less, and they are feeling terribly blue about it. And of course it is quite a disaster to have such a severe drought.

We enjoy your paper. We get the news almost as soon as it happens. Have not forgotten about the marvelous machine you had at the Peterborough fair that showed the electrical transcription of the news as it came in by telegram from all parts of the world. Oh, I tell you, people go far when they have oatmeal in the drinking water in haying time out on the Tenth Line.

RELIGION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Editor Examiner,

Sir: This being a favourable opportunity, I am helping to campaign for the introduction of the history of religion into our public schools believing along with many others that the moral and spiritual well-being of the youth of this province may be greatly assisted thereby. It is also a necessary respect which we owe to the Founder of Christianity that we should not bar Him from the knowledge and consideration of anyone at any time. "Suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not...."

The R.C. separate school tax issue is of a different character since while it relates to religion already practised in a day school it is concerned however only with the taxes raised for that and other purposes. It all comes under one head eventually however viz: the teaching of religion in our day schools and to that extent the issue is identical.

NOT VERY MUCH.

(Owen Sound Sun-Times)

THE Ontario Labor Department is investigating a strike in Penetanguishene. It is a small strike in several ways. The strikers are ten in number; they are boys of 10 to 12 years; they struck because their pay had been reduced from ten cents an hour to seven.

Does not look like much to cause a strike, does it? But doubtless it means a lot to those boys, that difference of three cents an hour. One boy told the investigator that, whereas his wages were only about $3.60 a week, he had to pay $4 for his board. And for the $3.60 he would have to work, at seven cents an hour, 51 hours a week or 8½ a day with no Saturday afternoon off.

No matter how you look at it, seven cents an hour looks pitifully small. Even a boy is entitled to enough to live on.

The manager of the plant claimed that competition and existing conditions in other centres made it impossible for him to meet the demands. Then there must be something radically wrong with existing conditions.

60 YEARS A DOCTOR.

(Moncton Times)

FEW members of the medical profession, or for that matter any other profession in Canada or even on the entire North American continent, can lay claim to the truly remarkable record just celebrated by Dr. L. N. Bourque, of Moncton, of 60 years' continuous practice in medicine and surgery. It has been a career of few equals, and throughout the six decades he has rendered signal service to the community.

RECORD FOR QUEEN MARY?

Queen Mary Hitting Average Speed of 29.83 Knots.

NEW YORK, July 23.—(AP)—The liner Queen Mary raced westward on the Atlantic toward New York to-day with indications that if weather conditions are favorable her officers will make the present voyage a definite attempt to establish a new trans-Atlantic record.

Spokesmen for the Cunard-White Star Line, owners of the Queen Mary, said to-day the British ship had averaged 29.32 knots for the first 16 hours and 18 minutes of the present run.

the Republic, was reported at Guadalajara.

All rebel officers there fell under Loyalist fire except six who were arrested, it was announced.

The government airmen who rained bombs on Seville airdromes said they had destroyed rebel fuel stores, keeping Fascist planes on the ground.

Off for Zaragoza.

BARCELONA, July 23—(CP-Havas)—Departure of 4,000 armed anti-Fascist militia from here today for Zaragoza, rebel stronghold, was announced by Catalonian authorities A second column was expected to leave later.

The departure marked renewal of the Catalonian Government's offensive aginst the rebels, who had planned, after seizing Barcelona, to march via Zaragoza and Guadalajara to Madrid.

Squadron Steams

Anti-aircraft batteries aboard the Spanish warships yesterday fired on rebel airplanes which bombed the loyal vessels, some of the shells falling on Gibraltar.

Gibraltar observers of the engagement were forced to flee to cover when shells fell near the British town.

After the skirmish, two chimneys and a roof garden on a local hotel were found to have been damaged by exploding projectiles from the cruiser Jaime I, Libertad and the Cervantes.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 23.—Wheat futures prices continued to sag on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday as liberal selling broke through thin support. The decline came despite a bullish Government crop report and unfavorable weather over most of the North American spring wheat belts.

Values closed ⅝ to ¾ cent lower, with July at 93⅝, October 92¼ to 92½c, and December 91¾ cents a bushel.

Export business was placed at 500,000 bushels.

The market scored fractional opening gains, but support weakened and liberal selling for New York and Southern account carried values downward to losses amounting to 2 cents at the low points in late trading. Short covering initiated recovery near the close.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

TORONTO, July 23 (C.P.)—All divisions of the Toronto Livestock Market were steady in the afternoon session. The cattle supply was cleaned up on an active market, with nothing outstanding occurring in the other markets. The cattle holdover from yesterday was 100 head.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Livestock Branch were: Cattle, 320; calves, 30; hogs, 210; sheep and lambs, 40.

The supply of cattle was cleared on an active market, with all prices steady with a week's advance of about 50 cents a hundred on killers. Weighty steers sold from $5 to $5.75. Butcher cattle brought $4.75 to $5 with plain grades downwards to $4. Cows went from $2.50 to $3.25 with one at $3.50. A few choice fed calves sold from $6 to $6.75.

The calf market as steady at $7 to $7.50 for choice grades, while common vealers ranged downwards to $5.

Truck hogs were steady at $9 to $9.25. Yesterday's hog prices were steady with off truck bacon grades bringing $9 to $9.10.

Lambs were steady at $9 for good ewes and wethers. A few medium quality sheep sold from $2 to $2.50.

TORONTO, July 23. — Killing cattle advanced 15 to 25 cents per cwt., in spots, just before the close of the Union Stock Yards yesterday. Prices were unchanged on other grades. Activity was fair. Veal calves and sheep were steady. Lamb prices advanced 25 cents per cwt. for the second consecutive day this week. The gain was made early in the day.

Choice weighty steers sold at $5.70 to $5.85, with medium to good grades $4.75 to $5.40. Good quality butchers sold at $4.75 to $5, with a few steers $4.25. Common butchers ranged downwards to $3.50. Good cows were steady at $3 to $3.25, with plain grades down to $2.50. A few boner cattle netted $2.50 to $3, with fat calves $5 to $7 according to quality. Stocker trade continued slow, with scattered sales ranging from $2.50 to $3.25.

The calf market was steady at a general top of $7. The bulk of the supply sold between $5 and $6.50. A few graziers and rough calves went at $3.25 and $4, respectively.

The market for good ewes and wethers gained 25 cents to sell at $9 throughout the day. Other grades netted $7 to $8. A small supply of sheep sold at $1.50 to $3 a cwt., according to quality.

TELEGRAPH KEYS FEEL OLD HANDS

Morse Men Long Retired Hold Grand Night Of Reunion

By W. R. Wheatley
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

TORONTO, July 23 — (CP) — Back into retirement to-day went Canada's old guard of More telegraphers but they carried memories of one grand night of re-union when they chatted across the continent and left the modern young men of key and sounder pop-eyed at the easy flow of dots and dashes under ancient fingers.

The days of the Morse man may be numbered—what with automatic printers that spurt messages like machine gun bullets—but his night showed the newer wielders of key and doodad sending "bugs" that the art of the old-timer will never be regained.

The "brasspounders" of decades ago had their fling over a special hook-up of Canadian National Telegraphs that touched 25 points from Halifax to Vancouver. They clicked off their official greetings in business-like style and then swapped yarns and reminiscences in a free-for-all gabfest.

Present-day officials grasped a telegraph key for the first time in years. The retired veterans came back and glorified in the familiar touch. In the strange language of Morse men they talked and talked. They asked for their old friends and kidded amongst themselves as the dots and dashes frolicked over the wire in a wonderful exhibition of "perfect hand-sending."

The modern young operators sitting expertly at typewriters at control points to record the proceedings, were amazed and even baffled. Indeed, there were times when they had to break in and ask for repetition because they couldn't follow the parade of dots and dashes formed by old but expert hands.

Few Stumbles

The Morse of some of the old-timers was slow; of others it was unbelievably rapid. But it was all precise, steady and even. Seldom did an old fellow stumble in his sending. They didn't do that in the old days.

The ceremonies last night were directed from the original Toronto office of the old Montreal Telegraph Co., that later served as headquarters for the Great North Western Telegraph Co.

Set up in the unused room was an ancient Morse table that held an array of keys, sounders and relays—the type used by the old guard. The sounders clicked in unison and the veterans sat back and listened.

D. E. Galloway, assistant vice-president in charge of Canadian National Telegraphs, formally opened the reunion by tapping out his greeting in "Phillips Code"—a shock to the boys at the Montreal jobs—for "Phillips" is the shorthand style of Morse.

RAIN MEANS MUCH A. D. RUNIONS SAYS

Showers Late Last Night Will Help Root Crops And Pasture

Peterborough County farmers are rejoicing at last night's rain and reckoning it as one of the most valuable showers to have fallen here in many years past. Breaking a 25-day drought, the rain will prove a benefit to the extent of many thousands of dollars to root crops, potatoes, and pastures in this area.

"It was a splendid kind of rain," A. D. Runions, agricultural representative, said to-day. "A heavy downpour would have drained off the hard dry ground without doing much good, but the slow drizzle which continued through the night will have had a chance to soak well into the ground."

The rain comes too late to be of much assistance to the barley and oats which are almost ready for general harvesting here, he continued. Nevertheless it may prove of some benefit. It may also help the new seeding for next year's hay crop in the grain fields.

It is expected pastures will show a great improvement within the next few hours as a result of the rain. Milk production has been on the decline due to pasture conditions in the last two weeks, but it is anticipated that pastures will revive sufficiently to check the decline in production immediately. Dairy and cheese producers who have suffered a 20 per cent. restriction in production will enjoy a corresponding benefit.

The rain comes in time to revive hopes for the buckwheat crop. The crop looked like a total loss a few days ago, as no growth was evident. Potatoes and roots here did not suffer greatly from the drought, but the situation would have become acute if moisture had held off longer.

CALLS SIMON LIAR

Hot Tempered Laborite's Remark Creates Uproar—Session Held Up.

LONDON, July 23 (CP Cable)—George Buchanan, hot-tempered member of the Independent Labor party, in the House of Commons to-day accused Home Secretary Sir John Simon of "lying."

An uproar immediately broke out in the House and the session was suspended by the speaker for 15 minutes. Buchanan represents Gorbals district of Glasgow.

The outbreak came in the course of an extended session which began yesterday.

sprinkles of rain but not enough to aid crops.

Chathom Happy.

Chathom was one of the brighter spots in the Provine's crop picture. Farmers there expected a better-than-average barley crop, a fair wheat yield and a satisfactory return from oats, corn and sugar beets. Beans, Tobacco, tomatoes and cabbages gave evidence of the blighting drought, however.

In most cities market produce prices skyrocketed as decreased supplies became alarmingly evident. In Toronto, prices of many common garden vegetables already had doubled or tripled and in Sarnia housewives postponed canning operations in the hope prices would slump later on. Tomato prices plummetted, in some cases from $2.50 for an 11-quart basket to 60 cents.

At Woodstock a steady rain lasting for several hours brought hope to farmers. Although the amount that fell could have little effect on the dried-out grain and corn crops, overcast skies and high humidity gave promise of more showers.

Hail at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound district enjoyed the first rain since June 26, with a steady downpour at first accompanied by hail. No damage was reported. Crops, although needing rain, are in fair condition and will enjoy a better than average yield. Small crops benefited greatly.

Guelph reported less than a half inch of rain. Pastures, corn, root crops and late oats will benefit, Ontario Agricultural College officials said. The Galt district farmers declared a 24-hour downpour was necessary to aid their parched crops after they had their first rain since June 26.

A generous downfall was reported from Kingston. Showers Saturday and Sunday had aided pastures and crops and the second precipitation was described as "wonderful." Rain in the Sarnia district was a boon to the celery and beet sugar crops. Wheat has weathered the dry spell fairly well and harvesting is in progress. Pastures are also expected to benefit.

A night-long rain at London brought less than an half an inch precipitation and it penetrated the earth only about an inch. Pasture lands were aided but farmers state much more rain is needed if crops generally are to benefit.

Few Signs of Real Shower.

Intermittent showers at Belleville did not aid crops materially. A drenching rain is needed and there appears little prospect of it. The corn crop is beginning to sear on the underneath side of the leaf; cherries are withering on trees and early varieties have been practically wiped out, the rain, however, will enable farmers to salvage some of the late varieties.

Tomatoes will be aided by the showers, but pastures have been dried out and farmers are feeding cattle with fodder that was to be used next winter. Estimates place the crop loss at 50 per cent.

The longest drought on record in the Brantford district was broken with a continuous but not heavy downpour. Official records showed the fall was only .03 inches. At least three inches was needed. Farmers are clinging to the hope the showers will continue.

At Kitchener the fall was .38 inches. It served to freshen crops and garden produce. The moisture penetrated only one inch and farmers said this hardly reached the roots of crops.

Preston farmers felt the rain there would save many fields threatened with entire loss. It was especially good for hard pressed crops in the area.

from the rear of the train. Marks indicated that the driver had observed the train, when he was too close to avoid an accident, and had made an effort to swing to the left.

Visiting Friends

The injured man was said to have been visiting friends in the city. He was alone in the car at the time of the collision with the train.

Conductor O'Leary and Rear Brakeman Houlihan lifted the injured man from the wreckage of his car, after signalling the train to a standstill. The train was proceeding slowly at the time of the accident, and the engine was so far ahead that the whistle and bell were probable inaudible to the driver of the car.

MUST REPORT AUTO SMASHES

Charges Against Two Drivers Who Failed To Report To Police

ACT TO BE ENFORCED

For their failure to report an accident to police authorities as required under Section 81 (1) of the Highway Traffic Act, Motorcycle Patrol Constable Lloyd A. McClure, declares he is laying charges against S. E. Stacey, 527 King street, Peterborough and H. W. Crawford, Coxwell avenue, Toronto, as the drivers of two cars which were damaged in head-on collision three miles north of Lakefield on Highway 28. The accident occurred at one o'clock a.m. Wednesday on the brow of a hill as the cars were approaching each other. Both vehicles suffered damage estimated at $100 each, but the occupants escaped serious personal injury. The officer is also considering laying a charge against the garagemen to whom the damaged vehicles were taken for repairs, because of failure to report the accident as required under Section 22 (2) of the Highway Traffic Act. "The Act requires that accidents be reported forthwith," the officer declared, "and these sections have got to be enforced."

BRITAIN MEETING GERMAN BROADCASTING COMPETITION

Spending $1,250,000 to Make Daventry Biggest Short-Wave Station

24-HOUR SERVICE

London.—The British Broadcasting Corp. will have spent $1,250,000 on making Daventry the biggest short wave broadcasting station in the world by the end of this year.

Six transmitters and a complicated system of 22 aerials with reflectors will give up to 100 per cent. better reception in the remote parts of the empire than does the existing equipment. A full 24-hour service will be possible if needed instead of the present 17½-hour service.

One of the transmitters radiating two beams in opposite directions will be able to serve South Africa and Canada simultaneously.

The government is determined to encourage the B.B.C. with "The Projection of England," Germany with 18 transmissions a day already has a vast "empire" broadcasting service.

Many of these German programs are in English and are particularly directed to those whom the Berlin announcer calls "Our dear friends and listeners in South Africa." When the B.B.C.'s plans for Daventry are complete Britain will be heard throughout the world at considerably greater strength than Germany.

Every effort is being made to have all six of the Daventry transmitters working at maximum efficiency in time for the proposed world-wide coronation broadcasts.

BROKEN-RIB SWINDLE ALLEGED AT LEEDS

$2,150 Paid on 86 Insurance Claims for Bicycle "Accidents"

Leeds.—Seventeen men and women were accused at a special court here of defrauding companies who back the insurance schemes sponsoerd by 11 metropalitan newspapers.

Donald Kaberry, prosecuting, said that assessors in London had noted a number of people appeared to be suffering from many accidents in which they got broken ribs. In every case a bicycle was blamed.

In the period covered by the summonses, the seventeen accused had put in 86 fraudulent claims upon newspapers. Payment had been made in every case—a total of $2,150.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Kaberry, "not one of the defendants had ever sustained a broken rib by being knocked down by a bicycle."

"Accident had been arranged. The procedure was for the "victim" to bruise his ribs, and then go to the infirmary's out-patient department.

"On arrival he would complain of having been knocked down in the street by a bicycle, and when examined by a doctor would wince as if in pain," said Mr. Kaberry.

"As a rule the ribs were strapped up and an out-patient's card was given.

"When the time came for a medical certificate to be required, the defendant would then take the out-patient's card to his or her panel doctor.

"It was an extraordinary thing," commented Mr. Kaberry, "that in every case except one, the doctor had been deceived and had given a personal certificate that he had examined the patient and was satisfied that he or she was suffering from the injuries alleged."

ASK LEGISLATIVE BAN ON BOGUS CHARITIES

Increase So Fast as to Alarm London Mendicity Society

London.—Bogus charitable societies are increasing at such a rate that a case for new legislation to stamp them out is being prepared.

This is being done by the London Mendicity society, which for nearly 130 years has been trying to protect charitable people from fraud and imposture.

"We have had interviews with the commissioner of police," says Capt. D. C. Medley, secretary of the society, "and we intend to work through parliamentary channels."

Several cases of these charity frauds were cited at the annual meeting of the society. Two are typical:

A rescue society managed by a man who was traced to a common lodging-house; 10 house-to-house collectors each received 50 per cent. of the contents of their box at the end of the day. The law was observed by the provision of an occasional meal to a destitute person.

A "charity" collecting on behalf of the homeless and destitute, giving 50 per cent. to collectors, with no responsible management.

FINDS 5-FOOT SNAKE IN SCRAP-IRON PILE

Glasgow. — When the steamer Gibraltar, with a cargo of scrap metal, was being unloaded here, an unusual rattle from the heap of a scrap was heard above the noise. A startled workman leaped back as a five-foot rattlesnake emerged.

A naturalist finally donned a pair of thick leather gloves, frightened the snake from its hiding place in a steel pipe, pinned it to the deck with a stick, and removed it to his menagerie.

POSTAL UNIFORMS PROVIDED 80,000

London.—Two hundred and fifty miles of cloth, 500 miles of cotton fabrics, 1,000,000 yards of tape and braid, and more than 4,000,000 buttons and other accessories are bought annually by the post-office to provide outfits for their 80,000 uniform-wearing officers.

The cloths are subjected to severe tests before being entrusted to the contractors to be made up into 125,000 jackets, 110,000 waistcoats, 170,000 pairs of trousers and 38,000 overcoats.

POLICE SEEK BOGUS 'SCION OF ROYALTY'

Man Posed as "Lord Frederick Cambridge," Swindled U.S. Students

Oxford. — An immaculately-dressed and well-spoken young man, who posed as Lord Frederick Cambridge, a relative of the royal family, and borrowed money from a number of United States undergraduates here, is being sought by the police.

More than six feet in height, and wearing his clothes with distinction, he said he was being blackmailed by an actress, and his only chance of avoiding a scandal which would cause a sensation of the first order, was to flee from England at once.

The Americans clubbed together and raised a loan of $400 for the bogus peer, who invited one of them to come to London with him.

After enjoying a well-chosen meal at a west-end grill, he rose from the table and said he would return in a few minutes.

The American waited . . . and waited. His companion did not return. He became suspicious, and informed the police.

He then learned the man was an imposter and the real Lord Frederick Cambridge was in another part of the country

GERMANS BUY BACK OLD SHIPS' STEEL

Scapa Flow Derelicts Reborn as New Warships

Rosyth.—The German battleships surrendered after the war at Scapa Flow are going back to Germany as part of their modern navy.

Their steel plates and guns are cut into suitable lengths of scrap metal. Germany is the biggest buyer of this, and her demands have lately become intense.

The scrap metal is taken to the German steel works and there resmelted into ships' plates for warships.

Incidentally, many of the steel plates of the liner Queen Mary were forged from the resmelted steel of the German battleships, and some steel on board her also came from the Mauretania.

MODERN ENGLISH FARMER USES AEROPLANE FOR TRANSPORTATION

BROKER SEES PENCIL RESULT: YOUTH HELD

Disbelieves Legacy Story and Thwarts Clerk's $50,000 Bond Theft

London.—A young man called at a stockbroker's office, told him that he had been left a legacy on his 21st birthday and asked him to sell bonds worth $50,000.

The stockbroker saw a row of pencils in the young man's pocket—a fact which suggested to him that he might be a clerk. He became suspicious, and made inquiries.

As a result the young man—William Chatten Garner, aged 20, a clerk, Newbury Park, Ilford— appeared in court and pleaded guilty to stealing two bearer bonds. It was alleged he took them from the office of his employers.

Sentence was postponed.

PARSON'S JOB HARD ARTICLE DECLARES

London.—Who'd be a parson?

Listen to what Rev. C. Paul Glidden, vicar of St. James' church, in the Walthamstow suburb of London, has to say about his job in his parish magazine:

If he is devout he is accused of "spending all his time in that church of his". If he visits his parish he is "always putting his nose into other people's business". If he does not, they say, "we might be dead for all he cares."

If he tries to meet the wishes of his people he "hasn't a mind of his own." If he carries out his own policy in his own way he "has no respect for other people's feelings."

BELIEVE KILLED IN 1916 RETURNS TO MOTHER, 86

John Evans Was Listed as Lost in Battle of Jutland

NAME ON MEMORIAL

Southend.—All Southend is talking about the dramatic return to his mother's home in South Benfleet of Stoker Petty-Officer John Evans, who was reported killed at the battle of Jutland in 1916, and whose name is engraved on a war memorial.

Mrs. Warren, who is 86, commented: "When my son came to the door he asked for lodgings, but I recognized him almost immediately. It gave me a great shock. Every time now I hear a knock at the door—I fancy it is someone coming to take him away from me again."

Evans, himself, when questioned about what ship he served with at the battle, replied: "I remember nothing. I've been 'round everywhere, working, and if I can get a job here I shall anchor here. If I can't, I shall up anchor and go away."

Mrs. Martin, a neighbor, described how Mrs. Warren came to her in a state of great excitement and told her that her "dead" sailor son had just returned.

"She was so agitated that she could not keep still, said Mrs Martin.

"She said it was almost unbelievable, because a comrade told her years ago he had actually seen her son shot down during the battle.

The family had not seen Evans since before the war.

MAN PATIENT SLUGS DENTIST ON WAY OUT

Police Start Hunt After Studying Surgery Records

Southall.—A dentist here, Edward S. Simpson, 44, after examining a man's mouth, was showing him out when the "patient" drew a spanner from an inside pocket and struck him on the head.

He struggled, but the man escaped. The dentist was left in a serious condition.

C.I.D. officers studied surgery records and started a hunt for a man thought to have come from Scotland and now living near London.

FLOATED 10 HOURS IS PICKED UP ALIVE

Southampton.—The story of a man who floated for 10 hours in the Red Sea and was picked up alive, was told when the German East Africa liner Wangoni, stopped here en route from Cape Town to Hamburg. He was a German passenger who slept on the deck because of the intense heat and had fallen overboard.

The alarm was raised and the ship circled around, while the sea was swept by searchlight. For about an hour the search continued. A wireless message was sent out by the Wangoni warning ships in the vicinity to be on the lookout for the missing man.

Ten hours later a Dutch steamer reported by wireless it had picked up the missing man alive.

PUNNING BADGES ARE FASHION IN AIR FORCE

Squadron Mottoes Are Approved by College of Heralds

London.—Royal Air Force squadrons have lost no time in availing themselves of the new privilege of adopting distinctive badges.

Of such insignia and mottoes already approved by the College of Heralds, some are in the best style of discreetly "canting"—or punning—heraldry.

For instance, No. 2 (Army Co-operation) Squadron bears as its badge a Wake Knot—the looped monk's girdles familiar to readers of "Hereward the Wake." The squadron's motto, too, is "Hereward"—an Anglo-Saxon word meaning "Guarder of the Army."

The badge of No. 15 (Bomber) Squadron is a hind's head, full face, between two wings, and the motto is "Aim Sure."

A Pegasus, or winged horse, is the symbol of No. 18 (Bomber) Squadron. The motto is "Animo et Fide"—with courage and loyalty.

The Greek letter pi over a Maltese cross on a circle colored red is the mathematical pun for No. 22 (Bomber) Squadron. "Pi" signifies 22-7, the relation of the circumference of a circle to its diameter—and the motto of this squadron is appropriately "Preux et Audacieux"—gallant and daring.

No. 201 (Flying Boat) Squadron has a seagul and "Hic et Ubique" (Here and everywhere).

A Seax—the curved knife with a notch in the back, the traditional weapon of the Saxons—is the badge of No. 604 (Middlesex) Squadron.

Badges of operational units will be used, without squadron numbers, on aircraft and other property on a background of special shape which will indicate the principal operational function of the unit. For fighter squadrons the approved shape is a spearhead; for bombers, torpedo-bombers, and bomber transport units, a bomb; and for general reconnaissance, army co-operation and flying-boat squadrons a six-pointed star.

FORESEE LONDON AS CITY OF LIDOS SOON

Build Second Big Bathing Centre, and Plan Others

London.—Plans to make the London of the future a city of lidos are rapidly approaching completion.

Already, in accordance with its policy of bringing health and sunlight into the lives of London's citizens, the London county council has started the construction of its second great lido—this time at Brockwell park. The first, recently opened at Victoria park, has been a splashing success.

Brockwell park lido will include a swimming bath 200 ft. long and 90 ft. wide, and will be provided with the most modern sun-bathing facilities. The bath will be large enough for aquatic sports. This lido will cost more than $125,000, and will be ready, at the latest, by next spring.

North and west London are also to get lidos. More than 1,000,000 bathers used the council's open-air swimming pools last year.

HIT BY CRASHING 'PLANE WOMAN IS ONLY BRUISED

Owes Life to Fact That She Fell Into Deep Ditch

FLED ONLY IN VAIN

Consett.—Despite the fact that a crashing aeroplane hit her in the back and pinned her in a ditch, Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong, 42, a farmer's wife, of Medonsley, Durham county, escaped with only slight bruises.

"I was watching the aeroplane for some time and I saw it make a swoop as if it was trying to land; I ran to try to get out of its way but it struck me in the back," she said. "The machine landed on top of me, but it was a deep ditch, and that is why I am practically unhurt."

The pilot, Samuel Smith, 30, of Heaton, Newcastle, was making his first solo flight. He too was unhurt though the machine was wrecked. This was his story: "Owing to fog and rain I lost my bearings. In trying to land I lost flying speed and crashed into a hayrick. I was flung from the cockpit into the field. It was a greater shock to me than the crash itself to find that there was a woman in the ditch."

ONE-TIME APPRENTICE ENDOWS SCHOLARSHIPS

Shy Millionaire Remembers Leeds University Where He Studied at Night

Leeds. — Britain's "shy millionaire" has just offered $250,000 to endow scholarships at Leeds university.

He is Frank Parkinson, 48-year-old chairman and joint managing director of one of the world's biggest electrical engineering firms.

Mr. Parkinson began life as an engineering apprentice. But at night he studied at Leeds university, to which he won a scholarship.

When his apprenticeship ended he began business as an electrical engineer with $100 capital—all his savings. He was his own designer and salesman.

CLAIM NEW DRUG BANISHES SHYNESS

Patent Exudes Energy, Confidence After Single Dose

London. — A new drug which raises the blood pressure and thus cures depression and shyness, is described in the current issue of the Lancet.

After a dose, even the most depressed patients are able to overcome their shyness, and talk spontaneously. They feel unusually full of energy and self-confidence.

Tests for the mental ability of patients after taking the drug show that they are able to concentrate better, and can work out problems faster and more accurately than before.

CAT BURGLAR SOUGHT $25,000 GEMS TAKEN

Thieves Apparently Hid in Yard, Climbed to Roof

London.—Scotland Yard is investigating a $25,000 robbery, apparently carried out by cat burglars after a 12-foot climb to the roof of an outhouse at the flat of Mrs. Vera Dixon in Knightsbridge, S.W.

The loot consisted chiefly of jewelry.

It has been established that the yard gate was locked after work had finished on the evening in question, but it is thought possible that a man might have hidden in the yard.

PATIENT DIES TWICE IN BRITISH HOSPITAL

Revived After Heart Had Stopped 25 Minutes—Police Aid Doctors

Dorchester. — A patient from Broadmayne, near here, Cyril White, 32, "died" twice in Dorset County hospital the other day.

After he had had an operation for tonsilitis, a second one was necessary to stop bleeding.

While under the anaesthetic, White's heart stopped beating and remained still for 25 minutes. He was then restored to life, and kept living for eight hours.

When the heart stopped, the house surgeon of the hospital, Dr. C. J. Vaughan, and a Bournemouth specialist immediately massaged it, but it did not respond to treatment for 25 minutes.

When at last there was a faint beat the hospital staff rendered artificial respiration for four hours and drugs were injected into the heart. Almost the whole of the hospital supply of adrenalin was used.

At last the hospital staff, almost exhausted by their struggle, had to summon reserve forces to oin in the fight.

An emergency message was circulated, and five policemen, called from their beats, were rushed to hospital. They kept White alive for another four hours.

White's young wife, to whom he had been married three years, and his relatives gathered at the hospital to keep vigil, and they were constantly in touch with the drama in the operating theatre.

Police experts in artificial respiration and doctors were still working in relays to save White when he finally died.

FIND MAN'S FINGER AFTER TRAIN LEAP

Prisoner Plunged Near Tunnel Mouth, Caught After Long Hunt

Chepstow.—Following a six-hours man hunt, in which 60 police and hundreds of men and women joined, Evan John Jones, a prisoner, who eluded his police escort and leaped from a Cariff express at the mouth of the Severn tunnel, was captured at Caerwent, two miles away.

Shortly after leaving the tunnel, which is over four miles long, the London-Cardiff express pulled to a standstill and had just restarted when Jones feigned illness and said he needed air. In the corridor he suddenly dived through an open window.

The two officers grabbed his feet before he was properly through, but the train was gathering speed and the door swung open. They were compelled to release Jones, who fell head first on to the permanent way.

The communication cord was pulled and urgent messages sent for police reinforcements to join in the hunt.

A cordon was thrown round the area and arrangements made to introduce bloodhounds in the search. A finger was later found on the track.

GIRL, 21, GRADUATES TO BE SHIPBUILDER

"Could Probably Teach Me Now," Her Famous Father Says

Newcastle.—Miss Susan Denham Christie, who has just obtained the degree of Bachelor of Science in Naval Architecture, is following in the footsteps of her father, J. Denham Christie, chairman of a big Wallsend shipbuilding firm, who says, "My daughter could probably teach me a thing or two about naval architecture now."

Miss Christie, 21, has for a long time dreamed of the day when she would design big ships.

"I had a year's practical experience in addition to the course at Armstrong College, Newcastle, where I was the only woman taking this subject," she states.

"I've always been interested in ships and you have to know quite a lot about their design to pass the examination."

OFFICER MUST PAY

Manchester.—Damages amounting to $645 and costs were awarded to Harry Hyman, a wholesale fruit dealer, against William Jackson, a police constable.

Hyman complained of alleged assault, false imprisonment and malicious prosecution.

HIGH UP ON NARROW LEDGE UNCOVERING ART TREASURES

British, American Scientists Aid Turks Uncover Marvels of Old Church

WORLD'S LARGEST

Istanbul.—Discoveries of priceless Byzantine mosaics and paintings are expected to be made shortly in the eastern part of the famous Aja Sofia church here.

The restoration work is being carried out by a group of American, British and Turkish scientists, led by Professor Thomas Whitemore, director of the Boston Byzantine Institute of America.

It has become almost an unnerving sight to watch the professor and his staff perched dangerously on a narrow scaffold 90 feet above the ground. Great progress in the work of restoration is being made and the work is continuing almost day and night.

Professor Whitemore seldom leaves his uncomfortable "lodging," and has even ordered a telephone to be installed at the highest point of the scaffold so he can confer with his ground men without coming down.

The uncovering of the mosaic paintings in all their former glory, on which the professor is working at the request of the Turkish government, is of the greatest historical importance.

It was in 582 that Aja Sofia was built, the world's largest church of that period. The most famous Byzantine architects, Anthemios, drew the plans ordered by the Emperor Justinian, and the best mosaic painters from Italy, Greece and Russia, gradually decorated the church with exquisite works of art until the capture of Constantinople by Mohammed II on May 29, 1453.

Three days after the capture of the capital, Mohammed the Second ordered Aja Sofia church to be turned into a mosque. The mosaic pictures were whitewashed and slumbered under the white layers until the official change, promoted by Kemal Ataturk, to have the church turned into a museum.

BOTH VALVES DOWN SQUIRREL STAYS PUT

Brookline, Mass.—It took more than pushing the first and second valves down to get "Fuzzy," the pet squirrel of Martin and John Gannon, to come out of a bass horn.

Fuzzy, curious, decided to explore the interior. The Gannons tried in vain to coax the squirrel out and finally called on the Animal Rescue league. After concocting many schemes they hit upon a solution by placing gasoline in the mouth of the horn and blowing the fumes into the instrument. Fuzzy soon retreated.

ENGLISHMAN JAILED FOR SPANISH CRIME

Sentenced to 17 Years After Three Years Awaiting Trial

Barcelona. — William Lamb, 25-year-old native of Beeston, Notts, who has been in prison here for nearly three years awaiting trial for an armed hold-up in a restaurant in which the cashier was fatally shot, has just been sentenced to 17 years four months and one day. Three Spaniards were sentenced with him to four months and a day's imprisonment for attempted robbery.

The four men were ordered to pay $7,000 damages to the family of the cashier.

In 1933 Lamb and 57 other prisoners escaped by boring a tunnel from the prison to Barcelona's sewers. There was a fight with police underground before most of the men were rounded up.

JOKE COLLECTOR SAYS SCOTTISH BEST OF ALL

Belgian Business Man Has 2,000, "Cream of World's Humor"

Brussels.—Meet the first non-professional joke-collector of the world — Mr. Borowski, a Polish business man of about 35 living in Brussels.

"When they are not hurtful, but simply humorous, jokes put in the limelight the errors, the sins and often the virtues of people," he explains.

Citing figures to show that the sea lost 7,435 square miles of area since 1925, Apollov urged that measures be taken to discharge into the Caspian a portion of the waters of northern rivers and the Don, to protect valuable fisheries and Caspian navigation for future centuries.

"About five years ago their great social importance dawned on me, and, together with a friend, Dr. Theodore Gutmans, I decided to collect the best of them.

"My collection now includes about 2,000 jokes, which I dare say are the cream of the world's humor.

"First place I should award to the Scottish jokes, because they are short and clear. Here is the one I prefer. It is about an old maid who, after having served 40 years in a Scottish household, was told by her master she would be rewarded.

"'From now on,' said the missus, 'you are considered as a member of the family.'

"The maid beamed with joy . . .

"'No more wages for you,' added the master.

"Second place goes to the Jewish jokes, third to the jokes of Marseilles, fourth to English jokes, fifth to American humor, and sixth to Russian."

WOULD DIVERT RIVERS TO SAVE CASPIAN SEA

Says Soviet Dams and Intensive Irrigation Threatens Destruction of Water

Moscow.—Soviet construction of dams, vast increase of cultivated areas and intensive use of the water of Kuma, Terek, Volga and other rivers for irrigation threatens the destruction of the Caspian Sea, according to Prof. B. Apollov, prominent geologist.

Citing figures to show that the sea lost 7,435 square miles of area since 1925, Apollov urged that measures be taken to discharge into the Caspian a portion of the waters of northern rivers and the Don, to protect valuable fisheries and Caspian navigation for future centuries.

During the course of the last 100 years the level of the Caspian rose and fell alternately, but in 1925 fell sharply 24 inches below the average level, according to the geologist. In March of this year the sea was 1.9 inches lower than in 1925, a total decrease in area of 7,435 square miles, or equal to the surface of the Kara-Bugaz gulf.

As a result in the gulf of Baku the towers of the ancient fortress of Salkhir, built in the 12th century, which was submerged by a geological disturbance, now protrude from the water. In fine weather the ancient road leading to the fortress can be seen on the bottom of the gulf.

The island of Cheleken gradually is being connected with the Turkmenian coast and is becoming a peninsula.

MURDER DISCOVERED TWO CENTURIES OLD

Rome.—A 200-year-old murder has just come to light here. Workmen rebuilding the ancient Albergo Dell-'Orso—the inn where Dante lived in Rome—came across a crumbling skeleton behind an old partition recently. Archaeologists examining the remains pronounced that the skeleton was apparently that of a young man presumably killed and the body concealed two centuries ago when the inn was a notorious criminal rendezvous.

DECLARES FIGHT WILL BEGIN FIRST HOUR OF NEXT WAR

Aeroplanes, Long-range Guns, Radio "Will Pierce Enemy Heart"

CONSCRIPT SCIENCE

Munich.—Before 2,000 college-students here Lieut.-Col. Siebert has begun a special lecture-series on "The War for Everybody." Siebert is the educational chief of the Munich War School (Kriegschule), Germany's Sandhurst.

"The next war will be a totalitarian war," said the speaker. "Contrary to the past, in the very hour of the declaration of war, the first fighting will have begun. Bombing and pursuit aeroplanes and motorized artillery, super-long range guns in border positions, and a discouraging propaganda loosed from high-powered stations will be hurled primarily against the spiritual and economic centres of the enemy. Chief attempt will be to pierce the enemy nation to the heart before it can mobilize the powerful defence apparatus developed since the last war.

"The state will have an iron grip on the economy of the nation in the next war," Siebert continued. "For today courage and training of armies and the strategy of army-leaders are almost secondary to technical equipment and supplies.

"War-law, a drastic penal code concentrating all national forces behind the army, will play a vastly greater part than ever before," he declared. "Science, too, has been drafted into the nation's service. The new war-technique requires the untiring work day and night of whole corps of the nation's best scientists."

BARBED WIRE THEATRE

Cologne.—An exhibition entitled "The German Theatre behind barbedwire" has just been opened in the institute for the study of theatrecraft at the University of Cologne. It demonstrates the various efforts of German prisoners of war to entertain their fellow captives with amateur theatricals during internment behind the scenes of the Great War.

MUSSOLINI IS STILL JUST A JOURNALIST

Names His Profession on Census Card

When the recent Italian census was taken, inspectors handed him the card all citizens were asked to fill out.

When he returned it to them, they discovered with surprise that he had written: Name—Benito Mussolini. Profession—Journalist.

PAIR ARE SENTENCED WERE ITALIAN SPIES

Were Trying to Get Sketches of Defence Works at Malta

Malta.—Found guilty of spying on behalf of Italy, two men were each sentenced here to three years' hard labor. They were Dr. Nicholas Delia, a barrister, and Joseph Flores, a prominent member of the Malta branch of the British Union of Fascists.

They were charged with "trying to obtain secret official sketches, plans and models calculated to prove useful to an enemy."

During the trial, a declaration by Delia was read in which he stated that he had been approached by the Italian consul-general and asked to obtain secret information on the dockyard and navy.

He claimed that he had refused, but had got into touch through [illegible] with a [illegible] who was ready to sell the information required.

He alleged that both he and Flores had become nervous later and dropped the whole matter, telling the Italian consul-general that they could not carry out his wishes.

LIBERALS EXPECT MANITOBANS WILL BACK WAGE LEVY

130 NOW IN CONTEST

WINNIPEG, July 23.— (CP).—Confidence the Manitoba electorate will support the Liberal-Progressive Government's motives in levying the two per cent. wage tax is expressed by Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General.

Mr. Major last night addressed his constituents in Winnipeg, where he is standing for re-election in the provincial elections next Monday.

Repeal of the wage tax is a chief platform plank of the Conservative party, only group except for the government with sufficient candidates in the field to obtain a majority over all.

Liberal-Progressives under Premier John Bracken have nominated 47 candidates for the 52 seats at stake. Conservatives have 37, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation 19, Social Credit, 20 and others seven. S. S. Garson, Liberal-Progressive, was given an acclamation in Fairford and voting in two northern ridings has been deferred to Aug. 21.

The Budget Warning.

Mr. Major said that following drastic economies which fell just short or impairing essential services in 1933 in the provinces, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, then Prime Minister, warned the Bracken government further requests for financial aid either by loan or guarantee would be with held by Ottawa unless Manitoba balanced its budget, either by further reductions in expenditure, by increased taxation or both.

The Attorney-General said it was clear further assistance from the Dominion at that time was out of the question unless the budget was balanced, notwithstanding that Manitoba "had received less assistance from the Dominion than any other western province."

Manitoba had been faced with the alternative of the special two per cent tax on income or a sales tax. The latter would have been applicable to practically all necessities of life and every person would have been subject to it regardless of income.

The government therefore found it necessary to impose the two per cent tax on income of $480 or more for single persons and of $960 annually or more for married persons. Later the tax on married persons was made applicable only to salaries of $1,200 or more.

VETERAN OPERATOR HELPS CELEBRATE

W. J. Helm, Port Hope, Sits At Key Once More

PORT HOPE, July 23.—Unique memories of olden days were recalled Tuesday night by Walter J. Helm, manager of the Midland Loan and Savings Company, who took a seat at the key in the Canadian National Telegraph office to commemorate with telegraphers from coast to coast the centenary of the successful experiments carried out by Samuel B. Morse.

The line through the Port Hope office was linked up with Vancouver and Halifax and, until the ceremony was over, Mr. Helm sat at the key. He was not as quick at receiving as years ago, but when it came time to send his short message across the Dominion to be heard by a number of personal railway friends, it went out clear and distinct, as vouched for by another operator. "Go ahead, Port Hope," came the call. And the operator tapped, "This is W. J. Helm, of Port Hope, Ontario, aged 59, commenced 1892."

As a boy of fourteen, Mr. Helm mastered telegraphy and strung a line from his home to the home of another boy, Harry Maynard, now an engineer residing in Toronto. They conversed back and forth and whiled away the long winter evenings by playing checkers, calling the moves by wire. The battery jars were obtained from a grocery store, used to contain candy, and all the work was carried out by the two youths. Mr. Helm still has his sounder.

His old friend, Mr. Maynard, was listening in at Toronto and sent a good-will message to Mr. Helm at Port Hope, as did Jack Harcourt, former Port Hope operator, and L. B. MacFarlane, of Montreal.

AN 1816 TOKEN

Coin Minted to Commemorate Brock's Death Dug Up At Milford.

MILFORD, Ont., July 23 (CP)—A token minted in 1816 to commemorate the death of Sir Isaac Brock has been unearthed at Milford, near Brockville, by Jack Thomas, a farmer. The bronze coin was found buried beneath 18 inches of earth. About the size of a cent but thinner, the token bears the date 1816 in the centre of one side and the words: "Success to commerce and peace to the world." On the other are engraved two cherubims surmounted by an urn. The tablet reads "Died October 1812" and around the edge are the words: "Sir Isaac Brock, hero of Upper Canada."

ONTARIO FOREST FIRES ARE DOUSED BY TIMELY RAINS

Flames However Continue To Keep Alberta Crews Fighting Desperately

120 MEN SENT TO PARK

(By the Canadian Press.)

As heavy showers brought aid to fire-fighters stamping out the last of Ontario's many blazes, flames continued to c.ll forth all the efforts of weary rangers and volunteers in Alberta and a section of British Columbia to-day. Ontario fires were definitely checked, but new blazes added to the worries of the West, with an "extremely critical" situation developing.

Cinders from a fire thought to be in the Catract Creek district 75 miles southwest of Calgary, fell on High River, 50 miles from the blaze. Near Saunders, 135 miles southwest of Edmonton, a fire, previously checked, raged with renewed fury as 160 men sought to hold it in check.

Along the Brazeau River, 100 miles southwest of Edmonton, additional men from Coalspur fought a stubborn blaze which has already destroyed valuable commercial timber. Small fires blazed in the West Drayton Valley, 60 miles from Edmonton.

Guard Summer Resort.

A new fire raged over a wide front in the Plathead Valley of British Columbia, near the Alberta border. Patrols guarded the borders near-by Watertown National Park to prevent damage to the summer resort section. Two fires in Jasper National Park remained under control but occupied the attention of 120 men to prevent them from spreading.

Rain proved a boom to fire-sickened Ontario last night. Officials prepared to disband hastily-recruited volunteers as the majority of blazes died away or were brought under control. Showers checked flames around Sault Ste. Marie. The largest fire, over 40-mile area along the Goulais river, still burned but diminished vigor. Fire-fighters patrolled the borders of other fires almost completely expected to disband the majority of the 1,200 men recruited for fire-fighting in the vicinity. Of the 56 blazes in surrounding territory, only three or four had not been extinguished by the rain, and 'mopping up' crews attended to these.

Throughout the remainder of the Province, fires still burning were small and well under control.

BRITAIN WARNS SPANISH REBELS

France Joins In Ordering International Harbor Of Tangier Be Kept Clear

LONDON, July 23 (AP).—Great Britain, in a firm protest to General Francisco Franco, the Spanish rebel leader, to-day warned Fascist insurgents against "deliberate and irresponsible bombing of the "shipping straits" off Gibraltar.

Repetition of the incidents, the statement said, would lead to protective and retaliatory acts.

It was issued in the name of the Rear Admiral in command of Gibraltar.

At the same time, both British and French joined in a concerted warning to the Spanish Government to keep its feet out of the internationalized harbor at Tangier, Morocco.

The British Embassy in Spain was instructed to act with the French Embassy in calling the Spanish Government's attention to the "difficulties which may arise" if Tangier is used as a base of operations for the Spanish fleet.

The Admiralty announced the destroyer Shamrock was proceeding to Cadiz to vacuate British and American subjects in the Seville region.

Two ships of the Fourth Flotilla Squadron also were heading for the Malaga and Cadiz Straits.

SOUTHERN PRAIRIES WILT UNDER HEAT

Parts Of Alberta And Saskatchewan Enter Seventh Week Of Drought

WINNIPEG, July 23.—(CP). — Blistering heat in southern sections of Alberta and Saskatchewan and generally clear skies over the Canadian prairies intensified the need to-day for drenching rains to save crops still standing after six weeks of drought.

Eastern and central portions of Southern Alberta suffered most from the heat yesterday as the mercury climbed to 104 in Medicine Hat, up four degrees from the previous day. Lethbridge sweltered in 97 degrees weather and Calgary had a high of 96.

South-western Saskatchewan also was decidedly hot with 94 at Swift Current. The heat moderated further east and it was only 88 in Moose Jaw.

Northern sections were slightly cooler with a high of 88 at Edmonton, 86 at Battleford, Sask., 86 at Saskatoon and a "cool" 78 at Prince Albert, Sask. In Manitoba, a stiff breeze did much to ease long-suffering citizens although Brandon recorded 88 and Winnipeg 86 degrees.

TWO HURT IN CRASH

Truck on Way to Political Rally Upsets Hurling 20 Out.

STE. ANNE DES MONTS, Que., July 23 (CP)—Two men passengers in a truck headed for a Union Nationale political meeting here last night were in critical condition in hospital here to-day, injured when the truck overturned between Marsoulins and Riviere A La Martre, 20 miles east of here.

Bringing 20 men from Grande Vallee on a 75-mile drive to hear Maurice Duplessis, Union Nationale leader, upset on a sharp curve at the bottom of a hill, scattering the passengers over the road.

ROSALIND FAVORED FOR HAMBLETONIAN

Lexington Entry Expected To Follow In Footsteps Of Trotting Greats

GOSHEN, N.Y., July 23 (AP).—They're calling out the foremost three-year-old trotters for the $40,000 Hambletonian, richest of the harness horse stakes, and it looks like Rosalind, a story book filly, will lead the parade home at Goshen's Good Time Park August 12.

Out of Shakespeare's "As You Like It," 21-year-old Gibson White of Lexington selected the name for the horse that is expected to follow in the footsteps of such great trotters as Greyhound, The Marchioness, Mary Reynolds, Walter Dear and Spencer.

But whether she wins or not, the daughters of Scotland has gone a long way toward restoring the health of her youthful owner, son of the famous trainer, Ben F. White, who won the Hambletonian with Mary Reynolds.

Two years ago, Gibson, horseman almost from the time he could toddle, was seriously ill. His father, knowing his son's interest in horses, gave him two yearlings. One was Rosalind. The other was Jack Orr, champion two-year-old pacer last year with a mark of 2.04¼.

End Of Fistic Trail For Jack (Kid) Berg

NEW YORK, July 23 (CP).—End of the fistic trail appeared near today for Jackie "Kid" Berg, once a contender for the lightweight championship of the world, following his knockout in two rounds at the hands of Aldo Spoldi, Italian lightweight champion, here last night.

The Londoner, in his first appearance since returning to North America, was belted hard by the Italian. The "Whitechapel whirlwind" who in 1930 gave Tony Canzoneri a beating, was put down three times in the second round before the referee stopped the fight.

A left to the jaw floored Berg soon after the second round started. He no sooner got to his feet after an eight count than Spoldi's left caught him in the same place. Berg sank for another eight count. Gamely he struggled up, but Spoldi uncorked a sweeping right to the head. With Berg on the floor, Referee Billy Cavanaugh stopped the fight without count on the third knockdown.

HE ACTED LIKE A STRANGER -- YET COULD SHE BLAME HIM?

With the impersonal half smile in her direction that he would accord a stranger, Gay thought, Wayne bowed himself from the room as she stood rooted to the floor beside Tim Keenan. Yet, could she blame Wayne? Tim's manner had been possessive, to say the least, when he came upon them and demanded to know why Gay had kept him waiting. For all Wayne knew, Tim, the millionaire, meant a great deal in the check girl's life. But again she tried to console herself with her own philosophy which was to the effect, "What matter—"

Seymour West W. I. Holds Meeting At Home Of Mrs. Arthur Rutherford

PLEASING PROGRAM

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 23. — The regular monthly meeting of the Seymour West W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Rutherford on Thursday, July 16. There was a good attendance and several new members were added to the membership. It was decided that Mrs. Robert McCulloch and Mrs. Arthur Rutherford be a committee to choose for what exhibit the prize of $2.00 would be given at the Seymour Agricultural Fair. Mrs. Ernest Fairman and Mrs. Charles Craighead were chosen new leaders for the membership contest.

At the conclusion of the business session Mrs. Frank McKelvie took the chair and the following program was given: Piano solo, Jerrine Hendy. The topic, "The World is taking your Photo, look pleasant, please," was very capably dealt with by Mrs. James Watters. A piano solo by Eileen Hoard received hearty applause, after which the National Anthem was sung before retiring to the dining-room where some of the members of the We X L Supper Club acted the skit, "Dinner Is Served," at which, in a very interesting and amusing way we were shown proper table etiquette. Those taking part were Misses Irene and Dorothy Curle, Mary and Beatrice Rutherford.

Mr. Ingram addressed the meeting regarding taking caution to prevent weeds. He urged that through the efforts of the Women's Institute many of these troublesome weeds would be destroyed. A dainty lunch was served at the close, and a social half-hour enjoyed by all.

MILLBROOK WINS FROM AUBURN GANG

Homesters Lead Throughout For 12-4 Tri-County Victory

Millbrook took a 12-4 Tri-County Lacrosse League victory over Auburns in Millbrook on Tuesday evening. It was a fast, clean contest, with the homesters having a 3-0 lead the first quarter, a 5-1 edge going into the third, and being in front 7-3 as the fourth opened. There were a few minor tangles resulting in penalties, one being drawn by the Millbrook goalie near the close when he and Heard mixed outside the crease. A good crowd gave the home team plenty of vocal support and the visitors some hearty razzberries. Larmour stopped 33 shots to Dinesen's 20, with Auburns having an edge in the third quarter, but being outplayed most of the way. They were short several regulars.

The teams:

Auburns—Goal, Dinesen; defence, Gerow and Miller; centre, J. Creighton; wings, Hunt and Jackson; rover, Heard; alternate, Munden.

Millbrook—Goal, Larmour; defence, D. Cancilla and Sneyd; centre Edmunds; wings, T. Cancilla and Donnelly; rover, Hagerman; alternates, H. Wainman, O. Wainman, and Smith.

The summary:

First Quarter.

Millbrook—Edmunds 3.00
Millbrook—Hagerman (Sneyd) 7.00
Millbrook—O. Wainman (Cancilla) 11.00
No penalties.

Second Quarter.

Millbrook—T. Cancilla 4.00
Millbrook—Hagerman 5.00
Auburns—J. Creighton 8.00
Penalties—Gerow, D. Cancilla.

Third Quarter.

Millbrook—Edmunds (H.Wainman) 5.00
Millbrook—H. Wainman 6.00
Auburns—Heard (Munden)... 9.00
Auburns—Jackson (Hunt) ... 12.00
No penalties.

Fourth Quarter.

Millbrook—Edmunds (T. Cancilla) 2.00
Millbrook—O. Wainman (D. Cancilla) 3.00
Millbrook—Hagerman (D. Cancilla) 5.00
Auburns—Miller (Gerow) ... 7.00
Millbrook—Edmunds (Hagerman) 10.00
Millbrook—O. Wainman 12.00
Penalties—Heard, Larmour, Cancilla, Gerow.

MARMORA

MARMORA, July 23. — The first rain for over a month descended in a minimum at Crowe Lake on Wednesday evenig, and with a darkened sky cottagers and tourists alike thought they would be confined to the indoors for the rest of the evening.

Howeevr, only for a few minutes did the raindrops fall and the lake was as animated as ever with boats with hard-working anglers trying their luck. Wherever encountered, American visitors and guides were seen to be on the best terms with one another, for bass have been plentifully caught and here and there fine specimens of maskinonge have also been taken.

The many good successes thus far this season augur well for a good patronage next year, for with the farewell taken of many of the cousins to the south there has been the pleasantly uttered phrase, "We are coming back."

Ensconced in Booster Park as new arrivals were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Woodley, Toronto, J. A. Woodley of Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. T. Hennessy of New Toronto. Registered at Tipperary Hotel are T. J. Huff, of Doors, Ohio, Dr. C. A. Posts, Canton, Ohio, R. P. Kummer, Fred J. Young, E. L. Connelly, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cormack, and Mr. and Mrs. P. Myers of Cleveland, Ohio, and C. R. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Stone, Bud and Virginia, Rochester. New arrivals at Marble Point Lodge include Mrs. W. W. Anderson and daughter, Isobel, Miss Edna Higgins, and Ronald Dymond, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rath, of London.

Mr. Stiles will return to Chatham the latter part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wellman and Miss Iva Kruger spent Sunday at Mr. Earpest Brown's, Harold.

HEAVY HARDSHIPS IN PIONEER LIFE

Family Of Mrs. Alex. Watts Of Warsaw Crossed Atlantic In Sailboat

In the death of Mrs. Alex. Watts of Warsaw, on July 11 in her 90th year, the last member of the older generation of the White family has passed away. Martha White was married to Alex Watts about 63 years ago, and they had four sons, William and Clarence survive their parents.

Mrs Watts was one of the younger daughters of the late William White Sr. and his wife, whose maiden name was Martha Andrews. They came to Canada nearly a century ago. Four children were born in England. Diana died when a child, Jacob, Emma and Sarah Ann came to Canada with their parents. Jacob, the oldest of the three children, could remember some of the happenings on board ship during the voyage. Some of their relatives immigrated to Australia about the same time.

A trip across the Atlantic in a sailing vessel must have been a hard journey for parents with small children, and fraught with danger from storms etc., besides a great deal of discomfort and anxiety for sometimes it took two or three months to reach their destination, but can now be accomplished in a few weeks or even days. Times were hard in England as we learned in a letter written to Mrs. White a few years later. Corn Laws, etc., were mentioned in this letter, that has been kept in the White family.

Mr. White and family first settled in Canada near Lacey's Pond, North Douro, afterward moving to farm now owned by George Garbutt. A shanty was their home then and the seven younger children were born there. William, Benjamin, James, Martha, Rebecca, Ruth and Margaret. The mother who had helped so well during those years then passed away. Some time later, Mr. White built a substantial hewed log-house which though long unoccupied, still stands today.

Mr. White lived a good many years in Dummer township, for a time on the English Line near the Gallagher home and helped in the Sunday School and led the singing in the church nearby as there were no organs then, he was the precentor.

One instance might be mentioned of that time, one evening Jacob was sent for the cows and saw what he supposed two grey dogs which had got a wood-chuck up on a low limb of a tree. They were wolves instead of dogs but ran away, but he stayed to kill the wood-chuck. Later he lived on the farm where Mr. F. Jory lives now, his oldest son taking the place after he went to live in North Monaghan. Mr. White married a second time to Mrs. Stinson of Peterborough, the late Mr. Fred Stinson was a step-son.

Mr. White and his three sons were engaged at different times in lumbering, the meat business and farming. About 80 years ago he had a lumber camp in Burleigh township. While engaged in the meat business, to fill a contract for beef, a herd of cattle were brought from Harvey township to Peterborough where the men had to work for two days and one night to be ready in time.

The whole family was fond of music. Ben helped sing in a Peterboro' choir. Wm. at Lakefield and Jacob and Mrs. Batten were for a time precentors in their home churches. After a hard day's work Jacob did not mind taking his violin and walking to Warsaw to take instruction from the late Mr. Nathan Choate who was so generous in providing a room, heat and light and gave free music education to all who were interested, for 20 years.

The daughters lived most of their lives in North Dummer. Sarah Ann died in her youth, James and Margaret in early childhood. Four of the family lived over 80 years of age. Emma was married to Richard Batten Sr., Martha to Alex Watts, Rebecca to Lazarus Payne and Ruth to Fred Payne Sr.

Permanent waves are becoming fashionable in China.

Imitation flowers are now fashionable among women of England.

GOES TO KINGSTON ON THEFT CHARGES

Mike Trella, Wanted For Hastings Robberies Sentenced At Toronto

TORONTO, July 23.—"I never had a decent break in life," declared Mike Trella, alias Theodore Cole, 21, when asked to explain his criminal record by Judge Macdonnell in County Criminal Court yesterday.

Trella was given a two-year, one-day concurrent sentence in Kingston Penitentiary for stealing an outboard motor belonging to E. L. Cousins, of the Harbor Commission, and a motor car belonging to a West Toronto man.

"I'm treating you very leniently this time," said His Honor, "but if you come back I shall not be as lenient."

Trella had received a two-year, one-day sentence at Whitby for stealing the outboard motor.

Trella, it was revealed, had been involved in a series of Barrie thefts and housebreakings in 1932 and 1933.

Detective Fred Storm said he and Detective-Sergt. Silverthorne arrested Trella and another man outside a Hanson Ave. garage on June 8. Trella had a key to the garage, in which were found the outboard motor and a number of dishes alleged stolen from places near Hastings.

Digging Out: SUDBURY. — The north is "digging out." Magistrate Willard Cooper, who returned today from a visit in his official capacity to Hornepayne and Oba, said that he was informed residents at Nakina, recently threatened by fire, had buried all their furniture and belongings under the ground. The caches stayed there till yesterday's rains dissipated the fire danger.

Stolen Dinners: BEAMSVILLE. — Chicken thieves have been making inroads on farm flocks in this section of the Niagara district. Clifford Hitchcock reported to police that chickens valued at $150 were taken. At Ezra Trumm's farm thieves took 25 hens one night and returned the following night for a choice rooster. Other farmers have suffered theft of fowl recently.

NO TUBERCULOSIS AT BOWMANVILLE MINISTER STATES

Hon. David Croll Says Boy Who Had Disease Was Removed

CLEAN BILL NOW

TORONTO, July 23.—Charges of Peterborough Council that boys from that city have contracted tuberculosis at the Bowmanville Boys' School as a result of one boy being admitted, who was a carrier, were answered by Hon. D. A. Croll, Minister of Welfare, by the statement that there was no tuberculosis at Bowmanville School, and that it would be regrettable if the Peterborough report caused any alarm in the province.

"We transmitted to the municipality in the regular way the information that certain boys from there had been removed to sanitarium for preventive treatment. It was merely routine precaution against any serious case development," stated Mr. Croll. "There is no tuberculosis at the Bowmanville school."

The Minister stated that early this year, it was learned by the Medical Officer of the Department, that a boy sent to the school from an eastern municipality came from a tubercular family. "He had no active symptoms when admitted, and in the course of the time he was at the school he was submitted to three routine medical examinations. To be one the safe side, however, our doctor went to Bowmanville, and gave him an X-ray examination. It was found that active tuberculosis had developed."

All Examined

The minister stated he had immediately issued instructions that every boy in the school be examined. "Several other incipient cases —not dangerous ones—were discovered. To be absolutely certain, we sent these boys to sanitariums for preventive treatment. Moreover, we instituted additional precautions against new arrivals bringing any infection to the school. I might add that every boy is supposed to have a thorough medical examination at the hands of municipal doctors before he is admitted to the school. We add another examination on arrival and, as a result, we have had a perfectly clean bill of health for the past three months."

A remarkable phase is that world of entertainment which produces beautiful things that would seem impossible, and all by means of the delicate precision of the mechanical and scientific.

Most fascinating is the conglomeration of nationality which is Bohemian, picturesque, or pathetic at the same time.

It is from only the little I have seen so far so amazing and incredible. Here is so much that is beautiful, that which is luxurious the sordid, and the painful, and, remarkable though buildings may be, and different as it all is, it is the fact of its people that is in the end the most interesting.

It is the result of needs of the people who live here and there interests. It makes one marvel at us as human beings and also fear for us.

To wish for and find a thing is a great deal but to wish impossible things and then have more things happen than even the impossible is unbelievable, but it has happened and the dream just only begun. To imagine any more is impossible, but it seems that anything can happen here.

SUSPEND EVIDENCE OF COL. FLEMING IN COAL INQUIRY

Action Follows Mention Of Threats To Importers On Price Uniformity

LIVELY CLASHES

MONTREAL, July 23 (CP).—Evidence of Col. Andrew Fleming before the Tory Royal Commission, investigating the anthracite coal situation in Canada, was suspended yesterday after mention was made of threats to importers regarding uniformity of prices in Montreal.

The name of Senator Lorne C. Webster was mentioned in connection with the threats, allegedly made prior to 1933. Following suspension of the evidence of the Hartt and Adair Company official, commission counsel Bernard Bissonette said Senator Webster would be called for questioning about the threats.

The suspension featured a session punctuated by frequent clashes between counsel as to legality of referring back to agreements between coal companies from 1930 to 1933, prior to conviction of several firms for doing business contrary to the Combines Act.

Bissonette said he was trying to establish a connection between agreements of the period of 1930 to 1933 and present conditions in the coal trade here.

Disclosed Previously

He asked Fleming of understandings existing between 1930 and 1933 and was told this formed part of the evidence of the inquiry conducted by F. A. McGregor, Registrar under the Combine's Act.

"Did you make some agreement between 1930 and 1933 with Canadian Import Company, Scoth Anthracite and Mongeau and Robert to fix prices and control the market," Bissonette asked.

"Evidence in the last trial brought forth the facts as appreciated by the court . . ." began Fleming.

"Yes or no?' queried counsel.

"In connection with importations there's the evidence, in regard to prices there were discussions," replied Fleming.

Pressed further, Fleming said: "We made an agreement with Pascoe (Welsh exporting firm) they would supply the firms mentioned and, second, I did mention prices with the other Canadian importers."

Here Senator Webster's name was injected into proceedings as Bissonette asked: "What was the threat by Senator Webster or other companies to other importers in regard to fixing prices."

"There was no threat to Hartt and Adair," replied Flemilng.

"Did Pascoe reveal any threats to you?"

"There was a cable from Pascoe in 1930 recommending I go to the other side to close our contract."

"That's not my question," said Bissonette and counsel argued as to the legality of the question. It was agreed to suspend Fleming's evidence and call Senator Webster to the stand.

DEPUTATION IN OTTAWA TODAY

J. J. Duffus, M.P., Accompanies Mayor Macdonald And Alderman Sloan

EXPECT $10,000 GRANT

A proposed contribution by the federal government to be expended on unemployment relief work in Peterborough is the quest of a deputation to Ottawa to-day.

It was reported that J. J. Duffus accompanying Mayor Macdonald and Alderman Max Sloan, chairman of the Board of Works, left last night for the capital to interview the Minister of Labor in regard to this projected assistance, and also to consult several other ministers with respect to certain other Peterborough interests.

The amount of money mentioned for this city will not exceed $10,000 to be spent on permanent improvements which might not be undertaken now, and which would afford a maximum employment of men registered for relief.

The proposed Stuart Drive along the east bank of the river from Hunter street to the Nicholls Oval has been persistently suggested, and a Departmental engineer visited the city last week, looking over that project and also the Crescent street front on Little Lake. It is understood that the engineer was favorably impressed by both these proposals, and that possibly $5,000 may be granted for the Stuart Drive and another $5,000 for stone rip-rap along the water front of the new bank that has been filled in at Crescent street.

The intimation of government assistance has been discussed by the city council, and it is believed that to-day's deputation will return with definite assurance that either or both of these projects may be undertaken at once.

GERMANY

223,000 in 1932 to 52,000 in 1935. During this period German farmers repaid $250,000,000 of their debts. A vast marketing organization has been evolved. Every form of scientific farming is encouraged. It is claimed that four out of five German farmers now have access to electrical powers compared to one in eight in the United States.

The Daily Telegraph editorially comments: "An appearance of well-being has been induced in the home trade. The export business, upon which millions of German workers depend, has been a constant anxiety. Quotas, bilateral agreements, strictest control of exchange and prohibition of certain classes of imports all have been utilized to improve the position, but they leave the question unanswered whether Germany is not in fact living on her capital. There is no question that the effect has been to reduce the standard of living of the nation.

"Heavy sacrifices from the people are the price of the political and social policy that the German government is pursuing. These hardships are regarded as incidental to the huge experiment that defies the set notions of the foundations of prosperity . . . time will determine whether Germany in rejecting old theories will come to salvation or collapse."

Bethany Man Denies 'Phone Wires Cut

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, July 23.—Alex Monk of Bethany, whose place of business was destroyed by fire last Friday morning, says there is absolutely no truth in the report that the telephone wires at Bethany had been cut the morning of the fire. Mr. Monk stated it was definitely established that the lines had been burned by the fire. "The investigations are not being carried on from that angle at all," Mr. Monk declared.

FATHER BELIEVES SMALL YOUNGSTER DROWNED AT JACKS

Reconstruction Of Tragedy Tells Story Of Boy Losing His Balance

FOLLOW FOOTPRINTS

While the tiny pair of shoes, found on the west bank of the Quaker Oats pond at the foot of London street led searchers to believe that little Bobby Holland fell into the water at that spot, the sorrowing father of the dead child, Charles William Holland of 85 Hunter street has another theory.

In a room at his home that was dimmed by drawn blinds, and where the tiny casket containing the remains of the drowning victim lay awaiting funeral services that preceded interment at Little Lake Cemetery this (Thursday) afternoon, Mr. Holland declared it to be his belief that the lad fell into the river at Jack's swimming hole at the foot of Dublin street.

Reconstruct Events

Forty-one hours after the child was reported missing, the body was recovered from the Otonabee River near the sluiceway of the Quaker Oats power house on Wednesday morning. Following the removal of the body to Belleghem's Funeral Home, the bereaved father and his friend Perry Ferguson set out to reconstruct the events that led up to the child's death.

Mr. Holland stated they had found footprints, which he distinguished as those of his dead son, in the dried mud banks of the Otonabee, "not ten feet from the Jacks." Both men stated the marks indicated the child had been in the company of a larger companion. There were two distinct sets of tracks, they said, running from the swimming hole along the bank of the river in a southeasterly direction. As they got closer to the water, there was just the single set of footmarks, which Mr. Holland claims are those of his lad, which ended abruptly where it is presumed the lad lost his balance and fell into the water.

Went To "Jacks"

Mr. Holland said he was inclined to believe the story of Bobby's little companions of that afternoon, that the child left them at the pond and said he was going home, because "I'm hungry," but Mr. Holland believed that the child instead of going home had turned north on Harvey street and had made his way to the Jacks' swimming hole.

The father of the child thinks that Bobby was attempting to return to the other children whom he had left at the pond, by walking along the river bank from the swimming hole.

Asked how he accounted for the shoes being found on the bank of the pond at the water's edge, Mr. Holland said, "Those shoes belonged to my boy Harold." The children had been playing with their shoes off and Harold had returned home with Bobby's shoes on, leaving his own shoes at the pond.

Tourists Say—

Unless the muskies soon start biting again at Rice Lake, A. J. Spillman of Massilon, Ohio, will have to be content with bass and pickerel for the first summer in the fifteen years he has been coming to Harwood for his vacations.

"A few years ago I took a 32-pounder home with me and had it mounted," Mr. Spillman told The Examiner to-day, "and I certainly am proud of it; keeps reminding me of Rice Lake. That summer I got another that weighed twenty-one pounds. I've had my share of the big ones, but they seem to be giving me the go-by this year."

Mr. Spillman and his companion J. Endres of Massilon who are with their families at Harwood were in the city on a shopping trip this morning.

"The bass and pickerel have been biting all right, and we have had some nice fishing," Mr. Stillman said. "Wednesday evening we went down back of Idyl Wyld and got six big bass, but I'd like to land a muskie before we go home. We watched a chap yesterday evening playing a muskie. He had his boy and a guide with him, and he was having quite a battle. The boy was clapping his hands as his dad fought with the muskie, and it looked as if he was going to get him up to the boat. But, it broke away from the hooks and you should have seen the dad grab his hat and toss it onto the bottom of his boat. I'll bet he was thinking lots if he wasn't saying it."

Mr. Spillman said he likes Rice Lake; knows all the fishing beds and is right at home with Enoch Merriam.

"I think there are just as many fish up here as ever," he said, "but the folks up here don't pay enough attention to the bathing. We have lots of fine beaches, and our wives and the young people expect them up here. They could have a real good beach at Harwood if somebody would take the trouble to fix it up, and it would not cost more than a hundred dollars. Many of our people around Cleveland come here, and I have never heard any one knock this country. We like the people, and the way they treat us. Th authorities around here, like the traffic police, don't bawl you out if you make some mistake. Believe me, little things like that count a lot in the long run."

Mr. Stillman expressed the opinion that the Rice Lake resorts can do a lot yet to make their places additionally attractive for tourists.

"I'm not complaining, but I can see where there could be real improvements, and the expense wouldn't be much. There are many others down our way who would come up here if they knew the country. To send a man down and advertise through the sporting goods stores where we buy fishing tackle; make connections and let the people know more about your lakes. And then the weather! Before we came up here our children were sleeping out on the lawn it was so hot. But up here the last few nights we've had to use blankets."

Mr. Stillman's final comment was—"The one fault with a holiday up here is that it is too short. I'd like to come up for the whole summer. Possibly one of these days I may have enough money to make a season of it."

ADVISES YACHT CLUB FOR CITY

Captain Of Visiting Cruiser Impressed By Local Waters And Scenery

ON MONTH'S CRUISE

The suggestion that a yachting club should be organized in Peterborough as a means of advertising the city's tourist attractions and superb water facilities, was made to The Examiner by Captain E. A. Benning of Port Clinton, master of the Cruiser "Jimianna" which was berthed at George Street Wharf overnight.

"You have a beautiful little harbor here and unsurpassed water facilities," said the genial captain, as he surveyed Little Lake and contemplated the Trent Waterway down which he had brought his boat from Georgian Bay. "There should be a yacht club here affiliated with the Royal Canadian Yacht Club; it would put Peterborough on the map for the owners of cruisers and other pleasure craft," he said.

The 38-foot cruiser which Captain Benning is navigating on a month's cruise from Port Clinton, came across Lake Erie and Lake Huron up to Georgian Bay, and is proceeding down the Trent Waterway, to return to her home port via Lake Ontario and Lake Erie. She is due home on August 4.

A palatial little craft, built by the Matthews Company at Port Clinton, she is owned by James Knight, an Akron newspaper publisher, who is accompanied by Mrs. Knight and two guests. The interior appointments of the boat are quite luxurious and include a radio.

Other boats which have passed through Peterborough during the past two days, include the "Betsy Ann" of Lewiston, N.Y. (down); and the "Wetonia," of Toronto; the "Assiniboine" of Brockville; and the "Sa-Gos-Ake" of Peterborough (up).

Puzzling Fire Takes One Life In Chicago

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP).—Firemen searched the smoking debris of a north side fur-processing plant today in an effort to confirm the belief that all employees were accounted for after a puzzling blast which killed one person and injured 10.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly ordered Fire Marshal Michael J. Corrigan to conduct an intensive investigation into the cause of the explosion, which tore apart the three-storey building yesterday and was followed by fast spreading fire. The body of Mrs. Sylvia Visionsky, 40, a fur finisher, was removed from the ruins.

CRICKET CANCELLED.

LONDON, July 23 (CP Cable).—Heavy rain fell all over England today, cancelling the second day's play in the English county cricket matches. Hon. R. C. Matthews Canadian team, scheduled to meet M.C.C. at Lord's, was also rained out, and a one-innings match has been arranged for tomorrow.

The Rambling REPORTERS

THEY ALL TURN OUT.

Rural Ontario may lack the advantage of modern fire equipment, but its deficiency in this respect is more than made up for by the neighborliness and the willingness to help one another when trouble threatens to be found in the country districts. A city dweller who was visiting friends in a township not so far away from Peterborough on Sunday has come home amazed by the alacrity and the effectiveness with which the farmers of that section hurled to aid one of their neighbors when fire broke out along a fence. There was no one at home when the blaze was discovered by a party of American tourists and the latter hurried to the next farm and gave the alarm.

The telephone office was notified, and in a moment or so every subscriber of the line was informed of the fire and the rescue brigade was quickly formed. On each farm called buckets were hurriedly seized and in a remarkably short time all the able-bodied males on the place were in cars heading for the scene of the trouble. The result of this quick response to the SOS was that the fire was speedily extinguished before much damage was done.—C.

Subject Of Address By Peace Crusader

Dr Maude Royden, famed preacher and peace crusader who is to speak to a Peterborough audience in St. Paul's church in the evening of July 31, will speak on the topic "Can We Get the World In Order." it was announced to-day. Her address will occupy approximately 45 minutes and, following the address, she will receive and answer the questions of the congregation.

So generous has been her reception in Toronto that her week-day meetings during the past two weeks have attracted capacity congregations. On several occasions it has been necessary to close the doors a half hour before the appointed time for her address.

Her appearance in this city is being sponsored by the Peterboro Ministerial Association.

NICHOLLS PARKS TRUSTEES DRAFT SET OF SIX RULES

Society Or Club Numbering Over 100 Desiring Use Must Apply To Secretary of Board

SPEED LIMIT 20 M.P.H.

By the will of the late Mrs. Nicholls certain moneys were set aside to be used for park purposes by the citizens.

She also appointed trustees, who were given power to purchase lands and develop them and formulate such rules and regulations as they saw fit, to govern these parks.

Nicholls Oval, Jackson Park, and Inverlea are the contributions that have been made to Peterborough's list of parks.

These rules are being published not only for the convenience of the public, but also that the co-operation of all may be asked, in helping to carry them out:

Rules for Control and Use of Nicholls Park.

The rules adopted for the control and management of the parks passed by the trustees under the will of the late Mrs. Nicholls in 1897 are hereby abrogated and the following rules are adopted for same.

These parks are intended for the use of all the citizens of the city, but are to be so used under the following conditions:

1—Any society, club or organization desiring the use of any part of the parks for the purpose of games, assemblies and purposes, other than private picnics or groups not exceeding one hundred, shall first apply to the secretary of the Board of Trustees for permission to do so.

2—It is intended that the East Nicholls Park shall be used for large assemblages and for games, but no games which might be dangerous to the general public, such as baseball and golf, shall be allowed, nor shall anyone practise these games in this park.

3—The public rooms in the building on this park shall not be open except for the accommodation of those persons belonging to any society or association having the right to use the park and on application to the caretaker of the rooms, who shall have supervision and control of the rooms and premises surrounding said residence. The caretaker of the grounds shall have supervision and control of the grounds and of the use thereof, and shall have authority to prevent damage to the same or to the trees or roads therein.

4—The West Nicholls Park shall be under the control and management of the caretaker thereof, who shall have authority to keep good order and prevent damage to any part of the park and the trees, roads, buildings and bridges therein.

5—No one shall be allowed the use of the roads in any of the parks for the purpose of hauling material over same and no motor trucks of any description shall be allowed to use the said roads.

6—No one shall be allowed to drive a motor car over th roads in said park, or any of them, at a higher rate of speed than twenty miles per hour.

Fort Erie Will Send Family To Old Land

FORT ERIE, Ont., July 23 (CP).—Fort Erie expects to repatriate its second family to Britain tomorrow, if Supervisor R. J. Moore, Toronto, in charge of finances for Fort Erie, Windsor and Niagara Falls, approves of expenditure of $300, less than six months ca relief advance. Ontario Welfare Department declined to do so recently, when asked to advance 65 per cent. of its normal relief proportion.

William Sheffield is head of the family in question and has obtained promise of work in England. Declaring move represents good business on Fort Erie's part, Mayor Malkin said today the town will finance the move, subject to Supervisor Moore's approval. Recently another family was repatriated to Ireland on the same basis.

NO one, it is said, is a hero to his own servant; but that arises simply from the circumstance that a hero can only be known by heroes. The servant would probably be able to appreciate those like himself.

* * *

Dear Friends:

It is surprising how few people can appreciate one another. If a person is compassionate, if they can see the other fellow's point of view as well as their own, and if they act accordingly, they are very often blamed for being too softhearted by those who cannot see their side, or who do not understand why they are like that.

No rich man can judge a poor man, that is, a man who has never been poor, because he has never known the horrible lack of money. Neither can a poor man know the temptations a rich man can come up against, and although he might think that he wouldn't mind changing places with him, how does he know that he would not commit the same excesses were he in the same circumstance?

Many a man has the germs of heroism lying dormant within him, but no opportunity has arisen to bring it forth. Many a man who brags about what he would do, given the chance, would find that all his talk amounted to nothing, and all his bravery oozed out of his body when he was confronted with the need of it.

How can you sympathize with something you have never suffered? We can only be known intelligently by our compeers. Two people talking about what both understand can naturally enjoy and profit by each other's conversation, while the one who knows nothing about the subject stands by, bored and weary.

For instance, let a farmer talk crops and soil erosion to someone who knows nothing about it, or let him talk horses or cows to one who does not know the front end from the back, what good does it do either?

But let two who do know these things get together, and what a lot of good they can be to one another. Let a doctor talk to another surgeon about a clever operation, and what joy they can get out of one another's experiences. Let a newspaperman talk to another about the "scoop" his paper had, and each will get a thrill out of what the other can tell.

But let these folks talk to someone who does not understand, and they are simply wasting their time.

You see where I am heading, don't you? No one can really understand a hero, unless they themselves have the germ of heroism within them. Our Lord said, "A prophet hath no honor in his own country," meaning that he would have to mingle with prophets, people who understood, before he would be appreciated.

Those who are around us day by day, see us in our good and bad moods, and that sometimes clouds their minds to the good qualities, or heroism which we practice every hour, but if they had the seeds of that same heroism within them, they would recognize the same qualities we possess.

And so we go through life very often misunderstood, and lack of understanding can cause a very great deal of sorrow. We can only see the other fellow through our own narrow viewpoint of experience, unless we have made a study of the psychology of living as it applies to all of us.

When you have studied it, it clears the cobwebs from your brain and eyes, and it is amazing how much more interesting those around you become, because then you recognize the good that has been hitherto hidden from you. More later.

Your friend,

ROBERTA.

A HEART BLOW

Mother Wades Into Pond But Is Unable to Reach Drowning Daughter

MELVILLE, Sask., July 23 (CP).—Betty Mohart, 10, drowned in six feet of water in a slough near her farm home yesterday. Her mother, summoned by another daughter, waded into the water up to her neck but, unable to reach the child, watched helplessly as she drowned.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. Shepard

"Teacher to Teachers"

BACK SEAT DRIVING.

IN THESE days of millions of automobiles nobody needs to be told what a pest a back seat driver is. The same kind of pest is numerous in bridge circles. Here he may be a better or a poorer player than his partner, but in either case he loves to inform his partner what might have turned out better had partner performed some kind of double-dummy sot, but the same nuisance never seems to notice his own blunders, even volubly defending palpable errors. Wise partners obtain best results from weaker players, by letting them alone, giving advice only when asked to do so. Harmony across the table is vital to success. To-day I have two examples of the kind of bridge usually played by back seat drivers. They appeared in an important duplicate match last evening.

Bidding went: South, 1-Diamond; North, 2-Diamonds, when he had opening bid strength; South, 2-Spades; North, 3-Diamonds, which was most discouraging; South, 4-Clubs; North, 4-No Trumps; South, 5-Hearts, in a last attempt to air partner to logical limit of activity, the club and heart calls evidently showing Aces; North, 6-Diamonds, the lowest possible response; South, 6-No Trumps. North passed. When the opening lead was made the dummy and declarer's hand showed a grand slam hand. Then Mr. Back Seat Driver asked why South had not bid more.

Still sitting North, the back seat driver passed. He should have bid 1-Diamond, as was done at every other table. Top score went to South who played and made 8-Hearts. Other tables tied for second score with 3-Diamonds. At this table, however, bidding was opened by West's 1-Spade. North doubled, but when East went 2-Spades, South could do nothing except pass. The contract should have been held to 2-odd at play, but North succeeded in giving declarer more, by an ingenious play. North took two diamond tricks. As South had echoed for a third round of the suit, North should have led diamonds again, not knowing whether his partner could have ruffed or played the Q. North led his Q of clubs instead. Declarer pulled trumps, then ran off the balance of four club tricks, enabling him to discard a losing heart and make 3-odd. Such things are common with back seat drivers.

SPECIAL STAMPS VIMY CEREMONY

French Government To Commemorate Occasion With Special Issue

PARIS, July 23 (CP Cable).—Dedication of Canada's war memorial on Vimy Ridge next Sunday is to be commemorated in two special stamps issued by the French Government. A special postal and telegraphic service will be in operation at Vimy during the dedication, and letters and postcards mailed from there July 26 will bear a special stamp with the inscription "Vimy, France, Canadian Memorial, July 26, 1936."

Albin de Possesse, French engraver, has presented the Canadian Legion official party with a Vimy memorial medal. One side shows the monument in its entirety, with the inscription, "In Memoriam," while the other gives another aspect of the memorial with the words "Canada-France."

The medal, executed in gold, will be presented to the King, one in silver to Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Canadian Minister of Justice, and one in bronze to Marshal Henri Petain.

BUS, TRUCK LAWS WILL BE DISCUSSED

Quebec Holding up All Licenses Until Result Of Conferences

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP).—Initiation of uniform laws throughout the Dominion for regulation of highway bus and truck traffic will be taken up at a meeting of Dominion and Provincial Government representatives later this summer, it was learned yesterday. It is not anticipated, however, any new laws dealing with this problem will be established until next year's sessions of Provincial legislatures and the Dominion parliament.

In Montreal Tuesday it was announced the Quebec Public Service Commission would not issue any further trucking or passenger bus licenses until a Dominion-Provincial understanding had been reached with respect to this traffic.

At the Dominion-Provincial conference last December the special committee on this subject submitted a series of 11 recommendations, which were adopted by a conference as a whole.

These recommendations instructed a sub-committee to collect complete information as to the use of trucks and passenger carriers on the highways, particularly with respect to rates charged and their comparison with rail rates. An official of the Department of Transport has been busy gathering this information and putting it in form for the further meeting of the transportation committee.

Woman's Plea To Her King Finds Its Way Back To Home Town In Four Shifts

LONDON, Ont., July 23 (CP).—In a letter containing a note of tragedy a London woman has appealed to King Edward to help save the old homestead in which she was born on an outlying city street. She writes directly to the throne to explain her civic troubles, and says she wishes the King could see the condition of her neighborhood.

The letter, posted here June 15, was received by the King's private secretary at Buckingham Palace July 3. Without acknowledging the woman's letter, the royal secretary sent it to the secretary of state in Canada. From there it went to the Department of Municipal Affairs at Toronto and, finally, was sent back to City Clerk K. Grant Crawford in London, arriving only a little more than a month after the date it started its travels.

City council will deal with the lengthy missive on Monday night.

KETCHUP-INK PLOT IS NIPPED IN BUD

Trio To Get $500 For Assaulting Butcher Make Mistake Of Asking His Aid

TORONTO, July 23.— (CP). — Three men were under arrest on a conspiracy charge yesterday after police uncovered what they claim to be a scheme to pour ketchup and red ink over a Toronto butcher to make him appear the victim of an assault so the trio could obtain $500 for beating him up.

The men arrested are Harry Bauer, 34; Archie Adler, 22; and Morris Tennenbaum, 23. Police say they overheard a conversation between Samuel Burd, the butcher, and the three, in which the plan was outlined.

According to the police version of the conversation, the men came to Burd and told him they had been offered $500 to beat him up. They did not wish to harm him so they planned to pour ketchup and red ink over his face. He was to cooperate by bandaging his head and by putting his arm in a sling.

Then, said police, they would collect the money. Burd went to officials with the story and three detectives arranged to hide in his store and overheard a further outline of the plan.

DROUGHT AS BAD AS 1934 ARIDITY

Condition Of Pasture Lands Averages Only 44.7 Per Cent. Normal

WASHINGTON, July 23 (A.P.)—Farmers through an immense Mid-Western area of United States scanned the skies in vain for rain to-day as the Agriculture Department published a report describing the drought's severity as comparable to that of 1934.

Jesse W. Tapp, chairman of the Inter-Departmental Drought Committee, headed for Kansas City to confer with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to-day on Federal cattle purchases and financial aid to farmers in blighted sections.

The Crop Reporting Board, in a special report, said the condition of pasture lands on July 15 averaged 44.7 per cent. of normal, compared with 48.9 per cent. on July 1, 1934. The board used pasture lands as the yardstick by which to measure the effect of the hot dry spell on general vegetation.

U.S. Ends Patronage Naming Postmasters

WASHINGTON, July 23 (A.P.).—An executive order by President Roosevelt to-day made all United States postmastership appointments in the future subject to Civil Service examination. The order, signed by the President on Monday and made public at the White House last night, affects 13,570 postmasterships of the first, second and third classes as fast as vacancies occur.

For years the patronage method of appointing postmasters on recommendation of Congressmen has been bitterly debated in Congress and on the political platform.

Find Sprace Sawfly In North Bay Area

NORTH BAY, Ont., July 23.—(CP).—Two infestations of the European spruce sawfly, which threatens to destroy Canada's valuable supply of spruce, have been found in North Bay.

It is believed that this is the most westerly point in the country to which the insects have been traced. One infestation here has been discovered in a spruce hedge at the home of Thomas Bertram, and the other has been located at the property of Arthur Tuck.

W. B. Greenwood, district forester for the North Bay forestry district, said that every employee in the district has been supplied with a specimen of the sawfly and instructed to maintain a sharp lookout for its appearance.

Belleville Halts Petes - Rotary Falls To Oshawa

SECOND FRAME SCORING SPREE DECIDES ISSUE

Belleville Halts Petes' Climb With 5-3 C.O.B.L. Victory

PONIES ALSO LOSE

BELLEVILLE, July 22.—One error and four lusty hits in the second inning gave the Belleville C. O. B. L. entry five runs in the second inning here last evening and sufficinet runs to ring up their second league victory at the expense of the Climbing Petes by the score of 5 to 3 as the locals shelled "Spook" Scriver from the hilltop. Despite the reverse of the visitors, however, the verdict had no bearing on the league standing as the Kingston Ponies absorbed a 5 to 4 lacing at the hands of the Napanee Gibbards.

Manager "Shiner" Johnson sent "Spook" Scriver who had subdued the locals last Saturday, right back at Alex Weir's gang, but yesterday his slants proved no mystery as they shelled him from the mound early in the second frame, after four runs had been scored. Ed. "Gunner" Whitehill was then rushed to the Petes' mound and for the remainder of the pastime pitched no hit ball only one Belleville player getting to the initial sack, and that being on Whitehill's lone walk issued.

Played Ragged Ball.

Playing ragged ball in the second frame the Petes assumed the atmasphere of the lowly Belleville squad as they turned in a series of rather dumb plays to permit the locals to garner five runs and take a lead that Ed. McIvor, local moundsman, protected with good pitching throughout the remainder of the tussle. The game was played in the record time of less than ninety minutes, as it developed into a pure pitchers' battle once Whitehill assumed the Peterborough hurling duties and opposed McIvor who scattered well the six hits gatehered by the Johnsonites. Utronki's error in the third paved the way for a two run rally for the Petes.

Both short stops, Whatley and Henn turned in splendid efforts, as Clark and Gray also gave splendid accounts of their work. Covert lead all hitters of the day with two singles. Utronki cuffed the pellet for a timely triple in the second while Kingdon and Bill Calladine each hit for two-base blows. Hits were rather scarce throughout the game, it being an out-and-out pitchers' battle that was witnessed by the smallest crowd ever to take in a C.O.B.L. game in this city.

The Big Second

Belleville opened the scoring in the second frame. Weir singled, Latchford skied to Burton. Bennett singled after Weir had stolen second, but was held at third by the fast fielding of Kearns on Bennett's one-base blow. Henn singled scoring Weir, and Bennett was stopped at third. Henn went down unmolested and McIvor hit to P. Calladine, who bobbled allowing Bennett to score and Henn stopped at third. Utronki stepped to the plate and rapped a triple to right, scoring Henn and McIvor, and subsequently scored on Gray's infield out to terminate the locals' scoring. Belleville only got one man aboard after this inning, Whithill going to th mound and pitching to Gray in place of Scriver in the hectic second.

The Petes came back well in the 3rd after one was out. Kearns strolled, Calladine doubled and on the throw in Utronki hurled the ball wild to third permitting Kearns to score. Calladine then crossed the plate on Burton's bingle. Although the Petes got two aboard in the sixth McIvor weathered the storm and Kingdon, batting for Clark in the ninth, opened the frame with a double, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Mowry's fly to right that saw the termination of scoring and the second victory of the current season hung up by the local entry.

Fourth Straight Victory For Chiefs Over Bisons

Minor League Mixup No Longer Race Among Three Leading Clubs

LEAFS BLAST BIRDS

(By the Associated Press.)

Just when it was beginning to look as if the rest of the International League pennant race would be strictly a three-club affair among Rochester, Buffalo and Newark, the other five members of the circuit have come to life.

Tops among recent developments are the four straight victories the cellar-dwelling Syracuse Chiefs have rung up against Buffalo's second place Bisons. But Toronto also has staged a recent come-back, winning 10 out of its last 12 games and the fifth-place Montreal Royals have knocked off Newark twice in succession.

Succumbs to Wings.

Bob Loane's home-plate wedding at Albany apparently was enough for the Senators last night, for they succumbed to Rochester Red Wings 11-2, wasting most of their 13 hits while the League leaders finished off with a five-run blast in the ninth.

Leo Mangum, Syracuse veteran, chalked up his 100th International League victory while Carl Fischer suffered his first defeat since joining the Bisons as the Chiefs knocked off Buffalo 6-1. Mangum scattered nine hits expertly while Fischer was touched for 11 of the Syracuse blows and all the runs in 5 2-3 innings.

Leafs Beat Orioles.

Toronto beat Baltimore Orioles at their own game, whaling Cliff Melton, the Oriole ace, off the hill in the third inning to score five runs and winning 9-5. Julie Wera was the only Leaf regular who failed to hit, but the Orioles did about as well, getting to Jake Mooty for four doubles and a four-run cluster in the eighth.

Montreal took the home run route to its second victory over Newark, 4-2, in the only daylight game, Bob Seeds accounted for all the Royals' runs, three of them on a pair of homers, and had a perfect day at the plate. Meanwhile Lauri Myllykangas limited the Bears to seven blows.

Yesterday's Stars

(By Associated Press).

Jim Bottomley, Browns— His homer, double and single led the way to victory over Yankees.

Larry French, Cubs—His eight hit pitching and two-run double defeated Dodgers 3-2.

Gus Mancuso and Hank Leiber, Giants—Each hit homer and drove in three runs against the Cardinals.

Kiki Cuyler, Reds—Batted in three runs with triple in 7-6 win over Bees.

Earl Averill, Indians — Had double, homer and two singles, driving in two runs and scoring two in victory over Red Sox.

Bob Johnson, Athletics — Hit double and single scoring three runs, and had five assists in 7-6 win over Tigers.

ROTARY DROPS INITIAL GAME LOOP PLAYOFFS

Juniors Fail To Hit In Pinches And Drop 10-5 Decision To Oshawa

STOLEN BASES COUNT

The local Rotarians dropped the first of their five-game Junior Lakeshore Baseball League playoff series, 10 to 5, to Oshawa before a fair crowd in Riverside Park last evening. It was a slow, draggy ball game with the visitors looking better toward the finish. Nine stolen bases for the Oshawa Juniors was the main difference on the play, though the locals were failing to hit up to form in the pinches.

Roy Armour started on the home mound. Aside from a shaky second inning, he hurled good ball till the eighth when walks and hits forced him to absorb the loss and give way to Todd. The latter finished in fair style. McGarry went the route for the winners and, though frequently in trouble, finished in front with a neat performance. He was improving the last half of the contest. The rival flingers received fair support.

Vitarelli and Connelly led the losers at bat with two safe hits each, one of Connelly's being a triple. Thornton had a two-bagger. Fair, McCullough and Hobbs hit two apiece for Oshawa. Catches by Webb, Fair and a neat pickup by O'Leary were the only fielding features in a listless tilt.

Neither side scored in the first but both tallied next frame. Oshawa got three on two walks, singles by Hobbs and McGarry and O'Leary's two-base error. Rotarians came back for two in their half. Connelly led off with a triple and raced in on Webb's single. O'Leary forced Webb, took third on Thornton's double and scored when Armour hit safely. The locals tied it up next inning when Thorburn walked, was sacrificed and scored on McGarry's error.

Oshawa broke through for a run in the fifth after Fair had tripled and been caught off third by Armour. Dalton walked, stole second, moved up on a wild pitch and tallied on an out. They added one in the seventh as Dalton walked, pilfered second and scored on Walker's single. In the eighth, Oshawa scored four times on a walk, three stolen bases, an out and hits by Brockman, Hobbs, Fair and Dalton. Rotary got two back in their half. Giardino walked and took second on O'Toole's hit. Both moved up on Bradd's error and both crossed the plate on Vitarelli's single. Oshawa got the last run in the ninth on McCullough's single, a steal, an out and Bradd's hit.

BROWNS TAKE 3RD STRAIGHT FROM YANKEES

"Murderers' Row" No Opposition For Slow Ball Of Hornsby Hurlers

GIANTS GAIN ON CARDS

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Bill Terry and Rogers Hornsby, a couple of McGraw boys who learned their lessons well under the "Old Man," are carving themselves "Miracle Man" reputations out of the hides of such pennant favorites as St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees these days.

For instance, there's Terry, whose New York Giants were expected to collapse and sink out of the picture for good along about mid-season. They collapsed, all right, but Terry brought them back, and now they're in third place again, hot after the creaky Cardinals.

To Much For Yanks

And Hornsby, with a bunch of St. Louis Browns who weren't expected to go any place in the American League chase—and aren't. But he has become the only man in the loop to solve the slugging dynamite of the Yanks. "Feed 'em slow balls," he told his pitchers. They did, and the Browns became the only club to hang three straight losses on "murderers' row" this season.

When Carl Hubbell and Mel Ott are right, Terry's Giants go places. At the moment, both "The Hub" and the "Kid Veteran" are red-hot, so the Giants have taken two straight over the Cards. Hubbell's pitching won Tuesday's game, and Ott, Gus Mancusco and young hurler Gabby Gabler, making his first start of the season, combined to take an 8-2 decision yesterday.

With the Pirates losing a 16-4 slugfest to the Phillies, in which Johnny Moore belted three homers over the Baker Field wall, the Giants shot into third place and the Bucs slipped to fifth. Cincinnati Reds, who won their second straight over Boston Bees 7-4 took over fourth place. The league lead of the Cubs was stretched to three full games by the Cardinals' defeat, since the Chicago champions nosed out the Dodgers 3-2 again as Larry French posted his 10th pitching win.

The Browns, who came out of the American League cellar by downing the Yankees Sunday and Tuesday, stretched the New Yorkers' losing streak to three — their longest of the season — yesterday with a 6-5 win, chiefly on the hitting of aging and ailing Jim Bottomley and the hurling of Ivy Andrews, who followed boss Hornsby's advice, fed "murderers' row" his slow ball, and held their bats to 10 hits.

Yankees' Lead Cut

By the defeat the Yankees' American League lead was cut to seven games, smallest it has been in weeks, for the second-place Cleveland Indians again slugged the Red Sox, winning 8-3, with Earl Averill leading a 19-hit attack, to drop Boston to fifth place.

Chicago White Sox took over fourth place, just beating the Senators in a 12-inning pitching thriller, in which Johnny Whitehead beated Earl Whitehill 3-2. The Tigers found rookie Herman Fink in particular and the Athletics in general too tough and suffered a 7-6 setback, but managed to hang onto third place.

Youthful Golf Pro Sets Lindsay Mark

LINDSAY, July 23.—Joe Roberts, youthful and popular professional of the Lindsay Golf and Country Club, Tuesday afternoon established a new record for the course when he scored a 71, four under par. The mark for the last two years had been 74, and for twenty years previous to the establishing of this par remained unbroken. Roberts is a son of Jack Roberts of Oshawa, who recently placed well up with the winners in the Ontario Open. He scored a birdie on four holes and did the remained in par. This is his first year as a profesisonal golfer.

SEEDED PLAYERS REMAIN IN ONTARIO TENNIS HUNT

Montreal, Hamilton And St. Catharines Have Title Hopes In Singles

OTTAWA REPRESENTED

TORONTO, July 23 (CP) — As the Ontario tennis championship matches resumed here to-day, eight contestants remained in each of the men's and ladies' singles fight. Games passed into the quarter-final stage yesterday, with ranking players in most cases continuing to wield potent racquets.

Ottawa is well represented with three native sons still in the fight for the men's crown, and Mrs. H. L. Beer, fifth ranking Canadian player, continuing to bowl over all opposition in the men's fight and three in the ladies.

Montreal, Hamilton and St. Catharines still have championship hopes in the men's singles, while two Montreal representatives and one each from London and Halifax round out the qualifiers in the ladies' bracket.

Joe O'Hara, George Leclerc and Ed Murphy are the Ottawa men playing to-day. O'Hara defeated M. Margesson, Toronto, 6-4, 6-2 yesterday; Lleclerc won from Dr. Art Ham, Toronto, 6-3, 6-1; and Murphy pulled off a real surprise to defeat Gordon Shields, former Vancouver star and now of Toronto, 6-4, 6-4.

Bill Piggott, Hamilton, advanced with a win over D. McDiarmid in three sets, 6-4, 6-8, 6-2. Marcel Rainville, the Montreal star who absorbed a defeat from Piggott in the eastern Canadian matches at Ottawa, won easily over Art Anderson, Toronto, 6-1, 6-1.

Ross Wilson, considered as Toronto's main hope, advanced by defeating Ed Connolly, Ottawa, 7-5, 6-3. Grant McLean, the only other Toronto boy to survive earlier rounds, played brilliant tennis for a surprise victory over Hugh Pope, London ace. Gordon Robinson, St. Catharines, defeated Bev Piers, ranking Halifax player, yesterday 6-1, 6-4.

In the ladies' section, Mrs. H. L. Beer will meet Mrs. O. E. Gray, Toronto, to-day. Mrs. Beer scored a three-set win over Claire Walsh, Toronto, 8-6, 2-6, 6-2, while Mrs. Gray was defeating K. Hurst, Toronto, 6-1, 6-2. Mrs. F. V. Woodbury will hold the hopes of Halifax in her racquet when she meets Mrs. G. Wolsley. They defeated Mrs. A. Griffin, Toronto, and Ruth Fishleigh, Ottawa, by scores of 6-1, 6-0, and 6-0, 6-1 respectively in yesterday's matches.

CLOTHIERS GAIN ONE-SIDED WIN

Slaughter Mets Under Barrage Of Hits For 20 To 12 Victory

SIXTEENTH VICTORY

Laying down a barrage of twenty-three hits, Swartz Clothiers hammered their way to a one-sided 20-12 win over the Metropolitan Store outfit last night at Central. The game was a free-hitting affair with the Swartz men displaying a devastating attack that carried them through to their sixteenth win of the season.

Naish was the starting hurler for the Clothiers but was hit hard and gave way to Montgomery in the seventh inning. The latter pitched good ball for the remainder of the game. Heffernan, pitching his second game in two nights, was bombarded to all corners of the field and his delivery was anything but puzzling to the hard hitting blue shirts.

Montgomery and Smith, with four hits apiece, led the winners' attack at the plate. The latter hit for the circuit in the sixth inning. Vitarelli banged out three hits to lead the losers at bat while Clarke for the same team hit a four-bagger with the bases full in the fourth inning. Heffernan also assisted his own cause at bat with a home run.

The losers were erratic in their fielding all night and this was largely responsible for their loss. Coughlin, for the Chain Store men, pulled off a swell one-handed catch of a fly ball in the fifth inning for the fielding feature.

The teams:

Metropolitan: Vitarelli, 3b; Clarke, 1b; Coughlin, lf; Andrews, cf; Anderson, 2b; Jamieson, c; Fleming, ss; Ridley, rf; Williamson, rf; Heffernan, p.

Swartz: Dormer, 3b; Smith, 1b; Weir, lf; Playford, cf; Gainey, ss; Montgomery, rf, p; Walsh, c; Abbott, 2b; Naish, p, rf.

Pitchers' Battle In Saturday's Game

C.O.B.L. Standing to Date.

	P.	W.	L.
Oshawa	13	11	2
Petes	15	10	5
Kingston	12	7	5
Napanee	1	4	10
Belleville	14	2	12

The GM-men of Oshawa play the Petes here this Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in Riverside Park. This is the game local and district fans have been waiting over a month to see. Oshawa, the league-leading team all season, has not performed in Peterborough since the opening game May 23. With these squads likely to meet in loop play-offs, the biggest crowd of the year is expected to pack the park here on Saturday. The Petes have been hitting a terrific clip the past six weeks with 10 wins and 13 starts.

Gunner Whitehill and Lefty Biddle are expected to be the rival pitchers. Whitehill leads C.O.B.L. flingers, and, despite seven innings hurled on Wednesday when he held Belleville hitless, he will be ready for the Oshawa crew on Saturday.

Biddle is the speediest thrower in the loop this year, and has a no-hit no-run performance over the locals to his credit. It shapes up as the most promising baseball game seen here since last year's Kingston-Petes playoffs.

Paddlers Preparing For Hanlan Regatta

The waters of Chemong Lake are being churned to a froth these evenings as paddlers of the Peterborough Sailing and Aquatic Club prepare for the Dominion championship trials, which will be held this Saturday afternoon at Hanlan's Point, Toronto. The boys have been working hard all summer under the careful eye of Coach Ross Thompson, who fully hopes to see some of his husky blade-wielders qualify on Saturday to compete in the Dominion championships to be held in Sudbury on August 1.

The Peterborough paddlers made an excellent showing in Toronto on July 1, and have been improving steadily in style and speed since then. "On to Sudbury and a Canadian aquatic championship for Peterborough," is the cry on Chemong Lake these days. Those making toe trip to Toronto on Saturday to compete are: Drake Jopling, Bill Taylor, Ross Pulkinghorn, Bill Hogan, and Fred Williams.

Clapper's Outlaws Cop Close Victory

HASTINGS, July 23—Clapper's Outlaws defeated their old rivals the Clerks 8 to 7 in a tight softball fixture on Wednesday night. For four innings the Clerks looked like a million dollar outfit, but as is their usual custom blew up in the last half of the game. They had the winners 7 to 0 at the end of the second due chiefly to Kelley's home run with the bases loaded, from then on McKee held them to one hit while his teammates slowly overtook the big lead.

Clerks—Stickles, 2b; Kelley, rf; [illegible], ss; Hayes, 3b; Cleave, cf; Stevenson, lf; Wilson, 1b; Walsh, c; Whitred, p.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY
Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

(By C. J. P.)

THE Tri-County Lacrosse League is going right ahead, though reduced to three teams for the second half of the schedule. A peculiar thing is that the teams are all winning their home games but losing every tilt on foreign fields. Millbrook is on top for the nonce with two wins in two start; Norwood has divided two and Auburns have two horse-collars. Norwood dropped a 13-9 tussle in Millbrook a few nights back and Auburns lost a 12-4 game there Tuesday. The Millbrook-at-Norwood fray, billed for Friday, is shoved back to a later date. Norwood plays Auburns here next Tuesday and Millbrook has a postponed game with Auburns here a week from tomorrow. Nothing further so far on a local intermediate O. A. L. A. entry.

• • • • • • •

OUR senior and junior baseball teams came to grief yester eve, the former falling to Belleville on Quinte terrain by a 5-3 score and the local kids losing 10-5, here to Oshawa. This latter game was important, too, being the first of the five game Lakeshore Loop play-offs. Next one is in Oshawa on Saturday and the Rotarians had better hop in there with both feet and cop it—or else. Is history going to repeat? Last year, the Rotary gang licked Oshawa regularly through the schedule but lost out to them in playoffs. This year they were undefeated and found the Motor City gang soft in scheduled games, but they start the playoffs by losing to 'em.

• • • • • • •

IT was not a good game here yesterday, after the first two or three innings. Got too draggy for words and the locals didn't play up to form. Lacked their usual pepper, fielded only so-so and couldn't dish up hits in the clutches. For instance, they had three singles, a triple and a double in the second frame but scored only two runs. But the chief differenece in the teams last gloaming was the base-running. Oshawa stole nine bases—even pilfering third once—and did not have a guy thrown out. The locals tried to steal one and saw him nipped at second. The Rotary receiver takes far too long getting a peg down to second and instead of half a dozen outs, these steals turned into that many runs.

• • • • • • •

DESPITE wildness, Roy Armour went pretty fair on the home mound, barring a bad second stanza, till he zoomed sky-ward in the eighth and got the hook. Todd finished up. McGarry didn't look too impressive on the other slab but he won—and that's what they pay off on. Some of the Rotarians went good all through but the team as a whole didn't click up to form. The Oshawa squad proved scrappy and dangerous all the way. Come on, gang, get in there Saturday and get this one back!

• • • • • • •

THE senior Oshawa crew—nicknamed the GM- men—play here on Saturday and this is the game the fans have been waiting weeks for. They want to get another look at the rebuilt Chevies who are well out in front, and who haven't been in Peterborough since the disastrous May 23rd date. Lefty Biddle is likely to do the flinging for the Oshawa May 23rd date. Lefty Biddle is likely to do the flinging for the Oshawa gang and he is rated quite a thrower. The Petes dropped their third game yesterday in 13 starts, going great guns the past month or more With Gunner Whitehill ready to chuck 'em aross for Shiner Johnston's crew, we would not be surprised if the Petes copped a win. After all, the powerful GM-men have been beaten by both Belleville and Kingston this season. Should be a swell struggle.

• • • • • • •

BELLEVILLE got to Spook Scriver early yesterday and blasted him to the showers. Gunner Whitehill took over then and showed a couple of Quinte customers the best flinging performance they've seen there this summer. He hurled hitless ball from the second on and only one bird got as far as first base—a lovely exhibition! He says he'll be ready again Saturday for Oshawa. Ed McIvor, the import from Manitoba, also pitched a good game to restrict the locals—who left their punch at home—to six hits. As the Ponies dropped a 5-4 decision in Napanee, the loop standing is not changed to any extent. We're still in second place about two games back of Oshawa.

• • • • • • •

TOO bad we can't get a full team of regulars for out-of-town games. At full strength, the Petes are almost unbeatable since they hit their winning streak, but they can't afford to do any coasting against any club in the circuit. The boys worked hard yesterday but didn't play any too smart ball. Their base-running was indifferent at times and they had a few costly boots. The infielding of Clark and Whatley was okay and the hitting of Covert and Kingdon. But it was Whitehill's pitching that kept the locals in the fight. Utronki's triple with two aboard in the second was the money clout for the Bellevilles, who have now won two tilts.

• • • • • • •

AND now let's see what happened in gals' and guys' softball last twilight. In the men's circuit, Swartz did the Metropolitans dirt by a a 20-12 count at Central whilst Quakers were taking a 15-8 win in Omemee. Which leaves the Porridge Punchers half a game up on the Mets in a heetic scramble for the third-place playoff berth. Metropolitans meet Westelox at Central tonight and Omemee is here against Westelox Friday. The lasses' contest last night was a nifty number in Bailieboro with the home team nosing out a ninth-inning 6-5 nod over the run-down Alarm Girls from up Armour Hill way. A tidy tilt with Marg Snowden and B. McDowell twirling nice ball. This leaves Omemee in second place and Westelox, Bailieboro and C. G. E. all bunched tightly and battling for a spot in the playoffs. Omemee play Westelox at the Bowl Friday p.m.

HITHER AND YAWN: With Oshawa playing here Sat'day, Napanee may play their week-end game in Kingston on Friday eve. Some local paddling chatter appears elsewhere tonight....Canuck track team—which Bill Engel of Peterborough was supposed to join till he injured his leg....has cancelled its trip to Spain on account of there is a revolution there....Lefty Bishop and Chief Williams had a southpaw duel in Napanee last night but Brennan's two-bagger with three on in the third made the difference....Moose Mathews of Oshawa leads the C. O. B. L. hitters with .466 and Doc Rowden has a tidy .444 ....Metropolitan Stores softballers have an exhibition game in Lindsay Sat'day gloaming....PITCHER'S LAMENT: Every time he hits the ball, it goes in a fielder's mitt; but every time he throws the ball, it goes for a two-base hit!

Napanee's Youthful Southpaw Gets 5-4 Victory Over Ponies

WILLIAMS ON MOUND

NAPANEE, July 23 (CP).—In a southpaw hurlers' duel that saw 14-year-old Vernie Bishop gain the verdict over the ageing "Chief" Williams, Napanee Gibbards defeated Kingston, 5 to 4, here Wednesday in a scheduled Central Ontario Baseball senior game.

Napanee opened the scoring in the third inning when Brennan hit one far to the left centre fence to drive three mates in. The winning hit was supplied by Bentley in the sixth inning when, with two down, he came through with a safety to score Handford with the fifth Napanee run.

Hits by Elliott, McQuaid and Arniel accounted for Kingston's pair in the sixth. In the eighth McQuaid, Smith and Scrutton got safe hits and with the tying run on base Bishop forced Arnell to hit into a double play and then struck out Joyce.

Errors aided the run column of both teams but the Napanee infield completed two fast twin killings that cut off dangerous Kingston rallies. Brennan's base clearing double was the only extra base hit of the game.

The teams meet for the return game in Kingston on Friday night.

Lawn Bowling
By HERB MARTIN

NOTWITHSTANDING that many of our rinks were out of town on the half holiday we had sixteen mixed rinks out on our own greens Wednesday night, and the rain was just kind enough to hold off until the last game was over. The winning rinks were skipped by J. Harrison, B. Chesler, and D. Smith.

RAY BACON and Dr. Lawrence were the only Peterborough pair to get in the money over at Cannington; they came third out of a entry of 32. Rain came during the fourth game and the scores reverted back to the third. The local club sent over nine pairs and as usual were the backbone of the event; the boys received a ten-piece pyrex set.

THE DRAW for the ladies' club singles is made and posted up at the clubhouse. Players are asked to look up their partner and play their game. This is something new in the ladies' section and will be watched with great interest. . . The Skips-Vices and Leads-Second competition will be held to-night (Thursday) as per schedule.

TWENTY-TWO rinks took part in the Campbellford mixed tournament on Wednesday with the local entry copping 3rd place. They were Mrs. R. Crowe, R. Barnes, Mrs. H. Staunton and E. Wall skip and received as prizes for the women, electric lamps and for men verandah chairs.

IN THE PORT HOPE events, our club was successful in winning first prize, silver centre pieces and auto rugs. The affair was a mixed tourney with Mrs. C. Williamson, C. Williamson, Mrs. W. Hepburn and George Cairns getting the honor position.

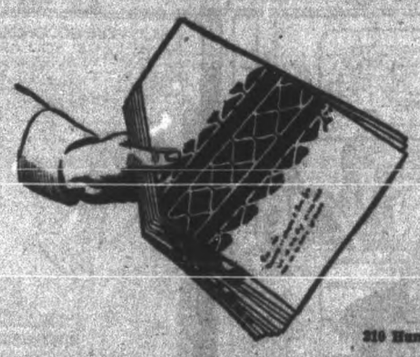
Maranville Slated For Manager's Job

ELMIRA, N.Y., July 23 (CP). — Rabbit Maranville, hitting .370 for Elmira and playing a flashy second base at 44, predicted today he would go back to the big leagues soon in a manager's role.

An injured leg kept Maranville out of all but a few games in the majors last year and bothered him this spring, but the diminutive diamond star said that "today the leg is just as good as ever."

He is playing and managing the pioneers in the New York-Pennsylvania League, has already performed in more than 75 games and leads the team both in hitting and driving in runs.



Before buying a car you drive it; before buying a coat you try it on; before buying a pen, saw, shoes or anything else you see some kind of test or demonstration.

What about tires. We don't just sell tires, asking you to buy them on faith. First, we demonstrate and prove to your satisfaction that you are getting a BIG money's worth — tires that possess every quality you want.

We demonstrate the fact that Supertwist cords retain their "life" much longer than ordinary cords thus keeping Goodyear Tires out of trouble and vastly prolonging their life. And by a convincing demonstration we show how the Goodyear All-Weather diamond tread stoutly resists skidding even on smooth, wet surfaces.

To prove to you that Goodyears give long, safe mileage we show you tire "footprints" . . . taken from tires on our customers' cars—some of them from your own locality. See how the Goodyear tread stays safe after going long mileages.

"ELECTRIC" FARM IS GIVEN TRY-OUT

Charged Screens Keep Flies Off Cows—Wires Heat Cold Ground

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP).—On Farmer J. W. Hughes' place, everything is now electrified except the hired man.

Pooling ideas, the third World Power Conference and the Rural Electrification Administration have combined to make the farm, in nearby Virginia, a scientific miracle.

Flies can not get near the cows because charged screen electrocute them. The bossies themselves are air-cooled while they are being milked by electricity.

In front of each, is a drinking fountain which bubbles when the cow presses her nose on the gadget.

Bristling with doodads like an inventor's workshop, the kitchen is full of percolators, ironers, stoves, churns, clocks, waffle irons, dishwashers, ventilating fans, dough mixers and a refrigerator — all electrical.

Instead of pounding on the old iron plantation bell, Farmer Hughes presses a button when he wants his farm hands and an electrical siren whines across the field.

The chicken coup features water warmers and ultra violet ray lamps to improve the egg-laying ability of the hens.

The truck garden has a network of wires running through the soil to heat the earth in cold weather. The pastures have running water.

CHAPTER 45

WHAT WAS left of the night for sleeping was little enough to prepare Joan for the problems she had to meet the next morning.

Julian must not hear of it, of Pierre's shooting.

Sheila must be prevented from telling anyone "confidentially".

And Joan had to know what Pierre's condition was.

For once she decided that she would take matters into her own hands without explanations to anyone for what she did.

The first thing was to get out of the house and telephone the hospital from a telephone booth. Then to see Sheila.

It was bad enough that Joan had to get mixed up in the troubles that others brewed without having her own draw into them.

Well, she wouldn't have!

She had seen Win and that was that. She had meant it when she said she wouldn't see him again and she wouldn't.

Studying her drawn face in her mirror, she tried to think of some plausible excuse. Julian would be sure to notice it. For once she wished that he had been so busy he wouldn't be concious of any change in her. She'd simply say that she had had a sleepless night. There wasn't anything unusual in that.

Nevertheless, she busied herself with rouge and powder and touched her lips carefully with her lipstick. Nothing, however, that she could do erased the shadows from under her eyes or obliterated the pinched appearance of her nostrils.

She smiled at herself and managed a heartless grimace.

Her mirror discouraged her and she jammed her hat on her head with a savage gesture while she rued the day she had met Sheila True.

She opened her door softly and listened for footsteps in the house below and, hearing none, touched the stairs lightly as she descended and opened the outer door quietly.

There was a drug store at the corner of Lexington avenue and she turned east in its direction. As she hurried along, she fumbled in her pocketbook for a nickel.

A big car slid to a stop at the corner as she reached it.

"Joan!"

She jerked her head up.

Win, seated at the wheel of his car, beckoned to her. She didn't dare refuse his invitation. She walked around the front of the car and got in beside him. He started it.

"Just around the corner, please, Win."

I thought you'd do just that. Coming out to telephone the hospital?"

She nodded.

"If I hadn't been thinking about something else last night, I would have told you that I'd let you know how he is."

"Well?" She waited.

"He'll be all right. Fleshy wound. He has a slight fever today. I was over there around seven when he came out of the ether."

"Go on," she said tensely.

"I got to him alone and it was just as I thought. He's thoroughly ashamed of himself and as anxious to keep it quiet as the rest of you. Incidentally, if you'd ask for information about a Mr. Durand, you'd have been told there was no one there by that name."

Joan looked at him gratefully. She would never have thought of that important detail.

"He'll be out of there in a week or so and plans to run up to Canada the day he's discharged."

"Thanks, Win. I didn't thank you last night for helping us. I don't know how to but you know we're all pretty grateful."

"We?" he asked pointedly.

"Sheila and I and so would the others except we haven't told them." She told him the whole story of Julian.

"I guess the time has really come for us to talk, Joan." He swung the car westward toward Central park.

Joan was in a panic. She couldn't talk to Win!

"We've known each other too many years to act this way. Remember how we used to talk about everything under the sun, and quarrel and insult each other . . .?"

"And love each other?" she inquired brightly. She said it so brightly, her words glittered metallically.

"Perhaps," he answered in a low voice.

"Sorry, do-you-remember is a sentimental game and I'm not up to it this morning. Or any other time. Speaking of time, I have a job and you'd better turn the car back."

She'd played that game to a fare thee well. She'd remembered everything that had ever happened to them, happy and sad, and when she had gotten to the place of contentment in her work and a placid form of happiness, he had come back to ask her to play that heart-breaking game all over again. He was a selfish beast and she hated him for it.

"I'm not going to ask you to forgive me," he went on taking her silence for granted. "But I expect that you will understand. I . . . it hasn't worked out, Joan."

Something stabbed her then but she kept her silence.

"I guess maybe you don't know much about people or men in particular. You'd have to know Beatrice. She's a fiery little thing and when she wants something, she gets it. I had no idea when it started that we were going to be married. . . ."

Joan wanted to stop him, tell him she didn't want to hear about it, but this was the very thing she had wanted to hear, that Win had been carried along into something before he realized it. She didnt stop him.

". . . and then there we were. We get along all right but she's a jealous little devil."

"Has she any reason to be?" Joan asked coldly.

"She's jealous of you," he said.

Joan laughed. She couldn't help it.

"It's not a laughing matter," he said sharply. "She has reason to be."

No, it wasn't a laughing matter. She must stop him before he went on.

"Why?" she asked tonelessly.

"You were my first love . . . and I haven't quite got over you."

Don't listen to him, Joan, her mind cried while her heart said, this is your first and only love. Take what small comfort you can.

Aloud she said, "It's too late to talk about that now. You were grown up and old enough to know your own mind."

"Didn't you know that any woman can get the man she wants, if she wants him badly enough?"

Joan smoothed the fingers of her gloves. She didn't want him to see the bitterness she felt around the lines of her mouth.

"Apparently not," she said shortly.

They swung into Fifth avenue and drove silently until they approached the Sixties and Joan's destination.

"I'll see you again," he said then. "Miss True phoned me early this morning. She wants me to stop in this afternoon. Her nerves are shot to pieces, poor kid."

"You won't see me," she said in final tones.

He looked at her silently for a moment, "If you knew how I need you, Joan. Just to talk to you!"

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE JUMPING ROPE

Uncle Wiggily's rheumatism was bothering him. He couldn't quite understand why, for it was a lovely day, with the sun shining, and usually his rheumatism pained only when it was raining, or going to rain.

"I wonder if that's it, that it is going to rain?" the gentleman rabbit said to himself. "But there's not a cloud in the sky. I know what I'll do, I'll take a walk in the woods, very slowly, and perhaps the ache will go away. Sometimes it works like that."

So he took his cane and started off. At first it was hard to hop along on account of the way his legs felt, but after a while it grew easier, as all things do when we keep at them. And Uncle Wiggily was really enjoying himself, under the trees.

"I suppose," he murmured with a little laugh, "that if I had an adventure the rheumatism would all go away. I'd forget about it. I notice that when things happen we don't think so much about ourselves. So I shall try to find an adventure!"

He listened, but not a single adventure-noise did he hear. He twinkled his pink nose, but he couldn't even smell a sign of an adventure.

"I'll just go along this path," he decided. "I'm not sure where it leads to. Maybe things will happen."

Small Clearing.

The path led to a small clearing, and when he got there Uncle Wiggily saw Sammie and Susie Littletail, the rabbit children, playing at rope jumping. One end of the rope was tied to a tree, and Sammie was turning the other end, while Susie hopped over it.

"Salt, vinegar, mustard, pepper!" Susie was singing. "Now turn fast, Sammie, fast as pepper!"

"And how fast is that?" Uncle Wiggily chuckled. "I knew pepper was hot, but I didn't think it was fast!"

He hit the Fox on the nose.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" Susie exclaimed. "I'm awfully glad to see you! Would you like to jump a while?"

"No, thanks," Mr. Longears replied, and made a funny face, for he felt a twinge of rheumatism. "I don't quite feel like it. But I'll turn for you, and then you won't save to tie the end of the rope to the tree."

"Fine!" Sammie cried. "It's more fun that way. And then I can have a turn. I'm really a pretty good jumper," and he laughed, to show he wasn't serious, for jumping is sort of a girl's game, isn't it?

Well, Uncle Wiggily untied the rope for Sammie and Susie, and took one end and he and Sammie started to turn. Susie hopped faster and faster, until she was all out of breath.

"That was fine!" she panted. And now I'll turn and——"

The Fox!

But she stopped there, for there was a rustling in the brush, and out leaped the bad old Fox!

"Ho, if there's any jumping to be done, I'll do it!" he growled, "And it will be right at you, Uncle Wiggily! Get ready, here I come!"

"Gracious," gasped the poor rabbit, and wondered how he was going to get out of this. He still held the rope, and all of a sudden he tossed one end over the branch of the tree. It twisted around and held firm.

Then Uncle Wiggily grabbed the rope hard and swung, just as you do on a trapeze! He swung himself toward the Fox, and hit him right on the nose!

"Wowie!" yelled the Fox. "Oh, my nose! I don't like to get hit on the nose, and now it will swell up! I'll have to soak it in cold water!" And yelping in pain, he ran away, as fast as he could go.

"Good shot, Uncle Wiggily!" Sammie laughed. "It was just like a circus! You're a circus performer, Uncle Wiggily!"

The rabbit gentleman twinkled his ears gaily. And do you know, his rheumatism was all gone! He'd forgotten all about it, in the excitement!

And tomorrow night, if the bed spread doesn't get wrinkled and make creases in the pillow case, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily and the fire dog.

Piles Go Quick

With Dr. Leonhardt's Prescription.

Many sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have found out that quick relief can be had with an internal medicine.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel is the cause of piles. The veins are congested and flabby, the bowel walls weak. That is why an internal medicine like HEM-ROID should be used. HEM-ROID stimulates the circulation, relieves the pressure of blood in the veins of the lower bowel and helps to heal and restore the sore tender parts.

HEM-ROID is the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, who spent several years of his professional life in finding the cause of piles and the medicine that would remove them. His medicine succeeds because it tends to correct the cause.

No matter what kind of piles you have or how long you have had them, if you want to try HEM-ROID, you have our promise to give you back your money if you do not find quick and satisfying relief, after using just one bottle.

CALL ON PEEPERS TO ROUT NUDISTS

Farmer-Cop Finds It Hard To Arrest Them, "They're So Bare And Slippery"

LONG VALLEY, N.J., July 23.—(CP).—Will Searles prefers to peek the nudists off Shooley's Mountain, but if peeking won't do the trick he says he'll "have the law onto 'em."

"I'm a constable," said Farmer Will yesterday, "and I can arrest 'em for indecent exposure. But them nuders are so dang bare and slippery it's hard to get any holt onto 'em."

Will was disappointed when Morris County Y.M.C.A. officials turned thumbs down on his plan to lease part of the Y.M.C.A. camp property, adjoining the nudists' camp, build a grandstand and hold Sunday "clambakes" so the world at large might peek at close range at the nudists.

"I think the Y.M.C.A. ought to do something about it," said Will after his proposition had been rejected. "They've got boys at the camp now. But next month the girls will be there. Suppose one of those girls should see a bunch of disgraceful, bare-naked men running around. It's a shame, I tell you."

Will said the Y.M.C.A. could keep its old property. He would hold a "clambake" Sunday night on his own property. Folks could get a better peek at the "nuders" from the Y.M.C.A. property, he admitted, but he said it "want so bad" a view right from his own little hillock.

There won't be any clams at the "clambake," and there may not be anything at all to eat. But it will be free, said Will. "Come one, come all, and bring your own binoculars if you want a real close view."

New Zealand will make loans to help establish new industries.

MURDERER KILLS AGAIN

LADYSMITH, South Africa—(CP)—Escaping from jail where he was serving a 15-year term for murder, a native killed another man and was sentenced to another 15 years.

Says Arline Judge Best-Figured Star

HOLLYWOOD, July 23.—(AP).—The world's most beautiful feminine figure belongs to Arline Judge, young movie actress, a professional conditioner, Edwin Marriott, said to-day. He ought to know.

Marriott's credentials show that he has practiced his trade in virtually every civilized country. He has recommendations from Princess Ingrid, of Sweden, Lady De Clifford, of England, Hedda Pfundmayer, German beauty, Lily Pons, Belgian opera star, and many others. Among his movie clients, past and present, are Mary Astor, Bobbe Arnst, Helen Kane, Sidney Fox, Evelyn Laye, the late Barbara La Marr, and others.

But Miss Judge, he said, is the most perfectly-formed of them all. "She is a model of physical perfection."

DARTFORD.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Patterson, of Peterborough, visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Campbell, on Sunday.

QUEBEC ELECTION FIGHT WARMS UP

Duplessis Pledges Immediate Aid To Gaspe If Party Chosen

QUEBEC, July 23 (CP)—While Opposition Leader Duplessis campaigns in the Gaspe Peninsula, Premier Gobout took time off from his electioneering to-day to attend to routine government business here.

Maurice Duplessis spoke yesterday at Paspebiac, Chandler and Gaspe, and to-night will address a meeting at St. Anne Des. Monts.

Mr. Godbout did not speak yesterday, but will continue his speaking tour tomorrow at Plessisville in Megantic County, going on to Sherbrooke for a meeting Saturday.

Liberal member representing Quebec seats in the Dominion Parliament will soon be in the thick of the provincial campaign, Sarto Fournier, Liberal member of the House of Commons announced in Montreal last night.

Liberal supporters, he said, at least knew whom they were voting for. The Union Nationale group was always changing its name, its leaders, its program and its doctrine.

"You never know for whom you are voting with them," said the youthful member of parliament.

Farmers and Fishermen of Gaspe had been exploited for years under the Liberal regime, Mr. Duplessis told all three of his audiences on the shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Living conditions were deplorable, the Union Nationale chieftain exclaimed.

"It is a shame such a country, rich in industry and natural resources should have fallen into such condition," he said. If his group was elected Aug. 17 he would take immediate steps to aid Gaspe.

Market For Their Fish.

"We will take steps to assure the fishermen of Gaspe at least the market of the province of Quebec and will seek means to expand the market to other countries," said Mr. Duplessis at Chandler

At Gaspe las night he declared, "Do you know that fish sold in Gaspe for a cent a pound is sold in Quebec for 15 to 17 cents a pound? Where do you think this margin of profit goes but into the pockets of the trusts which are protected by the government?" If elected he promised to enact legislation to provide Gaspe fishermen their just share of such profits.

Union Nationale, Mr. Duplessis promised his Chandler audience, would undertake a sane and progressive colonization policy which would give new colonists a fair start in their new life.

A plea for harmony between English and French-speaking residents of Quebec was made by Mr. Duplessis at Paspebiac. Prosperity of the province depends on continued cooperation of the two races who had struggled so hard to develop the country.

He said: "I know that certain of our opponents will tell you members of Union Nationale are prejudiced against the English-speaking people of Quebec.

"When the time comes that a public man is obliged to raise the racial cry and set one race against the other to secure office I will retire from public life."

SHOWERS RENEW HOPES ON PRAIRIES

Doing Damage In Alberta

WINNIPEG, July 23 (CP) — Showers over wider areas and in increasing volume renewed hopes to-day that farmers on the Canadian prairies might salvage a good proportion of crops stricken by a month of drought and by more than two weeks of intense heat.

Scattered rains fell in many districts of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta yesterday with the mid-prairie province particularly benefitting from the showers. The clouds brought hail, too, in Alberta and in some areas serious damage was done.

Rains in Saskatchewan were heavy in the eastern portion of the northern areas with Prince Albert reporting a quarter inch precipitation. Melfort had two hours' rain. The rains extended as far south as Regina where heavy showers occurred.

Rains drenched the Edmonton district of Alberta but the pleasure of farmers was dimmed by the hail which fell in spots. Crop losses from hail in the Myrnam district, 100 miles east of Edmonton, were estimated at 100,000 bushels. The hail fell Monday night, sweeping a path four miles wide.

Fifty miles further east, a 15-minute hailstorm caused damage placed at 100 per cent in a two-mile strip.

HASTINGS

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilhem and son David returned to their home in Rochester after a week's vacation with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gorham.

Miss Margaret Morrow of Dartford spent several days as a guest of her aunt, Mrs. Virgil Oliver.

Mr. Gordon Beamish of St. Catharines was a weekend visitor with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Beamish and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morrow and son Jimmy of Bethany spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. Lamey and other friends.

Mrs. J. A. M. Hay and family of Chatham were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Fife.

Word was received from Mrs. Albert Brooks and Mrs. Margaret Venters that they had reached Manitoba and were having an enjoyable visit and that the farmers were rejoicing over the rain which was so badly needed in the district.

Word was received that school fairs held under the management of the Northumberland branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the ministers of Agriculture and the Public School Inspector, will be held as follows: North Hamilton twp.-at Cold Springs Sept. 10th; South Hamilton twp.-at Baltimore-Sept 11th; Alnwick twp- Roseneath - Sept14th; Percy twp.-Warkworth-Sept 15th Seymour twp.-Campbellford- Sept. 17th; Murray twp.-Wooler-Sept. 18; Brighton twp.-Hilton-Sept. 22nd; Cramahe twp.-Castleton-Sept 23rd; Haldimand twp.-Grafton Sept. 24th.

23-Year Difference In Ages Cuts No Ice If Couple Interested In Dinosaur Egg

NEW YORK, July 23 (A.P.). — A difference of 20 years or so in the age of a husband and wife means "absolutely nothing," the pretty young wife of Explorer Roy Chapman Andrews said to-day, "when they have as a mutual interest a dinosaur's egg 95,000,030 years old."

Mrs. Andrews is in her twenties—23 years younger than her husband and the 95,000,00-year-old dinosaur egg reposes in their apartment under a glass bell.

Looking at it, one realizes without being told that a few years don't matter much.

But Mrs. Andrews— slender and blond, with gold-flecked eyes, readily explained her views.

Her attitude was when you study fossils and dinosaur eggs, and think in terms of the long cycles of science, twenty-three years are nothing.

"The important thing," she said seriously, "is for a husband and wife to have common interests.

"We have a grand time out of science. We can hold long discussions about the immortality of the June bug.

"The disparity in our age has never made the least bit of difference."

LOOK NORTH-EAST FOR NEW COMET

May Be Seen Tonight Near Milky Way If Sky's Clear

BOSTON, July 23.—The Peltier comet, celestial wanderer newly discovered by an Ohio amateur astronomer, was observed well up in the sky last night off to the north east near the milky way as a pinhead of light not as bright as the dimmest star in the big dipper.

The man on the street, remembering the brilliance of Halley's comet a quarter of a century ago, asked anew the question: would it be catastrophic if the "tail" of the Peltier comet sideswiped the earth?

He received a likely answer in the performance of the Halley comet in May, 1910.

L. C. Peltier, of Delphos, O., who discovered the more discernible of two new comets—the other was sighted by a Japanese scientist—was well satisfied that his comet shaped up well through a six-inch glass and appeared brighter than it was a week ago.

"During the past week," he observed, "it has become plainly visible to the naked eye providing one knows about where to look for it."

The comet is approaching the earth at a speed estimated by Peltier at 2,000,000 miles a day. On August 4 when it is closest to the earth, it will still be 16,000,000 miles distant.

May Hit The Earth.

The chances that the tail of a comet—such as the two now visible—will sideswipe the earth are large, but astronomers have not yet seen a tail which might hurt the earth in such a collision.

The last time a comet's tail struck the earth was in May, 1910. It was the tail of Halley's comet—and a very big tail. Many million miles long, a dull red glow in the sky, seen for many weeks before it hit, and observed with some apprehension by laymen.

Astronomers were certain in advance there would be no effect. But on the chance that some slight disturbance might occur many observations were planned in advance.

Oswald Thomas, an astronomer, chief of the Uranis Observatory in Vienna, describes the watching.

"It was a clear night, we sat up, full of interest and enthusiasm, but we noted nothing in particular.

Paris ballrooms were sent up on the critical night; the aeronauts opened exhausted flanks, and then hermetically sealed them; the air was carefully analyzed, but with negative results.

"Those who had prophesied the end of the world and the flooding of the atmosphere with poisonous gases from the comet's tail were disappointed."

$5,000 SLANDER SUIT

WINDSOR, Ont. July 20 (CP)— Remarks alleged to have been made at a tourist camp, July 12, have resulted in institution of a slander action for $5,000 damages against Mrs. Jennie Hanley of Sandwich West township. The plaintiff is Mrs. Ann Robson, Toronto.

CROWE'S LANDING

Mrs. G. Burnham, of Toronto, has returned to her cottage after a recent trip to England. She reports that on her trip home the ocean was perfectly calm, but the fog was quite dense. She arrived at Montreal on Wednesday, and at her cottage, Stoney Lake, Thursday. She will remain here for the summer.

Mrs. F. Morgan and Mrs. J. Gracie, of Toronto, will holiday for a short time at one of the summer residences of Mrs. J. Mackay.

Mr. V. R. Smith, of Toronto, who arrived at his cottage Saturday to spend a short holiday of two weeks, has brought with him a beautiful sail boat which he built last winter. The boat is not quite finished, but after a painting he hopes he will be able to launch Tuesday of this week at Cedar Sands, Stoney Lake.

Lakeshore Cab Owner Loses Another Car And $25 Cash Earlier In Holdup

PORT HOPE, July 24.—An early morning hold-up and robbery of a local taxi driver, and the subsequent attempted robbery of a tobacconist store and an exciting police chase after a motor truck in which the would be robber made his get-away, were two unrelated incidents which set police on the qui vive here early to-day.

Held up at the point of a gun on the lakeshore road near Port Britain, Fred Lingard, local taxi driver, was robbed of $25 in cash and his car stolen by a man and woman, as yet unidentified.

About 1.30 a.m. a man and woman applied at Lingard's place of business to be taken to a destination on the lakeshore road. After they had completed a portion of the trip, the woman complained of being ill and the car was stopped. Simultaneously the male passenger drew a gun and ordered Lingard from the car, at the same time relieving him of the money in his pockets. The pair drove off in the stolen taxi, and are being sought by provincial and municipal police.

Robber Surprised

Later, police shots failed to stop a fleeing truck, the driver of which was caught in the act of attempting to break into a local tobacconist store from the rear entrance on Cavan street. Surprised by Night Constable Harvey, the would-be thief dashed to his truck and started north on the highway to Peterborough.

Obtaining another of Lingard's taxis, Constable Harvey gave chase. All the way to Bewdley the truck kept slowing down, hoping the taxi would crash it from the rear. Constable Harvey fired several shots but the truck kept on.

Finally the fleeing truck thief stopped completely and backed up to collide with the taxi, which was put out of commission by the impact. The truck then continued on towards Peterborough.

Talked Like Italian

According to Constable Harvey, the man was about 30 years of age, of dark complexion, and talked like an Italian. He was dressed in a dark suit.

"We had a fast machine," related Francey, driver of the taxi, "and figured that the man having gone north through the town, would make for highway No. 28. We drove three miles out and found no clues. We retraced our course and then figured we would find him in town, waiting for a get-away.

I turned the lights out and saw the wanted truck sitting near the Ontario College of Arts Summer School. He started up and failed to see us, so we naturally followed him with our lights out. When he turned on to the side road we lost track of him for a minute and the lights had to be turned on. The jig was then up and the chase on."

"He tried to crash us several times," continued Francey. "When we tried to get up even, he would turn out and slow down. We were hitting 70 miles an hour on the down-grade when Constable Harvey let him have four shots from a .32 colt automatic. When he stopped and backed into the taxi after going at such a speed, it was totally unexpected."

Bull Shows Spirit Of the Spanish Ring

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., July 24 (CP)—Walter Andrachuk, of Bay View, Sault Ste. Marie suburb, was walking by a field where a bull was grazing and decided to watch a while. He got up on the fence and, lacking anything red, took off his shirt and waved that. The bull charged and Walter became entangled in the fence. The bull assisted him over, but when Walter descended on the other side he lacked both shirt and part of his pants.

$16,000 SAVING FROM WIG-WAGS BOARD IS TOLD

C.N.R. Application To Remove Gates At Bethune Street Crossings Heard

BELLS NOT WANTED

Railway And City Representatives Consider Hon. Hugh Guthrie's Suggestion

The application of the Canadian National Railways for permission to substitute automatic wig-wags for the present gates at six Bethune street crossing in the central part of the city was heard at the court house this morning by the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, composed of Hon. Hugh Guthrie, K.C., chairman; Dr. S. J. McLean, and John Stoneman.

A. D. MacDonald, as solicitor for the C.N.R., presented the evidence supporting the petition; and T. J. Carley, acting for John R. Corkery, city solicitor, represented the council. Mayor Macdonald, Aldermen Stocker and Tuggey, and City Engineer Parsons were present.

Hon. Mr. Guthrie suggested that from the evidence it seemed that gates should be retained at Charlotte street and probably at Hunter street, but that wig-wags without bells might afford effective substitutes for the gates at Sherbrooke, King, Simcoe and Brock streets.

Operation of gates has already been discontinued at Brock street, which is protected by a flagman for 16 hours a day.

Mayor Macdonald intimated through Mr. Carley, that the council would like to consult the railway officials in regard to the Chief Commissioner's personal proposal, and a meeting was arranged for this afternoon at the city hall.

Would Save $16,650

Mr. Macdonald, in supporting the application, said that the wig-wag system would effect an economy of

FASCISTS, LEFTISTS ENGAGE 26 MILES NORTH OF MADRID

French Reports Claim Rebels Hold Upper Hand In General Strife

MADRID, July 24—Spain's Liberalist government forces, pressing a mountain battle with Fascist besiegers 26 miles northwest of Madrid, reported to-day they were in control of one strategic pass and were driving insurgents out of another.

The official radio announced the loyal forces, massed on the Guadarrama Mountain range to guard approaches to the capital, dominated most of the vital Somo Sierra Pass and were driving the invaders back from the Leon Cut.

Except for the sound of cannonades in the distance, Madrid was comparatively quiet.

There were, however, occasional shots as snipers fired from housetops and other places of concealment at noon an official radio broadcast ordered all militiamen still in Madrid to concentrate at Moncloa Barracks.

When dawn broke, it could be seen that the Republican flag was waving from public buildings and from the headquarters of the Leftist organizations.

Sudbury Cloudburst Maroons 300 Miners As Gale Cuts Power

Merchants Suffer Heavily As Practically Every Store Cellar Is Flooded

Farmers Take New Hope Expecting Roots, Late Oats, Fruit To Come Back

(By the Canadian Press.)

Pasture lands, vegetable gardens and some fruit crops appeared perkier to-day in nearly every part of Ontario as farmers greeted with hesitant smiles rains that varied from a heavy dew in some sections to a cloudburst in others.

Agriculturists knew that in many instances grain crops had been struck a near-fatal blow by the blighting drought, and rain in any quantity could do little good, but late root crops, pastures, late oats and some fruit would stage an encouraging comeback under the stimulating influence of the long-awaited moisture.

Sudbury and district received the full blast of the sky's pent-up fury and a cloudburst that poured down an inch of rain within 15 minutes caused havoc in the Northern Ontario city. Between 300 and 400 men were marooned for half an hour in the depths of the Frood Mine when lightning disrupted the power service and hoists could not be operated.

Merchants Are Hit

Cellars in nearly every Sudbury store were flooded and merchants anticipated heavy damage. Cars plowed through hub-deep water in the streets and a theatre was plunged into darkness as lightning struck a transformer during a matinee performance.

Brantford had a good shower last night after previous precipitation disappointed farmers designated merely "a good dew." Buckwheat and late potatoes were expected to benefit, but more rain was needed to aid pastures, bring along root crops.

Goderich district soaked up nearly an inch of rain and the seven weeks' drought was ended.

An inch of rain fell at Listowel and it came just in time to prevent a serious crop situation as grain was begining to whiten.

Guelph district received intermittent downfalls after a 32-day drought, and Galt had occasional showers that penetrated the soil less than an inch.

LABORATORY WILL REMAIN IN CITY

Means More To Peterborough Than Saving To Gov't, Premier Decides After Hearing Plea

TORONTO, July 24 (CP)—Deputation from the city of Peterborough was successful to-day in obtaining a promise from the Ontario Government that the provincial laboratory at Peterborough would not be closed. Hon. Dr. Faulkner, Minister of Health, had advocated closing the laboratory on the ground that it was a duplication of existing services.

"When we heard their arguments, and their side of the case, we decided not to close the laboratory," stated the Premier. "It means more to Peterborough than the small saving that would results means to the government."

Hon. G. N. Gordon and J. J. Duffus, M.P. headed the deputation.

City Demands Gates At Two Crossings

At a conference of representatives of the city and the C.N.R. this afternoon, members of the council expressed assent to substitution of wig-wags at all crossings except Charlotte and Hunter streets, and also the yard gates on King street between Bethune and Aylmer streets. It was also proposed that the city be relieved of all costs of changing the protective system and subsequent maintenance. The council's representatives were agreeable that this recommendation be forwarded to the Board. No change was mentioned in the attitude of the C.N.R. The railway's case was presented to the Commissioners this morning.

Where They Get 'Em.

TWEED, July 24.—Among the successful people of the rod and fly on the waters of Stoco lake during the past week was W. B. Hard of Windsor, who landed a 14-pound lunge, while Messrs. Archie Sinclair and Mr. A. Badgley landed seven pounders.

The best record of the season was copped by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrison and have just grown to the championship for Stoco Lake for 1936, and to date no fishermen have disputed their claim. Mr. and Mrs. Morison made a beautiful catch over the week-end, securing the limit, of eight nickerel and a nice pike. The two largest pickerel tipped the scales at 5¾ pounds apiece while the smallest weighed 3½ pounds. The pike was 6½ pounds. The successful catch was made near the eastern part of the lake while casting with a June bug bait.

TORONTO BROKER GORDON MACLAREN HELD FOR THEFT

Man Bonded As Witness In Huggard Case Nabbed While Motoring

HEARING IN GODERICH

TORONTO, July 24 (C.P.). — Arrested early to-day, Gordon G. MacLaren, Toronto stock broker, will be taken to Goderich to-day to face a charge of theft. MacLaren was bonded as a witness at the time John J. Huggard, Seaforth lawyer, now awaiting trial, disappeared early in the spring.

Although Toronto police merely said MacLaren had been arrested on a theft charge at the request of Ontario Provincial Police, it was understood a charge of theft of $10,000 worth of stocks had been preferred against MacLaren. He was arrested as he was motoring along Eglinton Avenue.

Huggard, now facing trial on charges of theft and conversion allegedly involving $150,00 worth of clients' securities, was arrested in Los Angeles and brought back here on July 10. He is now on remand.

Shortly after his disappearance MacLaren and Robert Fletcher, another Toronto broker, were taken into custody and bonded as material witnesses in the Huggard case.

MacLaren and Fletcher were committed for trial by Magistrate J. A. Makins, at Goderich on June 18, on charges of forging and uttering a power of attorney against Alexander Campbell, retired Seaforth lawyer, and obtaining Dominion of Canada bonds to the value of $10,000.

Reds to Slay Captives Unless Rebel Planes Cease Bombing Town

British, U.S., French, Italian Ambassadors Huddle In Hotel Cellars

IRUN, Spain, July 24.— Reports from San Sebastian said to-day Spanish Communists, holding the devastated city under heavy bombing from rebel airplanes, had threatened to kill 500 Spanish aristocrats there unless the bombing ceased.

The Communist defenders were said to have posted an ultimatum declaring they would line up the imprisoned aristocrats and shoot them down if the air attacks were not halted at once.

Sir Henry Chilton, the British ambassador, was understood to be living in the cellar of a hotel. Claude Bowers, United States ambassador, and the German and Italian ambassadors were understood to be living in cellars of other hotels.

San Sebastian was reported to be in ruins, with many houses burned down and blasted away in the stiff artillery and aerial fire which has accompanied the fighting.

Rescue Warships on Way.

British and French warships were expected hourly to try to rescue their diplomats and nationals.

All contact with the outside world was cut off during to-day's bombardment.

Frontier guards refused to admit a German diplomatic courier seeking to reach his ambassador.

The guards no longer were permitting bearers of diplomatic passports to pass through Irun. The courier was trying to slip through the mountains.

A food shortage was reported to have caused the rationing of all supplies in San Sebastian.

U.S. EMPLOYEE, BRITISHER SLAIN.

WASHINGTON, July 24 (A.P.).—Aghast at the killing of a United States Consulate employee and a British subject endeavoring to protect American lives, 160 United States citizens sought refuge to-day aboard a rescue ship which reached Barcelona, Spain.

Simultaneously Embassy officials at San Sebastian reported to the State Department that conditions there were "horrible," and that American Ambassador Claude G. Bowers, at his villa five miles away, still was cut off from his office.

Lynn W. Franklin, American diplomatic representative at Barcelona, reported that Santiago Iturralde, Spaniard who has "served this Consulate faithfully 17 years," and a British subject serving as his chauffeur, were shot to death while driving on a mission designed to protect American lives.

The American Export Line reported to the State Department that the steamer Exeter arrived at Barcelona at 9 p.m. (Barcelona time) and that the master was given a list of 100 Americans and 100 other foreigners who wished to be evacuated.

McMAHON GOES ON TRIAL UNDER '42 TREASON ACT

Man Who Levelled Gun At King Is Faced With Three Charges

"WANTED TO SHOOT SELF"

Attorney - General Credits Special Constable With Striking Pistol Down

LONDON, July 24 (CP)—George Andrew McMahon, the man who drew a revolver during a military parade headed by the King last week, was remanded to jail for a week to-day after a hearing on a charge of producing a weapon "with intent to alarm His Majesty."

The decision to grant a remand was made after Alfred Kerstein, counsel for the prisoner, had announced McMahon wished to testify himself and to call witnesses.

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—George Andrew McMahon, who appeared with a loaded revolver at a parade headed by the King on July 16, went on trial to-day under the Treason Act of 1842.

Attorney General Sir Donald Somervell, in charge of the prosecution in Bow Street Police Court, quoted the prisoner as telling the police: "I wanted to shoot myself in front of the King, but I lost my head."

McMahon sat in the iron-railed dock. His face was flushed crimson and he repeatedly passed notes to his solicitor, blinking his watery eyes at the parade of prosecution witnesses.

Eyewitness accounts showed discrepancies of opinion over whether the revolver actually struck the King's horse or whether it landed in front or behind the animal; whether it was thrown or knocked from McMahon's hand.

Gives Constable Credit

Somervell credited Special Constable Anthony Gordon Dick with knocking the revolver from McMahon's hand during the episode on Constitution Hill.

He said that as the King reached a point about 20 yards from McMahon, Dick saw the prisoner raise his arm with something in his hand.

Fr. Coughlin Apologizes Calling Roosevelt Liar

Same Open Letter to President Expresses Intention To Defeat Him If Possible

VATICAN MAY STEP IN

DETROIT, July 24 (A.P.). — A public apology by Father Charles E. Coughlin for calling President Roosevelt a "liar" was in the Record to-day, but the same open letter to the United States President that contained it expressed an intention to do all possible to defeat him for re-election.

In a subsequent interview at his Shrine of the Little Flower, Father Coughlin said that "I have no personal quarrel with the President, and I believe he is well-intentioned, but he succeeds in surrounding himself with crackpots."

The formal statement was published under the heading "An Open Letter of Apology to President Roosevelt" in the July 27 issue of "Social Justice," organ of Father Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice."

In Righteous Anger.

Signed by Father Coughlin, it said that he spoke "in righteous anger" when "I addressed to the President of the United States in a speech at Cleveland on July 16 the word 'liar,' and for that action I now offer to the President my sincere apology."

The same open letter said "As my President, I still respect you; as a fellow-citizen and as a man I still regard you highly, but as an executive, despite your Excellency's fine intentions, I deem it best for the welfare of our common country that you be supplanted in office. To that end, in a gentlemanly and courageous manner, I shall strive."

56 Fire Fighters Trapped By Kootenay Pass Blaze

Reinforcements Are Rushed To Area—Rescue Expected Shortly

FLAMES JUMP MOUNTAIN

BLAIRMORE, Alta., July 24 (CP).—Encircled by fire, 56 men, battling forest flames in the Kootenay Pass, 40 miles south of here, were cut off from their base camp to-day.

"They are in no danger," Assistant Fire Ranger Joe Cardinal, stationed here, said to-day. "We expect to be through to them to-day."

The men were trapped late Thursday at the head of the west branch of the Castle River when flames surmounted a summit and crossed the British Columbia boundary into Alberta.

Reinforcements for the forest fire-fighters were rushed into the district to-day, with men being recruited from High River, Coleman and Blairmore.

Lad in His Coffin Suddenly Revives

BUDAPEST, July 24.—(CP-Havas)—An 11-year-old boy who had been given up for dead after being struck by lightning near Debrecsin got up from his coffin to-day and walked home.

The boy, his brother, aged 15, and his father were riding in a wagon when a violent storm broke out. Lightning struck the vehicle, killed the horses, and left the two boys inanimate.

After long efforts at resuscitation, doctors declared both children dead and ordered their burial. The younger had suddenly revived when he was in his coffin. But his brother was dead.

THREE LABORITE M.P.'S SUSPENDED BY BRITISH HOUSE

New $3,750,000 Relief Act Passes In One Of Parliament's Stormiest Sessions

SIMON LABELLED "RAT"

LONDON, July 24.—(CP Cable.)—One of the stormiest sessions the Mother of Parliaments has experienced ended to-day when the government's new unemployment regulations were approved in the House of Commons after three Scottish members of the Independent Labor Party were "named" and suspended for unparliamentary remarks.

The new regulations provide for expenditure of an extra £750,000 (about $3,750,000) for unemployment relief which now costs about £38,000,000 annually.

Benefits would be increased for some 200,000 jobless and radically reduced for about 60,000 others. The regulations will be effective Nov. 16 under terms of the Act.

The wild disturbance centred about the home secretary, Sir John Simon, who guided the bill through the House. In criticizing Sir John who was called "liar" and a "dirty little rat" by the leftwing labor men, Jock McGovern drew the name of the King into the discussion.

Sir John had said that children were responsible for supporting their parents. McGovern broke in with: "Why doesn't the King support his mother? He must be a despicable individual."

The three suspended for their references to Sir John were McGovern, George Buchanan and Campbell Stephen, all from Glasgow seats.

FARMERS WANT WHEAT SET $1.12

Saskatchewan Group Propose Non-Delivery Strike Unless Demand Met

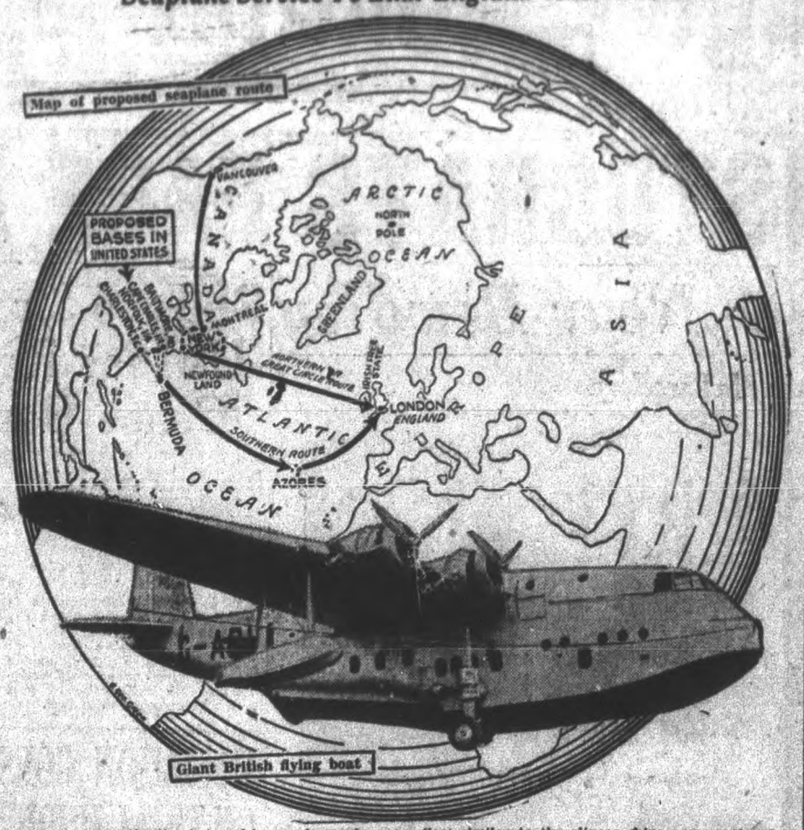
SASKATOON, July 24 (C.P.). — A provincial non-delivery strike on all grains will be instituted by the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, if the Federal Government discontinues the Wheat Board and the fixed price for wheat, the organization proposes.

Enlistment of every Saskatchewan farmers' support in the strike will be sought, it was decided in a resolution passed by the U.F.C. Saskatchewan Section Convention, concluding a three-day session yesterday.

It was also decided to petition the Federal Government to set the price for wheat at $1.12 per bushel, and to ask support of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool in that demand. The price, it was felt, would enable farmers to obtain a fair standard of living.

A blanket, uniform debt adjustment program, applicable to both secured and unsecured creditors, will be requested of the Government.

Seaplane Service To Link England And America



Regular transatlantic air travel in speedy seaplanes prior to the end of the summer, looms as a possibility following confirmation of reports at Washington that Imperial Airways of Great Britain, and Pan-American Airways of the United States had agreed to establish picture of one of the British flying boats, already completed at Rochester, England, are shown above. In such a service. A map of the proposed routes and a addition, a route to Montreal and thence across Canada via the new Canadian airways is under advisement. The route is shown on the above map. The British concern plans to use the type of seaplane shown here, while Pan-American contemplates using a fleet similar to the clipper ships now employed in transpacific service. The shorter northern route which probably will be used during the summer, will take passengers via Canada, Newfoundland, and the Irish Free State to England. During the winter, the flying boats are expected to travel to England by way of Bermuda. Permission to establish an American terminal has already been granted by the U.S. Department of Commerce. Cities being considered as a base are Baltimore, Md., Cape Charles or Norfolk, Va., Charleston, S.C., and New York City, with the latter favored as the northern route base.

Man 80 Weds Woman 56— Speeds Ceremony to Fool Crowd.

COVENTRY, England, July 24 (C. P. Cable). — Arthur Smith, 80, was married yesterday to Jessie Freeman, 58, of Leicester. It was Smith's seventh marriage. The hour of the wedding was advanced to avoid the anticipated crowd.

The Free City of Dansig, established under the Treaty of Versailles to create a port for Poland, is a sovereign and independent city and state, and is under the domination of the League of Nations. The city has a population of nearly 500,000.

42 DIE IN TYPHOON

Western Part of Japanese Island Is Ravaged.

TOKYO, July 24 (A.P.). — Forty-two persons were dead, 27 seriously injured, and 24 other missing to-day after a typhoon which ravaged the western part of Kyushu Island and the Shimonoseki district.

More than 800 houses were destroyed and 9,000 inundated. Six small vessels were sunk in the storm.

MYSTERY PLANE SMUGGLERS' CRAFT

Police Claim Ring Has Run $1,000,000 In Alcohol Into Canada Inside Year

MONTREAL, July 24—(CP—Ownership of a mystery plane which landed at a United States airport two months ago and took off in a few minutes after its pilot struck an officer of the New York air police was traced in court to a ring of alleged smugglers.

At preliminary hearing of Samuel Cyromcoe and Earnest Lavoi, charged with conspiring to smuggle liquor into Canada and defraud the Dominion government of excise duties, Ray Cormier, Woonsocket, R. I., was described as owner of the airplane.

Cormier is sought by authorities as a memeber of the ring which police said has smuggled more than $1,000,000 worth of alcohol into Canada within the past year. Cyromse and Lavoie, ordered for voluntary statement July 29, were arrrested last weekend when the plane was seized.

Patrolman Otta Kafka of the New York air police testified he was struck in the face when he approached the pilots of a Boeing plane which landed at Holmes Airport, Jackson Heights, N. Y., the pilot of the mystery plane immediately took off but not before Kafka noted the plane's number which was given to air authorities.

Robert Reining, chief registrar of the air commerce department in Washington, told the court the plane had a license in the name of Ray Cormier of Woonsocket, R. I. the man sought in connection with the smuggling.

Hint Empire Share British Navy Burden

LONDON, July 24 (CP Cable) — The Imperial Conference next year will afford "a welcome and appropriate opportunity" of discussing the manifold problems surrounding the financial burden of the Navy, in the opinion of Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty.

Addressing an informal conference of the Empire Parliamentary Association last night Sir Samuel said the "very deep interest" which other people of the Empire had in the Navy and its support "may suggest to them ways of sharing the burden."

He said the solidarity of the British Commonwealth upon the sea was again demonstrated by the co-operation the Home Fleet received from two Australian cruisers and a New Zealand cruiser in the Mediterranean crisis. The Admiralty was grateful for this co-operation as a symbol of unity of purpose within the Empire.

LOG TELLS OF TRAGEDY.

TRURO, N.S., July 23 (C.P.). — A log found on the surface of Short's Lake to-day explained the drowning of two Truro youth.

The log, struck by a speed boat last night, catapulted Donald Legge, 21, and Leroy Langille, 26, to their deaths, police said.

Tell-tale scrapings on the wood and a daub of paint revealed how the tragedy occurred.

BREAK-IN TOTAL SWELLS

SARNIA, Ont., July 24 (CP).—Reports of break-ins at five places in the village of Inwood and Alvinston last night brought the total of burglaries in Lambton County this week up to seven. Only minor loot has been obtained in the break-ins.

The Duke of Kent opened the British Art Exhibition in Amsterdam, Holland.

FIRST JUMP FATAL

Calgary Youth's Parachute Fails To Open.

CALGARY, July 24 (CP). — A parachute which failed to open brought death of Paul Huntley, 18, of Calgary. Huntley fell last night from about 1,800 feet, and his body bounced off a fence post as it landed 300 yards outside the airport grounds. A crowd of more than 2,000 persons had gathered to watch the parachute-jumping exhibition. Before he went up Huntley tossed a coin with another man to see who would take the jump. It was his first jump.

NEW TWEEDSMUIR NOVEL IS LAUDED

"The Island Of Sheep" Is Fresh Off Presses In Great Britain

LONDON, July 24 (CP Cable).—A new novel by Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, received appreciative comment yesterday in Great Britain. The novel is called "The Island of Sheep."

The Yorkshire Post says: "Lord Tweedsmuir is probably the greatest living exponent of the literary thriller. He brings to this sometimes despised form of authorship the perfect prose of John Buchan, the historian, and a descriptive power unequalled in the whole history of the thriller.

"Perhaps it is a pity that such talents are wasted on a book destined to be read in hundreds of railway carriages and thousands of deck chairs. Nevertheless they play no small part in adorning the tale with continuous, breathless excitement."

FIRES IN ALBERTA BURNING FIERCELY

Lack Of Rain Makes Forestry Crew's Job Practically Hopeless In Dry Bush

EDMONTON, July 24 (CP)—After another day without rain, forest fires that for nearly two weeks have burned fiercely in western Alberta's dry-as-tinder wooded areas showed no signs of abating to-day.

Fought by several hundred men rushed into the fire zones by the provincial forestry department, at least 12 serious fires have caused damage estimated in the thousands of dollars to valuable commercial timber areas.

Work weary fire-fighters were gaining the upper hand over a conflagration 30 miles north of Rocky Mountain House came from that area 100 miles south-west of Edmonton last night. Forestry officials here reported the blaze there was "under effective control."

GARDEN PARTY AT LIFFORD LINE

Supper Followed By Excellent Drama Are Held In New Church Shed

FINE ADDRESSES

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LIFFORD LINE, July 24.—An event of unusual interest took place at Lifford on Wednesday evening July 22nd when the annual Garden party under the auspices of St. Mary's church was held on the church property where a fine new spacious church shed has recently been erected. This new building which has been made possible through the untiring efforts of faithful ambitious church workers as a valuable asset to the community in carrying on the work of the church.

The well arranged white clad supper tables were located within the new building where threatening showers caused no alarm. In spite of the very dry season, a profusion of beautiful summer flowers were available for bouquets which bedecked the supper tables.

Although St. Mary's is not a large congregation, the ladies provided most abundantly a variety of appetizing edibles to which all guests did ample justice from five-thirty until all were served, a corps of attentive waiters supplying the particular choice of each one seated at the tables.

The Program.

When all had been served, the supper tables were removed and the many guests were comfortably seated before a stage which had been built at one end of the shed. Rev. Holden pastor of the church welcomed the large assemblage in a few well-chosen words and introduced a delightful three-act drama which has been in the course of preparation by the young people of Lifford for several weeks past.

As weddings have been a notable feature in the Manvers district this month, the title of this well-chosen play "Let's Get Married" was particularly appropriate. The cast of characters was as follows:

The scene of the play was represented as a richly furnished living room in Loring Ames New York home.

Those who had so pleaureably anticipated the presentation of this particular drama were highly entertained as was evidenced by hearty applause and wrapt attention in spite of difficulties presented by way of heavy rain falling on the steel roof above.

Talented local musicians including Robert Sisson, Majorie Page, Ben Page and Mrs. Keith Thorndyke contributed rollicking musical numbers between acts.

Mr. Frank Rickard, M. P. of Newcastle, Mr. Bragg, M. P. P., of Bowmanville and Deputy Reeve Chros. Cummiskey of Fleetwood gave short congratulatory addresses expressing the pleasure it afforded them to see this fine new building completed.

Those who were fortunate in being served supper at an early hour were entertained before the commencement of the evenings program with a friendly softball game between Bethany and Pontypool boys, the score being 18-11 in favour of the Bethany team. The game being called on account of darkness.

A booth placed at the rear of the shed was attractive with colored balloons and did a thriving business which augmented the gate receipts which exceeded the expectations of all.

MILITARY BAND AT OTTAWA FAIR

Goldman, King Of Bandmasters, On First Visit To Capital City

ELABORATE REVUE

So high a standard has been set by the Ottawa Exhibition in the last few years that it is increasingly difficult to make each year better than the previous. For this year, however, the directors are confident that new records wil be established as nothing has been left dnuone to make August 24th to 29th a memorable week.

It is a matter of taste, but most exhibition visitors doubtless will make sure of hearing Goldman, the king of bandmasters, and his world famed band. This will be the first visit to Ottawa of the noted organization and it will be heard in two concerts daily from the shell bandstand for the entire week.

Topping the night program will be The Fascinations of 1936, a four-star revue, to be presented on a scale never before equalled by an outdoor attraction. With a cast of almost fifty, mostly beautiful and talented girls, a revolving stage, elaborate stage settings and lighting effects, gorgeous costumes, novel ensembles, catchy music and dances, and bright comedy, this attraction will rank with the best of musical comedies of the theaters of yesterday.

Vaudeville acts that will thrill and amuse, elaborate fireworks, horse races, sports, a new midway with the latest rides and shows, dog show, nightly horse shows in the Coliseum, Highland dancing, etc., will be outstanding factors in the 1936 exhibition. Displays by the Dominion and provincial governments, civic displays, exhibits by merchants and manufacturers, flowers and fruit, poultry and pets, automobiles, pure food, livestock, junior agriculture competitions, child welfare, baby show hobbies, women's work, model home, and scores of other interesting departments will provide education, surprises and pleasure for all.

Intending exhibitors should write at once for prize lists as in some departments the entries must be in by August 1st. Reduced railway rates, special parking for automobilists, and coupon tickets which give six admissions for one dollar also will prove an inducement to visit the Capital in Exhibition week. These tickets may be obtained from various merchants or from branches of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

COMET VANISHES BACK INTO SPACE

One Still Visible—Earth Bears Three Scars From Collisions With "Wanderers"

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor)

BOSTON, July 24—(AP)—One of the two comets currently visible retreated into space yesterday, but the question of what might happen should the earth collide with the head of one of these celestial wanderers claimed the interest of astronomers and amateur star-gazers.

The Yerkes Observatory reported Kaho's Comet, discovered by an amateur Japanese astronomer July 17, had turned from the earth and sun and would approach no closer than 100,000,000 miles.

Peltier's Comet, however, continued its approach at the rate of 25 miles per second. Astronomers estimated it would attain its closest point, 16,000,000 miles, by August 4.

The earth bears three scars to suggest what might happen if one of these wanderers collided with it.

One of them, spread over the coastal plains of North and South Carolina between the Savannah River and Cape Lookout, is made up of 1,500 indentations that might have been made by stones forming the head of a comet.

The other tell-tale spots on earth are in Siberia and in Arizona where giant meteors hit the earth.

LITTLE EFFECT OF FIRES

SUDBURY, Ont., July 24 (CP). — "We saw little of the effect of the forest fires at Long Lac and Geraldton, and I'm glad that the fire has been subdued," H. A. Bruce, Lieutenant Governor said here today at a reception at Memorial Park. "I hope the fires in this northern district have been ended at least for this year."

The Lieutenant Governor, Mrs. Bruce, and their son, Maxwell, arrived in Sudbury last night from Long Lac, where she showed particular interest in the effect of forest fires which ravaged that area.

A Check Girl Must Watch Her Step When She Moves in Another World

When Jimmy, the bell boy, caught sight of Gay Elwell in her ravishing evening gown, his face burst into a wide smile. The check girl responded warmly to his friendly greeting and then she realized her mistake. Christian Scott, her elderly companion, walked up to them, in all his dignity, his face scarlet with anger. "Isn't it bad enough that you know such people without going out of your way to speak to them?" he demanded. Gay could not reply as she wished to. She simply couldn't afford to irritate him further. It's Just Too Bad

We fear Premier Hepburn is weakening. When he was at Sudbury he went out for the first time and played golf. We learn he took two great swings at the start and missed the thing at which he was swinging. The third time he got a good clout at the ball and away it went for a full 200 yards which we understand is a better-than-average clout, although we have just been told that the word clout is a baseball term and not used when referring to golf. But that big clout will encourage the Premier to play more golf; he will start talking about the terrific swipe he took at the ball in Sudbury (and we doubt whether that word swipe is good golf language either.)

When he gets to playing golf in earnest he will cause notices to be inserted in the office door at Queen's Park saying he is out; he may even have his secretary announce to visitors that he is in conference and must not be disturbed. This is the way the thing works. No business man would post a note saying he had gone to play golf in the middle section of a fine day, so he causes it to be reported that he is in deep conference and must not be disturbed.

Then Mr. Hepburn's language may become spoiled. We do not want to have our Premier talking like some of the players of golf are reported to talk. We would rather have him remain as the unspoiled young farmer from some wide-acred spot near St. Thomas.

He Had An Objective

Nine years ago James Fodor, now employed with a cartage company in Hamilton, left his native Czechoslovakia. His wife came with him but their three children remained with their grandmother until Fodor could get established in this country. The Hamilton story refers to Fodor as being industrious and hard-working. Now his three children are on their way to Hamilton, travelling alone, although Fodor has had to post a bond to show they will not become charges on the state. Two other children have been born since James Fodor and his wife came to Canada nine years ago, so there is now a family of seven shortly to be reunited in the home which Fodor had in mind nine years ago.

We take it that James Fodor has never made what might be called big wages, but he is hard working and industrious. It is not likely there has ever been much money spent by that family for holidays and pleasure. What are called "extras" have probably been few, but always there has been an definite objective in mind—the securing of sufficient money to bring out the three children who were left behind in Czechoslovakia. James Fodor has not wasted his time trying to change the form of government in this country. He must have worked hard and together with his wife they must have been disciples of thrift. But all the time they had an objective, something in sight, and the lack of some objective is why so many people fail.

Swim—Don't Swallow

Although the situation is not considered serious enough to warrant the forbidding of bathing in the Otonabee River, the fact that tests made by the Medical Officer of Health disclose the presence of bacteria in the water should be enough to put bathers on their guard. The simple truth is the water at the city's bathing places is not safe to drink which means that swimmers should exercise every precaution against swallowing the stuff while enjoying their favorite sport. It is almost impossible to do much diving without imbibing a certain amount of water and it is noticeable that most bathers have not been doing a great deal of worrying about taking on board a quantity of the Otonabee's contents. Dr. Fraser's report shows that disagreeable consequences might follow which should be sufficient warning to all who like a cooling dip in the Otonabee, but nothing else.

They Are Not in Control

Several years ago the Ontario Municipal Board named a commission to administer the affairs of Windsor. The citizens go through the motions each year of electing a Mayor and Council, but the actual power of financing is not in the hands of the Council.

The Finance Commission has decided that there shall be an extra assessment made of 5.4 mills after the rate had been set at 40 mills earlier in the season. The extra money, we learn is needed for relief purposes. The City Council refused to pass the motion, although instructed by the Finance Commission to do so. So the Finance Commission has gone ahead and taken action and the extra levy will be due on September 1. This new taxation will bring the levy for relief purposes to 9.725 mills for the year.

It was no doubt necessary for Windsor to apply for provincial supervision in the first place, as its affairs were hopelessly involved, but it means that the City Councils which have been in office since have had very little power. The Council is not in control of the financial situation, because the last word comes from the Finance Commission, and the members are not elected by the people of Windsor. Members of the City Council may prefer to think they are in charge of affairs because they were elected, but the truth is they only imagine they are.

People With Heart Trouble

Dr. G. Murray Fraser in a recent address to a service club in Peterborough said there was a steady increase in deaths attributed to heart disease, and the majority of them were men, many of whom appeared to be in good health. This condition is not peculiar to Peterborough. The Examiner has in its possession notes from some sound advice given to a resident by one of the outstanding heart specialists on the continent. The subject matter is so sound that we believe it ought to be printed. We believe it ought to be clipped out and put away for reference and future reading by men and women who have reason to believe that heart action is not all that it should be. Summarized it is this:

The world today is suffering from a form of insanity. Some years ago a faithful and conscientious worker would labor for a day and his production would be what we shall call two units. Today he is caught in a system where he is required to speed up until he produces four or five units in the same time. He has no more strength or energy than he had before and he has no more hands. That added effort is an attack on his heart. And a good many business men are working under the same strain, and they are imposing it on themselves.

When you are tired quit work. Being tired means that your power plant has given you all that it can for the day; it has nothing else to give you. You do not need to look in a book or read a dictionary to find out when you are tired. There are plenty of little agencies all over you which give you warning. If you persist in working after that stage has arrived then you are deliberately reaching in and taking something out of yourself, something which you cannot put back. You are then doing permanent damage to your heart.

Plan your own existence as far as possible and work according to the strength you have.

When you walk do not rush at it. The best description of the difference is that a person with a tired heart should stroll rather than walk.

If your hours will permit, and try to make it so, lie down after the noon-day meal. It is worth something to relax in the middle of the day.

Have ten hours' of rest out of twenty-four. Do not be afraid of your condition, but rather deal with it intelligently. As far as it is possible let the world rush if it wishes to, but map out your own reasonable course according to your strength, and then follow it.

The Examiner believes any medical man will subscribe to the advice given here. It is published here in the sincere hope that those who need such advice will benefit by it.

It Would Be Reasonable

There is an unsigned letter on the desk today, and as a rule it would receive no notice. But there is one sentence which is worth considering: "My garden stuff is pretty well gone and I can't do anything about it but I suppose the farmers will soon be after more money for milk because some of their pasture has been dried out like my garden."

This paper fails to see where there is much connection between a man's dried-out garden and the price of milk. This paper expects there may be an increase in the price of milk. Pasture is the cheapest kind of feed a herd of dairy cows can have, and on a great many farms it has ceased to exist. That means that fodder which has been stored for late fall and winter feeding will have to be used now, and it is known that the root crop has been seriously damaged by dry weather. All this means that the producer of milk will face higher costs; he may have to import feed and if he is paying out more to produce milk then it stands to reason he should receive a fair hearing when he says he should receive a higher price for his product. This paper has never been satisfied that the man who owns a good herd of dairy cattle, and who seeks to meet all sanitary requirements and other tests, has been receiving much of a price for his milk. We would not blame him if under present circumstances he asked for an increase.

Has the Fortune Gone?

The late Arthur W. Cutten of Guelph, who operated in the Chicago wheat market for a good many years, has often been reported as having been worth $100,000,000 or some such fabulous sum. A report from Chicago says his estate has been entered for probate and the value of it is listed at $280,000. The same report says the United States government would issue liens against the estate for $800,000 for income tax which it alleges was not paid in 1929, 1930 and 1929. If the United States government collects with its usual success there will be nothing left of the estate. According to the will everything goes to the widow, so it may be nothing at all will go to her.

Whether Mr. Cutten prior to his death made any disposition of parts of his estate we do not know, but it does appear as though what had been regarded as a large fortune has disappeared. There have been a good many stories written about this gentleman; he was spoken of as being almost uncanny in his method of selecting the proper time to start buying grain, and he purchased in immense quantities. He also seemed able to sense the right time to unload his holdings. But it is also a fact that fortunes made by speculation have a way of going the same way they are made. It may be this happened in the case of the late Arthur Cutten.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Toronto has run out of dog tags, but it has not run out of the notion to order a few thousand more.

London's Health department believes in playing safe. It will not say the water in the Thames river is fit for swimming nor will it say that it is unfit.

When a prisoner was escaping from the Stratford jail others guests of the establishment gave the alarm. There is nothing in that to lend color to the old idea of honor among thieves.

Stunt flyer says he is always nervous when he is in an automobile, feeling much safer in the air. One reason probably is you don't meet so many fools when you're up near the clouds.

The relief racketeers who have been hitch-hiking between Regina and Moose Jaw and collecting relief in both cities have missed the boat. They are now cut off at both ends.

Toronto is asking the Federal government for $5,000,000 for relief projects and will probably get a reply by return mail that Santa Claus is not expected before his usual time in December.

Bolton council passed a resolution criticizing the shorts worn by summer visitors. Now the campers refuse to come into the place to buy supplies and the merchants are going "short."

According to the New York Museum of Science the most frequent cause of automobile accidents is the inability of drivers to estimate the relative speed of moving vehicles. The relativity between motorists and alcohol has also something to do with traffic mishaps.

S. A. G. Barnes, the Social Credit member who criticized Premier Aberhart, has been out of the party for two months, we are told, for failure to cooperate. Possibly Mr. Barnes is one of those embarrassing individuals who wants to know why social credit is not being put to work.

EXPERIENCE

(By A.B.K.)

¶ For years I kept insurance paid, on everything I owned or made, I had some on the barn; I had some on the driving shed, more on the kitchen stove and bed, I felt secure from harm.

¶ Insured too was my Sunday coat, my driving horse and billy goat, I feared they might get lost; the carpet and my easy chair, I had them all insured with care, I knew just what it cost.

¶ For forty years or so I paid, nor was I ever much afraid, I'd have my, little shack; and if a fire destroyed my stuff and used my little holdings rough, I'd get my money back.

¶ My neighbor scoffed at what I'd done, he named me as a funny one, I was a timid guy; he said insurance was a fake, he reckoned what my dues would make, and all that I could buy.

¶ And so I listened to this jay, and drove insurance men away, I told them I was done; for forty years I'd paid them cash, I needed it for tripe and hash, no fire had ever come.

¶ The lantern blew up in the barn, I lost all things upon the farm, I lost my billy goat; I lost my tidy little shack, my drive shed was left flat and black—I lost my Sunday coat.

Air Liners Soon To Fly Atlantic

(From the Montreal Star)

FOLLOWING hard upon the official announcement of a Bermuda-New York air service supplied by Imperial Airways with the financial support of the British Government and the cooperation of the American authorities comes additional and significant news that indicates we may be nearer to the conquest of the Atlantic for an aerial passenger service than many people may have imagined.

Last week, it will be recalled, an announcement was made in the British Parliament by the Secretary of State for Air, Lord Swinton, of the conclusion of an agreement between the Government and Imperial Airways for the inauguration in the autumn of an aerial service for passengers, mail and freight between Bermuda and New York and other points in the United States. Here is proof enough that the British are in earnest—a fact that seems to have been in doubt in some quarters of Canada. The British Government will give the company an annual subsidy of $90,500 per annum for five years—the duration of the agreement—and a capital grant of $172,500 to aid in defraying the cost of the seaplanes. The service will be a weekly one.

There are implications in this plan, however, which show that it is merely the forerunner of something very much bigger,—a complete transatlantic air service operated jointly by Imperial Airways and Pan-American Airways. In exchange for permission for Imperial Airways air liners to land in New York, permission is assured for Pan-American air liners to land in Hamilton, Bermuda. What is now planned is a combined service between London and New York via Bermuda and Azores. Pan-American air clippers will cover the first leg from New York to Bermuda, when the Imperial Airways will take on to the harbour of Horta, in the Azores, from which point Pan-American and Imperial Airways will alternate carrying passengers, freight and mail on to Lisbon, where there will be a final splitup of passengers and freight over old-established air lines to their various European destinations.

It is hoped to start this transatlantic service this year and to cover the trip from London to New York in thirty hours. The fastest ships require one hundred hours, and the Hindenburg requires forty-five from land to land. With the first transatlantic service started, plans will begin for a second, a the northern route, to Canada. And that is where Canada comes in. We are "on the line," and we must be ready to take our part efficiently if we are to share in the benefits of such a service. One thing is certain,—unless we are ready when the time comes, the opportunity will pass from us—never to be regained. Fortunately, there is sound evidence that some alert minds at Ottawa are fully awake to the supreme importance of preparedness.

SIGNING PETITIONS.

(Chatham Daily News)

MEN who one would think had arrived at the age of discretion, and who are known as dependable citizens in a locality, will sometimes put their names on a petition unthinkly, without investigation of the document.

The average man of today is always in a hurry, and has come to consider that the easiest way of getting rid of the circulator of a petition is simply to sign the thing and be done with it.

A few weeks ago a petition was circulated in a town in Western Ontario. It received the signatures of practically all the men of the place, and protested against a fine of $25 being imposed upon a young man for careless driving. To those not conversant with the circumstances it looked as though the punishment meted out to the young offender was a little severe. The facts are that the young man was taken into custody after a hard chase for driving his car at a rate of close to sixty miles an hour. Moreover he pleaded guilty when brought into court.

Signers of the petition no doubt took it for granted that the petition stated the truth. But in this relation the petition does not differ from many that are in circulation.

A good plan is to turn all petitions down that you don't know anything about. Every person who signs such a piece of paper is a party to the proposed act and is equally responsible with the writers and circulators of the petition.

If anything is worth petitioning for sign it, but don't get the habit of signing every petition submitted to you. Remember your name is, or ought to be, worth something to you.

HARD ON WILD LIFE.

(Sault Star)

A story told by one man who was close to the fire in the Ranger Lake section gives some idea of the menace such blazes are to the wild life of the district.

He relates that he saw six deer, three moose, several foxes and porcupines and even some wolves trying to make their way out of a bottle neck in the fire zone by swimming a lake.

These apparently escaped but where they managed to get away many others must have fallen victims to the flames.

Then among small game the rabbits would be quite unable to get out, and partridge, for some reason, show a tendency to fly right back into the fire.

Fur bearing animals, too, will be caught by the fire, which even aside from the timber losses, will do a great deal of damage to the district's resources.

WHAT HE DID.

(Brandon Sun)

"If little children twenty-five years hence are anything like some little children today, and that is quite likely, Manitoba kiddies will turn to Grandad and ask, 'What did you do in the Great Depression?' And the corpulent or lean, silver-haired grandsire, remembering the fourteen years of Bracken administration, will look a little blank for a minute and say, 'I survived, my child, and paid taxes'."

A Dinner in the Tower.

(From the London Daily Mirror.)

EIGHTY people sat down to dinner in the Tower of London last night with a single thought.

What does stuffed swan, boar's head, seethed turbot and bragget sack taste like?

The feast comprised dishes to which the trencherman of the Middle Ages did justice in the days when the Tower was used as a royal palace and the guests used to rise from a groaning board to wager on combats between lions and bears.

The form of this menu followed that of the Archbishop of York on his enthronement in 1466, and of Sir John Nevile's feast to his daughter, Elizabeth, on her marriage in 1546.

The giant haunch of venison was obtained from the King's forest, and the majestic swan from the royal swanneries.

The swan was described in the Order of Ye Feaste as "Ye Swanne Echoe with Five Nicks." These nicks in the swan's beak denoted that it could only be killed by royal consent.

The huge boar's head, complete with tusks, was specially brought from the Black Forest in Germany, while the bragget, a medieval concotion of ale and honey, was brewed by the beadle of Barnstaple.

It was the first banquet to take place within the Tower grounds for 300 years.

The banquet was held by the General Commissioners of Taxes of the Tower Division to celebrate the forty-three years' service as a Commissioner of their chairman (Mr. Harry Machin).

Permission was obtained from the Governor (Lieut.-Col. W. Faviell), who attended as a guest.

Crowds gathered outside the Tower entrance to watch as waiters in buff-tailed coats, wine velvet breeches and powdered wigs served the diners with sherries on the lawn.

It was found impossible to accommodate the whole of the party in one of the historic towers.

After the guests had been received by the chairman (Mr. T. J. Bibby) and Mrs. P. A. Bibby they marched in procession past the Byward and Middle Towers to the banquet hall led by the band of the Yorkshire Regiment.

Muskoka, Kawartha, Much the Same

(By V. M. Kipp in the Ottawa Journal.)

V. M. Kipp of the editorial staff of the Ottawa Journal, has been writing interesting articles of a motor trip which covered a wide range in northern Ontario. On the way back Mr. Kipp came through this district, but the intense heat which came about the time he reached this city caused him to hasten his departure to Ottawa. He promises to return. Of the trip which brought him to Peterborough he writes:

WE continued on the road to Orillia, and there turned north again on the highway that cuts through the Muskoka waters to Parry Sound—gateway to Georgian Bay's 30,000 islands—and then makes a half-circle to link up at Burk's Falls with the road that runs through Callander to North Bay. We drove on this road as far as Gravenhurst, turned right to Bracebridge and turned right again, by this time going almost straight east, to Dorset, a town on the new road that runs from Huntsville south to Lindsay.

Between Orillia and Dorset we had fair samples of the beautiful lakes and rivers that go to make up this holiday country of Muskoka; lakes that glimmered in the sunshine between their tree-laden shores, rivers that rippled under overhanging branches, tidy towns and villages with arms open to the tourist. Side roads carry the signs of well-known hostels and resorts. Muskoka, in fact, is one of Ontario's oldest Summer resorts, but still it is fine and natural.

* * *

At Dorset we were but a few miles from the south-westernly limits of Algonquin Park, and below a vast country that is the forest primeval. We turned south through a district with few settlements—but with everything that Nature could provide for the tourist's enjoyment—to Minden, where a road branches off to Haliburton, a few miles away. From Haliburton the motorist can reach great tracts of virgin country, can find roads to Whitney, from which point a road is entering Algonquin Park from the south, and to Pembroke.

We had to leave unseen and untravelled many of the roads that lured us on, and continued south through Coboconk and Fenelon Falls to Lindsay. From this direction Fenelon Falls is the entrance to the Kawartha Lakes region of more lovely waters. This is an area that runs above Peterborough and Lindsay west almost to Lake Simcoe. The similarity of Kawartha to Muskoka in formation and attraction, and the similarity of Rideau to Kawartha, is very marked. Muskoka has the advantage of greater publicity, of its location in regard to Toronto and Western Ontario, but Nature has done as much for one as for the others.

At Lindsay we were on No. 7 highway, which runs from Sarnia to Ottawa, passing north to Toronto, by way of Stratford and Guelph. Peterborough was only 26 miles away, and we stopped there for the night. The day's run from Georgian Bay was 256 miles.

Peterborough, like most of the cities and town we had seen, to the casual observer seemed prosperous and well-kept, although in the background is the universal problem of unemployment and relief. Peterborough, and its sister city, Lindsay, are keenly interested in the tourist flood, are trying to make better known the holiday area that is at their doors, and it is certain they will get an increasing share of this profitable tourist business.

The man we most wanted to see in Peterborough was Mr. A. B. Kennedy, editor of the Examiner, and he was ill.

The roads through the Muskoka-Kawartha part of Ontario are excellent, whether paved or gravel, and we found traffic so light that the dust was no serious annoyance. There are good stopping places in abundance, and the tourist can pick and choose. He can stop at hotels in the towns, or he can find a tourist lodge, a cabin colony, on one of the hundreds of lakes that differ in detail but share the general charm of a fascinating region.

A KING'S MAXIMS.

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

THE British Empire Union has issued a small wall plaque bearing the six maxims of his late Majesty George V which were hanging in the King's study at Sandringham. Here they are:

1. Teach me to be obedient to the rules of the game.
2. Teach me to distinguish between sentiment and sentimentality, admiring the one and despising the other.
3. Teach me neither to proffer nor to receive cheap praise.
4. If I am called upon to suffer: let me be like a well-bred beast which goes away to suffer in silence.
5. Teach me to win, if I may; if I may not win, then, above all, teach me to be a good loser.
6. Teach me neither to cry for the moon nor over spilt milk.

THE LADY PUSHED.

(Manchester Guardian)

IT seemed rather charming to read in the accounts of the recent launching of the cruiser Glasgow that "the vessel began to move down the slipway so slowly that Mrs. Baldwin stepped forward and pushed the sharp prow of the vessel with all her strength. Her act was cheered by a large crowd." Whether it did much to expedite the progress of a vessel of some 9,000 tons is perhaps a little doubtful, but at any rate it "showed willing" and suggests that Mrs. Baldwin is not one of those honorific launchers who are content with a little decorative bottle-smashing; in moments of emergency she can be a pusher as well as a smasher.

Some people might be tempted to embroider the theme a little further. There are those who maintain that pushing is exactly where Mrs. Baldwin's distinguished spouse fails to do himself justice, that in matters of policy he is an excellent adopter of an attitude of repose.

WHAT A PITY!

(Kitchener Record)

POOR old Toronto! Modernism has taken another stride and with it another institution has fallen by the wayside. The Queen City is completely equipped with dial phones and the telephone girl has passed into history.

What a pity? Toronto has 194,000 phones and all are automatically operated. No more will there be the pleasant little chit-chats with "central" that used to occur, especially at night when business was a bit slack. No more will the boys hover covertly about the phone exchanges looking at books and magazines until the darlings of their hearts trip blithely out to join them. No more will the fitter of the less ethical helio girl be heard, as the fond swain whispers sweet nothings over the wire to his sweetheart.

Personally we are thankful that we live in a smaller city. We confess that we like the musical ring of central's voice and her vexatious "wait a minute," as she tries to recover a lost long distance connection. We still like to see, occasionally of course, the girls trip out of the phone office and be joined happily by their boy friends. It takes one's memory back to bygone happy days.

THE HEAT WAVE.

(London Free Press)

THE only comfort we can think of is that we should be thankful that we live in a country and a climate where such a heat wave is a novelty. The oldest inhabitant cannot remember a period so hot or so dry, and we may date history in the future from the summer of the great drought. In some of the Western States there have been heat waves like this six years in succession, with the terrible added discomfort of sand storms which blacken the sky; in the South, heat such as at present is just taken for granted.

OLD POSTCARDS.

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

WE sympathize with Chatham where a veteran who wanted to take postcards of his city overseas found that nearly all those sold in the stores belonged to the horse and buggy era. They even showed horses attached to hitching posts.

St. Thomas has suffered, too. No doubt every city in the country suffers thus. The local postcards show main streets that look as if they had been taken early on a Sunday morning before anybody got around. A pedestrian here and there, perhaps a car or two but most likely not, and, yes, even hitching posts.

Every city ought to recall every old postcard and order a bonfire of them in front of the city hall. The newsagents could be compensated; the whole lot wouldn't cost much anyway.

But they are a libel on every self-respecting city in Canada. The root of the difficulty is that the postcard craze has almost died out. The day when people sent picture postcards has gone out of fashion, and those who make them do not find it worth while to take a new series of photographs and tint them.

What is needed is for each municipality to publish its own—say one stock card taken on a Saturday when the main street is jammed tight with automobiles and there isn't a horse and buggy to be seen.

HONESTY.

(By Stephen Leacock)

"IT is a queer thing. If you and I sit down to a game of poker in a saloon, we are honest men. We wouldn't cheat the bartender out of five cents. We wouldn't use a cold deck or an extra ace or pinch the pot. You wouldn't rob my house and I wouldn't rob yours. Drop a dollar in the street and I'll pick it up and give it back to you.

"But when it comes to assessments, taxes, tariffs, exemptions, expropriations, where are we? When we sit in parliaments and city council and company boards, we sink always below our poker game and saloon level. We are all out for all that we can get. We can not somehow bring our public and financial conduct to the high level of the saloon and the poker table. There we are gentlemen. In the office, we are crooks."

RAIN HALTS HARVEST

NAPANEE, Ont., July 24 (CP)—Lennox and Addington district farmers were able to view their rain-soaked lands to-day as harvesting operations were temporarily held up as a result of past 24-hour showers that broke up a 28-day drought and brought much-needed moisture to field crops. Barley appears the biggest loss in the grain field. Tomato plans weathered the dry period and although the early potato crop was short there is now promise of a normal yield for the late varieties.

MONTREAL SCOUTS MAKE QUICK TOUR

Youngsters From Metropolis Here Today On Way Home From Niagara

Two sixteen-year Boy Scouts from Montreal, Que., Robert LaBelle and Jacques DeSerres, members of the St. Viator Troop, Outremont, were seized a short time ago with the urge to see Canada first, and being Scouts they were not long in putting their idea into practice. The two likeable youngsters arrived in Peterborough at noon today, which is nothing remarkable in itself, but becomes more so when it is stated that they left Montreal on Monday morning, and since then have managed to hitch-hike as far as Niagara Falls, see the wonders of the cataract and the gorge and get this far on their way home via Ottawa. The two lads, who left Niagara Falls at 4 o'clock this morning, got a ride nearly all the way to Peterborough, and hoped to be equally successful in landing another lift this afternoon to Ottawa.

"30-DAY" CLOCK

Youth Goes to Jail for Stealing Timepiece as Companion

CHICAGO, July 24 (CP)—Elmer Koch, 24, reposed to-day in jail, where time is reckoned by days, and there are no cuckoo clocks.

He was charged with stealing a cuckoo clock (solid walnut, hand carved, Swiss made and three-weighted) from a curiosity shop on Milwaukee avenue.

"I got lonesome sitting around home all day while my wife works," Elmer explained. "I got to thinking about this cuckoo clock in this store. I thought how companionable it would be, and I finally wanted it so much I went and got it."

The judge said 30 days.

A WEEK FOR CONTEMPT

HAMILTON, Ont., July 23 (CP) —"You're a liar and I don't give a damn what you charge me with now, you're all crazy," John Sheppard, Hamilton, shouted at Magistrate's Court to-day, after P.C. Mogk had testified that he was screaming and swearing when arrested Wednesday.

Court officials immediately charged him with contempt of court for his expression of opinion and he was sentenced to jail for one week before he will again stand trial on a charge of vagrancy.

LOSES VALUABLE DOG.

Out walking with his mistress, a valuable Newfoundland dog was killed when he ran into the pathway of an oncoming motor truck, in the vicinity of the city waterworks, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Jean Williamson, of Berkeley street, Toronto, who was camping at Nick's Riverside Camp at the time of the accident, was feeling badly over the loss of her dog which she bought only three weeks ago. He cost $50. The driver of the truck was Elmer Aldred, of Apsley, who was unable to avoid striking the animal as it darted out in his pathway.

FRANK KITNEY ON TERMINAL MARKET SURVEY

Only Representative East Of Toronto Of Various Interests Represented

PROVINCIAL ENQUIRY

Terminal Market Proposed In Toronto For Fruit And Vegetable Trades

As a member of the provincial committee appointed to investigate and consider a proposal to establish a terminal fruit and vegetable market in Toronto, C. Frank Kitney recently visited similar markets in Detroit and Cleveland, observed fruit auctions in operation, and, with his associates, enquired into many phases of marketing as it affected producers, wholesalers and retailers.

Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, last fall appointed Paul Fisher, of Burlington, commissioner to direct this broad enquiry into terminal market conditions. At a conference last March of six hundred representatives of growers, wholesalers, truckers and retailers, which Mr. Kitney attended as a representative of the producers, Hon. Mr. Marshall suggested that the interested groups appoint committees of four men each to proceed with the enquiry in co-operation with the commissioner, Mr. Fisher.

From these preliminaries three investigating committees were appointed to consider respectively sites, finances and statistics. Mr. Kitney was placed on the sites committee, and is, in fact, the only representative east of Toronto engaged in the market survey.

The total volume of fruit and vegetables sold annually through Toronto is approximately $20,000,000, and the major part of that business is street trade and distribution. Lack of organization and modern merchandizing methods affects this important business adversely, extending to the producer, whose revenue is regarded as being most exposed to price fluctuations resulting from chaotic competition.

Two or three conferences will be held before next December when the several committees will again meet the commissioner and submit any recommendations that develop from the survey.

A terminal market for Toronto has so far been regarded as a desirable accomodation for the fruit and vegetable trade, including truckers, providing it is used by all producers, jobbers and retailers. This condition has suggested the plan of licensing and compulsory selling, but in the early conferences considerable objection was expressed to compulsion.

Paul Fisher said that if the growers were not unanimous in selling through the proposed market, they should not build it.

"They should leave it alone," he said, "and wait until worse conditions develop in their business, compelling them to act—which will eventually come, and soon."

A terminal market in Cleveland visited by Mr. Kitney covers 100 acres of which 20 acres are occupied by railway tracks.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 24. — Heavy export business, estimated at 2,500,000 bushels marked yesterday's session at the Winnipeg Grain Exchange as wheat futures prices closed 1½c to 1¾c higher.

Practically all early support was credited to export houses, and some hesitancy was apparent. Unexpected strength at Chicago, however, proved a factor in the upturn and induced good buying for southern and foreign account in later stages.

ONTARIO CURBED IN BROKERS' GAME

Commissioner Admits Authority Lacking To Halt Telephone Calls Into U.S.

TORONTO, July 23 (CP)—The Ontario Government has no jurisdiction over Ontario brokers or brokerage houses telephoning long-distance to Detroit and attempting to sell stock, John M. Godfrey, K.C., Ontario securities commissioner, said last night.

He was commenting on reports of an investigation into stock-selling methods used in Detroit by several Canadian brokerage houses being conducted by the Detroit branch of the Federal Securities Exchange Commission.

"One of the difficulties standing in the way of cleaning up unethical practices in stock selling, as far as the United States is concerned, is the fact that there is no law on the other side which prohibits a brokerage house from using a telephone to sell stock," said Mr. Godfrey.

"In Ontario we have a law forbidding this practice although I have no jurisdiction over a local brokerage house telephoning Detroit. If it is registered with us, then I can threaten to cancel its registration but otherwise I have no control. Our [illegible] deals only with telephoning in Ontario."

COOLER WEATHER AIDS MOVEMENTS IN STOCK MARKET

Prices Show General 50 Cents Cwt. Gain For Cattle, Calves And Lambs

HOGS HIGHER

TORONTO, July 23 (CP)—While receipts were lighter on all divisions except hogs on the Toronto livestock market this week, a review by the Dominion Livestock branch shows that cooler weather accelerated the movements of all meats. Prices showed a general gain of about 50 cents a cwt. on cattle, calves and lambs with hogs closing 15 to 25 cents higher for the week.

Cattle receipts for the week totalled around 4,400 head, including 1,000 westerners. The cattle holdover from last week was 1,300 head. Trade was active and strong on killer grades while stockers moved slowly at easier prices. Due to continued drought stocker buying was held up, in spite of promised relief to pastures and water supplies by week-end rainfall.

Overseas Export

Overseas exporters took about 550 medium to choice grade weighty steers at prices ranging from $5 to $6.85 a cwt., with packers paying similar prices for steers. Good butcher cattle sold at $4.75 to $5, with top grade butcher steers up to $5.45 and common butcher ranging downwards to $3.50.

A large number of thin western cattle sold as boners from $2.25 to $3.25. Good quality butcher closed at $3 to $3.25, while top grades brought $3.50. Plain cows sold downwards to $2.50.

Canners brought $1.50 to $1.75. Butcher bulls closed at $3 to $3.50 with bolognas selling from $2.75 to $2.85. Fed calves ranged from $5 to $7, according to quality.

Picked stockers sold at prices ranging from $3 to $3.50, while the general run sold from $2.50 to $2.85. Untested milkers and springers brought from $35 to $60, according to quality.

With calf receipts light at 2,500 head, exporters again took about half the supply for the states. Choice vealer prices were higher at $6.50 to $7, occasional tops going at $7.50. Common light grades sold downwards to $4.50, with grass calves ranging from $3 to $3.75, and a few drinkers bringing $4.

Hog receipts for the week were 4,300 head. The market opened slightly higher at $9 for off truck bacon grades and closed with the majority of sales ranging from $9.10 to $9.25. Car hog grades were quoted 25 cents higher at $8.75 f.o.b. for bacons and at $9.50 weighed off cars.

Sheep and lamb receipts were light at 2,900 head. Good ewes and wethers brought $8.50 at the opening of a steady market and had reached $9 by the close. With a $1 discount on the general run of bucks, culls sold mostly at $7. Sheep were unchanged for the week. sell-

HASTINGS BUILDER REAL STEEPLEJACK

Paints 80-Foot Tower Of Brighton Town Hall While Crowds Stare

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BRIGHTON, July 24. — Crowds stared up at the steeple of the Brighton Town Hall while a slender young man who looked like a dwarf from eighty feet below calmly and coolly "walked" around as though he were on the level. With no guide rope and no safety belt attached to him, he simply sat on the narrow board strung between two ropes, and painted. When he wanted to move, he placed his feet against the steeple, forced the seat out from the wall, and walked.

At noon James D. Emmons, who came to Brighton recently from Hastings, came down off his perch for lunch and said: "I'm not really a steeplejack. I'm a builder by rights, but I just happen to be able to take it and so I paint steeples."

Emmons says that before he was married and had a family he used to take real chances, but his wife don't like it and so he's more careful. He hangs onto the rope now.

tions plants to make supplies available for the Spanish government.

Provisional Government.

LISBON, Portugal, July 24.—(AP) —A Provisional Government for Spain is being organized at the Rebel stronghold of Burgos, said reports arriving here today.

A number of rebel leaders arrived here to confer with Spanish grandees living here in exile concerning the formation of the new ministry.

GENERAL 47 OFFICERS SLAIN.

MARSEILLE, July 24 (A.P.). — American and English refugees arriving to-day from Barcelona, said it was reported General Manuel Goded and 47 other rebel officers had been slain in prison by their Loyalist captors.

The refugees, who reached Marseille aboard the French steamer Djenne with 100 French athletes and members of the Barcelona French colony, also said 15 rebel officers committed suicide in a church when surrounded by Leftists.

SEVILLE SILENT.

GIBRALTAR, July 24 (A.P.). — Absence of the customary rebel radio broadcast from Seville aroused fears to-day of grave developments in that city.

Rebel supporters anxiously were awaiting news.

RELIEF FOR MALAGA.

GIBRALTAR, July 24 (A.P.). — Rebel leader General Francisco Franco, poured troops into Algeciras from Morocco to-day to repel Communists at Malaga.

It was reported more than 15,000 Malaga residents, mainly women and children, have fled to the mountains.

British authorities banned further entrance by Spanish refugees into Gibraltar, already congested and lacking sufficient food.

The scarcity of eggs, fruit, vegetables and fowl was particularly felt.

Destroyers On Way

LONDON, July 24 (AP).—The British destroyers Verity and Veteran arrived at San Sebastian, Spain, to-day as an appeal was received from the British Ambassador, Sir Henry Chilton, for a ship to evacuate his resident nationals and visitors "if necessary." Sir Henry is at San Sebastian.

France Sends Aid

PARIS, July 24 (CP-Havas). — Numerous French warships to-day were ordered to stand by off Spain and the Moroccan coast to rescue nationals threatened by the civil war.

U. S. Watches Closely

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP). — The United States navy made ready to speed more warships to Spain if necessary, while concern over the safety of Ambassador Claude G. Bowers and 1,582 other United States citizens on the peninsula increased in official circles here.

Germany Sends Cruisers

BERLIN, July 24 (AP)—Two German battle cruisers, the Admiral Scheer and the Deutschland, steamed out of Kiel to-day en route to Spain.

There are 15,000 German subjects in the revolt-torn republic, most of whom have been clamoring for protection. The cruisers were expected to touch first at Barecolna, where 6,000 Germans live.

Banker Aids Cause.

LISBON, Portugal, July 24.—(Delayed by censor).—(AP).— The Sevillian banker Mariano Bonero, in refuge in Portugal, today sent 1,000,000 pesetas (about $136,000) to Seville for the rebel cause.

A broadcast picked up from Spain said the notorious woman in red, La Passionaria, had been arrested in Salamanca as she harrangued a mob from a wine cask.

Other reports said several officers and a workman found guilty of disturbing order were executed in Seville.

More Rebels Move Up.

SAN SEBASTIAN, July 24.—The rebels were rushing reinforcements up to San Sebastian, and at noon an advance guard from Pamplona was 15 kilometers (about 10 miles) east of the city.

Liberalist militiamen were thrown out of a line facing the rebels in defence of the roads to San Sebastian.

Artillery fire had sounded throughout the region since yesterday evening.

Between Oyarsun and Irun, the second line of popular front militiamen stood ready to rush to the aid of the first line shock troops.

A big engagement was expected by nightfall.

Basque Natinolists and Young Socialists members of the left republican party were leading the fight against the rebels.

Carabineros and troops from San Marco were picked for the heaviest fighting, with civilian reserve forces.

The danger of shelling from Fort Guadelupe, near Pontarabie, ended with the surrender and arrest of the rebel commander. He had planned to fire on San Sebastian, Irun, Renteria and Pasajes and then blow up Fort Para.

Rebels "On Top."

PARIS, July 24 (AP).—Diplomatic dispatches from Madrid reported today the Fascist army rebels apparently were "on top" in Spain.

Diplomats declined to predict the outcome of the civil war, but they said the insurgents seemed stronger than the government just now.

The reports also indicated the revolutionary movement was strongly entrenched in Spanish Morocco. In addition, it apparently was holding its own in several parts of the peninsula.

Advices reaching Paris, over poor communication facilities, were limited. They gave no indication of the exact position of the rebel armies marching on Madrid.

Direct communications from San Sebastian still were cut, but advices through Madrid said the town had been subjected to heavy shell fire and the French summer embassy was damaged.

The Spanish rebels will remain in their present positions until their troops "assemble the necessary material," Gen. Emileo Mola, inaugrant leader, said in an interview published in the newspaper Le Matin.

The newspaper's correspondent said he talked with General Mola in the rebel headquarters at Burgos.

"Time works for the rebellion," the General stated. "After all, it is better to bring Madrid to surrender by hunger than by cannon.

"Nothing more passes through the net we have strung. Even Vaencia is definitely cut off from the capital. The city will soon have no meat, vegetables, coal and gasoline.

"Water has been cut off since yesterday (Wednesday), for we hold two conduits fed from the Guadarrama Mountains.

"You imagine what Madrid is without water."

BARRYMORE JARS PROTEGE'S DREAM

"Can't Get Along With Dame Like That"—Will Block Ring Delivery

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 24—(AP).—Elaine Barrie's dream of an 8½ carat diamond ring on her engagement finger was jarred yesterday by a gruff blast from John Barrymore, 55, and frank.

"I never was engaged to her," quoth the gray-haired Thespian of his 21-year-old protege.

"A man can't get along with a dame like that. We're not going to be married."

Perhaps he was thinking of the day, many months ago, when dark-haired Elaine angrily threw the huge diamond at him in her New York apartment.

But in the Barrie home in Hollywood, a few miles from Barrymore's estate, Elaine had ideas of her own to-day and her brown eyes were alight.

"I'm just about the happiest person," she said in dulcet tones. "The diamond ring and a golden brocade Mandarin coat are to be my very own.

"I became 21 last week, and, according to an agreement, they are being sent by a New York bank to a bank at Beverly Hills, and then they'll be given to me."

Said Barrymore: "If any bank messenger tries to deliver that ring to her, I'll put a stop to it."

Moroccan Troops Reported Marching On Madrid

Said to have started in Spanish Morocco and spread rapidly to southern cities in Spain, a Fascist insurrection seeks to overthrow the leftist "united front" government. Moroccan cavalry, shown above in a recent review, are said to be marching into Spain in an attempt to seize Madrid. Meanwhile the government has mobilized loyal troops and state officially that the rebels have been defeated on practically all fronts. —Central Press Canadian Photo.

OLD FOLK LORE BEING REVIVED

Pioneer Glories Of Pennsylvania To Be Celebrated At Festival

LEWISBURG, Pa., July 24 (AP)—The pioneer glories of the Keystone state, first western frontier of the United States, will be celebrated at the Pennsylvania Folk Festival here July 30 to Aug. 2.

Hailed as part of the national movement to preserve the country's native lore, the festival will open with an evening devoted to racial folk lore featuring Cornplanter Indians, from the state's only reservation; Pennsylvania Germans, Scotch-Irish bagpipers, negro spiritual singers from Philadelphia, Ukrainian dancers from Wilkes-Barre and Welshmen from the anthracite coal fields.

Coal miners, river raftmen, lumberjacks, oil well drillers and stage coach drivers will sing the songs and ballads of their crafts. The ceremonies will mark the return to the road of the famed Conestoga wagons, forerunner of the "prairie schooner" that bore the forward-pushing pioneers westward and into the southwest.

"Tall story" tellers, jig dancers, street criers, ballad singers and yarn-weavers will compete, a highlight being the scheduled square dancing championship of Pennsylvania.

A lost art of the coal miners sculpture carved from anthracite, will reappear at the festival. An example is a finely-carved statuette of a negro woman's head mounted on a vase. It was made by S. A. Weiser, cutter of Minersville, in 1856.

"This festival," says Director Dr. George Korson, "which is to be held in the Memorial Stadium of Bucknell University, has more than a Pennsylvania interest. The first western frontier in this country was in Pennsylvania. First it was the Susquehanna river; then it was pushed to the Alleghenies and finally after the French and Indian war, it reached Pittsburgh.

"From that point the vast majority of pioneers who settled the middle west, the southwest and the far west set forth on their long, perilous journeys and the original adventurers travelled in the Conestoga wagon, a distinctively Pennsylvania product that was the parent of the later 'covered wagon' or prairie schooner."

The wagon derives its name from Conestoga valley near Lancaster Pa. It had a sloping back, front and sides to counteract the effect of shifting loads as the wagon went up and down hill over rough mountain roads. Drawn by six horses, the driver rode on a saddle horse placed hindermost on the left side. On the drive he rolled whole-leaf cigars which later came to be manufactured and were called "stogies", a corruption of Conestogies, applied to the wagons.

Leads Revolt

General Francisco Franco, former chief of staff of the Spanish army, who was removed from his post after the general elections last February, is reported as one of the leaders of the rightist revolt in Spain. Reports in the Spanish capital aver that the start of the military revolt in Spanish Morocco coincided with the arrival of General Franco in Melilla from the Canary Islands.

HOW TO MAKE ICED TEA

Infuse six heaping teaspoons of Salada Black Tea in a pint of fresh boiling water. After six minutes strain liquid into two-quart container. While hot, add 1½ cups of granulated sugar and the juice of 2 lemons. Stir well until sugar is dissolved; fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water; otherwise liquid will become cloudy. Serve with chipped ice.

THINK CLUE FOUND TO ROT IN TURNIPS

Spectroscope Reveals Quantity Of Boron Through Use Of Gold

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 24 —(AP).—A gold-filled turnip—Canadian scientist's creation—is a new step forward in the science of agriculture.

The gold, just a bare pinch of aureate powder, was placed in turnips to facilitate spectroscopic analysis of plant diseases by J. S. Foster of McGill University, who described the results to the conference on spectroscopy at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Foster, at the request of Canadian agricultural authorities, was looking for the cause of dry rot which appears in the hearts of turnips. The chemical element, boron, out of which boric acid is made, was suspected.

The spectroscopist ground his turnips to a fine pulp. This pulp he dried and then turned in an electric arc. The flames of burning turnip, read through the spectroscope, revealed everything the turnip contained.

Included in the contents were some boron. In order to make sure how much boron there was, Foster mixed into the ground turnip a tiny bit of gold. The gold, burning in the flaming arc along with the turnip, furnished the "yard stick" in the spectrum by which the boron could be measured.

The experiment was literally worth its weight in gold, for Foster said it proved for the first time that boron is the probable cause of this turnip rot.

CALL VOLUNTEERS FOR DEFENCE CORPS

Open To Men 45 To 60—Duty Be To Protect Important Points In Britain

LONDON, July 24 (CP Cable)—Alfred Duff Cooper, Secretary for War, told the House of Commons yesterday the Royal Defence Corps, whose formation was arranged in 1934, will be replaced by national defence companies to the territorial infantry regiments.

He said enrolment would start September 1, and that the companies would be open to ex-service men between the ages of 45 and 60. Their duties will be to protect important points in Great Britain if and when war threatens or is declared.

The members will not be called up until such a time, nor will they be called out on account of civil disturbances, Duff Cooper said. A total of approximately 8,450 officers and men is required, distributed among various countries.

The supplementary defence service estimates passed last night by the House of Commons were apportioned as follows: Royal Air Force, £11,700,000 ($58,500,000); Army, £6,600,000 ($33,000,000); Royal Navy, £1,059,000 ($5,295,000); Royal Ordinance Factories, £293,700 ($1,469,500). The total supplementary estimates thus amounted to £19,652,700 ($94,263,600).

KING OF RECEIVERS DEAD OUTWARDLY RESPECTABLE

"Ordinary Workman" Had Houseful of Criminal Minions, Stolen Goods

JAILED SEVEN YEARS

London.—A man who outwardly lived a respectable life and yet had one of the most amazing criminal records of recent years, Edward G. Tucker, has just died in Maidstone prison of heart failure.

Prosecuting counsel at his 1933 trial for receiving and felony described him as the "king of receivers." He was sentenced to seven years penal servitude.

This Jekyll and Hyde character was in his public life a compositor working regularly and never earning less than $42.50 a week over a period of 13 years.

His less public activities as revealed to an astonished court by a detective inspector included the following:

He had 14 criminals living as lodgers in his house at Waterloo Rd., London, which was a dairy, a cafe and a lodging house combined.

He let out two private motor cars to housebreakers so that they could operate in better-class localities.

Criminals boasted they could always buy a revolver from him for $2.50. Three coiners had been living with him, and when silver was of little value it was handed to them. He was in the habit of sending consignments of stolen property to Ireland.

A remarkable variety of goods was found when the police raided his house. Four van-loads were still unidentified when he was sent to prison. Some had been found in a dummy ceiling and some in a false bottom of a kitchen table.

As a side-line he organized raids on Kent orchards in the fruit season. "Nothing too large, nothing too small" was his "business" maxim.

For long before the police pounced on him they had suspected him. In the end it was a fellow-rogue, angry because Tucker refused to bail him out, who gave information on which they could act.

FINDS SALARIES UP BY $10,000,000

Postmaster-general Says Post-office Income Increased By $20,000,000

London.—Major G. C. Tryon, postmaster-general, has just revealed:—

The income has increased by $20,000,000, to the record figure of $400,000,000;

Wages have been increased by more than $10,000,000;

Additional employment has been provided for more than 11,000; and Profits have risen from $59,725,000 to $62,250,000.

Although telephone charges had been continuously reduced, he said, telephone profits, at $9,500,000, had achieved a record.

"The only deficit is on the telegraphs, which has increased to $4,500,000, against $3,250,000 last year," said Major Tryon. "The loss is much less than was expected when it was decided to reintroduce the sixpenny telegram.

"One might say that for every $500 the post office has returned to the public in the form of reduced charges, it has received more than $400 back by way of increased business.

"Important developments are taking place in the use of ultra-short wave radio telephone links as an alternative to submarine cables, and shortly eight such circuits will be installed between Ardrossan and the Isle of Arran.

"The service has proved so satisfactory on the Belfast-Port Patrick link that another nine circuits will be installed at those places."

'SPOT MAN' ESCAPES WANDSWORTH JAIL

Rides Away in Truck, Hidden Under Mail-Bags

London. — By concealing himself under a lorry load of mail bags, Ernest Morris, Balham barman, achieved the almost unprecedented feat of escaping from Wandsworth prison the other day.

Serving a 13-month sentence for larceny, he was what is known in the jail as a "spot man," being subject to extra strict supervision and wearing on the shoulder of his prison garb black spots to denote his category.

Employed in making wallets for the post office, Morris effected his getaway while one of a party of seven loading the bags on lorries. He escaped about the time Frederick Field was being executed, Morris' cell being opposite that of the condemned man.

MILK THIEF FREED

London.—Britain's home secretary, Sir John Simon, has ordered the release of Joseph Hill, aged 20, of Milston (Staffordshire), who was sentenced to 14 days' hard labor for stealing a 6-cent bottle of milk to give to his wife, who is expecting a baby.

WIFE USES DOG LEAD IN WHIPPING RIVAL

London.—A wife who used a dog-lead to chastise a girl whom her husband took to dances, and then went to the latter's office and poured a pot of paint over him, was granted a decree nisi in the divorce court recently.

Mrs. Elise Ives, 26, of The Mount, Thorpe St. Andrew, near Norwich, petitioned for the dissolution of her marriage with Edward Reginald Ives, 31, a Norwich business man, on the ground of his misconduct.

The husband denied the charge. He admitted, however, giving the girl in question, aged about 20, a pair of gloves which he valued at $12.50, but which his wife said cost much more.

GUNMEN USE RAZOR GET GUARD'S $10,000

Slash Away Money Pouch on Busy Street, Cut His Wrist

Dublin.—A Dublin bank messenger, held up by gunmen and slashed with a razor, was robbed of $10,000 the other day.

Shots were fired as the raiders drove away.

The messenger, John Madden, had just stepped out of the office of the Provincial Bank of Ireland, in O'Connell St., one of the city's busiest thoroughfares, when a car dashed up.

Two men leaped out, while another stayed at the wheel keeping the engine running.

Whipping out revolvers, the men covered Madden and demanded the bag strapped round his wrist.

Madden refused. One of the raiders produced a razor and cut the strap, inflicting a deep gash on Madden's wrist. He also struck him on the head with the butt of his revolver.

The men then grabbed the bag, jumped in the car, and drove off.

Officials rushed out of the bank just in time to hear shots, and see the raiders disappearing.

The car was later found abandoned.

Madden is in hospital suffering from shock and loss of blood.

COLLECTED $25,000 FOR ARTIFICIAL LEG

London. — When Edward Lawrence, 25, was sentenced to 21 months' imprisonment for housebreaking, a detective said accused had collected $25,000 in five years by telling people he wanted money to buy an artificial leg.

London cab drivers held their annual reunion recently at Burnham Beeches, England, which was attended by many of the picturesque old cabbies of the city. This picture shows two old timers, Charlie Woods, 89, and Bill Clegg, 81, trying out a motorcycle much to the amusement of their friends.

WIFE SIGNED PAPER SHE WOULDN'T NAG

Obtains Separation on Grounds of Persistent Cruelty—Former Manicurist

London.—"I was very much in love—and it was only four days before my wedding. My finance told me he would not marry me unless I signed this document."

A slim, fair-haired wife of 23, who had just obtained a separation order at Kingston police court, so explained why she had signed a document four days before marriage, promising never to nag or annoy or be suspicious of her husband.

A former manicurist, of Marlborough Rd., Richmond, she had summoned her husband, Sydney Edward Cummings, 31, of Kingston, for a separation order on the grounds of persistent cruelty.

The court ordered Mr. Cummings to pay his wife $10 a week and $35 costs. He intends to appeal.

The document, which the wife signed over a six penny stamp, was produced in court and read as follows:

"I, Diane Mary Beard, undertake by marrying S. E. Cummings never to nag or annoy or be suspicious of the said S. E. Cummings, and always to obey him. I also agree not to accept alimony or monetary considerations or property in the event of separation or divorce."

It was stated that after marriage Mr. Cummings drew up a code of conduct for his wife which forbade her to use lipstick or mascara and limited her to four cigarettes a week.

SUMMER SKIES PRODUCED BY JUST PRESSING BUTTON

Swimming Pool Raised, Lowered or Emptied By Finger's Touch

"HOUSE OF MAGIC"

London.—The British Industries Fair, opening early in 1937, will be housed in an ultra-modern $6,250,000 building, embracing all the feats of advanced engineering.

Summer skies are made to order by moving a switch in the new Earl's Court; a swimming pool, 200 feet by 160 feet, can be raised and lowered in a few seconds or emptied completely by touching a button. Other features of this "press-button" structure include internal lighting and scenic projection machines which will provide the illusion of summer skies with moving clouds by the mere turn of a switch. Numerous restaurants will be spaced between the floor levels.

Sixty giant girders have been built over the four lines of the underground at Earl's Court station. Around the building will run a private road 50 feet wide to accommodate taxis and incoming or outgoing traffic.

Fifteen thousand people can be seated around the pool if the sunken floors should be used for theatrical display. The swimming pool can be covered either entirely or in any of three equal sections by movable floors which are actually gigantic lifts like the decks of an aircraft carrier.

Present plans call for completion of the building by Christmas.

London—Miss Ellen Dear, as deputy registrar of marriages at the city of Westminster register fofice, has married about 400 couples. Now she herself has been married to Walter Edwin Arnold of West Ham. But the ceremony took place not at Caxton Hall but in Westminster cathedral.

Her position has brought her into contact at register offices with many notable people, including the Duke of Westminster, the late Lord Reading, Prince Lennart of Sweden, the Sultan of Johore, and Elizabeth Bergner, the actress.

BLAMES RAVEN FOR ERRATIC MOTORING

Swansea—After offering as his defence the excuse that a raven he was conveying in his car flew at the windshield and obscured his vision, Frederick Thomas Millward, a commercial traveller, of Kittle, Bishopston, was, at Penmaen Gower, fined $50 for driving a car while under the influence of drink.

Frank Davies, an omnibus driver, of Pennard, said Millward's car zigzagged all over the road and crashed into the side of his omnibus.

CHEF PUTS POISON IN PIES, HE ADMITS

A Spoonful of Weedkiller Makes Hotel Guests Ill

Leicester.—A statement in which a chef, who had been given a week's notice of discharge, was said to have admitted putting a teaspoonful of weedkiller into a blackberry and apple pie was read in court here recently.

Accused, a married man of 23, was committed for trial charged with causing poison to be administered to his employer.

A number of hotel guests testified they had been taken ill after eating the pie. Analysis showed the blackberries contained 9¼ grains of arsenic per pound.

Both blackberries and weedkiller were stored in tins in the hotel loft, it was noted.

In his alleged statement to police, accused is quoted as saying:

"I was fed up with myself and everything else. My wife is expecting a baby and I was wondering where the money was to come from.

"It was not done with intent. I have no grievance against my employer or anyone else. It was just a foolish escapade."

CRIPPLE IMPROVES KING'S AERODROME

Leicester Contractor Who Improves Field Wounded Four Times

Windsor.—Work has begun on improving and extending the King's private aerodrome at Smith's Lawn, Windsor Great Park.

The King wishes to have a landing ground suitable for the accommodation of all kinds of aircraft, it is revealed.

No hangars or buildings are to be erected on the ground. The work will be confined to extending and levelling the present landing ground, which will become one of the finest in the country.

About a quarter of a mile will be added to the aerodrome, which will be taken as far as the cricket ground used by the Windsor Park Club."

The contract is being carried out by a Leicester firm whose head, Ernest Bradshaw, was wounded four times in the war, and as a result is so crippled he is unable to walk.

In spite of this handicap he has supervised during the last 12 months the laying out of 10 air ports, including the Coventry municipal aerodrome.

SHIP LOWERS LINE FOR OFFICER'S PIPE

Then his wife found that he had left his favorite pipe behind—and the voyage was a 9,000-mile trip to South America.

Mrs. Hearle hurried to the riverside, but the liner was moving away.

"Fetch my husband," she shouted. They fetched him.

"You left your pipe behind," she said. A hurried consultation followed. A heaving line came down and the briar was hauled aboard.

CATCHES RUNAWAY BARGE HAD TO FIGHT TO KEEP IT

Artist Fights "Invaders" to Retain Legal Claim to Salvage Money

NOW WITH LAW

London.—A "runaway" Thames barge was captured the other day by Mr. and Mrs. Ian Hassall, son and daughter-in-law of John Hassall, the artist, and a fight developed with men who tried to board the vessel after the Hassalls had decided to claim salvage money.

Ian Hassall, also an artist, lives aboard his studio ship Silver Wedding II., moored near Vauxhall Bridge, Westminster, said: "We were out sailing a dinghy when, near Battersea bridge, we saw a large iron lighter adrift and bearing down on some motorboats.

"To save the boats we scrambled aboard the runaway and, after a tussle with a fast-running tide, made her fast to one of the iron girders of Battersea bridge.

"A waterman shouted to us to stay aboard and claim salvage money, and this we decided to do. Then men came alongside in two launches and tried to come aboard, although I warned them not to do so till the arrival of the police.

"One man climbed up, however, and I knocked him down. Another appeared to swing a boathook at me. I was just able to grab it and then I was knocked down into the hold.

"My wife, who was screaming by this time, tried to catch me, but my shirt came away in her hands.

"Then the police arrived and the lighter was returned to the owners.

"I have put the matter in the hands of solicitors."

HISTORIC INN CLOSES WAS 400 YEARS OLD

All Drinks "On House" on Turk's Head's Last Night

London.—For 400 years the Turk's Head inn has stood in Wapping High St. overlooking the river, but never during its whole history can it have seen the crowd which crammed its bars and stormed its doors the other night.

For at 10.30 this famous old waterside inn closed its doors for the last time. Local licensing authorities had considered it redundant.

And what with the B.B.C. broadcasting "Time, gentlemen, please," and the general excitement of the neighborhood residents who crowded in for the death, the old hostelry had a fine send-off to the housebreakers. All drinks were on the house.

A good deal of its 400 years of history echoed through the old walls during last night—how, for instance, condemned pirates on their way from old Newgate to Execution Dock paused for a last drink at the Turk's Head at the hangman's expense.

It was a sad night for Captain James Love, the owner, ex-mariner and seven times shipwrecked.

SEES ROOM IN PORT FOR 15 QUEEN MARYS

Southampton Harbor Due to Grow, Professor Thinks

Southampton. — Accommodation here for 15 ships the size of the Queen Mary was hinted at by W. G. Holford, professor of architecture at Liverpool University, in a paper read before the Royal Institute of British Architects.

In the last few years, he said, the port had flung out an arm to the west in a straight line of quay 7,000 feet long, cutting off 400 acres from the sea and adding it to the land as a site for industries.

"When this arm stretches out a finger in the form of a parallel jetty this extension alone will hold 15 ships of the size of the Queen Mary," he continued. "This is not an idle prophecy. No limit can yet be fixed for size of the passenger liners."

Hundreds Cheer Seven-month-old Infants and Their Parents

St. Neots, Huntingdonshire.—Exactly seven months after their birth, the St. Neots quadruplets—Ann, Ernest, Paul and Michael Miles—were publicly received into the Church of England.

This ceremony took place on a recent Sunday at Eynesbury Parish church here, whose interior was aglare with cinema arc lights. Hundreds who could not gain places in the church crowded outside and cheered the infants and their proud parents.

As the babies were baptized last autumn, they could not be christened again, but the rector, Canon R. A. South Phillips, took them one by one in his arms and made the sign of the cross on their brows, without using water.

At his side stood the young mother and father, not at all flustered in the glare of the arc lamps hung on the font and on the near walls and pillars. Within the font itself was a microphone.

Later, at the parents' new home—to which a specially constructed nursery is being added—a christening cake was cut.

Visitors will be permitted, when the nursery is ready, to view the babies through a glass partition, probably paying a shilling (25 cents) admission. The cost of the nursery will be $2,250, and only $290 has so far been contributed.

DUKE SPENT $110,000 ON WEALTHY WIDOW

Leinster's Fifth Failure Blamed on Ambition to Wed Riches

London.—Practically $110,000 of the Duke of Leinster's debts were incurred when he was contemplating marrying a wealthy widow.

This was stated by the senior official receiver when the duke's creditors met at bankruptcy buildings.

The duke, he added, entered into these heavy commitments on the strength of possible funds becoming available for him from the widow.

This was the duke's fifth failure. His liabilities including the unsatisfied balance from the other failures, were put at $545,000.

In two cases the debts were paid in full, but in the third, when the liabilities amounted to $156,000, no application had been made for a discharge. That was the position also with the fourth failure when the liabilities amounted to more than $280,000.

W. G. Curtis, on behalf of the duke, applied for an adjournment of the meeting for one month to enable a scheme to be lodged. There was every reason to believe that either, from the family or another source, a scheme would be arranged which at any rate would pay a dividend to the creditors.

EX-MILLINER GIRL AVIATOR CLIPS FRENCH ACE'S WINGS

After Reaching 45,900-foot Height, Comes Down, Knits Jumper

IS PARACHUTIST TOO

Paris. — Maryse Hilsz, France's milliner-air girl, took off from Villacoublay airport, near Paris, the other day, at the controls of a Pottez aeroplane. When she landed half an hour later she had broken her own world's height record for women (24,000 feet), set up in September last year.

Mlle. Hilsey had reached a height of 45,900 feet—only 1,500 feet less than the highest aeroplane flight ever made by man or woman.

At the same time, she smashed the French height record held by a man, Gustav Lemoire. He reached 43,800 feet in the same aeroplane in 1933.

In 1929, when Amy Mollison was a secretary, elegant, brunette Maryse Hilsz was an assistant in a milliner's shop.

Maryse wanted to fly. Without money or influence, she went to Maurice Finat, French air-circus ace, and asked him to help her. He did.

Together they toured French air festivals, he piloting, she making parachute jumps. When a machine was available she learned to pilot herself.

For the first time in French aviation history a woman has beaten a man-made air record. But Maryse promptly demonstrated that there is nothing masculine about her.

After sleeping off the fatigue of her flight, she sat down and knitted a jumper.

SOMETHING NEW

Margate.—Libraries are developing into general inquiry offices, the libraries conference here was told. A Croydon library was asked about the first swimming bath with artificial waves.

TOKIO THROWS OUT ADAM, EVE EXHIBIT

Tokio. — The removal of nine drawings and five pieces of sculpture was ordered by police who decided that the art exhibit of Mrs. Gertrude Boyle Kanno, an American, should be stripped of what they considered immoral displays.

The banned art works include three bronze statuettes and crayon drawings depicting Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden and following their expulsion.

SPEAK, WRITE LATIN ITALIAN PUPILS' TASK

Make Latin "Living, Vital Language," Il Duce Orders

Rome. — When school opens this fall Italian pupils will be faced with the unpleasant task of really learning to speak, read and write Latin, mother language of Italians.

That they will do it, there is no doubt—because Premier Mussolini has issued orders to make Latin "a living and vital language" in Italian schools.

Instructions recently distributed to teachers by Count de Vecchi di Val Cismon, minister of education, said the system of Latin instruction must be changed and students made to learn to handle Latin like any modern language.

Starting this fall, therefore, Italian school children will not only be taught to read Latin, but also to speak and write it. They will be told to consider Latin as a "living" rather than a "dead" language.

Italians nurse the hope Latin may be revived as an international language. Already it is noted many foreign students of church schools in Rome converse in Latin.

JAP CLINIC IS OPENED AS CURB ON SUICIDES

Guards, Rails Placed on High Buildings to Prevent Plunges

Tokio.—The suicide problem has become so important in Japan, where love entanglements and the desire to join loved ones in death cause the self-destruction of some 20,000 persons annually, that a special clinic to curb the practice has been established.

Tokio police also are combatting a revival of the practice of committing suicide by leaping from the city's taller buildings. There were three such cases within a recent week.

Ryunosuke Kobayashi, known as a "suicide specialist," has been placed in charge of an office opened by the Japan Suicide Prevention society. He will seek to dissuade those bent on suicide from carrying out their plans.

Kobayashi, in his early 40's and with long experience in dealing in such problems will interview persons who have come to believe that death is the only answer to their troubles.

He will specialize in warding off shinju, or "love suicide," which has claimed many hundreds at Mihara-Yama on the island of Oshima, as well as in less spectacular fashion.

Police are considering a system of net construction around some of the larger buildings. Special guards are being posted. The Matsuya department store has guards of its own and a rail around the roof has been designed to prevent any climbing to the ramparts.

BUILD BORNEO BASES

Singapore.—A chain of aerodromes is being built by the Royal Air Force in Sarawak and British North Borneo to reinforce the defences of British interests in the Pacific. It is understood the object of extending the R.A.F. in this area is to protect the oil islands of the East Indies.

ANTI-HAIL BOMBING STARTS WAR SCARE

Tourists in Alsace Think Germans Coming—Wine Crop Menaced

Paris.—The dreaded mildew menace again threatens French vineyards this year.

It is expected wine production for 1936 will be from 1,000,000,000 to 3,000,000,000 litres less than the average year.

The late cold wave caused complete losses in some restricted localities, but the Medoc wines were saved, due to the care of the vineyard workers, who frequently stayed up nights to guard the delicate vines from frost.

In Alsace, frost and hail blackened some of the leaves and stripped others in spite of the use of anti-hail shells, which were mistaken by tourists as the reopening of hostilities with the Germans a few miles away on the other side of the Rhine river. It is estimated that only 10 per cent. of the Alsatian vines will not produce this year.

DISCOVER "RED" RADIO

Warsaw Group Thus Got Instructions From Moscow

Warsaw.—Warsaw secret police discovered a Communist radio station owned by a Schmul Ekstterman through which Polish Communists received their instructions direct from Moscow. Six men were arrested. Altogether some 250 persons suspected of Communist activities were jailed within the last few years. Authorities claim to have broken up the whole Communist organization in Poland.

A KNOWING BIRD

Liverpool.—A pigeon was found on a window-ledge here with the upper half of its beak piercing the lower. It was taken inside and repaired. It alighted on the window-sill of the people's dispensary for sick animals of the poor.

HYPNOTIST HEALER IS HELD AS MURDER GANG LEADER

Gassed Wealthy Woman Patient With Auto Exhaust, Is Charge

SIFT MANY DEATHS

Stockholm. — Captured for the killing of a bank porter who had been robbed of $5,000, a gang of five men—led by a homeopathist, aged 28, who hypnotized his patients—has confessed to a series of hitherto unsolved murders here.

The men are aged between 19 and 29, and so sinister have their exploits been that Swedish newspapers are discussing the necessity of reintroducing capital punishment, abolished more than 30 years ago.

Huge crowds, angered by the terror reign the gang had upheld for six years, cried: "Kill them . . . kill them . . ." when the murderers were taken to prison in police motor-cars.

The gang's confessions include:

In 1930 they shot the chauffeur of a hired motor-car because he heard their plans for robbing a big dairy. As he did not die from his wounds they drowned him in a river.

Dressed as policemen they induced the man in charge of a mine to let them into his house, where they shot him and his house-keeper, and stole roughly $2800 in miners' wages before setting the house on fire.

They killed a rich and aged peasant woman—a patient of their leader—in her lonely cottage by leading a tube from their motor-car exhaust to the woman's bedroom. Here again they set the house on fire.

URGE JUNGLE AIR PATROL

Singapore.—"Flying squads" for the jungle to control the activities of elephants, tigers and other big game in British Malaya, are among the suggestions being considered by Sir Thomas Comyn-Platt, after a tour of Ceylon and Malaya on behalf of the Society for the Preservation of Empire Fauna.

MUST DIG 130 HOURS OR LOSE HIS HOME

Manchester.—James Higgins, who lives in a corporation house in Blackley, left county court faced with the alternative of digging in his garden for 130 hours or losing his home.

His garden measures 260 square yards, and it is full of dock weeds and buttercups. The docks, scheduled as injurious weeds, are three feet high.

The Manchester Corporation applied to Judge Leigh for possession of the house on the ground Mr. Higgins had not kept his garden in order.

GOOD 'FLYING INSECTS' IS FRENCH OBJECTIVE

Paris.—French aeroplane builders are vying with each other in bringing out smaller and better "flying insects".

First there was the "Flying Flea," which is about the size of a two-seater gondola on a merry-go-round and whose gasoline consumption can be calculated in pints. Then there was the Grasshopper, built by Henry Potez to specifications little bigger than those for a small boy's rubber-band aeroplane competition.

Now appears the Mosquito, new Farman claimant to first honors in the tiny aeroplane class, which has undergone highly successful tests. Its price is $1,300. It is run by a 30-horsepower engine.

HUMAN BEINGS BITE

Paris.—Man must be a carnivorous animal with a cannibal instinct, according to League of Nations health statistics just published here. It is calculated that 1,334 people were bitten by human beings during the year 1932. These cases were discovered in a total of 119,062 instances of rabies treated at Pasteur Institutes throughout the world.

CATHEDRAL HONORS TUGS, AEROPLANES

Women's Needlework Should Last 300 Years

London. — Two hundred women have completed a five-year task at Winchester cathedral by refurnishing the choir with cushions and kneelers.

They have produced embroidery which is expected to last at least 300 years.

The history of the cathedral has been recorded in woollen thread. Medallions worked into the designs record major events. The diocese's connection with shipping is indicated by a cushion design showing a liner leaving Southampton harbor—with tugs and aeroplanes.

LEAVES TOWN $150,000

Banker Would Have Town Buy River Fishing Rights

Edinburgh. — A New Zealand banker has left $150,000 to the provost of Forres, Elginshire, to buy for the town the sole rights of all classes of fishing on a part of the River Findhorn. If the fishing rights are not bought the money is to give Forres a public park.

The donor, Arthur Murdoch, of Rotorua, once worked in a Forres bank.

BETHANY

SUCCESS SCORED BY GARDEN PARTY

St. Mary's, Lifford, Guild Marks Completion Of New Driving Shed

(Examiner Correspondence)

BETHANY, July 24—A very important occasion in the history of the 84 year old church of St. Mary, Lifford, took place on Wednesday last, when the Woman's Guild saw their ambition realized in the erection of a spacious driving shed on the land they purchased 4 years ago, opposite the beautifully kept cemetery and church. Their annual garden party was held and a boys' ball game between Pontypool and Bethany, resulting in favor of Bethany 18 to 11.

After a sumptuous tea, the Rector, Rev. A. R. Holden took the chair for the program, opened with the singing of The Doxology. Speeches were given by Frank Rickard M.P., G. E. Bragg M.P.P. and J. O'Connmiskey, Deputy Reeve, who complimented the church officials and the ladies on the completion of a splendid project.

Play Is Staged

The first act was very well done and thoroughly enjoyed. Between acts Ben Page, trumpet and Robert Simon, piano, also Mr. Keith Turner, duke, gave musical selections. During the second act a thunder storm raged and the welcome rain came down to freshen the dry land. The National Anthem concluded a wonderful evening. It is the intention of the A. Y. P. A. to repeat the play in the near future, by request. The play was under the management of Robert Sisson, president of the A. Y. P. A. It should be stated that the driving shed is 60ft. x 40ft., one of the best in the County of Durham and it was erected in its entirety by Messrs. Fallis Bros., Bethany.

Union party for president. Any such action awaits the arrival at Rome of Bishop Michael Gallagher, Father Coughlin's ecclesiastical superior at Detroit.

Father Coughlin said that "Whatever orders come from Rome curtailing my preaching social justice, I shall be only too happy to accede to the request and obey orders."

The speech in which he referred to the president as a "liar" and as "Franklin double-crossing Roosevelt" was made at the recent National convention of the Townsend organization in Cleveland.

Informed of the apology, Dr. Francis E. Townsend said it "was the gracious thing to do; I think more of him for it."

In the subsequent interview, Father Coughlin said that president who becomes a candidate for re-election "Can claim no special privilege on the grounds that he is president of the United States."

Also in the interview, he said that Roosevelt promised to a meeting in Sioux City, Ia., in the 1932 campaign to support the Frazier-Lemke bill. "Instead," he said, "he put the stiletto in the back of the bill. One word from him would have withdrawn John J. O'Conner's opposition to it. That word was lacking."

As President, he said, Roosevelt "went with a tin cup in his hand and begged for a loan of $35,000,000,000. The bankers issued a credit of this amount and Mr. Roosevelt promised in the name of the taxpayers that he would return that amount in hard-earned cash."

World's Greatest Inflation

That, he said, "was the greatest currency inflation in the history of the world, more serious in its outcome than any other inflation ever will be."

Of the Townsend Plan, Father Coughlin said: "I am in sympathy with Dr. Townsend's plans in this respect, the old people, supposed to 20 or 30 years, should be cared for. But if a just, living, annual wage were inaugurated for labor, there would be no need for the government to plan for ordinary aged pensions."

In his assertion that President Roosevelt has "surrounded himself with crackpots," Father Coughlin mention Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Relief Administrator; Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes; Rexford G. Tugwell, Resettlement Administrator, and Dr. Felix Frankfurter.

BOY AND WOMAN INJURED IN CRASH

Cars Meet Head On At Top Of Boudreau's Hill On Flinton Road

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, July 24.—Ross Spicer, 9, and Mrs. Ed. Varty, of Bancroft, are both in Tweed hospital suffering from injuries received on Thursday morning in an automobile crash on Boudreau's Hill on the Flinton Road one half mile off No. 7 Highway. Young Spicer had a number of teeth dislocated and facial injuries, while Mrs. Varty is suffering from head lacerattions.

The accident occurred when a car driven south by E. Spicer of Oshawa, met another handled by R. C. Valliant, Toronto, almost head-on at the top of the hill. Both of the injured people were immediately rushed to a local physician for first aid treatment and later were admitted to hospital.

Thieves made off with some blankets and cushions left on her verandah by Mrs. M. Drinkwater, who had been camping at Oak Lake with her daughters, Evelyn and Vera. Constable J. C. Hayes was successful in recovering the missing articles at Tweed Memorial Park. Evidently a transient making his rounds of the homes near the park had noted the blankets and cushions and taken them to soften the park benches for the night.

James Grady, of no known address, was taken into custody by Constable Clair Hayes following complaints that the man was forcing an entrance to the home of Jerry Luffman. Grady pleaded guilty when arraigned in Belleville police court on Tuesday. On the advice of Crown Attorney Donnan, he was remanded while his record is looked up.

He stated Dick knocked the prisoner's arm and an object "left his hand and travelled some distance into the middle or near the middle of the road; the object was a revolver."

Reviewing the events of July 16, Sir Donald stated a mounted policeman stopped his horse in front of McMahon as the King approached. He said, McMahon shouted: "Take your damn horse away. I want to see the procession!"

The policeman turned his horse to face the procession as it came through the arch on Constitution Hill.

Afterward, said the Attorney-General, McMahon was seen to write on a newspaper. The paper later was picked up and the message was: "May I love you?" Somervell said it apparently was a message for McMahon's wife.

A Barmaid's Story

The first witness, Marie Blencowe, a barmaid, said McMahon came to the "Two Brewers" pub "as usual" the day before the incident and told her: "I am going away; you'll never see me again."

John William Remes, an eye-witness as Constitution Hill, said he first saw McMahon when the latter asked a constable to move. He did not see the revolver.

"The first thing I heard," said Remes, "was someone—I think it was my wife—saying: 'An insult to the King!' I pushed my way through the crowd and saw the prisoner in the arms of a policeman. As they turned him around I said: 'You swine!' and struck him."

Mrs. Lily Yeoman testified she stood in the front row of spectators, in front of McMahon.

When the King rode by, she told the court, "A man pushed forward, pushing me to one side by spreading his arms, up above his head and I saw something in his right hand. It was bright but I couldn't see what it was."

She looked at the King, then glanced about and saw McMahon in a stooping position.

"I thought it must be a bomb being thrown," she said. "Then someone rushed to the left-hand side of the prisoner and got hold of his left arm. I saw an object leaving his right hand. I followed it with my eyes and saw it touch the horse."

"Whose horse?" asked the prosecutor.

"His Majesty's horse," the witness replied.

The "object," she testified, hit the horse near the left foreleg and fell to the ground.

"I could see then it was a revolver," she added. "I asked a policeman at my side if it was a toy one."

Under cross-examination, the witnesses asserted the revolver seemed thrown out in an "underhand manner."

Two Men Killed: TRENTON, N.J. — Two men were crushed to death today when a heavy windstorm levelled a large tent in which a marathon dance contest was being staged. More than a score of other persons, spectators and contestants, suffered minor injuries. The dead are Joseph Pierce, or Parker, of Jamesburg, N.J., and Biagio Farina, of Trenton.

CAR DRIVER HURT VEHICLE DITCHED LAKEFIELD ROAD

Andrew Wilson Removed To Hospital With Badly Cut Face

JUST BOUGHT CAR

When he crashed into a power pole snapping it off at the butt, and careened into a deep culvert wrecking his newly purchased used car beyond repair, Andrew Wilson, 40, of Hall's Bridge had a miraculous escape from death on Lakefield road in the vicinity of the waterworks pumping station Thursday night.

Suffering from slight concussion and extensive cuts about the face and hands, the injured driver was conveyed by ambulance to Nicholls Hospital. Dr. H. M. Yelland who is attending, declares the injuries are not of a serious nature.

Snaps Pole at Base.

The accident occurred at 11.10 p.m., as Wilson was proceeding home with his newly acquired automobile. The car left the roadway opposite Nick's Tourist camp, and running diagonally on the shoulder for some feet collided with a C. G. E. power pole snapping it off at the butt. Proceeding down the incline which slopes sharply to the river, the car was hurled 8-feet into a culvert.

The front of the vehicle including the engine and frame was extensively damaged, while most of the glass in the windows and windshield was shattered. The rear wheels of the car pointed up towards the roadway above, while the front wheels came to rest near the river's edge, and the doors of the car all swung open on their swung hinges.

The power lines were stated by Alderman Robert S. Cotton, foreman at the C. G. E. plant to carry 2,950 volts. Remarking that the driver would undoubtedly have been electrocuted had the wires come in contact with the car, he declared, "There were so many wires they held the weight of the pole and prevented the wires from falling on the car."

A repair gang from the company's plant was replacing the pole this (Friday) morning.

Destructive Pests Campbellford Area

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 24 (Examiner Correspondence).—A letter received by Wilbert Kingston from the Department of Agriculture, entomological branch parasite laboratory, Belleville, acknowledges a sample of destructive pests working in this district, and states: "This is a needle pine sawfly, known as "Neodiprion Lecontei." It has been very prevalent over a large portion of Ontario during the past two years and appears to be increasing in large numbers. We are very pleased indeed that you have brought this particular infestation to our attention and will endeavor to visit Campbellford in the near future to look over the situation." The letter is signed by A. B. Baird, entomologist in charge.

Cardinal Sacrifices Trip South 5 Years For Daily Window Battle With His Image

BRONTE, Ont., July 24—(CP)—With proud ferocity, a flaming red cardinal has fought its image in the windows of the home of James Fairbrother daily for more than five years.

The bird, whose determination to oust its "rival" is so great that he has given up going south in winter, launches himself headlong at the image staring at him out of the darkened windows. Six years ago the cardinal and his mate first came to the Fairweather home at Bronte, near Hamilton. During the summer he discovered the mirror-like windows, shadowed by the trees, and promptly began his duel with the shadow.

"It is out of all reason for a bright scarlet bird like that to stay in Canada all winter," Mr. Fairbrother relates. "He is brilliantly conspicuous in the snow. The natural thing for him to do would be to go south but he has stayed with us for five years with no apparent ill-effects."

The cardinal is about the size of a robin and his mate is a little smaller, and with less brilliant plumage.

TWO BRITISH SEATS HELD BY TORIES

Retain East Grinstead And Balham-Tooting Against Laborites

LONDON, July 24.—(CP Cable).—The Government counted two victories in two by-elections to-day, retaining Conservative seats in each case.

Col. R. S. Clarke was elected in East Ginstead, and East Sussex county constituency, with 22,207 votes. His Labor opponent, A. E. Millet, polled 5,708 votes.

Polling yesterday was not as heavy as at the general election last November when Sir Henry Cautley received 29,440 votes against 8,097 polled by S. Seuffert for Labor. The seat was made vacant when Sir Henry was raised to the peerage in the King's birthday honors list. The Government also retained the South London constituency of Balham and Tooting, in Wandsworth district. This traditionally Conservative seat was held, however, by a vastly reduced majority.

MAY DRAIN POND TO SEEK BODIES

Black Legionnaire Claims "Sinkhole Could Tell Plenty If It Could Talk"

DETROIT, July 24 (AP)—Authorities studied to-day the advisability of draining a pond near Pinckney, Mich., where the body of one alleged Black Legion victim was found, in their search for further evidence against masked and hooded members of the terroristic band.

An assertion attributed to Harvey Davis, Black Legion "Colonel," that "That sinkhole could tell plenty if it could talk," spurred them in their search.

Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea said Dayton Dean, confessed Black Legion "executioner," told him of the remark and that James Roy Lorance, one of five, included Davis, who are accused by Dean of the thrill slaying of Silas Coleman, 42-year-old negro hod carrier, corroborated the story.

Police took Dean to the marsh yesterday. There he pointed out the spots were events in his narrative of the hod carrier's slaying—which he said members of the Legion perpetrated "just for the hell of it"—occurred.

Detective Sergeant Jack Harvil of the Detroit police homicide squad accompanied Dean and denied a widely-circulated report that Dean told officers seven bodies would be found in the pond if it should be drained.

QUEBEC'S POLITICAL POT BOILS BRISKLY

Premier Godbout And Duplessis Campaign Eastern Area Over Weekend

QUEBEC, July 24.—(CP).—The political pot boils most briskly in Quebec's eastern townships this week-end with both Premier Godbout and Maurice Duplessis, Union Nationale chieftain, campaigning in that area for the Provincial election August 17.

The Liberal Premier speaks at Plessisville, Megantic County, tonight and in Sherbrooke tomorrow night.

Mr. Duplessis completed his Gaspe tour at Mont Joli last night and will address a meeting Sunday at Asbestos, near Sherbrooke.

Young Liberal groups of the Province hold a convention today at Sherbrooke and will be in the audience when the youthful farmer-premier speaks Saturday night. The Government head will be supported by Works Minister Gervais, Attorney-General Bertrand, and Hon. Frank Connors, Minister without portfolio.

In eagerness to protect the revenue from the liquor traffic and stamp out bootlegging, the Government had not hesitated in passing a law to permit arrest without warrant of a person suspected of liquor law violations, said Mr. Duplessis at Mont Joli.

The law even made informers out of judges, who had to turn informer to ascertain whether the law had been violated.

Would End Legislature Council.

The Union Nationale, its leader declared at an earlier meeting at Matane, would abolish the Quebec Legislature Council, if elected to power, and would replace the Provincial Upper House with an economic body composed of the best brains in the Province. Political affiliations would play no part in appointment of members of this body.

"I will retire from public life if I am unable to prove that the scandal revealed before the Public Accounts committee of the Quebec Legislature concerning administration of the Province was but a fraction of what has been going on for the past fifteen years," said Mr. Duplessis.

In Montreal last night Hon. Wilfrid Gagnon, newly-appointed minister of Trade and Commerce, said the disappearance of the Conservative party and birth of the "pseudo-National Party" was the miracle of the election campaign.

City Water Pumps Are Back To Normal

The city's pumping station which a little over a week ago, during the tropical weather, was pumping an all-time record of 5,755,000-gallons of water through the mains to a parched populace, is again working at normal volume. On Thursday according to official records, after a night of rain which broke the 25-day period of drought, the total pumpage was only 2,948,000-gallons. The previous day the pumpage was 4,388,000-gallons. Prevailing water temperatures are 72 degrees, by comparison with a maximum of 78 degrees registered during the heat wave.

Maharajah Of Mysore Pays London First Visit

Prince Who Neither Smokes, Drinks Nor Eats Meat Carries Own Goddess With Him

WORTH $400,000,000

By Thomas T. Champion
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, July 24.—The Maharajah of Mysore, whose fortune is estimated at £80,000,000 ($400,000,000), and who neither smokes, drinks nor eats meat, is visiting London.

A room in the Indian Prince's hotel has been prepared as a temple for the worship of the Maharajah's goddess, Chamundeswari. A small golden figure of the goddess has been placed in the room, and priests accompanying the Maharajah will perform daily rites.

This is the Maharajah's first visit to Great Britain, and, indeed, his first departure from his own kingdom since his accession at the age of 11 in 1895. He arrived last night.

His visit is unofficial, but he almost certainly will be received by the King, who visited him in 1922 as Prince of Wales. At that time the Maharajah beat the Prince at squash.

HEARING PROMISED ELEANOR JARRETT

U. S. Backstroke Swimmer Dropped From Squad For Breaking Rules

HAMBURG, Germany, July 24.—(AP).—The United States Olympic committee today granted Eleanor Holm Jarrett's tearful p'ea for a formal hearing on charges that she had violated training rules but indicated that the decision dropping the great backstroke swimmer from the squad would stand.

Arrangements were made to take Mrs. Jarrett along to Berlin so that members of the committee might listen to her side of the case on the train from Hamburg. Mrs. Jarrett was dropped from the team as the aftermath of a stateroom party yesterday.

The swimmer, broken up by the committee's drastic action last night and asking Olympic officials not to "ruin my life," was conceded the opportunity of telling her story. Brundage, turning his attention to welcoming ceremonies, left disposal of the case in the hands of Raycroft, who is vice-president of the committee.

Mrs. Jarrett was dropped from the team just before the Olympic ship Manhattan reached Hamburg. She was ordered to turn in her uniform and equipment and return to United States on the Bremen, sailing tomorrow. Her entry in the 100 metres backstroke, in which she was a top-heavy favorite to retain the Olympic title she captured in 1932, was withdrawn.

Woman Car Victim Has Chance Of Life

WOODSTOCK, Ont., July 24 (CP).—Hospital authorities here early today gave a fair chance of recovery to Mrs. Roland Jones, Detroit, seriously injured in an automobile accident which took her husband's life yesterday.

Mrs. Jones suffered broken thighs and serious head injuries, and her husband was instantly killed, when their car left the pavement on the Eastwood-Creditville highway near here, and crashed into a tree.

The couple were on their way to visit a brother of Mrs. Jones in Ogdensburg, N.Y. The entire front of the car was telescoped and the engine driven back under the dashboard with the front wheels beneath it.

ADVOCATE ENGLAND STORE MORE GRAIN

Canadian Defence Minister Suggests Use Of Small Scattered Elevators

LONDON, July 24—(CP CABLE)—The Daily Telegraph yesterday carried interviews with two Canadian cabinet ministers embodying their views on the feasibility of storage of grain in elevators in the United Kingom.

Minister of Defence Ian Mackenzie said: "I believe the time has come when England will have to adopt the practice as part of her system of defence. The usual objection that wheat deteriorates if it is long stored is not supported by Canadian experience. Another objection that England's damp climate would affect wheat, is not supported by Vancouver's experience.

England would probably have to construct small elevators all over the country. Big elevators are too conspicuous for air attack."

Minister of Agriculture Gardiner supported the views of Mr. Mackenzie. But he expressed the opinion certain price adjustments would be necessary. He said it would be uneconomical to store small quantities in England, although the danger of air attack would render large elevators inadvisable.

WALLACEBURG POLICE BAFFLED

WALLACEBURG, Ont., July 24 (CP)—Town police are baffled by an epidemic of "breaking and entering" which has been going on for almost two and a half weeks. Last night the eighth episode was recorded when thieves broke into the station of the Pere Marquette Railway in South Wallaceburg and smashed the combination off the safe. An investigation revealed no theft of money or valuables.

Halifax Blast "Victim" Believed Dead Turns Up After 19 Years Of Wandering

SPRINGHILL, N.S., July 24 (CP)—Separated from his family for 19 years, and believed to have been killed in the Halifax explosion, Thomas Nicholson has returned from the "dead."

Chance recognition by a former resident of this town who was visiting a Montreal hospital where Nicholson was being treated for a leg injury, started the former Springhill man on his way to rediscover his brothers, George and Charles, residing here. He then learned his mother had died eight years ago.

When he was two years old he was taken from Springhill, resided for a time in Cape Breton and later was taken to Halifax. Thomas was nine years old when the great explosion of 1917 wrecked that city. His parents were told he had been killed, but he escaped without a scratch.

To-day the long-lost brother told of his wanderings. He had gone to Montreal and when quite young had signed on a freighter. For years he had sailed the seas in various kinds of vessels. His last voyage was on the steamship Isadore to Hong Kong as second mate. His leg was seriously injured on the cruise and for months, on his return, he was in a Montreal hospital where he was recognised by a Mrs. Toff, who noticed a family resemblance.

Now he plans to "swallow the anchor" and settle down with his newfound brothers.

Parties and Liquor Lead To Dismissal

Committee Upholds Decision To Bar Eleanor Holm Jarrett From Games

HAD EVERY CHANCE

BERLIN, July 24.—(AP).— The decision barring Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarret from the American Olympic team for violation of training rules was upheld today by a committee of Olympic officials headed by Dr. Joseph E. Raycroft of Princeton University.

Accompanied by Herb Holm, manager of the women's swimming team Mrs. Jarret carried her appeal to Brundage, Frederick Rubien, secretary of the committee and finally to Dr. Raycroft after waking up on a rainy, cheerless "morning after the night before" to hear the bad news.

In response to the swimmer's pleading, Brundage said: "We gave you every chance. You have only yourself to blame. Now you've got to take it. I appreciate how you feel but you forced our hand and we had no alternative. I can tell you the committee's mind definitely is made up."

"I know I have been drinking too much and I'm all wrong," Mrs. Jarrett told Dr. Raycroft. "I can't put into words how badly I feel now. All I am asking is a chance to face the committee and tell them, on my word of honor, that I did not realize how seriously the offence would be regarded."

"The "Jarrett case," which began with a cocktail party last Friday and developed reverberations reaching a climax just before the Olympic ship docked, overshadowed the morning's developments including an impressive civic welcome.

Mrs. Jarrett's dismissal, due to a combination of late hours and drinking, created a furore among Olympic team members who have been in turmoil ever since the first outbreak.

A Storm Centre.

She was a storm centre among the athletes because of the possible spread of the impression her actions typified the team's general behaviour.

Prior to last Saturday's warning Mrs. Jarrett had declared she liked to imbibe and enjoy the relaxtion of party life and intended to do so regardless of what the officials might think.

Waving her hand to all listeners and lifting a glass of sparkling beverage she declared:

"This is the way I'm accustomed to train and I don't see why I should change my habits now."

She said, flatly, she would not return to the United States on the Bremen but doesn't know what she will do if kept off the team. Officials of the United States Lines had declined previously to undertake the responsibility of delivering Mrs. Jarrett aboard the Bremen.

Officials pointed out that Mrs. Jarrett was an American citizen, with passport and visa in good order, and entitled to do as she pleases.

Husband Disappointed.

NEW YORK, July 24.—(AP). — Art Jarrett, band leader husband of Eleanor Holm Jarrett, said he was greatly "disappointed" to-day that American Olympic officials had barred his wife from the Olympic team.

"It may have been necessary for the morale of the team," he said, "but it means the loss of the best swimmer on the team."

OFFICER SLUGGED NABBING BURGLAR

Holds Prisoner Until Help Arrives Despite Blow On Head

OTTAWA, July 24.— (CP).—Attacked and knocked almost unconscious by an alleged housebreaker he had caught in a temporarily vacant house early to-day, Constable Maxime Viau of the city police force was able to hold his assailant, who gave his name as Pierre Tremblay, 20, until help arrived.

Constable Viau, on vacant house duty, said he was making his rounds when he noticed a light in an upstairs window at 311 Gilmour street, and the front door open. Not being notified by A. H. Jarvis, occupant of the house that he had returned from his summer home, Constable Viau investigated and on entering the house was attacked. The constable grappled with his assailant and while calling police headquarters he was struck over the head with a 10-inch whetstone. Tremblay then dashed towards the rear of the house, but Constable Viau recaptured him and held him until help arrived.

Constable Viau was then taken to hospital for treatment, while his prisoner was taken to police station and will appear in court to-day.

For Saturday, July 25

A VERY active and strenous day, both in business and private life, is the augury based on the prevailing planetary operations. There portend turmoil and violence unless a firm grasp is kept on tongue and temper.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a very exciting year, with commotion in both business and private life. In the latter there may be social or artistic celebrations, possibly in connection with a surprising romance or friendship.

A child born on this day is apt to be sociable, friendly and gracious, but may be prone to sudden bursts of temper or passionate indulgence unless disciplined in youth.

SCOUTS AND CUBS ACCORD TRIBUTE TO C. W. COLEMAN

Church Is Packed For Funeral Of Late Cubmaster Of St. John's Pack

St. John's Church was crowded to capacity as funeral services were held Thursday afternoon for Charles William Coleman, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Coleman, 121 Brock street, whose death occurred early Monday morning following a brief illness.

Full Scout honors were accorded to the late "Bill" Coleman, who was a member of 1st Peterborough (St. John's) Troop and Cub leader of the Pack connected with the Troop. Not only was there a full attendance of uniformed Scouts and Cubs from the church group, but the whole of Peterborough Boy Scouts' Association was fully represented.

A guard of honor of Scouts and Cubs was provided both at the church and at Little Lake Cemetery where interment was made, while the pallbearers were: Cubmasters Gordon Clegg, Frank Pammett and Pete Dominick, and Scoutmasters George Groombridge, Fred. Pond and Henry Nokes. The Scout flag draped the casket, while the King's and Troop colors were draped with black crepe as they were carried in the procession of Scouts which preceded the cortege on its way to the cemetery.

The Rev. W. P. Robertson, rector of the parish, assisted by the Rev. Walter J. Gilling, conducted the services. He referred to "Bill" Coleman as one "who has filled a large place in the parish," and made reference to his active association with the Boy Scouts and Cubs, the church choir, the Sunday school, and Anglican Young People's Association.

District Scout Commissioner John T. Hornsby, assisted by Cub Commissioner Lewis Grant, had charge of the guard of honor and parade of Scouts and Cubs, which was representative of all the various troops and packs of the association of different religious denominations.

The choir to which the late "Bill" Coleman belonged as a boy chorister was in attendance at the service, under the direction of Frederic G. Mann, L.Mus., organist and choirmaster, while the congregation included representatives of every one of the various organizations within the parish.

NAPANEE, Ont., July 24 (CP).—A large tractor and trailer belonging to the Martin Transport Company was reported as being crowded off the provincial highway ten miles east of here to-day. The heavy-loaded vehicle overturned and merchandise was considerably strewn. The driver, whose name could not be learned, was uninjured.

A Railing Separated Their Different World But She Clung to a Hope

It was the first time Gay Elwell had seen Wayne Adams. His dark eyes were smiling steadily at her, almost as if they were friends, the check girl thought, as she declined his proffered tip. The railing between them separated their different worlds and yet Gay wondered why it should. A glimmering ray of hope surged within her as the attractive young man looked back and smiled again at her before he was whisked from sight in the elevator. It marked the opening of a refreshing romance which did NOT prove that

TEN FIRES LAID TO PROSPECTORS

Rangers' Complaints In McLennan And Scadding Townships Get 2 Permits Cancelled

SUDBURY, Ont., July 24 (CP)—Ten forest fires in McLennan and Scadding Townships during the past week were attributed to-day by Forestry Branch officials to prospectors working on claims in those districts.

As a result of complaints made by Tom McGowan, chief forestry ranger at Skead, the permits issued to the two unidentified prospectors were cancelled this week. Officials did not disclose their identity, but said efforts were being made by their employees to have the permits issued again.

A Kiss Smashed Her Philosophy

For the first time in her life, to her own utter surprise, Gay walked straight into a man's arms—and lifted her face to be kissed again. It was Wayne Adams' arms and Wayne's lips. And Gay began to doubt her own philosophy that

Vacation Time Brings Its Problems

Practical Play Clothes For Active Youngsters Are Made of Washable Cottons

VACATION time has come again with its problems as well as its joys. One of the problems is to get the children suitably dressed for camp, the visit to relatives, the seaside or lake cottage, or just to play around in the home yard, getting as much fresh air and sunshine as is possible to make young bodies healthy for the coming autumn and winter.

Practical clothes are the one need of children in summer. Of course they want some dress-up ones, too, but things that are comfortable and that wash well, with a minimum of ironing, are the best. Cottons are wise choices for play suits, shorts and culottes, those divided skirt costumes for hiking and bicycling.

Knitted cotton shirts go with tweeds, flannels or linen skirts, and with jodhpurs if your children ride. Cotton mesh needs no ironing, neither does seersucker, and seersucker is smart in play suits for girls of all ages. Cotton gabardine is also practical and attractive.

Cotton Shantung for Camp

For the camp we show a two-piece cotton shantung play suit with button-on shorts, which comes in rust, yellow or light blue. Camps make little girls independent. They learn to do things for themselves, such as putting up pup-tents, as this small person is doing, and maybe a bit of cooking. The suit is for girls from six to 12 years of age.

For the little lass who goes horseback riding in camp or at home, the jodhpurs and shirt will be found practical. The jodhpurs are cotton gabardine, the chukker shirt yellow cotton mesh—the type that we mentioned a while ago that doesn't have to be ironed. This shirt may also be worn with gabardine shorts, and it comes in royal blue as well as yellow.

Shorts for Tennis

For tennis, shorts are the thing. The blonde child on the left of the last group wears navy shorts in gabardine, a white chukker cotton mesh shirt suitable for the six-to-12-year-olds. The shorts come in brown or copenhagen blue or white. The V-necked wool cardigan, for girls four to 12, comes in navy, copen, white or pastels.

We are harking back to the gay nineties in our bicycling, although it has never wholly gone out of fashion with the younger set. There is nothing old-fashioned, however, about the clothes we're wearing for this revived sport. The culotte—the new divided skirt fashion—is shown in checked gingham with a separate blouse finished off with a girlish white linen collar. It comes in navy and red check or brown and yellow, for girls ten years old or over.

Left, two-piece cotton shantung play suit; center, tan cotton jodhpurs, yellow cotton mesh chukker shirt; next navy gabardine shorts, white chukker cotton mesh shirt, webbing belt and wool cardigan; right, checked gingham culotte with separate blouse, for bicycling.

"Teacher to Teachers"

CONVERTING PARTNER.

PROVIDED partner's bidding shows strength, it is as necessary to show him two suits of five cards each as it is to afford him an opportunity to rebid, by keeping bidding open with 1-No Trumps, and upon about the same honor strength in either instance. Today's hand offers an illustration of why such procedure is favored by experts. North happened to be an obstinate sort of player. Two months ago I knew that he was bitterly opposed to showing immediately a two-suiter over partner's call, unless at least one quick trick was held. He favored first bidding 1-No Trump over partner's opening suit call, then later showing a long suit, if afforded an opportunity to do so. Gradually his ideas have altered. Last week he offered less objection than he did formerly. His experience with today's hand has almost converted him. Soon he will be reconciled to such procedure.

Bidding went: North, 1-Heart, Laird hand; South, 1-Spade, at which game could not have been expected; West, 2-Diamonds; North, 2-No Trumps, that could not have been made; South, 3-Clubs; West, 3-Diamonds; South, 4-Clubs, leaving partner to shift, if he desired; North, 5-Clubs, that West doubled.

When partners have had different suits, then compromised upon a third suit, ordinarily the best defence is to lead trumps as frequently as possible. West led the Ace of clubs, hoping partner might lead the suit again. Then West led his K of diamonds, taking out dummy's Ace. The shift to diamonds plainly enough showed that East held the missing 9 and 5 of clubs, and declarer played accordingly. He led off dummy's Ace of hearts, then he ruffed a heart, to lead the Q of spades. West's double indicated the probable location of the K of spades. West's K covered the Q of spades. Dummy's Ace won. Declarer's J won the return lead of spades.

Dummy ruffed a third lead of spades. Dummy's J of clubs was overtaken with declarer's Q. West showed out of trumps, as expected. Dummy's las trump ruffed a fourth lead of spades. East's last spade fell. Declarer used next to his last trump to ruff a third lead of [illegible] his 10 of clubs picked up East's last trump. South led off his fifth spade, winning his eleventh trick. Previously he had lost to the Ace of clubs. Now he had to lose the thirteenth trick to West's Q of diamonds, just making his doubled contract. North was gracious enough not to even mention that South was lucky to go game.

SUMMER HOT, SUMMER NOT

AND I am in the latter class—no matter what the thermometer says. Of course I feel the heat but do not wilt or become "all-in" as most people do. I am always up and coming—"on my toes" mentally and physically, regardless of the heat. It's not that I am cold blooded, it is because I am right blooded. My blood is not sluggish and viscid or ropy with toxins and residues from wrong foods and feeding habits. My blood is no cooler than the blood of those who stew and fret mentally because they stew physically. The difference is that my blood is more fluid and more vital. It flows freely from the hot interior into the blood vessels of the skin, dilates them and opens and relaxes the glands and the skin structure and dissipates the heat into the environment. Blood built out of mineral-deficient, devitalized starches and flesh foods cannot attain this fluidity, and not only is more heat generated but it is retained and causes the "all-in" condition which afflicts so many.

My blood is built out of one-third Roman Meal, Bekus Puddy or Lishus, one-third salad vegetables, one-third fruits and nuts in place of meat. The year round I drink only richly mineralized, richly ironized Koty-Sub. Try this plan for summer anyway and you will note how much better you stand the heat. You will then know I speak the truth.

If you do not like Roman Meal porridge hot, cook it the night before for about 2 minutes. Let cool and place in refrigerator over night. Serve in morning with fruit jelly, sliced peaches, pears, ripe bananas, berries and cream or honey and milk or cream, all very delightful; or eat uncooked as per recipe on back of package.

To Those Who Use The Highways At Night

for either driving or walking

I APPEAL to the motorists of Ontario to make night driving (and night walking) as safe and enjoyable as driving (or walking) by day. I believe it can be done—by the simple expedient of applying the principles of COURTESY.

Let us make it an infallible rule to dip or dim our lights when meeting other cars. It will soon become almost automatic for us to do so. Oncoming drivers will respond. Within a very short time, this "deliberate gesture" of Courtesy (as it now is) will become a fixed habit.

Do not crowd the other Fellow when meeting or passing. If he is inclined to be a nervous driver, he may easily misjudge distance at night. We don't know. And it costs us nothing to give him several feet of clearance.

Let us give pedestrians MORE than ample space for walking. We have all the advantage when we are driving and the other fellow is afoot. Let us not use that advantage in a bullying way.

On the other hand, when we are walking, let us show true courtesy to those who are driving. When we walk WITH traffic, we place ALL the responsibility upon the motorist. Always walk facing oncoming traffic, and wear or carry something light that the lights of oncoming cars will pick up, even if you carry only a partly opened newspaper.

These are a few instances only, to demonstrate the SPIRIT of Courtesy which I am suggesting and recommending to the people of Ontario.

Practise and preach the golden rule of the road—"Show to others the same courtesy that you would like to have shown to you".

Sincerely yours,

J. B. M. Baker

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Welch of Minden, Ontario, have announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Enid Doris, to Donald James Walker, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Walker of Orillia. The marriage will take place early in August at the Anglican Church on Balsam Lake, and the couple will come to Peterborough to reside. Both are known to many friends here.

"Mully" Miller, a visitor to this district this week after an absence of 22 years, will be remembered by the older of local ball fans. He was catcher on the Peterborough Canadian League ball team in 1914, the third and last season of professional ball in Peterborough. Accompanied by his brother and a party of friends, he enjoyed a weeks' vacation near the mouth of the Otonabee and to-day set out on his return to his home in Massilon, Ohio.

Dr. John McCullough Weds in Sudbury.

Of interest to friends of the groom in Peterborough was the wedding of Phyllis Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Irvine of Sudbury, to Dr. John McCullough, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough, in Sudbury this week. Dr. McCullough is a nephew of Mrs. A. Madden, Sophia Street.

Among the guests at the wedding were Miss Peggy Roche and Mr. John Madden of Peterborough. The bride and groom left on a trip to Quebec. They will reside in Sudbury.

C. G. I. T. Girls Honor Companion.

A kitchen shower tendered by the C.G.I.T. girls of Knox United Church to Miss Kay Benson, whose wedding to Mr. John Donaldson will take place on August 8, was an event of this week at Miss Benson's home, 57 George Street. Many useful gifts were presented Miss Benson.

The party was in charge of the Misses Jessie Scholey, Marjorie Thexton, Helen Ward and Audrey Garside, companions of the bride-elect in the Knox Church C.G.I.T. unit. Mrs. A. Huffman and Miss Gwen Lockie were in charge of the games and entertainment. The serving of dainty refreshments concluded the evening.

Local Young Man On World Honeymoon Tour.

Bound for Montreal and the start of a two-year goodwill trade tour covering 900 points throughout the British Empire, Harold Wyman of Peterborough boarded a train at the Union Station last night. With him was Mrs. Wyman, who before a wedding ceremony in the Chapel of the Timothy Eaton Memorial Church at 7.30 last night was Miss Jean Campbell.

The tour, for which Mr. Wyman is business manager, is being conducted by Dr. Frank Carlton of Mimico. Noted as a former explorer, lecturer, and cameraman, he is equipped with motion pictures designed to create an interest abroad in Canadian industries.

Sponsoring the enterprise are ten nationally known Canadian manufacturers.

Horticultural Members Enjoy Garden Party.

Fifty guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Biddle, Rogers Street, and the Peterborough Horticultural Society at a large party in the beautiful gardens at the Biddle home last evening. The party was sponsored by the Show Committee of the Society and proceeds will be devoted to the prize list for the annual flower show in August.

The unusual floral beauties afforded in the gardens made the entertainment one of the most distinctive events of the season. The centre of interest was possibly Mr. Biddle's Shakespeare plot which contains nearly every flower native to England mentioned in Shakespeare's plays. The garden contains also English sea hollies, of a rich blue color, true English wallflowers, London Pride and Lungwort. Special curiosities are yellow flowering woad from which ancient Britons extracted the blue dye they used as battle paint; and "Granny's Spider Web," a lacy flower of exquisite beauty. A pot of "Creelman" illies is the prize of the display. It has been Mr. Biddle's hobby to demonstrate that English flowers, like English folk, can be safely transplanted to Canada.

A bingo game operated by G. H. Clarke and Jack Smith was a feature attraction. Mrs. Aden Moore had charge of a wheel of fortune. A candy booth was managed by Mrs. Al. Spenceley. Al. Spenceley handled in a very capable manner an auction of cakes and candies.

Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. James Forbes. She was assisted by Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. L. M. Dixon and Mrs. Fred Dummitt. Mrs. George Curtis poured, assisted by Miss Aileen Biddle and Miss Jean Moore.

W. C. Wilks was winner of a scarf which was drawn by Mr. Clarke. Mrs. Spenceley won a basket of candy, Miss Reta Cummings officiating at the draw.

Arrangements for the party were in the hands of J. A. Smith, chairman of the Show Committee, and W. C. Wilkes.

Majority Of Tourists Ask Way To Quints

TORONTO, July 24 (CP), — The Ontario Government information bureau on the lake shore road just outside of Toronto city limits seems to be turning into another sign-post along the road to Callander, home of the Dionne quintuplets. One out of every two or three cars stopping there has occupants heading for the little northern town, officials report.

Apparently there are a few other points of interest in Ontario, however. Four school-teachers from Pennsylvania recently asked what was the capital of Canada, and then decided they should visit it; the fishing districts of Muskoka take their quota of American visitors, and everybody seems to have heard of Casa Loma in Toronto.

Plan Regal Wedding Duke Kent's Equerry

LONDON, July 24 (GP Cable)—The Duke and Duchess of Kent will attend the wedding at Westminster Abbey on Monday of the Duke's Equerry, Lord Sidney Charles Herbert, to Lady Mary Hope, lady-in-waiting to the Duchess. Lady Mary is a sister of the Marquess of Linlithgow, Viceroy of India.

At the Duke of Kent's desire, this romance of his household at 3, Belgrave Square culminates in a wedding on royal lines. Twelve hundred guests will be present and the Dean of Westminster will officiate. There will be 10 bridesmaids, mostly from families connected with the royal households.

The bridegroom is the eldest son of the Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery.

$1,500 DAIRY FIRE

WALLACEBURG, Ont., July 24 (CP)—Fire of mysterious origin caused damage of $1,500 to buildings of Wallaceburg Dairy to-day. Town firemen worked for approximately an hour with two lines of hose and chemicals before the flames were halted.

$16,000 SAVING FROM WIG-WAGS

$16,650 a year, of which $15,000 would accrue to the C.N.R., and $1,500 to the city. As a safety factor trains and engines were not allowed to exceed ten miles an hour over the six crossings. The C.N.R. planned to use the King street tower where two watchmen would be engaged to supervise the signal system at all the crossings. If bells were connected with the wig-wags, their unnecessary ringing could be eliminated by pushing a button in the tower, for instance while a train might be standing at crossing. This control feature did not affect the automatic alarm system for other trains, Mr. Macdonald said.

Mayor Macdonald advised by Carley that the city council was definitely opposed to the ringing of bells.

"We are not asking the city to assume any part of the cost of making the proposed change," Mr. MacDonald informed the Board. "The total cost of $10,100 will be borne by the railway."

He said that at Kalamazoo, Mich., 20 gates had been done away with and a wig-wag system had been substituted.

Census of Traffic

Mr. MacDonald presented a report of a traffic census at the six crossings for 24-hour periods on Monday and Tuesday, July 20 and 21. The difference between the total for the two days, he said, was only slight.

Sherbrooke Street census, July 20—twenty four hours; pedestrians 1126 east bound, 980 west bound; motor vehicles 972 and 966; other vehicles 757 and 745. Train movements 117 north bound and 93 south bound. Gates were operated 168 times.

King Street, July 20—pedestrians 1278 eastbound, 1022 westbound; motor vehicles 331 and 337; other vehicles 272 and 293; train movements 75 north and 68 south. Gates operated 158 times.

Charlotte Street, July 20—pedestrians 1497 eastbound, 1475 westbound; motor vehicles 3760 east, 3179 west; other vehicles 717 and 670. Train movements 21 northbound and 26 south.

Census for July 21 showed about 100 fewer pedestrians, and other traffic was only slightly changed.

Simcoe Street census, July 20—also twenty four hours, pedestrians 1191 east, 1086 west; motor vehicles 959 east, 911 west; other vehicles 454 and 426; train and engine movements 17 north and 17 south.

Hunter street—pedestrians 955 and 856; motor vehicles 754 and 797; other vehicles 245 and 259; train movements 16 north and 19 south. Gates were operated 34 times.

Census on July 20— pedestrians 679 east bound and 611 westbound; motor vehicles 402 and 338; other vehicles 255 and 238; trains and engines 12 north and 14 south.

Council's Consensus.

Traffic census submitted to the Board by Mr. Carley was taken on Saturday, July 18 at King, Charlotte, Simcoe and Hunter streets for the period from 8 a.m. until 12 p.m.

The total figures were as follows; King street, pedestrians 3,365, bicycles 507, horses 26, motor vehicles 768.

Charlotte street, pedestrians 4,975, bicycles 1,347, horses 40, motors 8,920.

Hunter street, pedestrians 2,736, bicycles 521, horses 43, motors 2,086.

Mr. Macdonald summed up his argument for the use of wig-wags by stressing the substantial saving in the annual cost of operation, and his contention that the automatic system would give as good protection as the gates.

City Wants Safety.

Mr. Carley stated that the council's opposition was based on the long record of safety estaolished by the gates. They were both a warning and a prohibition, whereas the wig-wags served only as a warning.

"Your record is a fine one," Hon. Mr. Guthrie said, "and I can understand why you are hesitant about any changes being made. But, there would be a heavy saving for the railway, and also some for the city."

The chairman said that 90 per cent. of the people regard an approaching train as a danger. The others were fools who believed that they could beat the a train over a crossing.

Mr. MacDonald remarked that the experience of the railways showed that the worst accidents occurred where the view of the railways was best.

"Then there must be something wrong with the mentality of people using the highways," Hon. Mr. Guthrie said.

He announced that the Board would reserve its decision on the application, and would be glad to receive any helpful recommendation from the conference of the council and railway representatives.

Just Between Us Women

A Daily Chat With Examiner Neighbors Conducted by Roberta.

OUR lives are albums written through
With good or ill, with false or true;
And as the blessed angels turn the pages of our years,
God grant they read the good with smiles,
And blot the bad with tears.
—Author Unknown.

Dear Friends:

Every day we write a page in the history of our lives, and what compassion will need to be shown us, when at long last the book of our lives comes to be read. Some of the pages we would like to have torn out, and some we would not like even our best friend to read.

Yet how careless we are in the writing of these pages, how garish and nasty some of them must seem when we in memory scan them over. How we hurt each other, and in the doing of it, hurt ourselves as we hurriedly write the hours of our lives away.

The hour when we snapped the head off of one we profess to care so much for, spoiling many hours for them. The careless hours when we frittered away the talents we possess, filling the pages up with mis-spent time.

How they go marching by, these hours, making or marring the clean new pages of our lives. No eraser will rub them out, but tears of sorrow for our misdeeds can blot them so that they are no longer legible, and good deeds can overlay the bad ones so that they only shine forth faintly.

Yet, the beauty of it is, that the book of our life is not finished until we ourselves are finished. Every day we get the opportunity to write a different thing from the day before. Every hour we have the chance to make of it what we will, and if we do not get stubborn or set in our ways, it is never too late to make a lovely book of it so that we are proud, instead of being ashamed.

Of course, others can come inside the pages and spoil the things we meant to write there, but they are the ones who will be held repsonsible, and not we ourselves, just as we will be held, if we slip inside the pages of their lives and spoil it for them.

The hours of travel make pleasant reading, the sacrifices we have made, the unselfish things we have done, the help we gave, the loyalty and th hard work, all fill up the pages of our book of life to good advantage.

And the bad things, the stepping off the right road, the impatience and injustice we have shown someone, can all be made good by the things we do to rectify them.

I doubt if there is one person who could say that they would not care who read the book of their lives, because always in every life there are the things we have done, that make us cringe within ourselves to think about, and if we cannot bear to think about it ourselves, how much worse would we feel for someone else to read about it.

So, let us try to fill up the pages so that they will make pleasant reading, and even have a sort of heroism in some of the pages. Let us have compassion, and help and devotion, and pleasant words, and smiles, all these on the pages and we won't care who reads them.

Let us always remember that one day, what we have done in the dark will come out in the daylight, and we shall take care that what we do then will be as clean as if we had someone watching us all the the time. So that the book of our life, when it comes to be read, will give us an inner glow, instead of making us hang our head in shame.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

notified at 5 a.m. having been reportedly telephoned from Bewdley by one of the drivers of a Beatty transport. Mr. Beatty told The Examiner that none of his drivers on incoming trucks had reported the incident to police, but he presumed word may have been phoned in by one of the drivers of an outward-bound Toronto truck. A truck belonging to the local firm left for Toronto early this morning.

Sergeant William Wigg and Constable John Naples watched closely for the truck which was reported to have featured in the Port Hope attempted robbery, and which was described as a red vehicle. They questioned the driver of an incoming newspaper truck and were told by him that a red truck had turned back the other side of Bailleboro.

It was further reported from the lakeshore town that pumps, at a Cavan street service station were smashed and gasoline stolen.

Port Hope police declared they did not believe the taxi and truck for which vehicles police are still searching, were related in the early morning operations.

N.W. HAVE GAME LEAD

VANCOUVER, July 24 (CP) — New Westminster Royals, British Columbia soccer champions, to-day held a one-game lead in their western semi-final series with Calgary Callies in the Dominion Football Association competition. They scored a 2-1 victory under floodlights last night. The second game of the best-of-three series will be played Saturday.

Weddings

ROGERS—NOBLE.

The marriage of Marguerite Mary Noble, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Noble, to Mr. Robert Bernard Rogers, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rogers, was a charming event at the Sacred Heart Church. Rev. J. C. Moloney performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass, while Mr. John Armstrong presided at the organ.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was charmingly gowned in a toe-length frock of azure blue chiffon with a flared tunic and Queen Anne pleated collar and short puffed sleeves. The neckline was square cut in front and a bouquet of white flowers was worn at the throat. Her hat was a halo model of matching material and blue fabric slippers and blue lace mittens completed the ensemble.

The bridesmaid, Miss Frances (Babe) Noble, sister of the bride, wore a lovely gown of pastel pink chiffon over satin. Her hat was a large picture model of Milan straw of the same shade, trimmed with moire silk ribbon. She wore white shoes and gloves and carried Briarcliff roses.

Mr. Melville Rogers, brother of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony, a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, 29 Park Street North. Later the bride and groom left by motor for Niagara Falls and Buffalo. They will reside at 3 Frank Street on their return.

WYMAN—CAMPBELL.

TORONTO, July 24. — A wedding of wide interest took place quietly last evening at 7.30 o'clock in Eaton Memorial Church Chapel, when Jean Bernice Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vannattar of Windsor, was married to Harold B. Wyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Wyman of Peterborough. Rev. F. A. Lawson officiated, and Miss Ruth Curry played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr.Vannattar,was charmingly gowned in blue lace, fashioned on long lines, with smart little pleated jacket. Her hat and shoes matched her gown, and she carried a bouquet of roses and cornflowers. Miss Dorothy Campbell was bridesmaid, wearing a frock of blue taffeta, with frilled cape, and she carried a bouquet of roses and cornflowers.. Mr. Lewis Lawson was groomsman, and the usher was Mr. Robert Brownlee.

The reception was held at 111 Ridge Drive, where the guests were received by the bride's aunt, Miss Milburn, who had chosen a gown of shot rose and mauve chiffon, with matching hat and corsage of roses. The groom's mother, who also received, was in flowered chiffon, with black hat and corsage of roses. For travelling, the bride donned a green boucle suit with brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman left on the first stage of their wedding trip, which will be a two-year tour of the British Empire.

UPPER STONEY LAKE

Mrs. Barnes, of Toronto, is holidaying for the summer with and at the cottage of Mrs. R. Bloomfield, near Eels' Creek, Stoney Lake.

Cleveland Threatens Yanks' Lead In A. L. Race

Sport Spice
By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP).—Eddie (O.K.) Mitchell reports from down in North Carolina that Wallace Wade, Duke coach, is putting in a pleasant summer raising watermelons in his back yard at Durham and licking the tar out of the other North Carolina coaches at golf...Mitchell says another sweet football team is coming up at Duke and if the eastern fans go too strong on Colgate they may have to hitch-hike back home ... Hal Schumacher, who rushed back east ahead of the Giants to find out what ails his salary whip, is celebrating...The best M.D's in town told him his trouble was exactly nothing.

Old Jim Bottomley is the type of ball player most managers would give their right eye for... He'd play for nothing if he didn't get paid for it...Here he is, with $100,000 in the bank and arthritis in the back, still he's going to stay right in there until they cut the uniform off him...Jimmy Braddock, who has been doing light work at Loch Sheldrake, is so far along he'll be able to box 15 rounds in two weeks... Biggest surprise of the season to date: The Yankees...Nobody but Joe McCarthy gave them a tumble in the spring.

Mike Jacobs is strutting along Broadway in a new $150 suit...Also a new hair cut...Bill Irby, football and boxing star at Tulane, hitch-hiked all the way from New Orleans to join Jim Braddock's staff of sparring partners...Up at Loch Sheldrake they say the lad's got it...Bill O'Brien has given up hope of Fred Perry turning pro any time soon...Bill is so fed up with the pro tennis racket he is thinking of opening a fight club... The rasslin' trust is scared to death Lee Wyckoff is going to beat old "Strangler" Lewis who is the trust's hope of getting the title away from Everett Marshall...Smart baseball men say Stu Martin of the Cardinals is the best rookie to come up in 10 years—and they don't except the Deans and Joe Di Maggio.

How's this for the brother act? ...The regular guards on the Texas Tech football team are Jack and Louis Jenes. The regular tackles are Jesse and Broadway Browning and the regular ends are Pete and Alton Owens ...Johnny Evers, the old Cub second sacker, has a swell baseball piece in a nickel magazine this week... Three American League right-handers have won at least one game from every other club in the circuit so far ...They are Monte Pearson of the Yanks; Tommy Bridges of Detroit and Mel Harder of Cleveland.

The little birds are saying Mike Jacobs is flirting with the Madison Square Garden directorate again... The big reason for the sad plight of the skidding Yankees is the terrific batting slump of El Gehrig and Joe Di Maggio...After the halfway mark was reached July 5, Di Mag dropped down to a .250 clip before rallying in the last few games.

The Elmwood Country Club of Marshalltown, Ia., has a "grandmothers' foursome" composed of Mrs. Emma Pursel, Mrs. A. R. Cooper, Mrs. H. A. Kinnan and Mrs. George M. Davis....The girls can—and do—shoot a snappy nine holes in the low 50's....Ray (Peaches) Davis, new Cincinnati pitcher, looks like Walter Johnson, but only in the face....Lou Finney, first sacker and outfielder, is the sole survivor of Connie Mack's last pennant winning Athletic team.

Little did Col. D. Walker Wear of the State Boxing Commission realise he was making history when he stopped at the Hotel Astor for an eye-opener the other A.M....The Colonel had no sooner ordered a shot of this favorite Bourbon than up dashed Manager Robert K. Christenberry to present him with an illuminated scroll for being the millionth patron of the hotel's new bar....P.S.: The Colonel also got a drink on the house....Jesse Owens is going in for politics when he gets back from the Olympics....'Going to run for office, eh?" asks Victor Jones in the Boston Evening Globe.

INDIANS BEATEN BY RED SOX ONLY AFTER HARD STRUGGLE: MAGGIO PACES YANKS TO WIN

New York Outfielder Hits Two Homers In 15-3 Victory

ROWE HURLS SHUTOUT

Leading Chicago Cubs Bow To Dodgers Despite Eighth Frame Rally

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

If the surging Cleveland Indians catch the Yankees in the current American League pennant chase—and that sems a lot more likely today than it did two weeks ago—the man who picked the moment for announcing Steve O'Neill's re-appointment as manager of the Tribe can take a large share of the credit.

That announcement, timed as it was to hit the Indians at their lowest ebb, will go down in the books as the smartest psychological move of the season—the spark that set off the Tribe's dynamite drive in the American League.

Always popular with the players, O'Neill's re-signing reacted as a bombshell to an apparently listless outfit, gave them something to fight for, and bounced the club right back into the picture.

Won 11 Games

Up to that time, the Indians were playing a shade over .500 ball, lacking the pep necessary to make a fight for the pennant in any league. Since then they've taken 11 of 14 starts, have shown the hitting and pitching that made the experts pick them as potential pennant timber for the last two years, and have shot from fifth to second place, cutting the Yanks' hitherto tremendous lead to eight games.

They lost their second start in 12 days yesterday, dropping a 9-8 decision to Boston Red Sox, but only after a powerful uphill climb that saw them come from behind a 9-2 handicap to all but tie.

The Yankees, meantime, were finally solving the pitching of the lowly St. Louis Browns and ended their longest losing streak of the year at three games with an 18-hit, 15-3 margin, Jo Di Maggio, who has snapped out of his hitting doldrums since the start of the current western tour, belted two homers as Monte Pearson chalked up his 13th pitching victory.

Schoolboy Rowe turned in another fine pitching performance to give the Tigers a 2-0 victory over the Athletics, and enable the world's champions to hold onto third place, despite the 7-6 triumph of the White Sox over the Senators.

Cubs Bow to Dodgers

The Cubs' National League lead was shortened to two games as Brooklyn Dodgers shoved over a run in the last of the ninth to clip the pennant defenders 6-5. The Cardinals, beaten twice in a row by the Giants, turned on the heat and came through with a 4-2 decision to drop the New Yorkers back to fourth place.

Regaining the third spot were the Pirates, who slugged behind Cy Blanton's six-hit pitching and trounced the Phillies 10-1. The Reds slipped into the second division again, falling 4-0 before the Bees and the five-hit pitching of old Bob Smith.

EARLY MARGIN NO GOOD FOR LEAFS

Baltimore Orioles Even Four-Game Series With 7-4 Victory

BALTIMORE, July 24 (CP). — Pounding the offerings of John Berly and Earl Cook for 12 hits, Baltimore Orioles evened the four-game International Baseball League series last night by downing Toronto Leafs 7-4.

Rain halted the contest with the Birds at bat in the sixth inning.

The Leafs gave Berly a three-run lead to work on in the second inning. But an Oriole rally in the fourth spelled disaster for Toronto's starting pitcher and Cook took up the hill work. Cook, too, failed to halt the rally and five runs came across.

After two innings, Hy. Vandenburg settled down and checked the Leafs without a hit nor run for three innings. Miller homered off Vandenburg following Oliver's walk in the first innings. Singles by Heath and Handley, a wild pitch and error by Hoffner on Burnett's grounder enabled the Leafs to register another pair in the second round.

Four hits was the total garnered off Vandenburg. Blakely had nicked him for a single in the sixth.

Henry Oana led the batting attack for the Flock. He walked on his first trip to the plate and then sent out three consecutive singles, the last one coming in the sixth, which does not count. Vandenburg got the only extra base hit for the Flock, his double in the fourth starting the five-run rally.

'Rip' Arrives

Making his third try for a regular job in major league baseball, Ray "Rip" Radcliff of Chicago White Sox appears to have found his form and threatens to usurp batting leadership of the American League. His average hovers around the .370 mark after a .286 record last season.

4TH FRAME RALLY BEATS KENAL 5-4

Millbrook Adds To Victory Streak In South Durham League

MILLBROOK, July 24.—Rallying briskly in the fourth frame for 4 runs the Millbrook hard ball squad outfinished Kendal in a well-fought game of the South Durham Baseball League on Tuesday evening, winning by a score of 5-3. This boosted the winning team to its eighth victory in the present schedule, only one defeat being chalked up against it.

A big crowd of fans witnessed one of the most interesting battles seen at Kendal for some time. Lefty Caldwell, formerly with Bowmanville, pitched masterful ball, striking out nine of the Millbrook boys, while Harkness, for the winners, pitched steady ball throughout.

Kendal was enjoying a three-run lead going into the fourth frame, when the locals broke loose and took the front line with a four-run outburst. Skitch, the first man up in the fourth, singled. Widdis struck out. Successive singles by Gray and Armstrong, coupled with Edmunds' double and a field by Swanson did the damage which broke up a beautiful pitching battle between Caldwell and Harkness.

The final Millbrook run came in the sixth inning on Edmunds' one-base blow, followed by Armstrong's double. Kendal threatened in the fifth, loading the bases. Skitch, who had relieved Harkness, walked the first three batters, but settled down, striking out the side without any damage being done. Both teams fielded brilliantly with the feature catches being made in the first inning by Skitch, McCarthy and Widdis of balls labelled for base hits.

The line up was:

Millbrook: Harkness, p; Woods, c; Edmunds, 1b; Widdis, 2b; H. Gray, 3b; Armstrong, ss; McCarthy, cf; Swanson, rf; Skitch, lf.

Kendal: Caldwell, p; A. Little, c; Alexander, 1b; J. Martinel, 2b; H. Martinel, 3b; J. Little, ss; Withredy, cf; W. Little, rf; R. Glass, lf.

Score by innings:

Millbrook	000 401 0—5
Kendal	020 100 0—3

Battle Of Age Seen In Saturday's Game

The biggest baseball game of the season will be played tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at three o'clock in Riverside Park between the GM-men of Oshawa and the Petes. These two top teams—who are likely to clash in the C.O.B.L. playoffs—are the best outfits in the loop at present. To date, Oshawa has an edge on the locals but the Petes have been on a long winning streak and their percentage now is higher than that of the General Motors squad. These teams have not met in Peterborough since the opening game of May 23rd and local and district fans are expected to pack the park tomorrow to see this crucial contest, a game that will see Oshawa climb further in front or be pulled back on almost even terms with the Petes.

There is a promise of a pitchers' battle with Jake (Lefty) Biddle and Eddie (Gunner) Whitehill tentatively named as starting flingers. It is not definite but if both pitchers feel right Saturday they will be elected. Biddle is one of the classiest southpaws seen around here in several years while the youthful Whitehill leads the league twirlers so far this season with seven victories. Besides these smart moundsmen, both teams have a flock of hard hitters and classy fielders, and it shapes up as a whiz of a fracas.

FAVORED NET PLAYERS GAIN THE SEMI-FINALS

Wilson And Rainville Survive Strenuous Matches To Remain In Hunt

ONTARIO CHAMPIONSHIPS

TORONTO, July 24 (C.P.) — Matches in the men's and ladies' sections for the Ontario tennis championship enter the semi-final stage here to-day, as the pick of the entries battle it out for the singles' crowns.

Marcel Rainville, Montreal's Davies Cup veteran, will meet Grant McLean, Toronto city champion, while George Leclerc, Ottawa star, clashes with the Eastern Canadian champion, Ross Wilson, Toronto.

In the ladies' section, Mrs. H. L. Beer, Ottawa, is drawn against Dians Pope, London, and Mrs. H. Bolte will take on Mrs. G. Worsley, Toronto's sole survivor in the ladies' singles.

Doubles matches, most of which were rained out yesterday, will be continued, weather permitting.

Rainville took sweet revenge for the beating given him in the Eastern Canadian matches at Ottawa by Bill Pigott, Hamilton, when he defeated the Hamilton ace in three hard-fought sets, 6-2, 9-6, 6-3. Rainville swept the last three games of the final set after the score had been tied at 3-all.

Overcomes Real Worries

Wilson had real worries as he fought three brilliant sets to victory over Gordon Robinson, St. Catharines, the outstanding surprise-package of the tournament. With a slight edge, given by greater experience, Wilson won 8-6, 4-6, 6-3.

McLean had to be in top form to defeat hard-driving Joe O'Hara, Ottawa, by scores of 7-5, 9-11, 6-4, in marathon contest played in a drizzling rain. McLean tied up the second set at 5-all after trailing 5-1 in the outstanding comeback of the day.

In the other quarter-finals match, LeClerc defeated Ed Murphy, another boy from his home-town, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3. It was the only straight-set victory in the men's section through the day.

Ranking players in the women's section came through yesterday's matches with a little more ease than did the male winners. Diana Pope surprised the experts with the ease in which she disposed of Yvette Sawyer, Montreal star, by scores of 6-1, 6-2. Mrs. Beer played steadily to eliminate Mrs. O. E. Gray, Toronto, without too much difficulty, 6-2, 6-4.

Hardest Fought Match

Mrs. Bolte sent Mrs. H. MacDonell, Toronto, to the sidelines in the hardest-fought match of the women's section. The scores were 6-4, 6-3. In the other quarter-final battle, Mrs. F. V. Woodbury, Halifax, went down before the whistling drives of Mrs. Worsley.

Intermitten rain spoiled most of the scheduled doubles matches. Bev. Piers and Mrs. Woodbury, Halifax, eliminated Eloise Tennant, London, and Bruce Hall, Toronto, 6-2, 6-4, in a mixed doubles encounter. In a men's doubles match, Piers and D. Saunderson fell before the Toronto combination of Billesdon and Wilson.

Yesterday's Stars

(By Associated Press.)

Joe Di Maggio and Monte Pearson, Yankees—Former's two homers and latter's six-hit pitching and four hits defeated Browns 15-3.

Bob Smith, Bees—Shut out Reds with five hits.

Cy Blanton, Pirates—Held the Phillies to six hits for 10-1 win.

Johnny Mize, Cardinals—Drove in three runs with homer and doubles in 4-2 victory over Giants.

Schoolboy Rowe, Tigers — His six-hit pitching beat the Athletics 2-0.

Vernon Kennedy, White Sox—Won his own game against Senators with two-bagger in eighth, driving in winning run.

Johnny Kromer, Red Sox—His double and single batted in four runs in 7-3 win over Indians.

CONSISTENT WIN STREAK BETTERS WINGS' CHANCES

Redmen Total 18 Victories Out Of 23 By Taking Pair From Senators

BEARS BEAT ROYALS

(By The Associated Press)

The "secret" of Rochester Red Wings' success in the International League campaign seems to be steadiness.

Since climbing to the top of the standing, the Red Birds have gone at an even pace and let their rivals beat themselves out of contending positions by uncertain streaks.

By winning a doubleheader from the lowly Albany Senators last night 5-4 and 7-5, the Wings made it 18 victories in their last 23 games, including the 11-game winning streak that carried them to the top.

Meanwhile Newark, which set the pace until the Wings moved up, has fallen off to third place and Buffalo Bisons, threatening at times, have fallen back again until they now trail by four games. The Bisons were rained out at Syracuse last night while the Bears scored a slashing 5-1 decision over Montreal Royals in the afternoon. Winding up the program, Baltimore Orioles checked Toronto's rising Maple Leafs 7-4 in a night game halted in the sixth inning by rain.

Overcomes Handicap

Rochester, as usual, was handicapped by its none-too-formidable pitching corps in its bill with Albany but took the opener on a two-run rally in the fifth then battled 10 innings to capture the floodlight contest.

Jimmy Brown's single with the bases loaded gave the Wings their winning runs and enabled big Bob Weiland to score his 19th pitching victory in a relief role. Smead Jolley, Albany slugger, smacked a homer in the first game then smacked out three doubles and three singles in six times up in the second clash.

Newark got the benefit of fine flinging by Spud Chandler in the daylight game and Buzz Boyle's homer inside the park with two aboard to rout Montreal though held to five blows by George Granger.

HOME RUN STANDINGS.

Yesterday's homers—Di Maggio, Yankees, 2; Selkirk, Yankees; Solters, Browns; Bell, Browns; West, Browns; Cuccinello, Bees; Coscarart, Bees; Demaree, Cubs; Herman, Cubs; Mize, Cardinals; Bartell, Giants; Ripple, Giants; Brubaker, Pirates; Camilli, Phillies, one each.

The leaders—Gehrig, Yankees, 28; Foxx, Red Sox, 26; Trosky, Indians, 25; Ott, Giants, 19; Dickey, Yanks, 16; Klein, Phillies, 16; Averill, Indians, 16.

League totals—American 460, National 373—total 833.

YOUNGSTER SETS VANCOUVER PACE

Freddie Wood, Pacific Coast Pro, Leads Way In $5,000 Hunt

VANVCOUVER, July 24.—(CP).—Many of North American's finest professional golfers followed today in the sub-par trail of a slim Vancouver youngster setting the pace in the Jubilee $5,000 Open Golf championship.

Freddie Wood, three years a professional and a product of the Vancouver Municipal Golf links where he now teaches, cracked par for the Shaughnessy Heights course here yesterday by six strokes to take the lead from a fine field with a 67.

Wood entered the second 18-hole round today with a one-stroke lead over Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis United States Western Open champion, who was six under par going into the 17th but three-putted the last two greens and posted a 68. The final two rounds of the 72 hole tournament will be played on Saturday.

Seventeen other shotmakers helped Woodand Buldahl crack the par 73 course wide open. Orville White, Chicago, Macdonald Smith, Nashville, Tenn., Jimmy Thomson, Shawnee-on-Delaware, Gene Kunes, Canadian Open Champion from Norristown, Pa., and Memory Zimmerman of Portland, Ore., returned 69's.

ELECTRICS BEAT POLITICIANS 5-0 IN LEAGUE SOCCER

Losers Give Account Of Selves Throughout Full Ninety Minutes

Ideal weather prevailed, last evening, for the local soccer league game on King Edward Park, when the Canadian General defeated the C. C. F. by the score of five goals to none, in a hard fought game. Both teams had full quotas of players and many substitutes The winners turned out one of the strongest elevens this year. George Blowers making his first appearance this season and a newcomer in MacKenzie, at outside right. Jack MacMaster gave a smart display of the scientific code.

C. C. F. Unfortunate.

Right from the kick off, the Canadian General made for the C. C. F. goal where Tarkington, acting as substitue custodian, held them off the scoring list. The Politicians replied with many aggressive attacks that failed to bring success through the forwards being too anxious to open the scoring. Eventually Mitchell, C. G. E. full back, conceded a penalty kick through handling inside the dreaded territory. Dyer drove hard from the spot to witness the ball hit the inside of the upright to travel across the goal and hit the inside of the other post and be diverted out of danger. A break away by A. Mitchell caught the C. C. F. backs unawares when the ball hit one of their own players and go into the net. While Tarkington was busy holding the C. G. E. attack at bay, Jack McMaster through his individual efforts had the advantage of wonderful ball control to feed his pivot man with accurate passes but Dyer rattled the posts three times in succession to finally miss the corner wth a terrific drive. Play run from end to end until the interval with the score standing. Canadian General 1. C. C. F. 0.

Experience Gained Decision.

On resuming, a re-arranged C. C. F. eleven carried the play against the winners full backs that were well nigh unbeatable, in fact, Blowers producing greater confidence with his excellent tactics. After ten minutes play, the Electrics went further ahead when B. McMaster took the opposing custodian by surprise with a long 20 yard grounder that rolled inside the upright. Thereafter, the C. C. F. enthusiasm carried their attack into the winners' territory to find their shooting too accurate as far as hitting the goal posts were concerned. A break away by C. G. E. gained them the third counter through Murduff. For the last twenty minutes, the Politicians peppered Chamberlain from all angles and they did everything but score as Blowers and Mitchell battled to the limit to keep them off the scoring column but they deserved to tally on more than one occasion. McMaster added two more before the final whistle to make the score read. Canadian General 5. C. C. F. 0.

C. C. F.: J. Tarkington, goal; J. Adams and W. Denisen full backs; J. Flynn, G. McDonald and W. Beggs halves; J. Keith, J. MacMaster, F. Dyer, D. Best and J. Gore forwards. Subs—J. Lane and M. Gahagan.

Canadian General—J. Chamberlain, goal; J. Mitchell and G. Blowers full backs; F. Earle, D. Whatman and K. Mitchell halves; J. Mackenzie, T. Westwood, B. McMaster, A. Mitchell and S. Murduff forwards. Sub—J. Anderson.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY
Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

(By C. J. P.)

TOMORROW afternoon at three o'clock in Riverside Park is the 25th of July. Of course, the 25th of July is not confined to Riverside nor to three o'clock tomorrow—but nevertheless at this time and place tomorrow it will be July 25th. It will be in Oshawa, too, and just let the Motor City sports jotter-downer, who hates agreeing with us, argue about that! Well, the point is that just two months ago tomorrow, the Petes had a game in Oshawa. And they had certain dealings with a Mister Jake (Lefty) Biddle who wears a miniature moustache and hails from Stratford. The dealings were most unpleasant for everyone concerned except Mister Biddle, his buddies and some 2,500 fans. On account of he threw our lads a no-hitter, that's why.

* * * * * *

WELL, tomorrow—which is two months later— the same Oshawa tribe have dealings with the Petes in Riverside Park. And it is an even money proposition that Mister Biddle, moustache and all, will be forksiding 'em across for GM-men. But he will not throw a no-hitter, if he pitches. He will be facing a different Peterborough gang. He will be facing a team that has climbed out of the cellar right up to the second top story of the loop structure, overhauling last year's championship Kingston crew. He will be facing the best hurler in the circuit and a fighting outfit.

* * * * * *

IT looks like Biddle and Whitehill to do the flinging here tomorrow, and, if so, fans can bank on a sweet struggle. They've been waiting a long time to see the return of the Oshawa imports here and they'll see it—if rain doesn't interfere. The biggest crowd of the season (and that isn't saying so much, eh, treasurer?) will be on deck for what should be the best game of the summer. Two smart, scrappy and hard-hitting teams with outstanding twirlers. What more could you ask? If the Petes play their best ball, they should knock off the GM-men who can't be invincible if Kingston and Belleville beat them. But it will be a battle folks.

* * * * * *

THE Belleville scribe tells of a conversation he had recently with Al Heckman here, whom he describes as "one of the best right-handers ever to grace the pitching mounds of this part of the Province." But he's screwy as a pretzel when he says Heck came here from the Cleveland Indians. He should know by now that Al came from Pennsylvania and was never tied up in any way with Speaker. There were many gees wondering for a long time who Al was and where he hailed from when the blond hurler began burning up the circuit in the early C. O. B. L. days. The first game he hurled in Lindsay, he had the Greybirds looking sicker than Aunt Amelia thinks she is, and they all asked Jake Soloman where he found him. "Ha, we pulled one on you; "We got him off a farm right back from here toward Fenelon Falls!" And for a long time, the chagrined Lindsay baseball men believed the tale.

* * * * * *

ANYWAY, Al and the Belleville scorer had a bit of a fanning bee. Heckman pointed out that in the days of such hurlers as Goyer, Williams, Oulette, Dainty, Derry and others, control was the big thing. The pitchers used to work on the batter's weakness and not just fog them through the middle and depend on luck. Jimmie Hall, former fleet-footed local gardener, was one of the finest fielders in the loop, according to Heck. "Hall was a past master," said Al, "at making running catches with his back to home plate. With the crack of the bat Hall would turn and race out and he could take a fly over either shoulder equally easy." The starry ex-flinger likes Foley of the present crop of outfielders.

OLD ball fans here will recall Mully Miller, portly pro catcher for the Petes in the Canadian League back in 1914. Mully was in town today after an absence of 22 years. Here with a party of other Ohio tourists who are spending a week at the Anglers' cottage near the mouth of the Otonabee. Miller, who performed in the old Federal Loop before joining Curley Blount's squad here in '14, was a smart receiver and the Schettler-Miller battery caused plenty of grief around the circuit. And some of the older fans may remember a funny incident in which the big catcher figured one day at Riverside. He had been in a hitting slump for several weeks and was nearly nuts trying to crack the slump. Finally one afternoon he nailed a fast ball on the nose for a sizzling line drive into right field. It was labelled hit all the way and Mully trotted down to first. Just before he reached the bag an amazed look struck the Miller pan. The fielder had played it fast, taken it on the hop and burned it to first to beat him—and rob him of the only chance he had of a hit for too many days. And was he burned up!

GIRLS' Softball League standing, revised up to date, appears in tonight's paper. Keene and Omemee lead the way at present for a playoff berth with the others bunched close behind. As each club must play eight games in this half, there are a number postponed which should be caught up soon. The loop ought to set 'em straight soon as the schedule is billed to end July 31st. Omemee and Westclox clash tonight at the Bowl and every tilt from here in is as important as the judge's mumble at the trial's conclusion.

* * * * * *

THE men's game last night was another Westclox waltz with the Metropolitan Storemen being out of step to the tune of 13-1 at Central. The Big Bens banged the cabbage around the garden in three frames to slip the Mets down into fourth place a full tussle back of Quakers. Tom Parsons pitched five-hit ball while the other twirler was just so-so. A guy stole home on Parsons to rob him of a shut-out. Omemee meets Westclox here tonight while it's Westclox vs. Quakers Monday. It ends July 29th with two tilts.

Name Max Challenger Probably Next Week

BERLIN, July 24 (AP) — Max Schmeling, German conqueror of Joe Louis, said Thursday John R. Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, told him he would be named as the challenger for James J. Braddock's heavyweight boxing title not later than July 29. Schmeling received the assurance in a telephone conversation with Kilpatrick, who is at Salzburg, Austria.

The need of the Garden declared the bout would be held not later than September 30, according to Schmeling. The Garden, which has Braddock under contract, has until the 29th of this month to name the challenger. Schmeling has signed to box for the 20th Century Sporting Club and to date the two organizations have been unable to get together.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

Standing in the Girls' Softball League to date—(2nd half, not including July 24th game):

Team	P	W	L
Keene	5	4	1
Omemee	5	3	2
C. G. E.	5	2	3
Westclox	3	1	2
Bailleboro	6	2	4

The second half schedule concludes next Friday, but there are several postponed or transferred games to be staged before the sectional playoffs commence. Dates for these games will probably be announced shortly by the secretary. Keene won the first-half title by beating Westclox. The top two teams in the second half playoff in two out of three games, the winner then meeting Keene for the league championship and the right to enter P.W.S.U. playdowns. Tonight (Friday) sees Omemee playing Westclox at the Bowl Monday, C.G.E. and Westclox play.

Westclox	14	10	4
Quakers	18	7	11
Metropolitan Stores	18	6	12
Omemee	15	3	12

Behind the four-hit pitching of T. Parsons, Westclox slugged their way to a lop-sided 13-1 win over Metropolitan Stores last night at Central. The Alarm men went out in front in the first inning and were never headed from that point. The Chain Store crew, battling to make the play-offs, were helpless all the way and only the smart base-running of Clarke averted a shut-out.

T. Parsons, in hurling the win, had his opponents in the hollow of his hand from start to finish. He displayed excellent control throughout and had six strike-outs to his credit. Woods was on the hill for the losers but was no puzzle to the Clockmakers. They ganged up on him in three innings for all of their runs with the big inning being the fifth when seven runs crossed the plate.

White and Ellis led the winners' batting attack with three hits each while Curry lashed out a lusty triple in the fifth inning to drive in three runs. Vitarelli was the only one of the losers to secure two hits.

The teams:

Metropolitan: Vitarelli, 3b; Clarke, 1b; Coughlin, lf; Andrews, cf; Heffernan, rf; Renwick, c; Fleming, ss; Mein, 2b; Woods, p; Ridley, pinch-hitter.

Westclox: Crary, ss; Stanger, 3b; White, c; O'Leary, 3b; T. Parsons, p; Goodson, cf; Curry, lf; Ellis, 1b; Foley, rf.

Manager Bill Deacon Clamps Down On Redheads' Olympic Coaching Hopes

On the Way to the Olympics, Aboard the S.S. Duchess of Bedford, July 24.—Strapping Torchy Peden of Vancouver, one of Canada's greatest professional six-day bicycle riders, who is accompanying the Canadian Olympic team to Berlin, was told last night by team manager-coach Bill Deacon of Toronto that his coaching help was not wanted. Peden is paying his own expenses to the games.

"The trouble goes back to the six-day races at Toronto and Montreal last spring when I criticized Referee Deacon for not making the riders pick up properly," Torchy said.

Deacon is chairman of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association and C.W.A. representative at professional races.

Torchys intention was to help coach the cyclists at the games. His cousin, Claude "Rusty" Peden of Toronto, is one of Canada's six-man team. Torchy's brother, Doug., one of Western Canada's best amateur bikemen, is a member of the Canadian Olympic basketball team and is also aboard.

Doug. tried unsuccessfully for a place on the Olympic bike team at the trials in Toronto last month. Torchy is reported as having signed contracts to ride in Europe next season and it is believed Doug. will turn professional and ride with him.

A spectator at the Toronto trials, Torchy said he considered the present squad the strongest bike team ever to represent the Dominion in Olympic competition.

PERRY REPORTED TENNIS 'FAGGED'

But Great Britain Still Favored To Retain Famous Davis Cup

WIMBLEDON, Eng., Juy 24 (CP).—Great Britain ruled a favorite today to retain the Davis Cup against Australia's challenge, despite reports reaching the tennis world that the home team's great Fred Perry is suffering from "tennis fag."

Experts declared that in recent practice Perry had shown the same listlessness he displayed last week when he lost to Don Budge of California in four sets in a practice series at Eastbourne. He played erratically with flashes of irritability.

But it was not forgotten that Perry reaches his greatest heights when the need is greatest, and observers believed the star, who seldom raises his game in practice, would be back in unbeatable form by the time the singles open on Saturday.

Rain yesterday washed out the next to last practice session. Despite the loss of Adrian Quist, champion of Australia, reducing the challenging forces to a two-man attack—grey-haired Jack Crawford and curly haired Vivian McGrath, the Australian camp teemed with confidence. Victories over the United States and

N.S. Fishing Trip Is Dream To Dizzy

NEW YORK, July 24 (C.P.).—Dizzy Dean looks forward some day to a fishing trip in Nova Scotia—unless his southern drawl was incorrectly interpreted.

Down in the dugout before rescuing a game for St. Louis Cards from New York Giants the National League's best pitcher announced his daily retirement:

"One more year of this game," quoth he, "and I'm gonna take myself a boat and go a-fishing. I think I'll try that 'Nofus Scofus' place I read about."

Germany raised Anzac hopes they could end Britain's three-year grip on the historic cup.

Perry's teammates, W. H. ('Bunny') Austin, singles star, and Charlie Tuckey and Pat Hughes, the doubles choices, appear in top form.

The draw for the opening matches will be made today. It may see the odds shortened, particularly if Crawford is matched against Austin in the curtain-raiser. The veteran Australian is rated a good chance of beating Austin to give the challengers no worse than an even break on the opening day.

Soccer Notes

Final arrangements have been made by the Canada Packers executive for the big attraction on Saturday afternoon when they play Oshawa here on King Edward Park at 3.30. Referee Alex. McKinley. If the fans turn out for these games it will give the clubs encouragement to bring outside teams.

The association has fixed up Kimberley (Toronto) team as a special attraction for the holiday when they play a picked eleven from the city teams. If it is possible, the Canadian General are endeavoring to complete arrangements with another Toronto team as a Saturday attraction before the holiday.

George Blowers made his first appearance, this season, last night, in the C. G. E. line-up. They had many players anxious to participate which has become uncommon of of late but we wish the Electrics will always have this complaint.

The popular C. C. F. custodian, Ed Risheau, didn't take his usual place in goal last night. He is still away on his honeymoon. Best of good luck Ed.

After being away from the game for two years, Tommy Westwood made his initial appearance against the C. C. F. at inside right, but returned to his more accustomed place, at centre half, before the finish.

Hackney has submitted to the British Home Office the first detailed plan for air-raid protection submitted by an English borough.

Here is a little news from the City League. The results of the week play have been completed and a league standing made up:

June 29—Choates won from All Saints B 3-2; St. John's defeated Quaker 3-2; Peterborough B defeated Peterborough A 3-2.

July 6—All Saints A and Peterborough B tied; All Saints B won from Peterborough A 4-1; Quaker defeated Choates 3-2.

July 13—All Saints B won from Peterborough B 4-1; Peterborough A and All Saints A tied; St. John's defeated Choates 3-1.

STANDING TO DATE

Team	P	W	T	L	P
St. Johns	3	3	0	0	6
All Saints B	4	2	0	2	4
Peterborough B	4	1	1	2	3
All Saints A	3	1	1	1	3
Quakers	3	1	1	1	3
Choates	3	1	1	1	3
Peterborough A	4	1	0	3	2

A meeting has been called for Saturday, July 25th at the Peterborough Tennis Club for the committee in charge of the city tournament. Kawartha, Quaker and Peterborough clubs are asked to have a member present.

Apparently a good many fans are becoming worried about the league standing. It was hoped that a standing could have been published in to-day's paper but the returns from one or two games are not in yet. The standing will be published on the earliest possible date.

Schedule for Saturday, July 25 in the Kawartha League is as follows: North Group—Kawartha B at Quaker, Lindsay at Peterborough B. In the South Group—Kawartha A play at Peterborough A, Port Hope at Lakefield, Peterborough C a bye.

Golf Facts

Not one player in a thousand knows how he starts his swing.

Check up on some of your friends and you'll come to realize the truth of this statement. Just ask a member of your regular foursome to make a few swings for you.

As your friend starts his backswing note what part of his body moves first. It doesn't matter what part moves first, chances are he isn't conscious of how he starts.

After noting the way he starts have him stand still and ask him to name the part he moves first. Unless you've helped him locate the first part to move he won't be able to make even a good guess.

The way the swing is started is important because golfers comes only when something like the correct order of movement is followed.

Poor Crop Will Cut Aberhart's Dividends

EDMONTON, July 24 (CP) — Prospects of a poor crop in Alberta this year may result in lowering the amount of basic dividends Premier Aberhart's Social Credit government intends to pay to bona fide residents of the province.

In an address here last night, the Premier said, "I'm sorry the production is so low because the size of the dividends depends on production." He added "When the production is low the dividend is low; when production is high the dividend is high. The standard of living depends on production."

Mr. Aberhart reiterated the dividends will be paid within 18 months of the time his administration took office, last Sept. 3.

Three thousand guests from 50 countries attended the display of the Society of British Aircraft Constructors, which was held in Hatfield, England.

CHAPTER 46

WIN HAD said he needed her. Of all the things he might have said, all of the ways back to her heart he might have followed, of all the passionate words in the English language, he had to choose the only ones that could have broken through Joan's shield.

Reason told her that Win never had need of anyone who could not help him. He had Beatrice, a wealthy wife, daughter of a famous surgeon, a helpmate to guide his way up the ladder of success, a social asset. What need could he have of her?

Keeping from Julian all the things that seethed within her was enough to occupy her mind that day. Otherwise she might have thought that it was odd for Sheila to send for Win when she had her own doctor to whom she professed complete professional devotion.

Sheila telephoned her while she was taking dication from Julian.

"Hello," said Joan. "Fine, thank you . . . no, I'm afraid I can't, Mr. Sloane has enough work to keep me busy until dinner time. . . . I'll tell him you telephoned."

Thus did she dispose of Sheila's telephone call. So Sheila had heard that Pierre would recover. Sheila hadn't said anything to Joan about asking Win to drop in at her apartment that afternoon and she had not been very anxious for Joan to do so.

On the contrary, Joan had the impression that Sheila had telephoned to make sure that Joan would not do so.

Unconsciously she shrugged her shoulders. What difference did it make to her who telephoned Win and asked him to call for whatever reason? Was she going to be a complete little fool at this late day and think that every woman in the world found Win as attractive as she did? Or as unattainable? She was conscious of the thought that a little thing like a wife wouldn't stand in the way of any amatory advances that the predatory Sheila would care to make to an attractive young physician.

The next afternoon, while Julian napped, Joan dropped by Sheila's apartment. She found Sheila reclining on her chaise lounge, a picture in coral chiffon.

"Well, Joan, I didn't expect you at this hour."

"Resting?" Joan inquired.

"Ill," Sheila answered. "I'm just about able to get through my performances. Pierre's accident has shaken me beyond all belief. Last night I thought I couldn't get through my performance."

Already Sheila had dramatized Pierre's act into an "accident".

"Dr. Winslow told me you had telphoned him."

"I had to, darling. I was afraid any other doctor might ask me why I was in such a state of collapse. I couldn't bear to try to think of any reason. It wasn't necessary to explain to Dr. Winslow."

"Did you find him understanding?" Joan asked and hoped that the note of sarcasm was not too pronounced in her voice.

"Charming. Where do you meet all your charming men?" There was no throwing Sheila with any sarcasm, delicate or otherwise.

"He's not one of my men. He's a boy from home. He's married, Sheila, and practically a blushing bridegroom."

Sheila favored her with a quick glance that said very plainly she would never have guessed it. She didn't read the misery in Joan's face.

"Well, married or not, he still is charming. He said he would come by here this afternoon to see how I am."

Joan's quick return of credulous glance embarrassed the blooming Sheila and she added, "And to have a cocktail."

Joan picked up her bag and gloves. "Good, then you won't be left alone. I'll run along. I just came out for a breath of air."

"Don't go," Sheila said, but she didn't urge Joan to stay and Joan was glad. She didn't want her exit to be too marked.

She got away but she hadn't timed it soon enough. She met Win entering the elevator.

"What a break! You're looking better but a trifle peaked, Joan. You need some air."

Because there were others in the lobby, Joan permitted herself to be guided out of the apartment house and into his car.

"I don't know why I'm here," she said and looked at her watch. "Sheila is expecting you and I'm in a hurry."

"Sheila will be all right and there may never be another opportunity like this for me. Tea?"

Joan hadn't the slightest intention of having tea with him. But she did And he talked about his work and she talked about her job. They skirted the edges of dangerous topics and came back to sensible things.

They didn't talk about Beatrice but not talking about her was as important as discussing her freely.

"This has been great fun," he said when it was over. "Can we do it again, Joan?"

"I don't see how," she said, thinking: This is the last time I will ever see him.

But she knew it wasn't and so did he.

She saw him again one afternoon when Sheila had some guests in. Win was one of them.

She saw him on one of the rare evenings when she and Julian dropped in at the theater to see how the play was going. He was in Sheila's dressing room.

He asked her to go to an exhibit with him the next afternoon and she accepted. That sort of thing was all right in New York. In Blakeville it would have constituted a scandal.

He said he had an invitation, Beatrice was away and he wanted to see it.

It wasn't wrong, she told herself. Win didn't love her. He really loved his wife and there was no reason in this modern world why she couldn't be friends with him. But deep inside of her she knew that that was rationalization, that she still loved him, that he was an impetuous boy who had followed the dictates of his heart, his heart which did not belong to her. And since it was that way, and since in no way was he unfaithful to his wife, she had a right to this small—terribly small—part of him.

If she had tried to analyze her feeling for Win, she would have found that it was changing but she didn't know how to analyze it. It was no longer painful for her to see him, to run into him at Sheila's apartment where the actress gathered cliques of people she liked until she tired of them.

It was only when she ran to orgies of remembrances that she was unhappy.

In this new and temporary happiness her tenderness for Julian was strengthened. It made her unhappy to think that he had suffered for love and was to have nothing. She felt close to him and found the little ways that were possible to her to show her devotion to him.

Then one day, while she was waiting for the traffic lights to turn from red to green, she stood at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Fifty-Seventh street. Something made her turn her head.

In the dimness of a taxi she saw Sheila True and Win. Sheila's face was turned upward toward Win's as he bent over her.

Then the lights changed and the taxi moved on. Joan did not.

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FIRE DOG.

Do you know what a fire dog is? Well, it's not really a special kind of dog, like a scottie or a police dog or a big St. Bernard, but it's a dog who formerly liked to go to fires with the engines. Before they had automobile fire engines these dogs would run with the horses who pulled the great fire trucks, and sometimes they would run right between the legs of the horses. They were very brave, these dogs.

The reason I'm telling you about them is because one day, when Uncle Wiggily was out walking, he met a fire dog. Of course he didn't know it was a fire dog. It looked just like an ordinary spotted dog, but Uncle Wiggily noticed that the animal seemed sad.

"What's the matter?" Uncle Wiggily asked kindly. "Are you lost, Mr. Dog? Can't you find your way home?"

"In a way, I'm lost," the dog replied, "I haven't any real home now. I used to live in a fire house, with the horses. But they don't use horses any more. They have automobiles, which can get to the fire quicker and put it out. But these automobiles go so fast that I can't keep up with them! So I just sort of wander around, lonesome."

Kind Uncle Wiggily

"That indeed is too bad," Mr. Longears said. "I'm so sorry for you! If you like, you can come and live with me. Although," he added, doubtfully, "I'm not sure you would fit in my hollow stump bungalow.

But you may sleep in the back, if you wish, and then you won't be lonesome."

The fire dog seemed happier right away. "Thank you!" he exclaimed. "I don't suppose you have any horses in your yard?"

"No, I'm afraid not." Uncle Wiggily laughed. "But there are lots of rabbits, and they're fun, Mr. Fire Dog! So come along home with me!"

It really was surprising how that lonesome fire dog brightened up. He wagged his tail and frisked about gayly. "Now I've got a home!" he sang. "Even if there aren't any fire horses, I know I'll be happy there." He ran around in little circles. Then suddenly he stopped. "What's that?" he asked quickly. "That noise?"

"I don't hear anything," said Mr. Longears puzzled.

"But I do!" the fire dog cried. "It's a fire alarm! Hop on my back, Uncle Wiggily, and we'll go to the fire!"

Although the rabbit gentleman still couldn't hear any fire alarm, he hopped on the dog's back and off they started at a great rate. And the strangest thing happened. The dog ran straight toward the hollow stump bungalow!

Uncle Wiggily's House!

"Why that's my house you're running to!" the rabbit gentleman gasped. "Is there a fire there?"

"I don't know, but I hear an alarm!" the dog exclaimed. "Listen!"

Surely enough, now Uncle Wiggily heard a "clang, clang, clang," just like a fire alarm! It was very queer. It seemed to be coming from the bungalow.

When they got to Uncle Wiggily's home there wasn't a sign of a fire. But still that "clang, clang, clang" went on. It was louder now. It came from inside the bungalow.

"We'll have to see about this," Uncle Wiggily cried. "Come in with me, Mr. Fire Dog, and we'll see who is making that noise!"

Both of them went into the bungalow. Then they discovered that the clanging noise was coming from a closet.

"Who's in there?" Uncle Wiggily called. "Who's making that clanging?"

"I am, Uncle Wiggily!" said Baby Bunty's voice, rather frightened. "I can't open the door. I'm locked in, and I banged on a frying pan hoping someone would hear me! Please open the door!"

You may be sure that the door was soon opened. You see, Baby Bunty had been alone in the house and she went in the closet to play and the wind blew the door shut! But she was all right now, because the fire dog had such sharp ears.

Tomorrow night I'll tell you another story about the fire dog, if the electric light doesn't blink at the bookcase and make it laugh. It will be called Uncle Wiggily and the kettle.

Committed For Trial On Charge Of Murder

FORT FRANCES, Ont., July 24 (CP).—Glen Lesage, 16, was committed for trial on a charge of murdering his step-father, Frank Lesage, by shooting him.

The younger Lesage was arraigned before Magistrate H. L. Cruso for preliminary hearing and his committal was ordered. He will remain in custody until the Fall Assizes.

Lesage was alleged to have shot his step-father in an Indian trapper of the Sapawe Lake district, 50 miles west of Fort William, last Sunday. Police were told the lad shot his father who had threatened to kill Mrs. Lesage and four children in the family.

NEW SHIPPING ACT IN FORCE AUGUST 1

Is Bulkiest Statute Ever Passed By Any Canadian Parliament

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP) — The bulkiest statute ever passed by the Canadian Parliament is due to come into force Aug. 1. It is the Canada Shipping Act, enacted in 1934 and amended this year but left to be brought into effect by Royal proclamation. The necessary proclamation will issue the first of next month.

The Act is a complete compilation and revision of all the law relating to inland, coastal and ocean shipping.

One of the most important clauses concerning lake shipping is one preserving the trade of carrying goods between two Canadian ports to vessels of Canadian registry. Formerly it was possible for United States and other foreign vessels to engage in this trade by taking goods from the head of the lakes to an American port and transhipping them there to Montreal or another Canadian port. The new Act makes this impossible.

Proclamation of the Act will mark another stage in establishment of new constitutional relations between the British Dominions and the United Kingdom. Formerly the Merchant Shipping Act of the British Parliament governed all shipping throughout the Empire but when the doctrine of equality of status of the Dominions was adopted at the Imperial conference of 1926 machinery was set in motion to provide the Dominions with their own shipping laws.

ELEANOR HOLM HURLS CHARGES AT OFFICIALS

"Champagne Girl" Claims Committee Head Disgraced Self at Party.

100's BROKE RULES

Ousted Swimmer Has Offer of Movie Contract in England—Not Turning Professional.

BERLIN, July 25.— (AP).— The last possibility for Eleanor Holm Jarrett to compete in the 11th Olympics games apparently vanished to-day when the German Olympic committee announced her entry in the 100 metres back stroke swimming event had been withdrawn at the 11th hour.

Up to closing time for entries in the Olympic office last night the name of the beauteous New York swimmer, dismissed from the American team for repeated violations of anti-drinking and curfew rules, had remained on the list which had been filed prior to the arrival of the team yesterday.

No substitute was named for Mrs. Jarrett, thus leaving the United States with only two entries—Adith Mortridge Segal of Los Angeles and Alice Bridges of Uxbridge, Mass.—in the competition which Eleanor won at Los Angeles and which she figured to win again.

Mrs. Jarrett, who won the 1932 Olympic 100 metres back-stroke title at Los Angeles and was expelled from this year's team for drinking and otherwise breaking training rules on board the S.S. Manhattan, hit back strong at officials.

Charges Misconduct.

She charged misconduct during ocean voyage involved numerous athletes besides herself and attacked officials for their neglect of their responsibilities as well as their misconduct in the presence of members of the American team, naming Gustavus T. Kirby, treasurer of the committee, among others.

Mrs. Jarrett meanwhile was swamped with offers to capitalize the situation, including a proposal from London to appear in motion pictures. She refused to decide on any definite form of action for the time being.

"I'm not going to turn professional and I plan to remain through the Olympic games," she said. "I would like to challenge the winner of the back-stroke championship because I am sure I can beat anybody in the world."

Likes Champagne

When informed her last hopes of reinstatement had vanished, Mrs. Jarrett issued a statement which follows in part:

"I've never made any secret of the fact that I like a good time, particularly champagne. Everyone knows that, including the committee. The newspapers published my statement on that subject during the final tryouts at New York.

"Why, then, if they felt so strongly on the subject, didn't all the American Olympic committee keep me off the team right away? Why did they have to wait until we were in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean before suddenly deciding that my conduct was too unbearable to permit my remaining on the team or that I was such a bad influence on the rest of the boys and girls?

"In the first place I wasn't the only athlete to break training rules or stay up after curfew sounded. There were at least one hundred offenders one way or another.

"I'm not attempting to condemn any athletes for their so doing, nor

BLUE BEARD TO DIE FOR LATEST CRIME

Barber Who Killed 7 Wives Claims Execution Will be His Happiest Day.

LOS ANGELES, July 25 (CP). — Doomed to die on the gallows for the death of the last of his seven wives, Robert S. James sat in the "high-powered tank" of the county jail to-day, shunned by his fellow prisoners.

Next Tuesday the red-haired barber with the pale face and inscrutable green eyes will be led before Superior Judge Charles Fricke, to be sentenced to hang.

A jury verdict of first degree murder with no recommendation for leniency made it mandatory on the court to impose the maximum penalty.

The end of a bizarre case that resembled a composite of a Poe horror tale and second-rate fiction came into the court after deliberating slightly more than nine hours. The marrying barber, charged with executing a diabolical plot to kill his wife, Mary, by rattlesnake venom and drowning to collect on her life insurance, appeared calm.

He was calm throughout the trial —the 39-year-old man whom the defence pictured as a neurotic, highly emotional person who "had a way with women."

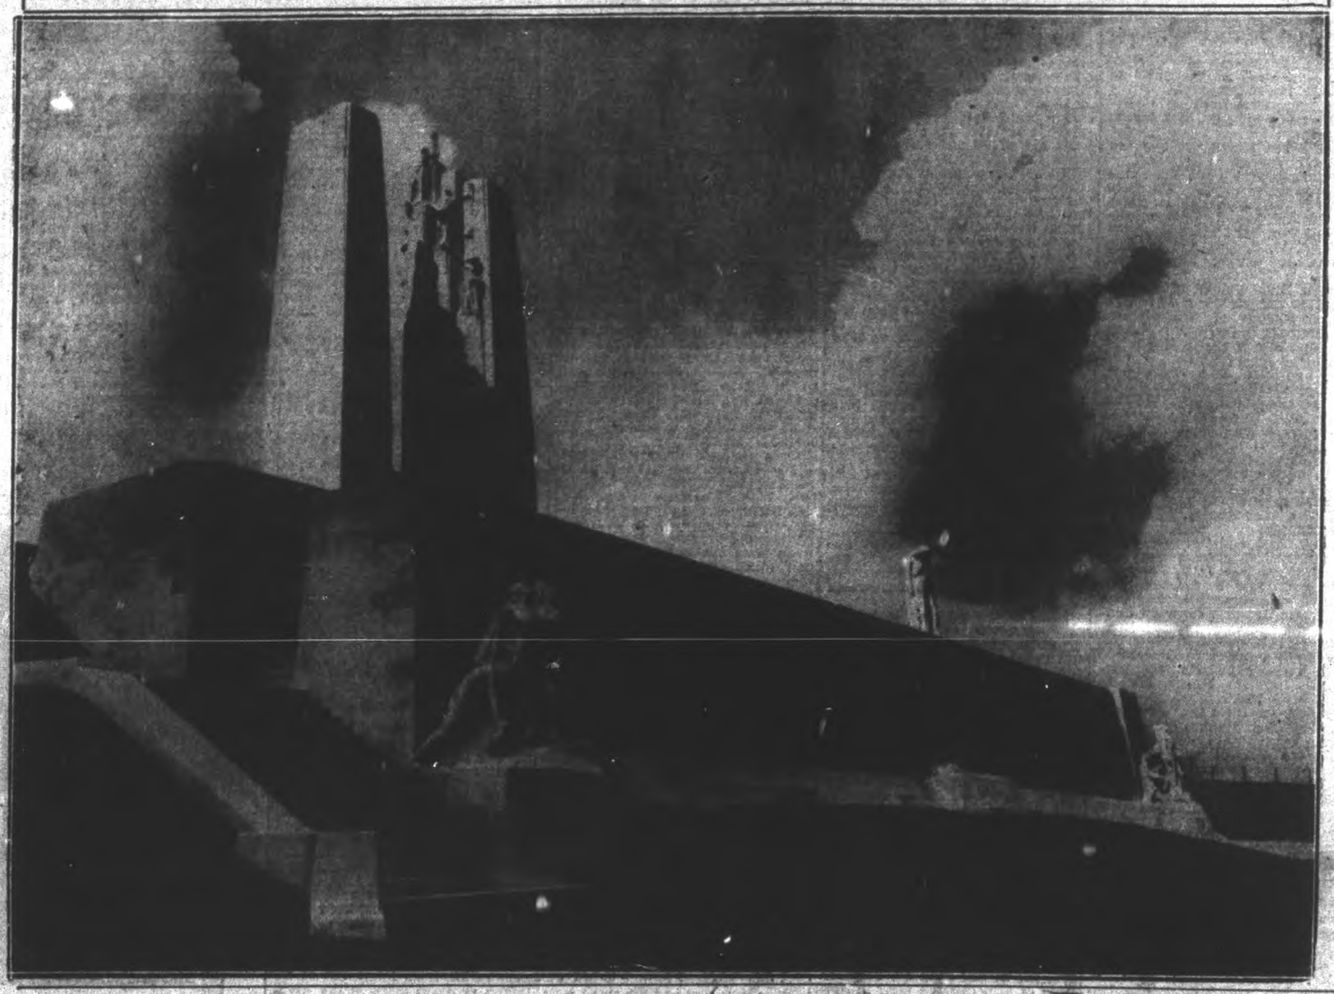
"I am not afraid to die," he said. "I haven't had any interest in this old world for the last four or five years. They can make it just as snappy as they want to—and the day I'm hanged will be the happiest day of my life."

In Memory of 60,000 Canadians Who Died in the Great War

Here is a splendid view of the Vimy Ridge Memorial, erected to the memory of Canadian soldiers who fought and died in one of the great war's most important allied victories. Six thousand Canadians will be there on Sunday to watch the King unveil this magnificent memorial designed and built at cost of $1,250,000 by Walter Allward, famous Canadian sculptor. Eleven years have been required in erecting the memorial which is the largest in France or Belgium.

Four inscriptions have been engraved, two in both English and French, one in French and one in Latin. The main inscription on the westerly faces of the pylons will read:

"To the valor of their countrymen in the great war and in memory of their sixty thousand dead, this monument is raised by the people of Canada."



RUMOR MOTHERS MAY POOL PRIZE FROM STORK DERBY

Two However Stand Aloof — Will Take Chances On Clear-Cut Victory

ONE REFUSES $50,000

TORONTO, July 25—(CP)—While indications of a communal feeling were seen today among part of the band of Toronto mothers entered in the unique Millar will "stork derby," at least two of the entrants for the $500,000 prize will stand pat on their chances and enters no share-the-wealth movement.

There was no secret about a scheduled meeting "somewhere in Toronto" last night at which Mrs. Grace Bagnato, mother of nine and expecting another before Oct. 31 was one of the principals.

But Mrs. Bagnato would not say whether the meeting was held or, if it was, who attended. She did admit the meeting was scheduled and that it concerned some of the mothers—two or three—who rank high in the stork steeplechase.

Mrs. Martin Kenny, little French-Canadian woman who married an Irishman, will have no dealings with the others. There will be no pooling of profits or acquired wealth for her.

Refuses $50,000

"I was offered $50,000 cash to agree to an arrangement with others," she said. "The offer came from a lawyer. I know him but can't tell you whom he represented."

She said she turned the offer down flat.

Mrs. Kenny claims she has given birth to 12 children in the 10-year period specified by the will. She would not say how many were living or dead or if any were stillborn. She will produce "records to prove all 12 births at the proper time, and there's going to be at

Kawartha-Trent Waterway Country Is Proving Land of Tourists' Dreams

Cross-Section of Peterborough Visitors Expresses Satisfacton With the Fishing, Scenery, Sports and General Hospitality

ALL TOLD OF DISTRICT BY FRIENDS

THE Examiner took a cross-section of Peterborough's tourists yesterday, inteviewing a number of American visitors just as the reporter came across them on George St.

As a result three outstanding facts were established. First that the visitors were unanimous in their satisfaction with the Kawartha-Trent Waterway country as a vacation land.

Second that they had been impressed by the friendliness and hospitality of the Canadian people as a whole and by the feeling of being thoroughly at home in this country.

Third—that not a single one had been attracted here by tourist advertising, but had heard of the place through friends rather than by means of publicity.

Fishing Is Fine

"The fishing has been fine. We have been getting our limit of bass and enjoying our visit to this district very much," said Dr. C. A. Portz of Canton, O., who with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Huff of Dover, O., have been holidaying at the Tipperary Hotel at Crowe Lake.

"This is our third visit to Canada but our first to this part of Ontario," Dr. Portz said. "We were up in the Muskoka district once and another time visited the eastern part of Ontario crossing over from New York state below Prescott."

Like other tourists interviewed Dr. Portz said that he had not seen any advertising of the Peterborough district but had heard of it from a friend who had holidayed here. He and the members of his party were well satisfied with their trip to Crowe Lake and with their holiday. Part of their fishing was done in Turtle Lake where Dr. Portz said there was no trouble in landing the limit of bass in a short time, with the biggest fish running around three pounds.

They Like Deer Bay.

Delighted with this district and with the accommodation they found at John Armstrong's summer resort at Deer Bay were A. H. Webster and his wife of 6 Wendall Ave., Rochester, N.Y., when interviewed on George street. With their son Hugh, Mr. and Mrs. Web-

PRICE OF MILK MAY BE HIGHER

Producers Survey Results of Drought—Some Already Feeding Hay.

DEMAND KEEN

Milk producers last night pooled their estimates of crop loss with resulting adverse repercussions against their industry, and their consensus affirmed that present affecting conditions are tending to increase the cost of milk.

Some of these dairymen reported they have been feeding their own hay that should largely be held until the late autumn and winter. The crop of spring grain has been greatly reduced by the June-July drought, and this supply of feed is going to be substantially less than average, pastures have been burned to a crisp and only abundant rains can restore them.

These were some of the factors mentioned at the meeting in the office of A. D. Runions, representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and at the same time it was reported that the demand for milk has shown exceptional liveliness.

Plans for the erection of 680 new flats at a cost of $1,760,000 are being discussed in London.

Coaxes Off 'Wild Man' For Her Third Hubby

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—(CP) The tattooed lady ran away with the circus "wild man." Behind her, she left the show's "barker," Frank E. Hank. And Hank told about it to-day in obtaining an annulment. But, on top of that, he added, he learned his bride—"Nellie, the tattooed lady"—had not obtained a final decree of divorce from a former husband.

North Carolina Professor Is Detained After Attending Funeral

ASHEVILLE, N.C., July 25.—(AP) The activities of Z. L. Clevenger, 54-year-old bachelor uncle of Helen Clevenger, the night the 18-year-old New York University student was slain were under scrutiny by authorities today.

Cleveneger, professor at North Carolina College, was held in jail for questioning after he returned from Ohio where he attended funeral services for the young girl.

He testified under questioning last week at the coroner's inquest he heard no disturbance during the night. His room in the fashionable resort hotel where the killing took place was around the hall from the girl's quarters.

Guests on the same floor and across a court said they heard a woman scream about 1 o'clock the morning the July 16, the time officers believe the girl was attacked, mutilated, and then shot to death.

Mark Wollner, 35-year-old concert violinist, held for investigation in the case since last Saturday, was released laste yesterday by the sheriff, but two employees of the hotel still were being questioned.

They are Daniel Gaddy, 28-year-old night watchman whom the sheriff described as "the key to the whole mystery"; and L. D. Roddy, negro elevator boy.

VETERANS OF VIMY ARRIVE IN FRANCE FOR THE UNVEILING

Over 4,000 Entrain At Le Havre For Lille And Ypres

WARM FRENCH WELCOME

By Capt. W. W. Murray
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LE HAVRE, France, July 25.— Disembarking to-day from three trans-Atlantic liners, nearly 4,000 Canadian war veterans, their wives, children, and the fathers and mothers of Canadian soldiers who gave their lives in the Great War, reached the shores of France.

Escorted across the ocean by a Canadian warship, H.M.C.S. Saguenay, the great peace-time army is proceeding to Vimy Ridge where the national monument will be unveiled by King Edward VIII.

The Canadian destroyer was scheduled to continue to Boulogne where it will remain several days—the first occasion on which a Canadian warship has called at a French continental port. Tomorrow seamen from the destroyer will constitute the guard of honor at the Vimy Ridge ceremony.

Accompanied by bandsmen, buglers and pipers, the pilgrims disembarked in royal fashion, and the city of Le Havre was ready to receive them. Arrangements for the expeditious movement of this vast throng had been made long ago, and as quickly as they descended the gangplanks they were ushered to waiting special trains for Lille and Ypres.

Fort Ready For Year

For more than a year the port of Le Havre has been awaiting the return of the Canadians, for to them the city has a peculiar appeal. While it was not in any sense the entry-port to the Great Eddie used fire and smoke to oust the hornets.

French Communists Reported Raising Detachment to Aid Spanish Govt.

By Elmer W. Peterson
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

Head-quarters of the Northern Fascist Army at Burgos, Spain, July 25.—(AP).—The rebel troops which have been marching on Madrid intent on smashing the Legtist Government paused to-day about 10 miles from the capital city, their next move undecided. Twenty-eight of fifty provinces were reported ununder their control.

Enthusiasm throughout the region for the rebel cause was observed, apparently in the firm belief that Madrid soon will be in rebel hands.

Realizing defeat now means their ruin, the popular front forces were reported to have fortified passes in the Guadarrama Mountains with every instrument of war at theeir command.

Hopes that events within Madrid itself might compel the retreat of the Mountain defenders formed the basis of the Fascist military strategy.

BATTLE HEARD IN CAPITAL

MADRID, July 25—Loyalist artillery blasted away at rebel columns to-day in mountains passes north of Madrid.

As the artillery battle reopened shell explosions could be seen from Madrid along the top lines held by troops 40 miles away.

The Somo Sierra Pass about 50 miles from Madrid was solidly in the hands of Loyal forces holding positions against any advance from the north.

Two other passes, Navacerrad and Leon, also were dominated by the government. The three entrances to Madrid were shut tightly.

PLEAD FOR ARMS

PARIS, July 25 (AP)—The Spanish embassy to-day asked the French government for urgent delivery of arms to Spain's embattled government, it was stated in usually well-informed sources.

The secret raising of a detachment of "shock troops" by French Communists to aid the Leftist Spanish government was reported in Nationalist quarters.

CEUTA BEING BOMBED

GIBRALTAR, July 25 (CP-Havas)—Loyalist Spanish warships bombarded Seuta to-day. Rebel batteries replied and one of the the shells scored a hit, damaging the bows of the battleship Jaime I, dispatches said.

Detonations of the artillery were clearly heard in this British Crown colony, across the straits a few miles north of Cueta. It was the second time Loyalist warships shelled the rebel point.

BISHOP GALLAGHER UPHOLDS CAMPAIGN OF FR. COUGHLIN

Denies His Visit to Vatican Has Anything to do With Priest's Activities.

"SPEAKS FOR PEOPLE"

NAPLES, July 25 (CP).—Bishop Michael Gallagher of Detroit, arriving here to-day, denied absolutely his visit to the Vatican had anything to do with the activities of Father Charles E. Coughlin, priest who recently verbally attacked President Roosevelt.

"The Vatican never intervened in the Coughlin matter," said Bishop Gallagher.

"It couldn't intervene, inasmuch as the head of all priests in the Diocese of Detroit—therefore also the superior of Father Conughlin—is myself.

"It must be therefore for myself to make observations about Father Coughlin, not the Vatican."

If the Pope should ask him about Father Coughlin, Bishop Gallagher said: "I will say Father Coughlin speaks for the people, not for the William Lamke party. (The "third party in the United States presidential election campaign.

Some Just, Some Acute Things

"He said some very just things and very acute things, and because of his priestly mission is exactly that he is occupying himself with the needs of the people.

"I absolutely cannot speak contrary to Father Coughlin."

Bishop Gallagher declared the Detroit priest was in accord with the Roosevelt Government at first, "because President Roosevelt promised above all a realization of some provisions regarding monetary affairs and the well-being of the people.

"Instead, Roosevelt changed his policies, not keeping faith with his promises. Therefore Father Coughlin now is against the president."

4,000 Reported Slain In Loyalist Victory Red Coastal Sector

Socialist Militia Attempts To Cut Off Insurgent Drive On Madrid

MAIN FIGHTING IN NORTH

Loyalists Seize Maria Cristina Hotel At San Sebastian In Bloody Engagement

By Alexander H. Uhl
Copyright 1936 The Associated Press

MADRID, July 25.—The Spanish government disclosed today that 26 of Spain's 50 provinces are in the hands of Fascist rebels, but declared loyal troops were gaining the upper hand.

The office of public safety stated 22 provinces were held by the government and that Communist and Socialist militia, aided by assault and civil guards, were accomplishing a circling movement back of the Guardarrama mountains intended to cut off the vanguard of the rebel drive on the capital.

Bitter Clashes

The clashes at Endarlasa, near San Sebastian, were bitter as two opposing forces fought across a narrow section of the Bidassoa River.

The rebel defeat was admitted by Colonel Villanueva, Fascist commander in the "Red coastal sector." He declared 4,000 rebels and loyalists died during various engagements.

Refugees arriving at Hendaye, France, told how shell fire of San Sebastian wrecked the Maria Cristina Hotel, burying bodies of war dead beside those of rebels who committed suicide rather than be taken prisoners of war.

Short and middle-term securities

The government, it was announced, hoped to push the rebels commanded by Gen. Emilio back as the as far as the line between Segovia and Avila in the north where loyal troops of militia, commanded by Colonel Mangada, will attempt to smash the Fascist remnants.

Hold Guadarrama Pass.

Officially, it was reported the Liberals had captured the strategic Guadarrama mountain pass of Alta Del Leon (the height of the lion) giving encouragement to the loyal forces.

The left wing of the loyal army occupied Chinchilla near Albacete in a severe fight. The rebels, however, still held Albacete proper.

Maj. Peres Saras of Catalonia left Barcelona for Waragoza with 3,000 loyal troops, while Government forces which left Lerida recently, reported at MoraDe Ebro.

An official radio announcement stated loyalists had seized the Hotel Maria Cristina at San Sebastian. Other forces were reported enroute to Vitoria, 31 miles southeast of Bilbao.

Rebels roving near Guadalajara were officially announced as having been defeated.

Government troops seized Motril, near Granada, where a great mass of rebels was concentrated. That point is one of the most strategic sections of the Granada bulwarks.

A Government radio announcement said last night: "The rebel forces in various points near Algeciras were completely beaten today. Guadarrama now is wholly clean of insurgents.

"Machine guns during the last 24 hours have been cutting a way for the advances of loyal columns towards places occupied by the rebels."

Where They Get 'Em.

TRENT RIVER, July 25. — Six muskies, weighing from 3 to 4½ lbs., 31 black and green bass and 7 good-sized pickerel was the result of five days' fishing by Messrs. E. J. Brailey and W. A. Ott of Berea, Ohio, who have spent a week at "Lucky Strike."

Mr. E. Barber, of Toronto, at "Algrada," was successful in landing 25 good-sized bass in five days.

Mrs. Neapolitan of Youngstown, O., who is staying at Frank Godfrey's cottage at Rice Lake, near Keene, had the honor of catching one of the biggest lunge landed in a number of seasons. On Thursday the woman angler snared on to a monster that weighed 38 pounds and measured exactly four feet six inches. Her brother-in-law, Mr. Verraker, helped her land the big fellow.

$27,750,000 LOSS ONTARIO DROUGHT

Agriculturists Place Major Portion In Crops—$750,000 Fruit, $2,000,000 Dairy

TORONTO, July 25.—As Ontario's agriculturists to-day made a tentative survey of the drought and crop situation of the province, unofficial estimates placed the crop loss due to drought at approximately $25,000,000, with an estimated loss to fruit growers of about $750,000 and to the dairying industry about $2,000,000.

General opinion was that the rain in the past forty-eight hours had benefitted root crops and other garden products most with grain farmer saying more heavy showers were necessary before drought-stunted grain could make a comeback.

But pastures in most parts of the province once again showed signs of green where brittle, brownish-yellow patches met the eye two or three days ago, and even grain crops in some areas were reported in greatly improved condition.

Wheat Yield Good

Barnis district farmers said prospects of a good wheat yield continued bright and most of the wheat came through the drought in good condition. Slight traces of rust appeared in the district, but not in serious quantities.

Farmers in the same district who have cut portions of their oat crop also reported "exceptionally good returns," comparable to those of good years. Others, however, said the grain had shrivelled.

TRENT RIVER

Messrs. L. E. Schafer, Wilbur Riddle, Bill Ryks, Harold Braund, and C. C. Green of Cleveland, Ohio, left Saturday for their homes after spending a week in the Linton cottage. They landed 4 fine muskie before their departure.

Mr. Bill Ryks, who spent the week at the Linton cottage was called to his home suddenly Thursday, having received news of the critical illness of his mother in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Andrew Carnrite has rereturned from visiting friends at Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Mulholland return this week - end to Youngstown, Ohio, after two weeks at "Osatka."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott, Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Scott and family spent Sunday at Oak Lake Resort near Stirling.

The Misses Anna Barr and Laurabel Barrie were Wednesday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van-Volkenburg, Norwood Road.

Preneveau baseball team played here Wednesday evening; the score being 11-10 in favor of the visitors.

Miss Lorraine Scott gave a tea party to a number of her little playmates Wednesday afternoon at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott. Outdoor games were played during the afternoon, after which tea was served on the lawn, and the little folk spent a delightful time. Among those in attendance were: Eleanor Lean, Dorell Lean, Peggy Longmuir, Gayle Pollock, Loreena Wight, Glenna Brown, Jeryne Brown, Viona Brownsell, Helen Hay, Donna Frederick (Campbellford) and Jimmie Umphrey.

VIMY VETERANS HONOR DEAD AT MENIN GATE

Canadians Visit Ypres To Remember Thousands Who Lay Down Lives

PREPARE FOR CEREMONY

By CAPT. W. W. MURRAY, M.C.
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

YPRES, Belgium, July 24—(CP)—Tomorrow a Canadian army will return to Ypres, to the "old Salient" which for years, a couple of decades ago, was the stage on which were enacted their triumphs and their tragedies. On the outskirts of Ypres an arch has been reared where the "Blood-red road to Menin" makes its exit from the town. This is the Menin Gate, and on it are inscribed the names of 6,984 Canadians who died in the area, and who have no known grave.

The Canadians who will throng here tomorrow are, however, an army of peace. They have come from homes many thousands of miles away to stimulate memory of heroic deeds and brave comradeship, and to pay reverent homage to men whom they had known in their youth and whose graves are assembled in those "Gardens of the Dead" which dot the plains of Flanders.

The Canadian pilgrims are due to arrive today at Le Havre and from that post they will be conveyed by special trains to Lille. At that city they will undertake tours of cemeteries and memorials and battlefields, proceeding later tomorrow night to Arras and Albert. On Sunday the pilgrims will participate in the ceremonies attendant upon the unveiling by King Edward VIII of Canada's national memorial on Vimy Ridge.

Ypres is ready to take the Canadians to their heart, for the reputation of the Dominion and her soldiers of 20 years ago stands high in Flemish hearts. The older residents recall the accomplishments of the Canadians during the war. The stories are being handed down from generation to generation how the men from across the seas fought at St. Julien, at Pooicapelle and Gravenstafel Ridge in April, 1915. They tell of Canadian heroism at Hill 60, Sanctuary Wood and Mount Sorrel. At St. Eloi, and Abraham Heights and Passchendaele, at Friesenberg Ridge and Goudberg Spur.

Many of the pilgrims who reach here tomorrow will have stronger memories stirred within them. They will deposit wreaths at the base of the "Brooding Soldier"—Canada's memorial at St. Julien, and attempt to span the years that have elapsed since they were themselves part of the army which made Canada's name reverberate throughout the world.

For many reasons Canadians cherish Ypres and its intimate links with the sacrifices and achievements of Canadian youth. At Ypres the old originals of the 1st Canadian Division had their baptism of fire; the 2nd Division endured their first real test on St. Eloi Mound. At Mount Sorrell and Sanctuary Wood to the highway which runs from Ypres to Hooge, the 3rd Division withstood one of the most violent assaults of the war in June, 1916.

The notoriety of Ypres was months old when the 1st Division marched into the Salient from the neighborhood of Armentieres, early in April 1915. In those days Ypres was a bustling Flemish community. Its inhabitants had continued to pursue their ordinary avocations, despite the presence of the Germans on the surrounding ridges. War, after all, was the business of soldiers, not civilians.

A Rude Awakening

From flimsy dreams of fancied security April 22, 1916, brought a rude awakening. Its early hours were marked by a sporadic bombardment scattered over a wide area; but gradually the gunfire increased, and by noon shells were dropping into Ypres itself.

Houses collapsed, burying their occupants in the debris; fires broke out. Panic-stricken, the people ran into the streets. From the demolished structures issued the anguished shrieks of men, women and children. The Hotel de Ville, the ancient Cloth Hall, the Cathedral—all were marks for the enemy gunners.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the cannonade developed into drumfire on the trenches held by the Canadians, six miles beyond the town. Their defences crumbled, burying hundreds of their defenders. For nearly an hour this persisted.

Five o'clock—green flares shot up from the German trenches, and a strange cloud, a yellowish mist, drifted lazily across No Man's Land.

The cloud rolled towards the trenches on the left of the Canadians, held by the French Algerians, and behind it advanced massed lines of Germans. Their heads were encased in cloth helmits, with enormous glass eyepieces. Despite the intensity of the shelling, the Canadians received this attack with steady rifle fire. But on their left, the situation was different.

The full effect of the poison cloud descended on the Algerians. Choking and vomiting, they staggered out of their trenches, stumbling rearward. The entire area, from the left of the Canadian line—the 13th (Montreal) Battalion—to the Yser Canal beheld droves of French soldiery, retching, blinded and dying. Confusion developed.

The Montrealers swung back their flank, southward toward Kerselaere; but the enemy got round it, and the Canadians had to fight on three fronts. To the east, across Gravenstafel Ridge, the 15th (Toronto) Battalion the 6th (Winnipeg) Battalion and the 5th (Saskatchewan) Battalion were bitterly engaged. When darkness fell, meagre reports from the front confirmed that the Canadian position continued intact ,but it was in grave peril.

Massive the 9th (Scottish, Quebec) Battalion was rushed forward to Kerselaere, to bolster the left flank of the 13th. The 10th (Alberta) and the 16 Canadian Scottish) Battalions were marched forward to Wieltje, about two miles northwest of Ypres. Back at Vlamertinghe, a short distance south of Ypres, were the 1st (Western Ontario), the 2nd (Eastern Ontario), the 3rd (Toronto) and the 4th (Central Ontario) Battalions. The 2nd Battalion and elements of the 3rd were hurried forward to Wieltje; the 1st and the 4th were distributed towards Pilkem Ridge, immediately north of the Yser Canal.

Events moved rapidly. To relieve the situation on the open left flank it was decided to counter-attack through Kitchener's Wood, an area of bush about a mile west of St. Julien, into which the enemy had penetrated. At midnight the 10th and 16th, supported by the 2nd, were launched into this operation. It was a wild, savage fight which, protracted through the hours of darkness, dwindled away. The survivors were eventually recalled to man a trench fringing the eastern edge of the wood.

The 7th, 13th and 15th Battalions were still fighting at the apex of the triangle from Kerselaere northward, and east to Gravenstafel Ridge. The gap between them and the 16th and 16th was filled by elements of the 14th (Royal Montreal) the 3rd and the 2nd Battalions. But from the left flank of the 2nd another gap existed for a distance of about 800 yards before the line was picked up again on Pilkem Ridge by the East Kent Regiment—the Buffs.

Sparred For Time

During April 23 the Germans sparred for time, and the occasion was embraced to shake out the Canadian battalions in anticipation of furthed action. This was not long delayed.

Dawn of April 24 was ushered in by a roll of gunfire directed against the whole Canadian line from Gravenstafel to Pilkem Ridge. Gas was again projected, its full force falling on the 7th, the 13thte and the 15th Battalions. Wave after wave of Germans rolled up to the Canadian trenches, and the battle raged for hours. But the strain could not be kept on indefinitely. The Canadians had fought almost without cease for nearly 40 hours; their battalions were mere skeletons; the remnant was dropping under sheer physical fatigue, while the Germans were rolling up fresh troops with every attack.

Towards one o'clock the order was issued from headquarters for the forward troops to retire to the "G.H.Q. Line," a shallow unconnected trench system in front of Wieltje. A scrambling withdrawal ensued, scrambling as far as the left flank troops were concerned, for the Germans were now in rear as well as in front. Isolated detachments held out in strong-points, unable to withdraw at all; but they were determined to fight on. In every case they were either killed or, being wounded, captured.

In a pathetic retirement—pathetic in that the men felt this movement spelled defeat—they dragged their fatigued bodies over the churned fields. Not until they had re-established themselves in their new position did the realization break on them that the engagement which had wiped out thousands of their comrades was their own initial triumph, one of the great and outstanding victories of the war.

Ovaltine Successes Bristol Royal Show

At the Royal Show in Bristol, England, recently, the "Ovaltine" Jersey herd continued its remarkable record of success by gaining nine awards.

Entries from the "Ovaltine" Dairy Farm have already gained 53 awards at the principal shows in England this season and a total of 349 successes since 1933.

These fine achievements are indicative of the exceptional efficiency maintained at the "Ovaltine" Dairy Farm at King's Langley, England, which was established to set the highest standards of quality for the huge quantity of milk which, together with eggs and the finest malt extract, is used in the manufacture of "Ovaltine"—the well-known tonic food beverage.

Australian Family Visits Dionne Quints

CALLANDER, July 24 (CP). — With the new playground giving visitors a better view of the children, the quintuplets are becoming more popular than ever with tourists. Two days ago, 1,936 automobiles arrived, carrying about 7,000 persons. The total was the largest of the season and greater than the 1935 high.

They come from all over the world. A family of three from Australia arrived a few days ago; a father and three children have visited from far-away Hawaii; tourist from the United States are frequent.

SHAW 80 SUNDAY TO GO ON WRITING

Waggish Dramatist "Has a Past But Contemplates Nothing For Future"

By Burdette T. Johns
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

MALVERN, England, July 25.—George Bernard Shaw chuckled today over the fact he will be 80 years old tomorrow.

"Plans?" he repeated. "A man of 80 has a past but no future. I cannot contemplate anything."

And then he belied his own words:

"I daresay I shall go on writing as long as I can remember how to write. Ibsen, you know, in the end forgot how to write. He spent his mornings trying to learn how again, like a child."

Still waggish, still straight, despite his eight decades of ceaseless energy, Shaw did his best to indicate that an eightieth birthday anniversary was no surprise to him whatsoever.

"Tomorrow will be just another day," he declared. "I cannot pretend my eightieth birthday will be different from any other day.

"It will, in fact, be exactly like any other day. I cannot even give the weather forecast for the day—and that would be something useful."

Tonight the Malvarn Drama Festival will open with a performance of Shaw's "Saint Joan."

The program calls for Shaw to remain in his seat, but there were those who doubted he would be content to remain a spectator.

Shaw has been on the job constantly at rehearsals—supervising, criticising, and encouraging. During the dress rehearsal he was on his feet from 7 p.m. to 1.30 a.m.

Belleville To War Upon Mosquito Pest

BELLEVILLE, July 25.—Declaring war on mosquitoes and other like insects, Belleville is planning to use old crank-case oil to smother the lives of thousands of these bothersome pests. The old oil will be poured over the city dumps and stagnant pools along the water front in an effort to free the city of the pests. Work on this project is expected to start immediately and will be carried out by relief labor, and will be completed within two weeks.

The Bagnell dam across the Osage river in Missouri, forms one of the largest artificial lakes in the world. The lake is 129 miles long and has a shore line of approximately 1,300 miles.

BETHANY

FIRE THREATENS ANOTHER BETHANY BUSINESS PLACE

Rumor That Mysterious Warning Has Been Received To That Effect

POLICE ARE PROBING

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BETHANY, July 25.—Theory that a pyromaniac was responsible for the recent fires here was strengthened when it was learned that H. Monk, owner of the harness shop which was destroyed with a bakeshop last week, had received an anonymous letter stating that the hardware store would be the next to burn.

The story, first heard from a commercial traveller, came on the heels of a denial from Mr. Monk that the phone wires had been cut, while the fire was at its height, thus making it impossible for the village operator to contact Fire Chief George Gimblett at Peterborough. Mr. Monk claimed that the fire had burned the rubber-covered wires, disconnecting the service.

Telephone inquiries to the village operator and Mr. Monk regarding the letter, met with a blunt refusal to discuss the matter although neither denied that such a communication existed.

Police Probe

Reliable sources however, supplied the information that the letter addressed to Monk arrived on Wednesday, and that Provincial Constable Smith of Bowmanville and other officers are conducting an investigation.

The hardware store, located in the centre of the village, is valued at $10,000 and is owned by F. W. Reynolds.

Last Friday morning fire of unknown origin, which, it is alleged, started under the verandah of a bakery, destroyed the bakeshop and harness shop, and partially burned two nearby residences.

Voluntary Brigade

Some time previous another blaze destroyed a bakeshop. This incident occurred under suspicious circumstances and an investigation was conducted by the Fire Marshal's department. The result of the inquiry was not made public.

Bethany has no organized fire protection but depends on the services of a voluntary bucket brigade. Their determined efforts not only prevented Friday's fire from spreading to nearby homes and business establishments, but they extinguished the fires which broke out in two homes adjacent to the bakeshop.

SERVICES IN PETERBOROUGH CHURCHES TO-MORROW

The Golden Text

Revelation 2:10—"Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life."

Christianity Spread by Persecution

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL.

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 26 is Acts 7:54-8:4; 11:19-21; 26: 9-11; I Peter 4:12-19, the Golden Text being Revelation 2:10, "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life.")

"THE blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church," is a saying attributed to Tertullian, leader of the church early in the third century.

The First Christian Martyr.

The first of "the noble army of martyrs" that is the glory of the early Christian church was Stephen. The word "martyr" means "witness." And Stephen witnessed so effectively for Christ that no answer could be found for his testimony but the cruel, cowardly weapon of persecution by stoning to death. "And they stoned Stephen, calling upon the Lord, and saying, Lord, Jesus, receive my spirit. And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep." Thus the first martyr for the cross took as his example the Lord Jesus, even quoting his Master's words from the cross as He sealed His testimony with His own blood.

The Effect of the Martyrdom.

No moral battle is to be judged merely by its immediate apparent effects, but by its final results. Stephen's martyrdom is the genesis of the conversion of the church's greatest propagator. "The witnesses laid down their garments at the feet of a young man named Saul. . . . And Saul was consenting unto his death." Here began the jabbing of the goads into Saul's conscience, which finally led him to conversion.

Another effect of the martyrdom of Stephen was that it served as the wind to scatter the seed of the word into ever widening circles. "They therefore that were scattered abroad went about preaching the word."

Persecution was the scratching of the nest that taught the young to fly. Jerusalem must not remain the abode of the church. It must go out to the uttermost parts of the earth. Thus God made the wrath of men to praise Him. Persecution kept the early church pure, for there was no worldly advantage in seeking membership just to be persecuted. Persecution was the proof of the genuineness of the religion of Jesus and of the deep conviction and sincerity of His followers who "rejoiced to be partakers of Christ's sufferings. Reproached for the name of Christ, they were happy feeling that the spirit of glory and of God rested upon them."

Modern Martyrdom.

The days of martyrdom are by no means ended. Truth still has its enemies. Their opposition may be somewhat more refined than in apostolic days, but it is none the less bitter or vicious. Those who dare to assert strong conviction on moral questions, or fight to reform deep-seated social wrongs or commercialized vice, need to hear, in this twentieth Christian century, as in the first, Peter's words, "Behold, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened to you." There will be nothing strange or unusual about it! It is the common lot of reformers and pioneers of truth. This is why Wendell Phillips, great abolitionist preacher, said, "Every step of progress the world has made has been from scaffold to scaffold, and from stake to stake. All the great truths relating to society and government have been first heard in the solemn protests of martyred patriotism, or the loud cries of crushed and starving labor."

The Three-Year Plan of Godlessness

By LUDWIG MARCUSE

Condensed from Die Neue Weltbuhne, Prague (June 14, 1934)

THE news of a decree allegedly signed by Stalin and ordering "the removal of God from the territory of the Soviet Union within the next three years" has appeared recently in several European publications. It was further stated that by May 1, 1937, not one temple or church would remain open on the entire territory and that the conception of God, being a medieval idea evolved for the enslavement of the masses, would be banned.

It does not take a special effort to detect the clumsy forgery behind this publication. No such idiotic decree could ever have been signed by Stalin nor by any other Soviet ruler, for God is not a capitalist to be removed from Russia "gradually and with circumspection." The very phrasing shows the childishness of this attempt to create more hostility toward the Russian regime.

However, much more important than the unmasking of the lies and hypocrisy which hide behind the struggle against atheism, is the fact that, impelled by an incomprehensible and suicidal pride, the active socialists have provided the reactionaries of the world with a popular and most effective propaganda slogan against the atheists.

"Atheism" and "materialism" are empty sounds to-day, useful only as a propaganda weapon, but extremely efficacious in just this kind of propaganda campaign. It is indeed hard to see why the socialists insist on supplying their adversaries with such a sharp weapon against socialism.

The venerable mother of all pseudo-revolutionary slogans against God is the famous phrase "religion is dope for the people." For nearly a century a deep truth was hidden behind these words. It has been said, that if Napoleon had raised his eyes and looked up to the milky way, the sword would have dropped from his hand. Indeed, the man who stands on the borderline between heaven and earth loses the energy necessary for shaping and molding worldy affairs. Any sincere prayer is a manifestation of helplessness and it weakens he who prays. Therefore, all warrior states must be anti-religious. The Third Reich is an eloquent example therefore. The Nazis use the Marxist anti-religious slogans as a weapon against the Marxists, but they abide by them in practice because they glorify the warrior.

It is superfluous to insist that at all times and in all countries have man's religious impulses been cleverly exploited by the servants of God, to their own advantage or to that of the temporal rulers to whom they sold or pledged their services.

Modern psychology has, however, outgrown the stage in which it saw in every minister of the faith a swindler and a trafficker in sacred merchandise. It is not the integrity and the honesty of the individual members of the clergy that are disputed to-day, but the usefulness of the social function of the whole class. For they are taming the brains in order that the bodies may be more readily devoured by the holders of temporal power.

These are two undisputed truths, but for the sake of pure truth it is necessary to add to them one axiom: namely, that God is not a "medieval conception" but an eternal conception of something that lies beyond our horizon and our reach. The religious impulse is not the invention of any one class, but one of the essential elements that go into the making of man. If it is every man's duty to speak the truth, it is also a duty to admit this truth. This is all the more important as no tactical mistake has harmed the cause of Marxism more than its undifferentiated interpretation of religion.

This mistake is but one of the results of the eternal tendency of all disciples to walk the roads of their masters without deviating one step from them. But when the Master lived, German philosophical thought was so pervaded with God that it saw nothing of what was happening on earth. It was, therefore, logical and tactically correct for Marx and his contemporaries to somewhat exaggerate the formula of the antithesis of religion and to maintain that "criticism of religion is the basis of all criticism."

It is, however, foolish and dangerous to give a literal interpretation to formulas that were timely and opportune a hundred years ago. Religion to-day is no longer the essential obstacle on the road to happiness it was in Karl Marx's time.

The persistent charges of heresy against religion repel not only the hypocrites but the young people who know nothing whatever of the historical origin of the perfectly justified diffidence toward slogans such as God and religion.

Religion has been, is and will be politically misused. But this does not justify the attempts at its complete eradication. We may ask ourselves whether socialism can afford the luxury of continuing to treat man's natural religious feelings as a hearth of counter-revolution, and, therefore, to repel millions of people who find satisfaction for their inner needs only in the ranks of reaction.—Magazine Digest.

Sabbath Message For the Shut-Ins

By ADJT. NEIL WARRANDER Of Salvation Army

"The field is the world; the good seed are the sons of the Kingdom: the tares are the sons of the evil one."—Matt. 13:38.

THE words of our Lord concerning the tares and the wheat supply us with most suggestive answers to three of our most pressing and important questions. First, as to the character and purpose of our human life; secondly, as to the forces and conditions of human progress; and thirdly, concerning the attitude we should take towards the evils that run riot around us and threaten to overwhelm us.

Most of us find it impossible to escape these three inquiries. Brief life is here our portion, but, brief as it is, we soon discover that it throbs with purpose. We feel that we should find out its meaning and its opportunities and to what end it should be devoted. Nor can we be long in doubt. "The increasing purpose that runs through the ages" is for progress; and therefore we want to know what are the forces, conditions and methods of advancing from good to better and from better to best.

But most confusing of all is the irrepressible problem of evil. What shall we do with it? How shall we think of it? It seems to entangle itself with the very roots of goodness, and like a parasite sucks the vitality out of the tree of the Lord. It crowds our life with peril. It makes them poor and ineffective.

In the above text we are put in possession of a clear and authoritative answer of Jesus Christ to such inquiries as these. He knows life, its painful temptations, its fierce probations, its sudden changes and its limitless possibilities. He knows man, what ought to be in him, the stuff of which he is made, what wondrous forces are stored in his nature for good as well as evil.

It is in a figure after the fashion of His people and His time that He gives His answer. He says, God's field, the field He plows and sows and tills, is the world of man. It is like the farmer over his field.

Humanity is like a field; but what is a field? A footballer or baseballer will tell you it is so many acres set aside for sport. A builder will reply it is so much space set aside for the building of houses. The farmer will say it is so much ground in which to raise crops, etc. So the world of men is not a dead, dull, inoperative, irresponsible mess of matter. It is alive. It is charged with life-nourishing forces, it is a vast reservoir of potencies. Like the wide earth, has in it resources that will develop and increase the wheat of human goodness, or blast the noxious darnel of evil. It is alive; it throbs with love and hate, faith and doubt, hope and despair, a sense of right and wrong, conscience, will.

Every man has his philosophy of life; some knowingly and others without being aware of it. Some see it through mist and cloud, and others sharply marked out. Have you adopted Christ's view? Do you believe in man? In his sins? But also in his sublime spiritual possibilities, in all that he may become here and in the hereafter? Do you see as Jesus did the angel in the child, the seraph in the penitent, the forgiven and beloved son of the father in the prodigal? Do you anticipate the music that God will evoke from the harp of our human nature as He repairs the strings and keys them again to His own?

The good seed sown into the soil of the world are the children of the Kingdom. They are men and women. Human nature climbs higher and higher by the aid of men who know God's will and are ready to do it and suffer for it. Walt Whitman in one of his most luminous phrases says, "Produce persons and the rest follows." Produce Moses and the prophets and Israel follows. Produce Jeremiah and Ezekiel and Israel, though broken and splintered by its sins, is taken up like the clay in the potter's house and reshaped. Produce Paul and the rest of the apostles and the old idolatries are shaken on their thrones and a new era dawns. Original Christianity conquers the world by its saved men and women. The best Christian apologetic is a holy life. The truest defence of the faith is a spirit wholly surrendered to God. Produce converts and all the rest follows. Cease to do that and the church decays and society slips back to barbarism. Kingdoms fall for the want of men. Rome is a hackneyed example, but Rome is not alone. Spain gets rid of her Moors and Jews, and ruin follows the compulsory exodus. France drives out saints with fire and sword, and has not yet recovered from the self-inflicted blow. Let the church hear the word of the Lord. Andrew must bring Simon to Jesus. The sowers must sow the seed.

Sowing the tares. If we could only leave it with the sons of the Kingdom as the good seed, but there is more. There are foes, tares are sown. The darnel is there, inextricably mixing its tiny tendrils with the first shoots of the wheat, and so they grow together.

Evil is a terrible fact, and it avails nothing to ignore it or to say that it is less than it really is, or to call it a shadow when it is a terrific energy, quite as positive as good. A bad man is an awful energy—one man could wreck a city or a church.

May we make sure that we are sons and daughters of God and the harvest of our lives will be righteousness, blessing and Christ-like character.

CATHEDRAL MUSINGS

ONE of the aspects of life here which tends to confuse and blind us to the eternal verities is that of time. To the soul, as with God, time has no existence, everything being comprised in an ever-present now, for eternity is not an endlessly long time; it is, on the contrary, essentially time-less, being an ever-present duration. If we, as most of us do, think in terms of time, life becomes a series of vicissitudes, and its strains and stresses become very difficult to bear; but if we think of life in terms of eternity the whole aspect of affairs becomes different. The fact of the matter is that we are immersed, as it were, in the ever-evolving stream of life which is carrying us, whether we will or no, to a certain destination. As on any other journey, there are hindrances, accidents and obstacles, which if we view them in terms of the brevity of human life loom very large, and tend to obscure the picture, but their relationship to the sum total of the whole is, in reality, very small. The point is, that despite all things, the stream of life moves on. The only thing that really matters is, are we doing our best to move with it and as helping fulfill God's purposes, or are we wearing ourselves out in fruitlessly attempting to go against it? No one can deny but that humanity as a whole is further evolved to-day than a hundred years ago, no matter how dark things may appear on the surface, yet if we compare the prehistoric caveman and civilized man, and then in turn compare the man of to-day with the ideal man depicted by the Master, it is plain that we have an infinity of growth yet before us. Still, it is something to know that we have grown, even if but a little, and if we amplify the tiny growth of a hundred thousand years by prolonging it forward into eternity, and if we also strive to move with the stream and not against it, it will be surprising how quickly we will deepen our peace—and happiness. It is not so difficult either, for although the outer self and body of man is mortal, yet the real inner man, whom we all, at times, sense dimly is eternal and imperishable, for while the outer man is born of the elements, the inner man is born of the psyche and of God who is Eternal.—Lactantius III., Rosicrucian Order, San Jose, Calif.

DR. MAUDE ROYDEN HAS LED CRUSADES FOR MANY YEARS

Outstanding Preacher Now Leading Great Campaign For World Peace

COMING TO PETERBOROUGH

A successful crusader for many important movements over a period of thirty years, Dr. A. Maude Royden of London, England, has in her sixtieth year decided to devote herself to a crusade for world peace, particularly in the United States and England. She will be guest speaker at St. Paul's Church, Friday evening, July 31.

Youngest daughter of the late Sir Thomas Royden, Bart, of Frankby Hall, Cheshire, England, and sister of Sir Thomas Royden, Bart., formerly Chairman of the Cunard Shipping Company. Miss Royden received her education at Cheltenham Ladies' College, Lady Margaret Hall, Oxford, honor school of Modern History. After completing her studies at Oxford, Miss Royden chose a career of work for the people. The next three years of her life were spent in the slums as a member of the Victoria Women's Settlement, Liverpool. Her health gave way under the strain. The rector of Luffenham, a tiny village in the smallest county of England, whom she had known as a lecturer at Oxford, perlously suggested she should serve with him as a sort of quasi-curate. It was an astonishing suggestion as at that period no man in England had been mad enough to dream of women's ministrations in the church, but Miss Royden with characteristic rapidity decided to try the rash experiment of life in a backwater and the first step in an inevitable sequence had been taken.

Day of Opportunity.

Luffenham was then a small hamlet remote from cities in an unpicturesque countryside, mainly devoted to fox hunting and the growing of barley for beer. Miss Royden's day of opportunity, for which she had been preparing during those years, soon arrived. Oxford University Extension lectures were at the height of their success. They were largely supported by women students, but there was no woman on the staff of lecturers. Rev W. Hudson Shaw, rector of Luffenham, who had befriended her, was also one of the pioneers of the Oxford University Extension movement. He travelled to Oxford to nominate Miss Royden for a lectureship. University authorities scoffed at the idea of a woman lecturer, discouraged it in every way, but finally were prevailed upon to give Miss Royden a trial. During the four years she worked on the Oxford scheme she had unbroken and extraordinary success, establishing a high reputation all over England and was regarded as one of the most acceptable platform speakers.

About this period the Women's Suffrage movement reached a critical stage. Miss Royden, always a convinced and passionate feminist, was soon addressing huge meetings in Albert Hall, electioneering in the House of Commons. Miss Royden, it is claimed, refused the right to be elected to Parliament and the almost certain distinction of being the first English woman to sit in the House of Commons.

Peace Champion.

When the World War broke out, Miss Royden espoused the cause of international peace, when peace was an unpopular idea. Toward the end of the war she was appointed pulpit assistant at the City Temple, London, remaining for two years, preaching to great congregations, which included large numbers of officers and men returning from the war, to whom her advocacy of world peace was an acceptable ideal. She preached not only on Sunday but week-days, always to congregations such as no bishop could command.

In 1920, with Dr. Percy Dearmer, Miss Royden founded the Fellowship services, and a year later entered upon her ministry of The Guildhouse, Eccleston Square, London, where she is still minister, although her decision is to give up the ministry at the end of the present year.

In 1930 she was made a Companion of Honor and in 1932 received an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from the University of Glasgow—an honor only once before given to a woman. In 1935 Dr. Royden was made an Honorary Doctor of Law by the University of Liverpool.

A National Message

By REV. W. PASCOE GOARD, LL.D., F.R.G.S., F.R.E.S.

THIS question came up over military and naval reorganization in Italy. Let us take the same enterprise in Britain as an illustration. It is patent to every balanced mind that Britain has carried unilateral disarmament, not only to the point of danger, but to the point of disaster. Make no doubt about it, in the world's estimate of our ability to live up to the obligation we have undertaken we have woefully fallen, because we have stripped ourselves of the means of accomplishment. Humanly speaking, it is incumbent upon Britain to meet the menace of war with preparation at home. Humanly speaking, it is madness to delay to replace our depleted navy. With bewilderment, the politician and taxpayer ask, Where is the money to come from? Those who know will answer frankly. The money is not coming. We may borrow fictitious funds with a promise to pay at some indefinite time in the future, which never yet has come, and never will come. We say this because of the fact that from the time our people began to realise the possibility of creating "phantom money" by the process of incurring national debt, that national debt has never ceased to grow, until to-day the system is not only a heavy idol to carry, the debt created by it is a very Rocky Mountain range overburdening our land. This system is the heavy idol on the back of the weary beast. But what are the facts? The money is not coming, therefore forget it. What remains? We have the coal; we have the iron; we can translate these into steel. We have every other thing required for the production of the things needed at the present time. We have the man and woman power, and the man and woman power are largely idle on our streets; are therefore badly housed, poorly clad and underfed; all because we are not employing them to produce from our natural resources the things we desire. If only because the building of the necessary fleet will give employment and the distribution of supply to our people, in no way impoverishing us to other nations, we would say, Cut all the conventions which bind us to the image of gold and get on with the job. House the people, supply the food, do all essential things, with money, if we have it; without it, if need be. Russia has done this, and has produced an army said to be seventeen millions strong, with equipment to match, on a scale never known before. Germany and Italy have accomplished similar tasks, using a high percentage of the same method. Such is what we think, humanly speaking it is wise to do, and the results must be a busy people, well fed, which is so much towards laying a foundation of happiness and content.—Reprinted from "The National Message."

CANADIAN PILGRIMS DEBARK SATURDAY

Will Be Carried To Vimy Services Sunday By Five Special Trains

LE HAVRE, July 25 (CP-Havas)—Bound for Vimy Ridge, scene of their heroic defeat of the Germans in the closing months of the Great War, 3,400 Canadian Legionnaires will debark here tomorrow. Others of the visiting pilgrims will leave their ships at Antwerp.

A memorial to the Canadian war dead will be unveiled at Vimy Sunday by King Edward VIII in the presence of numerous French and Canadian notables.

The Legionnaires will be greeted on their arrival here by civic dignitaries and representatives of the French war wounded and war veterans of the Le Havre region.

Five special trains will leave here early Sunday bearing the guests of th French nation to their destination. Each train as it leaves the station will be saluted by the band of the 129th French Infantry.

Whoever allies himself with God is armed with all the forces of the invisible world.

Strength is born in the deep silence of long-suffering hearts, not amidst joy.

Christianity Spread by Persecution — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

—Scripture—Acts 7:54-8:4; 11:19-21; 26:9-11; I Peter 4:12-19.—

Stephen, one of the seven deacons, preached about Jesus with the promise of the gospel, unable to answer his words, became violent and stoned him to death. Thus Stephen became the first Christian martyr.

The death of Stephen started a wave of persecution which drove the Christians out of Jerusalem, and sent them in every direction preaching the gospel of Jesus as they went into many lands, far and near.

Saul of Tarsus was a witness to the stoning of Stephen. But he could never forget Stephen's dying words of prayer for his murderers. And shortly he also was converted and became a great Christian missionary.

Peter wrote to the Christians under persecution, saying, "Don't think it strange if you are persecuted, but rejoice that you are sharing in the sufferings of Christ."

SATURDAY, JULY 25, 1936

Not British

The British House of Commons rose after having completed one session which lasted for 34 hours and 15 minutes, the debate being on the government's new unemployment regulations.

A good many times the British House of Commons has been referred to as a model in debate and procedure, but there was an exhibition put on there which could not with safety be regarded as a model for anything. Three members of the Independent Labor party, all of them from Glasgow, were forced to leave the House under the five-day suspension, and the reason was they referred to the Home Secretary, Sir John Simon, as being a "damned liar," "a dirty little rat," and similar things. There was more vituperation spewed about the Commons by the Left Wing members than can be recalled within recent times. It is difficult to believe that these members from Glasgow are British in the full meaning of the word. They have brought with them to the House a language and a temper which is decidedly foreign to the Mother of Parliaments.

Something to Work On

A representative of the Examiner talked with a number of United States tourists whom he found in cars along George Street. He could have extended his visitation almost indefinitely, because every day now sees many cars from across the line on our streets.

But the reporter secured sufficient information to make it clear that we need one or two things. First is more and better publicity in such a way that it will reach people in United States, telling of the summer advantages of the Trent Valley and Kawartha district. None of those interviewed had been attracted here by any advertising they had seen. Most of them had come because some friend who had been in this district before had told them it was the place to go and spend the summer. Some of them are regular summer residents of this district and are pleased with it. They say they are kindly treated and find the accommodation all they could ask for. They find the fishing good and they are having a good time. One suggestion was that there should be a better map of the district showing the various lakes and the roads leading to them. Such a map we believe does not exist. When the Examiner was bringing out its Tourist edition recently we found it impossible to secure such a map and it was necessary to secure a local artist to sketch one for the purpose.

So we have an excellent foundation on which to work—that of satisfied customers. It is worth a good deal to have people return home and then tell their friends that this is a splendid and desirable summer district. But we must add to it by way of aggressive publicity. We can put it pretty straight for we have an excellent article to sell.

Saving Money Not an Issue

It is reported there would be a saving of $16,000 by removing the gates on C.N.R. level crossings in Peterborough and placing wig-wag signals in their place. It is not likely that any person would seriously suggest that gates be removed at the crossings carrying heavy traffic. The railway company would save about $15,000 a year and the city would be relieved of an expenditure of some $1,500.

In a case like this we are not primarily concerned about the saving of some dollars. Safety, and all we can get of it, is what Peterborough wants. When railway tracks were built there was not much consideration given to crossings. No person ever thought then of entering a community in such a way that there would be few level crossings or that it might be possible to eliminate them entirely. Most people were walking then, while traffic consisted of horse-drawn vehicles.

But since then the whole thing has changed. The automobile has made the difference. The machines move along at a fairly rapid rate. In a city like Peterborough where many of the drivers of these machines are from outside points during the summer season, we must think also of their safety. They are not acquainted with the places where there are level crossings, so they must be protected.

There is something so positive and prohibitory about our present system that we shall hesitate, to the point of being stubborn, before surrendering the degree of safety it has given to us. There is something so much more definite and final about a gate than a wig-wag that we must hesitate to make changes. The fact that some dollars might be saved is not the point at issue.

Short-Sighted Policy

Ewart Humphries, self-styled communist, was discussing the relief situation with the York county council. He was asked this question: "Why is it that relief recipients in York who are getting more than they receive in Toronto are so dissatisfied?"

The answer to this question was: "Because we have better agitators in York."

So it would seem that the amount of relief extended to people in a community is based upon the degree of efficiency the agitators have reached. It is well that the public should understand this. It marks the introduction of the third party in the relief situation. When relief first became necessary there were two interested sections (1) those who needed relief, and (2) those representing municipalities and governments who were doing what they could to see that they got it. This third element is the agitator who seeks to keep the people discontented and sees to it that they constantly ask for more.

People on relief who are caught up in such a movement are shortsighted. They do not look far enough in advance to realize that the pressure of the agitators will produce resistance, and the resistance thus created may eventually become greater than the amount of pressure exerted. Also the benefits received by pressure and agitation may eventually be less than those received by mutual understanding between the two primary parties.

We noticed an auction sale announcement the other day, and it was to be held in a village. The house was also to be offered for sale at the same time. There was a list of articles, and it ended with this: "... two easels and other articles too numerous to mention."

Furniture dealers tell us there is not much of a demand for easels now, but there was a time when no home was complete without an easel for holding an enlarged portrait. We remember so well there was one on the Tenth Concession. Grandfather was honored that time. There was an agent who came to the house one day to talk him into it, and nearly every person quit work to listen to the conversation. The agent said that grandfather was one of the first settlers, he had been on the township council and had made an address at a political meeting, also had been mentioned as the possible candidate at election time. It was purely on that account he wanted to enlarge an old tintype of grandfather, have it framed and placed on an easel. The order was given and the agent was to supply the frame and the easel on which it was to recline. Grandfather seemed inclined to agree with all the agent had said and for a couple of days after he was not as humble and genial as formerly. As we recall it he seemed to be a little patronizing to other members of the family.

The day the agent came back with the framed picture and the easel was another of those days when every person quit work. The agent had quite a good deal of flourish about him, and he kept a cloth over the picture until he placed it on the easel at the end of the organ in the parlor. Then when all the folk were gathered about he did the unveiling, and said something about it being a masterpiece. No person said much at the time because it didn't look exactly like grandfather. Of course you'd know who it was but the agent said the artistic excellence of the picture would in time assert itself and it would grow on us or something like that. It was hard to get a good look at the picture on account of the elegance of the frame. It was built of material that looked almost as heavy as a scantling and then all done in gold. It seemed to fill the room right up full and the what-not in the corner and the stuffed owl in a glass case on the little table by the window didn't have a chance to assert themselves any more. Not so long after that there was another agent selling a book on how to doctor sick animals and as a premium he offered a framed picture of Queen Victoria. No person could understand at the time why grandfather was rather keen to buy the book and get the premium. But not long after it was found that grandfather's enlarged picture was put in the spare room and the queen's picture got the place of honor on the easel. The easel remained and grandfather felt better. He said at the time he'd sic the dog on the next man who came around wanting to enlarge his picture. There used to be an easel in the parlor of almost every house on the Tenth Concession, but they tell us they are not much in demand now.

Machine Has a Birthday

The linotype is having a birthday. Fifty years ago Ottmar Mergenthaler's machine started setting type on the New York Tribune. Of course today's machine is different and it is better. It can be found in newspapers the world over. It is the same machine which each day sets up the remarkable material which goes into these columns.

When it first started to come into general use the old hand compositors decided to go on strike against this mechanical contraption, but they soon found it was going to add to the number of people working in newspaper offices although it readily does as much work as five hand compositors.

It's a great machine, but sometimes it causes us much grief. It can run down lines of ETAOIN or SHRDLU and they can make their way into the paper just where we don't want to see them Then too it has brought into existence a superior sort of gentlemen in the composing room, who, as they manipulate the keys of this remarkable machine, often make remarks about the work of reporters and editors, the interpretation of which is that if they (the dignified operators) could not write better stuff than that they would go and jump in the lake or do some such thing aimed at self extermination.

We don't know what we can do toward marking the fiftieth birthday of the linotype machine, but we can at least say that such a birthday is taking place.

NOTE AND COMMENT

British Labor members of Parliament seem to be stronger in lung power than they are in judgment.

More than 20,000 persons are reported killed in Spain's civil conflict. That makes the Spanish-American war look like a bar room brawl.

Roads to the mines may be important but what Ontario really needs just now is more seats in the offices of the mining stock brokers.

A Coventry, Eng., man has been married for the seventh time. It can't be his name that does it for he has the prosaic cognomen of Smith.

Toronto thieves have stolen fifty-seven cases of grape-fruit and when they start operating on the loot the drought should be pretty well broken.

That Tacoma farmer who found a $30 nugget in a carrot will find it impossible to agree that there is very much wrong with the vegetable crop this season after all.

The excitement of the Olympic games would be materially increased if one of the foreign athletes were to cock a snook at Herr Hitler during the opening ceremonial parade.

The Ontario government may help Toronto beverage room workers secure a minimum wage schedule. This is entirely reasonable for after all the government is a partner in the business.

A New York magistrate says it is no insult to be called a "punk," remarking that punk is the "stem of a plant that burns slowly." We have seen persons who were called such a name and they seemed to burn up rather quickly.

The year 1906 must have been the good old days for in one issue the Examiner reported work as very brisk in all trades and the tax collector as stating that taxes were coming in rapidly with many people paying well in advance.

Canada's wandering ministers in France failed to turn up for an official reception and two well known old Tories, Sir Robert Borden and Sir Geo. Perley, arrived in time to get all the welcome. Mr. Pouliot will probably ask about this at the next session.

Farmer near St. Thomas has equipped his buggy with a radio. When the young men used to take the buggy and drive over to the next concession on Sunday evening they used to put the lines around the whip stock and after that there wasn't very much noise.

The Vatican is considering the case of Father Coughlin of Detroit, who recently referred to President Roosevelt as a "liar" and "betrayer." He subsequently published an apology, but even so it is not probable the Vatican will look on that sort of talk without having something rather pointed to say about it.

BUNGLED

(By A.R.E.)

¶ The handy man who lives near me, he is as clever as can be, he makes so many things; for everything around his place, seems always touched with ease and grace, he works with locks and springs.

¶ His fly door swings just as it should, there is no scraping sound of wood, it closes while you wait; he has a cord run through a wheel, as noiseless as a swimming eel, and then a little weight.

¶ I saw just how he'd fixed the door, saw what each little piece was for, I made a sketch of it; I'd make my fly door just the same, and sort of fortify the frame so it would close and fit.

¶ I got the weight, the wheel and rope, and I was filled with wholesome hope, I knew just what to do! I started at the work that day, for I would fix it right away, be proud when it was through.

¶ My neighbors saw me working there, and gathered with a baffled air, they asked some questions too; they said my rope might ring a bell, when salesmen came the thing might yell, so many things would do.

¶ But I got finished with the weight, by working steady pretty late, I knew just what to do; and now the thing will close the door, but does it with such noise and roar—it shakes the house all through.

Spain a Cockpit For 1,500 Years

(From the Ottawa Journal)

SANGUINARY civil war in Spain is but history repeating. No land in Europe has had a more troubled history, has had its soil more reddened by strife among its own people, or with the world. Conquered in turn by the Greeks, Romans and Mohammedans, invaded again and again, Spain has been a cockpit of battle for 1,500 years, has been a rich, mighty nation, famed for valor, has fallen to decay, stands today as a third-rate Power. Her history is rich in romance, in adventure, in a noble literature, yet blotched at intervals by cruelty, by decadence, degradation.

Time was when the Spanish army was the model for Europe, renowned for its discipline and valor. Spain's soldiers won triumphs on all battlefields, her sailors dominated the seas, her adventurers were everywhere. Cortes was in Mexico, Pizarro in Peru, Columbus questing a new world.

Then came decadence. The Spaniard became the swordsman and executioner of the counter-Reformation—and the task was too great for him. Spain was fighting England on the sea, checking the advance of the Turk in the Mediterranean, fighting to exclude all Europe from the waters of the New World. The resources of the country, taxed to the limit, could not stand the strain; there came bankruptcy and exhaustion. When interference in the religious wars in France was followed by war with England, culminating in the catastrophe of the Armada, the sun of Spaniard's martial glory sank forever.

But strife continued. When Spain was not fighting abroad she was fighting at home; and even after the Peninsular wars, when Spanish arms revealed something of their ancient valor, and the grip of Napoleon was broken, Spanish unity was not long maintained. The past 125 years have seen repeated uprisings, revolutions, political disturbances.

Precisely what has been happening in Spain these past few days, no one outside the country can say. The existing Government, creature of the Left wing of Republicans, yet opposed by a powerful Rightist and Monarchist group, has been ruling by force. Spain's prisons teem with the old supporters of Alfonso, thousands of the old nobility are in exile, the lands of the old aristocracy are being broken up.

Last week came news that men uniformed as Government Assault Guards had atrociously murdered Royalist Leader Jose Calvo Sotelo, one time Finance Minister to Dictator Primo Revera. Bursting into his home, they kidnapped Sotelo in an Assault Guard's truck, butchered him with clubs, knives, bullets, threw his remains in the Madrid Municipal Cemetery.

Whether this brought on the present uprising by the Army, or whether it is but the culmination of a series of incidents, is not clear. Nor is it clear what will be the result. The Government may put down the rebellion, but it is another thing to heal its wounds. No single group seems to have the will or power to bring the country stability.

To The Editor

LAND ASSESSMENT

Editor Examiner,

Sir: The following is a concrete illustration of the stupidity and injustice of our present system of land assessment. Within the boundaries of a village of about one thousand population, there is a tract of land containing 66¼ acres. Part of it is bounded on two sides by public streets with cement sidewalks and dwellings. The assessed value of the above tract called "farm land" to escape taxation, is less than $12.00 per acre, while across the street inferior land is assessed at from $500.00 to $750.00 per acre. The so-called "farm land," on which no farming operations have been carried on for a score of years, is held at from $40.00 to $60.00 per acre, with no offers to purchase accepted.

In this dog-in-the-manger policy—the great primary cause of poverty and slums—the landowner is actively aided and encouraged by the present Assessment Act. There is enough of unused land in and around every town and village in the province to provide all unemployed with an opportunity to earn a decent living.

All land, no matter where situated, should be assessed at its fair market value, irrespective of the use made of it. The use of land is a matter of no concern to the assessor. It is entirely up to the owner to make what lawful use of it he pleases. A little justice and common sense in the rational assessment of land at its fair market value would relieve us of the growing and intolerable burden of relief, and re-establish the morale of our people.

In this much needed reform, Mr. Hepburn will find a full-sized man's job that will not only keep him busy, but be of incalculable benefit to the whole community. Why does he not take it on? For as long as the law makes it profitable to hold land out of use, unemployment and relief costs will be with us.

CALLS MOIRA A FAKE.

(Belleville Ontario Intelligencer)

THE Moira River is a fake and a foolishment. With a rush of fuss, fume and fury last spring the old river rose right up on its hind legs, metaphorically speaking and gave a creditable imitation of a tidal wave in installments with plenty of ice on the side. Now look at the gol durn thing. Kids, not knee-high to a grasshopper, can walk across it at the lower bridge without getting their chins wet. An eminent engineer once said that flood control of the Moira would not be a very difficult or very expensive engineering problem, but after the floods are over folks seem to forget that there is ever a possibility of another one. Seems as if it might be a good idea for the government to make a survey and see just what can be done in the way of controlling the waters of the Moira so that there can be no recurrence of last spring's disastrous flood and providing at the same time a generous flow of water through the summer months when the river all but dries up.

Peterborough Stands Tenth

Bureau of Statistics Presents Interesting Information—District of Central Ontario Shown to Have Large Number of Industrial Concerns.

THE importance of Peterborough and the Peterborough district as a manufacturing centre is emphasized in a special report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, after a survey of manufacturing centres of Ontario.

The Bureau reports there were no less than 7,528 persons engaged in manufacturing in 17 cities, towns and villages of the Peterborough district, who receive annually more than $6,091,174.

Output of the plants in the Peterborough district annually is valued at more than $33,615,838. The cost of materials used exceeds $16,784,583. There are 316 manufacturing plants in the district with the capital invested totalling $30,998,843.

In Peterborough there are 81 manufacturing plants capitalized at $20,672,345. They employ 4,110 persons who earn $3,687,676 in salaries and wages, and produce over $26,101,818 in goods. In the table of statistics which were compiled in 1934 and are the latest available figures, Peterborough is listed as tenth place in the province for the gross value of products produced.

Other cities and towns in their order of listing are: Toronto, Hamilton, London, Oshawa, Kitchener, Walkerville, East Windsor, Ottawa, Sarnia and PETERBOROUGH.

Noises in the Night.

From the St. Thomas Times-Journal)

OUR former fellow townsman, Alderman W. M. Andrew, of Stratford, has been insisting from his place in the Stratford City Council that the written complaint of three residents regarding the barking of a dog at a dairy to be dealt with.

It appears that in Stratford, as in other places, there is a bylaw banning the crowing of roosters within the city limits, but nothing to curb the barking of dogs at night.

This matter of night noises is one that in justice to people who must have sleep and rest must be dealt with by every municipality from time to time. Ordinarily an appeal to the noise makers or to those who control the noise makers is sufficient to have the cause of complaint abated, but at times recourse to the law is necessary. When this happens it is a bit disconcerting to the complainant and to the authorities to find that a law to meet the particular case of which he complains does not exist. That is what happened in Stratford, when after Alderman Andrew insisted on action, there is a move to frame an anti-noise and an anti-nuisance bylaw that can be applied to a multitude and variety of "rackets."

In St. Thomas, especially in the western part of the city, these evenings when one naps on the verandah or nights when the bedroom windows are open, citizens are wondering if there is a law to reach the owner or driver of a steel truck or trucks which with their metal boxes bouncing and banging at every depression in the roadway, makes rest or sleep impossible. The peculiar thing about these noisy trucks is that they are never loaded; if they were they wouldn't bounce and bang. They may be used for pleasure driving only, which makes the offence more serious.

At any rate, those residents who live on the streets traversed by these bumptious trucks, are ready to join with the sufferers from noisy radios, auto horns tooting fanaticism, quarrelling cats and barking dogs to ask the city fathers for an enforceable anti-nuisance bylaw before they are forced to take the law into their own hands.

Fishing Good Medicine.

(From the St Catharines Standard).

THERE are some people too lazy even to fish. There are many others too impatient. There are many,—their name is legion—who are put in the category of liars as to the size of their catch and the size of the big ones that got away, but to those who ones that got away, but to those who enjoy the outdoors and like fishing as a sport, Dr. Walter H. Eddy, authority on nutrition and director of Good Housekeeping magazine bureau will prove a real he-man after their own heart. He proves the case that fishing is good medicine for the human machine.

"I studied fishing as a boy in Vermont," he says, "and I learned the essentials and non-essentials. From the point of view of success tackle is unimportant. It's solitude that lets a true fisherman's mind commune with peaceful thoughts, gives him true relaxation and rest. Today I realize that while I was studying fishing, I was studying the essentials of sound physiological practice. As I watch my fellow men in this period of business competition and worry, I realize why many are trying by pills and painful regulation of diet to get health that a good fishing trip would go far to provide.

"Anger, worry, mental unhappiness, directly interfere with normal digestion and proper behavior of those internal organs that do our health-maintenance work. And freedom from worry, relaxation, a happy frame of mind are real factors in controlling digestion, endocrine-gland responses, and all the important machinery of the human body.

"When I studied digestion and physiology in laboratories and textbooks, I looked at a cat's intestines by means of X-ray and saw digestion stop when the cat was made angry. I saw the effect of emotion on the flow of juices necessary to satisfactory digestion in human stomachs. I read about vitamins and learned how sunlight on human skin supplies the necessary vitamin D for bone and tooth formation. I studied the factors that make exercise beneficial. I learned about the values of fresh air, deep breathing, opening the lung tissues, toning of muscles. So I know fishing is good medicine and good sense."

Does a fisherman who exaggerates the size of his catch really lie? They say not. It is not evidence of an unethical person at all, nor is it a sign in the least of moral turpitude. A man tells of the size of a fish he caught or one which got away because he wants to believe it himself. And he tells it so often that he does believe it. The oftener he tells it, the greater the fish in the lively process of imagination. Consciously or with malice, no fisherman lies, not even when he hires a fish with which to be photographed. That is only the outward and visible impression of a [illegible]

A RED STREAK.

(North Bay Nugget)

THE Nugget does not always agree with Minister of Welfare Hon. David Croll in his various statements on the relief situation in Ontario, but one statement Mr. Croll made Wednesday holds a great deal of truth.

When the ministers charged that Toronto Communists are behind much of the agitation and discontent to be found in various parts of the province, he hit the nail squarely on the head.

NO PURITY LEFT.

DOCTOR'S DAY OFF.

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

THE doctor quits work at noon on Wednesdays. Or does he?

Yesterday was Wednesday. This particular doctor intended to play a round of golf in the afternoon. But the stork interfered and he aided the bird in ushering a new baby into the world. Another call interrupted him while he was dressing for a supper party. He got to the party after the guests had begun to nibble at their victuals. He was lucky enough to enjoy a comfortable meal before he was called to the telephone. Apologies to the hostess. He must make a call....but it wouldn't take long. He returned in about three-quarters of an hour.

The party wound up at one o'clock this morning. It was then that we noticed the doctor had done a quick-change act, having shed his white flannels in favor of a more sombre garb. We heard him say something about the country. Anyway, we motored by his home a few minutes later we saw that he deposited his wife safely and then went off into the night to minister to someone in pain. Maybe he's not home yet.

Wednesday is the doctor's day off. Huh!

SUNDAY GOLF.

(Glasgow Herald)

ONCE again the question of Sunday games in the parks came up for consideration. The sheriff principal, J. M. Irvine, of Paisley Sheriff Court listened to what were called "pointed" remarks on the subject. A spokesman for the Orange Order said that Orangemen were "horrified" at the suggestion of Sunday golf! On behalf of Glasgow Presbytery it was stated that the Town Council had made the matter a political question, 47 Socialists voting for it, and 30 Moderates against it. The sheriff has not given his judgment, so the matter must be left as that for the present.

CHINESE PROVERBS.

(The New Outlook)

NO one who is interested in proverbial wisdom should neglect the proverbs which the Chinese love to introduce into specimens:

Among educated people there are no distinctions of class.

SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY
DEPT. 37 - PRESTON, ONT.
Established 1889.

LIMITED OFFERING IN DAIRY BUTTER

Large Supply of Berries and New Potatoes Despite Long Dry Spell.

The recent extended period of drought was reflected on the farmer's produce market this (Saturday) morning in the limited offering of dairy butter, which was quoted at 27 cents a pound.

Commenting on the shortage of butter, a farmwife said, "And why shouldn't there be? Silverwood's have been paying 35 cents a pound for whole milk this week."

An enquiry at Silverwood's Dairy verified her statement. The company has been buying whole milk for manufacturing purposes at 35 cents a pound, while the prevailing price for butter fat is 23 cents a pound.

It was surprising in view of the dry weather to note the heavy offering of choice berries and potatoes. Wild and tame raspberries were in good demand, the former at 20 cents a quart; and the tame berries at 15-18 cents a quart. Blueberries were offered at 12 cents, and red currants at 10 cents a quart; and choice cherries were in abundance at 85 cents to $1 a basket.

Potatoes were selling at 40-45 cents a peck—9 cents lower than the prevailing price last week. They were offered in large quantity and were of splendid quality. While earlies suffered from the dry weather, a farmer expressed the opinion that the rain had come in time to save the later varieties.

Tomatoes were 2 pounds for 25 cents; carrots 3 bunches for 10 cents; beets, 5 cents a bunch; cabbages, 5 cents a head.

Chickens and ducklings were offered at 25 cents a pound, and eggs were fetching 25 cents a dozen.

Allan Brown and other apiarists had some of the new season's honey, which they were offering at 12 cents a pound (white), and 10 cents a pound (golden). Mr. Brown declared there is only a fifty-per-cent. honey yield, and said, "The same conditions that have affected other crops have hit the honey yield."

UNITED KINGDOM PRODUCE

OTTAWA, July 25 (CP).—Butter and cheese were quite on United Kingdom markets, according to cable advice received to-day by the Department of Agriculture.

Quotations:

Butter—New Zealand, 118s. cwt (26.44c lb.); Australian, 117s cwt. (26.22c lb.).

Cheese—New Zealand, 62s. 6d. cwt. (14.01c lb).

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

Wheat futures prices drifted lower in an extremely dull session a the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday Values closed 1¾ to 1¼ cents lower with July at 93¼c, October 92½c and December 91¾ to 29 cents abushel.

A lull in export business in Canadian wheat, which was confined to a few small lots and general lack of support accounted chiefly for the decline. Offerings were comparatively light and attributed mainly to local longs.

Nearly all grades in cash wheat met moderaete demand. Nos. 1 and 3 Northern and No. 5 wheat traded at fractionally improved spreads and feed wheat at an improved spread of 1½ cents. Pit trading in coarse grains was quiet, with most futures developing easier trend in sympathy with wheat. Unfavorable crop conditions continue in Western Canada with only scattered showers forecast.

U.S. JUMPS IN LEAD WORLD NAVAL RACE FOR GIANT FLEET

Has 95 Warships Of 287,915 Tons Under Construction—Britain 64

GERMANY 39, ITALY 38

WASHINGTON, July 25 (CP).—In an effort to build up to the limits of existing naval treaties before they expire Dec. 31, the United States is now leading all other powers in naval construction, figures published to-day by the United States Naval Intelligence Division indicate.

According to these figures, the United States now has 95 warships of 287,915 tons under construction or appropriated for. This compares with Great Britain's 64 ships of 235,086 tons under construction or appropriated for.

British Ships Bigger

United States ships building and planned include three aircraft carriers, two armored cruisers, nine light cruisers, 63 destroyers and 18 submarines. Great Britain's new warships include two aircraft carriers, 16 light cruisers, 35 destroyers and 11 submarines.

The American Navy now stands at 324 ships of a total tonnage of 1,080,715, while the British Navy consists of 307 ships of 1,224,329 tons.

Admiral William H. Standley, Acting Secretary of the U.S. Navy, has let it be known that as soon as Great Britain lays down the two new battleships on which she announced, work will begin early next year, the United States will also lay down two big ships to replace overage craft.

The United States navy reported on July 1 that seventy-nine ships of 265,515 tons now are actually under construction, many nearing completion. All ships provided for in the building program are scheduled to be afloat by 1942.

Nasi Doubling Fleet.

Japan is adding to its navy of 213 fighting craft of 772,797 tons by building thirty-four new ships of 93,907 tons, including two aircraft carriers, four light cruisers, twenty destroyers, and eight submarines.

The French navy of 178 ships of 558,452 tons is being increased by the construction of thirty-nine new vessels of 194,096 tons, including 4 capital ships, five light cruisers, twenty destroyers and ten submarines.

Italy with 191 ships of 403,805 tons, is building thirty-eight warships of 173,344 tons, including two capital ships, two light cruisers, eighteen destroyers and sixteen submarines.

The Germans are now engaged in doubling their present naval strength by constructing thirty-nine warships of 130,250 tons, including three capital ships, three heavy cruisers, sixteen destroyers, and seventeen submarines.

FIELD, FRUIT CROPS BEGIN PERKING UP

Generous Showers Of Past Two Days Give Ontario Farmers New Hope

By the Canadian Press.)
(By The Canadian Press)

Ontario farmers today counted the benefits to crops from generous showers of the past two days but there was still a general demand for more rain. The weatherman offered no immediate prospects, forecasting fair and cool weather.

Field and fruit crops and pasture lands began staging a comeback under the impetus of the welcomed rain.

Welland, in the Niagara district, reported a total fall of 1.3 inches that penetrated deep into the parched soil and partly filled cisterns that had been dry for weeks. Caledonia reported the same amount of rain, while in the St. Catharines area nearly an inch of rain came to the relief of tomatoes and potatoes.

In the Hamilton district the rainfall varied from half an inch to an inch and a half and its value was reckoned in millions of dollars. Fruit trees and vineyards, however, still need a soaking rain that will penetrate to the roots. A thick layer of dust still lies beneath the surface.

In Western Ontario, Brantford reported half an inch of rain, not enough to soak the ground but of great help to late crops. In parts of Kent County, particularly about Wallaceburg, the rain was reported to have penetrated two to four inches in the ground. The sugar beet crop will receive the greatest benefit. [illegible] was .63 inches.

In the Lennox and Addington district of Eastern Ontario [illegible] appeared to have suffered the greatest loss in grain fields before the 28-day drought ended.

Unofficial tabulations placed the crop loss at about $35,000,000 with estimated loss to fruit growers at $750,000 and to the dairying industry at $2,000,000.

MINES RETAIN ACTIVE DEMAND

1,500,000 Sales Daily Compares Favorably With July Boom Of 1933

MISCELLANEOUS HIGH

TORONTO, July 25. — (CP). — Mining share trading on the Toronto exchange continued at a fast pace this week averaging well over 1,500,000 sales daily to compare favorably with the all-time boom of July, 1933. The gold index broke through to a new high on Tuesday and shattered this mark on each subsequent day while the miscellaneous indicator moved steadily forward and finally topped the record peak of early March on Friday's session.

The industrial list moved stolidly along at a slightly improved pace. The index showed a minor decline over the week but this was a sign of specialization rather than weakness and in the favored heavy industrial section half a dozen post cream highs were made.

Dividend Peak.

News that Canadian Mining dividends were at a peak of nearly $42,000,000 for the first seven months of the year buoyed up the most prominent group on the board, the cheaper golds. New top prices were established by Sullivan, Toburn, Macassa, Central Patricia, O'Brien, Hard Rock, Pickle Crow and several others with improvements ranging as high as 90 cents for the last.

Senior golds finished the period with gains in a four to one ratio but only Siscoe and Teck Hughes were active. Both these issues made new highs for two years. Among the Pennies East Malartic, Stadacona, Bobjoand Sladen Malartic made new highs and Lamaque contact, Malrobic and Lake Maron were active leaders.

Vigorous bidding sent constructionand steel listings higher until Mid-week when a mild reaction set them back. A burst of strength in theclosing markets pushed several issues, particularly preferred ones with dividends in arrears, up to new peaks. New best prices were established for building products, Canada Cement preferred, Canada Wire B, Steel of Canada preferred, Dominion Foundries and both stocks of Canada Car and Dominion Tar.

The mines were the only gainers in the interlisted sector others showing factional declines. Smelters added 3¼ to reach 57½ and International Nickel improved a point to 51¼.

Most Utilities were strong with Union Gas and United Fuels preferred leading the way. The latter had a net gain of about 3.

Foods were firm at the start but softened and finished irregular.

KAWARTHA

ster have been at Deer Bay for some days and say they are having a great time there. "I have never been at a place where the conditions were so comfortable and home-like," Mrs. Webster said.

"The fishing is good, too," added her husband.

The Websters are no strangers to Canada. This is the tenth year they have been coming over for a holiday. They have tried Quebec on two occasions, and have visited the district north of Kingston, where they report the fishing as good but accommodation as lacking. Four years ago they spent their holiday at Deer Bay and this year decided to come back again. They are not sorry that they have done so.

"How did you hear about this district?" the interviewer asked.

"From a friend who had been over here and liked the place," said Mr. Webster.

Calls Stoney Lake Ideal.

"I don't know of a finer spot anywhere than Stoney Lake for a summer holiday," said A. B. Ritchie of Chester Hills Mass. "It has everything. Delightful scenery, pure air, good fishing, fine swimming, beautiful spots for picnics and offers every facility for canoeing and sailing. We arrived in the middle of the heat wave and yet as soon as the sun went down at night the air at the lake cooled and we slept beneath the covers."

Mr. Ritchie can hardly be classed as a tourist; in fact he is one of the permanent colony at Stoney Lake, where he and his family spend their summers at his cottage, Rock Haven, near McCracken's Landing. He has been visiting the lake for twenty-one years and says he finds it just as delightful now as when he first saw and was impressed by it.

"Fishing has been good this year," said Mr. Ritchie to the interviewer. "The bass seem to be plentiful and are biting well and we have fish for breakfast nearly every morning."

Some Ohio Visitors.

Among the many Ohio folk who are spending their vacation in this district are Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Stratton and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Olmstead of Cleveland, Ohio, who have been guests at Nicholls' resort at Buckhorn. It is their first visit to that point but they know the whole section well, having been visiting this part of Ontario for fourteen years.

"We have been fishing all over the place," said Mr. Olmstead. "When they are not biting in the waters around Buckhorn we climb into the cars and hit for some other fishing ground. Right now we are headed for the Trent to do a little pickerel fishing."

Mr. Olmstead said he and his party like this part of Ontario very much as a vacation land although like other visitors he said he never would have heard of the place had it not been for an acquaintance telling him about it.

"Your district is certainly not well advertised on the other side," he said.

His First Lunge.

One American visitor who is thoroughly sold on the Kawarthas as a summer holiday land and as a fishing resort is Orland Cruse of the American Can Company, Chicago, who, with his wife and two children, [illegible] having some excellent luck. Andy Ross, formerly of Peterborough, is with the party.

Mr. Cruise, an enthusiastic fisherman, had never caught a musky in his life before landing at Pigeon Lake, but he has been successful in hauling three fine specimens out of the water since his arrival and he will go home and extoll the virtues of this district to all and sundry.

"Says a Map Needed.

"What your district needs more than anything is a map showing clearly all the lakes and rivers and the roads into them," said R. J. Ulrich of Youngstown, O., who with his wife and child is holidaying at Nurse's on Chemong Lake. "I have been hunting all over Peterborough for one and have been unable to find what I want. It would be a big help to visitors."

Mr. Ulrich is enthusiastic over the charm of this part of Ontario which he has been visiting for a number of years. "A friend told me about it in the first place," he said. "I have never seen any advertising of your district."

The Youngstown man has visited a number of points in this section in other years and says he has never failed to have a good time over here, with good fishing when he wanted to go after it.

"This year I am not bothering much about fishing; just resting and having a good holiday," he added.

Their Second Visit.

H. H. Bell and A. J. Bell of Kenmore, N.Y., with their families, are at present spending their holiday at Nicholls' place at Bridgenorth on Chemong Lake. It is their second visit to that spot.

"We heard about it from an acquaintance two years ago and this is our second visit," said H. H. Bell.

"You can tell them that we are thoroughly satisfied; we are having a good time and the fishing has been satisfactory until the last day or two when variable winds seem to have changed conditions a bit," he told the reporter.

Mr. Bell added his party liked this part of Ontario and considered it a fine spot for a summer holiday.

They Like Balsam Lake.

In town yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Schwelkher of Cleveland, O., down from their Balsam Lake summer home near Fenelon Falls for some repair to a motor. They are regulars in the Kawartha district, for the Schweikher family has had a cottage on Balsam Lake for years and have spent the summers over here. "Balsam Lake is a beautiful spot," said Mr. Schweiker to the interviewer, "and we certainly enjoy our vacation there. The fishing has been good, although personally we don't do much of it ourselves."

The Cleveland man agreed that the Kawarthas were not well publicised in the United States.

LAKEFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Agar and son Jack of Acton, Ontario, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell.

Mrs. Stanley Hill and two little sons, Donald and Jerry, of Buffalo, New York, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Hill.

least one more before the time limit."

Mrs. Arthur Timleck is just as confident she must be counted as one of the best contenders. The Timlecks have 10 youngsters—the latest born last April—to support their claims. They are a bit doubtful whether Mrs. Kenny can furnish legal evidence of the 12 births she claims.

The Timlecks have been more or less officially in the race only about a year. At first, said Mr. Timleck, he would have been willing to let, say, seven contending mothers share the money under the will, the first to get 27½ per cent, the next 22 and then down a graduated scale to take care of all seven.

Will Take a Chance

But now, said the Timlecks, they are ready to "take their chance" and enter no agreement. Mr. Timleck said all the qualifying little Timlecks have had their births recorded at the vital statistics office and he has no worry on this score. He wouldn't exactly "shut the door in the faces of all other entrants" but he sees no reason for any communal arrangement now.

Little Mrs. Kenny is hopeful that at her next confinement there will be more than one—maybe twins.

"I would like to have six and beat Mrs. Dionne," she said with a big smile. "I asked her to call on me and she promised she would but she never called. I mean it. I wouldn't mind having six."

"No, positively not. I would agree to no split in the money," said the voluble French-Canadian mother. "I know just where I stand now and am satisfied to accept the decision of any court.

"I have given birth to 12 babies that will qualify."

And she handed over the names with the year of birth: Patrick Joseph, 1927; Frances and Lillian, twins, 1928; Juliette, 1929; Mary, 1930; Joseph, 1931; John J. and Mary, twins, 1932; Leo and Julie, twins, 1933; Mary Ann, 1934; Charles Vance Millar Kenny, 1936.

Whether one of the Josephs or Marys had died and the second was given the same name Mrs. Kenny would not say.

Has Records Ready

"I'll produce the necessary records at the proper time," she maintained. "The others can do what they want; I'm not worried.

"If I win this money I want to do something for poor people. I'll help them all I can but first I want to show some recognition of Mr. Millar's philantrophy. I will go to his grave at Arnprior, Ont., and there will be a fitting ceremony, with a special band. All have all my family there, too."

And Martin Kenny, sometimes called Matthew, nodded in assent, standing in the doorway to the little front room crowded with pictures and newspaper clippings that told all about the stork derby, the Dionne quintuplets, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the Keys quadruplets.

There no doubt will be legal battles before the settlement of the bizarre will of Charles Vance Millar is completed. Under its terms $500,000 was set aside for the Toronto mother who gave birth to the most children in the 10-year period following his death.

The "derby" ends next Oct. 31, and the births, under the will, are supposed to be duly registered.

If the claims of Mrs. Kenny, Mrs. Timleck and Mrs. Bagnato are correct, they are the leaders, with Mrs. Kenny now two ahead of Mrs. Timleck. If Mrs. Bagnato gives birth to one child before Oct. 31, her claims would place her even with Mrs. Timleck.

Others in the marathon are: Mrs. John Nagle, who claims nine of her children qualify under the will; Mrs. Ambrose Harrison, with eight; Mrs. Stephen Derrigo, eight, and Mrs. Gus Grastiens, eight.

MILLBROOK

Miss Henrietta Kerr, of Toronto is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Hetherington.

Kawartha Club Holds Large Summer Dance

One of the most successful summer dances yet held at the Kawartha Club was staged Friday when sixty-five couples representing nearly every department of the Canadian General Electric Company, gathered with friends for an evening of entertainment. Music was supplied by the Watson-Atkinson band Handsome prizes were presented for several special dances on the program. Sherry Bond and Bill McMullen were winners of the spot dance, Dorothy Buchanan and Max Comstock the tag dance, Angela O'Shea and Grant Palmer the balloon dance and Isabel Legrow and Max Henry held the lucky number program.

At midnight the dancers sat down to luncheon at rows of tables set up on the lawn east of the club house. Special spotlights were erected for the ocacsion while other gaily-coloured lights enhanced the beauty of the scene. During the luncheon, Bill Moull expressed the appreciation of the gathering to Mr. C. A. Salmonsen, plant manager, who sponsored the successful affair.

The committee in charge included Don Emery, C. Wiklund, Merle Ruiter, Bob Maybee, George Broadley and Jim Morley, chairman. Ab. Wright, W. Ward, Ray Tranter and Reg. Perks were in charge of special dances.

EDWARD—MATHESON

Arthur J. Edward, eldest son of the late James and Mrs. Edwards of Westmount, Quebec (the latter formerly Emma Tanner of Lakefield) was married on Saturday, July 18th, at 12 o'clock noon, to Miss Georgie Matilda Matheson, daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. Matheson of Campbellton, New Brunswick. The young couple will reside in Dalhousie, New Brunswick, where Mr. Edward is superintendent of the pulp paper mills.

DINESEN—CUMMINGS

The lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cummings, 75 Hunter street west, was the scene of a pretty wedding when their youngest daughter, Marjorie Reta, was united in marriage to Viggo Dinesen, of Sesekinika Lake, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dinesen, Munroe avenue, at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon (Saturday). Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church solemnized the union under a beautiful floral arch in which a large white bell was centered.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pink triple sheer dress, pink hat with a small white veil and white accessories. She bore a corsage bouquet of Lily of the Valley and roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Leona Cummings of London, sister of the bride, attired in an ashes of rose triple sheer dress, white picture hat and white accessories. She likewise bore a corsage bouquet of Lily of the Valley and roses. Mrs. R. Dixon, sister of the bride, wearing flowered chiffon with white accessories, played the wedding march.

Best man was Mr. Walter Dinesen, brother of the groom. In the home a reception followed the wedding, Mrs. Cummings and Mrs. Dinesen, mothers of the bride and groom, presiding. Mrs. Cummings was attired in a flowered chiffon and Mrs. Dinesen wore white. Thirty guests were served a buffet luncheon from a table set with lace cloth and centered by the bride's cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Dinesen later left for a trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls, the latter travelling in a dress of pink triple sheer, pink Angora coat and white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Dinesen will reside at Sesekinika Lake, Northern Ontario.

Just Between Us Women

A Daily Chat With Examiner Neighbors Conducted by Koberia.

HOW does it happen, Maecenas, that no one is content with that lot in life which he has chosen, or which chance has thrown in his way, but praises those who follow a different course?

And then he continues in verse:

At Rome you hanker for your country home;
Once in the country, there's no place like Rome.
You praise the townsman, I the rustic's state;
Admiring other's lots, our own we hate. — Horace.

(Satires.)

Dear Friends:

Isn't it a curious thing how often we seem to yearn to be the person we cannot be? And yet were the desire strong enough, we could at least become that same person, but how do we know that we would be content even then?

The fat want to be lean, the lean fat, the strong seem to think that too much is heaped on them, and the weak want to be strong. The rich have never enough, and the poor think they would be content with just a little more.

Those with beauty know what a curse it can very often be in many ways, yet the plain ones crave for some of that same beauty. The ones who have to work hard think with desire of the things they could do with leisure, and the ones without work find the days long and very wearisome with all this same leisure.

What would I like to be. Don't laugh, but I would love to be a tap dancer, and a fine figure I would cut if I tried it. But I do the next best thing. Every time I see a good tap dancer, I let myself think that I have been the one to dance so airily on my toes, and in fancy I am bowing in recognition of all the applause.

None of the lessons I had in my youth were any good, as my old spine prevented proper co-ordination of my feet. Yet I still get the same thrill when I see it done.

I find that the same thing helps in other ways. If someone else can do what I would like to do but cannot, I get a vicarious pleasure thinking I have done it myself. Try it, it's lots of fun.

Sometimes, too, if God has something else He wants us to do. He sends a discontent with things as they are, a Divine discontent, which makes us reach out for the things He needs doing in the world, and whom no other can do but us.

I have no patience with people who are discontented with their lives, but do nothing about it but fume and fret. If you want to be better looking, there are plenty of helps on the market so that you can get your desire.

If you are not having a good enough income, reach out and be alert for every opportunity. I know what I am talking about, because there is nothing I tell you that I have not tried myself. It would be foolish for me to tell you that a thing could be done if I had not done it myself.

Know what you want in life, because that is the first step. Recently I have had to strive and struggle as never before, with the thought of failure a very persistent thing, yet I have struggled doggedly on, and am making out far better than I ever thought I would be capable, and what I can do, anyone can do, because I am in no way superior to you.

But do not go part way along the road to success, then get cold feet and give up. Examine that discontent, and if it is valid, then do not hesitate to go something about it. Don't become a whiner and whimperer at life without doing everything in your power to get your heart's desire. It is there for you if you will only reach out and grasp it.

Your Friend.

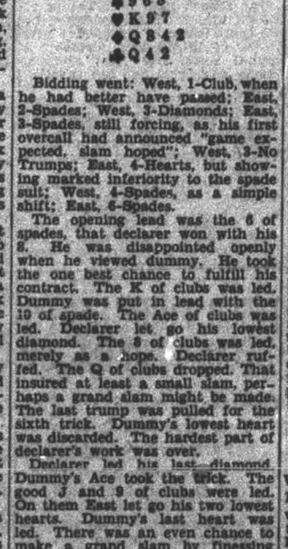
CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. Shepard

"Teacher to Teachers"

TOO WEAK TO OPEN

Rather a common cause of dissension across the table, and the breaking down of partner's confidence, is employment of too weak opening bids. Unless 2½ quick tricks are held as a minimum, a hand ordinarily is too weak for an opening suit bid. Two suits of at least 5 cards each is an excuse for making an opening bid on 2 quick tricks, as otherwise it may be found impossible to show both suits. In the latter case, however, at least one of the suits should contain something better than K-Q-X-X-X. One reason for this requirement is discovered when partner must play no trumps. Ability to establish one of the suits bid, or having both suits stopped twice against leads through, become essential. Another reason for strong tops is when partner tries for a slam.



Bidding went: West, 1-Club, when he had better have passed; East, 2-Spades; West, 3-Diamonds; East, 3-Spades, still forcing, as his first overcall had announced "game expected, slam hoped"; West, 3-No Trumps; East, 4-Hearts, but showing marked inferiority to the spade suit; West, 4-Spades, as a simple shift; East, 6-Spades.

The opening lead was the 6 of spades, that declarer won with his 8. He was disappointed openly when he viewed dummy. He took the one best chance to fulfill his contract. The K of clubs was led. Dummy was put in lead with the 10 of spade. The Ace of clubs was led. Declarer let go his lowest diamond. The 8 of clubs was led, merely as a hope. Declarer ruffed. The Q of clubs dropped. That insured at least a small slam, perhaps a grand slam might be made. The last trump was pulled for the sixth trick. Dummy's lowest heart was discarded. The hardest part of declarer's work was over.

Declarer led his last diamond. Dummy's Ace took the trick. The good J and 9 of clubs were led. On them East let go his two lowest hearts. Dummy's last heart was led. There was an even chance to make a grand slam by finessing the Q of hearts, with a certainty of losing a trick unless the finesse were attempted. The finesse of the Q of hearts lost to the K, but the contract was safely fulfilled, even if the opening bid was weak.

In a roughly approximate manner, there are about 4 times as many 4-odd a 5-odd scores; about 8 times as many 5-odd as 6-odd scores, and about 16 times as many 6-odd as 7-odd scores.

VETERANS OF VIMY ARRIVE IN FRANCE

War it had a happier association in that it was for the vast majority of them the port of exit.

In general, artillery, ambulance and wheeled transport were handled at Le Havre during the war, while the infantry and other personnel were to synagogue. However, at Le Havre were several base hospitals and base offices. When a soldier spoke of "the base" he meant, as a rule, Le Havre.

This city was the locale of the Canadians' farewell to France 18 years ago. The Canadian divisions reached here from Belgium and Germany enroute for England and Canada where they were finally demobilized.

The City of Lille.

Throughout the war the City of Lille beckoned the Allied armies, situated as it was within only a few miles of the front line trenches. For the German occupants it was a city of refuge, for the Allies never bombarded it.

During the winter of 1915 many Canadians got fleeting glimpses of this vast city. These momentary visions occurred usually when they were route marching across the ridge at Mont Noir or Mont Des Cat. Those trappist monks still remember the Canadian soldiers. Annually on Armistice Day a wreath from this monastery is deposited on the cenotaph in Ottawa.

From the slopes of Mont Kemmel where the Canadians held watch and ward for many months, Lille could be seen 16 miles away, on the plain.

Radiating from Lille the pilgrims today were able to revisit in leisurely fashion many of the towns and villages which loomed large in their scheme of things during the days when they fought in and around Ypres Salient, Armentieres—Neuve Eglise—Dranoutre Bailleul— Locre —Reningheist — Westoutre Juderdom 7 Popinkhe — Dickebusch —all had their place in the Canadian gazetteer.

FAMOUS DOCTOR PROBES LUNGS MASTER OF ART

Dr. Chevalier Jackson Acknowledged World Leader In Use Of Bronchoscope

LEADS REGULAR LIFE

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

PHILADELPHIA, July 25—(AP)—When three-year-old Kelvin Arthur Rogers travelled 9,000 miles from Australia to Philadelphia to have Dr. Chevalier Jackson remove a nail from his lung with the aid of a bronchoscope, two readers wrote a Philadelphia paper: "Why isn't there more than one bronchoscope in the world to take pins out of children?"

The answer: There are thousands of bronchoscopes, straight, hollow metal tubes with a light at the tip for looking down gullets, windpipes and lungs. There are nearly 2,000 physicians trained personally by Dr. Jackson in use of the bronchoscope. And there's Chevalier Jackson.

Chevalier Jackson, M.D., age 71, who goes to bed at nine, rises at 4.30 a.m.; who never drinks or smokes, who paints pictures and works with both hands; the Old Master who developed the bronchoscope technique 31 years ago; who said he spent 23 years learning how to remove an open safety pin from child throats, is still unbeatable. That is why, with thousands of bronchoscopes—Siam and India have them along with the rest of the world—physicians keep sending swallowers of unusual objects to Chevalier Jackson's clinic at the Temple University hospital here.

Jackson wouldn't say he is the best—even though Temple University hospital has built him a special clinic and the hospital records last year showed he was visited by 5,273 out-patients who usually stayed less than a day, plus 1,718 patients who stayed longer. He even writes the newspapers protests against mention of his cases. One of America's most famous and wealthiest men didn't get to Dr. Jackson's clinic because he asked a newspaperman to get him some information on it. The writer could not reveal his purpose. Dr. Jackson thought it must be publicity. He refused to see the newspaperman.

Near Perfection

Dr. Jackson's work has the spectacular quality of near perfection in technique. A patient crossed the continent with an open safety pin in his throat. Two minutes after this patient went on the table the pin was closed and removed. What the assembled medical men did not see was Chevalier Jackson spending much of his time the previous two days planning this operation. Long slim forceps thrust down the hollow bronchoscope closed the pin.

In 1927 newspapers reported he had "saved 1,800 persons" in 22 years. He did not originate the bronchoscope. That is credited to Dr. Gustav Killian, Freiburg, Germany, in 1895. But medical history records Chevalier Jackson as perfecter of the technique. Its use has progressed far beyond removal of swallowed peas, nuts, toys, poker chips, safety razor blades, false teeth and plates, bullets, chicken bones, spray tips, staples, coins, jewelry—all recorded in Dr. Jackson's clinic.

These inadvertent swallowers are scarcely a third of the bronchoscope patients. Children who swallow lye or have diphtheria badly have their throats rebuilt. Cancer and nearly all the serious diseases of the upper respiratory tract can be seen and treated better with bronchoscope technique.

Dr. Jackson is ambidexterous because his father told him a left hand was a "lame duck." He writes, draws, paints with both. He paints in colors what he sees while looking down the bronchoscope. Dr. Jackson was born in Pittsburgh Nov. 4, 1865. He says he got the idea of the bronchoscope technique partly from technique he developed as a young man for looking down oil wells thousands of feet deep for tools lost at the bottom.

Lately William Edward Chamberlain, Temple University hospital physicist, invented a two-plane X-ray—X-ray eyes—to aid the bronchoscope. Chevalier Jackson, it appears, rolled a snowball that is turning into an avalanche. Before he started taking objects from persons' gullets, it was popularly said 90 per cent of such patients died, because they had to have their chests opened. The mortality now is two per cent, and the medical profession at large has added much to bring this to pass.

AGED INMATE KILLED.

CLINTON, Ont., July 25—(CP)—Wandering away yesterday from the Huron County Home, at Clinton, where he had been an inmate for the last year, the body of Henry Dilling, 72, Exeter, was found early to-day at the foot of an overhead railway bridge, one mile west of the town.

The discovery was made by a passing motorist. It is presumed he fell from the bridge. An inquest has been ordered.

Dilling is said to have relatives in Exeter.

Flawless Legs

Blanca Viscer
Showing her shapely legs.

By GLADYS GLAD

"America's Most Famous Beauty"

THAT NEW young cinema siren, Blanca Vischer, who possesses a pair of the shapliest legs in all of Hollywood, says that she always keeps them smooth through the use of pumice stone. When taking her daily bath, Blanca rubs her shapely limbs with a smooth piece of pumice stone, and she firmly believes that any lass who wishes to go stockingless, or to wear those lacey mesh hose during the summer, should make sure that her legs always are as smooth and soft as they are shapely.

There are many girls who, like Blanca, prefer to go around stockingless during the hot weather. Indeed, the fad is becoming so popular, that one enterprising manufacturer recently concocted a preparation to take the place of stockings. You smooth it on your legs and it looks just as though you had stockings on. Yet at the same time your limbs really are bare. This preparation is a creamy compound that dries quickly. And although it is easily removed when desired, it is definitely waterproof if not rubbed or smeared.

KING MAY ATTEND HIS VIMY PARTY

Guests Not Expected To Wear Formal Costumes Of Silk Topper, Morning Coat

By Thomas T. Champion
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, July 25 (CP Cable). — Although no official announcement has been made so far, it is understood that the guests at the garden party for the Canadian Vimy Ridge pilgrims at Buckingham Palace next Wednesday are not expected to appear in formal costume of tall hat and morning coat.

Even at the big conventional garden parties held in the previous reign it was not unusual to see a few guests wearing crush hats or even straws, instead of the regulation silk topper. The wearers, nevertheless, on those occasions could hardly have failed to feel conspicuous.

It is understood that the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester will act as host and hostess Wednesday as previously arranged even though the King attends.

Originally His Majesty had planned to go direct from the Vimy Ridge Memorial unveiling ceremony Sunday to Cannes for a holiday. Instead of that, he is returning to London after the Vimy ceremony.

REPORTER TRIES HOUSE PEDDLING

Succession of Door-Slammings Greets Would-Be Canvassers

WINNIPEG, July 25—(CP)—A reporter who rashly, he thinks, undertook for one day to sell can-openers, describes how he felt when door after door slammed in his face. A Scottish woman was his first encounter; "You men are a pest," she announced, just as I was starting my salestalk. 'It's a wonder you wouldn't get an honest job, instead of going around bothering people.' I skipped five or six houses after that."

"And then: 'Didn't you read that sign?' asked the next woman pointing to a notice stuck up beside the door. It read: 'No Canvassers.' I didn't see it, I explained. 'Well, you see it now, don't you?' At the 12th house, or thereabouts, a little grey-haired woman in a black and white dress answered my knock. She listened patiently while I told her what a swell can-opener I had to sell. It had everything, I assured her, except knee-action and demountable rims.

"Finally, in a squeaky voice, she said something about not having English. I gave up. 'Here,' I said, 'is a present for you.' And I left her standing open-mouthed, with

USED HAIR PINS FOR OPERATION

Double Cataract Extracted With Makeshift Instruments Successful

LONDON, July 25—(CP)—An eye operation performed on a woman in India with hair pins, crochet hooks and a pair of embroidery scissors as makeshift instruments, was described to the East India Association recently by Sir Henry Tristram Holland. He has been engaged in medical work in Baluchistan for 36 years, and is devoting his furlough to the raising of funds for rebuilding the hospital at Quetta.

"The woman had a double cataract," he said. "She refused to go to hospital, so I decided to operate under a juniper tree.

"A woman provided me with a fine crochet hook, which acted as an iris hook. From some hair pins we made a rough and ready eye speculum, and a pair of embroidery scissors served for iris scissors. I had with me some cocaine, a cataract knife and a pair of fixation forceps. I operated on both eyes and the old Pathan woman had an excellent result in spite of my treatment."

Sir Henry also told of a native upon whom he operated when the man fell from a palm tree. Immediately after the operation he was hoisted on to a camel and taken 70 miles to the nearest railway station, to be sent to hospital. The man made a perfect recovery.

LUNCHEON FOR HEPBURN HERE

Reception at Home of W. F. Huycke, K.C., Planned by Liberals.

OPENS EXHIBITION

The members of the deputation who persuaded the Ontario government to continue the service of the provincial laboratory in Peterborough were Messrs. J. J. Duffus, M.P.; James Hawthorne, Colonel J. A. Dewart, E. L. Sackville, Dr. W. S. Fitzpatrick, Dr. D. Munroe, Warsaw; Dr. J. A. Morgan; Charles Tanner, Reeve of Lakefield, and the Hon. G. N. Gordon. They report a very successful interview with Premier Hepburn; the Hon. H. C. Nixon, Provincial Secretary, and the Hon. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health, at the Parliament Buildings yesterday.

The Prime Minister and two other ministers formed a committee to meet the Peterborough delegation at noon at the Prime Minister's office, and the matter of maintaining the provincial laboratory under the supervision of Dr. C. B. Waite, was discussed.

The Ontario Government had refused to give any further grants to the provincial laboratory at Peterborough. Dr. D. Munroe, Dr. J. A. Morgan, and Dr. W. S. Fitzpatrick explained to the Premier and the other members of the government the value of the laboratory at Peterborough, and the extensive service it was performing for an area extending from Belleville on the east and beyond Lindsay on the west. The Prime Minister finally agreed that it was such an important factor in improving health conditions that he would have the grant continued.

Premier Hepburn promised the delegation that he would attend a luncheon given by the Peterborough Liberal Association on the grounds of Mr. W. F. Huycke, K.C., of Engleburn Park, Ashburnham. Mr. W. F. Huycke, K.C., had very kindly offered the loan of his home and grounds for the reception to Premier Hepburn, when the Premier comes to open the Peterborough Exhibition.

The Liberal executive intend to invite all the riding officers, including the ward chairmen and subdivision chairmen, to be guests at the reception to meet Premier Hepburn.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, July 26

Sunday's horoscope may not be considered a very promising one, judging by the mutual and lunar configurations. Employment prospects are not bright and other affairs may suffer from misrepresentation, trickery, deceit and possible slander unless all matters are handled carefully.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confronted by a year calling for precaution, discretion and vigilance in all their affairs.

A child born on this day may be subtle, shrewd and crafty but disposed to act through expediency rather than principle unless well trained in early life.

For Monday, July 27.

MONDAY'S ASTROLOGICAL forecast is for sudden change or surprising visitation, upsetting all old plans and prospects and calling for new contracts, interests and surroundings.

Those whose birthday it is may seen change or other important be prepared for a year of unforevisitation, with probably good opportunities in a new field or with new associations and interests.

A child born on this day may be clever and studious but apt to have leanings toward the ecentric and singular. These tendencies should be supervised in youth.

PILFERING AT CEMETERIES

TORONTO, July 25.— (CP). — Watchmen at Toronto cemeteries have been instructed to watch for thieves following reports of desecration of graves through theft of flowers, benches, watering cans and locks and chains.

Most cemeteries reported less complaints of pilfering but said there had been a few cases of outstanding callousness on the part of thieves.

FOUND GUILTY OF ATTEMPTED THEFT

Percy Hutton Convicted On Charge Of Trying To Steal Gas

TRENTON, July 25. — Found guilty in police court on a charge of attempting to steal gasoline from a car owned by Bernard York, Percy Hutton was given a six-month suspended sentence, and was ordered to pay court costs or serve a ten-day jail term in default.

According to the complainant, he was sitting on his veranda when he saw two men get out of a car, carrying a can. They went to his car and removed the cap from his gasoline tank. He ran out and gave chase, while they fled in opposite directions, confusing his pursuit until they were both able to get back to their car. Then they made their escape.

He said he recognised one of the men and went to police. Police evidence was that a car found in the Hutton garage shortly after the complaint was still warm.

William Hutton, father of the accused, said that he had no knowledge of the car being taken from the garage that night.

G. J. Miller, who gave Ottawa as his home address, was remanded until Monday so that his record could be checked, and to give him a chance to make restitution. He pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining $9.15 from the Quinte Sun on a worthless cheque. He told the court that he had expected money to arrive with which he would be able to cover the cheque.

Arnold Keitel, Trenton, paid $13.75 after pleading guilty to a charge of having defective brakes.

Manitoba Conservative Flays Government Tactics As Campaign Closes

WINNIPEG, July 25.—(C P). — Charges are advanced by George Dinsdale, Conservative seeking re-election to the Manitoba Legislature in Brandon, that men have been called upon to sign cards, pledging support to candidates of the Liberal-Progressive Government, before being given or promised jobs.

Mr. Dinsdale made the charge in a speech to his constituents last night as campaigns of all parties drew towards a close. Electors in 52 ridings go to the polls Monday.

Errick F. Wallis, Conservative leader, summarised his party's platform at Hartney in the final speech of his campaign. Premier John Bracken adoressed a meeting in St. James, suburb of Winnipeg.

Liberal-Progressives, with 47 candidates, and Conservatives with 37, are the only groups with sufficient representatives in the field to obtain a majority over all in the legislature. Co-operative Commonwealth Federation has 18 candidates, Social Credit 20 and seven have other affiliations.

Two Votes Deferred.

S. S. Garson, Liberal-Progressive was returned by acclamation in Fairford while voting in the Pas and Rupert's Land, northern ridings, has been deferred to Aug. 21. Mr. Bracken sits in the Pas and Hon. E. A. McPherson, provincial treasurer, in Rupert's Land.

Mr. Dinsdale showed to his audience in Brandon last night, a card he claimed men had been asked to sign before being given or promised jobs. He said the cards pledged support to Government candidates.

The Conservative candidate charged civil servants in Brandon and Employees of the Manitoba Mental Hospital there had been [illegible] to [illegible] of the Liberal-Progressive candidate. Dr. H. O. McDiarmid is the Government standard

CHILD IS UNHURT BY 17-FOOT FALL

Two-Year-Old Yvonne Drops Out Of Upstairs Window To Ground

Investigating a dull thud which she heard in the back yard Mrs. Harry Patten, 308 Aylmer St., was horrified yesterday to see her two-year-old child Yvonne stretched motionless on the ground beneath an upstairs window from which she had fallen. Mrs. Patten picked the baby up and Dr. Herbert Young was called. His examination disclosed the fact that the child had sustained no broken bones and had escaped practically unhurt despite her drop of seventeen feet to the ground.

It is not known how the little tot came to fall from the open window upstairs. Her mother was in the kitchen and the first intimation of the accident was the sound of the child's body striking the ground.

The little girl is to-day apparently little the worse for her adventure.

LIVELY DEMAND FOR "EX" SPACE

Only Two Booths in Main Building Left Today — Encouraging Interest.

CARS GET PUBLICITY

Applications for display space at the Peterborough Exhibition have never been so numerous as this year Alderman R. M. Glover reported today.

"We have two booths left in the main building, and they will probably be taken by Monday or Tuesday because we have applications that have not yet been alloted places. Some of them are from new exhibitors, and if this phase of the Exhibition is a criterion we are on the way to a successful show."

The four Chevrolet automobiles that are to be given away are creating a great deal of interest throughout the district. They have been over entire field from Tweed to Bowmanville and from Cannington to Belleville, and are regarded as the best publicity stunt the directors have yet devised.

Some Lindsay merchants have already distributed their first supply of tickets and have written for more. Distribution in Peterborough has been extensive, and the citizens are reminded that they should ask for Exhibition tickets which are given away with purchases. These are the tickets which will produce the winners of the four new automobiles.

Charges Falsehood

"Brundage's statement that I was the sole serious offender and that I alone was responsible for any impression detrimental to the team is absolutely false.

"The fact remains that officers accompanying the team, who were presumed to be setting a good example for all on goard failed to do so. Cocktail parties were a nightly occurrence. Not only was the social activity such on the upper decks that the athletes as a whole received scant attention from committeemen, but officer-members of the Olympic party disgraced themselves during a performance given for the benefit of the athletes.

"I refer to the mock marriage trial ostensibly given as an entertainment feature but so shocking that many athletes walked out of the social hall.

"The trial was presided over by Gustavus T. Kirby, who so handled the dialogue having to do with marital situations that it was open to questionable interpretations and altogether unsuitable for youthful ears.

"The reaction to the whole show was such that it was the talk of the boat for days afterwards.

"Furthermore, there was no general rule against drinking among the athletes."

Galt Brigade Fights Fires Dry Days —Repairs Station Roof When It Rains

GALT, Ont., July 25 (CP).—For days, Galt firemen looked forward to rain. It would, they believed, give them a rest from the more than 50 grass and brush fires they were called on to extinguish. But when the rain came they kept on working—repairing the roof of the fire hall which the downpour revealed, leaked in several places.

Belleville Girls Show Yachtsmen They Know How to Sail

BELLEVILLE, Ont., July 25 (CP). —Girls of this city have added another item to their list of accomplishments. No longer do male yachtsmen and navigators sail the Bay of Quinte without opposition from their sisters. This year a considerable amount of navigating is being carried on by female sailors who can trim sails with the best of them. Even all-feminine crews are no longer a novelty.

PETERBORO LEGION PLANNING SERVICE

Place Wreath On Cenotaph In Afternoon—Band Concert In Evening

Sunday will witness the historic unveiling by His Majesty King Edward VIII of the Vimy Memorial to Canada's war dead. The eyes and hearts of Canadians and Britishers throughout the Empire will be turned towards that hallowed spot, and in keeping with the occasion, the local Branch 52 of the Canadian Legion are planning a brief memorial service to be held at the Legion Cenotaph at 3 o'clock p.m., with the Rev. P. J. Kelly officiating. All members of the Legion and other ex-servicemen are invited to take part in the service, when a wreath will be deposited at the Cenotaph.

Also in spirit with the day, the band of the Peterborough Rangers at their concert in Victoria Park in the evening, will provide a program of music reminiscent of the war years, by kind permission of Lieut.-Colonel G. G. Winterbottom, M.C., D.C.M., officer commanding.

Lieut. W. Peryer, director of music will conduct the band, and he extends an invitation to all returned men to attend this concert.

During the program "Last Post and "Reveille" will be sounded, followed by two popular marches of the war, "Colonel Bogey" and Sons of the Brave."

It is the wish of the band that everybody stand in silent memory to all who paid the supreme sacrifice, during the sounding of "Last Post" by the trumpet section of the band.

The program of music is as follows:

"O Canada."

March, Kathleen March, Bennett.

One of the many Song Marches used by bands for Route Marches Overseas.

Descriptive overture, One Beautiful Day, Hildreth.

Waltz, Waves of the Ocean, Crumbling.

Selections from "Chu Chin Chow," Norton. One of the most popular musical revues produced during the war.

"Last Post." In memory of the Canadian heroes of Vimy Ridge.

Two war time marches: (1) Colonel Bogey, Alford; (2) Sons of the Brave, Bidgood.

Intermezzo, Shades of Night, Franklin.

Selection of songs that were popular during the war, including "Fall In and Follow Me," "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," "Hello, Who's Your Lady Friend," "If You Were the Only Girl," "Madenbiselle from Armentieres," "Take me Back to Dear Old Blighty" and others.

In appreciation of the many Highland Regiments that left Canada, the band offers the Highland Patrol, "The Wee MacGregor" by Amers.

Finale: (1) Rule Britannia; (2) The Evening Hymn; (3) God Save the King.

ICE PULPIT

Pastor Aims to Keep Congregation Cool By View of Frozen Block beside Him.

ST. LOUIS, July 25. —(CP).— Elated over the psychological effect on the congregation of an "ice pulpit" inaugurated last Sunday, Dr. T. Oscar Johnson, pastor of the Third Baptist church here, said he planned to keep a huge block of ice beside him on the pulpit throughout the hot season.

Last Sunday a bouquet of roses was frozen in the ice block. To make variety, Dr. Johnson said, several large rainbow trout are to appear, frozen in the ice, at to-morrow's services.

Deputation Given Assurance Of Grant

"We were told that something would be done for Peterborough," Mayor Macdonald informed The Examiner in regard to his visit to Ottawa with Ald. Sloan and J. J. Duffus, M.P. "An appropriation is to be made to provide work for men who are on the relief list, and we understand that is to be done as soon as Hon. Mr. Cardin receives a report from the engineer of his inspection here. We also took up the questions of an airport and broadcasting station, but these matters are in abeyance until certain commissions are reorganized. Everywhere we went we were well received, and it was apparently that Mr. Duffus knows his way around the different departments."

NAPANEE HOLDS PONIES TO TIE

Eleven-Inning Pitching Duel At Kingston Fails To Produce a Run

POINTER vs. WILLIAMS

KINGSTON, July 25 (CP) — Kingston and Napanee battled through 11 innings of a Central Ontario Baseball League senior game here last night without either team getting a run across the plate. The game was called in the eleventh inning. The sun was shining and continued so for some time after the ball game had been called, but Umpire Loucks ruled the game over, stating it was getting hard to see.

It was one of the best pitcher's battles one would wish to see and Jack Williams, hurling for Kingston, and Tommy Pointer for Napanee, turned in magnificent performances. The two veteran hurlers had the batters eating out of their hands. Williams allowed only three hits, two of which were doubles, and Pointer allowed but two, both singles. Pointer bested Williams in strike outs, having nine to Williams' six. Pointer gave one free ticket while Williams gave none.

For nine of the 11 innings, only three batters faced Pointer and in the other two, only four. On the Napanee side of the sheet there were eight innings that only three men faced Williams. Napanee twice was cut off at the plate. A double in the second by Brennan gave Napanee a chance, but a throw by Third Baseman Hewitt Smith nipped him at the plate.

Webber, young right fielder of the Kingston team, made a perfect throw from deep right field to get Bentley, who had started off with a double, coming into the plate when Bishop hit, to retire the side.

Hewitt Smith at third base for Kingston, established some kind of a record when he accepted 11 chances, some of them extremely difficult, without an error. Webber and Scrutton, outfielders, got the only two hits for Kingston, while Brennan and Bentley with a double apiece and Bishop with a single were Napanee's hitters.

MALE OLYMPIANS MUST BE ALONE

Athletes 'Quarantined' Against Female Charm—Provide Stage Shows

BERLIN, July 25 (CP)—German Olympic officials are still worrying about the "female problem." They haven't yet decided to yield to the Finns, who ask to have an elderly woman live in Olympic Village. The woman would have charge of the Finnish hot baths. The Village was planned to house 4,500 men—and no women.

Since there will be stage shows provided for athletes in the village, the authorities were really bothered by the thought of the actresses' presence. To remedy the situation, they provided for the female stage stars to enter the theatre by a back exit, kept locked except when in use. There will be no hanging about stage doors. The actresses will come and go in locked cars.

With the athletes "quarantined" against female charm like children against measles, Berliners are calling Olympic Village "Dorf der Maenner"—village of men.

Inside Sporting Dope
By A Wisecracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well Mac, Wed. wasn't such a hot day for Peterborough, baseballically speaking, owing to the srs. getting bumped off at Belleville and Mister Ralph's Rotarian Jrs. going down with all hands aboard in the 1st game of the Lakeshore playoffs.

The rap to the chin what the seniors took didn't do them no harm owing to the Ponies getting the same dose at the hands of the Gibbards but the young Petes got theirselfs in a mess of trouble by dropping the home fixture to the Oshawans. To tell the truth they never looked like the winners in that fixture. They got off on the wrong foot, spotting the cocky invaders 3 runs and although they fought back on even terms the young motorists soon took the lead again and went on to win looking back over their shoulder. The Petes kids wasn't right and the 10 to 5 licking from a team they had walloped twice before this season is the answer. The winners run wild on the sacks and they seemed to be able to bust through with a hit just when it would do the most harm.

A $18 Crowd

Down to Belleville a $18 crowd seen the Petes winning streak stopped by Mister McIver who tosses them in from the left side. He held them to six hits and 3 runs and as the lowly Bellevillers had climbed all over our Mister Scriver for 5 markers in the 2nd frame the flyer from Manitoba breezed home a winner. The saddest part about it is over 6 innings of smart tossing by our Mister Whitehill went for nothing. The Gunner who has win 7 straight games went in after it was seen Mister Scriver would need the fire brigade to put the side out and for the remainder of the doings he didn't allow the Belleville crew a hit. It was all wasted however for our talent couldn't do more than get 3 runs.

Different Saturday

Here last Saturday Mac, Mister Scriver went the route against Belleville and only give them 4 hits, the Petes winning 8 to 2. Their Mister Bawden also tossed pretty steady ball, keeping the Petes' attack down to 6 blows and with a little more help from his playmates the young right-hander might of made it a lot closer.

In the big show, Mac, the feature news this week seems to be the Yanks has begun to go into a tail spin. They been having the toughest kinda time even beating St. Louis, their slugging has folded up and their pitching has been only so-so. The team what has been making the most outa this slump on the part of the leaders is the Cleveland Indians which right now is hot and I don't mean just warm. They been slapping them all on the [illegible] and the thing they know they'll be shooting out in front, whereupon the whole tribe will probably fall dead from shock. The high-priced Boston team which I picked to cop the flag has had a royal chance to gain lately but you can't gain without winning and them birds aint been doing much of that for a long time.

However if the Wisecracker picking aint doing so well in the American loop the call in the National, the Cubs, is sailing along as smooth as silk and today as this is being wrote is 7 full games in front of St. Louis and showing every sign of going to stay up there. Looks like I might of been right when I called the Cubs and Boston to meet in the world's serious.

Sportifully Yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

Boston Red Sox Beat Detroit Tiges in 10 Inning Game

DEFEAT DROPS DETROIT CLUB OUT 3RD PLACE

Three-Run Rally In Extra Frame Gives Red Sox 7-4 Victory

FOXX GETS 27TH HOMER

DETROIT, July 25 (AP).—Boston Red Sox pulled the Tigers out of third place in the American League and into a tie for fourth yesterday by coming from behind to win a 7-4 10-inning decision with a three-run rally in the extra frame.

The result enabled the idle Chicago White Sox to take third place in the loop, and brought the Red Sox out of the second division.

Trailing 3-1 going into the eighth inning, on the strength of Charley Gehringer's homer in the fourth and another pair of Tiger tallies in the fifth, the Sox finally solved Vic Sorrel, and completed the win against Roxie Lawson.

Jimmy Foxx belted his 27th homer in the eighth with none on base.

In the extra inning, two walks, a sacrifice, singles by Bill Werber and Rick Ferrell, and Almada's two-bagger sent the winning runs over.

INDIANS GET 22 HITS

CLEVELAND, July 25 (AP).—The Indians fired their heaviest-hitting barrage of the season at the helpless Philadelphia Athletics yesterday and picked up half a game on the American League lead with a 16-3 victory.

They smashed out 22 hits, including Earl Averill's seventeenth homer, to score in every inning but the fifth and pull up to 7½ games behind the idle New York Yankees.

Denny Galehouse, the Tribe's starting pitcher, held the A's to seven hits for the seven innings he worked. Young Bob Feller, the 17-year-old rookie, took over the job for the last two frames, and after a feeble start held the Mackmen helpless.

The Indians found the offerings of Dusty Rhodes and Rookie Flythe easy to solve, getting 13 hits off the former and nine in the three innings Flythe was on the mound.

In addition to his homer, Averill hammered out a pair of triples and a single, stretching his consecutive game hitting streak to 19. Hal Trosky continued his to 18, and Roy Weatherly to 16.

SENATORS BEAT BROWNS

ST. LOUIS, July 25 (AP).—If Washington's sluggers had not opened up on Earl Caldwell in the last two innings yesterday to pound out a 10-4 victory over St. Louis, Monte Weaver's four-hit pitching would have gone for naught and the three Senator errors in the seventh would have loomed large.

Those three misplays by Kuhel, Lewis and Travis, plus Julius Solter's single, brought in two runs to break a tie and give the Browns a 4-2 advantage. But it didn't last long. Cliff Bolton's homer with two on base accounted for three Washington runs in the eighth—enough to win—and five more runs came over the plate in the ninth.

AUSSIES WELCOMED TO 'WORM' HOUSE

Olympians Protest Sign On Quarters—Just In German Custom

BERLIN, July 25 (CP) — The word "Worms," painted in large letters on the facade of the Australian team's Olympic Village house, led to a protest to the British Ambassador. But it was just a temporary misunderstanding, and no hard feeling exists now that the Nazis have explained.

Among the first Olympians to arrive, the Aussies were officially welcomed by two brass bands and extended every courtesy. But when they were taken to their Olympic Village building, there, right on the front, was the word: "Worms."

The leader of the Australian delegation hustled to the British embassy. Then came the explanation. Every house in the Olympic Village bears the name of some German city.

Worms is a city on the Rhine, made famous by the Diet of 1521, before which Luther declared: "Here I stand; I cannot do otherwise. So help me God, Amen."

Scarsella's Double Is Erased By Rain

BOSTON, July 25 (AP).—Rain completed washing out yesterday's National League baseball program by forcing postponement of the game between Cincinnati Reds and Boston Bees after one-half of the first inning had been played.

The Reds had scored one run to open the game, when San Byrd was safe on Rabbit Warstler's error, advanced on grounders by Tommy Thevenow and Kiki Cuyler, and came home on Les Scarsella's two-[illegible]. Rain began to fall as the [illegible] to bat and after waiting 30 minutes, Umpire Charley Moran called the game off.

Earlier the weather had forced postponement of the Cardinals' game at New York, the Cubs at Brooklyn, and the Pirates at Philadelphia.

OMEMEE UPSETS SOFTBALL 'CART'

O's Show Reversal Of Form To Defeat Westclox Gang 12-5

Omemee showed a surprising reversal of form last night at Central to hand the high-flying Westclox a one-sided 12-5 defeat. The villagers went to work in the first inning and secured a lead which they retained through to the end. The Clockmakers, showing the result of too much softball, were no match for the slugging O's.

Reeds hurled the win for the visitors and turned in a fine effort. He kept his opposition from clinching their hits and was always in command of the situation. Elliott started for the Alarm crew but was blasted from the mound in two innings, and T. Parsons finished the game. The latter also was banged about hard and was unable to hold the hard-hitting winners in check.

Jamieson and Pogue, with a home run apiece, featured the winners' attack against the Westclox along with Jones, who connected for a triple and single. Elliott, with three bingles to his credit, was the leading sticker for the losers.

Each team pulled off a double-play. The winners grabbed theirs in the first inning, while the Beckerman crew came through with their twin-killing in the fourth. Curry, for the Alarm men, pulled off a nice catch of a fly ball.

The teams:

Omemee.—McQuade, cf; Pogue, rf; Jones, ss; Prince, 2b; Brooks, c; Jamieson, 3b; Rehill, lf; Reeds, p; Williamson, 1b.

OTTAWA RESTORES BOUNTY ON WOLVES

Will Pay $5 Pelt, Trapper Keeping Skin—In Effort To Reduce Menace

OTTAWA, July 25 (CP).—Wolves are so numerous in the Far North and so many fur-bearing and big-game animals have been slaughtered by them, the Government has reintroduced a bounty for their pelts.

The Dominion Government used to pay a bounty of $30 for every wolf pelt. It was reduced to $20 in 1932 and dropped the following year. Since then, wolves have increased in numbers throughout the Northwest Territories and in provinces flanking the Northern timber lands to such an extent they have become a real menace.

The new regulations call for a bounty of $5 for each pelt, with the trapper keeping the skin for sale. This follows the practice of most provinces in contrast to the old regulations under which the Dominion retained the skin for sale.

Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, is now owned by the Mount Vernon Ladies' association. The area of the estate at one time consisted of 8,000 acres, stretched along the river for 10 miles and maintained 300 field laborers and servants. Today the estate covers 470 acres.

TWO BIG INNINGS WIN FOR LOCALS

Westclox Girls Secure Lop-Sided 15-4 Victory Over Omemee

Westclox girls pounded out a 15-4 victory over Omemee in a Girl's Softball League contest last evening at the Bowl. A good crowd saw a fair performance with the homesters having two big frames to pile up 12 of their runs and then coast home. There was some nice fielding shown in spots but a number of miscues and plenty of scratch hits on both sides. The win puts Westclox in a second-place tie with the O's.

Barbara Blade hurled for the victors and kept 12 hits well scattered. She had no walks or strikeouts. M. Hannah started on the Omemee slab, but was nicked for 10 runs and 15 hits before she retired in the fifth, after striking out one and issuing no free tickets. J. Hickson took over and went better the rest of the distance, allowing nine hits and no walks while fanning one. Their support was spotty.

B. Blade topped the hitters with a perfect day, getting two doubles and three singles in five appearances. M. Hawthorne hit a homer, double and two singles, while P. Primeau got four singles. G. Mann banged out a triple and two singles, and I. Sturgeon and H. Mann had three apiece. For Omemee, J. Fee led the way with three singles, M. Hannah, P. Bigelow and M. Page conking out two apiece. Fielding features were catches by J. Fee and P. Primeau and a D. Rehill to I. Sisson to M. Fisher double-play. The teams:

Omemee.—R. McQuade, rf; M. Fisher, 2b; M. Page, cf; P. Bigelow, 1b, ss; E. Bigelow, c; I. Sisson, 3b; M. Hannah, p, ss, 1b; D. Rehill, ss; J. Fee, lf; J. Hickson, p.

Westclox.—G. Mortimer, 1b; M. Hawthorne, 3b; I. Sturgeon, c; G. Mann, 2b; A. Sturgeon, cf; H. Mann, lf; P. Primeau, rf; B. Blade, p; H. Mongraw, ss.

HOWIE McPHEE HAS EVERYTHING

Faster The Field, Faster He Runs, Says Vancouver Coach

NEEDS 'FINISH' ENERGY

By COLIN A. GRAVENOR
Central Press Canadian Sports Writer

MONTREAL, July 23.—"The mystery Man of the Canadian Olympic Squad," as Bob Granger of Vancouver has been dubbed, believes that his star sprint pupil, Howie McPhee has a chance to duplicate the 1928 performance of his previous double Olympic championship winner, Percy Williams.

Noted for his sudden arrivals and equally unexpected departures, the silent tight-lipped ginger-haired Vancouverite has rarely spoken for publication.

We encountered him in the shower room of the Montreal Central Y.M.C.A. It was the night before the departure of the Olympic team and we recollected that the papers had carried the story that Coach Granger would not be included in the squad to make the trip.

"So you won't be going to Europe," we murmured.

"I'll be there," replied Granger.

"Papers say that you won't," we countered.

None Faster Than McPhee

"Mayor Jerry McGeer of Vancouver fixed all that last night. He had Mayor Houde on the long-distance telephone, and now everything is okey," fairly beamed the sad faced coach who popped up at the 1928 games via cattle boat, and the 1932 games by means that he only knew. "Must get my passport picture this morning. Am going via the Rex from New York to Italy, and will then fly to Berlin. Be there before the team gets there!"

"Do you think that McPhee has a chance then?" we fired at Granger.

"He is as fast as any sprinter in the world to-day," was the repy.

"Do you think that he is as fast now as Percy Williams was eight years ago," we demanded.

"Yes. On the straight away he is actually faster than Percy!" came the astonishing reply. "But he lacks Percy's explosive finish." Granger pointed out that Williams matured after the Olympiad and was actually faster a year or so later than 1928.

Needs Reserve Energy

For McPhee to duplicate Williams' triumphs Granger feels that he needs two things. He must store up a big reserve of energy for his Olympic events, and when the time comes he must be able to draw upon that energy and release it in one burst of power to hurl himself through the last twenty yards of the race.

Racing in British Columbia before the Canadian championships, McPhee equalled the world mark for his distance. In Montreal in the Olympic trials his time was nothing surprising.

"Howie had spent his excess energy in travelling, in running up and down stairs, in the thousand and one movement that are involved by a trip from the coast to Montreal. The store of energy that he needed was not there, as he won his race simply running," explained Granger. "Provided he has time to store up that energy, and produce an explosive finish at the Olympic we need fear no one. What is most important, we both know that what counts is beating the man."

Scenting a secret we wanted to know what was meant.

A Competitive Runner.

"Before anyone can win they will have to go ahead and stay ahead of Howie," explained Bob. "That is where he is going to have trouble. McPhee is a competitive runner. If he has to run faster than his previous best time to win a race, don't worry, he will do it. He has a good start, plenty of speed on the straightaway, and if the old finish is there at Berlin, he is going to be mighty tough to beat!"

While the United States, amops other nations are taking to Berlin several sprinters who have world records in the short distances to their credit, they will find that their records mean nothing to a short bronsed youngster, and a slight red-headed serious faced coach from Vancouver.

There is an optimistic light in Coach Bob Granger's eyes, and chained lightning in McPhee's legs that might turn into another double sprint victory for the Maple Leaf at the 11th renewal of the Olympiad.

TORONTO CLUB TAKES DOUBLE

Nekola And Herrmann Effective On Mound In Subduing Bears

POWERFUL HITTING

NEWARK, July 25.—(CP).—TorontoMaple Leafs gained considerable ground in the fight for an International Baseball League play-off position here last night when they defeated the once dangerous Newark Bears in both ends of the doubleheader. The scores were 4-1 and 8-2 with both Bats Nekola and Leroy Herrmann turning in fine pitching exhibitions.

Driving Marvin Duke to the showers, the Leafs did all their first-game scoring in the fourth when they accounted for five of their six hits off the south-paw.

Julius Wera, who had to leave the game a few minutes later when his stomach became upset, started the big barrage with a single. Nekola sacrificed and Oliver, Miller and McQuinn singled sharply and consecutively, with Blakely's rollicking triple climaxing the rally.

During the last four innings, Nekola, who singled in the seventh was the only Leaf to reach first base with Al. Piechota turning in a good relief job, but little did that matter with Nekola in his best form.

Bunching two of their four hits off the southpaw in the third, the Bears counted their lone run when Bolte uncorked a wild pitch. After that the bespectacled lad settled down and allowed only one safety for the rest of the game.

Leafs Find Batting Eyes.

Led by Comorsky and McQuinn, who accounted for four and three hits respectively, the Leafs bombarded Howard Lafamme and Piechota back for the second time for 16 hits in the night-cap, much to the chagrin of some 7,500 home fans.

Miller, Oliver, Heath and Burnett were also notable contributors to the barrage, with the shortstop's homer following Oliver's walk and the catcher's double featuring a three-run attack which just about sewed up the game in the first inning.

McQuinn double led to another run in third and his triple and Blakely's double chased Laflamme in the fourth. Piechota apparently pitched away all his stuff in the opener for he was easy to hit in his second relief job and it was just a breeze for the men of Boone.

Herrmann was nicked for eight hits, three by Nolan Richardson and wonin easy fashion. The Bears scored in the first but didn't count again until the seventh when Roy Schalk hot a homer.

MARCEL PLAYS AGAINST WILSON

Mrs. Worsley Will Oppose Mrs. Beer In Toronto Intercity Clash

TORONTO, July 25.—Intercity engagements will be fought on the courts of the Toronto Tennis Club to-day in both singles divisions of the Ontario championships, when Rose Wilson, Toronto, meets Marcel Rainville, Montreal, for the men's title, and Mrs. George Worsley, Toronto, matches strokes with Mrs. H. L. Beer, Ottawa. Brilliant tennis displays are forecast basing the players on what they showed in semi-final matches yesterday, the winners reaching the peak of their game at the right moment.

Ross Wilson, hope of Toronto in the men's singles, and already Eastern Canadian champion, never showed to better advantage than against George Leclerc of Ottawa, the lad who forced him to five sets in Rytown last week. Wilson carried altogether too much controlled speed and punch in his shots and won in three straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, 8-6. Only in the third set did Leclerc appear to make any headway against the Toronto boy, who appears ready to step into the shoes of Gilbert Nunns and Walter Martin, both of whom have retired from competitive tennis.

Rainville's Experience Counts

Rainville proved altogether too crafty and smart for Grant McLean, Toronto Cricket Club ace in the other semi-final, winning convincingly, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Mrs. George Worsley, who as Olive Wade, was the queen of Canadian courts several years ago until forced out by illness, is right back to her old form and was never in trouble to hand Mrs. Rene Bolte of Montreal, Quebec champion, a 6-4, 6-2 trimming. Mrs. Beers, Eastern Canadian title holder, had a stiff struggle against young Diana Pope of London, only winning after two keenly-contested sets, 6-4, 8-6.

The junior men's singles will show Bruce Hall and Nick Sabe, both Toronto lads in the finals. Hall trimmed Hugh Pope of London, 6-2, 6-1, while Sabe outlasted Don Kaye of St. Catharines in a near-marathon, 10-8, 0-6, 6-2.

Lawn Bowling
By HERB MARTIN

IN THE FIRST ROUND of the provincial playoffs for rinks, doubles and singles, the Peterborough boys were successful only in rinks. The games were played at Port Perry on Friday evening with Peterborough drawn against Oshawa...In the singles, Jim Harrison met Alex Kidd and put up a good fight but Kidd was just bowling a little too good for Jimmy.

THE DOUBLES was by far the best game as far as bowling was concerned. All four bowlers putting up a good exhibition with possibly Eddie Goodman holding the whip hand...In the rink game it was rather even until the sixth end when the Fire Chief and his hired help pushed over a great big four and from then on it was only a procession...The draw for the next round has not been announced as yet.

RECORD ENTRY FOR THE HENLEY

Crews From Buffalo, New York, Detroit And Chicago Will Oppose Canadians

BEGINS THURSDAY

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont., July 25 (CP)—One of the most representative fields in years will face the starter's guns in the Canadian Henley rowing races here, as the three-day meet gets underway next Thursday. Crews from Buffalo, New York, Montreal, Detroit and Chicago will face opposition from Ontario clubs of Toronto, Hamilton and St. Catharines.

The big New York championship eight, defeated last year by Hamilton Leanders, will be back to threaten for the eight's crown. With Leanders away representing Canada at the Olympics in Berlin, the New Yorkers will get all their opposition from Detroit and Buffalo clubs.

The Olympics will take their toll of Canada's chances in the single's events also. With Chuck Campbell, Toronto, in Berlin, and Johnny Coulson, also of Toronto, over in England, J. Durnan, Toronto, will battle it out with entries from Montreal, New York and Buffalo, and two members of the Toronto Argonauts.

The West Side Rowing Club, Buffalo, will be well-represented especially in junior events. Chicago Lincoln Parks will be contestants in at least two races, and Detroit Wyandottes will be near the finish line at the conclusion of several other events, while Montreal Lachine will make keen competition in others.

OFFICER PRAISES BURWASH GANGS

Says Only One Of 150 Fighting Fires Fled—Captured, Gets Two Years

SUDBURY, Ont., July 25—(CP)—Tribute was paid prisoners of Burwash Industrial Farm when sergeant W. F. Kavanaugh, of the farm staff, appeared to testify yesterday in the city police court against Clarence White, escaped trustie. White who made a break while fighting fires last week, was given two years in Kingston by Magistrate J. S. McKeagock.

"We had 150 convicts fighting the fires," said Sergeant Kavanaugh. "White was the only one that let us down. They were out at all hours of the day and night working voluntarily under great stress and danger."

White pleaded he broke jail to see his mother who was sick. He had been acting as night relief pump man on the forest fires when he made the break. He was a trustie and had served six months of a fifteen month term imposed at Goderich for stealing autos.

During his escape, White stole a car near Parry Sound, and Magistrate Meldrum of that town imposed four months on him which he will have to serve at the end of his present Burwash term.

Vandalism Feared Against U.S. Boat

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y., July 25 (AP).—The 14-year-old El Lagarto, its motor reassembled after a last-minute dismantling to determine whether it was harmed by vandals, stood ready to defend its thrice-won Golf Cup Regatta title to-day against six highly-tuned boats representing the most modern pilot, announced the amazing old craft would answer the starting gun for the first of the three-mile heats that make up the event.

"Take a look at it yourself," he said, as the shiny, sleek craft prepared to enter the water for the race which begins at one p.m. E.D.T. "The motor is not damaged."

Reis and his Wall Street broker-mechanic tore down the new 500-horsepower motor to determine whether it had been tampered with after discovering someone had broken into the boathouse. Reis said there had been no vandalism.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY
Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

(By O. J. P.)

ONE of the finest baseball articles we've slanted the spectacles at in many a moon appears this week in Liberty magazine. It's by Johnny Evers, famous old second-sacker with the Cubs and Braves in their pennant-winning years. Tinkers-to-Evers-to-Chance is still a big league catch phrase. This fiery, fast-thinking infielder of other years believes no ball team is worth its salt that isn't full of fighting players. He cites the case of the Braves of 1914, hopelessly in last place and 14 games back of the leader July 4th. They suddenly went beserk, fighting rival teams, umpires and fans all over the circuit and they not only won the loop pennant but defeated the great Athletics in four straight in the world series! "Fighting fury was responsible," Evers claimed.

* * * * * *

SOME of the old Peterborough teams had it. Jake Solomon and his gang for several years rode opposing C.O.B.L. clubs and the umpires without mercy—and never hesitated to swing a fist for emphasis. This town was noted as one of the most rabid ball centres inOntario. Knotty Lee had his outfit last year whipped up to a fighting state when they hit the playoffs and only had breaks—in which police, umps and mob scenes were mixed up plentifully—kept them from the title which they had won the year before. Joe Daley and his Ponies are as scrappy an outfit as you'll find in amateur ball, too.

* * * * * *

WE like fighting ball teams. Baseball is not tennis nor cricket where a fight is simply outrageous. We like to see a club looking for every break, going around with chips on the shoulder, roaring defiance. With the team and their rabid followers keeping the umpires on their toes. A couple of the timid Belleville umps even yet think this is a tough town, but they ought to see any ordinary big league game and note the terrific panning the real umpires take day after day from fans and players. This year's squad of Petes are fairly scrappy but haven't any too much gingerino. At least, to date. But they'll likely be in battling tooth and nail before the playoffs arrive. We'd suggest they each read that article by Evers.

WESTCLOX girls were wound up last night in their colleens' circuit contest at the Bowl and whammed out a 15-4 win over Omemee to move into a second-place tie with the villagers. They had 24 hits—though some were as scratchy as new red flannels—and, despite enough errors, tightened up in the pinches to keep the O's tamed. A fair sort of fracas if you threw out a couple of innings. Westclox have three games next week and they'll know then if they are in the second-half playoffs or not. Omemee is up there, too, battling away while Bailleboro and C.G.E. are in the hunt yet. It's C.G.E. and Westclox here Monday p.m.

* * * * * *

THE game in the masculine gender up at Central yester twilight saw Westclox men take a 12-5 licking at the hands of the last-place Omemee squad. It was most surprising and disgustful to Jake Beckerman and his boys, but does not materially affect the standing. Bunched hits by Omemee with errors and a little staleness—they've played four games this week—on the part of the Westclox mainly accounted for the upset. Reeds went good and had neat backing while neither Elliott nor Parsons could halt the rout. And are the boys yapping these days about side-arm deliveries. It's Westclox vs Quakers here Monday.

* * * * * *

THERE was a smart softball game played the other e'en in the Junior Southend League. Payne's defeated the Cubs 9-8 in 11 innings. With the outfits tied up at 7-all going into overtime, James clouted a homer to put Payne's ahead but in the Cubs' half, Castle dittoed with a four-bagger and it was again sewed up tighter than a monopoly. Well, Flinger Collins of the Payne squad decided fun was fun but it could be carried too far so out he steps in the 11th spasm and biffs a circuit clout to wind it all up. It puts his team nicely in front and doesn't help the Cubs much.

* * * * * *

AND a humdinger of a baseball battle was staged last eve in Kingston with Napanee and the Ponies going 11 innings to a scoreless draw. It was the finest ball game played in this C.O.B.L. since Hector was a frolicsome pup. Williams—hero of many such swell duels in the past—and Pointer pitched their heads off, the Chief allowing but three hits and Tommy being touched for only two. Grand chucking, what? And they had great support all through. Kingston kicked when the game was called by Ump Loucks of Napanee, saying it was still plenty bright enough to continue. We dunno the facts but it wouldn't be Kingston without some squawk. The tilt, of course, means nothing—and will have to be replayed. The Ponies have a number of tussles postponed or to be played over.

* * * * * *

THESE words are culled from the Oshawa column: "Gunner Whitehill, who is a brother to the Washington big league hurler—who is also having a big season—has been doing very well for himself of late. He held the Belleville team hitless for nearly seven innings on Wednesday. Whitehill, a righthander who has a nice turn of speed, lots of control and a tricky curve, is a senior calibre pitcher and, given good support, is apt to be plenty tough for the Oshawans." Quite true but the same scribe is dizzier than Dean when he says of our junior ball team: "Actually, the Petes don't belong on the same diamond as Oshawa's classy junior team." He is probably just trying to buck up that outfit as the Rotarians licked 'em all through the schedule and will knock 'em off in the playoffs.

* * * * * *

PICKING 'EM OFF THE GRAPEVINE: Men's softball loop will likely have a benefit game next Sat'day to pay some bills for injured players....A Manitoba rugbyist resides here now and will try out with Orfuns in September....And Belleville plans on importing a few O.R.F.U. stars via the old Trenton airport excuse....The Petes are at Kingston Wednesday and Oshawa at Belleville....Norwood lacrossers play Auburns here Tuesday....The Petes have the youngest team in the C.O.B.L. with four juniors and half a dozen more in their early twenties.... Drake Jopling and Bill Calladine are expected to have N.H.L. tryouts this autumn with Rangers and Red Wings, respectively....POME: If Dizzy Dean had gone to school, back in nineteen-twenty-three, the Diz would still be there in school, but where would the Cardinals be?

New Relief Action Killing Chiselliers

TORONTO, July 25.—(CP)—Hon. David Croll, Minister of Public Welfare, said yesterday that as a result of special relief ordered in [illegible] municipalities relief departments have been deluged with information about relief frauds.

The Minister said taxpayers "are arising in vehement protest against chiselliers and are passing on to authorities information they possess individually."

"We seem to be on the verge of a real cleanup in these municipalities," the Minister said.

ANCIENT CARRYALL FEATURES PARADE ANNUAL FIELD DAY

'Squash Town' Girls Battle Boys' Team To 5-5 Tie At Millbrook

KEEN SPORTS PROGRAM

MILLBROOK, July 25. — The opening feature of the annual field day, sponsored by the Agricultural Society, and held on Thursday beginning at 2 p.m., was the drive to the society's grounds by the "Squash Town Lassies," the old cab belonging to the Queen's Hotel which did regular duty fifty years ago, with Sam Donnelly as coachman, being utilized to convey the "fair dames" to the sports field.

Dressed as girls, modern and old time, some of the local lads filled the role of belles from "Squash Town," and played a snappy game of softball against the local boys; the score ending as a tie, 5-5, after a five innings contest. The line-up was:

Squash Town.—O. Wainman, p; L. Foster ,s; R. Edmunds, 1b; B. Reper, 2b; J. Thorndyke, 3b; A. T. Armstrong, ss; H. Wainman, rf; K. Kidd, lf; O. Lunn, cf.

Millbrook.—A. Widdis, p; T. Budd, c; E. Williams, 1b; Nelson Chiles, 2b; H. Gray, 3b; G. Henry, ss; K. Donnelly, rf; J. Arundel, lf; O. McCarthy, cf.

Umpires.—Dr. J. W. Wright, and B. B. Dawson.

By innings:

Girls 0,0,1,3,2—5. Boys 3, 0, 1, 0, 1—5

The girls' softball teams put on the next exhibition to the gratification of the spectators, Bailleboro and Omemee battling to an 8-7 final score, with N. Chiles and B. B. Dawson handing out the decisions for the 7-innings' contest. The teams lined up:

Bailleboro.—B. McDowell, p; A. Barnard, c; Muriel Whittington, 1b; M. McDowell, 2b; Thelma Whyte, 3b; R. Wood, ss; D. Smith, rf; B. Bullock, lf; K. Smith, cf.

Omemee.—J. Hickson, p; E. Bigelow, c; M. Fisher, 1b; P. Bigelow, 2b; O. Sisson, 3b; K. McquadE, ss; P. Carl, rf; M. Page, lf; D. Rehill, cf.

Wins Challenge Cup.

Millbrook won the challenge cup in the final fixture of the afternoon, taking an 8-7 victory over Garden Hill in a well-fought game of the South Durham Baseball League, making the locals' ninth victory in the current schedule. Dr. Wright and Milton Dunbar acted as umpires, the former being relieved by Leo Charlebois when professional duties called him away. The players were:

Garden Hill: A. Mercer p, L. Bryans c, Foster 1b, Griffiths 2b, Ernshaw 3b, W. Bryan rf, Elliott lf, Inchley ss.

The evening events began with an entertainment by the Millbrook Citizens' Band, which played a number of selections, and by bagpipe selections by the Stone Brothers, of Renfrew, visitors in the neighborhood, who in full regulation costume paraded King Street, and certainly won the crowd with their performance, which was well done, and unusual locally.

The heavy rain compelled abandonment of the original purpose of using the central section of King Street for the dance, the Armouries and the Town Hall nicely accommodating the crowd, which, of course, was lessened by the unfavorable turn taken by the weather, though the rain was not wholly unwelcome since it has been so badly needed for some weeks. Harry McDonald's band, of Peterborough, provided music for the dancers, and while a number of special events promised on the bills had to be given up, under the circumstances, the girl tap dancers from Peterborough were on hand and won prolonged applause by their clever exhibition.

A booth on the grounds in the afternoon, and another in W. E. Ball's store, at night, did a steady business, adding to the financial returns, which on all counts will not exceed 160. The Agricultural Society needs the funds from its annual sports day and dance, and will be lucky if it clears $100 from this year's effort.

Britain Gains Win Davis Cup Singles

WIMBLEDON, England, July 25 (CP Cable).—Henry W. "Bunny" Austin to-day defeated the veteran Jack Crawford of Australia, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1, in the first match of the Davis Cup challenge round, sending Great Britain away to a flying start in her defence of the tennis title.

Austin's characteristic smooth-stroking form and precise shots carried him to victory after the former Australian champion captured the first set. Austin ran out the last two sets quickly.

During the first Dutch period, beginning in 1623, the territory now known as New York state was governed by a director named Odrisen Joriszen Tienpoint.

MASSES FOUGHT IN SMALL AREA

Canadian Pilgrims Amazed At Smallness Of Battleground Where They Fought

By Capt. W. W. Murray, M.C.)

POPERINGHE, Belgium, July 25. (CP).—Perhaps the most notorious and ill-starred battle ground in the world, the Ypres Salient was, for the enormous masses of men who fought in it, also the most restricted. Those Canadian Pilgrims, scheduled to arrive here tomorrow, who expect to look upon a limitless expanse of territory will be amazed at the smallness of the area within which hundreds o fthousands of men died and millions were wounded.

From Ypres to that grim sepulchre of nations, Hill 60, is a distance due south-east of only two and ahalf miles. Observatory Ridge is less than a mile north of Hill 60. St. Eloi among craters the 2nd Division fought and died in April, 1916, is just slightly more than two miles south of Ypres.

On th other side, St. Julian is three miles and a half north-east of the city with Passchendaele four miles to the east of St. Julian.

Passcheridaele was the farthest penetration achieved by the British Armies in fighting that broke out in June, 1917, and ended in November. In a straight line from Wieltje to Passchendaele the area gained at a cost of more than 250,000 lives was, at its greatest depth, only five miles and a half.

Chile is considering the enactment of a new law stipulating that "no workman is to receive less than a living wage to provide the essentials of food, clothing and essentials for his labor."

Lady, Be Gallant

BY MARIE BLIZARD

CHAPTER 47

"CHOCOLATE SODA on white bread," Joan said to the waitress and peeled off her gloves in Schmidt's.

"What!" The waitress had heard of funny combinations but this topped them.

"I beg your pardon," Joan came out of her trance and corrected herself thinking it didn't matter what she had. The only thing she wanted was to find peace and an opportunity to think things out.

Between sips of the tasteless drink she marshaled her thoughts. She had introduced Sheila to Win. She had told Sheila that Win was married. That wouldn't make any difference to Sheila but it would to Win.

For, however badly Win had treated Joan, he had done it only because it was the only thing to do. She had no reason to think that he would be intrigued with Sheila. He was married only a few months. He had intimated that his wife was jealous. He had intimated that he still cared for Joan.

Savagely she bit into the straw. Of course, he didn't care for her. And why should she care what Sheila and Win did? What right had she to be jealous?

At last she had resolved her problem and as usual, in her own reasoning, she arrived at the conclusion that she was the only one who was out of step. It was her own jealousy that had made her read into a situation something that was not there.

It was only natural that Sheila and Win would be riding in a taxi together. Sheila and Win were friends. Perhaps she had met him and was dropping him somewhere. That was that, and Joan was going to think no more about it.

Furthermore she was not going to see Win any more. Even on that friendly basis. If there was the slightest feeling of jealousy in her it was because she still cared for him and therefore it was dangerous. Friends were not jealous of each other and their other friends.

But she did see him one time more that was to be the last time.

She didn't know that.

Bob and Mary Brandt, who were friends of Sheila's, had arrived back in New York after spending the spring in Europe. They wanted to give a supper party for Sheila after the show. They wanted an extra girl, Joan was invited and Julian insisted that she accept.

She hadn't been out for weeks, he insisted, and it was no pleasure for her to stay in and play cribbage with an old man.

"Quitter," she accused. "You want to practice secretly because I'm ahead in our tournament.

But she went and was surprised to find Sheila arriving with Win. That he didn't know the Brandts she knew. Therefore Sheila must have asked to have him invited. And why not? He was young and very attractive. His name may have popped into her mind.

Joan danced with Bob Brandt and came back to the table to find that Win had left Sheila's side and was sitting in the chair next to her own.

She was chatting to a man on her right when Win said, "Let's go, Joan. I'm taking you home."

"But you can't take her away," Mary Brandt protested. "We're going to Harlem later and we want her to stay."

They had been there less than an hour.

"Sorry," he said, reaching back for Joan's wrap. "Harlem is strictly out for little girls who have to get up early in the morning and for hard-working medicos. Ready, Joan?"

Joan didn't know that she was ready but it seemed she was. She found her wrap slipped about her shoulders and her gloves in hand.

Without thinking, she looked toward Sheila who was absorbed in conversation with their host.

"He's right," she said, chiefly because she was tired and anxious to get home and get some sleep. "Thank you so much for having me. It was a grand party."

Instead of guiding her through the maze of tables while the others were dancing, Win waited until the music had stopped. Then he took her straight across the dance floor.

"Excuse me a sec," he said when they reached the curtained doorway. "I'll be right back."

She saw him walk to one of the wall tables and stop for a moment to speak to a stunning girl and an older man. Then he came back to her.

She preceded him through the doorway to the crowded elevator. At the door below the checkroom girl gave him his top hat.

"Hope you didn't mind waiting," he said when they were finally in a taxi. "I . . ."

Joan stifled a yawn.

"That's all right. I've rather gotten in the habit of going to bed early and I was glad to get away Were you really so bored?"

She remembered how they used to go dancing so many years before. Driving miles around the countryside in her old car to find any place that there was a dance floor and music.

"A legitimate excuse for taking you in my arms," he used to say.

Joan wondered whether she were getting old. She was too tired to think of ever doing a thing like that again or ever feeling that way.

She stole a sidelong glance at Win sitting beside her and looking so handsome in tail and white tie, his top hat perched so jauntily on his crisp blonde head. But at that moment the old catch in her throat was missing. He just looked like a good-looking young man. Not HER Win. She stifled another yawn.

"Hope I'm not keeping you up," he said politely.

"Oh, not a bit. Nice party, wasn't it?"

"Divine," he said, in precisely the same tone. "And wasn't the music splendid and did you think the dance floor was superb or was I dancing in special form tonight?"

"I don't know," she answered. "You didn't dance with me."

"Didn't I?" He seemed to be striving to match her bored flippancy and didn't quite make it.

"No," she answered, "you didn't." And hastily, "Not that it mattered. Dancing is one of those things. But it rather surprised me that you were so anxious to take me home."

"Always gallant," he said quickly.

"Not always," she said soberly. There was an obvious silence for the next few moments.

"Didn't you recognize the lady I stopped to speak to?" he asked at the point when Joan was finding it a trifle difficult.

"No. Should I?" She was making an effort to be sociable.

"Rather. It was my wife."

"Oh!"

She didn't say another word until the taxi drew up at her door.

"Good night, Win," she said, with what was left of her voice.

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE KETTLE.

The fire dog, who came to live back of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow, was called Spot. You remember I told you last night how he heard Baby Bunty banging on the frying pan in the closet and ran with Uncle Wiggily on his back to rescue her, because he thought the clanging was a fire alarm?

Well, after that all the rabbits loved Spot. So did Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, who made special things that she knew dogs loved to eat. And so did Jiggie Flatpaw, the honey-bear.

Spot was a kind dog. And when he got over being strange—the way people are when they come to a house for the first time, you know—he began to have a wonderful time. He would run about the yard with the little rabbits on his back, making believe he was going to a fire. And he told them many exciting stories of the days when he ran with the fire horses, before they used automobiles for engines.

"We had the best fire company in all the city," Spot said proudly. "And once, when a house caught on fire, I ran in and saved a little girl by carrying her out."

"How did you do that?" Jiggie asked eagerly.

They Gave Me a Medal.

"I took her dress in my teeth, and pulled her to the door, and the firemen came and got her," Spot replied. "They gave me a medal for it—but I lost it somewhere. And my picture was in the papers."

"Isn't that splendid!" Baby Bunty cried. "We're awfully glad you're staying with us, Spot! Because if ever we do have a fire, you can rescue all of us!"

He came bounding along.

"That would be a big job," Spot laughed, looking about at all the rabbit children. "But you won't have any fire. And now who would like to come for a ramble with me? I'll take good care of them," he assured Nurse Jane and Uncle Wiggily. "May they go, please?"

Uncle Wiggily asked Mrs. Longears and she said it would be all right. So all the rabbits and Spot started off through the woods. Uncle Wiggily didn't go, for he was rather tired.

He was so tired, in fact, that he fell asleep. But he woke up suddenly, to hear a growling noise outside the bungalow!

"It's the Wolf!" he gasped. "Close the doors and the windows, quick!" and he leaped up to shut as many windows as he could. Then those in the bungalow were safe, but the Wolf kept growling: "If I can't get in to you, I'll stay here and won't let you out! What do you think of that?"

Can We Call Him Back?

They didn't think it was very nice of the Wolf, I can tell you that. And Uncle Wiggily began to wish that Spot were there. "He'd frighten that wolf away," the rabbit gentleman declared. "But how can we call him back? Let me see . . ."

He thought and thought, and then had a fine idea. He put a kettle on the stove, filled with water, and in a little while it began to boil. Then Uncle Wiggily made a whistle with a knife and a piece of wood—carved it out, you know. He put this whistle in the spout of the kettle. The steam, rushing out, blew the whistle very loudly—just like a real steam whistle you hear on railroad trains!

"Spot will hear that!" Mr Longears said. "He'll think it's a fire whistle, and come running!"

That's just what happened. Spot heard the whistle and in a few minutes he came bounding along, barking for all he was worth. And didn't he scare that old wolf! For the wolf wasn't very brave, you see, and scooted off as soon as he saw Spot, who was a real hero.

Uncle Wiggily couldn't give Spot a medal for what he had done, but Nurse Jane gave the kind dog some special dog biscuits she baked. He was well satisfied with this. And in the next story, if the pencil doesn't chase the eraser around the desk until it gets dizzy, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily and the hoot owl.

Rates Soar On Goods Being Sent To Spain

LONDON, July 24 (CP)—Lloyds, insurance underwriters, yesterday advanced war risk insurance rates for cargo and specie shipments to Spain 1,000 per cent. or more.

Against the current rate of sixpence per £100 (12 cents per $500) for ocean voyages except to Palestine, the new charge for cargo and specie shipment to Spanish northern ports was raised to five shillings ($1.25) and to other Spanish posts and Spanish Morocco to 7 shillings 6 pence ($1.87).

When the cargo destination is within port limits the discharge period was fixed at 15 days, but when the shipment is consigned to the interior the period covered was made to 30 days for which the minimum rate is 15 shillings per £100 ($3.75 per $500).

SEYMOUR PINES HARBOR SAWFLY

Destructive Larvae Found Near Campbellford Identified By District Forester

NEW LOCAL PESTS

The identity of a box of hungry that have no more sense than to pick on pine needles for their subsistence has been confirmed as larvae of the sawfly by H. W. Crosbie, district forester at Tweed.

Received by The Examiner as a little sample group of hosts of their species that have been stripping pine trees in the Campbellford district, they were shown to Arthur Stevenson and Jerry Young at the Crown Timber office here, but neither of these experienced woodsmen had ever seen Leconte's pine sawfly in the larvae stage. Mr. Young sent the box to Mr. Crosbie, and a prompt reply tells all about these tiny insects which can strip tall pines of their needles and leave them as bare as a high fence around a nudist colony.

Mr. Crosbie says that after two or three years of severe sawfly attack numbers of the trees will be found dying or dead. It is understood that this enemy of the forests has only recently appeared south of the Ottawa River, although that information does not come from the District Forester's office. Mr. Crosbie reports that this insect has been found in various parts of the district within the last few years, and has been successfully controlled by the use of insecticides.

The adult flies appear during the latter part of June, lay eggs in slits cut in the edges of pine needles, one egg in each needle, and after fifteen to twenty days the larvae or worms appear often feeding upon the same needle. This period lasts for several weeks. During September and early October the full grown larvae drop to the ground where they construct brown cocoons in the moss or under leaves and rubbish. In the following Spring a new generation of sawflies appears from these cocoons with more trouble for the pine trees.

Mr. Crosbie says that at present no practical method for the control of large outbreaks is available. It is probable that airplane dusting would prove of great value in checking small outbreaks and preventing their spread.

In small plantations and on isolated small trees remove the larvae by hand and crush them or drop them into a pail of water and kerosene," Mr. Crosbie writes. "When larger areas and trees are involved, spray the foliage with arsenate of lead at the rate of 1½ pounds of powder in 40 gallons of water, with a small amount of soap added."

The District Forester said he would appreciate information as to where these larvae were found.

Women's Institutes Will Visit Factories

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HALL'S BRIDGE, July 25—A well attended meeting of the Hall's Bridge Women's Institute was held on Tuesday evening, July 14th at the home of Mrs. A. A. Smith. After the regular opening, the roll call was answered by a display of the articles made for the bazaar, which is to be held August 12. Letters of appreciation were read from a number of people who received gifts of fruit.

The invitation of the Lakefield branch to join them in a visit to Peterborough factories August 5th was discussed and plans made for joining them.

It was decided to hold the annual bazaar and garden party on Wednesday, August 12th, and the various committees were appointed

The new programmes for the year were shown and all were very pleased with them.

Mrs. G. Dunford and Mrs. Levi Harris favored the ladies with a duet, and Mrs. H. Pearson gave a reading showing how we all could help our neighbor.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem after which, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. A. Shearer, Mrs. W. Shearer, Mrs. H. Pearson and Mrs. S. Hood, served a dainty lunch.

The August meeting will be held one week later than usual on August 18th at the home of Mrs. Levi Harris.

CANADIAN NURSE Says

"I give Baby's Own Tablets at once"

IN an Ontario community, Nurse "B" is highly regarded for her skill and care in nursing sick babies. And there's no doubt that Nurse "B" knows, from long experience, which treatment she can rely upon. Here's what she says:

"When I am called to a sick, crying baby, I always give Baby's Own Tablets before trying any other remedy. I find them very soothing for feverish, teething little ones and these tablets take right hold of little sick tummies and straighten them up right away. I can honestly recommend Baby's Own Tablets . . . I always carry a package of them in my grip wherever I go."

Mrs. B——, Campbellford.

If there is a baby or young child in your home who is fretful, constipated, teething or has indigestion, simple fever, colic, diarrhoea, upset stomach or a cold . . . give Baby's Own Tablets, the remedy Nurse "B" finds so dependable. [illegible] tablets are always fresh, [illegible] and certified safe. As many parents in baby's health come without warning, it is advisable to keep Baby's Own Tablets handy for prompt relief. Price 25c.

Try them at our risk. Buy a package today and, if you do not find them as good as we claim, return the partially-used box to us and we will refund your money. 93

3 Youths Sentenced For Fenelon Robbery

LINDSAY, July 25.—The three Toronto youths, James Cowan, Wood Street, Roy Hollingshead and Philip Mark, Brock Avenue, were sentenced in police court yesterday morning by Magistrate Gee. Hollingshead and Cowan received nine months determinate and six months indeterminate in Guelph Reformatory, while Mark, who had no previous record, was given suspended sentence.

The three were charged with entering the cottage of Wallace Graham on Cameron Lake, McCallum's tailor shop in Fenelon Falls, and the cottage of Sir Joseph Flavelle at Sturgeon Point.

ALDERVILLE

ALDERVILLE, July 25. — Chief Norman Marsden's cottage at Vimy Ridge Park was the scene of an interesting social gathering on Wednesday afternoon when over 100 relatives and member of the Marsden family gathered for their first family reunion.

Coming the farthest was Mrs. E. D. Bearfoot of Brantford, niece of Mr. Robert Marsden, Sr., who with the exception of a brief visit last year, had not been home for fifty years.

The tables were arranged on the lawn after the rain, which had been threatening, cleared away. After the supper, speeches were given, first by Tom Marsden, who gave an address of welcome, which was fittingly replied to by E. D. Bearfoot, W. F. Powlers of Brantford, Robert Marsden of Christian Island, and Moses Marsden of Lakefield.

When the supper had been cleared away, ice cream was then served, a special treat of Robert Marsden of Christian Island.

The brass band, under the leadership of Robert Marsden, Jr., played at intervals during the afternoon, and in the evening gave a concert which was much enjoyed.

In the course of the evening a meeting was called to order, when it was decided to organize and appoint officers and so make the Marsden reunion an annual affair. The officers appointed were; President, Chief Robert Marsden of Christian Island; Vice-president, Moses Marsden of Lakefield; Sec.-treasurer, Edgar Marsden; a committee of four were appointed: Messrs. Chief Norman Marsden, Tom Marsden, Amos Marsden and Ernest Crowe.

Among those from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bearfoot of Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Powless of the Six Nations Reserve; Mrs. N. Staats of Mount Pleasant; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsden; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Marsden and daughtor Adele and Miss Labina Hawke of Christian Island; Mr. and Mrs. Moses Marsden, the Misses Ruby and Winnie Marsden; Messrs. Fred and Percy Marsden; Mrs. C. Binnington and daughter, Vera and sons Roy and Freddy; Mrs. Clarence McIlmoyl and daughters, Jean and Betty; Miss Mabel Hill, A.T.C.M.; the Misses Jennie and Gladys Hill of Point Anne.

The Aldeville families represented were: Marsden, Crowe, Tobico, Simpson, Bigwen, Franklin, Beaber, Hagar and Black.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM McKEOWN.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 25.—Word received here tells of the death of William McKeown which occurred in Chicago, Ill., on Thursday afternoon. Mr. McKeown was a former resident of Stanwood. Besides his widow, he is survived by four sisters: Mrs. Melvin McComb and Mrs. John Miller of Campbellford, Mrs. W. J. Forde of Seymour and Mrs. Alexander Kennedy of Flesherton; also one brother, James E. McKeown of Stanwood. By a strange coincidence, the four sisters were visiting together at Mrs. McComb's residence when the sad news arrived by wire.

MRS. JEREMIAH LEGROW

The death occurred on Saturday morning after a long illness of Mary Ann Terrien, widow of Jeremiah Legrow, in her 84th year. She died at the residence of her daughter Mrs. A. O'Grady, 338 Perry street. Born near Marmora, the late Mrs. Legrow was a daughter of the late John Terrion and Isabel Quinn, both of pioneer Irish stock. She came here from the Marmora district twenty-eight years ago, and was a member of the Altar Society of Immaculate Conception Church.

She leaves two daughters Mrs. A. O'Grady and Mrs. James Monsraw and two sons John and Harold Legrow all of this city, also three sisters, Mrs. Bedome of Manitoba; Isabel Terrion of this city and Ellen Terrion of Marmora; and a brother Patrick of Michael, B.C.

The funeral is to be held from the residence of her daughter 138 Perry street on Monday at 8.45 a. m. to the Sacred Heart Church for celebration of Requiem Mass at nine o'clock. Interment at St. Peter's Cemetery.

SCOTCH PRANKSTER POSES AS MONSTER

Loch Ness 'Wonder' Causes Flurry For Photos—All Forgiven

LOCH NESS, Scotland, July 25—(CP)—About 100 Aberdeen excursionists are still talking about their visit here.

There was a rush to the shore when the cry went up, "there's the monster." Dozens of cameras clicked in the hope of recording scoop pictures of the Scottish wonder. But amusement turned to consternation as the "serpent" ambled into shore.

It turned out to be a man in the party who entered the loch unknown and swam about for some time with a large artificial serpent-like head protruding above the surface.

He planned the "hoax" carefully, hiring the serpent's head in Aberdeen.

SAYS COAL FIRMS ARE STILL BOUND BY VERBAL PACTS

Head Of Weaver Company Claims They Are Virtually Same As Written Deal

BROUGHT FINES IN '33

MONTREAL, July 25.—(CP).—Agreements in writing which resulted in conviction of five coal companies in 1933 have been cancelled, but verbal understandings now exist which are "virtually the same," Lovell G. Mickles told the Tory Coal Commission yesterday.

The president of F. P. Weaver Coal Company referred to an exchange of letters between the companies after their conviction and sentence to a total fine of $40,000.

"Those prior agreements were in writing, were they not?" asked Dr. H. M. Tory of Ottawa, presiding over the commission investigating the Canadian anthracite situation.

"Yes," replied Mickles.

"And to-day you have verbal agreements?"

"Yes," answered Mickles, adding that the verbal agreements were "substantially" to the same effect.

Mickles did not subscribe to the theory of Bernard Bissonette, K.C., commission counsel, that there was no more competition in the coal business to-day than there was prior to 1933. Later, however, he answered "Yes" to each of the following questions by Bissonette:

"Coal comes from the same exporters?"

"There is the same handling by the St. Lawrence Stevedoring Company?" (A subsidiary of British Coal Corp.)

"You have the same agreement with British coal?"

"The commission paid by British coal is the same?"

"The distribution is the same?"

"The piling and mixing is the same?"

"The market covered is the same?"

"The price you sell is the same as that of British coal?"

Witness insisted, however, that his viewpoint was there was always competition regardless of what testimony was offered at the first enquiry.

TRENT RIVER Y.P.L. VISITS RUSH POINT

Softball Game Is Followed By Short Program In The Church

RUSH POINT, July 25.—Trent River Young People's League visited Rush Point League for the Thursday evening fortnightly meeting July 24.

A softball game between the Trent River and Rush Point teams created great excitement during the first part of the evening. The score was 11-2 in favor of Trent River.

The members repaired at dusk to the nearby church, where a short program was arranged by Vice-President Clarence Pollock.

The Scripture lesson was read by Mr. Thomas Rowson and the topic talk was capably handled by Mr. Earl Pollock.

Mr. Archie McMillan sang several songs, with guitar accompaniment, and a "Jumbled-Word" contest closed the program.

PRAIRIE OFFICIALS PLAN DROUGHT AID

Over 700,000 Cattle Must Be Moved From Southern Alberta Areas

WINNIPEG, July 24 (CP).—Desperate need of farmers in drought-stricken areas of the Canadian Prairies was considered to-day by governments of the three affected provinces as they considered means of meeting the situation.

High temperatures were maintained throughout the Prairies and there was no rain to relieve parched crops. Partly cloudy weather was forecast for to-day, however, and scattered showers were probable. The heat claimed another victim at Medicine Hat when 12-year-old John Gillespie dropped dead while at play.

A statement of Hon. W. N. Chant, Alberta Minister of Agriculture, declaring the drought situation a national problem, was expected to be considered by Social Credit members of the Alberta Legislature meeting in two-day caucus in Edmonton.

Mr. Chant estimated more than 700,000 cattle must be moved from the Southern Alberta drought areas, and declared Federal aid was necessary. Low-grade stock was consuming feed that should be available for higher quality animals.

The Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada was told in Saskatoon by Hon. R. J. M. Parker, Minister of Municipal Affairs, that assistance would be given in removing livestock from poor feed areas to Northern feeding grounds. The minister said a scheme was under way to rehabilitate farmers who had gone to Northern areas to make a fresh start.

TO-MORROW ON VIMY RIDGE

"THIS pilgrimage to Vimy is a fine episode in a hurly-burly world. These pilgrims in their berets returning to that scene where for undaunted months and years they wore the halo of the hero—they are worthy all honour that will be paid them. Especially those who with the scars or disabilities of their service show new bravery of body and spirit in thus adventuring forth.

We follow with interest the Vimy Pilgrims as they revisit battlefields and those less grim spots back of the lines and in dear old Blighty, where war-time friendships were born and bred. And to-morrow we shall stand in reverent thought before that proud, poignant monument to be unveiled by King Edward, he who, as the Boy Prince of the War years, was adored by his comrades in arms.

Canada's War Memorial has been reared dramatically on the crest of the Ridge identified for all time with Canadian valour. It will be a shrine none the less sacred to countless kindreds of the Fallen, many of whom may never see it in the actuality of its heroic beauty.

SHOE INDUSTRY KEEPS IN TIME

Finds 'Form-Fitting' Footwear Big Factor In Woman's Appearance

BOSTON, July 25.—(CP)— The greatest revolution in fashion design since the whalebone corset was relegated to the scrap-heap," has occured in the shoe industry within the past two years, according to Miss Ruth H. Kerr, fashion adviser. Miss Kerr, an authority on style trends, says this revolution is due to the discovery that shoes designed specifically to compliment the natural contours of the human foot contribute materially to the general smartness of a woman's appearance.

"In place of the exaggerated narrow toe of a few years ago, and the still more fantastic 'needle toe' of the 90's we now have nature-conforming 'lasts' over which shoes are built. In working out these 'lasts,' shoe sculptors have found the proportion of the human foot is in direct relation to the proportion of the individual measurements of the body. The problem therefore has been to bring the individual foot—be it long or short, wide or narrow—into conformity with current style trends.

"The long narrow foot that used to be admired because it was 'aristocratic' is not always the fashionable foot to-day," she explained "Short vamps, lower heels—all are part of the stylists' scheme to bring the shoe into relation to the rest of the costume.

"It is essential for a woman to know how to take care of her shoes. The first step in shoe care, is to place the shoe on a tree immediately it is removed from the foot. The second step is to choose the correct cleaner for the type of leather."

PLANS DISCUSSED FOR CORONATION

Dominion Representatives Attend Commission First Time In History

LONDON, July 25—(CP Cable)—For the first time in history, representatives of the Dominions yesterday attended a meeting of a coronation committee.

The historic meeting was held in St. James' Palace. The Dominions' representatives were present to discuss what part the Dominions will take in the coronation ceremony next May.

The prime ministers and high commissioners of the Dominions were appointed by the King, July 20, to serve on the coronation commission.

The meeting was private. Those attending it included the Duke of York; Prime Minister Baldwin; Ramsay MacDonald, Lord President of the Council; the Archbishop of Canterbury; The Bishop of London; Viscount Halifax, Lord Privy Seal; Viscount Swinton, Secretary for Air; Sir John Simon, Home Secretary; Colonial Secretary W. Ormsby-Gore, the Earl of Athlone, brother of Queen Mary; The Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal; Clement Attlee, leader of the Labor opposition in Parliament; First Lord of the Admiralty Sir Samuel Hoare; and Sir Austen Chamberlain.

Representing the Dominions were Stanley Bruce and Charles te Water, high commissioners in London for Australia and South Africa respectively.

St. John's Defeats Millionaires 24-20

CAMPBELLFORD, July 25.—Les Stover's "St. John's" came to life on Friday evening, stepping up one notch by defeating Bill Sarginson's "Millionaires" 24-20 in one of the hardest fought softball battles of the season. For once the game started on time which pleased the fans who have been getting weary of waiting for the players to arrive at the school grounds at the appointed hour. All that can be said of last night's performance is that the batters on both teams were much better than the pitchers and it was anybody's game until the last man was retired.

At the end of the fourth the scoreboard showed the figures 5-4 in favor of the Sargineon squad but the Bakery boys came back in the fifth with a wonderful burst of speed scoring ten runs which clinched the victory. Upton and Robertson were the outstanding players for the losers each having 4 runs to their credit, the latter making the only home run of the evening.

The teams:

St. John's: Atkinson, 3b; Chas. Bush, 2b; George Smith, cf; Runions, rf; Jack Smith, p; Ray Stover, ss; Nutingdyke, lf; Wilks, c; Ferguson, 1b.

Millionaires: Keating, ss; McKay, 2b; Campney, 1b; Upton, c; Hind, lf; W Flint, cf; Danny Flint, p; Orr, rf; Robertson, 3b.

The game by innings:

St. John's	2	1	0	1	(10)	2	8	—	24
Millionaires	0	1	2	3	7	5	3	—	20

MANITOBA DRIVE NEARING CLIMAX

Party Leaders Wind Up Tours With Voting Coming Monday

WINNIPEG, July 24 (CP)—With Manitoba elections only three days off, party leaders neared the end to-day of campaign programs which have taken them on strenuous tours of the province.

"We will use the resources of Manitoba to meet the needs of the people of this province and this embodies the whole program of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation," S. J. Farmer, leader of the C.C.F. in Manitoba, told Brandon electors last night.

Errick F. Willis, Conservative leader, addressed a meeting in Waskada, in the south-western corner of the province, and Hon. John Bracken head of the Liberal-Progressive government, planned to return from a southern tour to speak here to-night.

Mr. Farmer declared the small Labor group in the legislature in 1931 had asked for a survey of the natural resources of Manitoba but the government's answer had been, "We cannot afford it." Since then the government had spent millions of dollars to supply food for unemployed.

The C.C.F. leader held the whole structure of the Liberal and Conservative policies was built upon the assumption there was a scarcity of food. Instead there was sufficient produced in Manitoba to fill every home in the province.

Mr. Willis reiterated his agricultural platform planks, saying the minimum price of wheat should be 87½ cents but "The sky is the limit for the maximum."

PRESENT COMETS RECALL "BIELA"

Famous Star Sighted In 1826 Split And Travelled As Twins Till 1852

By Howard W Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Writer.)

BOSTON, July 25.—(AP).—Pel- [illegible] and Kaho's comet, now retreating into space, are the first such heavenly bodies visible to the naked eye since 1910.

They are the first comets to appear simultaneously since 1852. That year two celestial wanderers were seen only 2,000,000 miles apart.

The current heavenly visitors have stirred interest in previous comets. Two were visible to the naked eye in 1910. One was the January or Johannesburg comet which did not attract much attention.

The other was Halley's comet, through whose tail the earth passed in May that year. It was a sign-red spectacle on the western horizon just after sunset.

The idea that heads of comets are loose collections of stones and bits of metal received much confirmation from the visible break-up of a famous comet discovered just 110 years ago.

Biela Sighted in 1826.

This was Biela's comet, first seen in 1826 by an Austrian officer, who was an amateur astronomer like Leslie Peltier, the Delphos youth who found the present comet. It returned in 1832 and in 1839, showing it took about seven years to circle its orbit.

In 1845 it came back as two comets, 180,000 miles apart, moving side by side. One was described as like a phantom hand holding a stick of phosphorus, the other as a luminous cloud. At their next visit in 1852 they were 500,000 miles apart.

They never were seen again, but in their place appeared a shower of shooting stars or meteors on the date of the comets' expected return. They came into the earth's atmosphere from a quadrant in the heavens that would have been the comets' rath.

Seven years later came a dense swarm of meteorites. Many astronomers concluded some unidentified force had broken up the original comet, and that its parts had spread over the orbit.

These meteors now appear every year in November in sparse numbers. They are called the Andromedids, from the constellation Andromeda, out of which they appear to come.

Three Wartime Chaplains Pray For Peace—Message Is Read From Premier King

"This Land Is Canada's" Monarch Emphasizes In Dedicating Memorial

By Capt. W. W. Murray, M. C. (Canadian Press Staff Writer).

VIMY RIDGE, July 27.—Canadian pilgrims— veterans and their kin—turned toward home to-day, or scattered on special journeys to fields of their own choosing, scenes of old battles, acres of fading crosses.

King Edward was back in England, carried by air across the channel to affairs of state. President Lebrun was in Paris. The men and women of Northern France returned to their tasks in field and factory and mine.

Alone on the crest of Vimy Ridge two pylons breast the sky with heroic symmetry. Alone, except for the sleeping thousands buried in these plains in whose honor the symbol in stone was reared.

To-day the familiar task is somehow different. A King looks up thoughtfully from his desk; a miner hums old tunes at the coal-face; a farmer sees with new vision the great-grown scar of a parapet.

Great Rendezvous.

King and commoner and veteran came yesterday to a rendezvous with memory the unveiling and dedication of Canada's memorial to the youth, dead in war of her last generation. King Edward unveiled it; President Albert Lebrun spoke; a message was read from Prime Minister Mackenzie King; two Canadian ministers, addressed the thronged thousands; three wartime chaplains prayed for peace.

Six thousand pilgrims, men and women who had crossed the sea to renew the war-time bond, or to look on this land where son or father or brother died, stood silent as His Majesty unveiled the memorial to the dead "in a spirit of thankfulness for their devotion and of pride in their comradeship."

Great names were there also, names grown legendary wherever

TWENTY OFFICERS COMB SWAMPLAND NEAR OWEN SOUND

Hunt Four Burglars Surprised Carting Off Safe With $2,000

ONE BELIEVED WOUNDED

OWEN SOUND, Ont., July 27.—(CP).—Twenty officers under Provincial Police Inspector Jordon, of Kitchenr, searched today through swampland at Dornoch, 20 miles south of Owen Sound, for four men wanted for breaking and entering a Wiarton, Ont., beer warehouse a few hours earlier. At least one of the four was believed wounded.

The man were carrying the warehouse safe containing about $2,000 to their car when police surprised them. They fled in a fusillade of shots fired by Provincial Constable W. A. Embleton but he believes one was wounded.

As they sped south from Wiarton to Chesley, Constable O. McClevis fired on the car. He hit the vehicle at least three times, he said, one bullet going through the windshield and another through a rear door.

Abandoning the auto, which had no license plates, at Dornoch, they sought refuge in the swamp. When police found the car, there were bloodstains in the rear seat.

Occupants of a farm house about two miles away told officers a stranger, believed to be one of the wanted men, came to the house and asked if he could use their telephone to call Toronto. They told him they had no phone and thought he boarded a bus for Guelph.

BRITISH LINER CLIPS 3 HOURS OFF OCEAN RUN

Queen Mary Crosses To New York In 4 Days, 8 Hours, 37 Minutes

TAKES SHORTER COURSE

Average Speed Is 29.61 Knots Or .03 Slower Than That Of Normandie

NEW YORK, July 27.—(AP)—R.M.S. Queen Mary docked today after making the fastest crossing ever recorded for a steamer between Europe and New York—but her commander did not claim the blue pennant of Atlantic supremacy.

"We very well do not deserve it," said Sir Edgar Britten, in command of the liner.

So the Blue ribbon, emblem of Atlantic speed, remains with France's Normandie, which in June 1935, averaged 29.64 knots for the crossing as compared with the Queen Mary's 29.61 knots.

The reason is the Normandie started her best run from Southampton and travelled 3,193 nautical miles. The Queen Mary was clocked from Cherbourg, 3,096 nautical miles away.

The British ship made the crossing in four days, eight hours, 37 minutes; the French ship covered the longer route in four days, 11 hours, 42 minutes.

Passengers See Fatal Plane Crash

Aboard the Queen Mary were 1,795 passengers. Many of them witnessed the crash of a seaplane, killing one man, off Nantucket lightship yesterday.

Sir Edgar said he believed the crash was caused by the vacuum aft his ship. "That's what brought him down," he said.

The Queen Mary's fastest time on the voyage was 760 miles at an average speed of 30.40 knots from noon Friday to noon Saturday. The highest speed made by the Normandie was 31.5 knots.

The record voyage of the British liner was made over smooth seas and under bright skies. On her maiden trip in May, fog slowed down her time.

Otherwise the Queen Mary's fourth voyage was without incident.

French Line officials, who say the Normandie has a slight superiority over the Queen Mary in tonnage and length, have indicated the Normandie would not surrender the blue ribbon without a struggle.

At The Vimy Ridge Memorial Unveiling

After he had unveiled the magnificent memorial at Vimy Ridge in honor of the Canadian heroes who, on Easter Monday 19 years ago had gloriously captured the heights, King Edward spoke with many of the 6,000 Canadians on pilgrimage to Vimy to witness the unveiling. This Central Press Canadian radiophoto shows the King standing in the centre at the foot of one of the great pylons. Extreme right is Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian minister to France. Directly right of the King is Brig. Gen. Alex Ross. Next to His Majesty on the left is Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice. Full figure on left is Prince Arthur of Connaught. The picture was rushed special plane Vimy to London thence radiographed to New York.

FOOD FOR MADRID BREAKS BLOCKADE FOILS REBEL HOPES

Loyalists Redouble Aerial Bombings Of Seville, Cadiz And Algeciras

FIERCE BATTLE IN TOLEDO

By George De Lorrain, (Copyright, 1936 The Harvas News Agency).

MADRID, July 27.—Hundreds of tons of food brought into Madrid today from the Provinces upset rebel hopes of forcing this capital into surrender by a prolonged siege as the Government announced rebel forces have been routed from the Guardarrama mountain region to the north.

At the same time Loyal Government planes bombarded rebel strongholds and ordered all electric power cut off in Seville, Cadiz, and Alegeciras, key cities held by the insurgents.

The radio station at Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, was reported wrecked by bombs dropped on it. The Government also announced that fires had broken out at Melilla after an aerial offensive by Loyalist aircraft.

Cartegena Falls.

Cartegena, important Mediterranean naval base, was captured from the rebels after a bloody conflict it was officially announced. The capture of Villaneuva De La Serena in Badajoz Province was believed imminent.

(Dispatches from Barcelona reported Gen. Miguel Cabanelles, rebel leader at Zaragoza, was preparing to capitulate as three strong Loyal columns converged toward his defences.

The rebel-controlled radio station in Seville meanwhile broadcast reports that Monarchist-Fascist troops were within 25 miles of Madrid. The announcer attributed the Government's efforts to hold San Sebastian to realization the port would afford them means of escape from the country.

AT VIMY UNVEILING

May Take Cruise As Alternative—Royal Yacht Victoria Albert Prepared

LONDON, July 27.—(AP).— King Edward has cancelled his plans for a holiady at Cannes, on the French Riviera, it was announced at Buckingham Palace today. His decision it was understood, was due to the troubles in Spain.

King Edward, it was stated, realized the responsibilities of French authorities had been increased tremendously as a result of the Spanish Civil war. Consequently, he did not wish to add to them.

It was understood the King had discussed the question with President Lebrun of France while at Vimy Ridge yesterday and had told M. Lebrun of his decision. King Edward flew back from Vimy where he unveiled the Canadian Memorial. Originally, he had planned to occupy the Cannes Villa of Maxine Elliott, the actress, for two weeks early in August.

The Royal Yacht Victoria Albert is in commission, ready for a cruise and the King may decide on this alternative for his holiday.

WHEAT GROWERS PLAN TO PROCEED ON CLEANING PLANT

Will Look Over Available Sites With Department Official Wednesday

OPERATING BY FALL

At a meeting held in the office of the District Representative of the Department of Agriculture the newly formed Wheat Growers' Association decided to proceed at once with plans for the establishment of a seed cleaning and grading plant in Peterborough. It is expected that John McLeod from the Seed Branch at Toronto, will be in the city on Wednesday, and with the committee of the Wheat Growers' Association will look over available sites and make plans to have the plant in operation this fall.

H. A. Quinn of Douro, is president of the new association; Gordon Hancock of Smith, is secretary-treasurer, and Robert Armstrong of Cavan, is vice-president. It was pointed out at the meeting that it would be impossible to sell wheat for seed unless it was graded.

The Association agreed to sponsor the movement, which will call for an expenditure of $500, and the desire is to secure 100 members at $5 each, and the committee will work toward this end. J. J. Duffus, M.P., who was present headed the subscription list with $25, and was prepared to finance the plant if necessary until the committee had completed its work. He also made an offer to supply temporary accommodation in order to get the undertaking started. The meeting was attended by 35 farmers from the district, and it is assured now that the cleaning and grading plant will be in operation in Peterborough.

Where They Get 'Em.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 27. — Charles Hinds of Toronto, hooked and landed the largest lunge caught in the Trent waters in this district so far this season and Percy Boom is again in the limelight. Mr. Hinds who is spending vacation at Boyce's Summer resort went trolling on Saturday evening and got a strike which nearly jerked him out of the boat. Seeing the commotion William Fraser who was fishing nearby put an anchor on his boat and jumped into the motor launch to lend assistance in the capture, while John Shaw attended to the steering wheel.

After nearly two hours extremely careful handling occasioned by the fact that the troll line was none too strong, a monster lunge weighing 33½ pounds gave up the battle and was safely hauled into the boat. This fish was on display in Joel McArthur's shop window on Saturday night and attracted a lot of attention, measuring 53¼ inches in length and having a girth of 21¼ inches. The bait used was a Devil Red Eye single spoon wiggler. Needless to say Mr. Hinds has taken snap shots of his prize and intends having it mounted.

J. G. Wharry, sales manager for the Quaker Oats Company in eastern Canada, qualified for the fishing spotlight by landing a 32-pound lunge at Deer Bay during the week-end. The fish struck his hooks opposite Beechwood, and put up a lively struggle before its shining length of forty-four inches lay along the bottom of the boat.

A nice lunge was caught at Crawford's Grove on the old Otonabee River yesterday morning by Albert Evans, Lansdowne street. It tipped the scales at 16 lbs.

Last Minute News Flashes

LINDSAY.— Conway Woodcock, an employee of the International Cooperage Co., of Eagle Lake, had his arm sawn off just above the elbow when he came in contact with a saw while tightening some machinery. He also received serious cuts to the head and hip and had the heels torn of this boots. He was rushed to the Red Cross Hospital at Haliburton, where his condition is reported as fair to-day.

WARNEMUENDE, Germany — Lieut. Ernst Udet, noted German war ace, dropped to safety in a parachute to-day when his plane fell to pieces in the air. He was slightly injured.

Dominion Pays Tribute To Her Heroes of Vimy

Remembrance Services Are Held In Churches, Hospitals, Halls Across Canada

GRAVES ARE DECORATED

(By The Canadian Press)

As more than 6,000 veterans and friends paid tribute to those who fell in the Great War at the unveiling of the memorial at Vimy Ridge yesterday, those who stayed at home added their respects in a series of services throughout the Dominion. War years were recalled by special speakers, as veterans fought once more in memory through that victory when Canadian troops took the "impregnable" ridge.

Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Tupper unveiled a tablet following services in Winnipeg. Saskatoon held special service of remembrance in St. Thomas-Wesley United Church. More than 2,000 attended ceremonies at Vancouver.

Special church services were thronged by Canadian Legion members through the Maritime Provinces. Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General, attended ceremonies at the citadel at Quebec. War veterans at Montreal laid a wreath on the grave of General Sir Arthur Currie, war-time commander of the Canadian Corps.

Remembrance services were held in practically all churches in Toronto as Canadian Legion members paraded to St. Paul's Church, where the service was attended by Lieutenant-Governor H. A. Bruce. Veterans at Christie Street Hospital had a service all their own.

Monument For All Time

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson addressed veterans at Smith's Falls, Ont., saying the Vimy Memorial would stand for all time as a monument to the courage and perseverance of Canadian troops.

Ottawa churches held special services with hymns and prayers of memory. A wreath was placed on the memorial monument at Kingston. The father of a Kingston officer killed in action was presented with an honorably life membership in the 21st Battalion Association.

Hamilton veterans played host to the visiting Buffalo American Legion in services held in Hamilton churches. A memorial cross was unveiled as Whitby paid tribute to the dead.

Veterans decorated the graves of comrades at Owen Sound following a service at the Cenotaph there. Archdeacon G. F. Scovill, addressed a large audience at Guelph. More than 3,000 attended a special service at Oshawa.

A brief service featured Remembrance at Peterborough. Brantford sent a large delegation to ceremonies held in Hamilton. London paid its tribute with church service.

Fish Often Spoil His Midnight Snooze

VICTORIA, July 27.—(CP)—C. W. Pallister has a summer cottage built on concrete piles at the head of Saanich Inlet near here. He drops a line over the veranda and frequently wakes up with a cod hooked ready for breakfast. The only drawback is sometimes the jiggling of the line by the fish wakes him up at midnight.

GUARD THE BORDER

France Sends Air Squadron To Spanish Front.

HENDAYE, France, July 27.—(AP)—France concentrated frontier land, sea, and air forces under Chief of Police Picard today to insure the security of her Spanish border.

The government assigned a squadron of planes to watch the frontier in the first regulation aimed against possible air attack during fighting in the Spanish rebellion.

Planes from the Pau airdrome were directed to maintain contact with Picard.

MANITOBA VOTERS SWARM TO POLLS IDEAL CONDITIONS

Electors To Choose 52 Members Out Of 130 Contesting Seats

BALLOTING ENDS 10 P.M.

WINNIPEG, July 27. —(C P)—Manitoba electors went to the polls today with prospects of continued clear and warm weather to bless selection of 52 members of the 55-member legislature. Although the weatherman said a few scattered showers might fall in the province, his forecast was "mostly fair and moderately warm."

The Liberal-Progressive government of Premier John Bracken reached election day with a lead of one member. S. G. Garson was returned by acclamation in Fairford when official nominations were made July 17.

Voting has been deferred until Aug. 21 in the two northern constituencies of the Pas and Rupert's Land. Premier Bracken sits for the Pas and his provincial treasurer, Hon. E. A. McPherson, for Rupert's Land.

A total of 130 candidates contests the 52 seats to be decided today. The Liberal-Progressives and Conservatives are the only two groups with sufficient representatives in the field to obtain a majority in the legislature.

Liberals Lead With 47.

The Liberal Progressives have 47 candidates while Conservatives, under Errick F. Willis, a candidate in Deloraine, have 37. Both these parties have entered five men in Winnipeg.

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, led by S. F. Farmer, has 19 candidates in the field and

FOUR DIE IN FIRE

Mother, 3 Children Are Victims—Husband, Maid Escape.

COCHRANE, Ont., July 27.—(CP).—Reports reached here to-day of the death of a mother and three children in a fire that destroyed their home about eight miles north of Noranda, over the provincial boundary in Quebec.

Emile Auger, his wife and children were asleep when the fire started. Neighbors seeing the flames smashed windows of the Auger home. Auger was able to get out, along with a maid employed by the family.

Shots in Garbage; Dangerous Practice

Live shot gun shells hidden among garbage recently found their way into the city incinerator, and endangered the safety of workmen employed there, according to Alderman Fred T. Tuggey, chairman of the Property committee. Warning of the danger of discarding live shells in garbage, the alderman believed it reflected an utter disregard for the safety of others, if such a thing had been done knowingly. It has been ascertained, he delared, that the garbage in which the shells were found came from the centre of the city in property bounded by Charlotte and Hunter streets.

BRITAIN REMOVES HER GUARANTEES

Italy's Attitude Removes Necessity Of Pledge To Yugoslavia, Turkey, Greece

LONDON, July 27 (AP).—Foreign Secretary Eden announced today in the House of Commons the ending of assurances to aid Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey in the event of aggressive Italian action in the Mediterranean Sea.

The assurances, given when sanctions were imposed against Italy, were extended for "the period of uncertainty" at the time Britain formally lifted sanctions under League of Nations decision July 15.

Eden, in initiating a debate on foreign affairs in the Commons, stated "the position of uncertainty now has been brought to an end" by Italy herself approaching the three governments.

Italy in a "spontaneous declaration," Eden continued, gave the three governments the "clearest assurances that Italy is not contemplating nor has contemplated any aggressive action against them in return for their past sanctionist policy.

"Italy considers the sanctions chapter definitely closed and should look confidently forward to a new policy of mutual co-operation amongst all nations."

The British Government therefore declares "there is no further need for the continuation" of her assurances, said Eden.

FIGHTING PEAT FIRE

Extra Gangs Rushed to Melbourne Area to Save Bush.

MELBOURNE, Ont., July 27. — (CP).—Rushing in a gang of men the Thomas Lumber Company of Rodney strove over the week-end to save a valuable stand of timber from a burning peat bog near here. The fire burned under the surface and fought for the past week was out o of control Sunday.

The fire fighters had had no rest last week. There were 25 men working night and day in an effort to stop the fire, eating its way through 30 acres of peat bog covered with bush.

Police Overtake Fugitive After 23 Years' Freedom

Respected Clevelander to Fight Extradition To Serve Year Of Prison Sentence

FOR BANK HOLDUP 'PRANK'

CLEVELAND, July 27 (AP)—A respected 41-year-old Clevelander awaited his arrest to-day asserting he would fight extradition to Oklahoma for completion of a two-year reformatory sentence in "a kid's prank" bank burglary more than 23 years ago.

Carl Chilton, 41, said by police to be working on a government survey job, eased a reported out of earshot of his wife and two children to explain that they did not know of his escape as a youth of 18 in 1913.

Acting Detective Inspector Charles O. Nevel, who earlier recommended freedom for the "modern Valjean" on the basis of his five-year record here, said Chilton would be arrested to-day for Oklahoma authorities.

Nevel's announcement came after Deputy Warden Warlock of the Oklahoma State Reformatory sent a telegram asking Chilton's arrest.

"If he is entitled to a pardon or parole, that is up to the governor," declared Warlock.

The governors of both states, while expressing interest, were non-committal on their course of action.

Chilton escaped after serving a year of a two-year term for breaking in and stealing $400 from the Calvin, Okla., National Bank, which he termed "a kid's prank."

Skilled textile mill workers in the Netherlands now receive only $11.30 for 48 hours' work.

Canon Scott Prays From King's Dais

VIMY RIDGE, July 27 (CP)—Archdeacon F. G. Scott of Quebec, still known to thousands of ex-service men as "Canon Scott," had a part in yesterday's Vimy unveiling ceremonies, though no official function had been assigned to him.

At the request of veterans, the beloved wartime padre offered a prayer from the King's dais when the ashes of crosses from Armistice Day remembrance fields were scattered at the base of the memorial by Rev. S. E. Lambert, Dominion President of the Amputations' Association.

PLENTY OF NERVE

Janet Gaynor's Coolness Helps Guard in Her Rescue.

HOLLYWOOD, July 27 (AP)—A life guard who rescued Janet Gaynor from the grip of a treacherous riptide acclaimed her to-day for coolness before danger.

The red-haired actress was wading some 50 yards offshore yesterday with an unidentified man companion when she stepped into a hole.

Swept beyond her depth by the strong current, Miss Gaynor kept her head, shouted for help and swam with the riptide. Lifeguard Richard Daubenspeck swam out and pulled her from the surf.

LEGION HONORS VIMY WAR DEAD

Brief Service Of Commemoration Held At Cenotaphs On Sunday

REV. P. J. KELLY SPEAKS

In recognition of the historic event enacted at Vimy a few hours previously, when His Majesty King Edward VIII. unveiled Canada's memorial to her war dead, the members of branch 52, Canadian Legion, and other ex-service men held a brief service of commemoration on Sunday afternoon.

On behalf of the Canadian Legion, of which he is branch president, Lieut.-Colonel M. R. Sloan deposited a wreath first at the civic memorial in Confederation Park and later at the Legion Cenotaph, following a brief address by the Rev. P. J. Kelly, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral and former wartime padre.

Father Kelly referred to the significance of the occasion, and dwelt on the ideals for which Canada's heroes paid the supreme sacrifice. He concluded with a prayer for departed comrades; a prayer for former enemies; and a prayer for His Majesty the King.

Harvey Staunton had charge of the parade of over fifty ex-service men, many of whom wore berets and medals. The standard-bearer was W. Gracie, while A. E. Miller lowered and raised the flag on the Legion staff as "Last Post" and "Reveille" was sounded by J. Sage.

His Worship Mayor George Macdonald was present at the brief service, along with Lieut.-Colonel Sloan and Father Kelly, while J. J. Duffus, M.P., was among the large number of citizens who witnessed the ceremony.

In the evening, also in keeping with the occasion, the band of the Peterborough Rangers rendered a special program of music in Victoria Park, which was reminiscent of war years.

Cars Are Damaged In Seymour Crash

CAMPBELLFORD, July 27. — A head-on collision between two motor cars on West River Road just north of Dam #1 did considerable damage to both vehicles about midnight Saturday. One car going north and driven by Charles Clark of Healey Falls had the front wheel broken off. The other car, bearing a Toronto license, had the fenders badly crumpled. Fortunately, beyond a shaking up none of the passengers were injured. Provincial Constable Gordon Campbell investigated.

56 FIRE-FIGHTERS TRAPPED 3 DAYS IN ALBERTA, SAVED

Veteran Forestry Official Helps Party Behind Flames Without Casualty

SETTLERS THREATENED

BLAIRMORE, Alta., July 27. — (CP).—Fifty-six men, trapped since late Thursday by a forest fire in Kootenay Pass, on the Alberta-British Columbia boundary, emerged safely from the fire zone yesterday, it was reported here last night.

All were in good condition. Coming out rom behind the swiftly-advancing flames at 6 a.m., they showed little effects of their long ordeal. They said they merely walked behind the fire as it burned over timber land in its path.

Forestry Department officials here, who reported the trapped fire-fighters' safe arrival at the Castlemont ranger station, said the fire advanced 13 miles yesterday, moving in the direction of Beaver Lake, in the extreme south-west corner of the Foot Hills province.

Encircled By Fire.

The blaze jumped across the provincial border last week. As it advanced, stands of valuable commercial timber were burned. The 56 men were trapped suddenly as the fire, fanned by prevailing heavy winds, suddenly encircled their position.

Officials were never anxious concerning the men's safety. They stressed frequently that the party were in charge of a veteran fire ranger, Joe Kovach, and carried a plentiful supply of provisions. Kovach's expert guidance brought his men through the ordeal unscathed.

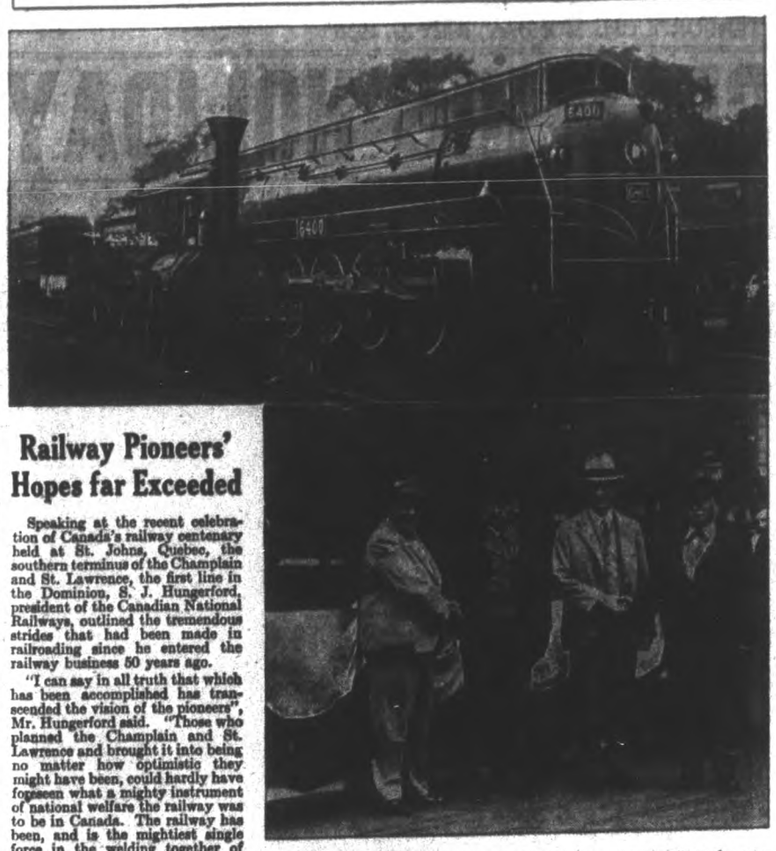
Meanwhile, the fire situation in the southwest continued critical. The Kootenay Pass blaze swept fiercely along a wide front down the Castle Valley. Scores of men, rushed from Calgary and other Southern Alberta cities, were battling the flames.

So serious was a fire along the Highwood River, 55 miles west of High River, that settlers were preparing to evacuate their homes.

EDUCATED HENS

ONEONTA, N.Y., July 27 (CP)—Mrs. Ardella Peaslee of West Laurens walked into a local hennery and recovered five "educated" hens from her farm. When asked to identify the birds, Mrs. Peaslee called out "Come Susie, come nuisance, come..." and walked from the establishment followed by the five Rhode Island Reds. State police arrested a neighbor accused of the theft.

Canada's First Engine and World's Largest Streamliner Featured at Railway Centenary



Railway Pioneers' Hopes far Exceeded

Speaking at the recent celebration of Canada's railway centenary held at St. Johns, Quebec, the southern terminus of the Champlain and St. Lawrence, the first line in the Dominion, S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National Railways, outlined the tremendous strides that had been made in railroading since he entered the railway business 50 years ago.

"I can say in all truth that which has been accomplished has transcended the vision of the pioneers", Mr. Hungerford said. "Those who planned the Champlain and St. Lawrence and brought it into being no matter how optimistic they might have been, could hardly have foreseen what a mighty instrument of national welfare the railway was to be in Canada. The railway has been, and is the mightiest single force in the welding together of Canada and in the preservation of it as a nation. It is a mighty servant of the people. When this railway was conceived there was likewise brought into being a chain of circumstances which led to the formation of the Canadian National Railways, with its services to every province of the Dominion. It is the aim of the Canadian National Railways, the largest railway system on the North American continent, still to be in the vanguard of progress; to be a worthy instrument in the development of this great nation."

At the ceremony at St. Johns, Quebec, commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the operation of the first Canadian passenger train, a full-sized model of the "Dorchester", the first Canadian engine, was shown in comparison with one of the new 6400 type of the Canadian National Railways, the largest streamlined locomotive in the world. The "Dorchester", with tender, was 21 feet long; the 6400, with tender, 94 feet 7¾ inches. The 6400 is longer than the entire passenger train of 1836.

BETHEL FRIENDS HONOR NEWLYWEDS

Two Recently Married Couples Guests At Most Enjoyable Event

(Examiner Correspondence.)

EAST EMILY, July 27. — On Thursday evening about one hundred members of Bethel United Church gathered in the basement of the church for the purpose of honoring two young couple of this district, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Esmond Storey, who were recently married.

Ralph Hanbridge, president of the Y.P.S., opened the meeting. Miss Helen Howden read the scripture lesson and Miss Thelma Bailey also gave a reading.

Adress is Read.

Harry Jackson then called both young couples to the front and read the following address:

"Dear Folks:

"Once more we have gathered together to do honor to a bride and groom in our midst. On this occasion we are more than honored in having two brides and two grooms. We have here a group of people representing all groups and societies of this church, and they join with the Y.P.S. in wishing you everything good that life could offer.

"By his presence at the marriage and marriage feast at Lana, Jesus showed divine approval of the institution of marriage and sanctified the establishment of the Christian homes. We trust that both of you will cling to the high ideals of living that He set forth.

"We congratulate you, airs, on having secured companions to share your joys and your sorrows.

"To you, Mrs. Storey, we extend the hand of welcome and fellowship, and feel that your associations with this church will ever be happy and profitable.

"Though grieved to lose your cheerful personality from our midst, Mrs. Smith, we offer you the bonds and ties of friendship which absence can never sever.

"To express our sentiments in a tangible way, we wish you, Mr. and Mrs. Storey, to accept this lamp, and you, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, to accept this shower and hope these gifts will ever remind you of our kind feelings and good wishes toward you.—Ira Switzer, Eugene Switzer and Ralph Hanbridge."

Both grooms replied very suitably on behalf of their brides and themselves for the beautiful gifts, after which the following program was given:

Duet, Misses Marion and Roberta Deyell; reading, Miss Hilda Howden. Everyone enjoyed community singing led by Mr. Ralph Hanbridge. A contest was then enjoyed, after which the ladies served refreshments and a very pleasant evening was brought to a close.

Women's Institute Meets.

About twenty-five members and friends of the Women's Institute of Omemee gathered at the home of Mrs. Robert McConnell on the fifth line of Emily Township on Wednesday afternoon for their regular meeting, and also to do honor to an honorary member, Mrs. J. Nichols.

PLANES FOR REBELS

French Firm Receives $1,324,000 to Aid Spanish Insurgents.

PARIS, July 27.—(CP Havas). — The Renault Motor Company of France has been paid the sum of 20,000,000 franc ($1,324,000) to supply airplanes and automobiles to the Spanish Fascist Rebels, the Communist Organ L'Humanite charged today.

L'Humanite declared the Motor Company had received a cheque signed by Jose Maria Quinones De Leon, ambassador to Paris during the reign of ex-King Alphonso, to cover the deal.

ONE KILLED, 9 HURT IN SEAPLANE CRASH

Photographers, Newsmen Victims During Greeting Of Liner Queen Mary

BOSTON, July 27.—(AP).—A seaplane carrying nine men, including several Boston newspapermen crashed into the Atlantic five miles east of Nantucket Light ship yesterday injuring one fatally. The others were rescued by a life boat crew from the liner Exerment.

Edwin T. Ramsdell, Boston Post photographer, was rendered unconscious and died aboard the Exermont several hours later.

Francis W. Carpenter, Associated Press staff writer, a passenger on the plane, reported by radio the big ship's tall struck the water while those aboard were waving at the British liner Queen Mary, en route to New York.

The plane was piloted by Captain William W. Wincapaw, veteran New England mercy flier.

Carpenter reported the plan's passengers were all shaken up but aside from Ramsdell suffered no serious injury. They were rescued by a crew from the Exermont after their plight was flashed out by the Queen Mary.

"We were circling over the Queen Mary," he said, "waving at passengers andtaking pictures when suddenly, while at the rear of the ship (the Quen Mary), the plane lost altitude and hit the water.

"We managed to get out of the cabin and we hung on to the pontoons until a boat arrived from the Exermont."

He estimated the Exermont's boat arrived about 20 minutes after the plane hit the water.

CENTENARY.

The regular meeting of Centenary United Church was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Dowler. The president, Mrs. W. Hiroock, presided. It had been decided to hold an ice cream social, but on motion of Mrs. Dawson Timlin and Emma Sherwin, it was decided to postpone it to a later date. Mrs. M. Brown had charge of the devotional program. Readings were given by Mrs. Dawson Timlin, Mrs. James Timlin and Mrs. Newman Lean, and poems were read by Mrs. W. Hiroock and Emma Sherwin. Mrs. L. W. Scott sang two solos, "You Can Smile" and "Somebody Cares." A jumbled word contest and a lucky chair added variety to the program. Mrs. J. Burrison had the lucky chair. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess following the closing exercises.

Part of the American army assembled in historic City Hall park in New York city on July 9, 1776, to hear the reading of the declaration of independence.

GOOD SAMARITAN SUFFERS INJURIES

Samuel Gentille Taken To Hospital Following Unusual Accident

Samuel Gentille, 72, of 469 Parnell street suffered cuts and scratches about his face and hands as the result of an unusual accident he experienced on Sunday. The injured man was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was attended by Dr. J. M. O'Brien for gravel rash.

It is learned that a motorist, C. O. Slow of Toronto stopped his car at the intersection of Highway 28 and Highway 7, cutoff in the vicinity of the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, to enquire his directions. Gentille gave him the required information and when the car again started in motion the man was pitched to the ground. He fell face foremost into the gravel on the roadway.

No blame for the accident is attached to the motorist, according to police. It is thought that the man was hurt as a result of hanging on to the side of the car, unknown to the driver of the car.

CHILDREN SHOOT PRIESTS, REBELS IN SPANISH WAR

Refugees From Burning Malaga Tell Of Horrifying Sights

WHOLE CITY RAZED

GIBRALTAR, July 27. —(AP)— British refugees from burning Malago declared today they had peered through shutters of their locked hotel to see "children wearing red ties and red shirts" shoot down scores of Fascists and priests.

"What is happening is savage and criminal," said one of the refugees who arrived last night aboard the British destroyer Brazen.

"Most of us were locked in our hotels for seven days in complete darkness. Through the shutters we saw about 100 priests, Fascits and others shot down, chiefly by children wearing red ties and red shirts.

"The children were between 14 and 17 years old. They carried pistols, rifles, axes and puncheons."

The whole Caleta district and the Calle and Larios, principal streets of Malaga, were reported completely burned, with more than 250 buildings destroyed, several hundred persons killed and more than 1,000 wounded.

The refugees brought reports that 2,500 bodies were lying in the streets of Malaga. (There was no confirmation of this report from other sources.)

One stated fifty Catholic priests had been placed together in a public square and shot down by a machine gun. (This report likewise was not confirmed elsewhere.)

The Brazen brought 150 persons, including Americans as well as Britons, from Malaga and returned to that city for more, while the British destroyer Boreas carried 110 fleeing from Huelva.

NINE MEET DEATH AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Five Of Victims Are Children—Only One Woman Escapes Alive

HAMILTON, Ohio, July 27 (AP). —Nine persons, five of them children, were killed, and one woman was injured late yesterday, when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Pennsylvania train at a highway crossing.

The dead: Mrs. Walter Seward, 53; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schweitzer; Charlotte Anna Schweitzer, four, a daughter; Edward A. Schweitzer, one, a son, all of Hamilton; Mrs. David Vogan, 33, of Newcastle, Pa., and her son Charles, three; Patricia Ann Genewein, seven, Hamilton; Harlan Eugene Seward, four, son of Cecil Seward and grandson of Mrs. Walter Seward.

Mrs. Drucilla Genewein, 34, of Hamilton, mother of Patricia Ann Genewein, suffered lacerations to the head and body.

OCCUPANTS UNHURT CAR IS WRECKED

Four Young Men Returning Home From Fishing Trip In Smashup Near Fraserville

Although the car in which they were riding was completely demolished after colliding with a telephone pole and a tree on Highway 28, near Fraserville, at 4.30 p.m. Sunday, a party of four young men returning home after a fishing trip in this district escaped unhurt.

Joe R. Rowatt, 18, of Islington, alleged to be the owner-driver of the sedan automobile, is stated to have fallen asleep at the wheel of the car. Passengers in the car were his brother, Harold Rowatt, Islington, and Gordon and Bill Reid, both of Mimico.

So great was the impact of the car with the pole and tree that the wheels and springs of the vehicle were wrenched from the chassis, and the body of the car was reduced to wreckage. The wrecked car was towed to Springville garage, after the accident had been investigated by Motorcycle Patrol Officer Lloyd A. McClure.

Denise Waselge has been proclaimed the most perfect girl in Paris.

success is sure

1. Don't confuse a gentle simmering boil with a full rolling boil specified in Certo recipes. A full rolling boil is a high, tumbling boil that cannot be stirred down.

2. You get much better flavour with Certo because you boil only ½ minute for jellies; a little longer for jam. Of course, you must follow the Certo recipes exactly.

3. Certo recipes may call for more sugar than you've been accustomed to using. But with Certo no fruit juice boils away in steam so you need this extra sugar to take care of the extra juice.

All Saints' Women Furnish New Sanctuary.

Furnishings for the sanctuary of a new All Saints' Church at Cherry Point in the Diocese of Athabasca have been prepared by the Evening Branch of the All Saints' Women's Auxiliary in this city. At the time of the Bishop's visit here in the spring, he told of the new district being opened up north of the Peace River and announced that Mr. Douglas Paterson, son of Rev. J. D. Paterson of All Saints' church in Peterborough, was being sent out for the summer to take charge and to supervise erection of the new church, the first in the district. It will be a log church, constructed from material prepared last winter. The name All Saints' was chosen in honor of All Saints' Church, Peterborough.

The furnishings of the sanctuary have all been prepared by members and friends of the Evening Branch of the Women's Auxiliary and consist of the Holy table, frontal and linen. The vessels for the Holy Communion have been provided by friends through the Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Paterson.

The gifts are all given and sent out as a memorial to Mrs. J. C. Adams who has been a keen and loyal member of the Women's Auxiliary for many years and who died shortly after Easter this year. A brass plate on the Holy table will be inscribed to her memory.

Just Between Us Women

A Daily Chat With Examiner Neighbors Conducted by Roberta.

BUT as an effectual remedy against this fault, (judging others hardly), I would remind thee to occupy thy thoughts with the defects of thine own heart; for thou wilt hourly perceive more and more that thou hast so much to do and work in thyself, and for thyself, as to have neither time nor inclinataion to attend to the deeds of others.—Scupoli.

Dear Friends: A few days ago I remarked to a certain man that I thought our city was very free from immorality, too much drunkenness and several other things that other cities were bothered with.

Did I get a surprise? What he did not know about the bad morals and drunkenness, and general cussedness of the people about him, would fill a book. Yes I said what he did NOT know, because when I pinned him down to when he had seen any or all of the things he told me, I found that his talk was mainly taken up with "they say this, or I was told that."

He kept asking had I not heard this, or hadn't some one told me that, until I came out frankly and said that I was so busy keeping my own doorstep clean that I had no time to wonder what the other fellow was doing.

Now I have found as I go through life, that, if you are fairly decent yourself, you naturally think that others are decent also. And if you have a dirty mind, you are always looking for the dirt in your neighbor. Naturally there is evil around us, but why keep always looking for it and seemingly enjoying it.

How many people do you really know whom you could definitely class as bad? How many have you seen commit the evil you claim they do? Oh yes, you may have seen them in circumstances that looked bad, but I am sure that sometimes you also have been seen in similar circumstances, and would YOU like to be classed that way because of these same circumstances? I think not.

Yet who are you to expect to escape the same condemnation you mete out to others. Are you so very perfect that you have time to go around correcting the morals and habits of the rest of the world? And have you no habits that need very much correcting right now, that would benefit yourself and all those you come in contact with? I thought so.

None of us are perfect, and what you condemn in others may not be a patch on what they condemn in you. A person would need to have a very clean doorstep themselves before they go around cleaning their neighbors'.

If you have ever read the Bible, you will notice that our Lord condemned hypocrisy more than any other thing. Hypocrisy means pretending to be the thing you aren't, in any kind of way. What if the other felow has different faults than you, yours may be just as obnoxious in one way, as his is in another.

This "holier than thou" attitude can become a regular nuisance, because when your eyes are forever on your friends or acquaintances looking for flaws, you have no time to see or correct the flaws in yourself.

There was only One who was perfect, and he was divine, and when you condemn others so much, watch out that that same condemnation does not swing around in your direction. "To the pure, all things are pure," and to that I would add another, "you cannot be forever seeing evil in others, without a lot of it being inside your own self." Think it over and write to

Your friend,
ROBERTA.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

"Teacher to Teachers"

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE

Capt. I. K. Woolfe, a famous war ace, as well as one of New York's best-known duplicate players, sent me the following letter. I applaud his sense of humor, when the joke was so tough on him.

"I thought these two hands would interest you. They both came up in the same duplicate this week at Banfield's, in 26-board duplicate. On Board 26, thinking I was holding Board 1 again, I bid 7-No Trumps, vulnerable. I was doubled, and then, alas, my partner informed me he had not held his hand before. I went down 7 tricks. What are the chances of holding two such hands in one duplicate?"

For the benefit of players who are unfamiliar with duplicate, I will add that the same pair never are allowed to play the same hand twice. Captain Woolfe was only joking when he bid 7-No Trumps, expecting other players to at once notice that an incorrect board had been placed before them. However, the joke could not be withdrawn. The two hands are given below.

Board 1—
♠ J 8 ♦ 9 3
♥ 9 8 7 4 3 2 ♥ A K 9
♣

Board 26—
♠ 10 5 ♦ J 3
♥ 9 8 7 5 3 2 ♣ A K 8

The salient resemblances between the two hands are the 6-3-2-2 type, with 6 hearts, headed by 9-8-7; the 3 clubs, headed by A-K; a J-3 suit and two low cards of the fourth. With a long and hard contest between the appearance of the first and the last board, no wonder he believed the same hand was before him.

Named by suit and denomination, there is only one chance in 635,013,559,600 that a specified player will be dealt those 13 cards in a single trial. There are just 100 chances that one of the 4 players will be death such a hand in 25 boards. That means that there is only one chance in 6,350,135,600 of precisely duplicating the 13 cards of a specified player of 26 boards, in one of the 25 remaining boards.

Now intrudes the question of personality, and just how definitely a particular player remembered a specified hand. In this instance, the holder of the hand specified in Board 1, recalled only general details: that hearts consisted of 6, headed by 9-8-7, with the 3-2 at the lower end. He did not notice whether the fourth card from the top was the 4, 5 or 6. So that any one of three heart hands would have appeared to him to be the precise duplicate of that in Board 1.

Without knowing which of three remaining suits it was, he noted that the J-3 of one suit was duplicated. For the third suit he noted that the A-K-X were repeated, but the third card might have been any card lower than the Q or J, and the suit might have been either of the two not previously mentioned. The fourth suit contained a low doubleton—headed by any card lower than the J. If these premises are to be accepted, then any one of 2,851,200 hands would have been viewed by the holder of the second hand, as being the hand noted in the first board, or the chances for him to hold a hand so regarded, were 1 in 222,718, or practically no chance at all.

PRICELESS CATHAY ART IS DISPLAYED

Wide-Eyed Tourists See Imported Wonders in Vancouver's Chinatown

By Charles Nichols.
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP). — The artisans of ancient Cathay showed their priceless products to the western world on a sawdust-covered lot in Vancouver's Chinatown to-day.

It was the Orientals' tribute to Vancouver's 60th birthday, this display of priceless art treasures from the land of the dragon. Olive-cheeked Chinese girls left the market fruit stands to don kimonas and guide wide-eyed tourists through the fair.

The heavy aroma of joss sticks burning before giant paper-canopied gods that guard the exhibition temples, spread out through the dark, shop-lined streets of the Oriental colony, into Vancouver's decorated business section.

There were touches of the western world within the bamboo arch that formed a gateway to the fair. Soft drink stands bordered the famous gate, transported piece-by-piece from China and erected by architects brought from that country. Uncounted hundreds of hand-carved Oriental faces peered at those who examined its brilliant facade.

Occidentals stood—many for close to an hour—scanning the minute decorations of paper and bamboo that formed the portal. As tall as a five-storey building, no nails were used in its construction.

Sonorous brass gongs sounded out over the lot and behind exhibition tents gramaphones whirled out the shrill and weird sound of Chinese rar-time.

Those who wanted to know how the frail silks were made went to a booth where the life history of the silkworm, was told by mounted specimens.

VIMY CEREMONIES IMPRESS FRANCE

Press Gives Headlines To Unveiling By Empire's New Monarch

By George Hambleton.
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

PARIS, July 27.—The ceremony at Vimy Ridge yesterday, when King Edward unveiled the Canadian memorial to its soldier dead made a deep impression in France.

All French post offices this morning opened sale of a special Vimy stamp that went so rapidly yesterday in a temporary little wooden post office at the Ridge itself.

On the Grand Boulevards of Paris movie theatre feature pictures of the ceremony. Important Paris newspapers give first page prominence to stories told in moving word and appreciative sympathy.

Le Matin speaks of the appropriateness of the Vimy ceremony as tightening the links with "our British and Canadian friends . . . it recalls that to defend the pacific ideal it is necessary to be devoted to that ideal, to defend it even unto death."

Albert Petit writes in The Journal des Deoates: "Canadians died not for their own country, which was not menaced but for the Motherland of Mankind (Patrie Humaine) that is to say, for the common country of all men of peace and good will. Vimy Ridge is one of those spiritual summits of a better world where of the dead who lie there had the conviction they were preparing the magnificent advent."

Friendship Verified

In Comedia, Maurice Champel draws a lesson of Franco-British friendship definitely verified. "When clouds gather over Europe that is something which in a diplomatic sense is not lacking in comfort. Finally, and it is our great reward of this day, frontiers really exist no longer either by land or sea. Armament manufacturers may die of vexation; this century counts on them no more. It denies them. This century has other cults, other cares. This century decided that for realization of 'epanouissement,' its ideal, there is only one Motherland: the Peace of the World."

The Socialist Populaire and Communist Humanite both display stories and pictures of the ceremony on the front page. Humanite heads its story, "In Presence King Edward VIII-Lebrun Celebrates the Union of French and British Democracies."

WILL WRITE OLYMPICS

BERLIN, July 27 (AP).—Eleanor Holm Jarrett, New York swimming star, expelled from the American Olympic team on charges of repeated infractions of training regulations, to-day joined the army of sports writers here to report the 11th Olympic Games.

Definitely determined to remain through the international contests, Aug. 1 to 16, Mrs. Jarrett accepted an offer to write for an American syndicate. Her first "by-liner" went out to-day.

NEW WATER STUNT TO THRILL CROWD

Eric Dinesen Signed To Give Water Skiing Performances By C.N.E.

Eris Dinesen of Peterborough signed a two-week contract Saturday to perform twice a day on water skiis at this year's Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto. He was invited by the Toronto Exhibition Board to demonstrate his prowess Saturday and was given a stiff trial, being towed by a police boat. Following the trial, the local young man was signed up for the C.N.E. the last part of August. He will be towed at that time by the high-powered Miss Canada IV.

Water ski-ing is a new sport in Canada, only a few men in the country being real proficient at it. The skis which are made, incidentally, by the Peterborough Canoe Company, resemble snow skis but are wider and somewhat thicker. Made of cedar, they are light in weight. The skier holds a rope some 70 feet in length back of a speedboat. Mr. Dinesen, who learned last year on Little Lake behind a Sea-Flea, likes to travel about 40 miles an hour. At the Toronto Ex, he will be towed inside the breakwater where the swim marathon is held. He will ski in the afternoon and evening, the contract calling for him to make a jump over a greased raft.

On July 1st, Dinesen demonstrated at a water meet in Picton and was the centre of much attention, even having a newsreel camera taking shots of him. He expects to show at meets down through Belleville and Kingston this summer and will put on an exhibition at the Bewdley regatta August 5th. He may take part in other district regattas, also. "It is not a dangerous pastime," Mr. Dinesen stated yesterday, "nor difficult to learn if you like water sports. But it is new in this country and may become quite popular within a few years."

Kissed 467 Times In One Day

Andrea Leeds, youthful Hollywood film beauty, said she got enough romance to last a long time during a test by three actors, Francis X. Shields, Bob Lowrey, and John Payne, for a role opposite her. The test consisted mostly of kisses, of which there were 467 altogether. At the end of the day Miss Leeds pursed her bruisd lips and murmured, "and they call it work."

The dinner is scheduled for 6.30 o'clock. A reception at which the guests will be afforded the opportunity of meeting Dr. Royden will be held at 6.15 o'clock.

Local Clubwomen Enjoy Outing.

Local members of the Women of the Moose enjoyed a picnic at the camp of Mrs. Chambers at Cobourg previous to the week-end. An enjoyable schedule of sports was run off and bountiful picnic refreshments were enjoyed. Among the prize-winners were: M. Jones, M. Beggs, B. Cavelier, H. Withers, R. Gaskell, H. Suddards, J. Chambers, J. Gaskell, Mrs. Custance, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Hesmond, Mrs. Suddards, Mrs. Jone and Mrs. Cross. A visit to the Rotary Carnival at Cobourg followed the picnic.

Many Prize Winners At Young Peoples' Picnic.

All Saints' Women Furnish New Sanctuary.

Furnishings for the sanctuary of a new All Saints' Church at Cherry Point in the Diocese of Athabasca have been prepared by the Evening Branch of the All Saints' Women's Auxiliary in this city. At the time of the Bishop's visit here in the spring, he told of the new district being opened up north of the Peace River and announced that Mr. Douglas Paterson, son of Rev. J. D. Paterson of All Saints' church in Peterborough, was being sent out for the summer to take charge and to supervise erection of the new church, the first in the district. It will be a log church, constructed from material prepared last winter. The name All Saints' was chosen in honor of All Saints' Church, Peterborough.

The furnishings of the sanctuary have all been prepared by members and friends of the Evening Branch of the Women's Auxiliary and consist of the Holy table, frontal and linen. The vessels for the Holy Communion have been provided by friends through the Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Paterson.

The gifts are all given and sent out as a memorial to Mrs. J. C. Adams who has been a keen and loyal member of the Women's Auxiliary for many years and who died shortly after Easter this year. A brass plate on the Holy table will be inscribed to her memory.

Just Between Us Women

A Daily Chat With Examiner Neighbors Conducted by Roberta.

BUT as an effectual remedy against this fault, (judging others hardly), I would remind thee to occupy thy thoughts with the defects of thine own heart; for thou wilt hourly perceive more and more that thou hast so much to do and work in thyself, and for thyself, as to have neither time nor inclinataion to attend to the deeds of others.—Scupoli.

Dear Friends: A few days ago I remarked to a certain man that I thought our city was very free from immorality, too much drunkenness and several other things that other cities were bothered with.

Did I get a surprise? What he did not know about the bad morals and drunkenness, and general cussedness of the people about him, would fill a book. Yes I said what he did NOT know, because when I pinned him down to when he had seen any or all of the things he told me, I found that his talk was mainly taken up with "they say this, or I was told that."

He kept asking had I not heard this, or hadn't some one told me that, until I came out frankly and said that I was so busy keeping my own doorstep clean that I had no time to wonder what the other fellow was doing.

Now I have found as I go through life, that, if you are fairly decent yourself, you naturally think that others are decent also. And if you have a dirty mind, you are always looking for the dirt in your neighbor. Naturally there is evil around us, but why keep always looking for it and seemingly enjoying it.

How many people do you really know whom you could definitely class as bad? How many have you seen commit the evil you claim they do? Oh yes, you may have seen them in circumstances that looked bad, but I am sure that sometimes you also have been seen in similar circumstances, and would YOU like to be classed that way because of these same circumstances? I think not.

Yet who are you to expect to escape the same condemnation you mete out to others. Are you so very perfect that you have time to go around correcting the morals and habits of the rest of the world? And have you no habits that need very much correcting right now, that would benefit yourself and all those you come in contact with? I thought so.

None of us are perfect, and what you condemn in others may not be a patch on what they condemn in you. A person would need to have a very clean doorstep themselves before they go around cleaning their neighbors'.

If you have ever read the Bible, you will notice that our Lord condemned hypocrisy more than any other thing. Hypocrisy means pretending to be the thing you aren't, in any kind of way. What if the other felow has different faults than you, yours may be just as obnoxious in one way, as his is in another.

This "holier than thou" attitude can become a regular nuisance, because when your eyes are forever on your friends or acquaintances looking for flaws, you have no time to see or correct the flaws in yourself.

There was only One who was perfect, and he was divine, and when you condemn others so much, watch out that that same condemnation does not swing around in your direction. "To the pure, all things are pure," and to that I would add another, "you cannot be forever seeing evil in others, without a lot of it being inside your own self." Think it over and write to

Your friend,
ROBERTA.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

"Teacher to Teachers"

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE

Capt. I. K. Woolfe, a famous war ace, as well as one of New York's best-known duplicate players, sent me the following letter. I applaud his sense of humor, when the joke was so tough on him.

"I thought these two hands would interest you. They both came up in the same duplicate this week at Banfield's, in 26-board duplicate. On Board 26, thinking I was holding Board 1 again, I bid 7-No Trumps, vulnerable. I was doubled, and then, alas, my partner informed me he had not held his hand before. I went down 7 tricks. What are the chances of holding two such hands in one duplicate?"

For the benefit of players who are unfamiliar with duplicate, I will add that the same pair never are allowed to play the same hand twice. Captain Woolfe was only joking when he bid 7-No Trumps, expecting other players to at once notice that an incorrect board had been placed before them. However, the joke could not be withdrawn. The two hands are given below.

Board 1—
♠ J 3 ♦ 9 3
♥ 9 8 7 4 3 2 ♣ A K 9

Board 26—
♠ 10 5 ♦ J 3
♥ 9 8 7 5 3 2 ♣ A K 8

The salient resemblances between the two hands are the 6-3-2-2 type, with 6 hearts, headed by 9-8-7; the 3 clubs, headed by A-K; a J-3 suit and two low cards of the fourth. With a long and hard contest between the appearance of the first and the last board, no wonder he believed the same hand was before him.

Named by suit and denomination, there is only one chance in 635,013,559,600 that a specified player will be dealt those 13 cards in a single trial. There are just 100 chances that one of the 4 players will be death such a hand in 25 boards. That means that there is only one chance in 6,350,135,600 of precisely duplicating the 13 cards of a specified player of 26 boards, in one of the 25 remaining boards.

Now intrudes the question of personality, and just how definitely a particular player remembered a specified hand. In this instance, the holder of the hand specified in Board 1, recalled only general details: that hearts consisted of 6, headed by 9-8-7, with the 3-2 at the lower end. He did not notice whether the fourth card from the top was the 4, 5 or 6. So that any one of three heart hands would have appeared to him to be the precise duplicate of that in Board 1.

Without knowing which of three remaining suits it was, he noted that the J-3 of one suit was duplicated. For the third suit he noted that the A-K-X were repeated, but the third card might have been any card lower than the Q or J, and the suit might have been either of the two not previously mentioned. The fourth suit contained a low doubleton—headed by any card lower than the J. If these premises are to be accepted, then any one of 2,851,200 hands would have been viewed by the holder of the second hand, as being the hand noted in the first board, or the chances for him to hold a hand so regarded, were 1 in 222,718, or practically no chance at all.

PRICELESS CATHAY ART IS DISPLAYED

Wide-Eyed Tourists See Imported Wonders in Vancouver's Chinatown

By Charles Nichols.
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP). — The artisans of ancient Cathay showed their priceless products to the western world on a sawdust-covered lot in Vancouver's Chinatown to-day.

It was the Orientals' tribute to Vancouver's 60th birthday, this display of priceless art treasures from the land of the dragon. Olive-cheeked Chinese girls left the market fruit stands to don kimonas and guide wide-eyed tourists through the fair.

The heavy aroma of joss sticks burning before giant paper-canopied gods that guard the exhibition temples, spread out through the dark, shop-lined streets of the Oriental colony, into Vancouver's decorated business section.

There were touches of the western world within the bamboo arch that formed a gateway to the fair. Soft drink stands bordered the famous gate, transported piece-by-piece from China and erected by architects brought from that country. Uncounted hundreds of hand-carved Oriental faces peered at those who examined its brilliant facade.

Occidentals stood—many for close to an hour—scanning the minute decorations of paper and bamboo that formed the portal. As tall as a five-storey building, no nails were used in its construction.

Sonorous brass gongs sounded out over the lot and behind exhibition tents gramaphones whirled out the shrill and weird sound of Chinese rag-time.

Those who wanted to know how the frail silks were made went to a booth where the life history of the silkworm, was told by mounted specimens.

VIMY CEREMONIES IMPRESS FRANCE

Press Gives Headlines To Unveiling By Empire's New Monarch

By George Hambleton,
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

PARIS, July 27.—The ceremony at Vimy Ridge yesterday, when King Edward unveiled the Canadian memorial to its soldier dead made a deep impression in France.

All French post offices this morning opened sale of a special Vimy stamp that went so rapidly yesterday in a temporary little wooden post office at the Ridge itself.

On the Grand Boulevards of Paris movie theatre feature pictures of the ceremony. Important Paris newspapers give first page prominence to stories told in moving word and appreciative sympathy.

Le Matin speaks of the appropriateness of the Vimy ceremony as tightening the links with "our British and Canadian friends . . . it recalls that to defend the pacific ideal it is necessary to be devoted to that ideal, to defend it even unto death."

Albert Petit writes in The Journal des Deoates: "Canadians died not for their own country, which was not menaced but for the Motherland of Mankind (Patrie Humaine) that is to say, for the common country of all men of peace and good will. Vimy Ridge is one of those spiritual summits of a better world whereof the dead who lie there had the conviction they were preparing the magnificent advent."

Friendship Verified

In Comedia, Maurice Champel draws a lesson of Franco-British friendship definitely verified. "When clouds gather over Europe that is something which in a diplomatic sense is not lacking in comfort. Finally, and it is our great reward of this day, frontiers really exist no longer either by land or sea. Armament manufacturers may die of vexation; this century counts on them no more. It denies them. This century has other cults, other cares. This century decided that for realization of 'epanouissement,' its ideal, there is only one Motherland: the Peace of the World."

The Socialist Populaire and Communist Humanite both display stories and pictures of the ceremony on the front page. Humanite heads its story, "In Presence King Edward VIII-Lebrun Celebrates the Union of French and British Democracies."

NEW WATER STUNT TO THRILL CROWD

Eris Dinesen of Peterborough signed a two-week contract Saturday to perform twice a day on water skiis at this year's Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto. He was invited by the Toronto Exhibition Board to demonstrate his prowess Saturday and was given a stiff trial, being towed by a police boat. Following the trial, the local young man was signed up for the C.N.E. the last part of August. He will be towed at that time by the high-powered Miss Canada IV.

Water ski-ing is a new sport in Canada, only a few men in the country being real proficient at it. The skis which are made, incidentally, by the Peterborough Canoe Company, resemble snow skis but are wider and somewhat thicker. Made of cedar, they are light in weight. The skier holds a rope some 70 feet in length back of a speedboat. Mr. Dinesen, who learned last year on Little Lake behind a Sea-Flea, likes to travel about 40 miles an hour. At the Toronto Ex., he will be towed inside the breakwater where the swim marathon is held. He will ski in the afternoon and evening, the contract calling for him to make a jump over a greased raft.

On July 1st, Dinesen demonstrated at a water meet in Picton and was the centre of much attention, even having a newsreel camera taking shots of him. He expects to show at meets down through Belleville and Kingston this summer and will put on an exhibition at the Bewdley regatta August 5th. He may take part in other district regattas, also. "It is not a dangerous pastime," Mr. Dinesen stated yesterday, 'nor difficult to learn if you like water sports. But it is new in this country and may become quite popular within a few years."

Kissed 467 Times In One Day

Andrea Leeds, youthful Hollywood film beauty, said she got enough romance to last a long time during a test by three actors, Francis X. Shields, Bob Lowrey, and John Payne, for a role opposite her. The test consisted mostly of kisses, of which there were 467 altogether. At the end of the day Miss Leeds pursed her bruised lips and murmured, "and they call it work."

Has Not Been Proved

Reports from Manitoba said that the political campaign was cut short in several places on account of an outbreak of infantile paraysis. It was felt that a discontinuance of public meetings would do something to stop the spread of the disease. Just how this would help is difficult to understand because adults would form the audience for political meetings.

Unfortunately it is not definitely known whether the stopping of gatherings which children attend has positive result in checking the spread of infantile paralysis. We do not believe there is anything on record to show that it does. We recall one city where the outbreak was severe and the question of closing the schools was debated by medical authorities. It was argued by some that if the children kept on going to school there was greater opportunity to notice the first symptoms of the disease because teachers and school nurses had the children under observation during school hours and would be quick to notice anything wrong and would report it at once. A further argument was that if school was dismissed the children would likely be playing with other children out of school.

The reason for stopping public gatherings is because parents feel more secure; they believe something is at least being done to protect their children, and they entertain the idea that their little ones are not going to be exposed to the dread disease. As a matter of plain fact and record we do not believe it has yet been shown that infantile paralysis is either retarded or encouraged by closing places where adults or children gather together.

Man Has Done It

The Department of the Interior at Ottawa has been studying the decrease in waterfowl, and the results of the investigation, although not complete, are highly interesting, also alarming. It is admittedly difficult to take a census of ducks and geese, but it is easy enough to realize that the supply is being sadly depleted.

The trouble with the whole business can be summed up in one word—man. In 1840 there was an abundance of waterfowl, and the first drop in the line is noticed about 1875 when the first homestead applications were issued in Manitoba. Another decided drop took place shortly after 1880 when railway construction was being carried on through the prairies. There is an alarming drop in the chart between 1880 and 1910, due to more agricultural development on the prairies and the bringing in of improved and more deadly fire arms. After 1915 a further decrease is noted and attributed to motor cars in general use and the construction of highways. The drought from 1929 to 1935 has had the effect of bringing the supply of waterfowl down to the point of near-disappearance.

The report also says the habits of many people are leading to the extermination of waterfowl. They place feed on certain grounds and the fowl learn to come there and look for it; then during open season they are shot. The extensive use of decoys, even tame ducks, is also blamed for much of the damage.

In all it makes a striking picture, beginning with a land in its primitive age, well supplied with waterfowl, and from there on down to the present when people are talking in terms of extinction. And man and his ways has brought about the change.

Not So Bad

There are times when we read and [illegible] good deal about large corporations and quite often they are all put down as being bad. We have been led to believe there is no good in them.

[illegible] which made it the more interesting to read something about the International Harvester Company of [illegible]. We do not believe this could have been a very good year for such a company, but each worker in the place who completes one year's service by October 31 gets an extra week's pay, and there is two weeks' extra pay for those who have completed two years' service by that date.

We learn also that there are some changes being made in the pension plan which has been maintained entirely at the expense of the company since 1908. Good for what some people refer to as heartless big business."

Protection Needed

Another accident at the Romaine St. crossing of the C.N.R. suggests that the railway authorities instead of seeking to remove some of the protection now provided on the level crossings in Peterborough should be concerned with providing safeguards at this point where several accidents have occurred. Here is a grade crossing over the lower end of the city's main street, now a portion of No. 7 Highway, and carrying a heavy through traffic, as well as the urban traffic that is always brisk, and yet there is no warning signal except the ordinary wooden signs.

Strangers are upon the crossing almost before they know it is there and it is significant that the last two serious accidents at this crossing involved outsiders. A view of approaching trains is fairly well blocked and this, in conjunction with the absence of warning devices, makes the crossing a trap for motorists who are unaware of the conditions. City authorities should press for protection at this point before loss of life gives tragic emphasis to their protests.

Pine Sawfly at Work

Reference was made in these columns to strange worms which are attacking pine trees in the neighborhood of the Hydro Station near Campbellford. The Examiner has received a report on them, from which we quote:

"The larvae are of the Leconte's Pine Sawfly. This sawfly has been found in various parts of the district in recent years and has been successfully controlled by the use of insecticides. The worms or larvae feed upon the pine needles and when the insect is abundant the trees will be almost completely defoliated, the forest having a bare grey appearance quite similar to that of a hardwood forest in winter. After two or three years of severe attack numbers of the trees will be found dying or dead.

The adult insect appears during the latter part of June and lay eggs in slits cut in the edges of the pine needles, one egg in each needle, the eggs opposite each other. After from 15 to 20 days these eggs hatch, and the young larvae, then scarcely ⅛ inch long, begin to feed upon the needles. They feed in clusters of from 10 to 60, several larvae often feeding upon the same needle. This feeding lasts for several weeks. During September and early October the full-grown larvae drops to the ground where they construct brown silken cocoons in the moss under the leaves and rubbish. A new generation of adult sawflies appears from these cocoons in the following spring.

At present no practical method of control for large outbreaks is available. It is probable though that the airplane dusting will prove of great value in checking small outbreaks and preventing their spread. In small plantations and on small isolated trees, remove the larvae by hand and crush them or drop them in a pail of water and kerosene. When larger areas and trees are involved spray the foliage with arsenate of lead at the rate of 1½ pounds of powder in 40 gallons of water, with a small amount of soap added."

It is advisable that information be sent at once to the Department of Lands and Forests when an outbreak of these worms is noticed. If they are not combatted early they will increase at a rapid rate and the damage they will do will amount in a very few years to the destruction of the trees attacked.

Would Veterans Dash?

There are times when we favor the more careful selection of words. In the Stratford Beacon-Herald the other day there was an account of a picnic held by the veterans of the C.N.R., and th heading was "Hamilton Veteran Won 50-Yard Dash." Now these veterans are the old boys of the railroad business. They have been retired; they receive pensions, and the average age would be 70 years or more. The whistle in the morning means nothing to them, and when it blows again for one o'clock it conveys no active message.

So when these gentlemen line up to run 50 yards we do not believe they dash at it very hard. Just to fortify our contention we looked in the dictionary, and we find that dash, among other things, means to "rush with violence," or "to move impetuously." We are moved to doubt whether the C.N.R. veterans did either of these things. When a man reaches and passes by some years the retiring age from the railway he has ceased to be violent and there is little impetuosity in him. Were he to begin dashing about we are certain as can be some of the hinges on the joints would protest.

Using a Tootpick

"Disgusting" was the word used when a party of New York ladies gathered at a meeting and discussed the use of the toothpick. The old toothpick didn't seem to have a friend in the assembly.

We do not believe the ladies should be too hasty. The are trying to make people all the same; they are not content to let the world be divided into two classes, (1) those who use toothpicks and (2) those who do not. They want every person to quit using them.

Take a case right at this season of the year when the raspberries are on. Now a person who has false teeth in his head is apt to get a couple of raspberry seeds worked up under his plate, or a fellow with a couple of hollow teeth is apt to get half a dozen seeds parked away there. What's he going to do about it? Will he have to excuse himself and go around behind the house or into the drive shed or garage in order to do the necessary prodding and prying to secure relief and comfort? He can't very well crawl under the table or slide behind the door.

We don't see why he cannot be allowed to do his picking in comfort and be left alone. It's no worse than a woman standing on a street corner dabbing powder on her nose, or stopping in the middle of the block to apply a little more lip stick. If a man is going to enjoy more comfort from doing a little toothpicking, then he should be allowed to do it.

Germans are making imitation leather out of fish skins. The person who successfuly masters the art of skinning a four-pound bass will be glad to know there is something of use which can be done with the skin.

United States has 95 warships under construction. It is rather a strange commentary on clivilization as we have it that when a nation wants to find work for its idle men it can put them to building war vessels.

The Spanish rebel leader has awarded the master of the British steamer bombed by a rebel plane a military cross of merit as a sort of apology. It is a safe bet the aviator was not granted a decoration for marksmanship.

Of course there are a lot of things they do wrong in Spain, but we like the way they name their political parties, Left and Right. It is so much simpler than saying a man's a Liberal-Progressive or an Independent-Conservative.

It is announced that since a new levy has been threatened in suburban Toronto information as to chiselers on the relief lists have been pouring in. It would seem that after all these years relief officers should be able to detect the impostors from the genuine.

Young man at London, Ont. was convicted of hitting his mother with a muskrat trap and sentenced to six months. Upon hearing the sentence he wept. It would have been much better for all concerned if his evidence of excess emotion had become active some time ago.

TOO LATE NOW

(By A.R.K.)

¶ In early spring there came a fly, it looked prepared to quit and die, it had so little heart; it sat upon the desk right here, and really looked so strange and queer, thought it might come apart.

¶ From all the things that I had read, I should have poked it on the head, and finished its career, because the scientific men, say flies breed often now and then, ten thousand in a year.

¶ I did not swat that fly that day, but let him settle down and stay, because he looked so sick; he looked as though he had no friend, that he was not far from his end, and it might come right quick.

¶ Today his children bother me, they come in lots of fifty-three, they're far too fond of me; I swish them off from on my nose, and then the leader of them goes to sit upon my knee.

¶ Flies are such stupid things I know, they don't know where they ought to go, to get some things to eat; there's nothing here that they can bite, I don't see why they don't take flight, a grocer's down the street.

¶ They crawl upon the papers here which strikes me as uncommon queer, they park upon my chin; I was too easy I can see, when that first fly crawled in on me—I should have swatted him.

The Real Tragedy In Giving Relief

(From the Chicago News)

He came to the door of a suburban home on one of the hottest days of the recent torrid spell. He carried two big sample cases filled with commodities for the kitchen and the pantry shelves. As he stood, with sweat pouring down his tired face, the woman of the house, selecting two of his ware, drew out this story.

He had a wife and three children dependent upon him. He had been without a steady job since early in the depression, but he had kept himself and his family off the relief roll. He had worked at any odd job he could get, for any wage he could get, and when there was no work to be had, no cars to clean, no lawns to mow, no screens to paint or windows to wash, he had picked up his sample cases and toted them from door to door for weary miles and miles. There have been days often when he and his family went hungry, but he had refused to give in, and his brave wife had backed him in his desperate self-respect.

Neighbors families had surrendered; had become used to dependency; had called him crazy because he did not yield. "When I start out with my sample cases," he said, "the fellows on relief in my block are playing horseshoes in a vacant lot. They look at me and jeer because I don't take it easy and let the state feed me. They call me a fool for tiring myself out to earn the kind of living we are getting. It burns me up to think that they are being kept by taxes, and that every time I pay a penny tax on a quarter's worth of groceries with money I have worked for I am helping to keep them. It sure does burn me up!"

That is the blindly, blundering tragedy of relief. It penalizes self-respecting effort; it rewards complacent idleness. It is without vision, without constructive imagination. There is no public agency to encourage and help the odd-job man, the man who totes the sample cases; there is only an agency that in many instances is feeding those who have become too willing to be fed while they play horseshoes. Relief has been thinking in terms of survival, not in terms of recovery. Of course, it is easier to keep a man alive than to give him something to live for; it is easier to fill his stomach than to sustain his soul. But until out 'reatment of the unemployment problem is made a means of discouraging social parasitism and of stimulating and maintaining a self-respecting independence it will remain a blindly blundering tragedy and, in time, it will "burn us up!"

To The Editor

PEOPLE WHO KNOW

Editor Examiner,

Sir: In the controversy over the substitution of wig-wags for the present gates on certain streets crossed by the Canadian National Railway, the unfortunate residents living in the locality affected appear to be entirely forgotten.

The noise at present endured by the people living on Bethune and other nearby streets is almost beyond endurance, not to speak of the soot which pours over them and the noxious fumes, they suffer from the noise of grinding wheels, the apparently unnecessary shrill blowing of whistles, ringing of bells, and hissing of steam, sudden jars to the nerves from the din of shunting cars and sudden stops.

If to this was added the clanging of wig-wags, or in the event of wig-wags being installed without bells, the extra ringing of train bells, the nervous strain and discomfort of these residents would be almost at the breaking point.

Yours truly,

Peterborough, July 25.

THE CHIEF FACTOR.

(Windsor Star)

In purchasing their dresses, women are guided by newspaper advertising more than anything else, it has been discovered through extensive research work carried on in Boston. As a selling factor, good advertising ranks above the attractiveness of price, style or quality. Actual figures have been compiled to show that, in the case of adult women, advertising is 16 per cent. more important than low price; 27 per cent. more important than style, and 24 per cent. more important than quality. In the cases of misses, advertising is not rated as being so important as price, but it is much more important than style or quality.

It was found in Boston that 43 per cent. of the women purchased their dresses at stores whose advertising they liked best. The report of the research states it is much more important that a store have good advertising than the reputation for the best style, the best quality or lower prices.

The conclusiveness of this study can hardly be questioned. It was conducted by a research specialist during which more than 3,000 women were interviewed, six leading stores in Boston being used as a basis of comparison and the advertising value of each newspaper studied.

WOMEN DRIVERS.

(Detroit Free Press)

Women, for the most part, are good drivers.

While they trailed men in learning to handle automobiles, they have not trailed them in safe driving.

Whether women make better drivers than men is a question often asked and not yet answered.

The National Safety Council, which is constantly studying all phases of traffic experience, says in a recent pamphlet on the subject:

"States collecting the information find that women drivers are involved in only 8 per cent. of all fatal accidents, men drivers in 94 per cent. Special studies in a few states have also shown that a rate comparing the number of all drivers registered is higher for males than for females."

The Council points out that such figures are not conclusive and it reserves its judgment on the relative safety of men and women drive... until more information is available.

The Stuff That Makes Heroes.

(From The London Advertiser).

News that the crop outlook is very bad in some parts of the west recalls the fact in many of these districts for many years good crops have been the exception rather than the rule. The present drought in this district is almost unprecedented, yet in the west weather such as we have had recently is not unusual. It must take heroic stuff indeed to carry on year after year under such adverse circumstances.

Writing in the Regina Leader-Post B. F. tells of calling at a prairie home where for six years crops have been negligible. He was deeply touched by the incurable optimism of the farm mother who was quite confident that the weather would change and the family would win through, although their resources were sadly depleted by the long, hard grind.

He told of the garden, a dried-out ghost of its former beauty, covered with drifting soil, blasted by searing suns, and dwarfed and stunted by continued drought. His hostess remarked:

"Rather a wash-out of a garden, isn't it? I wish you could have seen it in the years when we did get rain. You see, I always loved gardening, and my father's garden and lawn were ever a beautiful sight."

The article concludes:

As I drove away and passed the blighted fields of grain and felt the hot blast of a wind that burned, my heart went out in sympathy to all tillers of the soil and their partners. There are so many foes—drought, rust, hail, frost, disappointment, hope deferred, and yet so many I had known were so brave, so cheerful, so heroic, and again the words of that splendid farm wife and mother rang in my ears, "I could face it myself, but my husband—he feels it so. But we'll win through. It will change."

Oh you thousands of farm women, sisters, wives and mothers, who through the years have toiled and suffered such disappointment and loss. You are winning, you're holding up the morale of your men. You refuse to be beaten, you will triumph. The nation owes you an immense debt of gratitude, nay more: We owe you appreciation, praise and honor. You are indeed among the salt of the earth.

It is the development of spirits like this which does something to relieve the tragedy of the drought. Canada would be infinitely poorer without such women.

Americans Drink Less.

(From the New York Times).

Americans drank only one-third as much hard liquor last year as they did in 1917. That is the statement of the Brewers Association. The year 1917 was a very high year, but even if we take the average pre-war years the figures now given out by the brewers would show a cut of more than half.

The news will come as a surprise to most people. Everybody observation would lead one to say that the drinking habit is more widespread than it ever has been. For one thing, the cocktail habit has won recruits among women. The cocktail party has made heavy inroads on the afternoon tea. But apparently the habit is spread much thinner as well as much wider. Women toying with hard liquor have not shown the same statistical results as women with cigarettes. For the enormous increase in the consumption of cigarettes they are held largely responsible.

Does a decline in liquor consumption mean an increase in human happiness? Some time ago Mr. Duranty reported from Moscow a heavy decrease in the consumption of vodka, and he was inclined to think it might mean a happier Russian nation. People had less temptation to forget one's troubles in drink. But in that case the whole world must be happier than it was twenty years ago, because the alcohol index has been going down everywhere. Yet a look around the world today might suggest that a gallon of alcohol a day per capital to make people forget would not be too much.

Chief credit for the decline in drinking is due to the tax collector. He has made liquor several times as expensive as it was before the war. But he has been ably assisted by Hollywood and by the outdoors life. Men spend hours in movie theatres that once were spent in saloons. If they are younger men they spend much more time in sports and the open air generally.

Sir Samuel Drops a Hint.

(From The Ottawa Journal).

On Wednesday Sir Samuel Hoare, British First Lord of the Admiralty, attended a gathering of the Empire Parliamentary Association, made a speech.

It was an interesting speech.

Sir Samuel, as First Lord of the Admiralty, dealt with the navy. He spoke of the financial burden which it imposed on the British taxpayer, added this:

"The very deep interest which the other peoples of the Empire have in this matter may sugger to them ways of sharing the burden."

It may, Sir Samuel, however, didn't seem to be too sure, for a moment later he said this:

"Next year we shall have a welcome and appropriate opportunity of discussing at the Imperial Conference the manifold problems which our task entails."

This is more than a gentle hint. What it means, if it means anything, is that next Summer the British Government is going to bring up the matter of whether equality of status and privilege in the Empire doesn't mean something of equality in obligation. The British Government will be right. Right in trying to find out just where they and we stand.

We have heard much in recent years about the Statute of Westminster. We have said that it put us on a footing of equality with the Mother Country. We have said less, and thought less, about what that equality must involve.

Next Summer will be Coronation Summer. Our Prime Minister will be in London. Our newspapers will write editorials about the oneness of the Empire, about the King of England being Canada's King. Our orators will speak glowingly about the "common bonds of Empire."

What more appropriate time to discover just what those sentiments mean? Sir Samuel Hoare is surely right.

Incidentally, a despatch in yesterday's newspapers, and which a bearing on what Sir Samuel Hoare said, was arresting. It told of all the great powers sending warships to Spain to protect their nationals. It made us wonder who or what is protecting Canadian nationals in Spain?

It is a question which, answered rightly, is hardly calculated to help our pride.

THE BRITISH WAY.

(New York Post)

The French, they tell us, are "volatile"; the Spaniards, "romantic"; the English, "law-abiding." We carry these shop-worn stereotypes of thought with us. Often they are misleading. But sometimes they are well-based. Oddly, it took the attempted assassination of King Edward to bring out, in full flavor, that respect-for-legal-process quality which is distinctively British. In any other country in Europe the assassin would have been torn apart on the spot. What happened in London? This: McMahon, his gun knocked from his hand, was quietly taken away, with little disturbance. Edward immediately minimized the affair, thereby relieving the assas... of the capital charge of treason. The police were careful to point out that though the revolver was loaded, the uppermost bullet chamber, the one in the firing line, was empty.

WISE PRECAUTIONS.

(Sherbrooke Record)

In Great Britain no person is allowed to use, or permit to be used, a motor vehicle that is not covered by a policy of insurance in respect of third party risk. No person can obtain a car license until he is able to produce a certificate of such insurance. This is a wise provision that should be made law in this country in the interests of public safety. At present a person may be incapacitated for life and he and his family may become a permanent charge upon the taxpayers by reason of an accident caused by a financially irresponsible motorist

HE'S GOOD-NATURED.

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

Farmers must be the best-natured people in the world.

Folks from town go out into the country, park their cars alongside the farmers' property, break down his fences climbing into the field, tramp all over the crops as they hunt, search for wild fruit or wild flowers, injure trees and bushes, hold picnics and leave garbage behind, set fire to the dried grass or do one or the other hundred things that folks do without ever giving a thought as to who owns the property they are despoiling.

Also town folks drive their cars along the roads built and paid for by the farmers at forty and fifty miles an hour or more and raise such a dust that the farmer has to shut the doors of his home and sees his roadside crop ruined.

Through it all he just grins and bears it. But some day the "worm" may turn. The farmer may assert himself. And who could blame him?

A SAD COMMENTARY.

(St. Catharines Standard)

The New York Times submits a sad commentary on the educational system of the United States:

"A teacher in Columbia University has examined 370 boys and girls between the age of 10 and 15 years. More than 34 per cent. supposed that the Kellogg Pact was a company that made breakfast food: 60 per cent. supposed that the United States belongs to the League of Nations. One-third was sure that most Mexicans are trying to stir up trouble with the United States. More than a third believed that there is danger of an attack on the United States within a year."

To account for these strange conclusions reached by the youthful minds, the character of the newspapers they have been in the habit of reading cannot be overlooked. At least two of the youthful misconceptions can be laid at the door of the Hearst Press, and in particular the column of the highest paid newspaper writer in the world, Brisbane, who continually harps on the danger of an attack on the United States of America by air armada and in other directions. And surely the teachers cannot escape censorship when their charges are so ill-informed.

HAIG'S TRIBUTE.

(Our Empire)

An extract from the Official War Diaries of our Founder-First Grand President:

"All fine big men. The experience and training of the past year have done wonders for the Canadians. Their morale is now very high and though they have been opposed by the flower of the German Army, they feel they can beat the Germans every time.

"It was greatly pleased with the smart turnout and the earnest determined look of all ranks.

"Two Canadian divisions have knocked out seven German divisions. That these two Canadian divisions are now in such fine state is due to having ample reserves to replace casualties, the result of sound organization."

Other patrons are Cardinal Villeneuve, Bishop Gallagher of Detroit, Bishop Kidd of London, Shane Leslie, Hillaire Belloc, Monsignor Noel, rector of the Institute of Philosophy, University of Louvain, Christopher Hollis, Arnold Lunn and others.

DRAGOONS IN CAMP FOR CIVIC HOLIDAY

Under Canvas At Nassau From Friday To Monday Night

The 3rd Princes of Wales Dragoons will spend the Civic Holiday week-end under canvas at Nassau, from Friday next until Monday night. Saturday will be given up to musketry practice, and the Sunday program includes church parade, lecture, drill, sports. Brigadier W. B. Anderson, C.M.G., D.S.O., officer commanding District No. 3, accompanied by staff officers from Kingston, will be present on Monday for inspection of the squadron followed by tactical scheme. The Dragoons have openings for a few recruits for this camp, and the list will not be closed until Thursday night.

OBITUARY

MRS. ALONZO YORK

The death of Mrs. Alonzo York, 132 Perry street, occurred in the Weston Sanitarium Sunday following an illness of more than four years. She was 43 years of age.

Mrs. York was formerly Pearl Crouter, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Crouter. She was born in Peterborough and spent her entire life here. For several years she was employed at the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Company. She attended the Salvation Army Temple.

Two daughters, Mrs. Leslie Stewart and Audrey York, both of this city, survive.

The funeral will be held Wednesday from the residence of her brother-in-law, John West, 132 Perry street, at 2 p.m. to Little Lake Cemetery. Brigadier McElhiney of the Salvation Army will officiate.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

Wheat futures prices advanced ⅝ to ¾ cent in a dull session Saturday as trading for the week closed out on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. July finished at 93½, October 92⅞ to 93, and December 92¼ to 93⅝ cents a bushel. Export business estimated at 500,000 bushels absorbed the light offering without difficulty.

The market appeared to be almost entirely influenced by the action at Chicago. Fractional losses were recorded during the first half of the session, with prices at Chicago off about one cent shortly after opening. Chicago values firmed to close⅛ lower to ¼ higher. Minneapolis showed minor losses at bottom levels.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 27 (C.P.). — The cattle division of the afternoon session of the Toronto Livestock Market was active and strong with fed calf prices 25 to 50 cents higher. Calves were active and strong with the hog market unsettled. Sheep and lambs were steady. There was no cattle holdover from Saturday.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Livestock Branch were: Cattle, 4,990; calves, 1,030; hogs, 1,020; sheep and lambs, 1,480.

Fed calves were the bright spot in the afternoon session, selling from 25 to 50 cents higher. The cattle market was active on all grades with prices generally steady at last week's advance. Choice weighty steers brought $8.50 to $8 with medium to good grades $5 to $5.40. Good butcher steers and heifers sold from $8 to $5.25, with common downard to $3.50. Butcher cows sold at a general top of $3.25 with a few at $3.50. Plain grades ranged downwards to $2.50.

Good bulls brought $3.25 to $3.50 with bolognas at $2.75 to $3. Choice fed calves went at prices ranging from $7 to $7.50, with medium downwards to $5.50. The stocker market was fairly active at $3.25 to $3.50 for good quality and medium at $2.75.

Calves were 50 cents higher at $7.50 to $8 for choice with the bulk of the supply selling between $6 and $7.50. Grass calves brought $3.50 to $4.

No prices were established on the hog market but indications were that prices would settle firm. Thursday's hog prices settled steady with off truck bacon grades bringing $9 to $9.10.

Good ewes and wethers brought $9 on a steady lamb market, with most going at $8 and culls at $7. Sheep were steady at $1.50 to $3 a cwt., according to quality.

Want Closed Season On Big Fish Stories

Any time the government decides to cut the fishing season down or out will be okay with some of the patrons of George Robertson's barber shop. But, even if that did happen and all the chatter about bass and lunge and bait were rubbed out, there would still be the shooting season, apart from the year 'round open season for shooting a line about field and stream exploits. The present utterance is that George hooked a fish down at Hiawatha recently, sixteen pounder according to his weighing, and all and sundry have been hearing about it. Some of his victims who probably wouldn't know a pickerel from a musky have been talking of getting up a petition to exterminate all the big fish and confine the species to sunfish, chub and perch, and thereby put an end to the Walton weakness of fish stories.

AUSSIES REMAIN DAVIS CUP RACE

Crawford And Quist Pair To Defeat Hughes—Tuckey In Doubles

WIMBLEDON, July 27.—(CP Cable)—Australia's team remained in the running today in their fight to capture the Davis Cup tennis title from Great Britain as Jack Crawford and Adrian Quist defeated Pat Hughes and Charles Tuckey in the doubles match of the challenge round series, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5, 10-8.

Britain opened her defence of the title by winning both singles matches Saturday. Thus she still held a 2-1 advantage in matches.

The Aussies must win both remaining singles matches tomorrow in order to win the series.

Crawford and Quist, who so far have done all the playing for the Antipodeans, fought a prolonged and strenuous battle in defeating the seasoned British pair in four sets.

DONALD MAXWELL PHOTOGRAPHER DIE

Accompanied King As Prince Of Wales During His Tours Of India

DODDINGTON, Kent., Eng., July 27 (CP) — Donald Maxwell, artist, died Saturday, it was disclosed to-day. He was 59.

Maxwell's pictures were shown in Royal Academy Exhibition since 1905, including oil and water color works on marine and landscape subjects.

He accompanied King Edward, then Prince of Wales, on tours of India to illustrate the official narrative of the journey.

During the Great War he was attached to the British admiralty as an official artist and went to Mesopotamia in 1918 to make pictures and sketches for the Imperial War Museum. He also was the author of a number of books which he illustrated.

PLANS TO REVISE ECONOMIC SCHEME

Social Credit M. P. Would Suspend Interest, Use Cash To Develop Alberta

EDMONTON, July 27 (CP).—P. J. Rowe, Social Credit member of Parliament for Athabaska, plans to submit a new economic scheme to the Alberta Government and he believes citizens of Alberta should "kick out" their government if it attempts to evade its responsibility of inaugurating a new economic system without "reasonable explanation."

Mr. Rowe also is developing a plan for Canada "which will be publishing shortly," the Federal member said Saturday in addressing a meeting held under auspices of the Edmonton Unemployed Married Men's Association.

The first step in Mr. Rowe's Provincial plan was suspension of "entire interest payments" by the province and use of the money toward industrialization of Alberta. The province's public debt was approximately $56,000,000. Premier Aberhart slashed interest rates on this debt in half.

Mr. Rowe would use money saved for building modern, mass-production factories and plant to process Alberta's raw products. The province would control the oil industry and a factory would be built to obtain gasoline and "673 chemical elements" by "distillation" of coal. Rubber also would be produced from coal.

The Dominion plant outlined only briefly would provide no product might be sent out of Canada until all persons in the Dominion "are well supplied with those things."

Ex-Softball Pilot Is Seriously Hurt

James Hall, former manager of the Sixth Line softball team, had a narrow escape from serious injury recently when the team he was driving on a horse rake bolted and threw him to the ground in front of the steel prongs. Dragged over a stone pile and badly shaken up, Mr. Hall, who farms in Douro township, is recovering from scalp wounds and body bruises.

The accident occurred when the rein became entangled in the left hame and Hall stepped out on the pole of the rake to disengage the tangled line. As he was doing this the horses took fright and raced down the field. The driver was able to maintain his grip on the reins while being dragged along, and to this fact he probably owes his life. One line was tighter than the other and swung the team of horses into a woods alongside the hay field and stopped them in their mad flight.

MANITOBA VOTERS

six of these are in Winnipeg, one of the city contestants being Mr. Farmer himself. The Manitoba Social Credit League has named 20 candidates.

One of the interesting fights to sportsman is in Portage La Prairie where two former presidents of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, are the only contestants. E. A. Oilroy, president in 1934-35, is the Liberal-Progressive candidate. W. R. Sexsmith, Conservative and sitting member, was president in 1922-23.

Polls opened at eight a.m. (10 a.m. edt) and will close at eight p.m. (10 p.m. edt) in the cities of Winnipeg St. Boniface, Portage La Prairie and Brandon. All other polls open at the same time but close an hour earlier, at seven p.m.

In Winnipeg, proportional representation is in effect and the final result may not be known until Wednesday if a large number of counts are required. The single transferrable vote is in effect in all other constituencies.

FOOD FOR MADRID BREAKS BLOCKADE

Pin Hopes On Starvation

WITH THE REBEL FORCES AT PAMPLONA, Spain, July 27.—(AP) —Resting rebel troops waited today for an expected food shortage to open an avenue into Madrid.

Unhurried and patient, the Fascist general staff granted indefinite vacation periods to weary forces while asserting its columns many miles southward in the Guadarrama mountain passes had won new victories from loyal defenders.

"Our positions around the capital are strong," one of the commanders declared. "We do not intend to rush in on Madrid but to await its fall.

"A food shortage will soon be felt. When the famine comes, it will be easy to force Madrid to capitulate."

The rebel junta (provisional government) moved to solidify its political position in the Fascist-dominated region under the leadership of Gen. Miguel Cabanellas, white-bearded veteran.

British-U. S. Citizens Leave

MADRID, July 27 (AP) (By Secret Courier to Hendaye, France) —After a week of terror, huddled in their embassies, British and United States refugees to-day were being evacuated to Alicante, on the southeast coast of Spain. The government placed a special train at their disposal.

It was assumed they would board a British destroyer at Alicante, where the refugees were due to arrive to-night.

Unconfirmed reports said two British women refugees were violently attacked by rioters before they found sanctuary in the embassy.

About 100 British citizens were reported Saturday to be sheltering in the British embassy. The United States embassy had about 150 American citizens.

With loyal guards and militiamen strengthening their mountain positions in the Guadarrama range northwest of the capital and striking out for complete rebel surrender at scattered other fronts, Madrid's people went light-heartedly about their daily routine—completely unaware of the proximity of rebel armies.

Terrified a week ago when the rebellion first flamed across Spain from Spanish Morocco, they believed themselves secure to-day.

They knew nothing of the grave threat to their capital from both northwest and south by Fascist forces — armies which a week of fierce fighting had rendered all the more grimly determined to obtain their objective.

Newspapers have been ordered to conceal the truth. Government broadcasts give no inkling of how close the rebels actually have approached.

Hence, life in the capital virtually has returned to normal in the last few days.

Ten cadets were present when the United States military academy was opened at West Point, July 4, 1802. West Point, in New York state, has been a military post since Jan. 20, 1778.

RAIN CONTINUES TO REVIVE CROPS

Scattered Showers Hit Western Areas—Coming East

BEAR TAKES OVER RASPBERRY PATCH NEAR RUSH POINT

Pickers Steer Clear Of School Ground Haunt After Children Frightened

CALF DISAPPEARS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

RUSH POINT. — The recent rains have come too late to be of much benefit to the raspberry crop, but even a bumper crop would not tempt the average berry picker into the woods 'back of' the local school, because that woods which has always been a favorite berry patch other years is now the favorite haunt of a good sized bear.

Two local children came face to face with him when when after their cows one evening or late in the afternoon. Scrambling past a hazel bush they were petrified to see the huge animal rise up on hind legs, waving his paws, and after a warning growl, he opened his huge mouth.

General Retreat.

The children were too frightened to scream, but luckily began immediately to back away, and Mr. Bruin closing his jaws with a snap swung around and dropping to the ground ambled off in the opposite direction. The children said he was "blackish-brown and about as tall as daddy," and as both children were accustomed to seeing a pet bear at the home of a relative the story is not any trick of childish imagination.

Besides, several adults have proved the veracity of the yarn and now very few residents care to prowl unarmed near Mr. Bruin's berry haunt.

A young calf was lost recently in the same place and though neighbors helped search on several occasions no trace has been found of the calf and it is thought that the absence of berries the bear is probably been tempted to kill a calf for food.

The bear appears to have cubs with it from the evidence given by one of the neighbors who saw a make off into the woods when disturbed recently.

OBITUARY

CLIFFORD FLUEL

HASTINGS, July 21. — Mr. Clifford Fluel, of Lockport, N.Y., a guest at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McGuire, of Toronto, was found dead in bed on Friday morning. The late Mr. Fluel, who was a cousin of Mrs. McGuire, got up early on Friday morning as was his usual custom and walked around the island, and went back to have another sleep. A short time later he was found to be dead. Mr. Fluel was in his sixtieth year. Coroner Dr. C. C. Armstrong, of Warkworth, decided an inquest was unnecessary. The body will be taken to Lockport for interment.

EDWARD DRAWS

people talk of the western front: Petain and Gouraud, Burstall and Deverell, MacDonell, Brutinel, Pershing the American, and a score of others from Britain, France, and Canada, to whom men trusted their destiny at zero hour.

The widows of Currie and Byng were there, sharing the moment with other widows, whose grey hair was tucked neatly under the edges of the plain berets that marked the overseas pilgrim.

The King arrived with Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Canadian minister of justice, to find vast crowds already massed around the monument, with French soldiery holding clear a space for the Canadian pilgrims and those who had a part in the service.

King Joins the Veterans

A slim figure in gray morning coat with glistening medals, he received presentations, inspected the guard, and then joined in the talk of the visiting veterans at the memorial's base. President Lebrun came while the band struck up "La Marseillaise", and the ruler went to the dais with the Canadian ministers and the officiating chaplains.

There Rev. Cecil C. Owen of Vancouver, Rev. G. O. Fallis of Toronto and Rev. Monsignor E. A. Deschamps of Montreal addressed the throng briefly, each dwelling on the heroism and self-immolation of the dead, and urging acceptance of Christ's precepts as a pathway to peace.

Then came the message from Prime Minister King, read by Hon. C. G. Power, minister of pensions and national health. Brief and pointed it appealed to the nations to strive to obliterate whatever makes for war, and held up "a world at peace" as the only true memorial worthy of those who have given their lives in war.

Mr. Lapointe and Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of national defence, each spoke of Canada's twofold heritage, derived from France and Britain, and re-emphasized the obligation on the part of all nations to look toward permanent peace, an obligation implied by the sacrifies freely made by thousands who died in the blast of war.

"This Land is Canada's"

The land on which the memorial stands, a gift from France to Canada, was termed by His Majesty "Soil that is as surely Canada's as any acre within her nine provinces."

"By a gesture which all can understand but soldiers especially, the laws of France have decreed that here Canada shall stand forever." The King went on to remark that "It is one of the consolations which time brings that the deeds of valor done on those battlefields long survive the quarrels which drove the opposing hosts to conflict." Vimy was one of these.

"The Last Post," with two minutes silence and "Reveille" intervened between the King's address and that of President Lebrun. The President spoke with feeling of King George, referring to him as "Our great friend." The whole of France learned "With infinite sadness of his death; it joined with brotherly sympathy in the grief of the English people."

"To the laborer lying on the greensward resting his tired body, to the miner coming out from the earth's interior, the majesty of these stones will recall the urgent lessons which are to be learned from the past," said the President.

Great, Noble Example

"Canada's action in the war was "a noble and great example." The memorial should teach that more powerful and more profound than community of race and blood, "there exists a higher solidarity which should always guide the actions of men."

His Majesty and the President left together, after "Land of Hope and Glory," "La Marseillaise" and "God Save the King." Wreath-bearers laid their tribute on the monument. Pilgrims crowded up to search out names among the 11,285 recorded there of men who have no known graves.

To-day there were no crowds about the tall pylons and the cowled woman in stone who broods, with bowed head, over the slopes where dead Canadians lie. But a hundred thousand carried in their hearts some share in an unforgotten loss, some part of the exaltation that comes from commemorating the honorable sorrow of a nation.

RAT-KILLING DOG LOVES HIS WORK

Snatches 8,000th Rodent At London Zoo On Seventh Birthday

LONDON, July 25—(CP)—Spider, the Zoo dog, celebrated her seventh birthday recently by killing her 8,000th rat.

A black and white, smooth-haired fox-terrier, Spider accompanies Keeper A. Hooper on a tour of the Zoo every morning, doing her bit to keep the rodent mortality rate high. She has never been known to let a rat get away from her and on one memorable morning, 67 in 45 minutes read her score-card.

Traps, tear-gas and guns are used to exterminate the animals but Spider's killings add up to more than the three. She doesn't mind birds. They don't worry her and she wouldn't think of touching them. Her specialty is rats.

Mr. George Gay of Belleville spent the week-end with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Casey and children, who have been visiting Mrs. Casey's mother, Mrs. M. McGrath, for the past few weeks, returned to their home in Cochrane Sunday.

LOYAL SPANISH TROOPS GAIN ON ALL FRONTS

Bolster Positions In Guardarama Mountains And Barcelona

Asturian Miners Turn On Fascists Cornering Them In Oviedo

By Alexander H. Uhl,
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

MADRID, July 27—(AP)— Spain's Loyal Guards and Militiamen bolstered their mountain positions today and struck on a halfdozen other fronts for "complete surrender" of Fascist rebel troops.

Carrying on "defense of public and proletarion rights," the Loyalists consolidated their victories in the Guardarrama mountains northwest of Madrid and at northeastern seaport of Barcelona.

Vigorously, they thrust at rebel hornets nests in Zaragoza, in the north, Granada and Cordobora in the south, and Palma, Mallorca, in the Balearic Islands.

Simultaneously the Government denied reports it was planning to hand over complete power to Socialists.

Masses of Asturian coal miners beseiged the rebel barracks in Oviedo, in the north, with guns and dynamite, cutting off the insurgents' water supply and predicting quick surrender. Other popular front forces pushed their advantage in the San Sebastian sector near the French border.

The newspaper El Socialista reported rebels barricaded in the Loyal barracks near San Sebastian were about to surrender under a heavy bombardment.

(French border reports Sunday said the rebels had fled the barracks for the hills after a three-hour shelling).

Apparently the insurgents were expecting reinforcements from Morocco which had not arrived.

Troops Surrender.

The newspaper said Gen. Francisco Franco, the rebel commander-in-chief, promised to land colonials at the northern port of Pasajes. However, soldiers under the command of rebel officers were said to have hoisted the white flag.

New detachments of loyal forces left San Sebastian for Vittoria. In the south, the loyalist troops of General Miajas were expected to proceed from Jaen to Cordoba. The enthusiasm, the government said, was high. The Cordoba rebels were reported "willing to surrender, but only to loyal troops, not to militiamen."

At Oviedo, in the far northern province of Asturias, the Government expected rebels under the command of Colonel Aranda would be forced to surrender in view of their isolation.

They were reported surrounded by thousands of Asturian miners with guns, rifles and dynamite. Their water supply was cut off, Government advices stated.

The left newspaper Political, criticizing the army, declared the troops were "nothing but factions of uniformed adventurers" and said "the army that places itself outside the law which was created for its custody already lacks all moral strength to enforce the law."

Barrage Breaks Morale

A shattering barrage of insurgent camps on the northern slopes of the Guadarrama Mountain passes north of Madrid yesterday "evidently impaired the rebels' morale," the government asserted.

Rebel commanders continued to hurl invading forces against consolidated Leftist positions in the three jagged gateways to the capital, officials declared, with heavy losses to the attackers.

Mass Desertions weakened the revolting armies, the government said, as Fascist fighters joined Loyal columns in the civil war.

Triumphant advances in the northwest, southwest and southeast featured extension of the government's provincial campaign against the rebellion, authorities said.

Pushing steadily toward Zaragoza in the northeast, three Loyal armies expected to converge on a "strategic point for capturing the city to-day," the general staff directing military operations in that region reported.

A centre column had already arrived at Pina, 20 miles southeast of Zaragoza after occupying Lerida, the official report declared. A northern column was declared to have reached Targiente, 30 miles northeast of the rebel stronghold after capturing Sarinena.

A telephone enquiry relative to the sinking of the Titanic was received in The Examiner's editorial department, Monday afternoon, but when a reporter had obtained the desired information the enquirer had been disconnected. Here are the details, he sought: The Titanic was sunk in the Atlantic, April 15, 1912. Owned by the White Star Line, she was at the time the largest ship in the world and reputed unsinkable. Her length was 852 feet; beam 92.6 feet; gross tonnage, 46,328; and speed 21 knots. On her maiden voyage from Southampton to New York she is believed to have collided with a sunken iceberg. She struck at 11.40 p.m., on April 14, 1912 and sank at 2.30 a.m. the next morning with a loss of over 1,500 lives.

With the Boy Scouts

Monday evening found St. Paul's troop enjoying an open air meeting on the river bank. Commissioner J. T. Hornsby taking some boys in judging distances, while others were trying 1st Class cooking. Keep up the good work, No. 8.

We are glad to receive Scouter George Houghton back again and look for rapid strides in the progress of the 3rd.

It was with great appreciation that your Scribe saw so many Leaders, Rovers, Scouts and Cubs turn out on Thursday. Thank you!

Fred Ford, who came to town from Ebor Park training course to attend the services on Thursday, is completing the course in this locality, leaving Friday with Scout Ken Brown for an overnight hike.

The Central Rover Crew, under Gordon Langley, Skipper, are going to attend the Rover Moot at Niagara next week-end. Also five boys from the 1st Peterborough (St. John's) Rovers, expect to be on hand for that occasion.

One of the chief speakers will be K. H. Rogers, executive head of the Big Brother Movement in Toronto.

Last week I mentioned what did not make a good Scout, and yet the mistake made by most Scouts (and Scouters) is to think that as soon as a boy has made the Promise, he is a complete Scout.

If a boy said, "On my honor I will do my best to swim," we would not expect him to jump into the nearest lake and swim across it; but rather that he would go into safe water and try; getting many duckings and discouragements at the start.

So it is with a boy who makes the great Promise. He will make good if only—he starts with real determination.

He will practice the Scout Law steadily, follow the way of chivalry, facing all its ups and downs.

Patrol leaders should remember, too, that the effective way to teach courtesy, loyalty, obedience, etc., is to show these qualities; not talk about them.

It takes three years in a good troop to make a good Scout. To get Scouting into the system to stay.

Then, as Lord Kitchener once said, "Once a Scout, always a Scout."

"Red" Creighton and Lionel Tomkins are back from Ebor Park.

Scouters and Akelas please phone your weekly activities to 2535J and make this column a district affair.

MILK BLOCKADE

17 Arrested After Riot in Missouri with Several Injured.

BROOKHAVEN, Miss., July 27. —(AP).—National Guardsmen patrolled highways near here today after violence flared in an attempt to place a milk blockade around New Orleans.

Seventeen men were arrested on a charge of fracturing the skull of Peter Rayburn, 30, of Kentwood, La., whose truck load of 600 gallons of milk was dumped on the road.

Pickets tied a rope around the neck of Felix Turnbow, Brookhaven, guard on Rayburn's truck, but a posse rescued him, uninjured. He and Rayburn were halted by gun fire and seized when officers said they tried to pentrate the blockade.

EFFECT OF RELIEF UPON FAMILY LIFE WORSE EVERY DAY

Miss Nellie Wark Urges Sympathetic Consideration Toward The Unemployed

ADDRESSES ROTARY

"The situation is growing more serious every day we live in the effect of unemployment and relief upon the family life," declared Miss Nellie Wark, assistant deputy-minister of unemployment relief, in addressing the Peterborough Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon to-day. Miss Wark was speaking on the subject "Some Historical Aspects of Relief" and her addres was featured by a plea for sympathetic consideration for the unemployed, whos she described as a cross-section of the community.

Miss Wark, who was accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Morris, was introduced to the club by Rotarian James Dutton, head of the local relief committee and Relief Officer A. G. Metheral, Fred McNeely of the relief department of the Ontario government and Dr. Murray Fraser, Medical Officer of health, were among the guests present.

The speaker described some of the early instances of relief, showing that in France in the sixteenth century the authorities were divided as the relative merits of direct relief and work relief and that in England as early as 1601 when the first Elizabethean poor law was passed some of the aspects of the problem were similar to those of to-day, and the solutions recommended much the same, including work for the able-bodied and assistance for the unemployable. Later, in 1663, the question of domicile, a bugbear in relief administration was stressed by the English authorities.

Everybody's Job.

Coming down to the administratoin of relief to-day Miss Wark stressed the fact that the handling of the relief situation was not one man's job but everybody's. She urged her hearers not to misjudge the unemployed by reports of a weakling here or there but to regard them as a cross section of the community. She pointed out the plight of the great majority of those without jobs who were laboring men who had been self-respecting citizens, establishing their own homes and maintaining themselves until the crash came. To them the first taking of relief was as unpleasant as it would be to any other citizen, but the trouble was that as time passed, and no jobs were in sight, it became easier to accept assistance and gradually a condition of mind was developed as a result of which a relief recipient would be inclined to weigh up the advantages of taking a job or staying on relief.

Many Fine People.

"There are as many fine people among the unemployed as you can find among your friends," said Miss Wark in urging a sympathetic approach to the problem and co-operation for the persons carrying out the responsible task of administering relief.

Dr. J. A. Bannister voiced the thanks of Rotarians to Miss Wark for her eloquent address.

There wil lbe no meeting of the club next week and in the following week the district governor will pay an official visit on Wednesday, August 12.

President Chris Graham who attended the conference of district presidents and secretaries at Kitchener last week, reported a large attendance and some very helpful addresses.

EIGHT ONTARIOANS ACCIDENT VICTIMS DURING WEEK-END

O. A. C. Professor, Traffic Officer Among Eight Killed In Road Smashes

TWO DROWNINGS

By The Canadian Press
(By The Canadian Press)

Automobile accidents and drowning brought death to eight Ontario people over the week-end as six persons died in a variety of road mishaps, a woman drowned when thrown out of a cabin-type auxiliary boat as it was struck by a "freak wave," and a man drowned when he fell from the boat on which he was attempting to start the outboard motor.

One of Canada's leading agriculturists, Prof. William John Squirrell, 56, of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, was fatally injured in a crash near Smithville when the car he was driving collided head-on with another automobile. Mrs. Squirrell was critically injured and Mr. and Mrs. Catherine Noonan, Toronto, occupants of the other car, also suffered severe injuries.

Miss Dorothy Ling, 27, Toronto, drowned in Lake Ontario off Toronto's Leuty avenue after being thrown into the water from a capsized cabin-type auxiliary cruiser, upturned by a freak wave. She was one of a party of four just starting out on a pleasure cruise, but a harbor commission boat piloted by Tommy Holmes, V.C., came to their aid.

Three Hung To Boat.

The other three managed to struggle back to the overturned craft and cling to it until help arrived, but Miss Ling was drawn away from the boat by a strong undertow. Her body was recovered three and one-half hours later.

Wilton Stewart, 50, Toronto, drowned in Deer Lake in the Burks Falls district when he fell into the water while attempting to start the outboard motor on the boat in which he and his wife were cruising. Unable to start the motor or help her husband, Mrs. Stewart sreamed for help but when aid arrived Stewart had disappeared.

When his automobile collided with a Canadian National railways passenger train near Ottawa, George Simpson, 50, Vars district farmer, was hurled 33 feet through the air and died instantly.

At Guelph, 20-year-old John Young, Acton, died in hospital from injuries received when he was struck by a truck on the Guelph-Hamilton highway.

Provincial Constable Orvalge Storey, Owen Sound, died when the motor cycle he was riding became involved in a crash between two automobiles about five miles south of Owen Sound. He was riding behind one car and a second machine coming in the oppisite direction went out of control and crashed into him and the first car. He suffered a fractured skull, broken neck, broken legs and arms and internal injuries.

Dies After Toronto Smash.

Assisted into a doctor's office a few minutes after the car in which she was riding with her son was involved in a collision at a Toronto intersection, Mrs. Thomas H. Goldring, 62, died within a few minutes. An autopsy and inquest will be held.

On her way to a christening at which she was to have been godmother, Mrs. Anna Radmonovich, 32, Hamilton, died in hospital from injuries received when the car in which she was a passenger swerved into the ditch. The infant girl about to be christened and her father, also in the car, received minor injuries.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, July 28

A PARTICULARLY lively, exciting and strenuous state of affairs may be expected on this day, according to the lunar and mutual aspects. There may be a difinite breaking up of old congestions and frustrating circumstances, making way for decisive moves of initiative and new and valuable enterprise. This should culminate in increased possessions, solid investments and a stabilizing of fortunes. Be careful about rash judgments. A caustic tongue should also be curbed.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of great activity and initiative, with the decisive removal of old obstacles and impediments. Fine progress should be made through bold strokes in stabilizing fortunes and increasing possesions. The mind may be keen and inventive but prone to sudden and unwise decisions.

A child born on this day is apt to be steady, industrious and studious, but may have rather unusual, inventive or erratic mental tendencies. He may be a genius in constructive work.

The Rambling REPORTERS

LOST AND FOUND

Riding on one of the fire trucks as it sped south on Aylmer street shortly after noon, in answer to an alarm, one of the members of the City Fire Department lost his helmet which blew off in the wind and was left far at the rear of the vehicle. The driver of the truck did not stop to permit his colleague to recover the lost chapeau, but kept right on going. Bill Osborne, employee of The Nashua Paper Company picked up the helmet, and jumping aboard a friend's car, chased after the fire truck and restored it to the owner.—H.R.

BLANKETS MAJOR TOURIST PURCHASE FROM CITY STORES

Men's English Woollen Socks And Linens Range Next Merchants Reveal

WANT ONLY THE BEST

"Blankets, men's socks and linens." The was the answer given when The Examiner asked a Peterborough merchant what tourists from United States were buying.

'And in what order?" asked The Examiner.

"Well, blankets come first at any rate by a wide margin," was his reply.

"And the tourist trade is satisfactory this year?"

"It has been good," was the reply, "and particularly so because the average tourist buys good blankets. People in United States have a high regard for the woollen goods they secure in this country, and as a rule they want the best we have. We can sell better blankets to tourists than we can to our own people. When they go away with a pair of our best blankets they prize them highly. It is not a question of looking for a cheap blanket with them."

"And you said something about socks?" suggested the reporter.

"Most of the tourists who came in here, that is the men, want woollen socks, and most of them ask for an English make."

"Why is that?"

"Simply because the English woollen sock has a reputation in United States. Once again they want socks which sell from $1.50 to $1.75 a pair and a man will generally take half a dozen pair or even more. It is nice business to have coming along in the summer time. The ladies in the parties are interested in linens as well as blankets and they generally do considerable buying because the linens sold here are of better quality and lower price than they can secure in United States. And that holds true with blankets too, because they tell us they could not begin to get the quality of blanket in United States that the can secure in Canada at anything near the price."

MARY WAITE IS COMMENDED FOR PROMPT ACTION

Plunged Fully Clothed Into Chemong Lake To Rescue Boy

HAD SPECTACLES ON

Commendable presence of mind and prompt action displayed by Mary Waite, 13-year-old daughter of Dr. C. B. Waite and Mrs. Waite, who recently plunged into Chemong Lake, fully clothed, to the rescue of a boy, probably prevented a drowning fatality and earned the sincere gratitude of the boy's parents.

It has just been learned by The Examiner that on Wednesday afternoon last Francis Burke, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burke of Smith township, fell into deep water from the wharf at Chemong Lake in front of Dr. Waite's summer cottage.

Boy Non-Swimmer

A non-swimmer, the lad was feebly struggling in the water, when Mary Waite, fully clothed, even to her spectacles, fearlessly dove into the water and brought the boy to safety.

Dr. Waite, arriving on the scene as the lad was brought ashore, rendered medical aid. The lad whose pulse was feeble, was taken up to the doctor's cottage, and after being rubbed down and wrapped in blankets was kept there until he was sufficiently recovered to be removed. Later, Dr. Waite drove the boy home and left him in the care of his parents, who were beginning to be anxious about him.

Deserves Recognition

Mrs. Burke declared, "I am extremely grateful to Dr. Waite and more particularly to his daughter. I feel if it had not been for her prompt action the lad would have been drowned." She was glad The Examiner was intending to publish dtails of the rescue because she felt Miss Waite was deserving of recognition for her prompt and heroic action.

Francis Burke, who is none the worse for his experience, told a reporter he was out at Chemong fishing from the wharf. He was with Creighton Gordon, 12, and Bill McKane, 11.

"We started to play around on the wharf," Francis related, "and some girl accidentally knocked me into the lake." The lad declared he was fully clothed and could not swim.

The incident occurred between two and three o'clock last Wednesday afternoon, and it was seven o'clock in the evening before the lad had sufficiently recovered from the experience to be restored to his parents.

The boy lives with his parents on the east side of Chemong Road, a few hundred yards beyond the city limits.

A Railing Separated Their Different World But She Clung to a Hope

It was the first time Gay Elwell had seen Wayne Adams. His dark eyes were smiling steadily at her, almost as if they were friends, the check girl thought, as she declined his proffered tip. The railing between them separated their different worlds and yet Gay wondered why it should. A glimmering ray of hope surged within her as the attractive young man looked back and smiled again at her before he was whisked from sight in the elevator. It marked the opening of a refreshing romance which did NOT prove that

Petes Lose 12-Inning Battle to Oshawa Motors

ROWDEN'S DOUBLE SPELLS DOWNFALL OF LOCALS' CAUSE

Good Pitching, Spotty Fielding And Plenty Of Excitement Features Game

FINAL SCORE 4-3

The Petes dropped a 4-3 C.O.B.I. 12-inning game to the GM-men of Oshawa here Saturday before a good-sized crowd. Rowden's two-bagger to right sent Everett home with the winning marker in the 12th frame after the Petes had sewed it up at 3-all in the ninth. The locals had the bases full in their half of the 12th, but lacked the punch to score. Rain delayed the start of the game over an hour, but the fans waited patiently and then saw a thrilling tussle.

It was a tight tilt throughout with the Petes three times coming from behind to tie it up as each side scored a run at a time. There was good pitching, spotty fielding and plenty to get excited about, especially in the overtime innings. The win shoved Oshawa out in front of the second-place Petes by three games.

Matthews Goes Route.

Moose Mathews went the distance on the Oshawa mound and hurled fine ball. With a sharp hook and a smart change of pace he kept on top of the local batters all the time, only appearing shaky in a few stanzas. His support was just fair. Gunner Whitehill pitched nine innings for the Petes and was turning in a good performance when he was taken out for a pinch-hitter in the ninth. Spook Scriver finished, retiring the side in order in the 10th and 11th, but contributing to his own loss with a bad throw to second in the 12th. The local twirlers' support was mostly good.

Bill Calladine led the hitters with two doubles and a single, while Starr had a double and single and Kingdon a two-bagger. Rowden topped Oshawa with a double and single, Osborne hit two singles, Peacock banged out a triple and May a two-base blow. There were no outstanding fielding features, but the Petes pulled off a Kingdon-to-Whatley-to-P. Calladine double play.

Open Scoring in Second.

Neither side threatened in the first, but both got a run next inning. May reached second when Covert muffed his fly to right. An out sent May to third and he scored on McCallum's single. Kingdon walked in the homesters' half, was sacrificed and advanced twice more on May's miscues. Oshawa got one in the third when Osborne singled, took third on Mathews' hit and home when Rowden singled.

Osborne had a single in the fifth and W. Calladine a double the same chukker, but neither side really threatened till the Petes tied it up in the sixth. Kingdon doubled, took third on an out and scored on another out. Oshawa had two hits in the seventh and got a run in the eighth. Matthews walked, was sacrificed and tallied on May's double. The locals rallied to tie it up the last half of the ninth. Mowry, pinch-hitting, scratched a single off the pitcher. He was forced by Kearns, who stole second and raced home on Bill Calladine's two-bagger. Peacock's triple the first of the ninth was wasted when he was nipped at the plate.

Oshawa went down one-two-three in the 10th and 11th innings. In the homesters' 10th, Starr doubled, but died on second. In their 11th, Kearns reached first on an error, but was out stealing. In the visitors' 12th, Everett singled with one out. Scriver took Osborne's roller and threw bad to second and both were safe. Mathews grounded to Whatley, who threw out Osborne, but Everett took third. Rowden doubled off Covert's outstretched glove and Everett scored. May flied out.

Petes Try Hard.

The Petes tried hard to again tie it up. W. Calladine singled and moved ahead on Burton's out. Whatley was safe on May's error and Calladine reached third. Kingdon fanned and Starr walked to load the sacks, but Covert grounded out to McCallum, who fumbled twice, but beat him to the bag to end it.

TRAIN DAUGHTER FOR BIG SPLASH

Janet Sheather, C.N.E. Marathoner Under Wing Of Parents

PORT CREDIT, Ont., July 27 (CP) —Mrs. L. J. Sheather of this town is the mother of an ambitious young daughter, fond of pitting her swimming strength and skill against challengers; even trying it out with George Young. Janet Sheather has no coach or trainer but relies on the supervision of her father and mother.

Asked what she thought about the reduced distance in the Canadian National Exhibition marathon swim this summer, Janet admitted it "was all right, and for the same money as before. But one thing I'm hoping to do is to break my own record of one hour, 13 minutes, for three miles."

Mrs. Sheather, when interviewed, said: "All this training for swimming contests may seem a lot of wasted effort to many but I believe it will help very much in teaching the youngsters to master the art of swimming. When more of them learn to swim there will be far fewer cases of drowning accidents. When my daughter swims with a crowd cheering her on I cannot help thinking that many boys and girls and even adults are studying her swimming form. Afterwards they try to copy her.

"In the United States," she added, "a very small percentage of children up to 12 years of age know anything about swimming at all. Most of them are afraid of the water because they haven't been accustomed to it and the parents do not give them much encouragement. We must thank George Young for popularizing the sport in this country by his sensational win in the Catalina Channel swim some years ago. That feat of his stirred the boys and girls to greater activity and there was a demand for better swimming instructions."

Toronto Leafs Maintain Victory Streak

Cleveland Indians Threaten Yankees' Long Lead

Like the famed Boston Braves of old, Cleveland's Indians are making a dash for the American League pennant which dates from July 4. Before that they were just struggling along and Cleveland scribes even had Steve O'Neil out on the street looking for a new job. Now, since he has signed a contract for 1937, and since the Indians are climbing to within striking distance of the faltering New York Yankees, nothing is too good for the former manager of the Toronto Leafs. One of the chief reasons for the "Chiefs'" drive is their hitting. As a team they are just under the .300 mark and with Averill and Trosky both vieing for home run honors, they are liable to break out with a rash of base hits any time. Even 'Doubleday' Joe Vosmik (ABOVE LEFT), is showing signs of getting the ball out of the infield as in days of yore. Steve O'Neil (CENTRE), has his charges on their toes at all times prepping them up for the invasion by the Yankees which will be the "crucial" series. Johnny Allen (TOP RIGHT), another former Toronto player and who found himself after the Yanks gave him away to the Indians, is holding up his end of pitching chore with more than the victories. In OVAL at left is Earl Averill while in CIRCLE at right is Al Trosky, the seige guns of the Cleveland attack.

YANKEES-CUBS LIKELY CONTENDERS FOR TITLE

Landis Offers $5,000 Reward For Chicago Bottle-Thrower—Umps Injured

INDIANS SPLIT PAIR

BY SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Day by day as these dizzy pennant chases head for the stretch, it becomes increasingly more difficult to see anything but a New York-Chicago world's series for this fall.

A lot can happen between now and the windup in September but the fact remains that the Yankees' revied pitching to back up their batting dynamite and the Cubs, continued great hurling make those outfits tougher and tougher to shake out of even a small portion of their pace-setting edges.

Will Import Young Blood.

That fact stood out yesterday in a full Sunday schedule of 15 major league games, which saw such incidents as an umpire knocked out of a game by a pop bottle thrown by a fan in the Yanks-White Sox meeting; Mickey Cochrane announced he is importing young blood to his limping Tigers and benching at least one of his veterans, and the Giants reach third place in their National League comeback, as the Dodgers dropped the Pirates to fourth with a doubleheader win.

The pop-bottle-throwing climaxed a riotous doubleheader in which the Yanks aided by Lou Gehrig's 29th and 30th homers, snapped definitely out of their hitting laxity and knocked off another challenger by taking the White Sox 12-3 and 11-8, to stretch their American League lead to 9½ games.

Offers $5,000 Reward

Fans, apparently angered by a decision in the ninth inning of the nightcap which went 11 frames, hurled more than 100 missles down on the field. The bottle hit Umpire Bill Summers in the groin and forced him out of action. Baseball's High Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis immediately offered a $5,000 reward for information concerning the thrower.

The Cubs, at the same time, held onto their three-game edge in the National League by splitting with the Phillies, while the second place Cardinals were doing the same with the Bees. Held to two hits by Bucky Walter for a 4-0 setback in the opener, the Cubs took sweet revenge in the nightcap with six homers, 18 other assorted hits, and an 18-5 triumph. The Cardinals, nosed out 4-3 by the Bees in the first game, slugged similarly behind Dizzy Dean's pitching in the nightcap for an 8-5 decision.

On the short end against the Boston Red Sox for the third straight day, as Jimmy Foxx belted two homers to set the pace for a 10-3 win, the Tigers heard Mickey Cochrane reveal he is to return to action today. His first move, he said, would be to bench Billy Rogell, bring in some new talent and try to star the Tiger machinery humming again.

The unpredictable-as-ever Brooklyn Dodgers did another flip-flop in form, and staged two ninth inning rallies to win a pair of pitchers' duels with the Pirates and club the Bucs into fourth place. Van Mungo took the opener 1-0 and Ed Brandt the nightcap 4-3, each with a five-hit performance. The Giants, who split with the Cincinnati Reds, winning 5-4 and losing 5-2, found themselves back in third place by these developments.

Indians Split Pair

A pair of stalemates competed the American League program. A 20 hit attack behind Buck Roes' six-hit fling gave the Athletics a 13-0 victory over the Indians but Cleveland came back to slug out an 8-5 decision. The Senators walloped the Browns 9-2 in the opener they took a 9-3 licking.

Newark And Buffalo Making No Headway In International Race

WINGS STILL ON TOP

Buffalo Bisons who a week ago had breezed into second place in the International League on a nine-game winning streak and were threatening to oust Rochester Red Wings from the lead, have staged a collapse as sudden as their rise.

Since that string ended, the Herd has lost seven out of eight games, mostly through weak hitting, and has been saved from going down to third place again only by the fact Newark Bears are tobogganing as rapidly.

Newark, hitting just as lightly, has lost 10 out of its last 13 games including five in a row to Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Bisons hit bottom yesterday when they manged to get only eight hits in two games as they dropped a double-header to Albany Senators, a club which has had little good pitching this season, 6-0 and 4-2. At the same time Toronto's Elbowers turned back Newark 1-0 and 2-1 in a pair of brilliant pitching battles to give the Bears a record of four runs and 24 hits in their last five games.

Kelley Blanks Bisons.

Rookie Harry Kelley blanked the Bisons with three hits while Jake Daniel, first sacker, set the hitting pace with a home run and was on the finishing end of five Senator double-plays, equaling the league record. In the second clash Tomas De La Cruz hurled five-hit ball and Smead Jolley belted out two homers to account for the first three Albany runs.

Baltimore's Orioles wound up 1½ games behind the Bears after splitting a twin bill with Montreal. The Royals, with Gus Dugas smashing two homers, put together two six-run innings to take the opener 18-5, then the Orioles got the home run idea and won the night cap 9-6 as Woody Abernathy hit homer No. 29, Joe Martin contributed two and Glenn Chapman one.

Rochester's pace setters played just ordinary ball but increased their lead anyway as they divided with the reviving Syracuse Chiefs. With Leo Mangum pitching steady ball in a battle with Nubs Kleinkel, Syracuse won the opener 3-2 but Rochester came back behind Bob Klinger to win 10-4 as the Chiefs tossed in five errors.

Stirling Four Wins Belleville Prizes

BELLEVILLE, July 27.—Excellent bowling was displayed Friday night when entries from Campbellford, Madoc, Stirling, Kingston and Belleville met on the greens of the Belleville Lawn Bowling Club in the elimination tournament of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association of Ontario. The tourney determined the district winners who will meet in the provincial play-offs being held in Toronto from Aug. 17 to 21.

Sudden death games were played in singles, doubles and rink tournaments, the final winners carrying off a shield as a token of their skill on the green. There was only one entry in the singles contest, this being won by Joe Topping, a veteran bowler from Kingston. Both the doubles and rink tournaments were won by Stirling. In the doubles, there were five entries, Whitty and Solmes of Stirling winning after a hard-fought game with Myers and Wiggins of Campbellford. Whitty and Solmes won the district shield last year. Stirling captured the rink contest after playing a close game against Belleville. All games were of 21 ends.

BOONEMEN DEFEAT BEAR CLAN TWICE

Jake Mooty Hurls Three-Hit Shutout—Pattison Gets 2-1 Verdict

SWEEP 5-GAME SERIES

NEWARK, N.J., July 27.—(CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs made it five in a row over the Newark Bears Sunday when they defeated the men of Vitt in both ends of an International Baseball League double-header.

The scores were 1-0 and 2-1, with Jake Mooty and Jimmy Pattison pitching the same fine brand of ball furnished by Frank Nekola, Leroy Herrmann and Si Johnson during the first three games.

Leafs held the Bears to four runs in the five games. Leaf hurlers have blanked the Bears six times this year, Mooty and Johnson twice doing the trick.

Mooty was pitted against Toronto's toughest pitching foe of the year, Kemp Wicker, who has limited the Leafs to a total of four runs in four games but has won only one of them. Mooty gave a three-hit performance. Wicker allowed only four hits but three of them were bunched in the fifth by Blakely, Comorosky and Heath for the production of the lone run of the game.

Before that, the Newark southpaw had retired 12 straight batters, and following Heath's blow, which scored Blakely, he settled down and retired 11 more in a row until Burnett singled in the eighth.

JOHNSTON GETS WIN

NEWARK, N.J., July 27.—(AP)—Silas Johnson limited the Newark Bears to four hits Saturday as his Toronto mates blasted Vito Tamulis and Marvin Duke for a 9 to 0 victory. It was the third straight win of the series for the invading Canadians.

Tom Oliver, Lee Handley and Johnnie Burnett clouted home runs for the Maple Leafs. Only one Newark player reached third during the game. That was Frankie Hawkins, who pinch singled in the ninth and went around to the hot corner unmolested as Johnson turned back the side.

The Leafs continued their brilliant fielding by reeling off three double plays.

TERRIERS IMPROVE SENIOR LOOP LEAD

Transports Lose Intercounty Baseball Decision 8 To 6

Ontario's senior amateur baseball teams continued their merry way during the week-end, with most of the games featureless because of a tightness inspired by approaching playoffs.

Four games were played in the Intercounty League, with leaders consolidating their positions. Dundas, one-time leaders, went down 8-5 at the hands of the Hamilton section leaders, Moodie Tigers. Dundas got nine hits off Johnny Anderson and staged a two-run rally in the last inning, but it was too late.

Galt strengthened its hold on first place in the East Group by defeating Hamilton Leonards 6-6. Leonards went back to third place in its section.

Back in the league, this time under player management, after the team's sponsors decided to withdraw, Stratford went out against St. Thomas, but wilted under 9-3 onslaught by the Combines. Hard luck again beset the Nationals. Abie Williamson was forced out in the sixth with a leg injury, and Jo-Jo Kalmusky followed him in the next after a collision with Manager Leo Dean of St. Thomas-Aylmer.

NEW CHAMPIONS IN TENNIS SET

Ross Wilson Of Toronto Crowned Men's Singles Titleholder

ONTARIO SERIES

TORONTO, July 27 (CP) — A complete new group of Ontario tennis champions looked for new fields to conquer to-day, following conclusion of the provincial championship matches here yesterday. Ross Wilson, Toronto, is the new men's singles champion and Mrs. G. Worsley, Toronto, leads the ladies' singles section.

In the doubles section, Ed Connolly and George Leclerc, brilliant Ottawa duo, are holders of the men's crown; Mrs. H. L. Beer and Leclerc held the mixed title; and in the ladies' event, Mrs. Beer and Mrs. Rene Bolte are the new champions. Bruce Hall annexed the men's junior title with a 7-5, 6-1 win over Nick Saba in an all-Toronto final Saturday.

Doubles Champions

Connolly and Leclerc reached the men's doubles title by stroking their way to victory over Gordon Shields and Maurice Margesson, Toronto, in three straight sets yesterday, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

Despite strenuous matches the day before, Leclerc was in fine form to attain the distinction of sharing both men's and mixed doubles honors.

Mrs. Beer and Leclerc had to fight every inch of the way to get their mixed doubles crown, climaxing a week of hard tennis with an unexpected victory over the defending champions, Mrs. F. V. Woodbury and Bev Piers, Halifax, who sailed through to the eastern Canadian title at Ottawa recently.

Mrs. Beer and Mrs. Bolte lived up to expectation by taking the ladies' doubles crown. In the final match, they sent the Toronto pair, Mrs. Worsley and Mrs. O. E. Gray, down to defeat in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3.

Goes to Vancouver

Wilson moves on to Vancouver shortly to represent the Ontario association in the Canadian championships which start a week from to-day. The fast-improving Toronto boy added the Ontario title to the eastern Canadian crown he won at Ottawa by defeating the wily Marcel Rainville, Montreal mite, in four sets, 3-7, 6-3, 6-3, 6-0. Wilson dropped the first set after leading 3-0 and 5-3 but after that he was never headed.

Mrs. Worsley showed flashes of her old-time form, when she ruled to Canadian courts as Olive Wade, to win the ladies' single title from Mrs. H. L. Beer, Ottawa star, 7-5, 6-0. The first set was bitterly fought, with many games going to deuce-point, but Mrs. Worsley left no doubt as to her superiority in the second sweeping her own and her opponent's services for a love-set victory.

YOUNG FILM STAR.

ATHLETES ENJOY LITTLE REST ON OVERLAND TRIP

Canadians Visit Sightseeing Wonders Of Olympian Village

TRAIN ON TUESDAY

BERLIN, July 27 (CP Cable)—With only a few hours respite from arduous days of training ahead, Canada's Olympic athletes walked the colorful streets of the Olympian village to-day sightseeing through eyes that were slightly red from loss of sleep on the overland journey from the seacoast.

When the more than 120 men and women who will wear the Maple Leaf in the international games reached Berlin Sunday after a train journey of 17 hours from Paris, many of them had enjoyed little rest for close on 48 hours.

Up with the larks Saturday morning, the young Canucks went from Havre to Paris and spent most of the day seeing the sights from motorbus decks and afoot. At midnight they boarded day coaches for the trip to Berlin. Howie MacPhee, the Vancouver antelope, Phil Edwards, Montreal and Hamilton veteran, and some of the others curled up on the coach floor for "40 winks," but a sleepless ride was the general order.

Big Time Welcome

However, when the athletes reached Friederichstrasse station here they were perked up by cheers of the hundreds of welcomers who crowded the concourse. After an official welcome there, the team members marched behind German military bands down flag-dedecked streets to the city hall. Thousands of onlookers lined the thoroughfare to cheer the Canadians.

An official reception was held at the city hall. Dr. Heinrich Lippert, state councillor for the capital, and other dignitaries spoke. All members of the team were presented with a copy of the souvenir book, "Berlin Past and Present."

Then the athletes were escorted to their quarters—the girls to a hotel near the imposing Olympic Stadium; the men to the Olympic village. In the village, a Union Jack with the Maple Leaf emblazoned on a red ensign, was run up to join the standards of other competing nations. Bands shrilled the stirring bars of "O' Canada," and "The Maple Leaf Forever."

Following the ceremonies, the athletes wasted little time in seeking out their beds. The sleep they lost enroute was not a serious matter as no intensive training was planned before Tuesday.

From what we can gather hither and yon, these Saturday night mixed events are slowly but surely forging their way to the front as the most popular local tournament that we have. There were as many out Saturday night as on Friday. We are just passing this hint along.

Up to the present time we have only one entry in the Central Ontario rink competition. Entries close August 1...As next Monday is Civic holiday, the games schedule for that night have been changed to Monday, August 10th...This open tournament on Wednesday next is going to be mixed. The games will commence at 1.30, two games in the afternoon and one in the evening. All three game winners will receive prizes; the other prizes will be awarded to the rinks having the largest aggregate, irrespective of wins. The Ovaltine trophy goes to the highest winner. Last year we had sixteen local rinks entered in the contest. So far today we have only six.

PETES DEFEAT OSHAWA 5 TO 0

Gow's Eleven From Motor City Give Smart Soccer Display

LOCALS FINISH GOOD

The inclemency of the weather on Saturday afternoon didn't prevent an enthusiastic soccer crowd turning out for the first visiting team to the city on King Edward Park, when Oshawa Hungarians were defeated by Peterborough Canada Packers by four goals to nil.

It was an interesting 90-minute battle, with the locals more effective around goal and a 2-0 victory would have been a more definite result; in fact, the visitors deserve credit for the excellent brand of soccer displayed throughout. Their half-back line of Peters, T. McLean and Donaldson, who were a tower of strength. Peters went good at full back in second half, along with Captain Steve Minacs. Peter Gow, manager, has a splendid bunch of players who have made rapid progress in learning the finer points of the code.

Opening Very Fast

In opening exchanges Oshawa made tracks for the Petes' goal to be repulsed in the nick of time. The Petes' left wing forced the issue, to make Oshawa custodian kick clear. McLean trapped the ball quickly as he carried the ball upfield to miss the upright by inches. They indulged in long swinging passes that was productive of interesting events in Petes' territory, while the same performance was enacted at the other end. Two corner kicks fell in succession to the Petes and as the later shot crossed the goal, Foster headed into the net amidst protests from the visitors. Keen defensive tactics held sway to confine play to mid-field. Buchan initiated an attack which was repulsed by Peters who carried the ball up the touch line to leave his wing man in possession. He beat three men in a row and shot the ball across the goal to miss by inches. Quick as a flash, the Petes' halves concentrated in a combination play to catch the visiting goalie unawares when Buchan drove a hard shot into goal. The goalie stopped the ball but its slippery condition aided it into the rigging. The visitors replied with an agressive attack that had the Petes in a quandary in the goal area, but Downer's head diverted a terrific shot from the foot of McLean out of danger. Two minutes from the interval, a breakaway by the Petes' left winger found his parting shot available for his pivot man to register the third counter. Peterborough Packers, 3; Oshawa Hungarians, 0.

Rearranged Attack

On resuming, a rearranged visiting attack, including Peter Gow, at inside left, the manager, manipulated the ball up into the local's goal, where he dropped a high shot into goal; the Petes' custodian touching it over the bar. From the resultant corner kick Newt Downer travelled down the wing to centre across the goal. Foster jumped about five feet in the air to connect with his head, a smart drive into the rigging. Thereafter, Oshawa hammered away at the Petes' goal to find that their finishing was weak against a stalwart defense, although the left winger's fast running low grounder compelled Curtis to make a spectacular save. Within the next minute, Gow at outside right, landed the ball on the cross-bar and performed the same trick from a flag kick to be followed up by Curtis punching his drive out of danger from a scrimmage. Another corner kick was conceded by the Petes' goalie and McLean met the ball quickly to send a low grounder into the corner of the upright, but the Petes' custodian brought off a great save. Towards the finish, both elevens set a terrific pace to give the custodians a busy session until the final whistle.

Peterborough Packers, 5; Oshawa Hungarians, 0.

The teams—

Oshawa Hungarians.—Stev. Hugedus, goal; Stev. Minacs and Robret Gow, full backs; A. Donaldson, T. McLean and Mike Peters, halves; G. Gates, G. Minacs, R. Speers, H. Breadin and S. Weeks, forwards. Subs., P. Gow and T. Ranhanze.

Peterborough Packers.—W. Curtis, goal; A. Todd and A. Downer, full backs; A. Downer, E. Jones and T. McPhate, halves; N. Downer, D. Green, J. Buchan, T. Foster, and G. Downer, forwards. Sub., B. Welson.

Referee—Alex. McKinley.

Linesmen.—W. Rickard and Z. Ramhanze.

Menie Wins Second Playoff Struggle

CAMPBELLFORD, July 27.— Attended by a large crowd the second game of the Township League play-offs was fought out at the school grounds on Saturday evening the Menie squad defeating Seymour West by 14-10. Owing to darkness the game only lasted four innings but there was never a dull moment. The winners started in with a rush scoring ten runs right off the bat in the first innings and were never in danger. The deciding game in this two out of three series will be played on Tuesday evening next.

The line-ups:

Seymour West—McCulloch, 1b; Hooper, ss; Nicholas, lf; Wilks, c; Atkinson, 3b; Sherwood, cf; McKenzie, rf; Anderson, p; McKenzie, 2b.

Umpires—At plate James Scanlon, on bases C. Nicholas and Les Stover.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY
Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

(By C. J. P.)

THIS is not an easy column to write today. On account of that senior ball game here Saturday. We do not mind commenting on a one-sided contest but these heart-breakers that go 12 innings and end in a 4-3 win for the other team get us down. There are so many angles that you recall, so many spots where the Petes might have won, and several places where the other side should not have scored. Rain partially spoiled a big gate and held the start up over an hour but the fans waited and saw a nifty number. Only it ended up wrong. That's the third game we've dropped to Oshawa this season that we should have won. Not taking anything from the smart GM-men, but they are sure getting the breaks.

* * * * * * *

THEY pitched Moose Mathews and he went surprisingly good. Or our batters made him look that way. When the regulars at the top of the list like Kearns, Burton and Whatley go hitless against a fair righthander like Matty in 12 frames, you can't expect to get the breaks. The punching Petes haven't been punching worth a bent nickel the last three games. Bill Calladine and Starr were the only ones hitting up to form Saturday for us. And in the late stanzas when we had runners aboard some of the boys were helping Moose a lot by cutting at bad balls. With their knees shaking.

* * * * * * *

YEAH, the Petes didn't look good batting and some of them were shaky in the field. There were several scratchy hits that might have been outs. You've got to try for everything and keep fighting against a good squad like Oshawa. That final out might have been a safety had the batter ran it out hard and slid, if necessary, into first. It was worth a try, anyway, with the veteran McCallum kicking the ball around two yards from the base and the tying run racing in from third. And that bad throw to second in the 12th was another turning point—the final one that gave Scriver the loss. There are so many angles—when you're second guessing—that you get an ache in the noggin worse than a hangover.

* * * * * * *

THERE were bright spots for the Petes, too. The hurling of Whitehill and Scriver was good most of the way and the Petes flashed a lot of nice fielding. Kingdon and Whatley handled a flock of nifty chances and the others also kept working. The boys had enough fight to come from behind three times—once in the last of the ninth—to tie it up. And they came mighty close to tying it again or winning out in their end of the 12th. But we do not get the breaks against that outfit. Kingston and Belleville beat them and we lick these teams, but we can't quite knock over those Motor Citizens. We still think we can do it and will do it this season, though.

* * * * * * *

AND that'll be about enough regarding this game. We enjoyed it, and the fans hung around till the last dog was shot—well after six bells. But everyone, except Oshawa, would have enjoyed it much more had it ended right for the locals. There was a fair crowd on hand, considering the weather and the ground dried out fast with the aid of shavings on the infield. The Petes and some of their rabid followers spent most of Saturday evening in knots around town holding post mortems. They figured it a break at the go-in getting Matty instead of Biddle, but it didn't help much. Our gang goes to Kingston Wednesday while Oshawa is in Belleville. Next Saturday sees Napanee here and Kingston in Oshawa. We are still in second place.

* * * * * * *

THE JUNIOR joust in Oshawa on Saturday was halted by rain in the fourth chukker with the count 5-4 for the home crew. This postponed Lakeshore Junior Baseball Loop second playoff game will be played there Wednesday eve at six o'clock. Third tilt will be back here next Monday, Civic Holiday. Tip Anderson and Todd were the starting flingers Saturday and both were touched up for a few hits and a wet ball made control difficult. The teams started scoring early and it would probably have turned into a slugfest had the rain kept up—that is, kept up in the clouds. They're well-matched outfits and Oshawa are up one contest but the Rotarians should lick 'em in the playoffs.

* * * * * * *

THREE LOCAL paddlers qualified in the Toronto trials Saturday for the Dominion finals in Sudbury next Saturday. In the junior singles, Drake Jopling took a third—three qualifying in each event. And in the junior tandem, Bill Taylor and Bill Hogan combined for a second. This is a fine showing against outstanding Ontario paddlers for the new Peterborough Aquatic and Sailing Club, with Ross Thompson coaching the blade-wielders. More again.

* * * * * * *

WHAT IS the softball setup this week? Well, tonight at the Bowl the C.G.E. and Westclox girls tangle and on Wednesday ye Western Clockers go to Omemee. At Central this e'en, Westclox men meet Quakers while Tuesday sees Omemee playing Westclox here. Both schedules end this week but there are several postponed tussles in each and we haven't the dope on them yet. With a merry race in each loop for playoff berths, all games are highly important. Swartz are safe in first place in the men's circuit and Keene appear to have the top slot in the girls' league safely sewed up. Playoffs in both will commence some time next week.

* * * * * * *

HITHER AND yawn: Lindsay men softballers took a 9-4 exhibition win at home Sat'day eve over Metropolitan Stores from here . . . The Norwood lacrossers have a scheduled contest with Auburns in the Auburn Field here at seven tomorrow (Tuesday) . . . . Rotary Juniors hold a practise tonight at six in Riverside Park . . . . E. TCH TCH: Out of the park went Infielder Kay, still maintaining his right to play; he was quite right and his case was strong, but he's out just the same as if he'd been wrong!

BEACHES AVENGE CRICKET DEFEAT

Toronto Club Triumphs Over Peterborough Gang By 21 Runs

A return match between Peterborough and Toronto Beaches was played at the Woodbine, Toronto, on Saturday, and the Toronto team avenged their defeat of the previous Saturday at the Oval, winning by 21 runs. Score:: P.C.C.. 64; Beaches, 85.

The local team were without Lawrence and Eric Stewart, and the former's bowling was greatly missed. J. Roe made his first appearance this season, and though quite without practice he batted well. The features of the game were Farrell's batting for Beaches and Dyer's bowling for Peterborough. The latter bowled unchanged 18 overs, 9 of which were maidens, for only 15 runs and 6 wickets—at one time he bowled 7 overs for 2 runs and 4 wickets.

Beaches batted first and lost 3 for 13, but on Captain "Dick" Murray joining Farrell, they put on 40 runs for the wickets. Johnson and Annand put on 15 for the eighth wicket, but Dyer and Gore soon finished the innings for 85; Gore's last three overs showing 1 run and 3 wickets. Lorne, deputizing throughout for Gore as wicket-keeper, made an excellent showing.

On Peterborough batting, with a rearranged order, they lost 4 for 21. Thorpe batted really well for 12 when he was brilliantly caught high up at point by McCarthy. Roe and Dyer very quickly put on 24, and seemed well set for a win, but McCarthy bowled Dyer, and one run later Roe was most unfortunately run out. Gore batted under a great handicap, having hurt a leg while bowling, and was forced to have a runner, and fell to another great catch, this time by Johnson. Murray made quick work of the tail end, and the innings closed for 64.

Next Saturday, the club play Woodgreen, in Toronto, with a return match against the same team on Civic Holiday (Monday, August 3), at the Oval.

OSHAWA GAME IS RAINED OUT

Lakeshore Junior League Final In Motor City Called In Fourth

HOMESTERS LEADING

(Special to The Examiner)

OSHAWA, July 27. — Oshawa Juniors still have only a one-game lead over the Peterborough Rotary Juniors in the final playoffs for the championship of the Lakeshore Junior League. The second game of the series, at Alexandra Park here Saturday afternoon, was rained out in the 4th inning, with the homesters leading by 5 to 4, and the visitors still at bat.

Neither "Tip" Anderson or Todd, Peterborough's starting hurler, showed very much, but no doubt the wet ball made control difficult and good pitching impossible. Both hurlers were hit hard and often, each yielding five hits in their short stay on the mound, while each team garnered a triple and a homer among the quintette of safeties.

Scoring Started Early

Neither team wasted much time in getting down to scoring runs. Peterborough scored two runs in the initial frame, after two were out, when Thorburn singled and Connelly tripled and then Webb singled to score Connelly. In the 4th, Webb singled, and then after two were out, O'Leary hit a long homer into left field over Brockman's head. O'Toole was safe on Bradd's error and then came the rain for the second time and the umpire called the game off. Play had been halted once before for a short time, at the second inning, due to the rain. Fifteen minutes after the fans had left the park, the sun started to shine, but the teams had left for home.

Oshawa took the lead in their half of the initial stanza. Fair was safe when Connelly dropped his long life to centre, and then Dalton walked. Walker hit down to Thorburn, who elected to nip Fair at the plate, but the throw was slow. McCullough then singled, scoring Dalton and Walker.

In the second inning, Anderson hit a long triple and Fair followed with a clean homer into centrefield, to make the score 5-2, at the time.

Although Connelly and O'Leary for the Petes, and Anderson and Fair, for Oshawa, had the extra-base clouts, it was McCullough, Thorburn and Webb who did the real hitting, each getting two safeties in two trips to the plate. The rival shortstops, Giardino and Dalton, supplied the defensive highlight of the four frames.

SPLENDID SHOWING OF LOCAL PADDLERS

Three Local Blade Wielders Qualify In Hanlan's Point Regatta

Peterborough paddlers made an excellent showing Saturday at Hanlan's Point, Toronto, in the trials for the Canadian Paddling Championship. They were up against the best blade-wielders in Toronto and also ran into tough luck but three of them qualified. The hard luck started when Bill Taylor stepped on a broken bottle while getting into his canoe to start in the singles. He received a deep cut which required medical attention and kept him out of the event. However, his teammate, Drake Jopling—who is well-matched with Taylor—finished third in a driving finish, the first three being bunched closely.

His foot bandaged up, Taylor and his partner, Bill Hogan, went into the tandem race and placed second, a nose back of the winners. Drake Jopling and Ross Pulkinghorn teamed up to place fourth but it was so close at the finish that the first four were within a boat-length of each other. Three in each event qualified for the finals. Hard luck hit the local men again in the four, composed of Hogan, Pulkinghorn and Taylor. They were fouled about 150 yards from the start and almost swamped. The referee, worn out after a trying time getting numerous entries away evenly at the starting time, failed to call the foul, and Coach Thompson's local entry—rated by him a sure winner in this event—didn't finish. This same boat load was but a deck-length back of the winners on the same course Dominion Day and they had improved considerably since.

Saturdays results entitle Drake Jopling to enter the singles, and Bill Taylor and Bill Hogan to enter the tandem, in the Canadian championships to be held in Sudbury next Saturday. They expect to make the trip and are hoping to have better luck in Sudbury than they found in Toronto.

Westminster Royals Gain Pacific Title

WINNIPEG, July 27 (CP).—New Westminster Royals waited on the Pacific Coast today for the naming of the other finalist in the Dominion Football Association competition with three teams still in the running for the second berth.

Royals gained the final at Vancouver Saturday when they scored their second straight victory over Calgary Callies, Alberta representatives, by a lopsided 12-0 count. They had won the first game Friday night 2-1.

Winnipeg Weston entered the semi-finals at Winnipeg with a 7-0 triumph over Fort William Legion in the second game of their series. Weston had won the first game on

All the local scheduled games in the Kawartha League were rained out. Points will be evenly split except in the case of Peterborough "B" and Lindsay, who had already postponed their game until the following Wednesday.

Some of the events were played at Lakefield in spite of the heavy showers early in the afternoon. One car from Port Hope turned back because of the rain, but the other continued and arrived in Lakefield just as the courts were becoming nicely dried. What the ruling will be in this case will be a nice knotty little problem for the Kawartha League executive to think out.

The coming city tournament is the dominant note in tenins affairs these days: Entries will be accepted now for each of the seven events. The events consist of men's singles, men's doubles, mixed doubles, ladies' singles, ladies' doubles and 2 junior events — men's and ladies' singles. The entry fee is 50c per person per event. If a person enters in 3 events the charge is $1.25.

Entries may be handed in to any one of the following people—Peterborough Club: Boy Maybee or Jack Cowling; Kawartha Club: Don Emery; Quaker Club: Ken Gadd. Entries wil lbe accepted up until 9.00 o'clock Saturday evening, Aug. 8, then entry list will be closed, the draw made and play will commence on Monday, Aug. 10.

Anyone in the city or vicinity is eligible to compete. "Eligible" is rather a mild word to use, "urged" would be better. Everyone entering does a bit toward helping tennis in this vicinity. The entrants themselves are benefited in that tournament play adds keenness to their game and with keenness comes improvement. Good opposition is sure to be met, and so from all angles, a large entry, in all the events, would appear to be "a good thing."

Stone from the Houses of Parliament in England will be sent to Ceylon for use in the new State Council building.

Funeral service July 29 at 2 p.m. D.S.T. from home of Mrs. C. S. Coulter, 116 Howard Park avenue, Toronto. Interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. Wm. Pearson and family of 499 Stewart street, wish to thank their many friends and relatives, also Adjutant Warrander and his assistant of the Salvation Army, for kindness and sympathy shown during their recent and sad bereavement in the loss of a husband and father.

CARD OF THANKS

I desire to take this opportunity of extending my sincere thanks to all those who assisted in trying to find the body of my son Robert, who was drowned in early spring. There were so many good friends who did all in their power by day and night that it is not possible to name them all or thank them personally, but I wish to take this way of letting them know that their efforts were appreciated.—Charles W. AND HE'S INDIGNANT

HAILEYBURY, July 27.—William C. Thuerck, sheriff of Timiskaming, will have some explaining to do when he returns from a holiday, but it will not be a patch on the explaining that the financial editor of the Daily Express of London, Eng., will have to undertake when letters of protest reach that paper from indignant and amused citizens of this Ontario town.

It is the result of a story appearing in the English paper attributed to Thuerck in which a recent gold strike in Bryce Township is reported with all the vivid detail of the "gold rush" days.

The story is the sequel to the financial editor of the London paper calling the sheriff on the trans-Atlantic telephone and inquiring about the reported strike.

Plenty of Liquor.

At the time of the call, the sheriff told Canadian newspapermen that an inquiry had been made from London as to the nature of the strike and the accessibility of the township. The arrival of a copy of the interview, however, pictures the sheriff as a character out of a dime novel. Speech of a type unknown in northern Ontario, is placed in his mouth and the sheriff is reported as having stated that liquor is flowing fast.

The sheriff is quoted as having stated, in a vigorous voice that crashed in the Londoner's ear, that "mebbe there is (gold) and mebbe there isn't. All I know is, there's a darned sight too many folk hereabouts. It's bin shockin' all day. Folk streamin' in and streamin' out —all gold crazy, all goin' as if the divil himself had got 'em by the tail."

The particular day, it is recalled, was a fine summer afternoon, and Sheriff Thuerck's chief concern then was whether a friend in town would keep a trout fishing appointment on time.

Sheriff Bellows.

Yet, says the Express, that was the day when the sheriff at Haileybury sat in his jailhouse last night and bellowed into the telephone, while outside cars, horses, buggies streamed past toward the sleepy Canadian township which has been transferred into a hectic whirlpool by the discovery of gold.

"Do you think great quantities of gold have been discovered, sheriff?" the Londoner inquired, in which the answer was, "Can I tell, sir? I can't. Lots of folks here think so. They are abuilding of shanties and putting up tents—it's bedlam." The interviewer has the sheriff quoted as stating that "Why, there ain't a square inch around Bryce way that ain't been staked. Fellers be staking claims as far as six miles from the spot where the gold—if it be gold—was first found. There must be thousands of 'em—and half of 'em not knowing what prospectin' is."

According to the Express, Sheriff Thuerck was not sure how the "gold rush" started.

"Wimmin, Too."

"A fellow named Palmer stakes the first claim as far back as last Thursday," he is reported as saying. "No one kinda cottoned on to it until yesterday, but my, my! has there bin trouble since . . . There's bin trouble in this town already with all this rushin' and Scramblin' and fussin'. I've had to put two behind the bars in this very jailhouse. You see, sir, (the voice lessened in volume, became confidential, the reporter notes) there's sharpers and crooks and wimmin."

"Women, are there women there?" This is the Londoner again:

"Wimmin, sure there's wimmin. Ain't there allus wimmin where there be gold and excitement? Prospectors stake their claims on the land and the wimmin stake their claims on the prospectors, simple, ain't it? But I was stellin' you—when there's anything like this, a gold rush, if you understand what I meant—here's a whole crowd of folk battenin' on. Liquor sellers, for instance."

COUGHLIN CALLS FOR REPUDIATION OF ALL FARM DEBTS

Only Way Out Says Priest If Lemke Fails To Win U.S. Presidency

BRANDS THEM UNJUST

HANKINSON, N. D., July 27. — (AP).—Repudiation of farm debts was urged by Rev. Charles Coughlin today as "the only way out" if Congressman William Lemke fails to win the United States Presidency on the Union Party ticket.

The Detroit priest told several thousand farmers at a Lemke "homecoming" rally yesterday that if Lemke's campaign ends in failure.

"There is only one thing to do—repudiate your debts. And if anybody tries to enforce them, repudiate them also."

Two propositions needed the consideration of the northwest, Father Coughlin declared.

"One is to save it from hands of the bankers and insurance companies," he added. "The other is to save it from the drought.

"American farmers are paying interest on principal borrowings of boom days that in the light of present conditions have become enequitable and unjust."

Father Coughlin, who recently apologized for calling President Roosevelt a "liar," again attacked him.

End Private Monoply

"You must demand that the government restore to congress the right to coin money and demand that it be taken away from the private hands of Wall Street," he asserted.

"Mr. Roosevelt—a genial man, a promising young man by the way—promised that this would be restored to the American people. He has not done it. In March, 1935, he promised to drive the money changers from the temple. Instead, he had handed it over to them and given them a new key for it, a key fashioned in the benign fashion of the double cross."

He also thrust at Gov. Alf M. Landon.

"There is another candidate for the president, Mr. Landon, a lovely gentleman," he said. "Landon was brought from obscurity to the candidacy of the Republican party by William Randolph Hearst and the Republican party is swallowing it."

Father Coughlin charged Democrats and Republicans were engaged in a "sham battle between the right wing and left wing of the same bird of prey, the international banker."
